MACRO / SECTOR CHART OF THE DAY

Previous: +16.2% YoY (Oct17) Latest: +18.4% YoY (Nov17)

BRIC imports remain healthy in November, up 18% YoY. BRIC is a key source of global aggregate demand. After the collapse in imports from early 2014 to early 2016, BRIC imports are now growing at their fastest pacein six years.

*BRIC = Brazil, Russia, India, China

Current Sentiment: Bearish

Support 1: 3469 Resistance 1: 3550 Support 2: 3377 Resistance 2: 3600

The uptrend mentioned in the last update progressed along smoothly as expected but price might be facing some immediate hurdle at the 3550 resistance area. This was the intraday high back in April 2015, and it is currently causing some reaction.

The recent sharp rise in price has led the weekly and daily Relative Strength Index (RSI) into the overbought condition suggesting a near-term correction soon. Moreover, the bearish rejection off the 3550 resistance area on 18/01/18 resulted in price forming a Bearish Engulfing Bar signals a move lower into a correction next.

Nonetheless, the long-term uptrend remains intact. For this correction, expect price to rebound off the 20 or 60 day moving average for the formation of the next higher low (HL). Price should find some support around the 3469 resistance turned support area.
