(1) INTRODUCTION OF SWING PRICING POLICY BY THE FUNDS

Thank you for your support for the Nikko Asset Management Asia Limited family of funds.

We, Nikko Asset Management Asia Limited, are writing to you in our capacity as the managers of the Funds to inform you that we will be introducing swing pricing policy: (i) in respect of the Singapore Dividend Equity Fund with effect from 1 December 2021 and (ii) in respect of the other Funds with effect from 22 October 2021, (or such other date as we may subsequently advise) (the “Effective Date”).

Dilution

The Funds are single priced and the value of a Fund may fall as a result of amongst others the transaction costs (such as broker commissions, custody transaction costs, stamp duties or sales taxes) incurred in the purchase and/or sale of its underlying investments caused by subscriptions, realisations, switches and/or exchanges of units in the Fund and the spread between the buying and selling prices of such underlying investments. This effect is known as “dilution”.

Swing Pricing

With effect from the Effective Date, to protect the interest of existing investors, we, in consultation with the trustee, may apply a technique known as “dilution adjustment” or “swing pricing” (“Swing Pricing”) in certain circumstances that we deem appropriate. Swing Pricing involves adjusting the net asset value (“NAV”) per unit of the relevant Fund so that such transaction costs and dealing spread in respect of the underlying investments are, as far as practicable, passed on to the relevant investors who are subscribing, realising, switching and/or exchanging units on a particular dealing day

Typically, the NAV is adjusted if the net subscription or realisation (including switches and/or exchanges) on a dealing day reaches or exceeds a certain percentage (the “Swing Threshold”) of the size of the relevant Fund as of the previous dealing day. The NAV will swing upwards for a net subscription and downwards for a net realisation. In the case where a Fund comprises different classes, the NAV of each class will be calculated separately but any adjustment will, in percentage terms, affect the NAV of each class in an equal manner. The need to apply Swing Pricing will depend upon various factors, including but not limited to: (i) the amount of subscriptions and/or realisations of units on that dealing day, (ii) the impact of any transaction costs incurred in the purchase and/or sale of underlying investments of the relevant Fund, (iii) the spread between the buying and selling prices of underlying investments of the relevant Fund, and (iv) market conditions such as situations of financial turmoil provided that, any adjustments made shall (i) be on a fair and equitable basis and with a view to protecting the interests of investors, and (ii) (in respect of the Singapore Dividend Equity Fund) beneficial to the interests of investors. You should note however that applying Swing Pricing when the Swing Threshold is reached or exceeded, only reduces the effect of dilution and does not eliminate it entirely. Where the net subscription or realisation is below the Swing Threshold, no Swing Pricing will be applied and dilution will not be reduced.

The swing pricing policy for the Funds will be subject to regular review and may change from time to time. Accordingly, you should note that our decision to apply Swing Pricing and the level of adjustment made to the NAV per unit of a Fund in particular circumstances may not result in the same decision in similar circumstances arising in the future.

Performance and Fees Calculation

You should also note that:

- (a) a Fund’s performance returns will be calculated based on the NAV of the Fund after the Swing Pricing adjustment has been applied and therefore, the returns of the Fund may be influenced by the level of subscription and/or realisation activity;
- (b) Swing Pricing could increase the variability of the returns of the Funds since the returns are calculated based on the adjusted NAV per unit; and
- (c) the fees and charges applicable to the Funds (including fees based on the NAV of the relevant Fund, where applicable) will be based on the NAV of the relevant Fund before the Swing Pricing adjustment is applied.

Maximum Adjustment

The amount of adjustment at any future point in time may vary depending on inter alia market conditions, but will under normal circumstances not exceed 2% of the NAV per unit on the relevant dealing day (the “Maximum Adjustment”). We reserve the right to apply an adjustment of an amount not exceeding the Maximum Adjustment on the relevant dealing day where we deem appropriate and have the discretion to vary the amount of adjustment up to the Maximum Adjustment, in consultation with the trustee, from time to time without giving notice to the relevant investors.

Subject to the trust deed and the applicable laws and regulations, we may, in exceptional circumstances (including but not limited to volatile market conditions, market turmoil and illiquidity in the market, extraordinary market circumstances or significant unexpected changes in general market conditions) and in consultation with the trustee temporarily apply an adjustment beyond the Maximum Adjustment on the relevant dealing day if, in our opinion, it is in the best interest of investors to do so. In such cases, if so required by the Monetary Authority of Singapore and/or the trustee, we shall give notice to the relevant investors as soon as practicable in such manner as we and the trustee may agree.

For the avoidance of doubt, please note that the current investment objective, focus and approach of the Funds will remain unchanged.

This notice is for your information only. No action is required on your part.

The prospectus and the trust deed (as amended) of the Funds will be updated in due course to reflect the changes set out above. Copies of the updated prospectus will be available from our appointed distributors once available. Electronic copies of the prospectus (except for Nikko AM Asia Healthcare Fund) may also be obtained at www.nikkoam.com.sg.

Please feel free to contact the distributor from whom you bought your units in the relevant Fund if you have any queries in respect of your investment in that Fund.

We thank you again for your continued support, and we look forward to serving you.

Yours sincerely,
Nikko Asset Management Asia Limited
