

IMPORTANT NOTICE

THIS OFFERING IS AVAILABLE ONLY TO INVESTORS WHO ARE EITHER (1) QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYERS UNDER RULE 144A OR (2) NON-U.S. PERSONS OUTSIDE OF THE UNITED STATES

IMPORTANT: You must read the following before continuing. The following applies to the offering circular following this page (the “Offering Circular”), and you are therefore advised to read this carefully before reading, accessing or making any other use of the Offering Circular. In accessing the Offering Circular, you agree to be bound by the following terms and conditions, including any modifications to them any time you receive any information from us as a result of such access.

NOTHING IN THIS ELECTRONIC TRANSMISSION CONSTITUTES AN OFFER OF SECURITIES FOR SALE IN THE UNITED STATES OR ANY OTHER JURISDICTION WHERE IT IS UNLAWFUL TO DO SO. THE SECURITIES HAVE NOT BEEN, AND WILL NOT BE, REGISTERED UNDER THE UNITED STATES SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES ACT”), OR THE SECURITIES LAWS OF ANY STATE OF THE UNITED STATES OR OTHER JURISDICTION, AND SECURITIES IN BEARER FORM ARE SUBJECT TO U.S. TAX LAW REQUIREMENTS. THE SECURITIES MAY NOT BE OFFERED, SOLD OR (IN THE CASE OF NOTES IN BEARER FORM) DELIVERED WITHIN THE UNITED STATES, OR TO, OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF, U.S. PERSONS (AS DEFINED IN REGULATION S UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT (“REGULATION S”)) EXCEPT PURSUANT TO AN EXEMPTION FROM, OR IN A TRANSACTION NOT SUBJECT TO, THE REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS OF THE SECURITIES ACT AND APPLICABLE STATE OR LOCAL SECURITIES LAWS.

THIS OFFERING CIRCULAR MAY NOT BE FORWARDED OR DISTRIBUTED TO ANY OTHER PERSON AND MAY NOT BE REPRODUCED IN ANY MANNER WHATSOEVER, AND IN PARTICULAR, MAY NOT BE FORWARDED TO ANY ADDRESS IN THE UNITED STATES. ANY FORWARDING, DISTRIBUTION OR REPRODUCTION OF THIS DOCUMENT, IN WHOLE OR IN PART, IS UNAUTHORISED. FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH THIS DIRECTIVE MAY RESULT IN A VIOLATION OF THE SECURITIES ACT OR THE APPLICABLE LAWS OF OTHER JURISDICTIONS.

Confirmation of your Representation: In order to be eligible to view the Offering Circular or make an investment decision with respect to the securities, investors must be either (1) Qualified Institutional Buyers (“QIBs”) (within the meaning of Rule 144A under the Securities Act) or (2) non-U.S. persons (within the meaning of Regulation S) outside the United States. The Offering Circular is being sent at your request and by accepting the e-mail and accessing the Offering Circular, you will be deemed to have represented to us that (1) you and any customers you represent are either (a) QIBs or (b) non-U.S. persons and that the electronic mail address that you gave us and to which the Offering Circular has been delivered is not located in the United States and (2) you consent to delivery of the Offering Circular by electronic transmission.

You are reminded that the Offering Circular has been delivered to you on the basis that you are a person into whose possession the Offering Circular may be lawfully delivered in accordance with the laws of the jurisdiction in which you are located and you may not, nor are you authorised to, deliver the Offering Circular to any other person.

The materials relating to the offering of securities to which the Offering Circular relates do not constitute, and may not be used in connection with, an offer or solicitation in any place where offers or solicitations are not permitted by law. If a jurisdiction requires that the offering be made by a licenced broker or dealer and the underwriters or any affiliate of the underwriters is a licenced broker or dealer in that jurisdiction, the offering shall be deemed to be made by the underwriters or such affiliate on behalf of Tencent Holdings Limited (the “Issuer”) in such jurisdiction.

The Offering Circular has been sent to you in an electronic form. You are reminded that documents transmitted via this medium may be altered or changed during the process of electronic transmission and consequently none of the Issuer, Merrill Lynch (Asia Pacific) Limited and Deutsche Bank AG, Singapore Branch (each an “Arranger”, and together, the “Arrangers”), any Dealer (as defined in the Offering Circular), any person who controls any Arranger or Dealer, any director, officer, employee or agent of the Issuer or any Arranger or any Dealer, or affiliate of any such person accepts any liability or responsibility whatsoever in respect of any difference between the Offering Circular distributed to you in electronic format and the hard copy version available to you on request from the Arrangers or the Dealers.

You are responsible for protecting against viruses and other destructive items. Your use of this e-mail is at your own risk and it is your responsibility to take precautions to ensure that it is free from viruses and other items of a destructive nature.

US$20,000,000,000
Global Medium Term Note Programme

Under the US$20,000,000,000 Global Medium Term Note Programme described in this Offering Circular (the “Programme”), Tencent Holdings Limited (the “Issuer” or the “Company”), subject to compliance with all relevant laws, regulations and directives, may from time to time issue medium term notes (the “Notes”).

Notes may be issued in bearer or registered form. The aggregate nominal amount of Notes outstanding will not at any time exceed US$20,000,000,000 (or its equivalent in other currencies, subject to any duly authorised increase). The Notes may be issued on a continuing basis to one or more of the Dealers specified under “Summary of the Programme” or any additional Dealer appointed under the Programme from time to time by the Issuer (each a “Dealer” and together the “Dealers”), which appointment may be for a specific issue or on an ongoing basis. References in this Offering Circular to the “relevant Dealer” shall, in the case of an issue of Notes being (or intended to be) subscribed for by more than one Dealer, be to all Dealers agreeing to subscribe for such Notes.

The Programme is listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “SEHK”) by way of debt issues to professional investors (as defined in the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571) of Hong Kong (the “SFO”) only during the 12-month period from the date of this Offering Circular. Notice of the aggregate nominal amount of Notes, interest (if any) payable in respect of Notes, the issue price of Notes and any other terms and conditions not contained herein which are applicable to each Series (as defined under “Terms and Conditions of the Notes” and each term therein, a “Condition”) of Notes will be set out in a pricing supplement (the “Pricing Supplement”) which, with respect to Notes to be listed on the SEHK, will be delivered to the SEHK, on or before the date of issue of the Notes of such Series. This Offering Circular may not be used to consummate sales of Notes, unless accompanied by a Pricing Supplement. The Conditions, as amended, supplemented and/or replaced by the relevant Pricing Supplement, are applicable to each Series of Notes issued on or after the date of this Offering Circular.

The relevant Pricing Supplement in respect of the issue of any Notes will specify whether or not such Notes will be listed on the SEHK or any other stock exchange.

Each Series (as defined in “Summary of the Programme”) of Notes in bearer form (“Bearer Notes”) will be represented on issue by a temporary global note (each a “Temporary Global Note”) or a permanent global note (each a “Permanent Global Note”), and will be sold in an “offshore transaction” within the meaning of Regulation S (“Regulation S”) under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”). Interests in Temporary Global Notes generally will be exchangeable for interests in Permanent Global Notes (together with the Temporary Global Notes, the “Global Notes”), or if so stated in the relevant Pricing Supplement, definitive Notes (“Definitive Notes”), from the 40th day after the relevant issue date of such Series, upon certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership. Interests in Permanent Global Notes will be exchangeable for Definitive Notes in whole but not in part as described under “Summary of Provisions Relating to the Notes while in Global Form”.

The Notes of each Series to be issued in registered form (“Registered Notes”) and which are sold in an “offshore transaction” within the meaning of Regulation S (“Unrestricted Notes”) will initially be represented by a permanent registered global note certificate (each an “Unrestricted Global Note Certificate”) without interest coupons, which may be deposited on the relevant issue date (a) in the case of a Series intended to be cleared through Euroclear Bank SA/NV (“Euroclear”) and/or Clearstream Banking, S.A. (“Clearstream”), with a common depository on behalf of Euroclear and Clearstream, (b) in the case of a Series intended to be cleared through the Central Moneymarkets Unit Service (the “CMU Service”), operated by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority (the “HKMA”), with a sub-custodian for the CMU Service, (c) in the case of a Series intended to be cleared through The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”), registered in the name of Cede & Co. as nominee for DTC and (d) in the case of a Series intended to be cleared through a clearing system other than, or in addition to, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, DTC and/or the CMU Service, or delivered outside a clearing system, as agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer. Registered Notes which are sold in the United States to “qualified institutional buyers” (each, a “QIB”) within the meaning of Rule 144A (“Rule 144A”) under the Securities Act (“Restricted Notes”) will initially be represented by a permanent registered global note certificate (each a “Restricted Global Note Certificate” and, together with the relevant Unrestricted Global Note Certificates, the “Global Note Certificates”), without interest coupons, which may be deposited on the relevant issue date with a custodian (the “DTC Custodian”) for, and registered in the name of Cede & Co. as nominee for, DTC or with a common depository on behalf of Euroclear and Clearstream. The provisions governing the exchange of interests in Global Notes for other Global Notes and Definitive Notes are described in “Summary of Provisions Relating to the Notes while in Global Form”.

The Notes have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act or the securities laws of any other jurisdiction. Subject to certain exceptions, the Notes may not be offered, sold or (in the case of Bearer Notes) delivered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. Accordingly, the Notes may be offered and sold (i) in the United States (as defined in Regulation S) in registered form only to QIBs in transactions exempt from registration under the Securities Act and/or (ii) outside the United States to non-U.S. persons in offshore transactions in reliance on Regulation S. Any Series of Notes may be subject to additional selling restrictions. The applicable Pricing Supplement in respect of such Series of Notes will specify any such restrictions. See “Subscription and Sale” and the applicable Pricing Supplement. Bearer Notes are subject to U.S. tax requirements.

Standard & Poor’s Rating Services, a division of the McGraw Hill Companies, Inc. (“S&P”) has assigned a rating of “A+” to the Programme, Moody’s Investors Service, Inc. (“Moody’s”) has assigned a rating of “A1” to the Programme and Fitch Ratings Ltd. (“Fitch”) has assigned a rating of “A+” to the Programme. The rating is only correct as at the date of the Offering Circular. Notes issued under the Programme may be rated or unrated. A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to suspension, reduction, revision or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency.

Investing in Notes issued under the Programme involves certain risks and may not be suitable for all investors. See “Risk Factors” beginning on page 15 for a discussion of factors that you should consider carefully before investing in the Notes.

As at the date of this Offering Circular, we have outstanding under the Programme US$12 billion Notes. See “Explanatory Note”.

Application has been made to SEHK for the listing of the Programme by way of debt issues to professional investors (as defined in Chapter 37 of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and in the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571) of Hong Kong) (together, “Professional Investors”) only. This document is for distribution to Professional Investors only. Investors should not purchase the Notes in the primary or secondary markets unless they are Professional Investors and understand the risks involved. The Notes are only suitable for Professional Investors.

SEHK has not reviewed the contents of this document, other than to ensure that the prescribed form disclaimer and responsibility statements, and a statement limiting distribution of this document to Professional Investors only have been reproduced in this document. Listing of Programme and the Notes on SEHK is not to be taken as an indication of the commercial merits or credit quality of the Programme, the Notes or the Issuer or quality of disclosure in this document. Hong Kong Exchanges and Clearing Limited and the SEHK take no responsibility for the contents of this document, make no representation as to its accuracy or completeness and expressly disclaim any liability whatsoever for any loss howsoever arising from or in reliance upon the whole or any part of the contents of this document.

Hong Kong Exchanges and Clearing Limited and the SEHK take no responsibility for the contents of this Offering Circular, make no representation as to its accuracy or completeness and expressly disclaim any liability whatsoever for any loss howsoever arising from or in reliance upon the whole or any part of the contents of this Offering Circular.

This Offering Circular includes particulars given in compliance with the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited for the purpose of giving information with regard to the Issuer and the Notes. The Issuer accepts full responsibility for the accuracy of the information contained in this Offering Circular and confirms, having made all reasonable enquiries, that to the best of its knowledge and belief there are no other facts the omission of which would make any statement herein misleading.

The date of this Offering Circular is 25 May 2020.

Tencent Holdings Limited (the “Issuer” or the “Company”) having made all reasonable enquiries confirms that to its best knowledge and belief (i) this Offering Circular contains all information with respect to the Issuer and its subsidiaries taken as a whole (the “Group”) and the Notes which is material in the context of the issue and offering of the Notes; (ii) the statements contained herein relating to the Issuer, the Group and the Notes are in every material respect true and accurate and not misleading and there are no other facts in relation to the Issuer, the Group or the Notes, the omission of which would, in the context of the issue and offering of the Notes, make any statement in this Offering Circular misleading in any material respect; and (iii) the statements of intention, opinion and belief or expectation contained in this Offering Circular with regard to the Issuer and the Group are honestly made or held.

Each Series (as defined herein) of Notes issued on or after the date of this Offering Circular will be issued on the terms set out herein under “Terms and Conditions of the Notes” as amended and/or supplemented by the Pricing Supplement specific to such Series. This Offering Circular must be read and construed together with any amendments or supplements hereto and with any information incorporated by reference herein and, in relation to any Series of Notes, must be read and construed together with the relevant Pricing Supplement.

The distribution of this Offering Circular and any Pricing Supplement and the offering, sale and delivery of the Notes in certain jurisdictions may be restricted by law. Persons into whose possession this Offering Circular comes are required by the Issuer, Merrill Lynch (Asia Pacific) Limited and Deutsche Bank AG, Singapore Branch (each an “Arranger”, and together, the “Arrangers”) to inform themselves about and to observe any such restrictions. None of the Issuer, the Arrangers or the Dealers (as defined below) represents that this Offering Circular or any Pricing Supplement may be lawfully distributed, or that any Notes may be lawfully offered, in compliance with any applicable registration or other requirements in any such jurisdiction, or pursuant to an exemption available thereunder, or assumes any responsibility for facilitating any such distribution or offering. In particular, no action has been taken by the Issuer, the Arrangers or the Dealers, which would permit a public offering of any Notes or distribution of this Offering Circular or any Pricing Supplement in any jurisdiction where action for such purposes is required. Accordingly, no Notes may be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, and none of this Offering Circular, any Pricing Supplement or any advertisement or other offering material may be distributed or published in any jurisdiction, except under circumstances that will result in compliance with any applicable laws and regulations.

There are restrictions on the offer and sale of the Notes and the circulation of documents relating thereto, in certain jurisdictions including, but not limited to, the United States of America, the European Economic Area, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom, the PRC, Hong Kong, Japan and Singapore, and to persons connected therewith.

The Notes may be offered or sold (i) in the United States only to QIBs and only in registered form, and/or (ii) outside the United States, to non-U.S. persons in offshore transactions in reliance on Regulation S. Any Series of Notes may be subject to additional selling restrictions. Any additional restrictions on the sale or transfer of any Series of Notes will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement for such Notes.

If Notes in registered form are being offered or sold to U.S. persons or in the United States, prospective investors are hereby notified that sellers of such Notes may be relying on the exemption from the provisions of Section 5 of the Securities Act provided by Rule 144A. The Arrangers and Dealers, through their respective selling agents, may arrange for the offer and resale of such Notes to U.S. persons or persons in the United States who are QIBs in reliance on Rule 144A or pursuant to another exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act. For a description of certain restrictions on offers, sales and transfers of Notes and on the distribution of this Offering Circular, see “Subscription and Sale”.

The Notes have not been approved or disapproved by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, any state securities commission in the United States or any other U.S. regulatory authority, nor has any of the foregoing authorities passed upon or endorsed the merits of the offering of Notes or the accuracy or the adequacy of this Offering Circular. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offence in the United States.

This Offering Circular is being submitted on a confidential basis in the United States to a limited number of QIBs for informational use solely in connection with the consideration of the purchase of the Notes being offered hereby. Its use for any other purpose in the United States is not authorised. It may not be copied or reproduced in whole or in part nor may it be distributed or any of its contents disclosed to anyone other than the prospective investors to whom it is originally submitted.

MiFID II product governance / target market — The Pricing Supplement may include a legend entitled “MiFID II Product Governance” which will outline the target market assessment in respect of the Notes and which channels for distribution of the Notes are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Notes (a “distributor”) should take into consideration the target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, “MiFID II”) is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Notes (by either adopting or refining the target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

A determination will be made in relation to each issue about whether, for the purpose of the MiFID Product Governance rules under EU Delegated Directive 2017/593 (the “MiFID Product Governance Rules”), any Dealer subscribing for any Notes is a manufacturer in respect of such Notes, but otherwise, unless so determined, neither the Arrangers nor the Dealers nor any of their respective affiliates will be a manufacturer for the purpose of the MiFID Product Governance Rules.

PROHIBITION OF SALES TO EEA AND UK RETAIL INVESTORS

If the Pricing Supplement in respect of any Notes includes a legend entitled “Prohibition of Sales to EEA and UK Retail Investors”, the Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area (the “EEA”) or in the United Kingdom (the “UK”). For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive 2016/97/EU (as amended, the “Insurance Distribution Directive”), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (as amended, the “Prospectus Regulation”). Consequently, no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended, the “PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA or in the UK has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA or in the UK may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

Notification under Section 309B(1)(c) of the Securities and Futures Act, Chapter 289 of Singapore (“SFA”): Unless otherwise stated in the Pricing Supplement in respect of any Notes, all Notes issued or to be issued under the Programme shall be (A) prescribed capital markets products (as defined in the Securities and Futures (Capital Markets Products) Regulations 2018 of Singapore) and (B) Excluded Investment Products (as defined in MAS Notice SFA 04-N12: Notice on the Sale of Investment Products and MAS Notice FAA-N16: Notice on Recommendations on Investment Products).

Listing of the Notes on the SEHK is not to be taken as an indication of the merits of the Issuer, the Group or the Notes. In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the Issuer, the Group and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. See “Risk Factors” for a discussion of certain factors to be considered in connection with an investment in the Notes.

No person has been authorised by the Issuer to give any information or to make any representation not contained in or not consistent with this Offering Circular or any other document entered into in relation to the Programme and the sale of Notes and, if given or made, such information or representation should not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer, any Arranger or any Dealer.

Neither the delivery of this Offering Circular or any Pricing Supplement nor the offering, sale or delivery of any Note shall, in any circumstances, create any implication that the information contained in this Offering Circular is true subsequent to the date hereof or the date upon which this Offering Circular has been most recently amended or supplemented or that there has been no adverse change, or any event reasonably likely to involve any adverse change, in the prospects or financial or trading position of the Issuer since the date thereof or, if later, the date upon which this Offering Circular has been most recently amended or supplemented or that any other information supplied in connection with the Programme is correct at any time subsequent to the date on which it is supplied or, if different, the date indicated in the document containing the same.

Neither this Offering Circular nor any Pricing Supplement constitutes an offer or an invitation to subscribe for or purchase any Notes and should not be considered as a recommendation by the Issuer, the Arrangers, the Dealers, the Agents or any director, officer, employee, agent or affiliate of any such person or any of them that any recipient of this Offering Circular or any Pricing Supplement should subscribe for or purchase any Notes. Each recipient of this Offering Circular or any Pricing Supplement shall be taken to have made its own investigation and appraisal of the condition (financial or otherwise) of the Issuer.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The maximum aggregate principal amount of the Notes outstanding at any one time under the Programme will not exceed US$20,000,000,000 (and for this purpose, any Notes denominated in another currency shall be translated into United States dollars at the date of the agreement to issue such Notes calculated in accordance with the provisions of the Dealer Agreement as defined under “Subscription and Sale”). The maximum aggregate principal amount of the Notes, which may be outstanding at any one time under the Programme, may be increased from time to time, subject to compliance with the relevant provisions of the Dealer Agreement. As at the date of this Offering Circular, we have outstanding under the Programme US$900 million Senior Notes due 2025, US$100 million Senior Notes due 2035, US$1,000 million Senior Notes due 2023, US$500 million Floating Rate Notes due 2023, US$2,500 million Senior Notes due 2028, US$1,000 million Senior Notes due 2038, US$1,250 million Senior Notes due 2024, US$750 million Floating Rate Notes due 2024, US$500 million Senior Notes due 2026, US$3,000 million Senior Notes due 2029 and US$500 million Senior Notes due 2049, which amounted to US$12,000 million in the aggregate.

In connection with the issue of any Series of Notes, the Dealer(s) (if any) named as the stabilising manager(s) (the “Stabilising Manager(s)”) (or persons acting on behalf of any Stabilising Manager(s)) in the applicable Pricing Supplement may, to the extent permitted by applicable laws and rules, over-allot the Notes or effect transactions with a view to supporting the market price of the Notes at a level higher than that which might otherwise prevail. However, there is no assurance that the Stabilising Manager(s) (or persons acting on behalf of a Stabilising Manager) will undertake stabilisation action. Any stabilisation action may begin on or after the date on which adequate public disclosure of the terms of the offer of the relevant Series of Notes is made and, if begun, may be ended at any time, but it must end no later than the earlier of 30 days after the issue date of the relevant Series of Notes and 60 days after the date of the allotment of the relevant Series of Notes.

Market data and certain industry forecasts and statistics in this Offering Circular have been obtained from both public and private sources, including third party market research, publicly available information and other industry sources. Although this information is believed to be reliable, it has not been independently verified by the Issuer, the Arrangers, the Dealers, the Trustee or any Agent or their respective directors, officers, employees, agents and affiliates, and neither the Issuer, the Arrangers, the Dealers, the Trustee or any Agent nor their respective directors, officers, employees, agents and affiliates make any representation as to the accuracy or completeness of that information. Such information may not be consistent with other information compiled within or outside the PRC. In addition, third party information providers may have obtained information from market participants and such information may not have been independently verified. Information contained in websites of third party market research firms do not constitute part of this Offering Circular.

None of the Arrangers, the Dealers, the Trustee or any Agents has separately verified all of the information contained in this Offering Circular. To the fullest extent permitted by law, none of the Arrangers, the Dealers, the Trustee or any Agent or any director, officer, employee, agent or affiliate of any such person makes any representation, warranty or undertaking, express or implied, or accepts any responsibility, with respect to the accuracy or completeness of any of the information in this Offering Circular. To the fullest extent permitted by law, none of the Arrangers, the Dealers, the Trustee or any Agent or any director, officer, employee, agent or affiliate of any such person accepts any responsibility for the contents of this Offering Circular or for any other statement made or purported to be made by the Arrangers, the Dealers, the Trustee, any Agent, or any director, officer, employee, agent or affiliate of any such person or on its behalf in connection with the Issuer, the Notes or the issue and offering of the Notes. The Arrangers, the Dealers, Trustee and each Agent accordingly disclaim all and any liability whether arising in tort or contract or otherwise (save as referred to above) which it might otherwise have in respect of this Offering Circular or any such statement.

This Offering Circular does not describe all of the risks and investment considerations (including those relating to each investor's particular circumstances) of an investment in Notes of a particular issue. Each potential purchaser of the Notes should refer to and consider carefully the relevant Pricing Supplement for each particular issue of Notes, which may describe additional risks and investment considerations associated with such Notes. The risks and investment considerations identified in this Offering Circular and the applicable Pricing Supplement are provided as general information only. Investors should consult their own financial and legal advisers as to the risks and investment considerations arising from an investment in an issue of Notes and should possess the appropriate resources to analyse such investment and the suitability of such investment in their particular circumstances.

Neither this Offering Circular nor any other information provided or incorporated by reference in connection with the Programme are intended to provide the basis of any credit or other evaluation and should not be considered as a recommendation by any of the Issuer, the Arrangers, the Dealers, the Trustee or the Agents or any director, officer, employee, agent or affiliate of any such person that any recipient, of this Offering Circular or of any such information, should purchase the Notes. Each potential purchaser of the Notes should make its own independent investigation of the financial condition and affairs, and its own appraisal of the creditworthiness, of the Issuer and the Group. Each potential purchaser of Notes should determine for itself the relevance of the information contained in this Offering Circular and its purchase of Notes should be based upon such investigation, as it deems necessary. None of the Arrangers, the Dealers, the Trustee or the Agents or any agent or affiliate of any such person undertakes to review the financial condition or affairs of the Issuer or the Group during the life of the arrangements contemplated by this Offering Circular nor to advise any investor or potential investor in the Notes of any information coming to the attention of any of the Arrangers, the Dealers, the Trustee, the Agents or any of them.

In this Offering Circular, where information has been presented in thousands or millions of units, amounts may have been rounded up or down. Accordingly, totals of columns or rows of numbers in tables may not be equal to the apparent total of the individual items and actual numbers may differ from those contained herein due to rounding.

In this Offering Circular, unless otherwise specified or the context otherwise requires, all references to "we", "us", "our", the "Company", the "Group" and words of similar import are to Tencent Holdings Limited itself, or to Tencent Holdings Limited and its subsidiaries, as the context requires; all references to "US$", "USD" and to "U.S. dollar(s)" are to United States dollars; all references to "HK$", "H.K. dollar(s)" and to "HKD" are to Hong Kong dollars; all references to "euro" and "€" are to the currency introduced at the start of the third stage of European economic and monetary union, and as defined in Article 2 of Council Regulation (EC) No. 974/98 of 3 May 1998 on the introduction of the euro as amended; all references to “yen” are to Japanese yen; all references to “Renminbi”, “CNH”, “RMB” and “CNY” are to the currency of the PRC; all references to “United States” or “U.S.” are to the United States of America; references to “China”, “Mainland China” and the “PRC” in this Offering Circular mean the People’s Republic of China; references to “PRC Government” mean the government of the PRC; references to “Hong Kong” are to the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People’s Republic of China; references to “Macau” are to the Macao Special Administrative Region of the People’s Republic of China; and all references to “United Kingdom” are to the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

Unless otherwise noted, all translations from Renminbi to U.S. dollars and from U.S. dollars to Renminbi were made at a rate of RMB7.0808 to US$1.00, the exchange rate set forth in the H.10 statistical release of the U.S. Federal Reserve Board on 31 March 2020. We make no representation that any U.S. dollar, Renminbi, or H.K. dollar amounts could have been, or could be, converted into U.S. dollars, Renminbi or H.K. dollars, as the case may be, at any particular rate, at the rates stated above, or at all.

INFORMATION INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE

This Offering Circular should be read and construed in conjunction with each relevant Pricing Supplement, the most recently published audited annual financial statements and any interim financial statements (whether audited or unaudited) published subsequently to such annual financial statements of the Issuer from time to time on the SEHK and all amendments and supplements from time to time to this Offering Circular, which shall be deemed to be incorporated in, and to form part of, this Offering Circular and which shall be deemed to modify or supersede the contents of this Offering Circular to the extent that a statement contained in any such document is inconsistent with such contents.

Copies of all such documents which are so deemed to be incorporated in, and to form part of, this Offering Circular will be available free of charge during usual business hours on any weekday (Saturdays and public holidays excepted) from the office of the Issuer at Cricket Square, Hutchins Drive, P.O. Box 2681, Grand Cayman KY1-1111, Cayman Islands and at the specified offices of the Paying Agents and the principal office in Hong Kong of the Principal Paying Agent (as defined under “Summary of the Programme”) (or such other Paying Agent for the time being in Hong Kong) set out at the end of this Offering Circular.

PRESENTATION OF FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The Group’s consolidated financial information as at and for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 included in this Offering Circular has been derived from the Group’s audited consolidated financial statements. The Group’s consolidated financial information as at and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, which is included elsewhere in this Offering Circular has been derived from the Group’s unaudited consolidated financial statements. Potential investors must exercise caution when using such data to evaluate the Group’s financial condition and results of operations.

The Company prepares its consolidated financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”). IFRS 9 “Financial Instruments”, IFRS 15 “Revenue from Contracts with Customers” and IFRS 16 “Leases” issued by the IASB (collectively the “new accounting standards”) came into effect from 1 January 2018, 1 January 2018 and 1 January 2019 respectively. In preparing the audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019, the Company has adopted the new accounting standards as and when they came into effect and has not restated the prior years’ financial statements as permitted under the IFRSs. Therefore, the audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 may not be comparable. For the impact on adoption of the new accounting standards, please refer to Note 2.2 to the Company’s audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 respectively included elsewhere in this Offering Circular. See “Risk Factors — Risks Relating to Notes Issued under the Programme — Our financial statements for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 may not be comparable with the financial statements for previous years”.

AVAILABLE INFORMATION

For so long as any of the outstanding Notes are represented by one or more Restricted Global Note Certificates and are “restricted securities” within the meaning of Rule 144(a)(3) under the Securities Act, the Issuer will, during any period in which the Issuer is neither subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) of the United States Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the “Exchange Act”) nor exempt from the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act under Rule 12g3-2(b) thereunder, provide to the holder or beneficial owner of such restricted securities or to any prospective purchaser of such restricted securities designated by such holder or beneficial owner, in each case upon the written request of such holder, beneficial owners or prospective purchaser, the information required to be provided by Rule 144A(d)(4) under the Securities Act.

ENFORCEABILITY OF CIVIL LIABILITIES

The Issuer is incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands. Most of its directors and officers reside outside the United States (principally in the PRC). A substantial portion of the Issuer’s assets and the assets of such persons are or may be located outside the United States. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process within the United States upon the Issuer or such persons, or to enforce against the Issuer or such persons judgements obtained in United States courts, including judgements predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the federal securities laws of the United States. The Issuer has been advised by its PRC counsel, Han Kun Law Offices, that there is uncertainty as to whether the courts of the PRC would (1) enforce judgements of the U.S. courts obtained against the Issuer or its directors and officers predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the federal securities laws of the United States or the securities laws of any state or territory within the United States or (2) entertain original actions brought in the courts of the PRC against the Issuer or its directors and officers predicated upon these civil liabilities provisions.

SUMMARY OF THE ISSUER

This summary does not contain all the information that may be important to you in deciding to invest in the Notes. You should read the entire Offering Circular, including “Risk Factors”, “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” and our consolidated financial statements and related notes thereto, before making an investment decision.

OUR BUSINESS

We are a leading integrated Internet services company operating a broad range of Internet services including communication and social, online games, digital content, online advertising, FinTech, cloud and other services for our users, advertisers, merchants and enterprise partners. We develop and deliver highly popular products and services to enhance the quality of life for users and to maximise business opportunities for enterprises and industries through digital transformation.

We operate the largest communication and social community in China in terms of user base. Our massive communication and social platforms provide a foundation for our online community and serve as a gateway for our VAS. We had the largest number of DAU and MAU among social communities on both mobile and PC in March 2020, according to iResearch. Weixin and WeChat has a combined MAU of 1,202.5 million and smart device MAU of QQ was 693.5 million as at 31 March 2020. Our social community users are also the most engaged in China, with QQ, Weixin and WeChat users accounting for 88% of time spent in social networks in March 2020, according to iResearch.

Our social products link our users to a vast array of best-in-class digital content and multimedia services across the globe. We are the largest online game platform globally by revenues, with 14% global market share in 2019, according to Newzoo. We have developed and published highly popular games in a variety of genres and have expanded into tactical tournaments. During 2019, we experienced rapid growth in our international online game business due to our enhanced development and publishing capability. In addition to establishing our original IP franchises, we have developed external partnerships via a number of new investments in best-in-genre studios. We have also established leading digital content platforms that include video, news, music, literature and others, generating both subscription and usage-based revenues. By driving synergies across our digital content platforms, we have significantly enhanced the value of our IP portfolio. Consequently, our substantial and engaged user base, combined with our unique data insights and advanced digital advertising technology, present an attractive proposition to advertisers.

As an industry leader and global pioneer of innovative technology solutions, our platforms and services connect users, content providers, enterprises and developers. We have built strong relationships with key strategic partners, connecting our own and our partners’ quality content and a wide variety of services to consumers. The numerous Weixin/WeChat services, such as Weixin Mini Programs and Weixin Pay, are becoming increasingly interconnected and hubs of mobile connectivity. Weixin Mini Programs connect online and offline services with users on Weixin/WeChat. These services are reshaping the lifestyles of consumers as well as helping companies digitalise their businesses by tapping into growing smart-business and smart-living needs, which covers more offline consumption scenarios, such as retail, healthcare, mobility etc. The number of daily transactions generated within Weixin Mini Programs more than doubled year-on-year, and their transaction value exceeded RMB800 billion in 2019. We have expanded our businesses from the Consumer Internet into the Industrial Internet to help enterprises adapt to the digital economy and optimise operations.

For our FinTech business, our payment service has expanded from social and entertainment to commercial activities, and from online to offline transactions. Our social payment functions such as red packets and bill sharing simplify peer-to-peer transfers, whereas our commercial payment services facilitate fast and seamless experiences for both eCommerce transactions and offline consumption scenarios. As such, our commercial payment transaction volume is growing rapidly and diversifying from large online merchants to small to mid-sized offline merchants. Our mobile payment services also provide a platform for distribution of a variety of FinTech services. Our robust payment infrastructure provides high levels of payment security, service reliability and transaction speed. During 2019, we strengthened our leadership in mobile payment services through deepening our penetration among offline merchants. Our wealth management service and lending services have also experienced rapid growth. Our wealth management platform, LiCaiTong, increased its aggregate customer assets over 50% year-on-year, while its number of customers more than doubled year-on-year in the fourth quarter of 2019 as we expanded into the mass market. Our affiliate WeBank rapidly grew the loan balances of its micro-loan product, WeiLiDai, while maintaining a healthy credit risk performance.

In Business services, we develop and drive adoption of both cloud-based vertical industry solutions and enterprise functional applications, enabling businesses and other partners to better connect with our users, and assisting digitalisation and transformation of the economy. Tencent Cloud is a high-performance cloud service that powers our ecosystem and is offered to third party enterprises to meet their computing and storage infrastructure as well as other technology needs. Tencent Cloud is layered with advanced technologies in cloud computing, data analytics, artificial intelligence, security and location-based services. Our cloud services have enjoyed robust growth and maintain a leading market position in verticals such as online games, video and live broadcast. We have further expanded our cloud-based enterprise services in industry verticals such as Internet services, retail, tourism, municipal services and industrial sectors. As at 31 December 2019, our number of paying customers exceeded 1 million. Our cloud services are the foundation for our smart industry solutions, helping to digitally transform and empower businesses that are conventionally offline. We enhanced our SaaS offerings via our products, e.g. Tencent Meeting and WeChat Work, and external partnerships. We enhanced our cloud services operating efficiency as our scale grew.

Our business provides value for users, application developers, content providers, advertisers, merchants and enterprises in various industries. Currently, we have four lines of business:

- Value-added Services — Our VAS business consists mainly of social networks and online games.
- Social networks — We are a leading provider of social networks in China, with clear leadership in communication and social platforms, including QQ and Weixin/WeChat. Our social networks generate revenues from membership privileges and subscriptions of a diverse and comprehensive range of digital content services such as video, music and literature, as well as virtual item sales and others.
- Online games — We are the largest online games platform in the world by revenues with 14% global market share and 49% China market share in 2019, according to Newzoo and iResearch, respectively. We have strong in-house development capabilities, demonstrated by our highly acclaimed in-house games in a variety of genres such as battle arena (Honour of Kings, League of Legends), racing (QQ Speed Mobile), strategy (King of Chaos) and tactical tournament (PUBG Mobile and Peacekeeper Elite). We are also the partner of choice for game publishers due to our leading distribution capabilities in China and globally.
- Online Advertising — Our online advertising services primarily comprise social and others advertising and media advertising. Social and others advertising relates to advertising on our social properties, such as QQ KanDian, Kuaibao, Weixin Moments, Weixin Mini Programs, Weixin Official Accounts and Weixin Top Stories, our utilities properties, such as application store and browser, as well as mobile advertising network. Media advertising relates to advertising on our video, news, music and other online media properties. Significant traffic on our various properties offers ample advertising opportunities. Through leveraging our comprehensive ecosystem, scale and user insights, we drive relevant and targeted advertising to generate higher returns for advertisers.

- FinTech and Business Services — Our FinTech and Business services mainly comprise FinTech services such as mobile payment, wealth management, lending, and cloud services and other enterprise-facing services. We are a market leading mobile payment platform in China. In the fourth quarter of 2019, our mobile payment services exceeded 1 billion daily average transactions for our commercial payments, covered over 800 million MAU and worked with over 50 million monthly active merchants. We provide enterprises and developers with a suite of cloud based services, including IaaS (such as cloud computing, storage and CDN), PaaS (such as database, video services, data security and artificial intelligence) and SaaS (such as Tencent Meeting, WeChat Work and third party SaaS products).

Our expansive product offerings, advanced technologies and infrastructure services form a hub for fulfilling people’s lifestyle needs, including social and communication, entertainment, information, O2O and FinTech services. We further broaden the types and the number of services offered to our users by enabling third parties partners to offer services and products on our platforms. Through strategic partnerships with category leaders, we continue to expand our ecosystem and deepen engagement with our users. We, including our affiliates such as JD.com, Meituan Dianping, Pinduoduo have large platforms across a variety of Internet categories, and collectively we have 14 out of the top 30 applications ranked by DAU in December 2019 in China, according to QuestMobile.

In addition to growing our core businesses organically, we make strategic investments in best-in-class companies. As we focus our management attention and company resources on our own core platforms, we also capture emerging opportunities in adjacent verticals through investee companies. By the end of 2019, over 70 of our investee companies are publicly listed, and more than 160 investee companies valued at over US$1 billion each. We enrich our IP portfolio including games, video, music and literature via upstream investments, and broaden user reach and engagement via investments in vertical platforms. We work with businesses that can expand our offerings to meet evolving user needs, and accelerate the adoption of our enterprise services and products, such as O2O and smart retail companies, which has helped expand our payment service penetration and advertiser base. We use investments as a tool for better understanding frontier technologies which will become important to our future, such as robotics and artificial intelligence. Our investments have created value for our investee companies by offering them access to our large user base, and providing them infrastructure, technology and capital support to bolster their growth.

OUR STRENGTHS

We believe that the following strengths contribute to our success and differentiate us from our competitors:

Largest Communication and Social Community with High Engagement and Strong Network Effects

We operate the largest communication and social community in China in terms of user base, with 1,202.5 million combined MAU of Weixin and WeChat and 693.5 million smart device MAU of QQ as at 31 March 2020. We operate three of the top ten social platforms in the world as at April 2020, including QQ, Qzone and Weixin/WeChat, according to We Are Social and Hootsuite. QQ and Weixin/WeChat are among our key platforms, allowing users to participate in communication and social platforms through sending and receiving instant messages, interacting in QQ communities of various interest verticals, and utilising mobile communication products and services, including but not limited to shopping, local services, public services, entertainment and travel.

Our large and highly engaged user base creates a strong network effect for our users to interact with one another through communication and social platforms and our other applications and VAS, which in turn helps us to retain our existing users and attract new users. Leveraging our massive user base, we have successfully grown our online media platforms into market leaders, including video, news, music and literature.

We believe that our large and active user base creates a high entry barrier. We will continuously seek to build on to the scale and engagement of our user base.

Significant Market Leadership across Multiple Key Industry Verticals

We have a strong presence for all of our key platforms and services, including communication and social platforms, online games, various digital media platforms, utility platforms, FinTech services and cloud services. We believe our leading position is underpinned by our in-depth understanding of the needs of our users and the trends in the market, as well as our strong research and development capability.

- Communication and Social — We operate the largest communication and social community in China for both mobile and PC in terms of user base in March 2020, according to iResearch. Our social community users are the most engaged in China, with QQ, Weixin and WeChat users accounting for 88% of time spent in social networks in March 2020, according to iResearch.
- Online Games — We are the largest online game platform globally by revenues, with 14% global market share in 2019, according to Newzoo. We are also the largest online game platform in China with a total market share of 49%, a PC game market share of 60% and a smart phone game market share of 45% as measured by revenues in 2019, according to iResearch. We develop 5 of the top 10 international (global excluding China) mobile games in terms of DAU in the fourth quarter of 2019. Amongst our leading game titles are League of Legends, the top grossing PC game in China in the first quarter of 2020, according to iResearch, and Honour of Kings and Peacekeeper Elite, the No. 1 and No. 2 smart phone game respectively in China in terms of DAU in the first quarter of 2020, according to QuestMobile, as well as PUBG Mobile, the international (global excluding China) highest ranked smart phone game title by DAU in the fourth quarter of 2019.
- Digital Media Platforms — Leveraging our massive user base, we have developed leading digital media platforms offering the broadest range of relevant and high quality content across a variety of platforms, including online video, online news, online music, online literature and others. Our high quality, differentiated content library on each of these platforms attract, engage and retain a substantial number of users, which offer tremendous monetisation potential. Our strong support for intellectual property protection is also key to our media platforms becoming strategic partners of choice for major content producers and owners locally and globally.
 - Video — Our online video platform, Tencent Video, is the leading online video streaming platform in China in terms of mobile DAU and daily time spent in March 2020, according to QuestMobile. By leveraging our upstream intellectual properties in a variety of content formats, such as literature and games, we have enhanced the offerings of our self-commissioned video content.
 - News — Our online news platform, Tencent News, is the largest mobile news platform in China in terms of MAU in March 2020, according to iResearch. We have also integrated algorithmic news feeds services with QQ, namely QQ KanDian, which offered technology-enabled recommended news services with social sharing features.
 - Music — Our online music service is primarily operated by TME, the largest online music entertainment platform in China with over 657 million mobile MAU in online music and 256 million MAU in social entertainment in the first quarter of 2020. TME operates the top four music mobile applications in terms of mobile MAU in 2019, according to iResearch, and also provides music-centric live streaming services. TME's music library currently has over 40 million tracks from domestic and international music labels.
 - Literature — Our platform, China Literature, is a market leading online literature platform in China as measured by the scale and quality of writers, readers and literary content offerings. As at 31 December 2019, China Literature had 8.1 million writers and 12.2 million works of literature, including 11.5 million original literary works written by writers on our platform. In 2019, average MAU on its self-owned platform products and self-operated channels reached 219.7 million. Through deeper collaboration with our online literature platform, we have amassed significant experience operating a user generated content library and developing IP that can be extended across multiple media formats.

- Utility Platforms — We offer utility platforms that provide services ranging from mobile application store (YingYongBao), mobile security and management (Tencent Mobile/PC Assistant), and Internet browser (Mobile QQ Browser). According to iResearch, our application store YingYongBao was the largest mobile application store in China in terms of MAU in March 2020, and our browser Mobile QQ Browser is ranked first in China in terms of MAU amongst mobile web browsers in March 2020.
- FinTech Services — Our mobile payment platform, Weixin Pay, is a market leader in China, with an average of over one billion commercial transactions per day in the fourth quarter of 2019. Our payment platform covers over 800 million MAU, and connects with over 50 million monthly active merchants in the fourth quarter of 2019.
- Cloud Services — Tencent Cloud has global infrastructure coverage and is a leader in providing cloud services to online games and live broadcast operators. It is expanding business in verticals such as Internet services, financial institutions, tourism, municipal services and industrial sectors. Combining our advanced data analytics and artificial intelligence technologies, we have built an expanding portfolio of cloud products and customised industry solutions, accelerating our expansion in different industries. Benefitting from enhanced sales team and deeper partnership with system integrators, the number of paying customers of Tencent Cloud exceeded 1 million as at 31 December 2019.

Open Platform and Comprehensive Ecosystem that Empower our Partners with Enterprise Tools

Users spend a substantial amount of time on our platforms, and engagement continues to increase as we grow and improve our content library and service offerings. We have an open platform that enables third parties to provide services to enrich and enhance our ecosystem while they benefit from increased traffic and business opportunities.

Through strategic partnerships with category leaders, we have built a comprehensive ecosystem for users on our platforms, offering them a broad range of products and services, in particular eCommerce, O2O services and smart retail. For instance, we have strategic partnerships with leading eCommerce platforms such as JD.com and Pinduoduo, which embed their services into Weixin/WeChat. For O2O services, we also have strategic partnerships with Meituan Dianping, the largest service-focused eCommerce platform in China, and Tongcheng-Elong, a leading online travel platform in China. To develop our smart retail initiatives, we have partnered with Walmart and Yonghui Superstores, for example, to digitalise offline grocery shopping, offering enhanced data capabilities to traditional stores and more convenient mobile payment and checkout solutions to shoppers.

Our open platform is also expanding rapidly through Weixin Mini Programs, which offer a convenient interface that connects users to a wide spectrum of online and offline services, including games, entertainment content, news and information, productivity tools, lifestyle services, municipal services and eCommerce, all within Weixin/WeChat. We pioneered and then proliferated Weixin Mini Programs, fostering a vibrant ecosystem with a large number of mid-to-long tail Mini Programs, as well as better online and offline integration. By encouraging Weixin Mini Programs innovation, we have built up a sizable developer ecosystem with a large and expanding base of external developers and software integrators. Weixin Mini Programs exceeded 400 million DAU in the first quarter of 2020. We view Weixin Mini Programs as complementary to native mobile applications, and we believe it will contribute materially to our user experience, our enterprise relationships, and the development of our payment, advertising and cloud businesses. The commercial transaction on our platform is growing rapidly. The number of daily transactions generated within Weixin Mini Programs more than doubled year-on-year, and the transaction value exceeded RMB800 billion in 2019.

Through our mobile payment, we have also managed to close the loop for transactions across our ecosystems on our platform. We provide infrastructure support and mobile payment tools through Weixin Pay and QQ Wallet to connect merchants and consumers. With growing strategic cooperation with flagship merchants and channel partners, our mobile payment penetration is increasing. This in turn serves as an important platform and channel for FinTech businesses to distribute financial products online, including wealth management and micro-loans.

Diversified Revenue Streams with Proven Monetisation

We continuously develop innovative services to expand and enrich the experience of our users and enhance their loyalty to our online communities. To fulfil our users' online lifestyle needs, we offer a wide range of VAS, such as membership privileges, digital content subscriptions, and online games. Our diverse offering of products and services, combined with our large user base and integrated payment platform, offers us significant monetisation opportunities and diversifies our revenue streams.

We generate VAS revenues from user subscriptions and item-based sales. We have accumulated expertise in cross-marketing our services and products across our massive user base and have been successful in migrating a large number of our users for QQ and Weixin to fee-based services and products such as QQ Membership, video and music subscription services. In addition, through creating a highly engaging and interactive social experience, we also generate revenues from selling virtual items and gifts. In particular, for our online game business, we have diversified our revenue by developing more popular games either in-house or by partnerships with top notch game developers and overseas expansion. In addition to establishing our original IP franchises, we developed external partnerships via a number of new investments in best-in-genre studios. During 2019, we also made notable progress in our overseas business. Our international games revenues more than doubled year-on-year, constituting 23% of our online games revenue in the fourth quarter of 2019.

We have also monetised user traffic generated from our communication and social, video, news, music, literature and other platforms through online advertising. Through leveraging our comprehensive ecosystem, scale and data insights, we drive relevant and targeted advertising to generate higher returns for advertisers. We are able to increase ads inventory on our online properties without intruding on user experiences. Leveraging our data and technology, we believe we have taken substantial market share in ad networks, where we have experienced robust revenue growth and improved operating margin.

We have been able to successfully monetise our FinTech and cloud services. FinTech service revenues mainly include commissions from payment by merchants, wealth management platform and other FinTech services. Cloud services are mainly charged on either a subscription or consumption basis. Our cloud services revenues exceeded RMB17 billion in 2019. As at 31 December 2019, our number of paying customers exceeded 1 million, benefitting from enhanced sales team and deeper partnerships with system integrators. Further, use of our advanced technologies in cloud computing, data analytics, artificial intelligence, security, payment and location-based services, as well as audio and video programme services helps industries to digitalise their business and enhance their operational efficiency, and allows us to successfully monetise our cloud and enterprise-facing services.

By continuing to develop new products and services, to meet the rapidly evolving needs of Internet users and industries, we expect to generate additional revenues from new and existing services for our massive user base and broad-based ecosystem.

Highly Cash Generative Business Model

We have consistently generated healthy cash flows from our operations and maintained positive operating cash flows since 2001, and through economic cycles. A significant majority of our revenues are derived from micro-transactions or subscription revenues generated by our massive user base. We price most of our products and services at an affordable level for the average Internet user, making our earnings and cash flows more resilient to economic cycles. Consequently, our business is generally less affected by global economic slowdowns and domestic macro-tightening measures.

We bill and collect a significant amount of our revenues on a prepaid basis, which minimises our working capital needs and achieves a high cash flow conversion ratio. In addition, our consumer Internet-based business model demonstrates significant operational scalability and requires low capital expenditures. As at 31 March 2020, our cash and cash equivalents, as well as term deposits and others amounted to RMB220,584 million (US$31,152 million). For the year ended 31 December 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2020, our net operating cash flow was RMB148,590 million and RMB54,661 million (US$7,720 million) respectively.

Strong Liquidity Position and Prudent Balance Sheet Management

We have maintained a strong and stable liquidity position and significant listed investments portfolio. As at 31 December 2019, our total cash and cash equivalents, as well as term deposits and others were RMB205,261 million and the fair value of our stakes in listed investee companies (including associates, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income) was RMB419,818 million. In addition, over the recent years, we have diversified our debt funding mix with a broader base of funding sources and lending banks. As at 31 December 2019, notes and borrowings accounted for 43% and 57% of our total debt balance respectively, compared with 36% and 64% respectively as at 31 December 2018. As at 31 December 2019, 15% of our debt is due within a year, 8% of our debt is due between one and two years, 50% of our debt is due between two and five years, and 27% of our debt is due after five years. This balanced debt maturity profile adds to the strength of our balance sheet and capital structure.

Stable Management Team with Proven Execution Track Record

We have a stable and capable senior management team with extensive operating experience in the Internet and telecommunications industries as well as strong capabilities in developing and executing innovative business strategies. Besides core founders, we have recruited senior management talent from leading global firms. We also have competitive training and career development plans in place to continuously build our own teams. The collective experience of our management team brings together a mix of local and international experience, industry knowledge and complementary skill sets which have led us to become a leading Internet services company. The average tenor of our senior management team with our company is more than 12 years. We believe our committed and experienced management team will continue to lead us to further success.

OUR STRATEGIES

We aim to connect users, businesses, and industries. Our “Connection” strategy focuses on increasing sharing, communication and overall engagement on our social platforms, and linking these platforms to a broader range of content, applications and online and offline services. To further extend our strategy, we enable our partners in different industries to better connect with consumers via our expanding, open and connected ecosystem. We believe our “Connection” strategy enables us to drive the convergence of social, content and technology trends, and to better serve consumers as well as enterprises and industries in the process. In particular, we aim to:

Deepen Engagement and Enhance Stickiness of our Massive User Base, and Further Monetise Our User Base, User Traffic and Content

We believe the depth of user engagement of our massive online communities is one of our critical competitive advantages. We will continue to increase user engagement by enhancing user experience and broadening our products and services, creating opportunities for our ecosystem partners. We will continue to introduce high quality content across our variety of online media platforms, including video, news, music, literature and others, and further integrate these media platforms with our online platforms to enhance the holistic and differentiated social experience for our users. We plan to strengthen connections between users via digital content, online services, and offline services, as well as enhancing connections with enterprises leveraging Mini Programs, Weixin Pay and WeChat Work. We believe that the broad range of services we offer and the strong integrated social element will facilitate the expansion of our user base and further deepen user engagement in China and the overseas market.

We seek to broaden and enhance our fee-based VAS, and promote user subscriptions and item-based sales to increase paying user conversion rate. In our online games business, we have launched a number of initiatives to improve user engagement and monetisation, including by releasing popular content updates to existing games and deepening user engagement through eSports competitions, games broadcasting platforms and other experiences. We will further enhance our communication and social platform monetisation through initiatives such as Weixin Moments, Weixin Mini Programs and Weixin Official Accounts, while balancing the focus on maintaining a high quality user experience. While we invest in high quality content on our online media platforms, we seek to monetise our successes through subscription for enhanced membership privileges. Users may upgrade to higher privilege membership status in order to enjoy VAS and access our wide variety of digital media and content. We plan to further enhance the overall competitiveness of our online advertising platform and expand our market share for media, social and others advertising. We strive to attract more small and regional advertisers with deeper targeting algorithms and more convenient self-service tools.

We also plan to further boost usage of our payment-related services by covering more online and offline consumption scenarios and expand our FinTech offerings. With the increasing ubiquity of our mobile payment solutions and expansion of our FinTech offerings. We plan to further invest to improve our online payment infrastructure and explore the synergies between our social platforms and other services to further monetise our user base, user traffic and content.

Reinforce High Quality and Differentiated Content, while Promoting Intellectual Property Protection

We plan to enhance our ability to create and own content through capturing intellectual property and user generated content in our ecosystem. We will continue to systematically invest in high quality and in-house content and technology that is relevant to our users to boost stickiness and drive differentiation in our games and online media platforms. We also maintain strong relationships with various content providers, including game developers, writers, music labels and video production studios, which are critical for us to secure access to high quality copyrighted content on our media platforms. We also plan to leverage our deep understanding of users, as well as industry expertise, to identify attractive content for in-house production or licensing. In addition to digital content developed by professionals, we plan to further promote creation, curation and distribution of user-generated content to enhance user engagement and stickiness. We will also continue to strengthen our short-form video content, driving user traffic and consumption of short-form video across Weishi, news feed platforms and Weixin Mini Programs, furthering user engagement and integration with our social networks. For example, we will continue to invest in and develop our new content products, such as Weishi, which enables our users to share short videos within Weixin Moments. We will continue to take advantage of our product innovation and enhanced technologies, such as artificial intelligence, enriched visual effects, advance video recognition and other smart recommendation technologies, to boost content creation, curation and recommendation. We will also continue to extend our franchise in long-form video to short-form video.

Piracy poses a significant challenge to the online media industry in China. We intend to continue our efforts to support intellectual property protection by organising campaigns together with government authorities, content owners and other industry participants. To promote the healthy development of the online media market in China, we seek to cooperate with leading Internet companies in China to market our copyrighted content offerings and to diminish the distribution network of pirated materials online. We believe we are the partner of choice for content owners because of our scope of intellectual property protection.

Expand our Open Platform Strategy that Promotes Innovation and Collaboration

We are expanding on our open platform strategy and are seeking to increasingly collaborate and enter into partnerships with third party developers, industry partners, vertical category leaders and content providers in China and globally to further enrich the content and applications offered on our open platforms, thus increasing social sharing and interaction among our users. For instance, YingYongBao was the largest mobile application store in China in terms of MAU in March 2020, according to iResearch. Our open content platform is focused on helping our partners create, distribute and expand their content to our users, and spans across a range of content categories, including games, videos, music and literature. We will continue to encourage users, KOLs and other content providers to create more content, in particular short-form video content, on our platforms and we will help them better distribute and monetise such content. For example, we enable users to share and create short videos via Weishi within Weixin Moments. We will also continue to expand our online-to-offline offerings through Weixin Mini Programs to connect online users to various services. Our open platform enables third party SaaS providers to serve our cloud enterprise clients as we help to develop the Industrial Internet.

By offering a large number of quality third party and in-house applications, we endeavour to promote innovation within our platforms, which we expect will ultimately enhance the value of our platform as a whole. We support innovation in the industry by opening certain of our technology capabilities, including artificial intelligence technologies to entrepreneurs. We run incubator spaces in China to facilitate the success of entrepreneurs.

We believe our open platform will incentivise content creation to increase user engagement as well as broaden content offerings to our users to enhance user experience and stickiness, which in turn will facilitate monetization of our user base, user traffic and content.

Invest in Leading Technologies including Artificial Intelligence and Cloud to Create Value

We will continue to invest in leading technologies, including artificial intelligence and cloud, which can enhance experience for our users, personalise recommendations within our digital content services, optimise advertising targeting and effectiveness, enrich social interactions through features such as animated filters, as well as empower our ecosystem partners. Our existing strength in computing power, data, engineering technologies, as well as use cases coupled with our proactive build-up of technology talent, offers us a strategic advantage in harnessing the value creation opportunities from leading technologies.

For instance, through applying artificial intelligence technology throughout the process of advertisement placement, including understanding users' preferences, contextual and advertisement content, ranking the bidding price and optimising display formats, we may be able to increase the return on investments for advertisers on our platforms. Similarly, through applying artificial intelligence technology to our digital content platforms, we are able to make more relevant and customised recommendations based on their interest and social graphs so that users can access their favourite content more efficiently and have an improved user experience.

We will also increase investment in cloud-related services to provide differentiated and tailor-made solutions by leveraging our comprehensive and advanced technologies in security, payment, data analytics, among others. We plan to continue to develop our cloud resources and technology to create value for industries. For example, we have developed COVID-19 pandemic-related programmes and supported pandemic-related medical research as we entered 2020. We have created all-in-one entry point, Tencent Health, for online healthcare services, which has provided access to real time pandemic data and information and online consultation to over 300 million Weixin users. Our AI-powered tools help users to self-diagnose and help doctors to increase efficiency in diagnosing COVID-19 through Tencent Health. Our Health Code is the most-used ePass for verifying health and travel status during COVID-19 pandemic in China.

Leverage our Leading Social Platforms and Advanced Technology Capabilities to Further Enable Industrial Internet

Leveraging our high-traffic social platforms and innovative and widely accepted enterprise tools, we will further our expansion from Consumer Internet to Industrial Internet, connecting industries with consumers and business partners, and helping industries expand through digital channels.

We believe we are uniquely positioned to help businesses embrace the Industrial Internet. Firstly, we have a robust infrastructure that enables us to provide cloud-based services to various businesses. Secondly, through our advanced technologies in artificial intelligence, data analytics, security, payment and location-based services, we can help industries improve operational efficiency. Thirdly, our various consumer to business tools, such as WeChat Work, Weixin Mini Programs and Weixin Pay, allow enterprises to reach our massive user base across our social and other high traffic platforms. Finally, we have customised smart industry solutions that help solve different industry needs and enhance efficiency, such as our smart retail initiative and healthcare solutions.

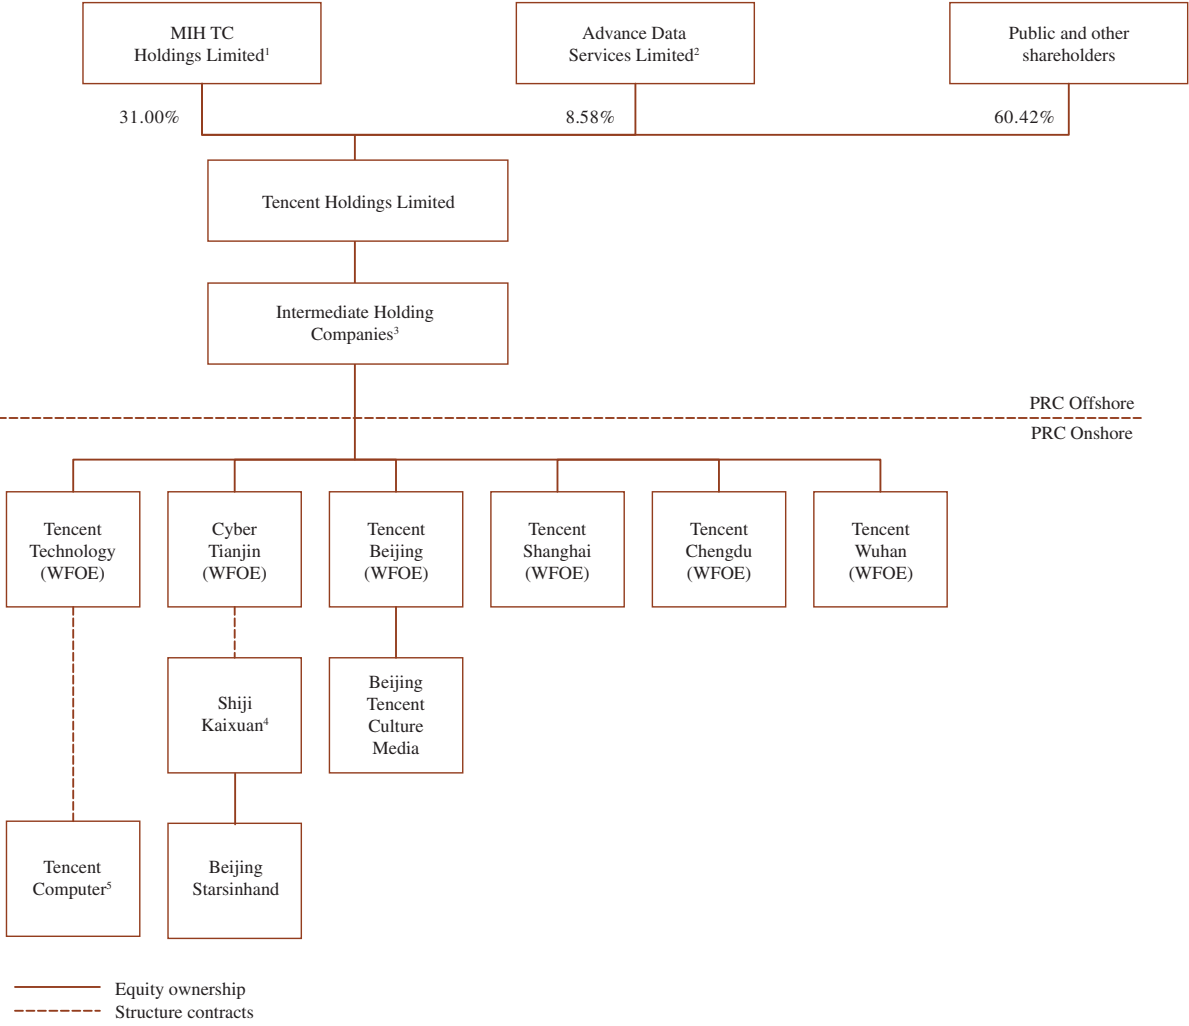

We plan to assist with digitalisation and transformation of more industries, such as healthcare and education. To promote smart healthcare, we use our artificial intelligence capabilities to help patients connect with medical care providers and the right experts, and help doctors in screening and diagnoses. Healthcare related Weixin Mini Programs allow patients to register for appointments with hospitals or conduct video appointments with specialists online. Tencent Medipedia, which provides reliable medical information resources, developed pandemic-related content and attracted more than 600 million page views. Tencent Medipedia also launched free online consultation serving our users, supported by more than 10,000 doctors from our ecosystem partners. Since the coronavirus outbreak, QQ School-plus-Home groups have served more than 120 million users, with optimised features such as live broadcast, online tutoring programs and online administrative tools for school routines to facilitate online and offline education. We have also upgraded our capabilities and products to provide access to healthcare services, businesses and educational establishments with remote workplace and collaborative tools.

Pursue Partnerships to Enhance Our Business Portfolio and Grow International Presence

We have entered into partnerships with content providers and vertical category leaders to enhance our business portfolio. Our partnerships with game developers, film studios and record labels, amongst others, help us secure valuable intellectual properties, applications and media content to build content offerings on our platforms, differentiate our services from the competition and support business growth. We plan to establish co-operation opportunities with vertical category leaders in areas including eCommerce, digital content, local services, transportation, retail, healthcare and finance to expand services on our platform. We are also expanding our business overseas, with footprint in the United States, Europe, South Korea and emerging markets such as Southeast Asia and India. For example, we will seek to extend our domestic game industry leadership overseas, reinforce our international efforts, and provide high quality new games globally. Online game business has spearheaded our overseas expansion with the successes of PUBG Mobile and Call of Duty: Mobile in international markets and long-term relationships with leading global game companies. We have also looked at opportunities overseas with vertical category leaders to enter into other overseas markets and to reinforce our long-term relationships with global partners. With our expertise in operating large-scale games and events and our global publishing and operation experience, we will continue to foster user communities for users and players. We have leveraged our technical and operational know-how to deliver quality Internet and mobile applications and services to users in international markets. We aim to strengthen our position as the hub for fulfilling people's online lifestyle needs.

Method of Issue The Notes will be issued on a syndicated or non-syndicated basis. The Notes will be issued in series (each a “Series”) having one or more issue dates and on terms otherwise identical (or identical other than in respect of the first payment of interest and their issue price), and intended to be interchangeable with all other Notes of that Series. Each Series may be issued in tranches (each a “Tranche”) on the same or different issue dates. The specific terms of each Tranche (which will be completed, where necessary, with the relevant terms and conditions and, save in respect of the issue date, issue price, first payment date of interest and nominal amount of the Tranche, will be identical to the terms of other Tranches of the same Series) will be completed in the Pricing Supplement.

Clearing Systems With respect to Notes (other than CMU Notes), Euroclear, Clearstream and/or DTC and such other clearing system as shall be agreed between the Issuer, the Trustee, the Agents and the relevant Dealer. With respect to CMU Notes, the CMU Service (each of Euroclear, Clearstream, DTC and the CMU Service, a “Clearing System”). See “Clearance and Settlement”.

Form of the Notes Notes may be issued in bearer form or in registered form.

Registered Notes will not be exchangeable for Bearer Notes and vice versa. Bearer Notes will be issued only under Regulation S outside the United States to non-U.S. persons.

Each Series of Bearer Notes will initially be represented by a Temporary Global Note or a Permanent Global Note, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, which, in each case, may be deposited on the issue date with a common depository for Euroclear, Clearstream or any other agreed clearance system compatible with Euroclear and Clearstream or, in respect of CMU Notes, a sub-custodian for the CMU Service. A Temporary Global Note will be exchangeable, in whole or in part, as described therein, for interests in a Permanent Global Note or if so stated in the relevant Pricing Supplement, Definitive Notes, as described under “Form of the Notes”. A Permanent Global Note may be exchanged, in whole but not in part, for Definitive Notes only upon the occurrence of an Exchange Event as described under “Form of the Notes”. Any interest in a Temporary Global Note or a Permanent Global Note will be transferable only in accordance with the rules and procedures or the time being of Euroclear, Clearstream, the CMU Service and/or any other agreed clearance system, as appropriate.

Bearer Notes will be issued in compliance with applicable U.S. tax rules. Bearer Notes will be issued in compliance with rules in substantially the same form as U.S. Treasury regulations § 1.163 - 5(c)(2)(i)(D) for purposes of Section 4701 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code (the “D Rules”) unless (i) the applicable Pricing Supplement states that the Bearer Notes are issued in compliance with rules in substantially the same form as U.S. Treasury Regulation § 1.163 - 5(c)(2)(i)(C) for purposes of Section 4701 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code (the “C Rules”) or (ii) the Bearer Notes are issued other than in compliance with the D Rules or the C Rules but in circumstance in which the Notes will not constitute “registration required obligations” for U.S. federal income tax purposes, which circumstance will be referred to in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Bearer Notes that are issued in compliance with the D Rules must be initially represented by a Temporary Global Note exchangeable for a Permanent Global Note or Definitive Notes upon certification of non-U.S. beneficial ownership.

Each Series of Registered Notes, which are sold outside the United States to non-U.S. persons in reliance on Regulation S, will, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, be represented by a Global Note Certificate (as defined in the “Form of the Notes”), which will be deposited on or about its issue date with a Common Depositary for, and registered in the name of a nominee of, Euroclear and Clearstream or with a custodian for, and registered in the name of a nominee of, DTC for the accounts of Euroclear and Clearstream or, in respect of CMU Notes, a sub-custodian for the CMU Service operated by the HKMA. With respect to all offers or sales by a Dealer of an unsold allotment or subscription and in any case prior to the expiry of the distribution compliance period (as defined in Regulation S), beneficial interests in a Global Note Certificate of such Series may be held only through Euroclear, Clearstream, DTC for the accounts of Euroclear and Clearstream or the CMU Service. Regulation S Global Note Certificates will be exchangeable for Definitive Notes only upon the occurrence of an Exchange Event as described in “Form of the Notes”.

Each Tranche of Registered Notes sold to QIBs in compliance with Rule 144A and subject to the restrictions described in “Transfer Restrictions” and “Subscription and Sale” and the applicable Pricing Supplement will, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, be represented by a Rule 144A Global Note Certificate, which will be deposited on or about its issue date with a custodian for, and registered in the name of a nominee of, DTC. Restricted Global Note Certificates will be exchangeable for Definitive Notes only upon the occurrence of an Exchange Event as described in “Form of the Notes”.

Application will be made to have Global Notes or Global Note Certificates of any Series accepted for clearance and settlement through the facilities of DTC, Euroclear, Clearstream and/or the CMU Service, as appropriate.

Currencies	Notes may be denominated in any currency or currencies, agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) subject to compliance with all applicable legal and/or regulatory and/or central bank requirements. Payments in respect of Notes may, subject to such compliance, be made in and/or linked to, any currency or currencies other than the currency in which such Notes are denominated.
Denomination	Notes will be issued in such denominations as may be specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, subject to compliance with all applicable legal and/or regulatory and/or central bank requirements.
Status of the Notes	The Notes constitute direct, general, unsecured, unconditional and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer which will at all times (i) rank equally without any preference among themselves; (ii) rank at least equally with all other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer, save for such obligations as may be preferred by provisions of law that are both mandatory and of general application; (iii) rank senior in right of payment to all of the Issuer's existing and future indebtedness expressly subordinated in right of payment to the Notes; (iv) be effectively subordinated to all of the Issuer's existing and future secured indebtedness, to the extent of the value of the assets serving as security therefor; and (v) be structurally subordinated to all existing and future indebtedness and other liabilities of the Issuer's Subsidiaries. See " Terms and Conditions of the Notes — Status — Status of Notes ".
Issue Price	Notes may be issued at their nominal amount or at a discount or premium to their nominal amount. Partly Paid Notes may be issued, the issue price of which will be payable in two or more instalments.
Maturities	Any maturity, subject, in relation to specific currencies, to compliance with all applicable legal and/or regulatory and/or central bank requirements.

Where Notes have a maturity of less than one year and either (a) the issue proceeds are received by the Issuer in the United Kingdom or (b) the activity of issuing the Notes is carried on from an establishment maintained by the Issuer in the United Kingdom, such Notes must: (i) have a minimum redemption value of £100,000 (or its equivalent in other currencies) and be issued only to persons whose ordinary activities involve them in acquiring, holding, managing or disposing of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of their businesses or who it is reasonable to expect will acquire, hold, manage or dispose of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of their businesses; or (ii) be issued in other circumstances which do not constitute a contravention of section 19 of the Finance Services and Markets Act 2000 as amended ("FSMA") by the Issuer.

Redemption	Notes may be redeemable at par or at such other Redemption Amount (detailed in a formula, index or otherwise) as may be specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement. Notes may also be redeemable in two or more instalments on such dates and in such manner as may be specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.
Optional Redemption	Notes may be redeemed before their stated maturity at the option of the Issuer (either in whole or in part) as described in Condition 10(c) (Redemption at the option of the Issuer) and/or the Noteholders to the extent (if at all) specified in the condition 10(e) (Redemption at the option of the Noteholders).
Tax Redemption	Except as described in “ Optional Redemption ” above, early redemption of Notes will only be permitted for tax reasons as described in Condition 10(b) (Redemption for tax reasons).
Triggering Event Offer	Upon the occurrence of certain changes in or amendments to PRC laws and regulations as described in Condition 10(f) (Redemption for Triggering Event), we must (subject to certain exceptions) make an offer to repurchase all or, at the Noteholder’s option, any part of such Noteholder’s Notes at a purchase price equal to the Early Redemption Amount (Triggering Event), plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to (but not including) the date of repurchase.
Interest	Notes may be interest bearing or non-interest bearing. Interest (if any) may accrue at a fixed rate or a floating rate or other variable rate or be index linked and the method of calculating interest may vary between the issue date and the maturity date of the relevant Series. All such information will be set out in the relevant Pricing Supplement.
Interest — Floating Rate Notes ..	If LIBOR were discontinued or otherwise unavailable, the rate of interest on Floating Rate Notes issued pursuant to the Programme which reference LIBOR will be determined for the relevant period by the fallback provisions applicable to such Notes as described in the relevant pricing supplement for such Notes. See “ Risk Factors — Risks Relating to the Notes — Future discontinuance of LIBOR may adversely affect the value of Floating Rate Notes which reference LIBOR ”.
Covenants	The Notes will contain certain covenants including Condition 5(a) (Negative Pledge), Condition 5(b) (Consolidation, Merger and Sale of Assets) and Condition 5(c) (Reports). See the relevant Conditions under “ Terms and Conditions of the Notes ” for more details.

Withholding Tax	All payments in respect of Notes will be made free and clear of withholding taxes of the Cayman Islands and the PRC, unless the withholding is required by law. In that event, the Issuer will (subject to certain exceptions as described in Condition 13 (Taxation)) pay such Additional Amounts (as defined under “ Terms and Conditions of the Notes ”) as will result in the Noteholders receiving such amounts as they would have received in respect of such Notes had no such withholding been required.
Listing and Trading	The Programme is listed on the SEHK by way of debt issues to Professional Investors only during the 12-month period from the date of this Offering Circular. Notes listed on the SEHK will be traded on the SEHK in a board lot size of at least HK$500,000 (or its equivalent in other currencies). However, unlisted Notes and Notes to be listed, traded or quoted on or by any other competent authority, stock exchange or quotation system may be issued pursuant to the Programme. The relevant Pricing Supplement in respect of the issue of any Notes will specify whether or not such Notes will be listed on the SEHK or listed, traded or quoted on or by any other competent authority, exchange or quotation system.
Governing Law	The Notes, the Agency Agreement and the Trust Deed and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with the Notes will be governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, English law.
Rating	Standard & Poor’s Rating Services, a division of the McGraw Hill Companies, Inc. (“S&P”) has assigned a rating of “A+” to the Programme, Moody’s Investors Service, Inc. (“Moody’s”) has assigned a rating of “A1” to the Programme and Fitch Ratings Ltd. (“Fitch”) has assigned a rating of “A+” to the Programme. The rating is only correct as at the date of the Offering Circular. Notes issued under the Programme may be rated or unrated. A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to suspension, reduction, revision or withdrawal at anytime by the assigning rating agency. Each Series of Notes may be assigned ratings by any of S&P, Moody’s and/or Fitch, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
Selling Restrictions	For a description of certain restrictions on offers, sales and deliveries of Notes and on the distribution of offering materials in the United States of America, the European Economic Area, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom, the PRC, Hong Kong, Japan, Singapore, Cayman Islands and Canada, see “ Subscription and Sale ” below.

For the purposes of Regulation S, Category 2 selling restrictions will apply unless otherwise indicated in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

In connection with the offering and sale of a particular Series of Notes, additional restrictions may be imposed which will be set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Bearer Notes will be issued in compliance with the D Rules unless (i) the applicable Pricing Supplement states that the Bearer Notes are issued in compliance with the C Rules or (ii) the Bearer Notes are issued other than in compliance with the D Rules or the C Rules but in circumstance in which the Notes will not constitute “registration required obligations” for U.S. federal income tax purposes, which circumstance will be referred to in the applicable Pricing Supplement; Bearer Notes with a term of 365 days or less (taking into account unilateral rights to extend or rollover) may be issued other than in compliance with the D Rules or the C Rules and will, in such case, be referred to in the applicable Pricing Supplement as a transaction to which the United States Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (“TEFRA”) is not applicable.

Initial Delivery of Notes On or before the issue date for each Series, the Global Note representing Bearer Notes or the Global Note Certificate representing Registered Notes may be deposited with a common depository for Euroclear and Clearstream or deposited with a sub-custodian for the CMU Service or any other clearing system or may be delivered outside any clearing system provided that the method of such delivery has been agreed in advance by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Principal Paying Agent and the relevant Dealer. Registered Notes that are to be credited to one or more clearing systems on issue will be registered in the name of, or in the name of a nominee or a sub custodian for, such clearing systems.

SUMMARY FINANCIAL INFORMATION OF THE ISSUER

The summary consolidated financial information as at and for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 have been derived from the Company's audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 included elsewhere in this Offering Circular. Certain comparative information for the year ended 31 December 2018 has been restated in the Group's audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended 31 December 2019 to conform with the new presentation of the Group's audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended 31 December 2019. Unless otherwise stated, the summary consolidated financial information as at and for the year ended 31 December 2018 included in the Offering Circular has been derived from the Group's audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended 31 December 2019. Please refer to Notes 2.2 and 5 to the Company's audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended 31 December 2019 for more details. The summary consolidated financial information as at and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020 have been derived from the Company's unaudited consolidated financial statements as at and for the three months ended 31 March 2020 included elsewhere in this Offering Circular.

In preparing the audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019, the Company has adopted the new accounting standards as and when they came into effect and has not restated the prior years' financial statements as permitted under the IFRSs. Therefore, the audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 may not be comparable. For the impact on adoption of the new accounting standards, please refer to Note 2.2 to the Company's audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 respectively included elsewhere in this Offering Circular. See "Risk Factors — Risks Relating to Notes Issued under the Programme — Our financial statements for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 may not be comparable with the financial statements for previous years".

The summary financial data below should be read in conjunction with "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations", the audited consolidated financial statements and the unaudited consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Offering Circular.

Note:

- (1) Includes, among others, payment for capital expenditures as well as video and music content, game licences and other content. Payment for capital expenditure represents the amount paid for purchase of property, plant and equipment, construction in progress and investment properties, payments for land use rights and intangible assets (excluding video and music content, game licences and other content), which amounted to RMB12,768 million, RMB23,092 million, RMB28,331 million, RMB4,866 million and RMB9,442 million (US$1,333 million) for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.
- (2) Includes, among others, dividends paid to our shareholders and non-controlling interest owners, which amounted to RMB5,998 million, RMB7,396 million, RMB9,453 million and RMB238 million for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019, respectively. Dividends paid to non-controlling interest owners amounted to RMB341 million (US$48 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020.
- (3) Since the first quarter of 2019, we have reclassified interest paid in cash flow presentation from operating activities to financing activities, which better reflects the nature of business. The comparative figures in 2018 have been reclassified to conform with the new presentation.

Note:

- (1) EBITDA for any year/period is calculated as operating profit minus interest income and other gains/losses, net and adding back depreciation of property, plant and equipment, investment properties as well as right-of-use assets and amortisation of intangible assets. Other gains/losses, net consist primarily net gains/losses on disposals and deemed disposals of investee companies, net fair value gains/losses on FVPL, net fair value gains/losses on other financial instruments, impairment provision/reversal for investee companies and intangible assets arising from acquisitions, subsidiaries and tax rebates, dividends income, donations and provision/reversal on accounts receivable and other receivables. Adjusted EBITDA is calculated as EBITDA plus equity-settled share-based compensation expenses. EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are not standard measures under IFRS. EBITDA is a widely used financial indicator of a company's ability to service and incur debt. EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or construed as alternatives to cash flows, net income or any other measure of performance or as indicators of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or cash flows generated by operating, investing or financing activities. In evaluating EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA, we believe that investors should consider, among other things, the components of EBITDA such as sales and operating expenses and the amount by which EBITDA exceeds capital expenditures and other charges. We have included EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA because we believe they are a useful supplement to cash flows data as a measure of our performance and our ability to generate cash flows from operations to cover debt service and taxes. EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA presented herein may not be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies. Investors should not compare our EBITDA or Adjusted EBITDA to the EBITDA or Adjusted EBITDA presented by other companies because not all companies use the same definition.
- (2) Adjusted EBITDA margin is calculated by dividing Adjusted EBITDA by revenues.
- (3) Net cash/(debt) represents year-end/period-end balance and is calculated as cash and cash equivalents, plus term deposits and others, minus borrowings and notes payable.
- (4) Total debts consist of borrowings and notes payable.

The following table reconciles our operating profit under IFRS to our EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA for the years/ periods indicated.

RISK FACTORS

Any investment in the Notes involves a high degree of risk. You should consider carefully the following information about the risks described below, together with the other information contained in this Offering Circular, before making an investment decision. If any of the following risks actually occurs, our business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects could be materially and adversely affected. Additional risks or uncertainties not presently known to us, or that we currently deem immaterial, may also impair our business operations. There can be no assurance that any of the events discussed in the risk factors below will not occur and if such events do occur, you may lose all or part of your original investment in the Notes.

Risks Relating to Our Business

We operate in a very competitive market. If we fail to compete effectively, we may lose users to competitors and our business, future results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

We face significant competition in almost every aspect of our business, particularly from companies that provide Internet communication tools, online games, social networking, microblog, online advertising, social media as well as other Internet and mobile VAS and products. We compete directly with other major Chinese Internet portals and websites to provide comprehensive Internet and mobile VAS to customers. In particular, the online game market in China is increasingly competitive. We expect more companies to enter into this sector and a wider range of online games to be introduced into the Chinese market. Competition from other online game operators, both based in China as well as overseas, is likely to increase in the future and may make it more challenging for us to retain existing users and attract new users. We also face increasing competition in our community and open platform services, where we compete with both China-based and global operators (including international operators seeking to enter the Chinese market) to attract users that may in turn not subscribe for our premium services or other fee-based products. In addition, we face competition from international competitors that may establish joint venture companies with domestic Chinese companies to provide services based on the foreign investors' technology and experience developed in their home markets. We also compete with other companies in FinTech, cloud services and other enterprise-facing services. Some of our competitors have widely recognised brand names in China and may have greater financial resources than we do. Moreover, present or future competitors may offer services and products that provide more favourable technology, performance and pricing than we can provide, with the result that their services and products could achieve greater market acceptance than our services and products. Our business also generally competes with other forms of entertainment, such as television and movies.

Furthermore, some of our competitors may adopt various unilateral measures to target our business, such as by preventing users of their products from using some or all of our products at the same time (for example, by programming their products in a way that disables the use of our products) or by attacking our platforms with spam or other virus-like programmes. Any of these measures taken by our competitors could affect our number of users, reduce our market shares, and negatively affect our brand and reputation.

If we are unable to compete effectively in our business, it could decrease user numbers and user traffic over our platforms, and lead to increased spending for marketing and development, any of which could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

If we fail to keep up with the technological developments and users' changing requirements, we may not be able to increase the size and level of engagement of our user base and our business, future results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

Our business and prospects will depend on our ability to respond to rapidly changing technologies, adapt our services to evolving industry standards and improve the performance and reliability of our services. Our failure to adapt to such changes could harm our business. In addition, changes in user behavior resulting from technological developments may also adversely affect us. If we are not able to successfully monetise this increasing rate of mobile usage, our business, results of operations and growth prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

If we fail to develop services and products that are compatible with current and future mobile devices, or if the services and products we develop are not widely accepted and used by mobile device users, we may not be able to increase our mobile user base. If we fail to anticipate and meet the needs of our users, the size, engagement and loyalty level of our user base may decrease, which may render our platforms less attractive to advertisers and users. In addition, the widespread adoption of new Internet, networking or telecommunications technologies or other technological changes could require substantial expenditures to modify or integrate our products, services or technologies. If we fail to anticipate and adapt to material technological changes, our market share could suffer, which in turn could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

We operate in a rapidly evolving environment and our existing offerings may become less popular as we launch new services and products or they may become incompatible with new technologies and devices.

We operate in a dynamic and evolving industry with the rapid emergence of new technologies and new services and products. To remain competitive, we must introduce new services and products to diversify our portfolio, adapt to new technologies, appeal to changing consumer trends and preferences, and generate additional revenue. We may continue to exit some legacy business areas in order to focus on the key drivers of our growth. Further, some of our new services and products may attract users from our existing offerings. Some of our existing services and products may also become incompatible with emerging technologies and new devices. If we are unable to continue to launch new services and products that can offset the loss of popularity of our maturing services and products, our market share could erode, which in turn could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

If we fail to maintain and enhance our brand recognition, or if we incur excessive expenses in this effort, our business, future results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

It is critical for us to maintain and develop our brands so as to effectively expand our user base, maintain and increase our business partnerships, and grow our revenue. Well-recognised brands are critical to increasing the number and engagement of our users and, in turn, enhancing our attractiveness to advertisers. Since we operate in a highly competitive market, maintaining and enhancing our brands directly affects our ability to maintain our market position. Our main competitors have established brands and are continuing to take steps to increase their brand recognition. We must also continue to maintain and enhance the recognition and value of our brands in this highly competitive market. In order to attract and retain users, we may need to substantially increase our expenditures for creating and maintaining brand loyalty. As a result, our sales and marketing expenses may increase significantly, which may impact our profitability. In addition, due to intense competition in our industry, we may be the target of incomplete, inaccurate and false statements about our company and our services that could damage our reputation and brand and materially deter consumers from making purchases on our marketplaces. Our ability to respond to our competitors' misleading and aggressive marketing strategies may be limited by legal prohibitions on permissible public communications by us during certain periods. We may incur additional expenditures in responding to these misleading statements.

Our success in promoting and enhancing our brands, as well as our ability to remain competitive, will also depend on our success in offering high-quality content, features and functionality. In addition, the use of words or branding similar to our brands by third parties in other industries could dilute the brand recognition for our brands. If we are unable to maintain and enhance our brand recognition, our business, future results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

If telecommunications operators do not provide continuous or adequate service, our business, future results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

We rely on telecommunications operators in various ways. We use their networks and gateways to deliver our services and products, their billing systems to charge our users through their mobile phone bills, and their proxy services to collect payments from subscribers.

We have limited control over the usage fees that telecommunications operators charge their end customers and we have limited access to alternative networks to deliver our services and products or collect fees from our mobile phone users. If telecommunications operators' usage fees or other charges to their end customers increase, our user traffic may reduce. Further, if our relationships with telecommunications operators are terminated, curtailed or renewed on terms that are unfavorable to us, including increases in service fees for using their networks, our ability to deliver services and products to users may be affected, which could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Significant changes in the policies or guidelines of Chinese telecommunications operators with respect to services provided by us could result in lower revenue or additional costs for us and our business, future results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

From time to time, Chinese telecommunications operators issue policy or guideline changes stating their preferences for certain actions to be taken by service providers using their networks. Due to our reliance on these telecommunications operators, a significant change in their policies or guidelines could cause our revenue to decrease or operating costs to increase. For example, on 30 November 2009, China Mobile implemented a series of measures targeted at eliminating offensive or unauthorised content, including pornographic content, on China-based WAP sites. As a result, China Mobile suspended billing for their customers for all WAP services, including those services that do not contain offensive or unauthorised content. On 16 April 2010, China Mobile implemented a policy requiring service providers to implement reminders for charges for VAS and subscription services together with two-step confirmation, and in early 2011 China Mobile implemented a new policy designed to enhance user ability to query and cancel VAS, both of which have negatively impacted our VAS revenue. In July 2013, MIIT promulgated the Regulations on Protection of Personal Information of Telecommunications and Internet Users (電信和互聯網用戶個人信息保護規定) (the “Regulations on Network Information Protection”), effective 1 September 2013, to enhance and enforce legal protection over user information security and privacy on the Internet. The Regulations on Network Information Protection require Internet operators to take various measures to ensure the privacy and confidentiality of users' information. Furthermore, in January 2015, SAIC promulgated the Measures for Punishments against Infringements on Consumer Rights and Interests (侵害消費者權益行為處罰辦法), effective on 15 March 2015, expanding the categories of information that are protected as consumer personal information. In addition, on 7 November 2016, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress passed the Cyber Security Law of the PRC (網絡安全法) (“Cyber Security Law”) which took effect on 1 June 2017, further requiring the internet operators to take actions to prevent the network from interference, damage, unauthorized access, data leaks, theft or falsification according to the tiered system for cybersecurity protections.

We cannot assure you that Chinese telecommunications operators will not introduce additional requirements or adopt other policies which may require significant changes in the way we promote and sell our VAS, any of which could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

We face uncertainties regarding the growth of the online game industry and continuous market acceptance of our online games and in-game items.

We have derived a significant portion of our revenue from the online game industry, which is rapidly evolving. Revenue from online games under VAS business constituted 41%, 33% and 30% of our total revenues for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 respectively, and constituted 33% and 35% of our total revenues for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020 respectively. The growth of the online game industry is subject to a high degree of uncertainty. Our future results of operations associated with this industry will depend on numerous factors, including:

- Internet infrastructure, growth of personal computing, Internet and broadband penetration in China;
- whether the Chinese online game industry continues to grow and the rate of any such growth;
- laws, rules, regulations, policies and approvals affecting the online game industry, including those affecting Internet cafes in China, where a substantial portion of our game players access online games, as well as regulatory action (or inaction) limiting or prohibiting our ability to license, market or release new online games;
- general economic conditions, particularly economic conditions that impact the level of discretionary consumer spending;
- the availability and popularity of other forms of entertainment;
- changes in consumer demographics, public tastes and preferences;
- our ability to develop, license or acquire new online games and related products to meet market demand and user preferences;
- our ability to develop, license or acquire smart phone games to adapt to emerging mobile Internet trends;
- the popularity and price of new online games and in-game items that we and our competitors launch and distribute; and
- our ability to timely upgrade and improve our existing games to extend their lifespans and to maintain their competitive positions in the online game market.

Due to these challenges and uncertainties, we cannot assure you that our online game business will continue to grow at the rates it achieved in the past. Our failure to successfully develop this business could have a material and adverse effect on our results of operations and prospects.

Before the 2018 Institutional Reform Plan, the publication of each online game required approval from the SAPPRFT. After the 2018 Institutional Reform Plan, SAPPRFT was dismantled, and the responsibility of the approval of publication of online games was transferred to the National Administration of Press and Publication (“NAPP”). We have been since then and will in the future apply with NAPP for the approvals for publishing our games. For the online games we jointly operate with third parties, we also require them to obtain requisite approvals from the NAPP. The regulatory bodies of the online game industry in the PRC suspended the registration of online games and issuance of publication numbers for publication of online games for most of 2018, resulting in an estimated backlog of 8,000 online video games applications. However, there is no assurance that a similar cessation in online video games approval will not occur again in the future, and we may face similar or other regulatory hurdles in obtaining approvals for our new online games in the future. Furthermore, in December 2018, the Online Games Ethics Committee of the PRC was established, which will carry out moral assessment of online games and related services that may cause or have caused moral disputes and social opinions and provide reference for the decision-making of the regulatory bodies of the online game industry. Consequently, there is no assurance that we will continue to obtain approval for our new online games in a timely fashion or at all, and any failure, delay or other limitations in obtaining regulatory approvals for our new online games could materially and adversely affect our business, revenue and profits and results of operations.

If we are unable to consistently develop, acquire, co-develop or licence additional successful online games, our business, future results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

In order to maintain our long-term profitability and operational success, we must continue to develop, acquire, co-develop or licence new online games that are attractive to users before our existing online games reach the end of their commercial lifespans. This requires us to maintain and grow our in-house online game development capability to anticipate changing consumer tastes and preferences, adopt new technologies, attract, retain and motivate talented online game developers and effectively execute online game development plans. There is no assurance that we can successfully maintain or develop our in-house online game development capability in such manner. In addition, games we develop for one market may not always be successful in other markets.

We may also acquire online game development and operational companies from time to time. The selection of acquisitions depends on the availability and commercial potential of suitable acquisition targets and may be subject to governmental approvals. Future acquisitions may also expose us to potential risks, including risks associated with the assimilation of new operations, technologies and personnel, unforeseen or hidden liabilities and potential loss of, or harm to, our relationships with customers, licensors and other suppliers as a result of integration of new businesses.

We may also enter into co-development arrangements with key players in the game industry from time to time. These arrangements depend on the availability of suitable game titles and co-development partners and our ability to implement the co-development on planned schedules.

Licensing successful online games has been, and will continue to be, an important part of our strategy to provide market leading VAS. The success of such licensing arrangements depends on our ability to identify games that will appeal to users and to obtain government approvals required for the licensing and operation of such games. However, it is difficult to determine which online games will appeal to users. In addition, many of the games that are licenced from overseas developers were not designed specifically for the Chinese online game market, further complicating the task of identifying or implementing games that will appeal to users. Moreover, due to increased competition among online game operators in China, upfront licence fees for licenced games have increased and most licensors are demanding guaranteed minimum royalty payments. Increased competition or potential commercial disputes with or among our overseas licensors of our existing or future online games may have an adverse impact on our online games business.

There is no assurance that the online games which we have developed, acquired, co-developed or licenced from third parties will be attractive to users and will always comply with relevant content restrictions such as government regulations. If we are not able to mitigate the potential adverse impact as a result of competition or disputes among our overseas licensors and consistently develop, acquire, co-develop or licence online games with continuing appeal to users, our business, future results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

We may not be successful in implementing our growth strategies or sustaining our historical growth rate.

We are pursuing a number of growth strategies, including expanding our user base and increasing user engagement, further monetising our user base and user traffic, pursuing an open platform strategy and capturing the emerging mobile Internet trend. We are also pursuing opportunities for growth through acquisitions and investments. Although we have achieved significant growth in the past, we cannot be assured that this level of significant growth will be sustainable or achieved at all in the future. For example, future saturation in the market for online services could hamper our ability to continue to grow our user base. As we expand into new markets, we may face challenges from local incumbents and have difficulty gaining consumer mindshare. Also, as we expand into online-to-offline payments and other new lines of business, such as FinTech and cloud services, we may become subject to new technical challenges and regulatory requirements that could restrict our ability to effectively grow these new business lines.

As we enter into new business segments, we may not be able to maintain our historical margins. Further, we cannot assure you whether all or any of these strategies will be successful. If we are unable to implement our growth strategies, our competitiveness may be materially and adversely affected, which would have a material and adverse effect on our results of operations and prospects.

Our past and future acquisitions and investments could have a material and adverse effect on our ability to manage our business.

As part of our strategy to further expand our business, we may continue to acquire or make investments in additional products, assets, technologies or businesses that are complementary to our existing business if and when appropriate opportunities arise. Future acquisitions and investments as well as the subsequent integration of new products, assets, technologies and businesses into our existing business would require attention from our management and result in diversion of resources from our existing business. The areas where we face risks include:

- diversion of management time and focus from operating our business to address challenges in relation to acquisition integration and business collaboration;
- implementation or remediation of controls, procedures and policies at the acquired company;
- integration of the acquired company's accounting, human resource and other administrative systems and coordination of product, engineering, and sales and marketing functions;
- transition of operations, users and customers onto our existing platforms;
- cultural challenges associated with integrating employees from the acquired company into our organisation, and retention of employees from the businesses we acquire;
- liability for activities of the acquired company before the acquisition, including patent and trademark infringement claims, violations of laws, commercial disputes, tax liabilities, and other known and unknown liabilities;
- litigation or other claims in connection with the acquired company, including claims from terminated employees, customers, former stockholders, or other third parties;
- the ability of SAMR to require the subsequent unwinding of completed M&A transactions or impose significant fines in respect of such transactions;
- in the case of foreign acquisitions, the need to integrate operations across different cultures and languages and to address the particular economic, currency, political and regulatory risks associated with specific countries; and
- failure to successfully further develop the acquired technology.

Also, acquired products, assets, technologies or businesses and investments may not yield the results that we anticipate. In addition, acquisitions and investments could result in the use of substantial amounts of cash, significant amortisation expenses related to identifiable intangible assets and exposure to potential impairment or write-offs of such investments, the relevant goodwill and/or identified intangible assets or potential unknown liabilities of any such acquired business. Moreover, the costs of identifying and consummating acquisitions and investments may be significant. In addition to possible regulatory or shareholders' approval in Hong Kong, we may also have to obtain approval from the relevant government authorities for the acquisitions and investments and comply with any applicable laws and regulations, which could result in increased costs and delays. Further, the value of our investments is subject to market and non-market fluctuations which are attributable to factors beyond our control.

Our failure to properly and timely address these risks or other problems encountered in connection with our past or future acquisitions and investments could cause us to fail to realise the anticipated benefits of such acquisitions or investments, incur unanticipated liabilities and harm our business generally.

Future acquisitions or investments could also result in dilutive issuances of our equity securities, the incurrence of debt, contingent liabilities, amortisation expenses, write-offs of goodwill, or even provisions for prolonged impairment in value, any of which could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Our growth may not be sustainable due to limitations in our infrastructure or resources and any expansion or upgrades of our infrastructure or resources may require significant costs.

We have limited operational, administrative and financial resources and these resources may be inadequate to sustain the growth we want to achieve. As our user base increases and as we diversify into other business segments, we will need to increase our investment in our technological infrastructure and facilities; improve existing operational and financial systems, procedures and controls; and expand, train and manage our growing employee base. Further, our management will be required to maintain, and expand, our relationships with telecommunications operators, Internet and other online service providers, content providers, regulators and other third parties necessary to the growth of our business. Almost all Internet and mobile access in China is maintained through state-owned telecommunications operators under the control and supervision of MIIT, and we use a limited number of telecommunications operators to provide us with data communications capacity through local telecommunications lines and Internet data centers to host our servers. With the expansion of our business, we may be required to upgrade our technology and infrastructure to keep up with the increasing traffic on our websites and increasing user levels on our platform. We cannot assure you that the Internet infrastructure and the fixed and mobile telecommunications networks in all areas in China will be able to support the demands associated with the continued growth of our Internet usage. If we are unable to manage our growth and expansion effectively, including through investments in our internal systems and structures, the quality of our service could deteriorate and our business, future results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

We rely on a number of third parties to provide content to us and various services and technologies. Any disruption in the provision of this third party content or these services or technologies could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

One of our principal strengths is our ability to create a distinct online community through our services and content. We rely on a number of third parties to create traffic and provide content in order to make our products and services more attractive to consumers and advertisers, through which we may sustain and grow our online community. Third parties that provide content for our websites and services include both commercial content providers with which we have contractual relationships and our registered community members who post articles and other content on our platforms. If these third parties fail to develop and maintain high-quality content, our websites or other open platform offerings could lose users and advertisers. Most of our contractual arrangements with third party content providers are not exclusive and are short-term, or may be terminated at any time for any reason by either party. Recently, many content providers have increased the fees they charge us for their content. This trend could increase our costs and operating expenses and could adversely affect our ability to obtain content at an economically acceptable cost. There can be no assurance that our existing relationships with third party content providers, if maintained, will result in sustainable business partnerships, successful service offerings, an acceptable level of traffic on our websites or revenue, or will not be terminated. Also, a majority of this third party content is also available from other sources or may be provided to other Internet, SNS or other social media companies. If other Internet, SNS or other social media companies present the same or similar content in a superior manner, this could reduce our visitor traffic, which could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

In addition, our business also depends upon services provided by, and relationships with, third party service and technology providers such as telecommunications operators, advertising agencies that represent advertisers, game developers, online payment vendors and other content providers. We generally do not have long-term co-operation agreements or exclusive arrangements with these third parties and they may elect to direct business opportunities to our competitors. With respect to telecommunications operators and online game developers, we have revenue sharing arrangements that require periodic renewals. If we fail to retain and enhance our business relationships with these third parties, or renew our business arrangements with these third parties on the same or more favorable terms to us, our business, future results of operations and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

We face uncertainties regarding the legal liability for providing third party services, products, content and applications on our platforms.

One of our strategies is to pursue an open platform strategy that focuses on SNS, mobile communications and online games. A number of third party services, products, content and applications have been, and will continue to be, provided on or through our platforms through commercial co-operation agreements we entered into with third parties. It is also possible that third parties may engage in illegal, obscene or incendiary conversations or activities that may be deemed unlawful under PRC laws and regulations on our platform. In addition, our users may generate and display content on our platforms which may involve illegal, obscene or incendiary conversations or activities. If any content on our platform is deemed illegal, obscene or incendiary, or if appropriate licences and third party consents of such services, products, content and applications as required have not been obtained, claims may be brought against us for defamation, libel, negligence, copyright, patent or trademark infringement, other unlawful activities or other theories and claims based on the nature and content of such objectionable information. Although such commercial agreements provide general contractual provisions to limit or exclude our legal liabilities, we cannot assure you that we may not incur any liability caused by providing these third party services, products, content or applications on our platforms if they are found to be in breach of the relevant rules and regulations in China or any intellectual property rights, especially in light of the fact that the current PRC laws remain uncertain regarding our liability in connection with any third party content and applications. The Regulations on Network Information Protection require Internet operators to supervise and manage these third party services with respect to collection and use of user information so as to ensure information security and privacy. However, the allocation of liabilities between Internet operators and such third party service providers is subject to legal uncertainty. Any regulatory actions or liability incurred by these third parties may disrupt our business and cause damage to our reputation.

We have been and may continue to be exposed to liability for copyright or trademark infringement and other claims based on the nature and content of the materials that are delivered, shared or otherwise accessed through or published or posted on our platform. Defense of any such actions could be costly and involve significant time and attention of our management and other resources. In addition, if we are found to have not adequately monitored the content on our platform, PRC authorities may impose legal and administrative sanctions on us, including, in serious cases, suspending or revoking the licences necessary to operate our platform, which could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

We may face additional risks as we expand our business to new international markets.

From time to time we evaluate opportunities to expand our business, services and product offerings to markets outside China. Expanding our business, services and product offerings into new overseas markets may expose us to risks that are additional to or different from those that we currently face, including:

- difficulties in identifying and maintaining good relationships with business counterparties or partners;
- uncertainties in developing products and services catering to overseas markets and in renewing the licence agreements with licencees upon their expiration;
- our ability to maintain our brand name and the reputation of our products and services in situations where our products and services are operated by licencees or partners in the overseas markets pursuant to their own standards;
- difficulties in staffing and managing foreign operations;
- difficulties and costs associated with protecting and enforcing our intellectual property rights overseas;
- difficulties and costs relating to compliance with the different commercial and legal requirements of the overseas markets, such as licensing and certification requirements, import regulatory procedures, taxes and other restrictions and expenses;
- requirements under different local regulatory systems, some of which may conflict with each other, including potential service interruptions of our online services due to national security laws or policies in the international markets in which we operate;
- exposure to claims and litigations in markets where the laws and overall environment are unfamiliar to us;
- competition from established local competitors;
- laws and business practices that favour local competitors or prohibit or limit foreign ownership of certain businesses;
- difficulties in integrating with local payment providers, including banks, credit and debit card networks and electronic fund transfer systems;
- potentially adverse tax consequences, including local taxation of our fees or transactions on our websites;
- fluctuations in currency exchange rates;
- our ability to repatriate funds from abroad; and
- interruptions in cross-border Internet connections or other system or network failures.

Our inability to expand our business internationally or any risks associated with conducting business in new overseas markets may have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Unauthorised use of our intellectual property by third parties and the expenses incurred in protecting our intellectual property rights may adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

We regard our intellectual property rights, including our patents, trademarks and content copyrights, as critical to our success. We seek to protect our intellectual property rights by relying on a combination of patent, copyright and trademark protection and contract laws. Despite our precautions, it may be possible for third parties to use such intellectual property without authorisation. The validity, enforceability and scope of protection of intellectual property in Internet-related industries are uncertain and still evolving in China and protection and enforcement of our intellectual property rights may not be as effective as in other countries with established legal regimes. Moreover, policing and enforcing against unauthorised use of proprietary technologies are difficult and expensive. Any unauthorised use of our intellectual property could have a material and adverse impact on our business and results of operations. From time to time, we have, and may have to resort to, litigation to enforce our intellectual property rights, which could result in substantial costs and diversion of resources.

We may be subject to intellectual property claims, which may force us to incur substantial legal expenses and, if determined adversely against us, may materially disrupt our business.

As an Internet content distributor and publisher and an eCommerce platform provider, we may face liability for defamation, negligence, copyright, misappropriation, patent or trademark infringement or other intellectual property rights violations of third parties. See “Business — Legal Proceedings”. We may receive notices of claims of infringement of third parties’ proprietary rights or claims for indemnification resulting from infringement claims arising from our use of technology, content offered on our Internet portals, internally developed or licenced online games or merchandise and services sold on our eCommerce platforms. We could also be subject to claims based upon content that is accessible on our websites or through our services, such as content and materials posted by users on message boards, online communities, voting systems, email or chat rooms. On 17 December 2012, the Supreme People’s Court of the PRC promulgated a judicial interpretation, namely, the Provisions of the Supreme People’s Court of the PRC on Several Issues concerning the Application of Law in Hearing Civil Dispute Cases Involving Infringement of the Right of Dissemination on Information Networks (最高人民法院關於審理侵害信息網絡傳播權民事糾紛案件適用法律若干問題的規定), which regulates dissemination of infringing materials through the Internet. This judicial interpretation, like certain court rulings and certain other judicial interpretations, provides that the courts will place the burden on Internet service providers to remove not only links or content that have been specifically mentioned in the notices of infringement from right holders, but also links or content Internet service providers “should have known” to contain infringing content. The interpretation further provides that where an Internet service provider has directly obtained economic benefits from any content made available by an Internet user, it has a higher duty of care with respect to Internet users’ infringement of third party copyrights. This interpretation could subject us and other Internet service providers to significant administrative burdens and litigation risks.

With respect to games and applications developed by third parties, we have procedures designed to reduce the likelihood of infringement. However, such procedures might not be effective in preventing third party games and applications from infringing other parties’ rights.

We are subject to intellectual property rights laws in a number of jurisdictions and have been involved in lawsuits or other proceedings in such jurisdictions from time to time.

Intellectual property claims and litigations are expensive and time-consuming to investigate and defend, and may divert resources and management attention from the operation of our business. Such claims, even if they do not result in liability, may harm our reputation. Any resulting liability or expenses, or changes required to our websites to reduce the risk of future liability, could also have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Online communications among our users may lead to adverse moral, emotional or physical consequences, which may damage our reputation, lead to litigation or government investigation and have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Our users engage in highly personalised exchanges over our platforms. Users who have met online through our services may become involved in emotionally charged situations and could suffer adverse moral, emotional or physical consequences. Such occurrences could be highly publicised and have a significant negative impact on our reputation. Users who have suffered such adverse consequences may bring litigation against us to claim compensation in such events. Government authorities may also require us to discontinue or restrict those services that have led, or may lead, to such events. As a result, our business, future results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

As our patents may expire and may not be extended, our patent applications may not be granted and our patent rights may be contested, circumvented, invalidated or limited in scope, our patent rights may not protect us effectively. In particular, we may not be able to prevent others from developing or exploiting competing technologies. As a result, there could be material and adverse effects on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

In China, the valid period of utility model patent right or design patent right is ten years, and the valid period of invention patent right is twenty years. None of such patent rights is extendable. Currently, we have patent applications pending in China, but we cannot assure you that we will be granted patents pursuant to our pending applications. Even if our patent applications succeed and we are issued patents in accordance with them, it is still uncertain whether these patents will be contested, circumvented or invalidated in the future. The rights granted under any issued patents may not provide us with proprietary protection or competitive advantages. Further, the claims under any patents that issue from our patent applications may not be broad enough to prevent others from developing technologies that are similar or that achieve results similar to ours. It is also possible that the intellectual property rights of others will bar us from licensing and from exploiting any patents that issue from our pending applications. Issued patents and pending patent applications owned by others exist in the fields in which we have developed and are developing our technology. These patents and patent applications might have priority over our patent applications and could subject our patent applications to invalidation. Finally, in addition to those who may claim priority, any of our existing or pending patents may also be challenged by others on the basis that they are otherwise invalid or unenforceable.

Our quarterly revenue and operating results may be subject to significant fluctuations.

We may experience significant fluctuations in our quarterly operating results due to a variety of factors, many of which are beyond our control. Significant fluctuations in our quarterly operating results could be caused by factors including seasonality, the extent of investment or discretionary spending, regulatory changes or the macroeconomic environment. Any of these factors or other factors could cause our results of operations to fluctuate from quarter to quarter. For these reasons, comparing our operating results on a period-to-period basis may not be meaningful, and you should not rely on our past results as an indication of our future performance. Our quarterly and annual revenue and costs and expenses as a percentage of our revenue may significantly differ from our historical or projected rates. Our results of operations may be below our expectations or the expectations of public market analysts and investors in one or more future quarters.

The online advertising market is subject to many uncertainties, which could cause our advertising revenue to be materially and adversely affected.

Online advertising revenue represented 17%, 19%, 18%, 16% and 16% of our total revenues for the year ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively. The growth of our advertising revenue relies on increased revenue from the sale of advertising inventory on our platforms, which could be affected by the following factors:

- growth of the online advertising market;

- acceptance of online advertising as an effective marketing channel;
- our development of tailored advertising solutions to meet advertising clients' needs;
- changes in government rules and regulations impacting the advertising industry;
- alternative methods and strategies available to advertising clients to promote their brands and products; and
- development and acceptance of an independent and reliable standard for measuring the effectiveness of online advertising.

We also may be unable to respond adequately to changing trends in online advertising or advertiser demands or preferences or keep up with technological innovations and improvements in the measurement of user traffic and online advertising. If the online advertising market size does not increase from current levels or we are unable to capture and retain a sufficient share of that market, our ability to maintain or increase our current level of online advertising revenue could be materially and adversely affected.

We depend on our key personnel, and our business and growth prospects may be severely disrupted if we lose their services.

Our success depends on the continuous effort and services of our current executive team and other key personnel and we rely on their expertise in business operations, including the development of new VAS and products and maintenance of our relationships with other strategic partners. If one or more of our key personnel are unable or unwilling to continue in their present positions, we may not be able to easily replace them and may incur additional expenses to recruit and train new personnel, which could severely disrupt our business. Our present and future success will continue to depend on our ability to attract and retain highly skilled technical, managerial, editorial, marketing and customer service personnel. There is no assurance that we may be able to successfully attract, assimilate or retain the personnel we need to succeed. As competition for talent in the Internet and telecommunications industries intensifies, it may be more difficult for us to hire, motivate and retain highly skilled personnel. If we are unable to attract additional highly skilled personnel or retain or motivate our existing personnel, we may not be able to grow effectively.

Legal proceedings or allegations of impropriety against us or our key personnel could have a material and adverse impact on our reputation, results of operations and financial condition.

From time to time, we have been, and may be in the future, involved in lawsuits or subject to allegations brought by our competitors, individuals or other entities against us or our key personnel, including claims of unfair, unethical or otherwise inappropriate business practices. See “Business — Legal Proceedings”. Any such lawsuit or allegation, with or without merit, or any perceived unfair, unethical or inappropriate business practice by us could generate negative publicity about us, harm our reputation and divert resources and management attention from the operation of our business. We cannot assure you that we will not be involved in lawsuits or subject to allegations of similar nature in the future. In addition, we could incur substantial costs, divert the attention of our management in dealing with these claims, and suffer reputational damage, even if we are successful in our defense or counterclaims, which could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Undetected programming errors or defects in our products or unauthorised use of our products could harm our reputation and increase user dissatisfaction, which could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Our products may contain undetected programming errors or other defects. In addition, parties unrelated to us may use our products in unauthorised or unintended ways, such as online cheating programmes that enable users to acquire superior features for our games that they would not have otherwise. Certain cheating software programmes created independently by parties unrelated to us could allow users to eliminate superior features for our games that have been acquired by other users or otherwise affect the fairness of the game environment for our games. The occurrence of undetected errors or defects in our products, and our failure to discover and disable unauthorised or unintended uses, could disrupt our operations, damage our reputation and detract from our products' user experience. As a result, such errors, defects and cheating programmes could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Unexpected network interruptions caused by system failures, security breaches, malware or computer or mobile device system viruses may disrupt our business operations, harm our reputation, and may require us to expend significant capital and other resources to protect our websites.

We may experience unexpected system interruptions and delays (including those caused by natural disasters such as earthquakes and floods) or security breaches, which may expose us or our users to a risk of loss or misuse of user information, prevent us from efficiently providing services or efficiently fulfilling orders, or cause significant harm to our user relations and reputation and our ability to attract and maintain users and advertisers. We may be required to expend significant capital and other resources to protect our websites against the threat of computer viruses and hackers and to alleviate any problems caused by them. There is no assurance that these measures will be adequate and prevent potential future attacks. In addition, any security breach caused by hacking, which involves efforts to gain unauthorised access to information or systems, or to cause intentional malfunctions or loss or corruption of data, software, hardware or other computer equipment, and the inadvertent transmission of computer viruses could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

We maintain a distributed server network architecture hosting servers across China. We have limited backup systems and have experienced system failures and electrical outages from time to time in the past, which have disrupted our operations. Although we have a certain number of disaster recovery plans in place in the event of damage from fire, floods, typhoons, earthquakes, power loss, telecommunications failures, break-ins, war, terrorist acts and similar events and will continue to develop additional plans, our existing backup systems and disaster recovery plans may not be effective for such events. If any of the foregoing occurs, we may experience system failures and electrical outages, which could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Our users may use our products or services for critical transactions and communications, especially business communications. As a result, any system failures could result in damages to such users' businesses. These users may seek significant compensation from us for their losses. We could incur substantial costs and divert the attention of our management in defending ourselves against these claims even if we are successful in such defense.

Failure of information security could subject us to penalties, damage our reputation and brand, and harm our business, future results of operations and prospects.

The Internet and mobile industries are facing significant challenges regarding information security and privacy, including the storage, transmission and sharing of confidential information. We transmit and store over our systems confidential and private information of our users, customers, distributors and partners, such as personal information, including names, user IDs and passwords, and payment or transaction related information. We are required by PRC law to ensure the confidentiality, integrity, availability and authenticity of the information of our users, customers, distributors and partners, which is also essential to maintain their confidence in our online products and services. In addition, we are subject to a number of international information security regulations.

We have adopted strict information security policies and deployed advanced measures to implement the policies, including, among others, encryption technologies. However, advances in technology, increased level of sophistication and diversity of our products and services, increased level of expertise of hackers, new discoveries in the field of cryptography or others could still result in a compromise or breach of the measures that we use. Because of our leading market position in the Internet and mobile industries in China, we believe we are a particularly attractive target for security breaches and hacking attacks. We may continue to experience such attacks. In August 2011, the Supreme People’s Court and the Supreme People’s Procuratorate of the PRC jointly issued the Interpretation of the Supreme People’s Court and the Supreme People’s Procuratorate of Several Issues on the Application of Law in the Handling of Criminal Cases about Endangering the Security of Computer Information Systems (最高人民法院、最高人民檢察院關於辦理危害計算機信息系統安全刑事案件應用法律若干問題的解釋) regarding hacking and other Internet crimes. In December 2012, the Standing Committee of the PRC National People’s Congress promulgated the Decision on Strengthening Network Information Protection, (the “Network Information Protection Decision”) (全國人民代表大會常務委員會關於加強網絡信息保護的決定). To enforce the Network Information Protection Decision and require Internet service providers to take measures to ensure confidentiality of information of users, the Regulations on Network Information Protection became effective in September 2013. In July 2013, MIIT issued the Action Plan Notice of the Precaution and Administration over the Illegal Hacker Industrial Chain (防範治理駭客地下產業鏈專項行動方案的通知) to specifically crack down on malicious hacking. The Cyber Security Law also requires the internet operators to take necessary technical measures or other measures to protect the personal data. Particularly, for the operators of crucial information infrastructure, the personal data and crucial data should be stored in the territory of China, under circumstances that such data need to be provided to overseas parties due to business requirements, a security assessment shall be conducted before the transmission of the data. However, the effect of these new regulations on curbing hacking and other illegal online activities still remains to be seen.

Significant capital, managerial and human resources are required to comply with legal requirements, enhance information security and to address any issues caused by security failures. If we are unable to protect our systems, hence the information stored in our systems, from unauthorised access, use, disclosure, disruption, modification or destruction, such problems or security breaches could cause loss or give rise to our liabilities to the owners of confidential information, such as our users, customers, distributors and partners, subject us to penalties imposed by administrative authorities, and disrupt our operations. This will become more difficult as we continue to grow the number and scale of our cloud-based offerings and store and process increasingly large amounts of information in an environment increasingly hostile to information security. Any negative publicity on the safety or privacy protection mechanism and policy of our websites, mobile or platform services could also have a material and adverse effect on reputation and brand and harm our business, future results of operations and prospects.

We could be liable for fraudulent or unlawful activities of sellers and users.

Our online payments platforms are susceptible to potentially illegal or improper use, including fraudulent sales of goods or services, illicit sales of controlled substances, restricted or unlawful items, piracy of software, movies, music and other copyrighted or trademarked goods, money laundering, terrorist financing, bank fraud, child pornography, drug trafficking, online securities fraud, identity theft and encouraging, promoting, facilitating or instructing others to engage in illegal activities. Although we have implemented policies to restrict these activities on our platforms, we may not be able to prevent all such misuse by our users. Excessive misuse of our services by users could result in fines, the suspension of our services or reputational harm. We may be subject to claims from customers that merchants have not performed or that their goods or services do not match the merchant’s description, whether those arise from merchant fraud or from an unintentional failure to perform by the merchant. While we are indemnified by our partners, we may not be able to recover in full if our partners are unwilling or unable to pay. We may also be subject to claims from users for unauthorised purchases. Negative publicity and customer sentiment generated as a result of fraudulent or deceptive conduct through our online payments platforms and transactions could damage our reputation, reduce our ability to attract new users or retain existing users and adversely impact our brands. Any costs incurred as a result of potential liability relating to the alleged or actual sale of unlawful goods or the unlawful sale of goods could harm our business. In addition, governmental agencies could require us to modify our business practices and discontinue or restrict our services.

Privacy concerns relating to our technology could damage our reputation and deter current and potential users from using our products and services.

We are subject to privacy regulations from a number of jurisdictions. From time to time, concerns have been expressed about whether our products, services, or processes compromise the privacy of users and others. Concerns about our practices with regard to the collection, use, disclosure, or security of personal information or other privacy related matters, even if unfounded, could damage our reputation and adversely affect our operating results.

Regulatory authorities around the world are considering a number of legislative and regulatory proposals concerning data protection. In addition, the interpretation and application of consumer and data protection laws in the PRC, U.S., Europe and elsewhere are often uncertain and in flux. It is possible that these laws may be interpreted and applied in a manner that is inconsistent with our data practices. If so, in addition to the possibility of fines, this could result in an order requiring that we change our data practices, which could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. Complying with these various laws could cause us to incur substantial costs or require us to change our business practices and could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Our payments business is subject to a number of laws and regulations, including those governing banking, cross-border and domestic money transmission, anti-money laundering, foreign exchange and payment services.

Our payments business is subject to various laws and regulations in China, and any future expansion of our payments business to our Weixin/WeChat platform would be subject to various laws and regulations in other jurisdictions where we operate. These laws include those governing banking, cross-border and domestic money transmission, anti-money laundering, foreign exchange and payment services, such as payment processing and settlement services. The legal and regulatory requirements that apply to our payments business vary in the markets where we operate and have increased over time as the geographical scope and complexity of our business and products have expanded. While our payments business has a compliance programme focused on compliance with applicable laws and regulations and has significantly increased the resources of that programme in the last several years, there can be no assurance that we will not be subject to fines or other enforcement actions in one or more jurisdictions or be required to make changes to our business practices or compliance programmes to comply in the future. For example, recent regulatory authority has prescribed new rules relating to third party payment, whereby non-bank payment institutions are required to place customer funds in a centralised reserve with the PBOC. In addition, pursuant to the Circular on Transfer of Online Payment Business Conducted by Non-bank Payment Institution from Directly Connected Model to the NetsUnion Platform (關於將非銀行支付機構網絡支付業務由直連模式遷移至網聯平臺處理的通知) (“Circular 209”) issued by the Payment and Settlement Department of PBOC on 4 August 2017, all online payment involving bank accounts conducted by non-bank payment institution should be processed by the unified platform operated by the NetsUnion Clearing Corporation since 30 June 2018. Any new laws and regulations (or changes to, or expansion of, the interpretation or application of existing laws and regulations) applicable to our payments business could subject us to additional laws and regulations, additional licensure requirements and increased regulatory scrutiny, which could force us to change our business practices or limit our ability to grow our business. Costs associated with fines, enforcement actions, changes in compliance requirements or limits on our ability to grow our business, could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Our payments business is subject to anti-money laundering, counter-terrorist financing and sanctions laws and regulations.

Our payments business is, and any future expansion of our payments business to our Weixin/WeChat platform would be, subject to various anti-money laundering, counter-terrorist financing and sanctions laws and regulations that prohibit, among other things, its involvement in transferring the proceeds of criminal activities. We are focused on compliance with these laws and regulations and have programmes designed to comply with new and existing anti-money laundering, counter-terrorist financing and sanctions legal and regulatory requirements. However, any errors, failures or delays in complying with anti-money laundering, counter-terrorist financing and sanctions laws and regulations could result in significant criminal and civil lawsuits, penalties, forfeiture of significant assets or other enforcement actions. Any new anti-money laundering, counter-terrorist financing and sanctions laws and regulations (or changes to, or expansion of, the interpretation or application of existing laws and regulations) applicable to our payments business could subject us to additional laws and regulations, additional licensure requirements and increased regulatory scrutiny, which could force us to change our business practices or limit our ability to grow our business. Costs associated with fines or enforcement actions, changes in our compliance requirements or limitations on our ability to grow our business, could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Our payments business is subject to consumer protection laws and regulations.

Our payments business is subject to consumer protection laws and regulations in China, and any future expansion of our payments business to our Weixin/WeChat platform would be subject to various consumer protection laws and regulations in other jurisdictions where we operate. We are focused on compliance with these laws and regulations and have programmes designed to comply with new and existing consumer protection requirements. However, any errors, failures or delays in complying with such consumer protection laws and regulations could result in significant criminal and civil lawsuits, penalties, forfeiture of significant assets or other enforcement actions. Any new consumer protection laws and regulations (or changes to, or expansion of, the interpretation or application of existing laws and regulations) applicable to our payments business could subject us to additional laws and regulations, additional licensure requirements and increased regulatory scrutiny, which could force us to change our business practices or limit our ability to grow our business. Costs associated with fines or enforcement actions, changes in our compliance requirements or limitations on our ability to grow our business, could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

We may not be able to maintain existing or establish new arrangements with device manufacturers.

We derive value and benefits from co-operative arrangements with device manufacturers, including mobile phone manufacturers, and we work with these device manufacturers to install our Internet and mobile applications onto their devices for use by purchasers of their devices. Although we currently have contracts with a number of domestic and international device manufacturers operating in China, including mobile phone manufacturers, an interruption in our relationships with such manufacturers could have an adverse impact on our business, including our profitability and ability to deliver VAS and products to our users.

We may become the target of anti-monopoly and unfair competition claims, which may result in our being subject to fines as well as constraints on our business.

The PRC Anti-Monopoly Law (反壟斷法) (the “Anti-Monopoly Law”) is relatively recent, and took effect on 1 August 2008. Before the 2018 Institutional Reform Plan, the NDRC, the SAIC and the MOFCOM were the three PRC anti-monopoly enforcement authorities and the NDRC and the SAIC, had in recent years strengthened enforcement actions, including levying significant fines, with respect to cartel activity as well as abusive behavior of companies having market dominance. According to the 2018 Institutional Reform Plan, the anti-monopoly functions performed by the NDRC, the SAIC and the MOFCOM were consolidated into the SAMR, which may place a profound impact on the PRC anti-monopoly law enforcement practice.

The Anti-Monopoly Law also provides a private right of action for competitors or users to bring anti-monopoly claims against companies. In recent years, an increased number of companies have been exercising their right to seek relief under the Anti-Monopoly Law. As public awareness of the rights under the Anti-Monopoly Law increases, more companies, including our competitors, business partners and customers may resort to the remedies under the law to improve their competition position, regardless of the merits of their claims.

We may receive close scrutiny from government agencies under the Anti-Monopoly Law in connection with our business practices, investments and acquisitions. Any anti-monopoly lawsuit or administrative proceeding initiated against us may result in our being subject to profit disgorgement, heavy fines and various constraints on our business, or result in negative publicity which could harm our reputation and results of operations. These constraints could include forced termination of any agreements or arrangements that are determined to be in violation of anti-monopoly laws, required divestitures and limitations on certain business practices, which may limit our ability to continue to innovate, diminish the appeal of our services and increase our operating costs. These constraints could also enable our competitors to develop websites, products and services that mimic the functionality of our services, which could decrease the popularity of our marketplaces among sellers, buyers and other participants, and cause our revenue and net income to decrease materially.

Failure to comply with the terms of our indebtedness could result in acceleration of indebtedness, which could have an adverse effect on our cash flow and liquidity.

As at 31 March 2020, our borrowings and notes payable included in current liabilities were RMB16,441 million (US$2,322 million) and RMB1,094 million (US$155 million), respectively, and borrowings and notes payable included in non-current liabilities were RMB124,125 million (US$17,530 million) and RMB84,640 million (US$11,953 million), respectively. Our total borrowings included in current liabilities comprise onshore RMB bank borrowings, offshore H.K. dollar bank borrowings, as well as offshore U.S. dollar bank borrowings. Borrowings included in non-current liabilities comprise onshore RMB bank borrowings, offshore EUR bank borrowings and offshore U.S. dollar bank borrowings. As at 31 March 2020, our notes payable (including current and non-current portion) comprised the April 2020 Notes, the 2023 Notes, the 2023 Floating Rate Notes, the 2024 Notes, the 2024 Floating Rate Notes, the 2025 Notes, the 2026 Notes, the 2028 Notes, the 2029 Notes, the 2035 Notes, the 2038 Notes and the 2049 Notes. See “Description of Other Material Indebtedness”. Under the terms of our current indebtedness and any debt financing arrangement that we may enter into in the future, we are, and may be in the future, subject to financial and other covenants that could, among other things, restrict our business and operations. If we breach any of these covenants, including by failing to maintain certain financial ratios, our lenders or noteholders will be entitled to accelerate our debt obligations. Any default under our indebtedness could require us to repay these loans or redeem the notes prior to maturity as well as limit our ability to obtain additional financing, which in turn may have a material adverse effect on our cash flow and liquidity.

We are subject to interest rate risk in connection with our indebtedness.

We are exposed to interest rate risk related to our indebtedness. The interest rates under our current bank borrowings are based on a spread over LIBOR/HIBOR. As a result, the interest expenses under our bank borrowings will be subject to the potential impact of any fluctuation in LIBOR/HIBOR. Any increase in LIBOR/HIBOR could impact our financing costs, which in turn may have a material adverse effect on our cash flow and liquidity.

We may need additional capital but may not be able to obtain it.

We may require additional cash resources due to future growth and developments of our business, including any investments or acquisitions we may decide to pursue, or for other business changes. If the cash resources are insufficient to satisfy our cash requirements, we may seek to issue additional equity or debt securities or obtain credit facilities. Our ability to obtain external financing in the future is subject to a variety of uncertainties, including our future financial condition, results of operations, cash flows, share price performance, the liquidity of international capital and lending markets, PRC governmental regulations over foreign investment and the Internet industry in China. In addition, incurring indebtedness would result in increased debt service obligations and could result in operating and financing covenants that would restrict our operations. There can be no assurance that financing will be available in a timely manner or in amounts or on terms acceptable to us, if at all.

If we are unable to raise additional funds on terms favourable to us, or at all, this could have a material and adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. For example, we may not be able to carry out parts of our growth strategy or invest in technology infrastructures necessary to maintain our growth and competitiveness.

We have limited business insurance coverage.

Insurance companies in China offer limited business insurance products. As a result, although we have insurance for property damage, we do not have any product liability, business liability or disruption insurance coverage for our operations in China, and our coverage may not be adequate to compensate for all losses that may occur, particularly with respect to loss of business and reputation. Any business disruption, litigation or natural disaster could expose us to substantial costs and diversion of resources.

Risks Relating to Our Industry

The laws and regulations governing the Internet and telecommunications and other related industries in China are developing and subject to future changes. If we fail to adhere to applicable regulations, or if we fail to obtain or maintain all applicable permits and approvals, our business, future results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

The Internet and telecommunications and other related industries in China are highly regulated by the PRC government. See “General Regulation on Internet and Telecommunications Industries”. Various regulatory authorities of the PRC government, including, but not limited to State Council, the Cyberspace Administration of China (“CAC”), MIIT, SAMR, Ministry of Culture and Tourism (“MOCT”, which was established in March 2018 by integrating the responsibilities of the MOC and the National Tourism Administration), NRTA (according to the 2018 Institutional Reform Plan, NRTA was formed based on the duty of radio and television administration of the SAPPRFT (which was established in March 2013 by integrating the responsibilities of the GAPP and the State Administration of Radio, Film and Television (“SARFT”), and was dismantled according to the 2018 Institutional Reform Plan), Publicity Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China (“Publicity Department of the CCCPC”, according to the 2018 Institutional Reform Plan, the responsibilities of the SAPPRFT in respect of administration of press and publication were transferred to the Publicity Department of the CCCPC, and the Publicity Department of the CCCPC also lists the name of NAPP), are empowered to promulgate and implement regulations governing various aspects of the Internet and telecommunications and other related industries and we are thus required to obtain applicable licences, permits and approvals from a number of these regulatory authorities in order to conduct our business. Although we have obtained the licences essential to operating our business, these licences are subject to periodical government review. For example, the periodic renewal applications of a few of our licenses are currently being reviewed by the government. Although we do not expect any obstacles for their renewals, we cannot assure you that such renewals will be successfully obtained.

As the Internet and telecommunications and other related industries mature, the PRC government authorities are likely to continue to issue new regulations governing these industries and hence require new and additional licences, permits and approvals. As we further develop and expand our product and services offerings and functions, including new services and products, we and our users may in the future become subject to additional or new regulations (such as stricter regulations relating to content publication, user identity, privacy, consumer and data protection and the provision of online payment services), and we may also need to obtain additional qualifications, permits, approvals or licences. There is no assurance that we can obtain and renew those licences, permits and approvals in a timely or cost-effective manner. Failure to obtain them could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

The laws and regulations governing online/mobile financing products in China are under-developed and subject to future changes. If we fail to adhere to applicable regulations, or if we fail to obtain or maintain all applicable permits and approvals, our business and results of the current mobile financing operations would be materially and adversely affected.

With the development of online/mobile financing industries, online/mobile financing products are likely to become subject to more laws and regulations governing these industries, and hence require new and additional licences, permits and approvals, by the PRC government authorities. As we provide expanded mobile financing products via the Weixin/WeChat platform, we and our users may in the future become subject to additional or new regulations and restrictions, and we may also need to obtain additional qualifications, permits, approvals or licences. There is no assurance that we can obtain and renew those licences, permits and approvals in a timely or cost-effective manner. Failure to obtain them could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

The PRC government has promulgated a series of rules, regulations and policies that may have negative impact on the online game industry, and we cannot assure you that the PRC government will not promulgate similar rules, regulations or policies in the future.

The online game industry is highly regulated in China. The PRC government has adopted a series of rules, regulations and policies to monitor and control the online game industry in response to, among other things, perceived addiction to online games and its perceived negative social effects, particularly for minors. For example, PRC governmental authorities issued a notice in April 2007 requiring all Chinese online game operators to adopt an “anti-fatigue system” in an effort to curb addiction to online games by minors, under which game operators are required to reduce the value of game benefits for minor game players as their continuous playing time reaches certain thresholds. Online game players in China are also required to register their identity numbers before they can play so game operators are able to identify which game players are minors.

On 25 July 2014, the general office of SAPPRFT promulgated the Notice on Further Implementing the Verification of Real-name Registration for the Anti-Fatigue System of Online Games (關於深入開展網絡遊戲防沉迷實名驗證工作的通知) to further strengthen the implementation of the anti-fatigue system and the real-name registration system provided under the Notice on Implementing the Verification of Real-name Registration for the Anti-Fatigue System of Online Games (關於啓動網絡遊戲防沉迷實名驗證工作的通知) which was issued on 1 July 2011 by eight PRC government agencies, including GAPP, the Ministry of Education and MIIT (the foregoing Notice and Circular on Implementing the Verification of Real-name Registration for the Anti-Fatigue System of Online Games are collectively referred to as the “Real-name Registration Circular”). The Real-name Registration Circular indicates that the National Citizen Identity Information Center of the MPS shall verify identity information of game players submitted by online game operators and also specifies that the Anti-Fatigue System of Online Games as referred thereunder shall not apply to smart phone games. It also imposed more stringent penalties on online game operators failing to implement the anti-fatigue and real-name registration systems properly and effectively, including suspension or termination of online game services. In addition, PRC governmental agencies have issued a series of rules and regulations limiting the use of virtual currencies in online games, which may result in higher costs for the operation of our online games and lowers sales of virtual items in our online games.

On 25 October, 2019, the NAPP issued the Notice on Preventing Minors from Addiction to Online Games (關於防止未成年人沉迷網絡遊戲的通知) (the “Addiction Prevention Notice”) which came into effect on the same day. The Addiction Prevention Notice requires online game operators to establish and implement real-name registration system for users and not provide any game services for users not completing real-name registration from 25 October 2019, and online game enterprises must require all their existing users to complete real-name registration and stop providing game services for users who have not completed real name registration within two months after the Addition Prevention Notice took effect. In addition, period and length of time for playing online games by minors are strictly controlled. Online game operators are not permitted to provide game services for minor users from 22:00 to 8:00 and the length of time for playing online games by minors shall not exceed 3 hours on each statutory holiday and 1.5 hours on each working day. The Addiction Prevention Notice also regulates for-charge services provided by online game operators to minors, e.g., online game operators shall not provide for-charge service to minors under the age of 8; the recharge amount shall not exceed RMB50 once and RMB200 every month by game users who have reached the age of 8 but not the age of 16, and not exceed RMB100 once and RMB400 every month by minors who have reached the age of 16, etc.

We cannot assure you that the PRC government will not promulgate similar rules, regulations or policies in the future, particularly during periods when public opinion does not favor online games. Such rules, regulations and policies could significantly reduce our revenue and materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

The enforcement of stricter government supervision of online game content may adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Under the Regulations on the Main Functions, Internal Organisation and Staffing of GAPP (國家新聞出版總署(國家版權局)主要職責內設機構和人員編制規定) issued by the General Office of the State Council on 11 July 2008 and the related interpretation circulars, GAPP (whose responsibility had been transferred to SAPPRFT in March 2013 when SAPPRFT was established by integrating the responsibilities of GAPP and SARFT; then in accordance with the 2018 Institutional Reform Plan, SAPPRFT was dismantled, the responsibility of the approval of publication of online games was transferred to NAPP) is authorised to approve the publication of online games before their launch on the Internet.

On 1 July 2009, GAPP issued the Notice on Strengthening the Approval and Administration of Imported Online Games (關於加強對進口網絡遊戲審批管理的通知) (the “GAPP Notice”). To further strengthen the GAPP Notice, Provisions on Administration of Internet Publishing Services (網絡出版服務管理規定) (the “GAPP and MIIT Provisions”) was issued by SAPPRFT and MIIT on 4 February 2016 and effective on 10 March 2016. Under the GAPP Notice and GAPP and MIIT Provisions, all online game operators must obtain an Internet publishing licence to provide online game services. In addition, approvals from NAPP (the successor of GAPP and SAPPRFT) are required when game operators release new versions or expansion packs, or make any changes to the originally approved online game, and game operators shall also obtain the approval of NAPP to import online games from offshore copyright owners. In the event of any failure to meet the above-mentioned requirements, an operator may face heavy penalties, such as being ordered to stop operating online games, or having its business licence revoked. Our licenced online game business may be adversely affected by the GAPP notice. The launch of expansion packs and licenced games might be delayed because of the extra approval required. Such delay in releasing expansion packs or imported games may result in higher costs for our online game operation and have an adverse effect on our game revenue.

Pursuant to the Regulations on the Main Functions, Internal Organisation and Staffing of GAPP (國家新聞出版總署(國家版權局)主要職責內設機構和人員編制規定) issued by the General Office of the State Council on 11 July 2008 and the related interpretation circulars, MOC was authorised to administer and regulate the overall online game industry (for avoidance of doubt, excluding the approval of the publishing online games). On 3 June 2010, MOC issued the Interim Measures for Online Games Administration (the “Online Game Measures”) (網絡遊戲管理暫行辦法), which was amended on 15 December 2017, aiming to further strengthen MOC’s supervision of the online game industry. Pursuant to the Online Game Measures, a company wishing to engage in operation of online games (including smart phone games operated through wireless telecommunication networks), issuance of virtual currency and/or provision of virtual currency transaction services must obtain a Network Culture Operating Permit from the provincial counterpart of MOC. The Online Game Measures provide that all domestic online games must be filed with MOC, while all online games licenced from overseas are subject to a content review prior to their launch. If a substantial change (for example, any significant modification to a game’s storyline, language, tasks, or trading system) is made to an existing imported or domestic online game, it will be subject to a new content review. However, on 10 July 2019, the MOC promulgated the Decision on Abolition of the Interim Administrative Measures for Online Games and the Measures for Planning and Administration of Tourism Development (文化和旅遊部關於廢止《網絡遊戲管理暫行辦法》和《旅遊發展規劃管理辦法》的決定) (the “New Decision”). According to the New Decision, the Online Game Measures has been abolished since the publication date of the New Decision. On 17 February 2011, MOC issued the Interim Regulations on Administration of Internet Culture (the “Internet Culture Regulations”) (互聯網文化管理暫行規定), as further amended on 17 February 2011 and effective on 1 April 2011. According to the Internet Culture Regulations, any for-profit operators of “Internet cultural products” (defined as certain online games) are subject to approval from MOC or its provincial counterpart. The Online Game Measures place restrictions on the content of online games, with MOC responsible for reviewing such content. With respect to online games developed in China, operators are required to complete filing procedures with MOC, at least at the provincial level, within thirty days after online games are made available on the Internet. Any imported Internet cultural products are subject to a special approval from MOC. However, on 14 May 2019, the office of MOCT issued the Notice on Adjustment of Approval Scope of the Network Culture Operating Permit and Further Regulation on Approval (文化和旅遊部辦公廳關於調整《網絡文化經營許可證》審批範圍進步規範審批工作的通知) (“MOCT Adjustment Notice”), pursuant to which, MOCT no longer assumes the responsibility for the administration of online game industry. On 10 July 2019, MOCT abolished the Online Game Measures. No PRC laws and regulations have been officially promulgated regarding whether the responsibility of MOCT for supervising the online games will be undertaken by another government agency, so it is still unclear as to whether such supervision responsibility will be transferred to another government agency or whether such government agency taking on the responsibility will require similar online filing requirement or new supervision requirements for the distribution and operation of online game. If there is similar online filing requirement or new supervision requirements for the distribution and operation of online game, there is no assurance that we can meet all such supervision requirements in a timely or cost-effective manner. Failure to comply with the supervision requirements could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Any administrative changes in regulatory government authorities may impact market conditions which could in turn affect our results of operations.

Our operations of online games are subject to the supervision and administration of multiple government authorities in China. Any administrative changes in regulatory government authorities may also impact market conditions which could in turn affect our results of operations. In early 2018, the responsibilities of the SAPPFRFT, being the government authority responsible for pre-approval of online games, in respect of administration of press and publication were transferred to the Publicity Department of the CCCPC. In addition, it is reported that no new online games were approved during the period from April 2018 to December 2018. On 30 August 2018, eight PRC regulatory authorities at national government level, including the NAPP and the Ministry of Education, released the Implementation Programme on Comprehensive Prevention and Control of Adolescent Myopia (綜合防控兒童青少年近視實施方案) (the “Implementation Programme”). As part of the plan to prevent myopia among children, the Implementation Programme plans to regulate the number of new online games and restrict the amount of time kids spend playing on electronic devices. On 14 December 2018, SAMR issued the Action Plan for the Implementation of the Implementation Program on Comprehensive Prevention and Control of Adolescent Myopia (貫徹落實《綜合防控兒童青少年近視實施方案》行動方案), which stipulates that SAMR will conduct inspection of anti-fatigue system of online games at proper time. Any future suspension of online game approvals and filings by the relevant government authorities, as well as the Implementation Programme may impact our introduction of new online games and expansion of our operational scales. If such adverse market conditions persist, our results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

Currently, there is no law or regulation specifically governing virtual property rights and therefore it is not clear what liabilities, if any, online game operators may have for virtual property.

In the course of playing online games, users may acquire and accumulate some virtual property, such as virtual Avatars, game tokens, special equipment and other accessories. Such virtual property may be important to online game players and have monetary value and in some cases may be traded among players for actual money. In practice, virtual property can be lost for various reasons, often through unauthorised use of user accounts by other users and occasionally through data loss caused by a delay of network service, a network crash or hacking activities. The General Rules of the Civil Law of the People's Republic of China (民法總則) issued by National People's Congress on 15 March 2017, which became effective on 1 October 2017, contains a general provision in respect of the protection of data and network virtual property. However, there is no PRC law or regulation specifically governing virtual property rights. As a result, there is uncertainty as to who is the legal owner of virtual property, whether and how the ownership of virtual property is protected by law, and whether an online game operator would have any liability to game players or other interested parties (whether in contract, tort or otherwise) for loss of such virtual property. In case of a loss of virtual property, we may be sued by our game players and held liable for damages, which may negatively affect our reputation and business and financial condition.

Based on recent PRC court judgments, the courts have typically held online game operators liable for losses of virtual property by game players, and in some cases have allowed online game operators to return the lost virtual property to game players in lieu of paying damages. If we are sued by our game players or users and held liable for damages, our business, future results of operations and prospects may be negatively affected.

Compliance with the laws or regulations governing virtual currency may result in us having to obtain additional approvals or licences or change our current business model.

The issuance and use of “virtual currency” in China has been regulated since 2007 in response to the growth of the online game industry in China. In January 2007, the MPS, MOC, MIIT and GAPP jointly issued the Notice on Regulating the Operation of Online Games and Investigating to Prohibit Gambling by Way of Online Games (關於規範網絡遊戲經營秩序查禁利用網絡遊戲賭博的通知), which has implications for the use of virtual currency. To curtail online games that involve online gambling, as well as address concerns that virtual currency could be used for money laundering or illicit trade, the circular (a) prohibits online game operators from charging commissions in the form of virtual currency in relation to winning or losing of games; (b) requires online game operators to impose limits on use of virtual currency in guessing and betting games; (c) bans the conversion of virtual currency into real currency or property; and (d) prohibits services that enable game players to transfer virtual currency to other players. On 4 June 2009, MOC and MOFCOM jointly issued a notice regarding strengthening the administration of online game virtual currency (關於加強網絡遊戲虛擬貨幣管理工作的通知) (“Virtual Currency Notice”) which, among other things, stipulates that a single enterprise may not operate both virtual currency issuing services and virtual currency trading services. The Interim Measures for Online Game Administration (網絡遊戲管理暫行辦法) and other rules and guidelines issued by MOC also imposed restrictions on virtual currency related business. However, since the MOCT no longer assumes the responsibility for the administration of online game industry and the Interim Measures for Online Game Administration (網絡遊戲管理暫行辦法) was abolished, it is unclear whether the responsibility for supervising the virtual currency will be undertaken by another government agency and to what extent the issuance and trading of virtual currency shall be subject to relevant rules and guidelines that were issued by MOC and have not been officially abolished.

We issue game tokens to game players and our users use them to purchase various virtual items or time units to be used in our online games. We believe we only offer game tokens for in-game consumption, which are not transferrable among our user accounts and are not convertible into real currency. In addition, we do not offer secondary trading services of the game tokens. Nonetheless, we cannot assure you that the PRC regulatory authorities will not take a view contrary to ours and that we may not be subject to certain penalties, including mandatory corrective measures and fines. The occurrence of any of the foregoing could have a material and adverse effect on our business and results of operations. In addition, the Virtual Currency Notice prohibits online game operators from setting game features that involve the direct payment of cash or virtual currency by players for the chance to win virtual items or virtual currency based on random selection through a lucky draw, wager or lottery. The notice also prohibits game operators from issuing currency to game players through means other than purchases with legal currency. It is unclear whether these restrictions would apply to certain aspects of our online games. Although we believe that we do not engage in any of the above-mentioned prohibited activities, we cannot assure you that the PRC regulatory authorities will not take a view contrary to ours and deem such feature as prohibited by the Virtual Currency Notice, thereby subjecting us to penalties, including mandatory corrective measures and fines. The occurrence of any of the foregoing could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Regulation and censorship of information disseminated over the Internet in China may adversely affect our business and subject us to liability for content displayed on or linked to our websites.

The PRC government has adopted regulations governing Internet access and the distribution of news and other information over the Internet. Under these regulations, Internet content providers and Internet publishers are prohibited from posting or displaying content over the Internet that, among other things, violates PRC laws and regulations, impairs the national dignity of China, or is reactionary, obscene, superstitious, fraudulent or defamatory. Further, MIIT or its local branches may shut down the website of any local Internet service provider that violates such content restrictions, suspend its operations or revoke its ICP licence. If the Chinese government takes any action to limit or prohibit the distribution of information through our network or any of our platforms, or to limit or regulate any current or future content or services available to users on our network, our business could be adversely impacted. Failure to comply with the applicable requirements may result in the revocation of licences to provide Internet content and other licences, the closure of the concerned websites and may subject the website operator to potential liabilities for such censored information displayed on or linked to the website. If our network or any of our platforms is found to be in violation of any such requirements, we may be penalised by relevant authorities, and our operations or reputation could be adversely affected.

We are also subject to potential liability for content on our websites that is deemed inappropriate by the PRC government and for any unlawful actions of our users or website visitors. When Internet and mobile service providers find that any obscene, superstitious, fraudulent or defamatory information has been transmitted on their platforms, they are required to terminate the transmission of such information or delete such information immediately, keep records, and report to relevant authorities. Mobile network operators like China Mobile, China Telecom and China Unicom also have their own policies prohibiting or restricting the distribution of inappropriate content. On 15 December 2009, the MIIT issued the Notice Regarding Plan for Further Regulating Obscene Materials on Mobile Phones (關於進一步深入整治手機淫穢色情專項行動工作方案的通告) (“Circular 672”). Under Circular 672, mobile network operators are required to examine their business, promotional channels, as well as the business of their partners, and must immediately terminate such business if any obscene material is involved. Mobile service providers involved in distributing or publishing such obscene materials on mobile handsets are subject to immediate suspension or termination of co-operation with mobile network operators, and violations are reported to relevant authorities. Mobile network operators and mobile service providers must examine all websites accessed through mobile handsets and conduct full daily inspection of such websites. If any obscene material is found, access and transmission must be ceased and be reported to authorities. According to the Online Game Measures, companies that plan to engage in the operation of online games, issuance of virtual currency and provision of virtual currency transaction services shall obtain a licence from the provincial counterpart of the MOC. Online and smart phone game operators are required to establish a self-censorship mechanism and ensure the lawfulness of the content of their games and corporate operations. On 12 August 2013, the MOC issued the Administrative Rules on Content Review by Internet Culture Operating Entities (網絡文化經營單位內容自審管理辦法), which became effective on 1 December 2013, pursuant to which companies operating Internet culture businesses are required to employ personnel certified to conduct content review on their products they are released to the public and retain records of the content review for at least two years.

In particular, the CAC has also issued rules from time to time to enhance the internet service provider’s obligations to monitor the information displayed on the information platform and prevent dissemination of illegal content. At the end of 2019, the CAC issued the Provisions on the Management of Network Information Content Ecology (網絡信息內容生態治理規定) (the “CAC Order No.5”), which became effective on 1 March 2020, to further strengthen the regulation and management of network information content. Pursuant to the CAC Order No.5, each network information content service platform is required, among others, (i) not to disseminate any information prohibited by laws and regulations, such as information jeopardizing national security; (ii) to strengthen the examination of advertisements published on such network information content service platform; (iii) to promulgate management rules and platform convention and improve user agreement, such that such network information content service platform could clarify users' rights and obligations and perform management responsibilities required by laws, regulations, rules and convention; (iv) to establish convenient means for complaints and reports; and (v) to prepare annual work report regarding its management of network information content ecology. In addition, a network information content service platform must not, among others, (i) utilize new technologies such as deep-learning and virtual reality to engage in activities prohibited by laws and regulations; (ii) engage in online traffic fraud, malicious traffic rerouting and other activities related to fraudulent account, illegal transaction account or maneuver of users' account; and (iii) infringe a third party's legitimate rights or seek illegal interests by way of interfering with information display.

Although we attempt to monitor the content in our online communities, we are not able to control or restrict the content of other Internet content providers linked to or accessible through our websites, or content generated or placed on our other online communities by our users. If third party websites linked to or accessible through our websites operate unlawful activities such as online gambling on their websites, PRC regulatory authorities may require us to report such unlawful activities to relevant authorities and to remove the links to such websites, or they may suspend or shut down the operation of such websites. To the extent that the PRC regulatory authorities find any content displayed on our websites objectionable, they may require us to limit or eliminate the dissemination of such information on our websites. For example, on 31 March 2012, leading microblog operators in China, including Tencent Microblog, were required by the PRC government to disable their comment features for three days and remove comments related to certain rumors that were posted by users on their microblog websites. Further, on 23 January 2019, CAC issued a notice requiring us to make further changes to content we deliver on one of our apps. The notice also stated that the agency had shut down over 9,000 apps and 700 websites since 3 January 2019 due to harmful content. If in the future the PRC government authorities decide to restrict the dissemination of information via microblog services or online postings in general, they may temporarily block access to certain websites for a period of time, require us to discontinue or restrict certain services and websites or levy penalties or fines for violations of relevant rules and regulations arising from content displayed on or linked to our websites. We may also be required to delete content that violates the PRC laws and report content that we suspect to violate PRC law. Any of these actions may adversely affect user confidence in our services and lead to reduced user traffic, which in turn may materially and adversely affect our reputation, business and results of operations.

We also need to monitor the advertising content shown on our websites to ensure that such content is true, accurate and in full compliance with applicable PRC laws and regulations. In addition, according to the Interim Measures for the Administration of Internet Advertising (互聯網廣告管理暫行辦法), issued on 4 July 2016 and effective on 1 September 2016, certain advertisements need to go through a special government review for approval before website posting. Failure to implement those monitoring functions and comply with the relevant laws and regulations may subject us to penalties, including fines, confiscation of any advertising income, orders to cease dissemination of the advertisements and orders to publish an announcement correcting any misleading information. In circumstances involving serious breaches, PRC governmental authorities may force us to terminate our advertising operations or revoke our licences.

Online video and music industry are highly regulated in the PRC. Our failure to comply with any government policies, laws or regulations may materially and adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operation.

The PRC government regulates the online video and music industry extensively. A number of regulatory authorities, such as MOCT, MIIT, SART and NCA, regulate different aspects of the online video and music industry. These governmental authorities promulgate and enforce laws and regulations that cover many aspects of the online video and music industry, including entry into such industries, scope of permitted business activities, licenses and permits for various business activities and foreign investments into such industry. Operators are required to obtain various government approvals, licenses and permits in connection with their provision of internet information services, internet culture services, online audio-visual products and other related value-added telecommunications services. If we fail to obtain and maintain approvals, licenses or permits required for our business, we could be subject to liabilities, penalties and operational disruption and our business could be materially and adversely affected. In addition, if applicable laws and regulations are tightened by any regulatory authorities, or if there are new laws or regulations introduced to impose additional government approvals, licenses, permits and requirements, our business may be disrupted and our results of operations may suffer.

Meanwhile, under PRC laws, to secure the rights to provide video or music content on the internet or for our users to download or stream video or music from our platform, or to provide other related online video or music services, we must obtain licenses from the appropriate copyright owners. However, we cannot assure you that we have obtained complete licenses for copyrights with respect to the video or music content offered on our platform, and we cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any potential copyright infringement claims by third parties in relation to such services.

Our cloud services business is subject to a number of laws and regulations. If we fail to adhere to applicable regulations, our business of cloud services would be materially and adversely affected.

Our cloud services business is subject to various laws and regulations in the PRC. Cloud service operators shall obtain a value-added telecommunication service operating licence for Internet data center business and are required to conduct business activities in accordance the applicable national standards in respect of cloud services. Besides, cloud service providers shall also comply with the regulations of the Cyber Security Law of the PRC, according to which the cloud service providers must take technical measures to safeguard the operation of networks, respond to cyber security incidents effectively, prevent illegal and criminal activities, and maintain the integrity, confidentiality and usability of network data. For the crucial information infrastructure operators, the personal information and important data collected by it during the business activities shall be reserved within the territory of the PRC and under circumstance that such information shall be transferred to overseas, relevant security assessment procedure shall be taken prior to the transfer. Any failure or perceived failure to comply with all applicable laws and regulations may result in legal proceedings or regulatory actions against us, and could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Privacy concerns or inaccurate information about our users may prevent us from selling demographically targeted advertising, which could make our advertising inventory less attractive to advertisers.

Concerns about our practices with regard to the collection, use or disclosure of personal information or other privacy-related matters, even if unfounded, could damage our reputation and results of operations. User and regulatory attitudes towards privacy are evolving, and future regulatory or user concerns about the extent to which personal information is shared with advertisers, may cause the advertising inventory generated by the QQ software client, our websites and other services to be less attractive to advertisers. In addition, we have limited ability to validate or confirm the accuracy of information provided during the user registration process. If the information that we collect for targeted advertising is materially inaccurate or false, this may also cause the advertising inventory generated by the QQ software client, our websites and other services to become less attractive to advertisers.

Our financial statements for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 may not be comparable with the financial statements for previous years.

We prepare our consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRS issued by the IASB. IFRS 9 “Financial Instruments”, IFRS 15 “Revenue from Contracts with Customers” and IFRS 16 “Leases” issued by the IASB came into effect from 1 January 2018, 1 January 2018 and 1 January 2019 respectively. In preparing the audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019, we have adopted the aforementioned new accounting standards as and when they came into effect and have not restated the prior years' financial statements as permitted under the IFRSs. In addition, in view of the increased scale and business importance of payments, financial and enterprise-facing activities, and to help investors better understand our revenue structure and margin trends, a new segment named "FinTech and Business Services" has been separated from "Others" segment from the first quarter of 2019 onwards. The new "FinTech and Business Services" segment primarily consists of: (a) payment, wealth management and other FinTech services; and (b) cloud services and other enterprise-facing activities such as our Smart Retail initiative. Further, since the first quarter of 2019, we have reclassified interest paid in cash flow presentation from operating activities to financing activities, which better reflects the nature of our business. The comparative figures in 2018 but not 2017 have been restated to conform with the new presentation. Therefore, the audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 may not be comparable. For the impact on adoption of the new accounting standards, please refer to Note 2.2 to our audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 respectively included elsewhere in this Offering Circular. Investors should exercise caution when comparing our consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 with that for previous years.

Risks Related to Our Corporate Structure

If the PRC government finds that the agreements that establish the structure for operating our services in China do not comply with PRC governmental restrictions on foreign investment in internet businesses, value-added telecommunications businesses or other related businesses, or if these regulations or the interpretation of existing regulations change in the future, we could be subject to severe penalties or be forced to relinquish our interests in those operations.

The PRC government regulates foreign investment in internet businesses, value-added telecommunications businesses, and other related businesses heavily through strict licensing requirements and other laws and regulations, which also include limitations on foreign ownership in Chinese companies that provide value-added telecommunications services. Specifically, foreign investors are not allowed to own more than 50% equity interest in any Internet content provider or any other value-added telecommunications service provider, except that foreign investors are allowed to own up to 100% of equity interests in a Chinese company that is engaged in eCommerce business, domestic multi-party communications business, store-and-forward business or call center business. In addition, foreign and foreign-invested enterprises are currently not able to apply for the required licences for operating online games in China.

The Circular of the Ministry of Information Industry on Intensifying the Administration of Foreign Investment in Value-added Telecommunications Services (關於加強外商投資經營增值電信業務管理的通知) (the "MIIT Circular"), issued by MIIT in July 2006, reiterated the regulations on foreign investment in telecommunications businesses, which requires foreign investors to set up foreign-invested enterprises and obtain a licence for value-added telecommunications services, to conduct any value-added telecommunications business in China. Under the MIIT Circular, a domestic company that holds a licence is prohibited from leasing, transferring or selling the licence to foreign investors in any form, and from providing any assistance, including providing resources, sites or facilities to foreign investors that conduct value-added telecommunications business illegally in China. The MIIT Circular also includes additional requirements and restrictions on a domestic company that holds a licence when it co-operates with a foreign investor. See "General Regulation on Internet and Telecommunications Industries — General Regulations on Internet and Telecommunications Industries — Regulations on Foreign Investment in the Value-added Telecommunications Services". However, due to a lack of further interpretative materials from the regulator, it is unclear what impact the MIIT Circular will have on us or the other Chinese Internet companies that have adopted the same or similar corporate and contractual structures as ours.

On 28 September 2009, GAPP, the National Copyright Administration and the National Office of Combating Pornography and Illegal Publications, jointly issued the Notice on Implementing the Provisions of the State Council on “Three Determinations” and the Relevant Explanations of the State Commission Office for Public Sector Reform and further Strengthening of the Administration of Pre-examination and Approval of Online Games and the Examination and Approval of Imported Online Games (關於貫徹落實國務院《“三定”規定》和中央編辦有關解釋，進一步加強網絡遊戲前置審批和進口網絡遊戲審批管理的通知) (“Circular 13”). Circular 13 restates that foreign investors are not permitted to invest in online game-operating businesses in China via wholly owned, equity joint venture or co-operative joint venture investments and expressly prohibits foreign investors from gaining control over or participating in domestic online game operators through indirect ways such as establishing other joint venture companies or entering into contractual or technical arrangements. However, Circular 13 does not provide any interpretation of the term “foreign investors” or make a distinction between foreign online game companies and companies under a corporate structure similar to ours. Thus, it is unclear whether the SAPPFFT will deem our corporate structure and operations to be in violation of these provisions.

We and our WFOEs are considered foreign persons or foreign-invested enterprises under applicable PRC law. As a result, we operate our VAS, online and smart phone games, online advertising and other Internet and wireless portals in China through affiliated Chinese entities that hold the necessary licences for our existing lines of businesses. We do not own any equity interest in these affiliated entities, which are considered to be our consolidated affiliated entities, but through a series of contractual arrangements between our WFOEs and these affiliated entities, we exercise control over these affiliated entities and obtain substantially all of the revenue in the form of technical support, consulting, licensing, revenue sharing and other fees. Since the contractual arrangements transfer the economic risks and benefits of the affiliated entities to us, we have concluded that it is appropriate to treat these affiliated entities as our consolidated affiliated entities and consolidate their financial results.

Based on the advice of our PRC legal counsel, the corporate structure of our WFOEs and the consolidated affiliated entities does not violate applicable existing PRC laws and regulations. However, our PRC legal counsel also advises that the relevant PRC regulators have substantial discretion to review, interpret and apply these laws and regulations from time to time, and it is possible that they may take a view that is different from our PRC legal counsel’s opinion. Pursuant to the Foreign Investment Law (外商投資法), which was promulgated by the National People’s Congress on 15 March 2019 and came into effect on 1 January 2020, “foreign investment” is defined to include any foreign investor’s direct and indirect investment in Mainland China, in particular, including making investment through other means provided by laws, administrative regulations, or State Council provisions. See “General Regulation on Internet and Telecommunications Industries — Corporate Laws and Industry Catalogue Relating to Foreign Investment”. However, it remains unclear whether our contractual arrangements will cause our affiliated Chinese entities to be interpreted and deemed as foreign investment under the Foreign Investment Law. In addition, on 26 December 2019, the Supreme People’s Court issued the Interpretations on Certain Issues Regarding the Applicable of Foreign Investment Law (最高人民法院關於適用《中華人民共和國外商投資法》若干問題的解釋) (the “FIL Interpretations”), which came into effect on 1 January 2020. In accordance with the FIL Interpretations, where a party concerned claims an investment agreement to be invalid based on that it is for investment in prohibited industries under the negative list or it is for investment in restricted industries under the negative list and violates the restrictions set out therein, the courts should support such claim. There remains uncertainty as to whether our contractual arrangements will be deemed as investment agreements under the FIL Interpretations. Therefore, we cannot assure you that our contractual arrangements will be deemed by the relevant government authorities to be in compliance with current PRC laws and regulations or that the relevant government authorities will not in the future reassess or reinterpret existing laws, regulations or policies in this area, or issue new laws, regulations or policies in this area, with the result that all or some of these arrangements would be deemed to be in violation of PRC law.

If the PRC government determines that we do not comply with applicable laws and regulations, including any laws and regulations that may be introduced, it could:

- levy fines and/or confiscate our income;
- revoke our WFOEs' business licences and/or affiliated entities' business and operating licences;
- require us to discontinue or restrict our operations;
- restrict our right to collect revenue;
- block our websites, online and smart phone games, platforms or our other VAS services;
- require us to restructure our ownership and organisational structure and operations;
- impose additional requirements which we may not be able to comply; or
- take other regulatory or enforcement actions against us that could be harmful to our business.

Any of these or other similar actions could potentially disrupt substantially all of our business operations, divert our management attention and restrict us from conducting our business operations in the same way as we currently conduct it, which could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Uncertainties exist with respect to the interpretation and implementation of the newly enacted PRC Foreign Investment Law and how it may impact the viability of our current corporate structure, corporate governance and business operations.

On 15 March 2019, the National People's Congress approved the Foreign Investment Law, which came into effect on 1 January 2020 and replace the trio of existing laws regulating foreign investment in China, namely, the Sino-foreign Equity Joint Venture Enterprise Law, the Sino-foreign Cooperative Joint Venture Enterprise Law and the Wholly Foreign-invested Enterprise Law, together with their implementation rules and ancillary regulations. The Foreign Investment Law embodies an expected PRC regulatory trend to rationalise its foreign investment regulatory regime in line with prevailing international practice and the legislative efforts to unify the corporate legal requirements for both foreign and domestic investments.

However, since the Foreign Investment Law is relatively new, uncertainties still exist in relation to its interpretation and implementation. For instance, under the Foreign Investment Law, "foreign investment" refers to the investment activities directly or indirectly conducted by foreign individuals, enterprises or other entities in China. Though it does not explicitly classify contractual arrangements as a form of foreign investment, there is no assurance that foreign investment via contractual arrangements would not be interpreted as a type of indirect foreign investment activities under the definition in the future. In addition, the definition contains a catch-all provision which includes investments made by foreign investors through means stipulated in laws or administrative regulations or other methods prescribed by the State Council. Therefore, it still leaves leeway for future laws, administrative regulations or provisions promulgated by the State Council to provide for contractual arrangements as a form of foreign investment. On 26 December 2019, the State Council approved the Implementation Regulations of the Foreign Investment Law, which came into effect on 1 January 2020 and still does not explicitly classify contractual arrangements as a form of foreign investment. In any of these cases, it will be uncertain whether our contractual arrangements will be deemed to be in violation of the market access requirements for foreign investment under the PRC laws and regulations. In addition, on 26 December 2019, the Supreme People's Court issued the FIL Interpretations, which stipulates that where a party concerned claims an investment agreement to be invalid based on that it is for investment in prohibited industries under the negative list or it is for investment in restricted industries under the negative list and violates the restrictions set out therein, the courts should support such claim. There remains uncertainty as to whether our contractual arrangements will be deemed as investment agreements under the FIL Interpretations. Furthermore, if future laws, administrative regulations or provisions prescribed by the State Council mandate further actions to be taken by companies with respect to existing contractual arrangements, we may face substantial uncertainties as to whether we can complete such actions in a timely manner, or at all. Failure to take timely and appropriate measures to cope with any of these or similar regulatory compliance challenges could materially and adversely affect our current corporate structure, corporate governance and business operations.

The contractual arrangements with the consolidated affiliated entities and their shareholders, which relate to critical aspects of our operations, may not be as effective in providing operational control as direct ownership. In addition, these arrangements may be difficult and costly to enforce under PRC law.

We rely and expect to continue to rely on contractual arrangements with the consolidated affiliated entities and their shareholders in China to operate our business and hold our licences, permits and certain other assets. These contractual arrangements may not be as effective as direct ownership in providing us control over the consolidated affiliated entities. The contractual arrangements with our consolidated affiliated entities and their shareholders in China contain provisions to the effect that an arbitral body may award remedies over the shares and/or assets of our consolidated affiliated entities, injunctive relief and/or winding up of our consolidated affiliated entities. These agreements also contain provisions to the effect that courts of competent jurisdictions are empowered to grant interim remedies in support of the arbitration pending the formation of an arbitral tribunal. However, under PRC laws, these terms may not be enforceable. Under PRC laws, an arbitral body does not have the power to grant injunctive relief or to issue a provisional or final liquidation order. Therefore, in the event of breach of any agreements constituting the contractual arrangements by our consolidated affiliated entities and/or its shareholders, and if we are unable to enforce the contractual arrangements, we may not be able to exert effective control over our consolidated affiliated entities which could negatively affect our ability to conduct our business.

If (i) the consolidated affiliated entities and their shareholders fail to perform their obligations under these contractual arrangements, (ii) the consolidated affiliated entities and their shareholders terminate the contractual arrangements, (iii) the consolidated affiliated entities undergo corporate or other changes that affect their rights over assets held by them or (iv) these contractual arrangements are invalid or defective due to violation of PRC laws and regulations or other reasons, our business operations in China would be materially and adversely affected. Further, if we fail to renew these contractual arrangements prior to their expiration, we would not be able to continue our business operations in China.

A majority of these contractual arrangements are governed by PRC law. Accordingly, these contracts would be interpreted in accordance with PRC laws. The legal environment in China is not as developed as in certain other jurisdictions and as a result, operations of the PRC legal system could limit the enforcement of these contractual arrangements. These contractual arrangements, which relate to critical aspects of our operations, will be invalid or unenforceable if they are found in violation of PRC laws and regulations. We may be unable to exert effective control over the consolidated affiliated entities and our business and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

The shareholders of our consolidated affiliated entities may have potential conflicts of interest with us, which may materially and adversely affect our business and financial condition.

Our consolidated affiliated entities are owned by their respective registered shareholders. Conflicts of interests between these individuals' roles as shareholders of our consolidated affiliated entities and their duties to the Company may arise. There is currently no specific and clear guidance under PRC laws that addresses the resolution of any conflict between PRC laws and Cayman Islands laws in respect of any conflict relating to corporate governance regime. If we cannot resolve any conflicts of interest or disputes between us and the shareholders of our consolidated affiliated entities, we would have to rely on legal proceedings to resolve these disputes and/or enforce our contractual arrangements with our consolidated affiliated entities, which could result in disruption of our business, and there would be substantial uncertainty as to the outcome of any such legal proceedings.

Our contractual arrangements with our consolidated affiliated entities in China may result in adverse tax consequences to us, and a finding that we or our consolidated affiliated entities owe additional taxes could reduce our net income and the value of your investment.

As a result of our corporate structure and the contractual arrangements between our WFOEs and each of our consolidated affiliated entities in China, we are subject to VAT at a rate of 6% as a result of the VAT reform programme on both service revenues generated by our consolidated affiliated entities' operations in China and revenues derived from our WFOEs' contractual arrangements with these consolidated affiliated entities. Where our consolidated affiliated entity is qualified as a VAT general taxpayer, the VAT charged by our WFOEs on the revenues obtained from such consolidated affiliated entity based on the contractual arrangement between our WFOEs and such consolidated affiliated entity will constitute input VAT for the consolidated affiliated entity, and will be creditable against output VAT arising in connection with VAT taxable activities carried out by the consolidated affiliated entity. In addition, as required by applicable PRC laws and regulations, in particular the Announcement of the State Administration of Taxation on Issuing the Administrative Measures for Special Tax Adjustment and Investigation and Mutual Consultation Procedures (國家稅務總局關於發佈《特別納稅調查調整及相互協商程式管理辦法》) issued by SAT and effective from 1 May 2017 and amended on 15 June 2018, arrangements and transactions among related parties may be subject to audit or challenge by the PRC tax authorities. We could face adverse tax consequences if the PRC tax authorities determine that the contractual arrangements between our WFOEs in China on the one hand, and our consolidated affiliated entities on the other, do not represent an arm's-length transaction and adjust our consolidated affiliated entities' income in the form of a transfer pricing adjustment. A transfer pricing adjustment could, among other things, result in a reduction, for PRC tax purposes, of expense deductions recorded by our consolidated affiliated entities, which could in turn increase its tax liabilities. In addition, the PRC tax authorities may impose interest charges on our consolidated affiliated entities for underpaid taxes. Our results of operations may be adversely affected if our consolidated affiliated entities' tax liabilities increase or if it is found to be subject to late payment surcharges or other penalties.

Risks Relating to the PRC

Interpretation of PRC laws and regulations involves significant uncertainties.

The PRC legal system is based on written statutes, while People's Courts of all levels carry out trials of similar cases with reference to guiding cases issued by the Supreme People's Court. Since 1979, the PRC government has been developing a comprehensive system of commercial laws, and considerable progress has been made in introducing laws and regulations dealing with economic matters such as foreign investment, competition and anti-trust, corporate organisation and governance, commerce, taxation and trade. However, as these laws and regulations are relatively new, and due to the limited volume of guiding cases, interpretation and enforcement of these laws and regulations involve significant uncertainties. As the PRC legal system develops, changes in such laws and regulations, or in their interpretation or enforcement, could have a material and adverse effect on our business operations. For example, we may be subject to competition and anti-trust investigations by the PRC government from time to time in the future. The outcomes of such investigations may prevent us from offering certain features, functions, services or products; requiring a change in our business practices or requiring development of non-infringing services, products or technologies, which could have a material and adverse effect on our business operations.

On 17 March 2018, the National People's Congress approved the institutional reform plan of the State Council. According to this reform plan, the State Council consists of 26 ministries and commissions in addition to the General Office of the State Council after its reorganisation. The reform covers different levels of institutions in the government, People's congress, political advisory body, judiciary, social organizations and public institutions and in military-civil integration. Driven by the reform plan, the PRC government may change relevant regulations or enforcement, and we may face uncertainties regarding the regulation and administration of our businesses and operations after various institutional reforms take effect, as well as uncertainties in the enforcement of certain laws, regulations and policies, which may have an effect on our business operations. For example, in May 2019, the MOCT issued the MOCT Adjustment Notice to adjust the applicable scope of the Network Culture Operating Permit. Pursuant to the MOCT Adjustment Notice, the MOCT would no longer be the authority supervising the online game industry in the PRC and therefore the business scope of a Network Culture Operating Permit issued by it and its local counterparts would not include online games. On 7 July 2019, the Online Games Measures was abolished by the MOCT. Tencent Computer and some other entities in our group have obtained the Network Culture Operating Permit for online games. These Network Culture Operating Permits only for online games will not be renewed after their expiration and those also covering other network culture business may be renewed with the online games removed from the approved business scope. As there are substantial uncertainties regarding the authority supervising the online game industry in the PRC, we cannot assure you that we will be able to obtain any other licenses necessary for us to carry out online game business, or that our existing licenses will continue to cover all aspects of our online game operations upon their renewal.

Furthermore, the administration of PRC laws and regulations may be subject to a certain degree of discretion by the executive authorities. This has resulted in the outcome of dispute resolutions not being as consistent or predictable compared to more developed jurisdictions. In addition, it may be difficult to obtain a swift and equitable enforcement of laws in the PRC or the enforcement of judgments by a court in another jurisdiction.

The Chinese economic, political and social conditions as well as government policies could adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

The Chinese economy differs from the economies of most developed countries in many respects, including government involvement, level of development, economic growth rate, control of foreign exchange, and allocation of resources. The Chinese economy has been transitioning from a planned economy to a more market-oriented economy and the PRC government has implemented measures emphasising economic reform, the reduction of state ownership of productive assets and the establishment of sound corporate governance in business enterprises. There can be no assurance that the PRC government will continue to pursue a policy of economic reform or that any such reforms will not have an adverse effect on the way we operate our business. Our business and financial condition could also be materially and adversely affected by any changes in PRC laws and regulations (or the interpretation thereof), as well as changes in the political, economic and social conditions of China.

We may be adversely affected by a severe or prolonged downturn of the global or Chinese economy.

The ongoing Eurozone debt crisis, the unprecedented downgrade of the U.S. credit rating and increasing concerns about a global recession and the trade war, could materially and adversely affect the Chinese economy and currently China-focused businesses like us. The effects of the Eurozone debt crisis could be even more significant if it leads to a partial or complete break-up of the European Monetary Union. There is also considerable uncertainty over the long-term effects of the expansionary monetary and fiscal policies adopted by the central banks and financial authorities of the world's leading economies. The grim economic outlook has negatively affected business and consumer confidence and contributed to significant market volatility. The stimulus plans and other measures implemented by the PRC government may not avert an economic downturn amid a severe and prolonged global economic recession.

Economic conditions in China are sensitive to global economic conditions, as well as changes in domestic economic and regulatory policies and the expected or perceived overall economic growth rate in China. Recently there have been signs that the rate of China's economic growth is declining. The rate of economic growth in China has remained slow in comparison to previous years and such slowdown may continue. The World Bank forecasts that the Chinese economy will grow 5.9% in 2020. China's gross domestic product decreased by 6.8% in the first quarter of 2020 compared to the same period in 2019, primarily as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. There were significant capital outflows from China in 2016. Although the PRC government has issued new regulations in late 2017 to stem capital outflows and capital outflows have subsided, the outflows may increase in the future. The slower rate of economic growth of China could be compounded by the decreasing international reserves of the PRC government, as well as sustained low levels of consumer spending in Europe and other countries, which would in turn affect export markets in Asia, particularly in China.

There have been concerns about the relationship among China and other Asian countries, which may result in or intensify potential territorial disputes or other conflicts. There have also been concerns about the relationship between China and the United States, following rounds of tariffs imposed by the United States. Recently, the United States and China have had disagreements over political and economic issues including trade. Controversies may arise in the future between these two countries and trade policies between the two may change. It is unclear whether these challenges and uncertainties will be contained or resolved, and what effects they may have on the global political and economic conditions in the long term. Any future escalation of the ongoing trade war between the United States and China or ongoing impact of the coronavirus may negatively impact the growth in both the Chinese economy and the global economy as a whole.

Any prolonged slowdown in the Chinese economy and globally may lead to reduced Internet-related activities and consumer spending. The deterioration in economic conditions in China and globally may harm the business of our customers, who may experience reduced business volume, and therefore decrease or delay in advertising and marketing service spending, or reduce their budgets or other spending across our platforms. In addition, there may be delay in the deployment of our cloud projects due to the negative impact on our enterprise customers by the deterioration in economic conditions. We may also see decreases in demand for our FinTech services from users, such as payment, lending and wealth management services. This may have a negative impact on our results of operations and financial condition.

The outbreak, or threatened outbreak, of any pandemics or severe epidemics could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

On 11 March 2020, the World Health Organization declared the outbreak of a strain of novel coronavirus disease, COVID-19, a global pandemic. The COVID-19 pandemic and governmental responses to the pandemic have had, and continue to have, a severe impact on global economic conditions, including significant disruption and volatility in the financial markets, disruption of global supply chains, temporary closures of many businesses, leading to loss of revenues and increased unemployment, and the institution of social distancing and sheltering-in-place requirements in many countries. If the pandemic is prolonged, or other diseases emerge that give rise to similar effects, the adverse impact on the global economy could deepen. With an aim to contain the COVID-19 outbreak, the PRC and other governments have imposed various strict measures across the globe including, but not limited to, travel restrictions, mandatory quarantine requirements, and postponed resumption of business operations.

This outbreak has caused, and may continue to cause us and certain of our business partners, including game licensors, suppliers, customers, advertisers and manufacturers, to implement temporary adjustments of work schemes allowing employees to work from home. This may cause us and our business partners to experience lower work efficiency and productivity, including but not limited to delay in development of new games or update of existing games, which may adversely affect our service quality. In addition, our business and results of operations could also be adversely affected to the extent the COVID-19 outbreak harms the business of our customers, who may experience reduced business volume, and therefore decrease or delay in their advertising and marketing service spending, for reduce their budgets or other spending across our platforms. In addition, there may be delay in the deployment of our cloud projects due to the negative impact on our enterprise customers by the deterioration in economic conditions. We may also see decreases in demand for our FinTech services from users, such as payment, lending and wealth management services. This may have a negative impact on our results of operations and financial condition.

The extent to which the COVID-19 outbreak impacts our financial condition and results of operations for the full year of 2020 cannot be reasonably estimated at this time and will depend on future developments that currently cannot be predicted, including new information which may emerge concerning the severity of the COVID-19 outbreak and the actions to contain the COVID-19 outbreak or treat its impact, and the impact on the economic growth and business of our customers for the foreseeable future, among others. Any future outbreak of public health epidemics may restrict economic activities in affected regions, resulting in reduced business volume, disrupt our business operations and adversely affect our results of operations.

The outbreak, or threatened outbreak, of any pandemics or severe epidemics (such as severe acute respiratory syndrome or avian influenza) in China could materially and adversely affect the overall business sentiment and environment in China, particularly if such outbreak is inadequately controlled. This, in turn, could materially and adversely affect domestic consumption, labour supply and, possibly, the overall gross domestic product growth of China. Labour shortages on contraction or slowdown in the growth of domestic consumption in China could materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations. In addition, if any of our employees are affected by any severe epidemics, it could adversely affect or disrupt operations and may also involve a closure of our offices and facilities to prevent the spread of the disease. The spread of any severe epidemics in China may also affect the operations of our customers and suppliers, which could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

If the PRC tax authorities determine that we are a “resident enterprise”, we and the Noteholders may face unfavorable tax consequences.

Under the 2008 EIT Law, enterprises established outside of China whose “de facto management bodies” are located in China are considered “resident enterprises”. The Regulation on the Implementation of the PRC Enterprise Income Tax Law (中華人民共和國企業所得稅法實施條例) (“Implementation Rules”) defines “de facto management body” as an organisation that exercises substantial and overall management and control over an enterprise’s manufacturing, or business operation, personnel, accounting and property. In addition, SAT has promulgated the Circular on Identification of China-controlled Overseas-registered Enterprises as Resident Enterprises on the Basis of De Facto Management Bodies (Guo Shui Fa [2009] No. 82) (國家稅務總局關於境外注冊中資控股企業依據實際管理機構標準認定為居民企業有關問題的通知) (國稅發[2009]82號), which further provides certain specific criteria for determining whether the “de facto management body” of a Chinese-controlled offshore incorporated enterprise is located in China. The criteria include whether: (i) the premises where the senior management and the senior management departments responsible for the daily production and operation management of the enterprise perform their functions are mainly located within China, (ii) decisions relating to the enterprise’s financial and human resource matters are made or subject to approval by organisations or personnel in China, (iii) the enterprise’s primary assets, accounting books and records, company seals, and board and shareholders’ meeting minutes are located or maintained in China and (iv) 50% or more of voting board members or senior executives of the enterprise habitually reside in China. Circular 82 further requires a “substance over form” principle to be followed when determining the location of the de facto management body. SAT has subsequently issued measures concerning the recognition, administration and taxation of Chinese controlled offshore enterprises whose de facto management bodies are located within China. Although Circular 82 applies only to offshore enterprises controlled by enterprises or enterprise groups located within China, not including those ultimately controlled by Chinese individuals, the determining criteria set forth in Circular 82 may reflect the SAT’s general position on how the “de facto management body” test may be applied in determining the tax resident status of all offshore enterprises.

As the tax resident status of an enterprise is subject to determination by the PRC tax authorities and uncertainties remain with respect to the interpretation of the term “de facto management body” as applicable to offshore entities such as us, we cannot assure you that we will not be considered to be a PRC tax resident enterprise. In the event that we are determined to be a PRC tax resident enterprise, we would consequently be subject to a 25% corporate income tax on our worldwide taxable income (other than non-taxable dividends from our subsidiaries based on relevant tax circulars). In addition, we may be subject to PRC corporate income tax reporting obligations. Furthermore, because interest payments on the Notes may be regarded as being derived from sources within China, we would be obligated to withhold PRC income tax at a rate of 10% on interest payments to non-resident enterprise investors or up to 20% on interest payments to non-resident individuals. In addition, interest payable by us to non-resident noteholders may be subject to PRC value added tax at a rate of 6% and related local levies, including educational surtax and urban maintenance and construction tax at a rate of up to 0.72%. Failure to withhold these income taxes if required to do so could cause us to be subject to fines and other penalties. The requirement to pay additional amounts will increase the cost of servicing the interest payments on the Notes and could have an adverse effect on our financial condition.

Any PRC tax liability may be reduced by an applicable tax treaty, such as the Arrangement Between the Mainland of China and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and the Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with Respect to Taxes on Income (內地和香港特別行政區關於對所得避免雙重徵稅和防止偷漏稅的安排) (“Tax Arrangement”), which reduces the applicable PRC income tax on interest to 7% for certain qualifying Hong Kong resident enterprises. Hong Kong individual tax residents could also apply the treaty if the individuals are beneficial owners of the interest.

If we were treated as a PRC tax resident enterprise, any gain realised by non-resident investors from the transfer of the Notes may be regarded as PRC source income and be subject to a 10% PRC tax for non-resident enterprises or a 20% tax for non-resident individuals, unless an applicable tax treaty or arrangement provides for a reduced tax rate.

The PRC government’s pilot plan to replace business tax with value-added tax (“VAT”) may subject us to more taxes, which could adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Pursuant to the PRC Provisional Regulations on Business Tax (中華人民共和國營業稅暫行條例), which has been repealed by the State Council on 19 November 2017, taxpayers providing taxable services falling under the category of service industry in China were required to pay a business tax at a normal tax rate of 5% of their revenues. In November 2011, the Ministry of Finance and the SAT promulgated the Pilot Plan for Imposition of Value-Added Tax to Replace Business Tax (營業稅改徵增值稅試點方案). Pursuant to this pilot plan and relevant subsequent notices, from 1 January 2012, VAT gradually replaced business tax in the transport and post industry, telecom industry and some of the modern service industries in China. Under the pilot plan, a VAT rate of 6% applies to certain modern service industries. On 23 March 2016, the Ministry of Finance and SAT promulgated the Circular on Comprehensively Promoting the Pilot Programme of the Collection of Value-Added Tax to Replace Business Tax (Cai Shui [2016] No. 36 (關於全面推開營業稅改徵增值稅試點的通知(財稅[2016]36號)) (“Circular 36”). Pursuant to Circular 36, starting from 1 May 2016, the VAT pilot programme has covered construction industry, real estate industry, finance industry and life service industry on a nation-wide basis. On 20 March 2019, the Ministry of Finance, the SAT and the General Administration of Customs jointly issued the Notice of Strengthening Reform of VAT Policies (關於深化增值稅改革有關政策的公告), pursuant to which the generally applicable VAT rates are simplified to 13%, 9%, 6%, and nil, which became effective on 1 April 2019. Although the VAT pilot programme is mainly intended to reduce double taxation under the business tax system, we may be subject to more taxes under the VAT pilot programme in connection with our operations and activities in China, which could adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Discontinuation of any of the preferential tax treatments or imposition of any additional taxes could adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

The National People’s Congress passed the 2008 EIT Law which was amended in 2017 and 2018, and the State Council passed its implementation rules, both of which became effective on 1 January 2008. The 2008 EIT Law significantly curtails tax incentives granted to foreign-invested enterprises under the PRC Income Tax Law concerning Foreign-Invested Enterprises and Foreign Enterprises (中華人民共和國外商投資企業和外國企業所得稅法) effective prior to 1 January 2008. The 2008 EIT Law, however, (i) reduces the statutory rate of the corporate income tax from 33% to 25% and (ii) introduces new tax incentives, subject to various qualification criteria.

The 2008 EIT Law and its implementing rules permit certain “high/new technology enterprises” to enjoy a reduced 15% corporate income tax rate subject to certain new qualification criteria. Pursuant to the Circular on Income Tax Policies for Further Encouraging the Development of Software Industry and Integrated Circuit Industry issued on 20 April 2012 (Cai Shui [2012] No. 27 (關於進一步鼓勵軟件產業和集成電路產業發展企業所得稅政策的通知(財稅[2012]27號)) (“Circular 27”), a qualified software enterprise is eligible to be exempted from income tax for its first two profitable years before 31 December 2017, followed by a reduction of income tax to 12.5% for the subsequent three years. Moreover, pursuant to Announcement on Income Tax Policies for Integrated Circuit Design and Software Enterprises (Ministry of Finance and State Administration of Taxation Announcement [2019] No. 68) (關於集成電路設計和軟件產業企業所得稅政策的公告) (“Bulletin 68”), the foresaid “tax exemption for the first two years and 50% tax reduction for the next three years” for the qualified software enterprise has been extended to 31 December 2018. In addition, according to Circular 27, a qualified national key software enterprise within national programming layout is entitled to a reduced 10% corporate income tax rate if it is not eligible for exemption of income tax for the same year. Certain of our WFOEs and consolidated affiliated entities have been recognised by the relevant authorities as “high/new technology enterprises” or satisfy the criteria of “national key software enterprises” or “software production enterprises” and therefore are eligible for the preferential tax treatments upon their filing or reporting of the qualified status with the relevant tax authorities. Preferential tax treatments granted to our WFOEs and consolidated affiliated entities by the local governmental authorities are subject to review and may be adjusted or revoked at any time. We cannot assure you that we will be able to maintain our current effective tax rate in the future. If any of the WFOEs or consolidated affiliated entities, which has enjoyed such preferential tax treatments fails to maintain their qualification status or renew their qualifications when the relevant term expires, their applicable corporate income tax rate may increase to 25%, which could have a material and adverse effect on our business, future results of operations and prospects.

We may rely on dividends and other distributions on equity paid by the WFOEs to fund any cash and financing requirements we may have. Any limitation on the ability of our WFOEs to pay dividends to us could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

We are a holding company, and we may rely on dividends and other distributions on equity to be paid by our WFOEs to meet our cash and financing requirements, including the funds necessary to pay service any debt we may incur. If any of our WFOEs incurs debt on its own behalf in the future, the instruments governing the debt may restrict its ability to pay dividends or make other distributions to us.

Under PRC laws and regulations, our WFOEs may pay dividends only out of their accumulated profits as determined in accordance with PRC accounting standards and regulations. In addition, each of our WFOEs in China is required to set aside at least 10% of its accumulated after-tax profits each year, if any, to fund certain statutory reserve funds, until the aggregate amount of such a fund reaches 50% of its registered capital. With approval by its shareholders in accordance with its articles of association, the WFOE may allocate a portion of its after-tax profits based on PRC accounting standards to discretionary reserve funds. These reserve funds are not distributable as cash dividends.

Any limitation on the ability of our WFOEs in China to pay dividends or make other distributions to us could materially and adversely limit our ability to grow, make investments or acquisitions that could be beneficial to our business, pay dividends, or otherwise fund and conduct our business.

According to the 2008 EIT Law and the Implementation Rules and other prevailing PRC tax circulars, dividends generated from the business of our WFOEs in China on or after 1 January 2008 and payable to the WFOEs’ immediate holding companies incorporated in Hong Kong will be subject to a withholding tax rate of 10% if the PRC tax authorities determine that such holding companies are not beneficial owners of the dividends and not eligible for the lower withholding tax treatments under the applicable double taxation arrangement between Mainland China and Hong Kong. If the Hong Kong holding companies’ beneficial owner status are not challenged by the PRC tax authorities, the withholding tax rate could be reduced to 5% from 10%.

In addition, on 17 March 2017, SAT issued the Announcement of the State Administration of Taxation on Issuing the Administrative Measures for Special Tax Adjustment and Investigation and Mutual Consultation Procedures (國家稅務總局關於發佈《特別納稅調查調整及相互協商程式管理辦法》的公告) (“Circular 6”), which was amended on 15 June 2018. According to Circular 6, any payment, especially service fees and royalties that are made by enterprises to their offshore affiliates which fail to satisfy the arm’s length transaction principles may not be deducted from such enterprise’s taxable income when calculating its enterprise income tax. In the case of any foregoing payment to offshore affiliates, the PRC tax authorities may request the payer to provide relevant transaction documents thereunder and to prove the real transaction background and the arm’s length transaction nature of such payment and transaction, and will take into consideration the offshore affiliate’s actual contribution in such transaction when determining whether such transaction is in compliance with the arm’s length transaction principles. Accordingly, the distributions paid by our WFOEs to us might be challenged on their actual transaction background by the PRC tax authorities based on Circular 6 and might therefore incur certain tax burden on our WFOEs.

PRC regulations relating to the establishment of offshore special purpose companies by PRC residents may subject our PRC resident beneficial owners or our Chinese subsidiaries to liability or penalties, limit our ability to inject capital into our Chinese subsidiaries, limit our Chinese subsidiaries’ ability to increase their registered capital or distribute profits to us, or may otherwise adversely affect us.

On 4 July 2014, SAFE promulgated the Circular on Relevant Issues Concerning Foreign Exchange Control on Domestic Residents’ Offshore Investment and Financing and Roundtrip Investment through Special Purpose Vehicle (國家外匯管理局關於境內居民通過特殊目的公司境外投融資及返程投資外匯管理有關問題的通知) (“Circular 37”), which abolishes and supersedes the Financing and Return on Investment Conducted by Residents in China via Special-Purpose Companies (關於境內居民通過境外特殊目的公司融資及返程投資外匯管理有關問題的通知) (“Circular 75”) issued by SAFE on 21 October 2005. Circular 37 and its implementation guidelines require Chinese residents to register with local branches of SAFE (or qualified bank in accordance with SAFE Circular 13 as defined below) in connection with their direct establishment or indirect control of an offshore entity for the purpose of overseas investment and financing with such Chinese residents’ legally owned assets or equity interests in domestic enterprises or offshore assets or interests, referred to in Circular 37 as a “special purpose vehicle”. Circular 37 further requires amendment to the registration in the event of any significant changes with respect to the special purpose vehicle, such as increase or decrease of capital contributed by Chinese individuals, share transfer or exchange, merger, division or other material event. In the event that a Chinese shareholder holding interests in a special purpose vehicle fails to fulfil the required SAFE registration, the Chinese subsidiaries of that special purpose vehicle may be prohibited from distributing profits to the offshore parent and from carrying out subsequent cross-border foreign exchange activities, and the special purpose vehicle may be restricted in its ability to contribute additional capital into its Chinese subsidiary. Moreover, failure to comply with the various SAFE registration requirements described above could result in liability under PRC law for evasion of foreign exchange controls.

On 28 February 2015, SAFE promulgated Notice on Further Simplifying and Improving Foreign Exchange Administration Policy on Direct Investment (國家外匯管理局關於進一步簡化和改進直接投資外匯管理政策的通知) (“SAFE Circular 13”), which became effective on 1 June 2015 and was amended on 30 December 2019. In accordance with SAFE Circular 13, if no retroactive SAFE registration is required, entities and individuals are required to apply for foreign exchange registration of foreign direct investment and overseas direct investment, including those required under the Circular 37, with qualified banks, instead of SAFE, while SAFE will handle retroactive SAFE registration. The qualified banks, under the supervision of SAFE, directly examine the applications and conduct the registration.

We have notified substantial holders of ordinary shares of the Company whom we know are Chinese residents to register with the local SAFE branch and update their registrations as required under the SAFE regulations described above. We, however, cannot provide any assurances that all of our shareholders who are Chinese residents will file all applicable registrations or update previously filed registrations as required by these SAFE regulations. The failure or inability of our Chinese resident shareholders to comply with the registration procedures set forth therein may subject such Chinese resident shareholders to fines and legal sanctions, restrict our cross-border investment activities, or limit our Chinese subsidiaries' ability to distribute dividends to us or restrict us in injecting additional capital or extending loans to our Chinese subsidiaries.

As it is uncertain how the SAFE regulations described above will be interpreted or implemented, we cannot predict how these regulations will affect our business operations or future strategy. For example, we may be subject to more stringent review and approval process with respect to our foreign exchange activities, such as remittance of dividends and foreign currency-denominated borrowings, which may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition. In addition, if we decide to acquire a Chinese domestic company, we cannot assure you that we or the owners of such company, as the case may be, will be able to obtain the necessary approvals or complete the necessary filings and registrations required by the SAFE regulations. This may restrict our ability to implement our acquisition strategy and could adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Governmental control of currency conversion may limit our ability to obtain sufficient foreign currency to satisfy our currency demands and may affect the value of your investment.

The PRC government imposes controls on the convertibility of the RMB into foreign currencies and, in certain cases, the remittance of currency out of China. We receive substantially all of our revenues in RMB and substantially all of our cash inflows and outflows are denominated in RMB. Under our current corporate structure, our income is primarily derived from dividend payments from our Chinese operating subsidiaries. We may convert a portion of our revenues into other currencies to meet our foreign currency obligations, such as payments of dividends declared in respect of our ordinary shares, if any. Shortages in the availability of foreign currency may restrict the ability of our Chinese subsidiaries to remit sufficient foreign currency to pay dividends or other payments to us, or otherwise satisfy its foreign currency denominated obligations. Under existing PRC foreign exchange regulations, payments of current account items, including profit distributions, interest payments and expenditures from trade-related transactions, can be made in foreign currencies generally without prior approval from SAFE by complying with certain procedural requirements. However, approval from appropriate banks appointed by government authorities is required where RMB is to be converted into foreign currency and remitted out of China to pay capital expenses such as the repayment of loans denominated in foreign currencies. The PRC government may also at its discretion restrict access in the future to foreign currencies for current account transactions. If the foreign exchange control system prevents us from obtaining sufficient foreign currency to satisfy our currency demands, we may not be able to pay interests in foreign currencies to the holders of the Notes.

PRC laws and regulations establish more complex procedures for some acquisitions of Chinese companies by foreign investors, which could make it more difficult for us to pursue growth through acquisitions in China.

PRC laws and regulations, such as the Regulations on the Mergers and Acquisitions of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors (“M&A Rules”) (關於外國投資者併購境內企業的規定) adopted in September 2006 and amended on 22 June 2009, the Anti-Monopoly Law (反壟斷法) which became effective on 1 August 2008, and Notice of the General Office of the State Council on the Establishment of the Security Review System for Mergers and Acquisitions of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors (國務院辦公廳關於建立外國投資者併購境內企業安全審查制度的通知) effective from 3 March 2011, established additional procedures and requirements that are expected to make merger and acquisition activities in China by foreign investors more time-consuming and complex, including requirements in some instances that the MOFCOM be notified in advance of any change-of-control transaction in which a foreign investor takes control of a Chinese domestic enterprise, or that the approval from the MOFCOM be obtained in circumstances where overseas companies established or controlled by Chinese enterprises or residents acquire affiliated domestic companies. PRC laws and regulations also require certain merger and acquisition transactions to be subject to merger control review or security review. Provisions of the MOFCOM on the Implementation of the Security Review System for Mergers and Acquisitions of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors (商務部實施外國投資者併購境內企業安全審查制度的規定), effective from 1 September 2011, further provide that, when deciding whether a specific merger or acquisition of a domestic enterprise by foreign investors is subject to the security review by the PRC governmental agencies, the principle of substance over form should be applied and foreign investors are prohibited from bypassing the security review requirement by structuring transactions through proxies, trusts, indirect investments, leases, loans, control through contractual arrangements or offshore transactions. If the business of any target company that we plan to acquire falls into the ambit of security review, we may not be able to successfully acquire such company either by equity or asset acquisition, capital contribution or through any contractual arrangements. We may grow our business in part by acquiring other companies operating in our industry. Complying with the requirements of the relevant regulations to complete such transactions could be time-consuming, and any required approval processes, including approval from the MOFCOM, may delay or inhibit our ability to complete such transactions, which could affect our ability to expand our business or maintain our market share.

We face uncertainties with respect to indirect transfers of equity interests in Chinese resident enterprises by their non-Chinese holding companies.

On 10 December 2009, the SAT issued the Notice on Strengthening Administration of Enterprise Income Tax for Share Transfers by Non-PRC Resident Enterprises (“Circular 698”) (國家稅務總局關於加強非居民企業股權轉讓所得企業所得稅管理的通知), with retroactive effect from 1 January 2008, which has been repealed from 1 December 2017. On 3 February 2015, the SAT further promulgated the Announcement on Enterprise Income Tax for Indirect Transfers of Properties by Non-PRC Resident Enterprises (“Circular 7”) (國家稅務總局關於非居民企業間接轉讓財產企業所得稅若干問題的公告), effective from 3 February 2015 and further amended in December 2017, to replace certain provisions under Circular 698 and to further strengthen the regulation regarding indirect transfers of Chinese properties through the transfer of equity interests in Chinese resident enterprises by the non-Chinese resident enterprises. According to Circular 7, if a non-resident enterprise conducts an “indirect transfer” by transferring its equity interest in an offshore enterprise, which directly or indirectly owns Chinese real property or property of a business conducted within China (“PRC Taxable Property”), and the foregoing “indirect transfer” does not satisfy the “reasonable business purpose test” as provided in Circular 7, each of the transferor, the transferee and the Chinese resident enterprise (as the ultimate target company under the transfer) has discretion to report the transfer to the relevant tax authority of the Chinese resident enterprise.

According to Circular 7, several factors must be considered when determining whether an indirect transfer has a reasonable business purpose, including (i) whether the value of the equity interest in the overseas holding company derives, directly or indirectly, from the PRC Taxable Property; (ii) whether investments within China constitute, directly or indirectly, the main assets of the overseas holding company, or, whether the income of the overseas holding company is mainly generated, directly or indirectly, from China; (iii) whether the functions actually performed and the risks undertaken by the overseas holding company and its subsidiaries, directly or indirectly holding the PRC Taxable Property, can establish the economic substance of the corporate structure; (iv) the shareholders and business model of the overseas holding company and the duration that the relevant corporate structure has existed; (v) the foreign income tax consequences of such indirect transfer; (vi) whether such indirect transfer and indirect investment regarding the PRC Taxable Property could have been made through a direct transfer of and indirect investment in the PRC Taxable Property and (vii) the tax treaties or arrangements applicable in China to gains derived from such indirect transfer. However, notwithstanding the foregoing factors, if such indirect transfer and other arrangements related thereto satisfy all of the following conditions, such indirect transfer shall be immediately deemed as “without reasonable business purpose”: (i) the PRC Taxable Property constitutes 75% or more of the value of the equity interests of the overseas holding company; (ii) at any time within one (1) year before such indirect transfer, the overseas holding company’s investment in China constitutes, directly or indirectly, 90% or more of its total assets (exclusive of any cash), or, within one (1) year before such indirect transfer, 90% or more of the overseas holding company’s income was generated, directly or indirectly from within China; (iii) the limited functions actually performed and the risks undertaken by the overseas holding company and its subsidiaries, directly or indirectly holding the PRC Taxable Property are insufficient to establish the economic substance of their corporate structure and (iv) the foreign income tax rate on such indirect transfer is lower than that on the PRC Taxable Property under applicable PRC laws.

Circular 7 also provides some exceptions for indirect transfers of certain PRC Taxable Property, including (i) shares in an offshore listing company that are bought and sold by a non-Chinese resident enterprise via a public market, or (ii) gains derived from indirect transfers that would not have been subject to income tax pursuant to the applicable tax treaties or arrangements had the PRC Taxable Property been directly transferred, or (iii) transactions that are internal transfers among affiliates via share swaps and would not ultimately decrease the amount of gain subject to PRC income tax, taking the contingent transactions into consideration.

Gains derived from an indirect transfer of the PRC Taxable Property may be subject to PRC withholding tax at a rate of up to 10%.

The PRC tax authorities may apply Circular 7 to our previous financing transactions where non-resident private equity investors were involved, or sale or purchase of shares in other non-PRC resident companies or other taxable assets by us, if they decide that any of such transactions do not have a reasonable commercial purpose. As a result, we and our non-resident investors in such transactions may become at risk of being taxed under Circular 7 and we may be required to expend valuable resources to comply with Circular 7 or to establish that we should not be taxed under the general anti-avoidance rule of the 2008 EIT Law, which may have a material and adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations or such non-resident investors' investments in us.

Fluctuations in exchange rates may have a material and adverse effect on your investment.

The value of the RMB against the U.S. dollar and other currencies is affected by, among other things, changes in the Chinese political and economic conditions and the Chinese foreign exchange policies. The conversion of RMB into foreign currencies, including U.S. dollars, has been based on exchange rates set by the PBOC. Pursuant to reforms of the exchange rate system announced by the PBOC on 21 July 2005, RMB-to-foreign currency exchange rates are allowed to fluctuate within a narrow and managed band against a basket of foreign currencies, rather than being effectively linked to the U.S. dollar. Further, from 18 May 2007, the PBOC enlarged the floating band for the trading prices in the inter-bank foreign exchange market of the RMB against the U.S. dollar from 0.3% to 0.5% around the central parity rate, effective on 21 May 2007. This allows the RMB to fluctuate against the U.S. dollar by up to 0.5% above or below the central parity rate published by the PBOC. The floating band was further widened to 1.0% on 16 April 2012 and further widened to 2.0% on 17 March 2014. These changes in currency policy resulted in the RMB appreciating against the U.S. dollar by approximately 24.5% from 21 July 2005 to 31 December 2016. On 11 August 2015, the PBOC announced plans to improve the central parity rate of the RMB against the U.S. dollar by authorizing market-makers to provide parity to the China Foreign Exchange Trading Center operated by the PBOC with reference to the interbank foreign exchange market closing rate of the previous day, the supply and demand for foreign currencies as well as changes in exchange rates of major international currencies. On the same day, the central parity rate of the RMB against the U.S. dollar depreciated by nearly 2.0% as compared to 10 August 2015, and further depreciated by nearly 1.6% on 12 August 2015 as compared to 11 August 2015. The International Monetary Fund announced on 30 September 2016 that, effective from 1 October 2016, the RMB would be added to its Special Drawing Rights currency basket. Such change and additional future changes may increase the volatility in the trading value of the RMB against foreign currencies.

We mainly operate in China with most of our transactions settled in RMB. The conversion of RMB denominated balances into foreign currencies is subject to the rates and regulations of foreign exchange control promulgated by the PRC government. We hold some financial assets denominated in U.S. dollars, H.K. dollars, Euro and Korea Won subject to certain thresholds stated in our treasury mandate and borrow some bank loans denominated in U.S. dollars. We also issue long-term notes denominated in U.S. dollars and H.K. dollars from time to time. This exposes us to foreign exchange risk.

Any significant revaluation of RMB may materially and adversely affect our revenue, earnings and financial position, and the value of the Notes in U.S. dollars. For example, an appreciation of RMB against the U.S. dollar would reduce the amount of RMB we would receive if we need to convert U.S. dollars into RMB. Conversely, a significant depreciation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar may significantly reduce the U.S. dollar equivalent of our earnings, which in turn could adversely affect the value of the Notes. It is difficult to predict how the PBOC's policy may impact the RMB exchange rate in the future.

The Group manages its foreign exchange risk by regularly reviewing the Group's net foreign exchange exposures and tries to minimise these exposures through natural hedges wherever possible and may enter into forward foreign exchange contracts, when necessary. However, the availability and effectiveness of these current and future arrangements may be limited and we may not be able to adequately hedge our exposure or at all. In addition, our currency exchange losses may be magnified by Chinese exchange control regulations that restrict our ability to convert RMB into foreign currency. As a result, fluctuations in exchange rates may have a material and adverse effect on your investment.

Implementation of the labour laws and regulations in China may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Pursuant to the labour contract law that became effective in January 2008 and its implementation rules that became effective in September 2008, employers are subject to stricter requirements in terms of signing labour contracts, minimum wages, paying remuneration, determining the term of employees' probation and unilaterally terminating labour contracts. Due to lack of detailed interpretation rules and uniform implementation practice and possible penalties, it is uncertain as to how it would affect our current employment policies and practices. Our employment policies and practices may violate the labour contract law or its implementation rules, and we may thus be subject to related penalties, fines or legal fees. Compliance with the labour contract law and its implementation rules may increase our operating expenses, in particular our personnel expenses. In the event that we decide to terminate some of our employees or otherwise change our employment or labour practices, the labour contract law and its implementation rules may also limit our ability to effect those changes in a desirable or cost-effective manner, which could adversely affect our business and results of operations. On 28 October 2010, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress promulgated the PRC Social Insurance Law (中華人民共和國社會保險法) which became effective on 1 July 2011 and was amended on 29 December 2018. On 24 March 2019, the State Council amended Regulation on the Administration of Housing Accumulation Funds. According to applicable Chinese social insurance laws and the Regulation on the Administration of Housing Accumulation Funds (住房公積金管理條例), employees must participate in pension insurance, work-related injury insurance, medical insurance, unemployment insurance, maternity insurance and housing funds and the employers must, together with their employees or separately, pay the social insurance premiums and housing funds for such employees. On 20 July 2018, the General Office of the State Council issued the Plan for Reforming the State and Local Tax Collection and Administration Systems (國稅地稅徵管體制改革方案), which stipulated that the SAT would become solely responsible for collecting social insurance premiums. On 24 January 2014, the Ministry of Human Resources and Social Security promulgated the Provisional Rules on Labour Dispatching (勞務派遣暫行規定), effective 1 March 2014. Intended to control labour dispatching arrangements, these regulations require that dispatched workers may be designated only to positions of a temporary, supporting or substitute nature, and further require employers to change and adjust their employment structure so that their used dispatched workers should not exceed a statutory cap of 10% of total employees.

We expect our labour costs to increase due to the implementation of these new laws and regulations. As the interpretation and implementation of these laws and regulations are still evolving, we cannot assure you that our employment practice will at all times be deemed in full compliance with labour-related laws and regulations in China which may subject us to labour disputes or government investigations. If we are deemed to have violated relevant labour laws and regulations, we could be required to provide additional compensation to our employees and our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. Further, labour disputes, work stoppages or slowdowns at our offices and facilities or any of our clients or suppliers could significantly disrupt our daily operation or our expansion plans and have material and adverse effects on our business.

Inflation in China and measures to contain inflation may negatively affect our profitability and growth.

While the Chinese economy has experienced rapid growth, such growth has been uneven among various sectors of the economy and in different geographical areas of the country and among different demographic sectors in the community. If prices for our services and products rise at a rate that is insufficient to compensate for the rise in the costs, our business may be materially and adversely affected. In order to control inflation in the past, the PRC government has imposed controls on bank credits, limits on loans for fixed assets, and restrictions on state bank lending. Such austerity measures can lead to a slowing of economic growth in China, which could materially and adversely affect our business, future results of operations and prospects.

Risks Relating to Notes Issued under the Programme

Notes may not be a suitable investment for all investors.

Each potential investor in any Notes must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor should:

- have sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the relevant Notes, the merits and risks of investing in the Notes and the information contained or incorporated by reference in this Offering Circular or any applicable supplement;
- have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the Notes and the impact such investment will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Notes, including where principal or interest is payable in one or more currencies, or where the currency for principal or interest payments is different from the potential investor's currency;
- understand thoroughly the terms of the Notes and be familiar with the behaviour of any relevant financial markets; and
- be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

Investors shall pay attention to any modification, waivers and substitution.

The Conditions of the Notes contain provisions for calling meetings of Noteholders to consider matters affecting their interests generally. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Noteholders, including Noteholders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting and Noteholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority.

The Conditions may be amended, modified, or varied in relation to any Series of Notes by the terms of the relevant Pricing Supplement in relation to such Series.

The Conditions of the Notes also provide that the Trustee may, without the consent of the Noteholders, agree to (i) any modification (except certain modifications, including increasing quorum requirements relating to meetings) of the Conditions or the Trust Deed which is not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders or (ii) any modification of the Notes or the Trust Deed which is of a formal, minor or technical nature or is to correct a manifest error.

Investors shall pay attention to the terms and conditions applicable to each Series of Notes issued under the Programme on or after the date of this Offering Circular, which may be different from the terms and conditions applicable to each Series of Notes issued under the Programme prior to the date of this Offering Circular.

Any Series of Notes issued under the Programme on or after the date of this Offering Circular will contain provisions regarding certain definitions, certain covenants including negative pledge and certain events of default, that differ from those applicable to each Series of Notes issued under the Programme prior to the date of this Offering Circular, as amended, supplemented and/or replaced by the relevant Pricing Supplement. See “Terms and Conditions of the Notes” applicable to each Series of Notes issued under the Programme on or after the date of this Offering Circular.

The Notes may be represented by Global Notes and holders of a beneficial interest in a Global Note must rely on the procedures of the relevant Clearing System(s).

Notes issued under the Programme may be represented by one or more Global Notes. Such Global Notes will be deposited with a common depository for Euroclear and Clearstream, or lodged with a sub-custodian for the CMU Service (each of Euroclear, Clearstream, the CMU Service and DTC). Except in the circumstances described in the relevant Global Note, investors will not be entitled to receive definitive Notes. The relevant Clearing System(s) will maintain records of the beneficial interests in the Global Notes. While the Notes are represented by one or more Global Notes, investors will be able to trade their beneficial interests only through the Clearing Systems.

While the Notes are represented by one or more Global Notes, the Issuer will discharge its payment obligations under the Notes by making payments to the relevant Clearing System for distribution to their account holders or, in the case of the CMU Service, to the persons for whose account(s) interests in such Global Note are credited as being held in the CMU in accordance with the CMU Rules as notified by the CMU Service to us in a relevant CMU Instrument Position Report or any other notification by the CMU Service.

A holder of a beneficial interest in a Global Note must rely on the procedures of the relevant Clearing System(s) to receive payments under the relevant Notes. We, as the Issuer, do not have any responsibility or liability for the records relating to, or payments made in respect of, beneficial interests in the Global Notes.

The Issuer may be unable to redeem the Notes.

On certain dates, including the occurrence of any early redemption event specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement or otherwise and at maturity of the Notes, we, as the Issuer, may, and at maturity, will, be required to redeem all of the Notes. If such an event were to occur, we, as the Issuer, may not have sufficient cash on hand and may not be able to arrange financing to redeem the Notes in time, or on acceptable terms, or at all. The ability to redeem the Notes in such event may also be limited by the terms of other debt instruments. The Issuer’s failure to repay, repurchase or redeem tendered Notes would constitute an event of default under the Notes, which may also constitute a default under the terms of other indebtedness of the Group.

The Notes are unsecured obligations.

As the Notes are unsecured obligations, the repayment of the Notes may be adversely affected if:

- the Issuer enters into bankruptcy, liquidation, reorganisation or other winding-up proceedings;
- there is a default in payment under the Issuer’s future secured indebtedness or other unsecured indebtedness; or
- there is an acceleration of any of the Issuer’s indebtedness.

If any of these events were to occur, the Issuer's assets may not be sufficient to pay amounts due on the Notes.

The Notes will be structurally subordinated to all obligations of the Issuer's existing and future subsidiaries and consolidated affiliated entities.

The Notes will not be guaranteed by any of the Issuer's existing or future subsidiaries and consolidated affiliated entities, who together hold substantially all of the Issuer's operating assets and conduct substantially all of the Issuer's business. The Issuer's subsidiaries and consolidated affiliated entities will have no obligation, contingent or otherwise, to pay amounts due under the Notes or to make any funds available to pay those amounts, whether by dividend, distribution, loan or other payment. The Notes will be structurally subordinated to all indebtedness and other obligations of the Issuer's subsidiaries and consolidated affiliated entities such that in the event of insolvency, liquidation, reorganisation, dissolution or other winding up of any of the Issuer's subsidiary or consolidated affiliated entity, all of that subsidiary's or consolidated affiliated entity's creditors (including trade creditors) would be entitled to payment in full out of that subsidiary's or consolidated affiliated entity's assets before the Issuer would be entitled to any payment.

In addition, the Trust Deed governing the Notes will, subject to some limitations, permit these subsidiaries and consolidated affiliated entities to incur additional indebtedness and will not contain any limitation on the amount of other liabilities, such as trade payables, that may be incurred by these subsidiaries and consolidated affiliated entities.

The terms of the Notes provide only limited protection against significant corporate events that could adversely impact your investment in the Notes.

While the terms of the Notes contain terms intended to provide protection to noteholders upon the occurrence of certain events involving significant corporate transactions and the Issuer's creditworthiness, these terms are limited and may not be sufficient to protect your investment in the Notes. See "Terms and Conditions of the Notes — Redemption and Purchase".

The Trust Deed for the Notes also does not:

- require the Issuer to maintain any financial ratios or specific levels of net worth, revenue, income, cash flows or liquidity;
- limit the Issuer's ability to incur indebtedness that is equal in right of payment to the Notes;
- restrict the Issuer's subsidiaries' or consolidated affiliated entities' ability to issue unsecured securities;
- or otherwise incur unsecured indebtedness that would be senior to the Issuer's equity interests in our subsidiaries or consolidated affiliated entities and therefore rank effectively senior to the Notes;
- limit the ability of the Issuer's subsidiaries or consolidated affiliated entities to service indebtedness;
- restrict the Issuer's ability to repurchase or prepay any other of the Issuer's securities or other indebtedness; or
- restrict the Issuer's ability to make investments or to repurchase or pay dividends or make other payments in respect of the Issuer's shares or other securities ranking junior to the Notes.

As a result of the foregoing, when evaluating the terms of the Notes, you should be aware that the terms of the Notes do not restrict the Issuer's ability to engage in, or to otherwise be a party to, a variety of corporate transactions, circumstances and events that could have an adverse impact on your investment in the Notes.

The Notes do not restrict the Group's ability to incur additional debt or to take other actions that could negatively impact holders of the Notes.

Subject to the negative pledge covenant (see "Terms and Conditions of the Notes — Certain Covenants — Negative Pledge"), the Group is not restricted under the Terms and Conditions from incurring additional debt, including secured debt, or from repurchasing the Notes. In addition, the covenants applicable to the Notes do not require the Group to achieve or maintain any minimum financial results relating to the Group's financial position or results of operations. The Group's ability to recapitalise, incur additional debt and take other actions that are not limited by the Terms and Conditions could diminish the Group's ability to make payments on the Notes and amortising bonds when due.

Considerations related to a particular issue of Notes.

A wide range of Notes may be issued under the Programme. A number of these Notes may have features which contain particular risks for potential investors. Set out below is a description of certain such features:

Index Linked Notes and Dual Currency Notes

The Issuer may issue Notes with principal or interest determined by reference to an index or formula, to changes in the prices of securities or commodities, to movements in currency exchange rates or other factors (each, a "Relevant Factor"). In addition, the Issuer may issue Notes with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies which may be different from the currency in which the Notes are denominated. Potential investors should be aware that:

- the market price of such Notes may be volatile;
- they may receive no interest;
- the payment of principal or interest may occur at a different time or in a different currency than expected;
- the amount of principal payable at redemption may be less than the nominal amount of such Notes or even zero;
- a Relevant Factor may be subject to significant fluctuations that may not correlate with changes in interest rates, currencies or other indices;
- if a Relevant Factor is applied to Notes in conjunction with a multiplier greater than one or contains some other leverage factor, the effect of changes in the Relevant Factor on principal or interest payable will likely be magnified; and
- the timing of changes in a Relevant Factor may affect the actual yield to investors, even if the average level is consistent with their expectations. In general, the earlier the change in the Relevant Factor, the greater the effect on yield.

Partly-paid Notes

The Issuer may issue Notes where the issue price is payable in more than one instalment. Failure to pay any subsequent instalment could result in an investor losing all of its investment.

Variable rate Notes with a multiplier or other leverage factor

Notes with variable interest rates can be volatile investments. If they are structured to include multipliers or other leverage factors, or caps or floors, or any combination of those features or other similar related features, their market values may be even more volatile than those for securities that do not include those features.

Inverse Floating Rate Notes

Inverse Floating Rate Notes have an interest rate equal to a fixed rate minus a rate based upon a reference rate such as LIBOR. The market values of such Notes are typically more volatile than market values of other conventional floating rate debt securities based on the same reference rate (and with otherwise comparable terms). Inverse Floating Rate Notes are more volatile because an increase in the reference rate not only decreases the interest rate of the Notes, but may also reflect an increase in prevailing interest rates, which further adversely affects the market value of these Notes.

Fixed/Floating Rate Notes

Fixed/Floating Rate Notes may bear interest at a rate that the Issuer may elect to convert from a fixed rate to a floating rate, or from a floating rate to a fixed rate. The Issuer's ability to convert the interest rate will affect the secondary market and the market value of such Notes since the Issuer may be expected to convert the rate when it is likely to produce a lower overall cost of borrowing. If the Issuer converts from a fixed rate to a floating rate, the spread on the Fixed/Floating Rate Notes may be less favourable than then prevailing spreads on comparable Floating Rate Notes tied to the same reference rate. In addition, the new floating rate at any time may be lower than the rates on other Notes. If the Issuer converts from a floating rate to a fixed rate, the fixed rate may be lower than then prevailing rates on its Notes.

The regulation and reform of "benchmarks" may adversely affect the value of the Notes linked to or referencing such "benchmarks".

Interest rates and indices which are deemed to be "benchmarks" (including LIBOR and EURIBOR) are the subject of recent guidance and proposals for reform from the European Union (the "EU") national and international regulatory bodies. Some of these reforms are already effective whilst others are still to be implemented. These reforms may cause such benchmarks to perform differently than in the past, to disappear entirely, or have other consequences which cannot be predicted. Any such consequence could have a material adverse effect on any Notes linked to or referencing such a "benchmark". Regulation (EU) 2016/1011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 8 June 2016 on indices used as benchmarks in financial instruments and financial contracts or to measure the performance of investment funds (the "Benchmark Regulation") was published in the Official Journal of the EU on 29 June 2016 and applies from 1 January 2018. The Benchmark Regulation applies to the provision of benchmarks, the contribution of input data to a benchmark and the use of a benchmark within the EU. It, among other things: (i) requires benchmark administrators to be authorized or registered (or, if non-EU based, to be subject to an equivalent regime or otherwise recognized or endorsed); and (ii) prevents certain uses by EU supervised entities of "benchmarks" of administrators that are not authorized or registered (or, if non-EU based, not deemed equivalent or recognized or endorsed).

The Benchmark Regulation could have a material impact on any Notes linked to or referencing benchmarks, including LIBOR or EURIBOR, in particular, if the methodology or other terms of the relevant benchmark are changed in order to comply with the requirements of the Benchmark Regulation. There is a risk that administrators of certain "benchmarks" will fail to obtain the necessary authorisation or registration, preventing them from continuing to provide such "benchmarks". Other administrators may cease to administer certain "benchmarks" because of the additional costs of compliance with the Benchmark Regulation and other applicable regulations, and the risks associated therewith. There is also a risk that certain “benchmarks” may continue to be administered but may in time become obsolete. Such changes could, among other things, have the effect of reducing, increasing or otherwise affecting the volatility of the published rate or level of the relevant benchmark.

More broadly, any of the national or international reforms, or the general increased regulatory scrutiny of “benchmarks”, could increase the costs and risks of administering or otherwise participating in the setting of a “benchmark” and complying with any such regulations or requirements. Such factors may have the following effects on certain “benchmarks” (including, but not limited to, LIBOR or EURIBOR): (i) discourage market participants from continuing to administer or contribute to the “benchmark”; (ii) trigger changes in the rules or methodologies used in the “benchmark”; or (iii) lead to the disappearance of the “benchmark”.

Any of the above changes or any other consequential changes as a result of national or international reforms or other initiatives or investigations could have a material adverse effect on the value of and return on any Notes linked to or referencing the relevant benchmark. Investors should consult their own independent advisers and make their own assessment about the potential risks imposed by the Benchmark Regulation reforms in making any investment decision with respect to any Notes linked to or referencing the relevant benchmark.

Future discontinuance of LIBOR may adversely affect the value of Floating Rate Notes which reference LIBOR.

Regulators and law enforcement agencies in the United Kingdom and elsewhere are conducting civil and criminal investigations into the calculation of daily LIBOR by banks that contributed to the British Bankers’ Association (the “BBA”) when it was the body which exclusively sets the relevant LIBOR benchmark rates. A number of BBA member banks have entered into settlements with their regulators and law enforcement agencies with respect to the alleged manipulation of LIBOR. In 2014, ICE Benchmark Rate Administration Ltd. (“ICE Administration”) was appointed as the independent LIBOR administrator. Actions by ICE Administration, regulators or law enforcement agencies may result in changes to the manner in which LIBOR is determined. Some of these reforms are already effective, while others are still to be implemented or formulated.

On 27 July 2017, the Chief Executive of the United Kingdom Financial Conduct Authority, which regulates LIBOR, announced that it does not intend to continue to persuade, or use its powers to compel, panel banks to submit rates for the calculation of LIBOR to the administrator of LIBOR after 2021. The announcement indicates that the continuation of LIBOR on the current basis is not guaranteed after 2021. Moreover, any of the proposals for reform or for general increased regulatory scrutiny of LIBOR could increase the costs and risks of administering or otherwise participating in the setting of a LIBOR rate and of complying with any such regulations or requirements. It is not possible to predict whether, and to what extent, panel banks will continue to provide LIBOR submissions to the administrator of LIBOR going forward. This may cause LIBOR to perform differently than it did in the past and may have other consequences which cannot be predicted. Further, at this time, no consensus exists as to what rate or rates may become accepted alternatives to LIBOR and it is impossible to predict the effect of any such alternatives on the value of LIBOR-based securities, including the Floating Rate Notes issued under the Programme, such as the 2023 Floating Rate Notes.

Investors should be aware that, if LIBOR were discontinued or otherwise unavailable, the rate of interest on the Floating Rate Notes which reference LIBOR will be determined for the relevant period by the fall-back provisions applicable to such Notes. Depending on the manner in which the LIBOR rate is to be determined under the terms of the Floating Rate Notes, this may: (i) if ISDA Determination applies, be reliant upon the provision by reference banks of offered quotations for the LIBOR rate which, depending on market circumstances, may not be available at the relevant time; or (ii) if Screen Rate Determination applies, result in the effective application of a fixed rate based on the rate which applied in the previous period when LIBOR was available. Any of the foregoing could have an adverse effect on the value or liquidity of, and return on, the Floating Rate Notes which reference LIBOR.

We may be able to redeem the Notes in whole at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount plus accrued and unpaid interest in the event we are required to pay Additional Amounts because we are treated as a PRC “resident enterprise”.

In the event we are treated as a PRC “resident enterprise” under the EIT Law, we may be required to withhold PRC tax on interest paid to certain of our non-resident investors. In such case, we will, subject to certain exceptions, be required to pay such Additional Amounts as will result in receipt by a holder of a Note of such amounts as would have been received by the holder had no such withholding been required. As described under Condition 10(b) of the “Terms and Conditions of the Notes”, in the event we are required to pay Additional Amounts as a result of certain changes in or interpretations of tax law or the stating of an official position regarding the application or interpretation of such law, including any change or interpretation that results in our being required to withhold tax on interest payments as a result of our being treated as a PRC “resident enterprise”, we may redeem the Notes in whole at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount plus accrued and unpaid interest.

We may be able to redeem the Notes prior to maturity.

We may be able to redeem a series of the Notes at our option on a date prior to the maturity date if the relevant pricing supplement specifies this optional redemption. The optional redemption feature of a series of the Notes may limit the market value of such Notes. During any period when we may elect to redeem the Notes, the market value of the Notes may not rise substantially above the price at which they can be redeemed. This also may be true prior to any redemption period.

We may also be expected to redeem the Notes with optional redemption feature when our cost of borrowing is lower than the interest rate on the Notes. At those times, an investor may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on the Notes being redeemed and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

If the Company fails to complete the post-issuance filing in connection with any Notes required to be registered with NDRC, the NDRC may impose penalties or other administrative procedures on the Company.

On 14 September 2015, the NDRC promulgated the Notice on Promoting the Reform of the Filing and Registration System for Issuance of Foreign Debt by Corporates (關於推進企業發行外債備案登記制管理改革的通知) (the “NDRC Notice”), pursuant to which if a Chinese enterprise or an offshore enterprise controlled by a Chinese enterprise wishes to issue bonds outside of China with a maturity of more than one year, such Chinese enterprise must, in advance of issuing such bonds, file certain prescribed documents with the NDRC and obtain a registration certificate from the NDRC in respect of such issue. In addition, the enterprise must also report certain details of the bonds to the NDRC within 10 business days upon the completion of the bond issue.

However, there is no clarity on the legal consequences of non-compliance with the above NDRC post-issuance filing requirement under the additional guidance issued by the NDRC (企業境外發行債券指引) (the “NDRC Notice Guidelines”), on 18 December 2015, which states that companies, investment banks, law firms and other intermediaries involved in debt securities issuances which do not comply with the registration requirement under the NDRC Notice will be subject to a blacklist and sanctions. The NDRC Notice Guidelines are silent as to how such blacklist will be implemented or the exact sanctions that will be enacted by the NDRC, or any impact on the noteholders, in the event of a non-compliance by us with the NDRC Notice. There is no assurance that the NDRC will not issue further implementation rules or notices which may require additional steps in terms of the registration or provide sanctions or other administrative procedures the NDRC may impose in case of failure to complete the post-issuance filing with the NDRC.

Enforcing your rights as a holder of the Notes across multiple jurisdictions may be difficult.

We are registered in the Cayman Islands, and conduct most of our operations in China through our WFOEs and consolidated affiliated entities in China. All of our Directors are nationals or residents of countries other than the United States. As a result, it may not be possible to effect service of process within the United States or elsewhere outside of China upon our Directors and officers, including with respect to matters arising under U.S. federal securities laws or applicable state securities laws.

It may also be difficult or impossible for you to bring an action against us or against our Directors and officers in the Cayman Islands or in China in the event that you believe that your rights have been infringed under the securities laws of the United States. Even if you are successful in bringing an action of this kind, the laws of the Cayman Islands and of China may render you unable to enforce a judgement against our assets or the assets of our Directors and officers. We have been advised by our Cayman Islands legal counsel, Maples and Calder (Hong Kong) LLP, that the courts of the Cayman Islands are unlikely (i) to recognise or enforce against us judgments of courts of the United States predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the securities laws of the United States or any State; and (ii) in original actions brought in the Cayman Islands, to impose liabilities against us predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the securities laws of the United States or any State, so far as the liabilities imposed by those provisions are penal in nature. In those circumstances, although there is no statutory enforcement in the Cayman Islands of judgments obtained in the United States, the courts of the Cayman Islands will recognise and enforce a foreign money judgment of a foreign court of competent jurisdiction without retrial on the merits based on the principle that a judgment of a competent foreign court imposes upon the judgment debtor an obligation to pay the sum for which judgment has been given provided certain conditions are met. For such a foreign judgment to be enforced in the Cayman Islands, such judgment must be final and conclusive and for a liquidated sum, and must not be in respect of taxes or a fine or penalty, inconsistent with a Cayman Islands judgment in respect of the same matter, impeachable on the grounds of fraud or obtained in a manner, or be of a kind the enforcement of which is, contrary to natural justice or the public policy of the Cayman Islands (awards of punitive or multiple damages may well be held to be contrary to public policy). A Cayman Islands Court may stay enforcement proceedings if concurrent proceedings are being brought elsewhere.

Moreover, our PRC counsel has advised us that the PRC does not have treaties with the United States or many other countries providing for the reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgement of courts.

We have been advised by PRC and Cayman Islands counsel that there is doubt as to the enforceability, in original actions in PRC or Cayman Islands courts, of liabilities based on the United States federal securities laws or the securities or “blue sky” laws of any state within the United States and as to the enforceability in PRC or Cayman Islands courts of judgements of United States courts obtained in actions based on the civil liability provisions of the United States federal securities laws or any such state securities or blue sky laws.

As a result of all of the above, your rights under the Notes may thus be subject to the laws of several jurisdictions, and you may not be able to effectively enforce your rights in multiple legal, bankruptcy and other similar proceedings. Moreover, such multi-jurisdictional proceedings are typically complex and costly and often result in substantial uncertainty and delay.

Risks Relating to Renminbi Denominated Notes

Notes denominated in Renminbi (the “Renminbi Notes”) may be issued under the Programme. Renminbi Notes contain particular risks for potential investors.

Investment in the Renminbi Notes is subject to exchange rate risks.

The value of Renminbi against the U.S. dollar and other foreign currencies fluctuates from time to time and is affected by changes in the Chinese and international political and economic conditions as well as many other factors. The Issuer will make all payments of interest and principal with respect to the Renminbi Notes in Renminbi. As a result, the value of these Renminbi payments may vary with the changes in the prevailing exchange rates in the marketplace. If the value of Renminbi depreciates against the Hong Kong dollar or other foreign currencies, the value of the investment made by a holder of the Renminbi Notes in Hong Kong dollars or any other foreign currency terms will decline.

Renminbi is not freely convertible; there are significant restrictions on the remittance of Renminbi into and outside of China. The PRC government continues to regulate conversion between Renminbi and foreign currencies, including the Hong Kong dollar, despite the significant reduction over the years by the PRC government of control over routine foreign exchange transactions under current accounts.

There is no assurance that the PRC government will continue to gradually liberalise control over cross-border Renminbi remittances in the future or that new PRC regulations will not be promulgated in the future which have the effect of restricting the remittance of Renminbi into or outside China. In the event that the Group is not able to repatriate funds outside China in Renminbi, the Issuer will need to source Renminbi offshore to finance the Issuer's obligations under Renminbi Notes, and the Issuer's ability to do so will be subject to the overall availability of Renminbi outside China.

There is only limited availability of Renminbi outside China, which may affect the liquidity of the Renminbi Notes and the Issuer's ability to source Renminbi outside China to service the Renminbi Notes.

As a result of the restrictions by the PRC government on cross-border Renminbi fund flows, the availability of Renminbi outside China is limited. Since February 2004, in accordance with arrangements between the PRC central government and the Hong Kong government, licenced banks in Hong Kong may offer limited Renminbi-denominated banking services to Hong Kong residents and specified business customers. The PBOC has also established a Renminbi clearing and settlement system for participating banks in Hong Kong and ten other countries and territories. On 19 July 2010, further amendments were made to the Settlement Agreement on the Clearing of Renminbi Business (香港人民幣業務清算協議), (the "Settlement Agreement") between the PBOC and Bank of China (Hong Kong) Limited (the "RMB Clearing Bank") to further expand the scope of Renminbi business for participating banks in Hong Kong.

Pursuant to the revised arrangements, all corporations are allowed to open Renminbi accounts in Hong Kong; there is no longer any limit (other than as provided in the following paragraph) on the ability of corporations to convert Renminbi; and there will no longer be any restriction on the transfer of Renminbi funds between different accounts in Hong Kong.

However, the current size of Renminbi-denominated financial assets outside China is limited. In addition, although participating banks are no longer required by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority to apply a minimum Renminbi liquidity ratio of 25%, they are still required to account for Renminbi together with other currencies on the same basis as the statutory liquidity ratio. Renminbi business participating banks do not have direct Renminbi liquidity support from the PBOC. The RMB Clearing Bank only has access to onshore liquidity support from the PBOC to square open positions of participating banks for limited types of transactions, including open positions resulting from conversion services for corporations relating to cross-border trade settlement and for Hong Kong residents of up to RMB20,000 per person per day. The RMB Clearing Bank is not obliged to square for participating banks any open positions resulting from other foreign exchange transactions or conversion services and the participating banks will need to source Renminbi from the offshore market to square such open positions.

Although it is expected that the offshore Renminbi market will continue to grow in depth and size, its growth is subject to many constraints as a result of PRC laws and regulations on foreign exchange. There is no assurance that new PRC regulations will not be promulgated or the Settlement Agreement will not be terminated or amended in the future which will have the effect of restricting availability of Renminbi offshore. The limited availability of Renminbi outside China may affect the liquidity of Renminbi Notes. To the extent we, as the Issuer, are required to source Renminbi in the offshore market to service Renminbi Notes, there is no assurance that the Issuer will be able to source such Renminbi on satisfactory terms, if at all.

Payments in Respect of Renminbi Notes Will Only Be Made to Investors in the Manner Specified in Such Renminbi Notes.

All payments to investors in respect of Renminbi Notes cleared through the CMU Service will be made solely by (i) when Renminbi Notes are represented by Global Notes or Global Note Certificates cleared through the CMU Service, transfer to a Renminbi bank account maintained in Hong Kong in accordance with the prevailing rules and procedures of the CMU Service, or (ii) when Renminbi Notes are in definitive form, transfer to a Renminbi bank account maintained in Hong Kong in accordance with prevailing rules and regulations. The Issuer cannot be required to make payment by any other means (including in any other currency or in bank notes, by cheque or draft or by transfer to a bank account in China).

Risks Relating to the Market Generally

Set out below is a brief description of certain market risks, including liquidity risk, exchange rate risk, interest rate risk and credit risk:

Notes issued under the Programme have no current active trading market and may trade at a discount to their initial offering price and/or with limited liquidity.

Notes issued under the Programme will be new securities which may not be widely distributed and for which there is currently no active trading market (unless in the case of any particular Tranche, such Tranche is to be consolidated with and form a single series with a Tranche of Notes which is already issued). If the Notes are traded after their initial issuance, they may trade at a discount to their initial offering price, depending upon prevailing interest rates, the market for similar securities, general economic conditions and the Issuer's financial condition. If the Notes are trading at a discount, investors may not be able to receive a favourable price for their Notes, and in some circumstances investors may not be able to sell their Notes at all or at their fair market value. Although an application will be made for the Notes issued under the Programme to be listed on, and permitted to deal in, the SEHK, there is no assurance that such application will be accepted, that any particular Tranche of Notes will be so listed or that an active trading market will develop. In addition, the market for investment grade and crossover grade debt has been subject to disruptions that have caused volatility in prices of securities similar to the Notes issued under the Programme. Accordingly, there is no assurance as to the development or liquidity of any trading market, or that disruptions will not occur, for any particular Tranche of Notes. In addition, Notes issued in definitive form pursuant to the terms of the Programme may be illiquid and difficult to trade if issued in denominations that are not an integral multiple of the minimum specified denomination.

The credit ratings assigned to the Notes may not reflect all risks.

One or more independent credit rating agencies may assign credit ratings to an issue of Notes. The ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to structure, market, additional factors discussed above and other factors that may affect the value of the Notes. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be revised or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time. There can be no assurance that the ratings assigned to any Notes will remain in effect for any given period or that the ratings will be revised by the rating agencies in the future if, in their judgement, the circumstances so warrant. A downgrade in the ratings of any Notes may effect the market price of the Notes.

FORM OF THE NOTES

Bearer Notes

Each Series of Notes to be issued in bearer form (“Bearer Notes”) will initially be in the form of either a temporary global note in bearer form (the “Temporary Global Note”), without interest coupons, or a permanent global note in bearer form (the “Permanent Global Note”), without interest coupons, in each case as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement. Each Temporary Global Note or, as the case may be, Permanent Global Note (each a “Global Note”) will be deposited on or around the issue date of the relevant Series of the Notes with a depository or a common depository for Euroclear as operator of the Euroclear System and/or Clearstream and/or any other relevant clearing system and/or a sub-custodian for the CMU Service.

In the case of each Tranche of Bearer Notes, the relevant Pricing Supplement will also specify whether rules in substantially the same form as U.S. Treasury Regulation § 1.163 - 5(c)(2)(i)(C) for purposes of Section 4701 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code (the “C Rules”) or rules in substantially the same form as U.S. Treasury Regulation § 1.163 - 5(c)(2)(i)(D) for purposes of Section 4701 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code (the “D Rules”) are applicable in relation to the Notes or, if the Notes do not have a maturity of more than 365 days (taking into account unilateral rights to extend or rollover) or are in registered form for U.S. federal income tax purposes, that neither the C Rules nor the D Rules are applicable. Notes issued in compliance with the D Rules must be initially issued in the form of a Temporary Global Note. Whilst any Bearer Note issued under the D Rules is represented by a Temporary Global Note, payments of principal, interest (if any) and any other amount payable in respect of the Notes due prior to the Exchange Date (as defined below) will be made against presentation of the Temporary Global Note only to the extent that certification generally to the effect that the beneficial owners of interests in such Note are not U.S. persons or persons who have purchased for resale to any U.S. person, as required by U.S. Treasury regulations, has been received by Euroclear and/or Clearstream and/or any other relevant clearing system, and Euroclear and/or Clearstream, or other relevant clearing system, as applicable, has given a like certification (based on the certifications it has received) to the relevant Paying Agent (or in the case of Bearer Notes held through the CMU Service, received by the CMU Lodging Agent from CMU Members).

Bearer Notes issued in compliance with the D Rules will be issued through the CMU only if the CMU Members and the CMU Lodging Agent have procedures in place for the certification of non-U.S. beneficial ownership as required under the D Rules.

Temporary Global Note exchangeable for Permanent Global Note

If the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies the form of Notes as being “Temporary Global Note exchangeable for a Permanent Global Note”, then the Notes will initially be issued in the form of a Temporary Global Note, interests in which will be exchangeable, in whole or in part, for interests in a Permanent Global Note, without interest coupons, from the date (the “Exchange Date”) which is 40 days after the issue date of the relevant Tranche of the Notes, which exchange, if the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies that the D Rules are applicable, will be made only to the extent that certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership has been received in compliance with the D Rules. No payments will be made under the Temporary Global Note after the Exchange Date unless exchange for interests in the Permanent Global Note is improperly withheld or refused. In addition, interest payments in respect of Temporary Global Notes subject to the D Rules cannot be collected without such certification of non-U.S. beneficial ownership, as described above.

Whenever any interest in the Temporary Global Note is to be exchanged for an interest in a Permanent Global Note, the Issuer shall procure (in the case of first exchange) the delivery of a Permanent Global Note, to the bearer of the Temporary Global Note or (in the case of any subsequent exchange) an increase in the principal amount of the Permanent Global Note in accordance with its terms against:

- (i) presentation and (in the case of final exchange) presentation and surrender of the Temporary Global Note to or to the order of the Principal Paying Agent; and
- (ii) receipt by the Principal Paying Agent of a certificate or certificates of non-U.S. beneficial ownership, as described above.

within seven days of the bearer requesting such exchange.

Temporary Global Note exchangeable for Definitive Notes

If the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies the form of Notes as being “Temporary Global Note exchangeable for Definitive Notes” and also specifies that the C Rules are applicable or that neither the C Rules nor the D Rules are applicable, then the Notes will initially be in the form of a Temporary Global Note which will be exchangeable, in whole but not in part, for Definitive Notes not earlier than the Exchange Date of the relevant Tranche of the Notes.

If the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies the form of Notes as being “Temporary Global Note exchangeable for Definitive Notes” and also specifies that the D Rules are applicable, then the Notes will initially be issued in the form of a Temporary Global Note which will be exchangeable, in whole or in part, for Definitive Notes on or after the Exchange Date for the relevant Tranche of the Notes to the extent that certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership has been received as described above. Interest payments in respect of the Notes cannot be collected without such certification of non-U.S. beneficial ownership.

Whenever the Temporary Global Note is to be exchanged for Definitive Notes, the Issuer shall procure the prompt delivery (free of charge to the bearer) of such Definitive Notes, duly authenticated and with Coupons and Talons attached (if so specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement), in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of the Temporary Global Note to the bearer of the Temporary Global Note against the surrender of the Temporary Global Note and in the case where the D Rules are applicable, subject to certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership, as described above, to or to the order of the Principal Paying Agent within 30 days of the bearer requesting such exchange.

Permanent Global Note exchangeable for Definitive Notes

If the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies the form of Notes as being “Permanent Global Note exchangeable for Definitive Notes”, then the Notes will initially be issued in the form of a Permanent Global Note which will be exchangeable in whole, but not in part, for Definitive Notes:

- (i) on the expiry of such period of notice as may be specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; or
- (ii) at any time, if so specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; or
- (iii) if the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies “in the limited circumstances described in the Permanent Global Note”, then if either of the following event occurs:
 - (a) Euroclear or Clearstream, the CMU Service or any other relevant clearing system is closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of legal holidays) or announces an intention permanently to cease business or
 - (b) any of the circumstances described in Condition 14 (Events of Default) occurs in respect of any Note of the relevant Tranche.

Whenever the Permanent Global Note is to be exchanged for Definitive Notes, the Issuer shall procure the prompt delivery (free of charge to the bearer) of such Definitive Notes, duly authenticated and with Coupons and Talons attached (if so specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement), in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of the Permanent Global Note to the bearer of the Permanent Global Note against the surrender of the Permanent Global Note to or to the order of the Principal Paying Agent within 30 days of the bearer requesting such exchange.

Notes issued as Permanent Global Notes may not be issued using the D Rules.

Terms and Conditions applicable to the Notes

The terms and conditions applicable to any Definitive Note will be endorsed on that Note and will consist of the terms and conditions set out under “Terms and Conditions of the Notes” below and the provisions of the relevant Pricing Supplement which supplement, amend and/or replace those terms and conditions.

The terms and conditions applicable to any Note in global form will differ from those terms and conditions which would apply to the Note were it in definitive form to the extent described under “Summary of Provisions Relating to the Notes while in Global Form” below.

Legend concerning United States persons

In the case of any Tranche of Bearer Notes having a maturity of more than 365 days (taking into account any unilateral rights to extend or rollover), the Notes in global form, the Notes in definitive form, each Bearer Note and any Coupons and Talons appertaining thereto will bear a legend to the following effect:

“ANY UNITED STATES PERSON WHO HOLDS THIS OBLIGATION WILL BE SUBJECT TO LIMITATIONS UNDER THE UNITED STATES INCOME TAX LAWS, INCLUDING THE LIMITATIONS PROVIDED IN SECTIONS 165(f) AND 1287(a) OF THE U.S. INTERNAL REVENUE CODE.”

The sections referred to provide that United States persons, with certain exceptions, will not be entitled to deduct any loss on Bearer Notes, receipts or interest coupons and will not be entitled to capital gains treatment of any gain on any sale, disposition, redemption or payment of principal in respect of such Notes, receipts or interest coupons.

Registered Notes

Each Tranche of Notes in registered form (“Registered Notes”) will be represented by either:

- (i) individual Note Certificates in registered form (“Individual Note Certificates”); or
- (ii) one or more unrestricted global note certificates (“Unrestricted Global Note Certificate(s)”) in the case of Registered Notes sold outside the United States to non-U.S. persons in reliance on Regulation S (“Unrestricted Notes”) and/or one or more restricted global note certificates (“Restricted Global Note Certificate(s)”) in the case of Registered Notes sold to QIBs in reliance on Rule 144A (“Restricted Notes”), in each case as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, and references in this Offering Circular to “Global Note Certificates” shall be construed as a reference to Unrestricted Global Note Certificates and/or Restricted Global Note Certificates.

Each Note represented by a Restricted Global Note Certificate will be registered in the name of Cede & Co. (or such other entity as is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) as nominee for DTC or, as the case may be, in the name of the common depository (or its nominee) for Euroclear and/or Clearstream and the relevant Restricted Global Note Certificate will be deposited on or about the issue date with the custodian for DTC (the “DTC Custodian”) or a depository of the common depository for Euroclear and/or Clearstream. Beneficial interests in Notes represented by a Restricted Global Note Certificate may be held through DTC or, as the case may be, Euroclear and/or Clearstream at any time.

Each Note represented by an Unrestricted Global Note Certificate will be registered in the name of a common depository (or its nominee) for Euroclear and/or Clearstream and/or any other relevant clearing system or in the name of Cede & Co. as nominee for DTC, and the relevant Unrestricted Global Note Certificate will be deposited on or about the issue date with the common depository or the DTC Custodian.

If the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies the form of Notes as being “Individual Note Certificates”, then the Notes will at all times be represented by Individual Note Certificates issued to each Noteholder in respect of their respective holdings.

Global Note Certificate exchangeable for Individual Note Certificates

If the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies the form of Notes as being “Global Note Certificate exchangeable for Individual Note Certificates”, then the Notes will initially be represented by one or more Global Note Certificates, each of which will be exchangeable in whole, but not in part, for Individual Note Certificates:

- (i) on the expiry of such period of notice as may be specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; or
- (ii) at any time, if so specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; or
- (iii) if the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies “in the limited circumstances described in the Global Note Certificate”, then:
 - (a) in the case of any Global Note Certificate held by or on behalf of DTC, if DTC notifies the Issuer that it is no longer willing or able to discharge properly its responsibilities as depository with respect to the Global Note Certificate or DTC ceases to be a “clearing agency” registered under the Exchange Act or if at any time DTC is no longer eligible to act as such, and the relevant Issuer is unable to locate a qualified successor within 90 days of receiving notice or becoming aware of such ineligibility on the part of DTC;
 - (b) in the case of any Unrestricted Global Note Certificate held by or on behalf of, Euroclear and/or Clearstream and/or any other clearing system (other than DTC), if Euroclear, Clearstream or any other relevant clearing system is closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of legal holidays) or announces an intention permanently to cease business; and
 - (c) in any case, if any of the circumstances described in Condition 14 (Events of Default) occurs in respect of any Note of the relevant Tranche.

Whenever a Global Note Certificate is to be exchanged for Individual Note Certificates, each person having an interest in a Global Note Certificate must provide the Registrar (through the relevant clearing system) with such information as the Issuer and the Registrar may require to complete and deliver Individual Note Certificates (including the name and address of each person in which the Notes represented by the Individual Note Certificates are to be registered and the principal amount of each such person’s holding). In addition, whenever a Restricted Global Note Certificate is to be exchanged for Individual Note Certificates, each person having an interest in the Restricted Global Note Certificate must provide the Registrar (through the relevant clearing system) with a certificate given by or on behalf of the holder of each beneficial interest in the Restricted Global Note Certificate stating either (i) that such holder is not transferring its interest at the time of such exchange or (ii) that the transfer or exchange of such interest has been made in compliance with the transfer restrictions applicable to the Notes and that the person transferring such interest reasonably believes that the person acquiring such interest is a QIB and is obtaining such beneficial interest in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A. Individual Note Certificates issued in exchange for interests in the Restricted Global Note Certificate will bear the legends and be subject to the transfer restrictions set out under “Transfer Restrictions”.

Whenever a Global Note Certificate is to be exchanged for Individual Note Certificates, the Issuer shall procure that Individual Note Certificates will be issued in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of the Global Note Certificate within five business days of the delivery, by or on behalf of the registered holder of the Global Note Certificate to the Registrar of such information as is required to complete and deliver such Individual Note Certificates against the surrender of the Global Note Certificate at the specified office of the Registrar.

Such exchange will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the Trust Deed and the Agency Agreement and the regulations concerning the transfer and registration of Notes scheduled to the Agency Agreement and, in particular, shall be effected without charge to any holder, but against such indemnity as the Registrar may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such exchange.

Terms and Conditions applicable to the Notes

The terms and conditions applicable to any Individual Note Certificate will be endorsed on that Individual Note Certificate and will consist of the terms and conditions set out under “Terms and Conditions of the Notes” below and the provisions of the relevant Pricing Supplement which supplement, amend and/or replace those terms and conditions.

The terms and conditions applicable to any Global Note Certificate will differ from those terms and conditions which would apply to the Note were it in definitive form to the extent described under “Summary of Provisions Relating to the Notes while in Global Form” below.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds from each issue of Notes will be used by the Issuer for general corporate purposes. If, in respect of any particular issue, there is a particular identified use of proceeds, this will be stated in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE NOTES

The following is the text of the terms and conditions which, as supplemented, amended and/or replaced by the relevant Pricing Supplement, will be endorsed on each Note issued in definitive form under the Programme on or after the date of this Offering Circular. The terms and conditions applicable to any Note in global form will differ from the terms and conditions which would apply to the Note were it in definitive form to the extent described under “Summary of Provisions Relating to the Notes while in Global Form” below.

1. Introduction

- (a) Programme: Tencent Holdings Limited (the “Issuer”) has established a Global Medium Term Note Programme (the “Programme”) for the issuance of up to US$20,000,000,000 (as may be increased from time to time) in aggregate principal amount of notes (the “Notes”).
- (b) Pricing Supplement: Notes issued under the Programme are issued in series (each a “Series”) and each Series may comprise one or more tranches (each a “Tranche”) of Notes. The terms and conditions applicable to any particular Tranche of Notes are set out in the relevant pricing supplement (the “Pricing Supplement”) which supplements, amends and/or replaces these terms and conditions (the “Conditions”). In the event of any inconsistency between these Conditions and the relevant Pricing Supplement, the relevant Pricing Supplement shall prevail.
- (c) Trust Deed: The Notes are constituted by, are subject to, and have the benefit of, an amended and restated trust deed dated 25 May 2020 (as amended or supplemented from time to time, the “Trust Deed”) between the Issuer and DB Trustees (Hong Kong) Limited as trustee (the “Trustee”, which expression includes all persons for the time being trustee or trustees appointed under the Trust Deed). The Issuer and the Trustee entered into a trust deed on 10 April 2014, which is amended and supplemented by an amended and restated trust deed dated 24 April 2015 and an amended and restated trust deed dated 1 April 2019 between the Issuer and the Trustee, and further amended and supplemented by the Trust Deed.
- (d) Agency Agreement: The Notes are the subject of an amended and restated issue and paying agency agreement dated 24 April 2015 (which amends and supplements the issue and paying agency agreement dated 10 April 2014, the “Agency Agreement”) between the Issuer, Deutsche Bank AG, Hong Kong Branch as principal paying agent (the “Principal Paying Agent”, which expression includes any successor principal paying agent appointed from time to time in connection with the Notes), Deutsche Bank AG, Hong Kong Branch as exchange agent (the “Exchange Agent”, which expression includes any successor exchange agent appointed from time to time in connection with the Notes), Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, Deutsche Bank AG, Hong Kong Branch and Deutsche Bank Luxembourg S.A. as registrars (each, a “Registrar”, which expression includes any successor registrar appointed from time to time in connection with the Notes), Deutsche Bank AG, Hong Kong Branch as CMU lodging agent (the “CMU Lodging Agent”, which expression includes any successor CMU lodging agent appointed from time to time in connection with the Notes), the paying agents named therein (together with the Principal Paying Agent and the CMU Lodging Agent, the “Paying Agents”, which expression includes any successor or additional paying agents appointed from time to time in connection with the Notes), the transfer agents named therein (together with the Registrars, the “Transfer Agents”, which expression includes any successor or additional transfer agents appointed from time to time in connection with the Notes) and the Trustee. In these Conditions references to the “Agents” are to the Paying Agents, the Exchange Agent and the Transfer Agents and any reference to an “Agent” is to any one of them.

For the purposes of these Conditions, all references (other than in relation to the determination of interest and other amounts payable in respect of the Notes) to the Principal Paying Agent shall, with respect to a Series of Notes to be held in the CMU Service (as defined below), be deemed to be a reference to the CMU Lodging Agent and all such reference shall be construed accordingly.

- (e) The Notes: The Notes may be issued in bearer form (“Bearer Notes”), or in registered form (“Registered Notes”). Registered Notes are not exchangeable to Bearer Notes or vice versa. No single tranche or series may comprise both Bearer Notes and Registered Notes. Bearer Notes will not be sold in the United States or to U.S. persons. All subsequent references in these Conditions to “Notes” are to the Notes which are the subject of the relevant Pricing Supplement. Copies of the relevant Pricing Supplement are available for viewing and copies may be obtained from the Specified Office of each of the Paying Agents and Transfer Agents.
- (f) Summaries: Certain provisions of these Conditions are summaries of the Trust Deed and the Agency Agreement and are subject to their detailed provisions. Noteholders and the holders of the related interest coupons, if any, (the “Couponholders” and the “Coupons”, respectively) are bound by, and are deemed to have notice of, all the provisions of the Trust Deed and the Agency Agreement applicable to them. Copies of the Trust Deed and the Agency Agreement are available for inspection by Noteholders during normal business hours at the Specified Offices of the Paying Agents.

2. Interpretation

- (a) Definitions: In these Conditions the following expressions have the following meanings: “Accrual Yield” has the meaning given in the relevant Pricing Supplement;

“Additional Business Centre(s)” means the city or cities specified as such in the relevant Pricing Supplement;

“Additional Financial Centre(s)” means the city or cities specified as such in the relevant Pricing Supplement;

“Business Day”, other than in Condition 3(g) (Registration and delivery of Note Certificates) means:

- (i) in relation to any sum payable in euro, a TARGET Settlement Day and a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments generally in each (if any) Additional Business Centre;
- (ii) in relation to any sum payable in a currency other than euro and Renminbi, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments generally, in the Principal Financial Centre of the relevant currency and in each (if any) Additional Business Centre; and
- (iii) for the purposes of Notes denominated in Renminbi only, any day (other than a Sunday or a Saturday) on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets are open for business and settle Renminbi payments in Hong Kong and are not authorised or obligated by law or executive order to be closed;

“Business Day Convention”, in relation to any particular date, has the meaning given in the relevant Pricing Supplement and, if so specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, may have different meanings in relation to different dates and, in this context, the following expressions shall have the following meanings:

- (i) “Following Business Day Convention” means that the relevant date shall be postponed to the first following day that is a Business Day;
- (ii) “Modified Following Business Day Convention” or “Modified Business Day Convention” means that the relevant date shall be postponed to the first following day that is a Business Day unless that day falls in the next calendar month in which case that date will be the first preceding day that is a Business Day;

- (iii) “Preceding Business Day Convention” means that the relevant date shall be brought forward to the first preceding day that is a Business Day;
- (iv) “FRN Convention”, “Floating Rate Convention” or “Eurodollar Convention” means that each relevant date shall be the date which numerically corresponds to the preceding such date in the calendar month which is the number of months specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the Specified Period after the calendar month in which the preceding such date occurred provided, however, that:
 - (A) if there is no such numerically corresponding day in the calendar month in which any such date should occur, then such date will be the last day which is a Business Day in that calendar month;
 - (B) if any such date would otherwise fall on a day which is not a Business Day, then such date will be the first following day which is a Business Day unless that day falls in the next calendar month, in which case it will be the first preceding day which is a Business Day; and
 - (C) if the preceding such date occurred on the last day in a calendar month which was a Business Day, then all subsequent such dates will be the last day which is a Business Day in the calendar month which is the specified number of months after the calendar month in which the preceding such date occurred; and
- (v) “No Adjustment” means that the relevant date shall not be adjusted in accordance with any Business Day Convention;

A certificate (each, a “Note Certificate”) will be issued to each Holder of Registered Notes in respect of its registered holding.

Each Note Certificate will be numbered serially with an identifying number which will be recorded in the register (the “Register”). In the case of Registered Notes, “Holder” means the person in whose name such Registered Note is for the time being registered in the Register (or, in the case of a joint holding, the first named thereof) and “Noteholder” shall be construed accordingly.

- (e) Ownership: The Holder of any Note or Coupon shall (except as otherwise required by law) be treated as its absolute owner for all purposes (whether or not it is overdue and regardless of any notice of ownership, trust or any other interest therein, any writing thereon or, in the case of Registered Notes, on the Note Certificate relating thereto (other than the endorsed form of transfer) or any notice of any previous loss or theft thereof and no Person shall be liable for so treating such Holder. No person shall have any right to enforce any term or condition of any Note or the Trust Deed under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.
- (f) Transfers of Registered Notes: Subject to paragraphs (i) (Closed periods) and (j) (Regulations concerning transfers and registration) below, a Registered Note may be transferred upon surrender of the relevant Note Certificate, with the endorsed form of transfer duly completed, at the Specified Office of the relevant Registrar or any Transfer Agent, together with such evidence as such Registrar or (as the case may be) such Transfer Agent may reasonably require to prove the title of the transferor and the authority of the individuals who have executed the form of transfer; provided, however, that a Registered Note may not be transferred unless the principal amount of Registered Notes transferred and (where not all of the Registered Notes held by a Holder are being transferred) the principal amount of the balance of Registered Notes not transferred are Specified Denominations. Where not all the Registered Notes represented by the surrendered Note Certificate are the subject of the transfer, a new Note Certificate in respect of the balance of the Registered Notes will be issued to the transferor.
- (g) Registration and delivery of Note Certificates: Within five business days of the surrender of a Note Certificate in accordance with paragraph (f) (Transfers of Registered Notes) above, the relevant Registrar will register the transfer in question and deliver a new Note Certificate of a like principal amount to the Registered Notes transferred to each relevant Holder at its Specified Office or (as the case may be) the Specified Office of any Transfer Agent or (at the request and risk of any such relevant Holder) by uninsured first class mail (airmail if overseas) to the address specified for the purpose by such relevant Holder. In this paragraph, “business day” means a day on which commercial banks are open for general business (including dealings in foreign currencies) in the city where the relevant Registrar or (as the case may be) the relevant Transfer Agent has its Specified Office.
- (h) No charge: The transfer of a Registered Note will be effected without charge by or on behalf of the Issuer or the relevant Registrar or any Transfer Agent but against such indemnity by the transferor as the such Registrar or (as the case may be) such Transfer Agent may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such transfer.
- (i) Closed periods: Noteholders may not require transfers to be registered:
 - (i) during the period of 15 days ending on the due date for any payment of principal or interest in respect of the Registered Notes;
 - (ii) during the period of 15 days ending on any date on which Notes may be called for redemption by the Issuer at its option pursuant to Condition 10(b) (Redemption for tax reasons) or Condition 10(c) (Redemption at the option of the Issuer); and
 - (iii) after a Put Option Notice has been delivered in respect of the relevant Note(s) in accordance with Condition 10(e) (Redemption at the option of the Noteholders) or Condition 10(f) (Redemption for Triggering Event).

- (j) Regulations concerning transfers and registration: All transfers of Registered Notes and entries on the Register are subject to the detailed regulations concerning the transfer of Registered Notes scheduled to the Agency Agreement. The regulations may be changed by the Issuer with the prior written approval of the relevant Registrar. A copy of the current regulations will be mailed (free of charge) by the relevant Registrar to any Noteholder who requests in writing a copy of such regulations.

Notwithstanding anything contained in these Conditions, for so long as any of the Notes is represented by a Global Note or a Global Note Certificate held on behalf of Euroclear Bank SA/NV (“Euroclear”) and/or Clearstream Banking, S.A. (“Clearstream”) and/or The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”) and/or the CMU Service (as the case may be), each person (other than Euroclear or Clearstream, DTC or the CMU Service) who is for the time being shown in the records of Euroclear or of Clearstream or of DTC or of the CMU Service as the holder of a particular principal amount of such Notes (in which regard any certificate or other document issued by Euroclear or Clearstream or DTC or the CMU Service as to the principal amount of such Notes standing to the account of any person shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes save in the case of manifest error) shall be treated by the Issuer, the Paying Agents, the Registrars, the Exchange Agent and the Transfer Agents as the holder of such principal amount of such Notes for all purposes other than with respect to the payment of principal or interest on such principal amount of such Notes, for which purpose the bearer of the relevant Global Note or the registered holder of the relevant Global Note Certificate shall be treated by the Issuer, any Paying Agent, any Transfer Agent, any Registrar and the Exchange Agent as the holder of such principal amount of such Notes in accordance with and subject to the terms of the relevant Global Note or Global Note Certificate, and the expressions “Noteholder” and “holder of Notes” and related expressions shall be construed accordingly. Notes which are represented by a Global Note or a Global Note Certificate will be transferable only in accordance with the rules and procedures for the time being of Euroclear, Clearstream, DTC and the CMU Service as the case may be. References to Euroclear, Clearstream, DTC and/or the CMU Service shall, whenever the context so permits, be deemed to include a reference to any additional or alternative clearing system specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or as may otherwise be approved by the Issuer, the Trustee, the CMU Lodging Agent, as the case may be.

4. Status

The Notes and any related Receipts and Coupons constitute direct, general, unsecured, unconditional and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer which will at all times rank (i) equally without any preference among themselves; (ii) at least equally with all other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer, save for such obligations as may be preferred by provisions of law that are both mandatory and of general application; (iii) senior in right of payment to all of the Issuer’s existing and future indebtedness expressly subordinated in right of payment to the Notes; (iv) be effectively subordinated to all of the Issuer’s existing and future secured indebtedness, to the extent of the value of the assets serving as security therefor; and (v) be structurally subordinated to all existing and future indebtedness and other liabilities of the Issuer’s Controlled Entities.

5. Certain Covenants

(a) Negative Pledge

So long as any Note remains outstanding, the Issuer will not create or have outstanding, and the Issuer will ensure that none of its Material Controlled Entities will create or have outstanding, any Lien upon the whole or any part of their respective present or future undertaking, assets or revenues (including any uncalled capital) securing any Relevant Indebtedness, or any guarantee or indemnity in respect of any Relevant Indebtedness of either of the Issuer or any Material Controlled Entities, without (a) at the same time or prior thereto securing the Notes equally and rateably therewith to the satisfaction of the Trustee or (b) providing such other security for the Notes as the Trustee may in its absolute discretion consider to be not materially less beneficial to the interests of the Noteholders or as may be approved by an Extraordinary Resolution of Noteholders.

(b) Consolidation, Merger and Sale of Assets

The Issuer will not consolidate with or merge into any other Person in a transaction in which the Issuer is not the surviving entity, or sell, assign, convey, transfer, lease or otherwise dispose its properties and assets substantially as an entirety to any Person unless:

- (i) any Person formed by such consolidation or into which the Issuer is merged or to whom the Issuer has conveyed, transferred or leased its properties and assets substantially as an entirety is a corporation, partnership, trust or other entity validly existing under the laws of the jurisdiction of the Cayman Islands or Hong Kong and such Person expressly assumes by a supplemental documentation all the obligations of the Issuer under the Notes, including the obligations to pay Additional Amounts in respect of principal, premium and interest which may be payable under Condition 13 (Taxation) with respect to any jurisdiction in which it is organised or resident for tax purposes, subject to exclusions equivalent to those contained in Condition 13 (Taxation);
- (ii) immediately after giving effect to the transaction, no Event of Default, and no event which, after notice or lapse of time or both, would become an Event of Default, shall have occurred; and
- (iii) the Issuer has delivered to the Trustee an Officers' Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel, each stating that such consolidation, merger, conveyance, transfer or lease complies with the Conditions and that all conditions precedent therein provided for relating to such transaction have been complied with.

(c) Reports

- (i) So long as any Notes remain outstanding, the Issuer will file with the Trustee and furnish to the Noteholders upon request, as soon as they are available but in any event not more than 30 calendar days after they are filed with SEHK or, if the Issuer's common shares are no longer listed on the SEHK, any other recognised exchange on which the Issuer's common shares are at any time listed for trading, true and correct copies of any financial or other report in the English language filed with such exchange; provided that if at any time the common shares of the Issuer ceases to be listed for trading on a recognised stock exchange, the Issuer will file with the Trustee and furnish to the holders upon request:
 - (A) as soon as they are available, but in any event within 120 calendar days after the end of the fiscal year of the Issuer, copies of its financial statements (on a consolidated basis) in respect of such financial year (including a statement of income, balance sheet and cash flow statement and a year-to-year comparison to the prior year) audited by a member firm of an internationally recognised firm of independent accountants;
 - (B) as soon as they are available, but in any event within 90 calendar days after the end of the first semi-annual fiscal period of the Issuer, copies of its unaudited financial statements (on a consolidated basis) in respect of such semi-annual period (including a statement of income, balance sheet and cash flow statement and a period-to-period comparison to the first semi-annual fiscal period of the prior year) prepared on a basis consistent with the audited financial statements of the Issuer and reviewed by a member firm of an internationally recognised firm of independent accountants, together with a certificate signed by the person then authorised to sign financial statements on behalf of the Issuer to the effect that such financial statements are true in all material respects and present fairly the financial position of the Issuer as at the end of, and the results of its operations for, the relevant semi-annual period;

- (C) as soon as they are available, but in any event within 60 calendar days after the end of each of the first and third fiscal quarters of the Issuer, copies of the unaudited financial statements (on a consolidated basis) in respect of such fiscal quarter (including a statement of income, balance sheet and cash flow statement and a period-to-period comparison to the relevant fiscal quarter of the prior year) prepared on a basis consistent with the audited financial statements of the Issuer, together with a certificate signed by the person then authorised to sign financial statements on behalf of the Issuer to the effect that such financial statements are true in all material respects and present fairly the financial position of the Issuer as at the end of, and the results of its operations for, the relevant fiscal quarter; and
 - (D) as soon as possible and in any event within 14 calendar days after the Issuer becomes aware of the occurrence thereof, written notice of the occurrence of any event or condition which constitutes, or which, after notice or lapse of time or both, would become, an Event of Default and an Officers' Certificate of the Issuer setting forth the details thereof and the action the Issuer is taking or proposes to take with respect thereto.
- (ii) So long as any Notes representing Restricted Notes (as defined in the Trust Deed) remain outstanding and are “restricted securities” within the meaning of Rule 144(a)(3) of the Securities Act, the Issuer will furnish, upon the request of any holder of a beneficial interest in such Note, such information as is specified in paragraph (d)(4) of Rule 144A, to such holder or beneficial owner or to a prospective purchaser of the Note or interest therein who is a qualified institutional buyer within the meaning of Rule 144A, to the extent required to permit compliance by such holder or beneficial owner with Rule 144A in connection with the resale of the Note or beneficial interest therein in reliance on Rule 144A unless, at the time of such request, the Issuer is subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or is exempt from the registration requirements of Section 12(g) of the Exchange Act pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) under the Exchange Act.

6. Fixed Rate Note Provisions

- (a) Application: This Condition 6 is applicable to the Notes only if the Fixed Rate Note Provisions are specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being applicable.
- (b) Accrual of interest: The Notes bear interest from the Interest Commencement Date at the Rate of Interest payable in arrears on each Interest Payment Date, subject as provided in Conditions 11 (Payments — Bearer Notes) and 12 (Payments — Registered Notes). Each Note will cease to bear interest from the due date for final redemption unless, upon due presentation, payment of the Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused, in which case it will continue to bear interest in accordance with this Condition 6 (as well after as before judgment) until whichever is the earlier of (i) the day on which all sums due in respect of such Note up to that day are received by or on behalf of the relevant Noteholder and (ii) the day which is seven days after the Principal Paying Agent or the Trustee has notified the Noteholders of receipt of all sums due in respect of the Notes up to such seventh day (except to the extent that there is any subsequent default in payment).
- (c) Fixed Coupon Amount: The amount of interest payable in respect of each Note for any Interest Period shall be the relevant Fixed Coupon Amount and, if the Notes are in more than one Specified Denomination, shall be the relevant Fixed Coupon Amount in respect of the relevant Specified Denomination.
- (d) Calculation of interest amount: The amount of interest payable in respect of each Note for any period for which a Fixed Coupon Amount is not specified shall be calculated by applying the Rate of Interest to the Calculation Amount, multiplying the product by the relevant Day Count Fraction, rounding the resulting figure to the nearest sub-unit of the Specified Currency (half a sub-unit being rounded upwards) and multiplying such rounded figure by a fraction equal to the Specified Denomination of such Note divided by the Calculation Amount. For this purpose a “sub-unit” means, in the case of any currency other than euro, the lowest amount of such currency that is available as legal tender in the country of such currency and, in the case of euro, means one cent.

7. Floating Rate Note and Index-Linked Interest Note Provisions

- (a) Application: This Condition 7 is applicable to the Notes only if the Floating Rate Note Provisions or the Index-Linked Interest Note Provisions are specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being applicable.
- (b) Accrual of interest: The Notes bear interest from the Interest Commencement Date at the Rate of Interest payable in arrears on each Interest Payment Date, subject as provided in Conditions 11 (Payments — Bearer Notes) and 12 (Payments — Registered Notes). Each Note will cease to bear interest from the due date for final redemption unless, upon due presentation, payment of the Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused, in which case it will continue to bear interest in accordance with this Condition (as well after as before judgment) until whichever is the earlier of (i) the day on which all sums due in respect of such Note up to that day are received by or on behalf of the relevant Noteholder and (ii) the day which is seven days after the Principal Paying Agent or the Trustee has notified the Noteholders of receipt of all sums due in respect of the Notes up to such seventh day (except to the extent that there is any subsequent default in payment).
- (c) Screen Rate Determination: If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate(s) of Interest is/are to be determined, the Rate of Interest applicable to the Notes for each Interest Period will be determined by the Calculation Agent on the following basis:
- (i) if the Reference Rate is a composite quotation or customarily supplied by one entity, the Calculation Agent will determine the Reference Rate which appears on the Relevant Screen Page as of the Relevant Time on the relevant Interest Determination Date;
- (ii) if Linear Interpolation is specified as applicable in respect of an Interest Period in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be calculated by the Calculation Agent by straight-line linear interpolation by reference to two rates which appear on the Relevant Screen Page as of the Relevant Time on the relevant Interest Determination Date, where:
- (A) one rate shall be determined as if the Relevant Period were the period of time for which rates are available next shorter than the length of the relevant Interest Period; and
- (B) the other rate shall be determined as if the Relevant Period were the period of time for which rates are available next longer than the length of the relevant Interest Period;
- provided, however, that if no rate is available for a period of time next shorter or, as the case may be, next longer than the length of the relevant Interest Period, then the Calculation Agent shall determine such rate at such time and by reference to such sources as it determines appropriate;
- (iii) in any other case, the Calculation Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of the Reference Rates which appear on the Relevant Screen Page as of the Relevant Time on the relevant Interest Determination Date;

(iv) if, in the case of (i) above, such rate does not appear on that page or, in the case of (ii) above, fewer than two such rates appear on that page or if, in either case, the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, the Calculation Agent will:

(A) request the principal Relevant Financial Centre office of each of the Reference Banks to provide a quotation of the Reference Rate at approximately the Relevant Time on the Interest Determination Date to prime banks in the Relevant Financial Centre interbank market in an amount that is representative for a single transaction in that market at that time; and

(B) determine the arithmetic mean of such quotations; and

(v) if fewer than two such quotations are provided as requested, the Calculation Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of the rates (being the nearest to the Reference Rate, as determined by the Calculation Agent) quoted by major banks in the Principal Financial Centre of the Specified Currency, selected by the Issuer, at approximately 11.00 a.m. (local time in the Principal Financial Centre of the Specified Currency) on the first day of the relevant Interest Period for loans in the Specified Currency for a period equal to the relevant Interest Period and in an amount that is representative for a single transaction in that market at that time, and the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be the sum of the Margin and the rate or (as the case may be) the arithmetic mean so determined; provided, however, that if the Calculation Agent is unable to determine a rate or (as the case may be) an arithmetic mean in accordance with the above provisions in relation to any Interest Period, the Rate of Interest applicable to the Notes during such Interest Period will be the sum of the Margin and the rate or (as the case may be) the arithmetic mean last determined in relation to the Notes in respect of a preceding Interest Period.

(vi) notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Reference Rate from time to time in respect of Floating Rate Notes is specified hereon as CNH HIBOR:

(A) the Rate of Interest for each Interest Period will, subject as provided below, be either:

(1) the offered quotation; or

(2) the arithmetic mean of the offered quotations,

(expressed as a percentage rate per annum) for the Reference Rate which appears on the Relevant Screen Page as at 11.15 a.m. (Hong Kong time) or if, at or around that time it is notified that the fixing will be published at 2.30 p.m. (Hong Kong time), then 2.30 p.m. (Hong Kong time) on the Interest Determination Date in question as determined by the Calculation Agent.

(B) and the Relevant Screen Page is not available or, if sub-paragraph (v)(A)(1) above applies and no such offered quotation appears on the Relevant Screen Page, or, if subparagraph (v)(A)(2) above applies and fewer than three such offered quotations appear on the Relevant Screen Page, in each case as at the time specified above, subject as provided below, the Calculation Agent shall request the principal Hong Kong office of each of the Reference Banks to provide the Calculation Agent with its offered quotation (expressed as a percentage rate per annum) for the Reference Rate at approximately 11.15 a.m. (Hong Kong time) on the Interest Determination Date in question. If two or more of the Reference Banks provide the Calculation Agent with such offered quotations, the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be the arithmetic mean of such offered quotations as determined by the Calculation Agent. If all four Reference Banks provide the Calculation Agent with such offered quotations, the highest (or, if there is more than one such highest quotation, one only of such quotations) and the lowest (or, if there is more than one such lowest quotation, one only of such quotations) shall be disregarded by the Calculation Agent for the purpose of determining the arithmetic mean of such offered quotations;

- (C) if subparagraph (v)(B) above applies and the Calculation Agent determines that fewer than two Reference Banks are providing offered quotations, subject as provided below, the Rate of Interest shall be the arithmetic mean of the rates per annum (expressed as a percentage) as communicated to (and at the request of) the Calculation Agent by the Reference Banks or any two or more of them, at which such banks were offered at approximately 11.15 a.m. (Hong Kong time) on the relevant Interest Determination Date, deposits in CNH for a period equal to that which would have been used for the Reference Rate by leading banks in the Hong Kong inter-bank market. If fewer than two of the Reference Banks provide the Calculation Agent with such offered rates, the Rate of Interest shall be (i) the offered rate for deposits in CNH for a period equal to that which would have been used for the Reference Rate by a bank, or (ii) the arithmetic mean of the offered rates for deposits in CNH for a period equal to that which would have been used for the Reference Rate by two or more banks, in each case as informed to the Calculation Agent by such bank or banks (which shall be such bank or banks being in the opinion of the Issuer suitable for such purpose) as being quoted by each such bank at approximately 11.15 a.m. (Hong Kong time) on the relevant Interest Determination Date to leading banks in the Hong Kong inter-bank market, provided that, if the Rate of Interest cannot be determined in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, the Rate of Interest shall be determined as at the last preceding Interest Determination Date (though substituting, where a different Margin or Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest is to be applied to the relevant Interest Period from that which applied to the last preceding Interest Period, the Margin or Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest relating to the relevant Interest Period, in place of the Margin or Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest relating to that last preceding Interest Period); and

- (D) in no event shall the Rate of Interest be less than zero per cent. per annum.

If the Reference Rate from time to time in respect of Floating Rate Notes is specified hereon as being other than CNH HIBOR, the Rate of Interest in respect of such Notes will be determined as provided hereon.

- (d) ISDA Determination: If ISDA Determination is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate(s) of Interest is/are to be determined, the Rate of Interest applicable to the Notes for each Interest Period will be the sum of the Margin and the relevant ISDA Rate where “ISDA Rate” in relation to any Interest Period means a rate equal to the Floating Rate (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) that would be determined by the Calculation Agent under an interest rate swap transaction if the Calculation Agent were acting as Calculation Agent for that interest rate swap transaction under the terms of an agreement incorporating the ISDA Definitions and under which:
- (i) the Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement;
 - (ii) the Designated Maturity (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is a period specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement;
 - (iii) the relevant Reset Date (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is either (A) if the relevant Floating Rate Option is based on (x) the London inter-bank offered rate (LIBOR), (y) the Eurozone inter-bank offered rate (EURIBOR) or (z) the Hong Kong inter-bank offered rate (HIBOR) for a currency, the first day of that Interest Period or (B) in any other case, as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; and

- (iv) if Linear Interpolation is specified as applicable in respect of an Interest Period in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be calculated by the Calculation Agent by straight-line linear interpolation by reference to two rates based on the relevant Floating Rate Option, where:
- (A) one rate shall be determined as if the Designated Maturity were the period of time for which rates are available next shorter than the length of the relevant Interest Period; and
 - (B) the other rate shall be determined as if the Designated Maturity were the period of time for which rates are available next longer than the length of the relevant Interest Period
- provided, however, that if there is no rate available for a period of time next shorter than the length of the relevant Interest Period or, as the case may be, next longer than the length of the relevant Interest Period, then the Calculation Agent shall determine such rate at such time and by reference to such sources as it determines appropriate.
- (e) Index-Linked Interest: If the Index-Linked Interest Note Provisions are specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the Rate(s) of Interest applicable to the Notes for each Interest Period will be determined in the manner specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.
- (f) Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest: If any Maximum Rate of Interest or Minimum Rate of Interest is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, then the Rate of Interest shall in no event be greater than the maximum or be less than the minimum so specified.
- (g) Calculation of Interest Amount: The Calculation Agent will, as soon as practicable after the time at which the Rate of Interest is to be determined in relation to each Interest Period, calculate the Interest Amount payable in respect of each Note for such Interest Period. The Interest Amount will be calculated by applying the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period to the Calculation Amount, multiplying the product by the relevant Day Count Fraction, rounding the resulting figure to the nearest sub-unit of the Specified Currency (half a sub-unit being rounded upwards) and multiplying such rounded figure by a fraction equal to the Specified Denomination of the relevant Note divided by the Calculation Amount. For this purpose a “sub-unit” means, in the case of any currency other than euro, the lowest amount of such currency that is available as legal tender in the country of such currency and, in the case of euro, means one cent.
- (h) Calculation of other amounts: If the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies that any other amount is to be calculated by the Calculation Agent, the Calculation Agent will, as soon as practicable after the time or times at which any such amount is to be determined, calculate the relevant amount. The relevant amount will be calculated by the Calculation Agent in the manner specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.
- (i) Publication: The Calculation Agent will cause each Rate of Interest and Interest Amount determined by it, together with the relevant Interest Payment Date, and any other amount(s) required to be determined by it together with any relevant payment date(s) to be notified to the Trustee and Paying Agents and each competent authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system (if any) by which the Notes have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation as soon as practicable after such determination but (in the case of each Rate of Interest, Interest Amount and Interest Payment Date) in any event not later than the first day of the relevant Interest Period. Notice thereof shall also promptly be given to the Noteholders. The Calculation Agent will be entitled to recalculate any Interest Amount (on the basis of the foregoing provisions) without notice in the event of an extension or shortening of the relevant Interest Period, unless the Trustee otherwise requires. If the Calculation Amount is less than the minimum Specified Denomination the Calculation Agent shall not be obliged to publish each Interest Amount but instead may publish only the Calculation Amount and the Interest Amount in respect of a Note having the minimum Specified Denomination.

- (j) Notifications etc.: All notifications, opinions, determinations, certificates, calculations, quotations and decisions given, expressed, made or obtained for the purposes of this Condition by the Calculation Agent will (in the absence of manifest error) be binding on the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agents, the Noteholders and the Couponholders and (subject as aforesaid) no liability to any such Person will attach to the Calculation Agent in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by it of its powers, duties and discretions for such purposes.

8. Zero Coupon Note Provisions

- (a) Application: This Condition 8 is applicable to the Notes only if the Zero Coupon Note Provisions are specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being applicable.
- (b) Late payment on Zero Coupon Notes: If the Redemption Amount payable in respect of any Zero Coupon Note is improperly withheld or refused, the Redemption Amount shall thereafter be an amount equal to the sum of:
- (i) the Reference Price; and
 - (ii) the product of the Accrual Yield (compounded annually) being applied to the Reference Price on the basis of the relevant Day Count Fraction from (and including) the Issue Date to (but excluding) whichever is the earlier of (A) the day on which all sums due in respect of such Note up to that day are received by or on behalf of the relevant Noteholder and (B) the day which is seven days after the Principal Paying Agent or the Trustee has notified the Noteholders of receipt of all sums due in respect of the Notes up to such seventh day (except to the extent that there is any subsequent default in payment).

9. Dual Currency Note Provisions

- (a) Application: This Condition 9 is applicable to the Notes only if the Dual Currency Note Provisions are specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being applicable.
- (b) Rate of Interest: If the rate or amount of interest falls to be determined by reference to an exchange rate, the rate or amount of interest payable shall be determined in the manner specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

10. Redemption and Purchase

- (a) Scheduled redemption: Unless previously redeemed, or purchased and cancelled, each Note will be redeemed at its Final Redemption Amount on the Maturity Date, subject as provided in Conditions 11 (Payments — Bearer Notes) and 12 (Payments — Registered Notes).
- (b) Redemption for tax reasons: the Notes may be redeemed at the option of the Issuer in whole, but not in part:
- (i) at any time (if neither the Floating Rate Note Provisions or the Index-Linked Interest Note Provisions are specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being applicable); or
 - (ii) on any Interest Payment Date (if the Floating Rate Note Provisions or the Index-Linked Interest Note Provisions are specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being applicable), on giving not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Noteholders (which notice shall be irrevocable), at their Early Redemption Amount (Tax), together with interest accrued (if any) to the date fixed for redemption, if, before giving such notice, the Issuer (or a successor) satisfies the Trustee that:

(A) the Issuer or a successor has or will become obliged to pay Additional Amounts as provided or referred to in Condition 13 (Taxation) as a result of any change in, or amendment to, the laws or regulations of the Cayman Islands, the PRC or other jurisdiction of incorporation or tax residence or any political subdivision or any authority thereof or therein having power to tax, or any change in the application or official interpretation of, or the stating of an official position with respect to, such laws or regulations (including a holding by a court of competent jurisdiction), which change or amendment becomes effective or interpretation or position is announced on or after the date of issuance of the Tranche of the Notes being redeemed, or in the case that the taxing jurisdiction is other than the Cayman Islands or the PRC on or after the date that the relevant jurisdiction's taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges became subject to the provisions of Condition 13 (Taxation) pursuant to condition 13(c); and provided, however, that no such notice of redemption shall be given earlier than:

(1) where the Notes may be redeemed at any time, 90 days prior to the earliest date on which the Issuer would be obliged to pay such Additional Amounts if a payment in respect of the Notes were then due; or

(2) where the Notes may be redeemed only on an Interest Payment Date, 60 days prior to the Interest Payment Date occurring immediately before the earliest date on which the Issuer would be obliged to pay such Additional Amounts if a payment in respect of the Notes were then due.

Prior to the publication of any notice of redemption pursuant to this paragraph, the Issuer shall procure that there is delivered to the Trustee (A) an Officers' Certificate stating that the Issuer is entitled to effect such redemption and setting forth a statement of facts showing that the conditions precedent to the right of the Issuer so to redeem have occurred, and (B) an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that the Issuer has or will become obliged to pay such Additional Amounts as a result of such change or amendment.

The Trustee shall be entitled without further enquiry to accept and rely upon such Officers' Certificate and Opinion of Counsel as sufficient evidence of the satisfaction of the circumstances set out above, in which event they shall be conclusive and binding on the holders of the Notes, Receipts and Coupons.

(c) Redemption at the option of the Issuer: If the Call Option is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the Notes may be redeemed at the option of the Issuer in whole or, if so specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, in part on any Optional Redemption Date (Call) at the relevant Optional Redemption Amount (Call) on the Issuer's giving not less than 10 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Noteholders (which notice shall oblige the Issuer to redeem the Notes or, as the case may be, the Notes specified in such notice, on the relevant Optional Redemption Date (Call) at the Optional Redemption Amount (Call) plus accrued interest (if any) to such date). Any redemption or a notice of any redemption at the option of the Issuer may, at the Issuer's discretion, be subject to one or more conditions precedent, including, but not limited to, completion of an equity offering, a financing, or other corporate transaction. In addition, if such redemption or notice is subject to satisfaction of one or more conditions precedent, such notice shall state that, in the Issuer's discretion, the redemption date may be delayed until such time as any or all such conditions shall be satisfied (or waived by the Issuer in its sole discretion), or such redemption may not occur and such notice may be rescinded in the event that any or all such conditions shall not have been satisfied (or waived by the Issuer in its sole discretion) by the redemption date, or by the redemption date so delayed.

- (d) Partial redemption: If the Notes are to be redeemed in part only on any date in accordance with Condition 10(c) (Redemption at the option of the Issuer), in the case of Bearer Notes, the Notes to be redeemed shall be selected by the drawing of lots in such place as the Trustee approves and in such manner as the Trustee considers appropriate, subject to compliance with applicable law, the rules of each competent authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system (if any) by which the Notes have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation and the notice to Noteholders referred to in Condition 10(c) (Redemption at the option of the Issuer) shall specify the serial numbers of the Notes so to be redeemed, and, in the case of Registered Notes, each Note shall be redeemed in part in the proportion which the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes to be redeemed on the relevant Optional Redemption Date (Call) bears to the aggregate principal amount of outstanding Notes on such date. If any Maximum Redemption Amount or Minimum Redemption Amount is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, then the Optional Redemption Amount (Call) shall in no event be greater than the maximum or be less than the minimum so specified.
- (e) Redemption at the option of the Noteholders: If the Put Option is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the Issuer shall, at the option of the Holder of any Note redeem such Note on the Optional Redemption Date (Put) specified in the relevant Put Option Notice at the relevant Optional Redemption Amount (Put) together with interest (if any) accrued to such date. In order to exercise the option contained in this Condition 10(e), the Holder of a Note must, not less than 30 nor more than 60 days before the relevant Optional Redemption Date (Put), deposit with any Paying Agent such Note together with all unmatured Coupons relating thereto and a duly completed Put Option Notice in the form obtainable from any Paying Agent. The Paying Agent with which a Note is so deposited shall deliver a duly completed Put Option Receipt to the depositing Noteholder. No Note, once deposited with a duly completed Put Option Notice in accordance with this Condition 10(e), may be withdrawn; provided, however, that if, prior to the relevant Optional Redemption Date (Put), any such Note becomes immediately due and payable or, upon due presentation of any such Note on the relevant Optional Redemption Date (Put), payment of the redemption moneys is improperly withheld or refused, the relevant Paying Agent shall mail notification thereof to the depositing Noteholder at such address as may have been given by such Noteholder in the relevant Put Option Notice and shall hold such Note at its Specified Office for collection by the depositing Noteholder against surrender of the relevant Put Option Receipt. For so long as any outstanding Note is held by a Paying Agent in accordance with this Condition 10(e), the depositor of such Note and not such Paying Agent shall be deemed to be the Holder of such Note for all purposes. For as long as Bearer Notes issued under TEFRA D are represented by a temporary Global Note, a holder's Put Option will be available only to the extent that the certifications required under TEFRA D with respect to non-U.S. beneficial ownership has been received by the Issuer or Agent.
- (f) Redemption for Triggering Event: If a Triggering Event occurs, unless the Issuer has exercised its right to redeem the Notes under Condition 10 (Redemption for tax reasons) or Condition 10(c) (Redemption at the option of the Issuer), it will be required to make an offer to repurchase all or, at the Noteholder's option, any part, of each Noteholder's Notes pursuant to the offer described below (the "Triggering Event Offer") on the terms set forth in the Trust Deed and the Notes. In the Triggering Event Offer, the Issuer will be required to offer payment in cash equal to the Early Redemption Amount (Triggering Event) plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, on the Notes repurchased to, but not including, the date of purchase (the "Triggering Event Payment").

Within 30 days following any Triggering Event, the Issuer shall give notice to Noteholders, the Trustee and the Principal Paying Agent in accordance with Condition 22 (Notices), which notice shall describe the transaction or transactions that constitute the Triggering Event and set forth an offer to repurchase the Notes on the date specified in the notice, which date will be no earlier than 30 days and no later than 60 days from the date such notice is given (the “Triggering Event Put Date”), pursuant to the procedures required by the Notes and described in such notice.

To exercise such right, the holder of the relevant Note must deposit at the Specified Office of any Paying Agent a duly completed and signed notice of redemption, in the form for the time being current, obtainable from the Specified Office of any Paying Agent (a “Triggering Event Put Exercise Notice”), together with the Note Certificates evidencing the Notes to be redeemed. A Triggering Event Put Exercise Notice, once delivered, shall be irrevocable.

On the Triggering Event Put Date, the Issuer shall be required, to the extent lawful, to:

- (i) accept for payment all Notes or portions of Notes properly tendered pursuant to the Triggering Event Offer;
- (ii) deposit with the Principal Paying Agent an amount equal to the Triggering Event Payment in respect of all Notes or portions of Notes properly tendered; and
- (iii) deliver or cause to be delivered to the Trustee the Notes properly accepted together with an Officers’ Certificate stating the aggregate principal amount of Notes or portions of Notes being purchased by the Issuer.

In this Condition 10(f) (Redemption for Triggering Event):

“Triggering Event” means (i) any change in or amendment to the laws, regulations and rules of the PRC or the interpretation or application thereof (“Change in Law”) that results in (A) the Group (as in existence immediately subsequent to such Change in Law), as a whole, being legally prohibited from operating substantially all of the business operations conducted by the Group (as in existence immediately prior to such Change in Law) as of the last date of the period described in the consolidated financial statements of the Issuer for the most recent fiscal quarter and (B) the Issuer being unable to continue to derive substantially all of the economic benefits from the business operations conducted by the Group (as in existence immediately prior to such Change in Law) in the same manner as reflected in the consolidated financial statements of the Issuer for the most recent fiscal quarter; and (ii) the Issuer has not furnished to the Trustee, prior to the date that is twelve months after the date of the Change in Law, an Opinion of Counsel or an opinion from an Independent Financial Advisor stating either (A) the Issuer is able to continue to derive substantially all of the economic benefits from the business operations conducted by the Group (as in existence immediately prior to such Change in Law), taken as a whole, as reflected in the consolidated financial statements of the Issuer for the most recent fiscal quarter (including after giving effect to any corporate restructuring or reorganisation plan of the Issuer) or (B) such Change in Law would not materially adversely affect the Issuer’s ability to make principal, premium (if any) and interest payments on the Notes when due; and “Independent Financial Advisor” means an accounting, appraisal, investment banking firm or consultant of nationally recognised standing that is acceptable to the Trustee;

- (g) Early redemption of Zero Coupon Notes: Unless otherwise specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Redemption Amount payable on redemption of a Zero Coupon Note at any time before the Maturity Date shall be an amount equal to the sum of:
 - (i) the Reference Price; and

- (ii) the product of the Accrual Yield (compounded annually) being applied to the Reference Price from (and including) the Issue Date to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption or (as the case may be) the date upon which the Note becomes due and payable.

Where such calculation is to be made for a period which is not a whole number of years, the calculation in respect of the period of less than a full year shall be made on the basis of such Day Count Fraction as may be specified in the Pricing Supplement for the purposes of this Condition 10(g) or, if none is so specified, a Day Count Fraction of 30E/360.

- (h) Purchase: The Issuer or any of its Controlled Entities may at any time purchase Notes in the open market or otherwise and at any price, provided that all unmatured Coupons are purchased therewith.
- (i) Cancellation: All Notes so redeemed or purchased by the Issuer or any of its Controlled Entities and any unmatured Coupons attached to or surrendered with them shall be cancelled and may not be reissued or resold.

11. Payments — Bearer Notes

This Condition 11 is only applicable to Bearer Notes.

- (a) Principal: Payments of principal and premium shall be made only against presentation and (provided that payment is made in full) surrender of Bearer Notes at the Specified Office of any Paying Agent outside the United States (i) in the case of a currency other than Renminbi, by cheque drawn in the currency in which the payment is due on, or by transfer to an account denominated in that currency (or, if that currency is euro, any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) and maintained by the payee with, a bank in the Principal Financial Centre of that currency, and (ii) in the case of Renminbi, by transfer to an account denominated in that currency and maintained by the payee with a bank in the Principal Financial Centre of that currency.
- (b) Interest: Payments of interest shall, subject to paragraph (h) below, be made only against presentation and (provided that payment is made in full) surrender of the appropriate Coupons at the Specified Office of any Paying Agent outside the United States in the manner described in paragraph (a) above.

Payments of principal, premium and interest in respect of Bearer Notes held in the CMU Service will be made to the person(s) for whose account(s) interests in the relevant Bearer Note are credited as being held with the CMU Service in accordance with the CMU Rules (as defined in the Agency Agreement) at the relevant time as notified to the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent by the CMU Service in a relevant CMU Instrument Position Report (as defined in the Agency Agreement) or any other relevant notification by the CMU Service, which notification shall be conclusive evidence of the records of the CMU Service (save in the case of manifest or proven error) and payment made in accordance thereof shall discharge the obligations of the Issuer in respect of that payment.

- (c) Payments in New York City: Payments of principal, interest or premium may be made at the Specified Office of a Paying Agent in New York City if (i) the Issuer has appointed Paying Agents outside the United States with the reasonable expectation that such Paying Agents will be able to make payment of the full amount of the principal, premium and interest on the Notes in U.S. dollars when due, (ii) payment of the full amount of such principal, premium and interest at the offices of all such Paying Agents is illegal or effectively precluded by exchange controls or other similar restrictions and (iii) payment is permitted by applicable United States law.
- (d) Payments subject to fiscal laws: All payments in respect of the Bearer Notes are subject in all cases to (i) any applicable fiscal or other laws and regulations in the place of payment, but (except as described in (ii) below) subject to the provisions of Condition 13 (Taxation), and (ii) any withholding or deduction required pursuant to an agreement described in Section 1471(b) of the US Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”) or otherwise imposed pursuant to Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, any regulations or agreements thereunder, any official interpretations thereof, any intergovernmental agreement with respect thereto, or any law implementing an intergovernmental approach thereto. No commissions or expenses shall be charged to the Noteholders or Couponholders in respect of such payments.

- (e) Deductions for unmatured Coupons: If the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies that the Fixed Rate Note Provisions are applicable and a Bearer Note is presented without all unmatured Coupons relating thereto:
- (i) if the aggregate amount of the missing Coupons is less than or equal to the amount of principal due for payment, a sum equal to the aggregate amount of the missing Coupons will be deducted from the amount of principal due for payment; provided, however, that if the gross amount available for payment is less than the amount of principal due for payment, the sum deducted will be that proportion of the aggregate amount of such missing Coupons which the gross amount actually available for payment bears to the amount of principal due for payment;
 - (ii) if the aggregate amount of the missing Coupons is greater than the amount of principal due for payment:
 - (A) so many of such missing Coupons shall become void (in inverse order of maturity) as will result in the aggregate amount of the remainder of such missing Coupons (the “Relevant Coupons”) being equal to the amount of principal due for payment; provided, however, that where this sub-paragraph would otherwise require a fraction of a missing Coupon to become void, such missing Coupon shall become void in its entirety; and
 - (B) a sum equal to the aggregate amount of the Relevant Coupons (or, if less, the amount of principal due for payment) will be deducted from the amount of principal due for payment; provided, however, that, if the gross amount available for payment is less than the amount of principal due for payment, the sum deducted will be that proportion of the aggregate amount of the Relevant Coupons (or, as the case may be, the amount of principal due for payment) which the gross amount actually available for payment bears to the amount of principal due for payment.

Each sum of principal so deducted shall be paid in the manner provided in paragraph (a) above against presentation and (provided that payment is made in full) surrender of the relevant missing Coupons.

- (f) Unmatured Coupons void: If the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies that this Condition 11(f) is applicable or that the Floating Rate Note Provisions or the Index-Linked Interest Note Provisions are applicable, on the due date for final redemption of any Note or early redemption in whole of such Note pursuant to Condition 10(b) (Redemption and Purchase — Redemption for tax reasons), Condition 10(c) (Redemption and Purchase — Redemption at the option of the Issuer), Condition 10(e) (Redemption and Purchase — Redemption at the option of the Noteholders), Condition 10(f) (Redemption and Purchase — Redemption for Triggering Event) or Condition 14 (Events of Default), all unmatured Coupons relating thereto (whether or not still attached) shall become void and no payment will be made in respect thereof.
- (g) Payments on business days: If the due date for payment of any amount in respect of any Bearer Note or Coupon is not a Payment Business Day in the place of presentation, the Holder shall not be entitled to payment in such place of the amount due until the next succeeding Payment Business Day in such place and shall not be entitled to any further interest or other payment in respect of any such delay.

- (h) Payments other than in respect of matured Coupons: Payments of interest other than in respect of matured Coupons shall be made only against presentation of the relevant Bearer Notes at the Specified Office of any Paying Agent outside the United States (or in New York City if permitted by paragraph (c) above).
- (i) Partial payments: If a Paying Agent makes a partial payment in respect of any Bearer Note or Coupon presented to it for payment, such Paying Agent will endorse thereon a statement indicating the amount and date of such payment.
- (j) Exchange of Talons: On or after the maturity date of the final Coupon which is (or was at the time of issue) part of a Coupon Sheet relating to the Bearer Notes, the Talon forming part of such Coupon Sheet may be exchanged at the Specified Office of the Principal Paying Agent for a further Coupon Sheet (including, if appropriate, a further Talon but excluding any Coupons in respect of which claims have already become void pursuant to Condition 16 (Prescription)). Upon the due date for redemption of any Bearer Note, any unexchanged Talon relating to such Note shall become void and no Coupon will be delivered in respect of such Talon.

12. Payments — Registered Notes

This Condition 12 is only applicable to Registered Notes.

- (a) Principal: Payments of principal and premium shall be made (i) in the case of a currency other than Renminbi, by cheque drawn in the currency in which the payment is due drawn on, or, upon application by a Holder of a Registered Note to the Specified Office of the Principal Paying Agent not later than the fifteenth day before the due date for any such payment, by transfer to an account denominated in that currency (or, if that currency is euro, any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) and maintained by the payee with, a bank in the Principal Financial Centre of that currency (in the case of a sterling cheque, a town clearing branch of a bank in the City of London), and (ii) in the case of Renminbi, by transfer to an account denominated in that currency and maintained by the payee with a bank in Hong Kong, and (in the case of redemption) upon surrender (or, in the case of part payment only, endorsement) of the relevant Note Certificates at the Specified Office of any Paying Agent.
- (b) Interest: Payments of interest shall be made (i) in the case of a currency other than Renminbi, by cheque drawn in the currency in which the payment is due drawn on, or, upon application by a Holder of a Registered Note to the Specified Office of the Principal Paying Agent not later than the fifteenth day before the due date for any such payment, by transfer to an account denominated in that currency (or, if that currency is euro, any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) and maintained by the payee with, a bank in the Principal Financial Centre of that currency (in the case of a sterling cheque, a town clearing branch of a bank in the City of London), and (ii) in the case of Renminbi, by transfer to an account denominated in that currency and maintained by the payee with a bank in Hong Kong, and (in the case of interest payable on redemption) upon surrender (or, in the case of part payment only, endorsement) of the relevant Note Certificates at the Specified Office of any Paying Agent.

Payments of principal, premium and interest in respect of Registered Notes held in the CMU Service will be made to the person(s) for whose account(s) interests in the relevant Registered Note are credited as being held with the CMU Service in accordance with the CMU Rules (as defined in the Agency Agreement) at the relevant time as notified to the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent by the CMU Service in a relevant CMU Instrument Position Report (as defined in the Agency Agreement) or any other relevant notification by the CMU Service, which notification shall be conclusive evidence of the records of the CMU Service (save in the case of manifest or proven error) and payment made in accordance thereof shall discharge the obligations of the Issuer in respect of that payment.

- (c) Payments subject to fiscal laws: All payments in respect of the Registered Notes are subject in all cases to (i) any applicable fiscal or other laws and regulations in the place of payment, but (except as described in (ii) below) subject to the provisions of Condition 13 (Taxation), and (ii) any withholding or deduction required pursuant to an agreement described in Section 1471(b) of the Code or otherwise imposed pursuant to Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, any regulations or agreements thereunder, any official interpretations thereof, any intergovernmental agreement with respect thereto or any law implementing an intergovernmental approach thereto. No commissions or expenses shall be charged to the Noteholders in respect of such payments.
- (d) Payments on business days: Where payment is to be made by transfer to an account, payment instructions (for value the due date, or, if the due date is not Payment Business Day, for value the next succeeding Payment Business Day) will be initiated and, where payment is to be made by cheque, the cheque will be mailed (i) (in the case of payments of principal, premium and interest payable on redemption) on the later of the due date for payment and the day on which the relevant Note Certificate is surrendered (or, in the case of part payment only, endorsed) at the Specified Office of a Paying Agent and (ii) (in the case of payments of interest payable other than on redemption) on the due date for payment. A Holder of a Registered Note shall not be entitled to any interest or other payment in respect of any delay in payment resulting from (A) the due date for a payment not being a Payment Business Day or (B) a cheque mailed in accordance with this Condition 12 arriving after the due date for payment or being lost in the mail.
- (e) Partial payments: If a Paying Agent makes a partial payment in respect of any Registered Note, the Issuer shall procure that the amount and date of such payment are noted on the Register and, in the case of partial payment upon presentation of a Note Certificate, that a statement indicating the amount and the date of such payment is endorsed on the relevant Note Certificate.
- (f) Record date: Each payment in respect of a Registered Note will be made to the person shown as the Holder in the Register at the opening of business in the place of the relevant Registrar's Specified Office on the fifth (in the case of Renminbi) and fifteenth (in the case of a currency other than Renminbi) day before the due date for such payment (the "Record Date"). Where payment in respect of a Registered Note is to be made by cheque, the cheque will be mailed to the address shown as the address of the Holder in the Register at the opening of business on the relevant Record Date.

13. Taxation

- (a) All payments of principal, premium and interest in respect of the Notes and the Coupons by or on behalf of the Issuer shall be made free and clear of, and without withholding or deduction for or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature imposed, levied, collected, withheld or assessed by or on behalf of the Cayman Islands, the PRC or any political subdivision therein or any authority therein or thereof having power to tax, unless the withholding or deduction of such taxes, duties, assessments, or governmental charges is required by law. In that event, the Issuer shall pay such additional amounts ("Additional Amounts") as will result in receipt by the Holders and the Couponholders after such withholding or deduction of such amounts as would have been received by them had no such withholding or deduction been required, except that no such Additional Amounts shall be payable in respect of any Note or Coupon:
 - (i) held by or on behalf of a Holder which is liable to such taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges in respect of such Note or Coupon by reason of it or a beneficial owner having or having had some connection with the jurisdiction by which such taxes, duties, assessments or charges have been imposed, levied, collected, withheld or assessed other than the mere holding of the Note or Coupon; or
 - (ii) held by or on behalf of a Holder who would have been able to avoid such withholding or deduction by presenting the relevant Note or Coupon (where presentation is required) to another Paying Agent; or

- (iii) where the relevant Note or Coupon or Note Certificate is presented (where presentation is required) or surrendered for payment more than 30 days after the Relevant Date except to the extent that the Holder of such Note or Coupon would have been entitled to such Additional Amounts on presenting or surrendering such Note or Coupon or Note Certificate for payment on the last day of such period of 30 days; or
 - (iv) where the tax, duty, assessment or governmental charge would not have been imposed but for the failure by the Holder of such Note or Coupon or the beneficial owner thereof to comply with any request of the Issuer, addressed to the Holder, to provide certification or information concerning the nationality, residence or identity of the Holder or beneficial owner of the Note, to the extent such certification or information is required under the laws of the relevant taxing jurisdiction in order to reduce or eliminate the deduction or withholding.
- (b) Nor will any Additional Amounts be paid with respect to any tax, duty, assessment or governmental charge (i) required to be withheld or deducted by sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code (“FATCA”), any current or future U.S. Treasury regulations or rulings promulgated thereunder, any intergovernmental agreement between the United States and any other jurisdiction pursuant to the implementation of FATCA, any law, regulation or other official guidance enacted in any jurisdiction implementing FATCA or any intergovernmental agreement with respect thereto, or any other agreement pursuant to the implementation of FATCA, (ii) imposed other than by way of withholding or (iii) imposed on a payment to a Holder that is a fiduciary, partnership or person other than the beneficial owner to the extent that under the tax laws of the relevant taxing jurisdiction the payment would be required to be included in the income of a settlor or beneficiary with respect to such fiduciary, a partner of such partnership or the beneficial owner and such settlor, beneficiary, partner or beneficial owner would not have been entitled to receive Additional Amounts had it been the Holder of the Note or Coupon.
- (c) If the Issuer or a successor is organised or becomes at any time tax resident in any jurisdiction other than the Cayman Islands and the PRC, references in these Conditions to the Cayman Islands and the PRC shall be construed as references to the Cayman Islands and the PRC and/or such other jurisdiction.

14. Events of Default

Each of the following events constitute an event of default (each, an “Event of Default”) with respect to any Note:

- (a) Non-Payment of principal: the Issuer fails to pay the principal or premium (if any) of any of the Notes when due; or
- (b) Non-Payment of interest: the Issuer fails to pay the interest of any of the Notes when due and such failure continues for a period of 30 days; or
- (c) Breach of Consolidation, Merger and Sale of Assets Covenant: the Issuer defaults in the performance of, or breaches, its obligations under Condition 5(b) (Consolidation, Merger and Sale of Assets); or
- (d) Breach of other obligations: the Issuer defaults in the performance or observance of any of its other obligations under or in respect of the Notes (other than a default specified in clauses (a), (b) or (c) above), the Agency Agreement or Trust Deed and such default remains unremedied for 90 days after written notice by the Trustee has been delivered to the Issuer; or

- (e) Unsatisfied judgment: one or more judgment(s) or order(s) for the payment of any amount is rendered against the Issuer and continue(s) unsatisfied and unstayed for a period of 90 days after the date(s) thereof or, if later, the date therein specified for payment, and such judgment(s) or order(s) exceed the greater of (y) US$100 million (or its equivalent in any other currency or currencies) and (z) 2.5 per cent. of the Issuer's Total Equity; or
- (f) Insolvency, etc.: the entry by a court having jurisdiction in the premises of (i) a decree or order for relief in respect of the Issuer or any of its Material Controlled Entities in an involuntary case or proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law or (ii) a decree or order adjudging the Issuer or any of its Material Controlled Entities bankrupt or insolvent, or approving as final and non-appealable a petition seeking reorganisation, arrangement, adjustment, or composition of or in respect of the Issuer or any of its Material Controlled Entities under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law, or appointing a custodian, receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, sequestrator, or other similar official of the Issuer or any of its Material Controlled Entities or of any substantial part of their respective property, or ordering the winding up or liquidation of their respective affairs (or any similar relief granted under any foreign laws), and the continuance of any such decree or order for relief or any such other decree or order unstayed and in effect for a period of 90 consecutive calendar days; or
- (g) Voluntary Arrangements: the commencement by the Issuer or any of its Material Controlled Entities of a voluntary case or proceeding under any applicable state or foreign bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law or of any other case or proceeding to be adjudicated bankrupt or insolvent, or the consent by it to the entry of a decree or order for relief in respect of the Issuer or any of its Material Controlled Entities in an involuntary case or proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law or to the commencement of any bankruptcy or insolvency case or proceeding against it, or the filing by it of a petition or answer or consent seeking reorganisation or relief with respect to the Issuer or any of its Material Controlled Entities under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law, or the consent by it to the filing of such petition or to the appointment of or taking possession by a custodian, receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, sequestrator, or other similar official of the Issuer or any of its Material Controlled Entities or of any substantial part of their respective property pursuant to any such law, or the making by the Issuer or any of its Material Controlled Entities of a general assignment for the benefit of creditors in respect of any indebtedness as a result of an inability to pay such indebtedness as they become due, or the admission by the Issuer or any of its Material Controlled Entities in writing of its inability to pay its debts generally as they become due, or the taking of corporate action by the Issuer or any of its Material Controlled Entities that resolves to commence any such action; or
- (h) Analogous event: any event occurs which under the laws of the Cayman Islands or the PRC has an analogous effect to any of the events referred to in paragraphs (e) (Unsatisfied judgment) to (g) (Voluntary Arrangements) above; or
- (i) Unlawfulness: the Notes, the Trust Deed or the Agency Agreement is or becomes or is claimed to be unenforceable, invalid, ceases to be in full force and effect by the Issuer, or is deemed to contravene, breach or violate the laws of any relevant jurisdiction.

If an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default described in clauses (f) and (g) above) shall occur and be continuing, either the Trustee at its discretion may or, if so requested in writing by Noteholders holding not less than 25 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of the Notes then outstanding or if so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution, shall give notice to the Issuer that the Notes are immediately due and payable at their Early Termination Amount (together with accrued interest and any Additional Amount payable in respect thereof) without further action or formality.

If an Event of Default in clauses (f) or (g) above shall occur, the Notes shall automatically, and without any declaration or other action by the Trustee or any Noteholder, become immediately due and payable at their Early Termination Amount (together with accrued interest and any Additional Amount payable in respect thereof).

15. Defeasance

- (a) The Trust Deed will provide that the Issuer will be deemed to have paid and will be discharged from any and all obligations in respect of the Notes on the 183rd day after the deposit referred to below, and the provisions of the Trust Deed will no longer be in effect with respect to the Notes (except for, among other matters, certain obligations to register the transfer or exchange of the relevant Notes, to replace stolen, lost or mutilated Notes, to maintain paying agencies, to pay Additional Amounts and to hold monies for payment in trust) if, among other things:
- (i) the Issuer (A) has deposited with the Trustee (or its agent), in trust, cash in Specified Currency in an amount sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, accrued interest and any other amount on the Notes on the relevant Maturity Date for such payments in accordance with the terms of the Trust Deed and the Notes and (B) delivers to the Trustee an Opinion of Counsel or a certificate of an internationally-recognised firm of independent accountants to the effect that the amount deposited by the Issuer is sufficient to provide payment for the principal of, premium, if any, and accrued interest on, the Notes on the relevant Maturity Date for such payment in accordance with the terms of the Trust Deed and the Conditions;
 - (ii) In the case of Notes that were issued as Restricted Notes (as defined in the Trust Deed), the Issuer has delivered to the Trustee either (A) an Opinion of Counsel with respect to U.S. federal income tax matters to the effect that, based on a change in applicable U.S. federal income tax law occurring after the date hereof, beneficial owners will not recognise income, gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of the Issuer's exercise of its option under this Condition 15 and will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on the same amount and in the same manner and at the same time as would have been the case if such deposit, defeasance and discharge had not occurred or (B) a ruling directed to the Issuer or the Trustee received from the U.S. Internal Revenue Service to the same effect as the aforementioned Opinion of Counsel;
 - (iii) the Issuer has delivered to the Trustee (A) an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that the creation of the defeasance trust does not violate the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and after the passage of 183 days following the deposit, the trust fund will not be subject to the effect of Section 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code or Section 15 of the New York Debtor and Creditor Law and (B) an Opinion of Counsel acceptable to the Trustee to the effect that after the passage of 183 days following the deposit, the trust fund will not be subject to the effect of Articles 31 and 32 of the PRC Enterprise Bankruptcy Law; and
 - (iv) immediately after giving effect to such deposit on a pro forma basis, no Event of Default, or event that after the giving of notice or lapse of time or both would become an Event of Default, shall have occurred and be continuing on the date of such deposit or during the period ending on the 183rd day after the date of such deposit, and such defeasance shall not result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, any other agreement or instrument to which the Issuer or any of its Controlled Entities is a party or by which the Issuer or any of its Controlled Entities is bound.
- (b) The Trust Deed will further provide that:
- (i) the provisions of the Trust Deed applicable to the Notes will no longer be in effect with respect to:
 - (A) Condition 5(a) (Negative Pledge); and

(B) Condition 10(f) (Redemption for Triggering Event); and

- (ii) any of the Events of Default provided in Conditions 14(d) (Breach of other obligation), with respect to Condition 5(a) or Condition 10(f) and Events of Default provided in Condition 14(e) (Unsatisfied judgment) shall be deemed not to be Events of Default, upon, among other things, (X) the deposit with the Trustee, in trust, of cash in Specified Currency in an amount sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and accrued interest on the Notes on the relevant Maturity Date of such payments in accordance with the terms of the Trust Deed and the Notes, (Y) the satisfaction of the provisions described in Condition 15(a)(iii) and (Z) in the case of Notes that were issued as Restricted Notes, the delivery by the Issuer to the Trustee of an Opinion of Counsel with respect to U.S. federal income tax matters to the effect that beneficial owners will not recognise income, gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of such deposit and defeasance of certain covenants and Events of Default and will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on the same amounts and in the same manner and at the same times as would have been the case if such deposit and defeasance had not occurred.

- (c) In the event the Issuer exercises its option to omit compliance with certain covenants and provisions of the Trust Deed with respect to the Notes as described in the immediately preceding paragraph and the Notes are declared due and payable because of the occurrence of an Event of Default, the Issuer will remain liable for any amounts due on the Notes at the time of the acceleration resulting from such Event of Default.

16. Prescription

Claims for principal in respect of Bearer Notes shall become void unless the relevant Bearer Notes are presented for payment within ten years of the appropriate Relevant Date. Claims for interest in respect of Bearer Notes shall become void unless the relevant Coupons are presented for payment within five years of the appropriate Relevant Date. Claims for principal and interest on redemption in respect of Registered Notes shall become void unless the relevant Note Certificates are surrendered for payment within ten years of the appropriate Relevant Date.

17. Replacement of Notes and Coupons

If any Note, Note Certificate or Coupon is lost, stolen, mutilated, defaced or destroyed, it may be replaced at the Specified Office of the Principal Paying Agent, in the case of Bearer Notes, or the relevant Registrar, in the case of Registered Notes (and, if the Notes are then admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any competent authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system which requires the appointment of a Paying Agent or Transfer Agent in any particular place, the Paying Agent or Transfer Agent having its Specified Office in the place required by such competent authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system), subject to all applicable laws and competent authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system requirements, upon payment by the claimant of the expenses incurred in connection with such replacement and on such terms as to evidence, security, indemnity and otherwise as the Issuer may reasonably require. Mutilated or defaced Notes, Note Certificates or Coupons must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

18. Trustee and Agents

Under the Trust Deed, the Trustee is entitled to be indemnified and/or pre-funded and/or provided with security to its satisfaction, as well as relieved from responsibility in certain circumstances and to be paid its fees, costs and expenses in priority to the claims of the Noteholders. In addition, the Trustee is entitled to enter into business transactions with the Issuer and any entity relating to the Issuer without accounting for any profit.

In the exercise of its powers and discretions under these Conditions and the Trust Deed, the Trustee will have regard to the interests of the Noteholders as a class and will not be responsible for any consequence for individual Holders of Notes as a result of such Holders being connected in any way with a particular territory or taxing jurisdiction.

In acting under the Agency Agreement and in connection with the Notes and the Coupons, the Agents act solely as agents of the Issuer and do not assume any obligations towards or relationship of agency or trust for or with any of the Noteholders or Couponholders.

The initial Agents and their initial Specified Offices are listed below. The initial Calculation Agent (if any) is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement. The Issuer reserves the right (with the prior approval of the Trustee) at any time to vary or terminate the appointment of any Agent and to appoint a successor principal paying agent or registrar or Calculation Agent and additional or successor paying agents; provided, however, that:

- (i) the Issuer shall at all times maintain a principal paying agent and a registrar; and
- (ii) if a Calculation Agent is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Issuer shall at all times maintain a Calculation Agent; and
- (iii) the Issuer shall at all times maintain a CMU Lodging and Paying Agent in relation to Notes accepted for clearance through the CMU Service; and
- (iv) if and for so long as the Notes are admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any competent authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system which requires the appointment of a Paying Agent and/or a Transfer Agent in any particular place, the Issuer shall maintain a Paying Agent and/or a Transfer Agent having its Specified Office in the place required by such competent authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system.

Notice of any change in any of the Agents or in their Specified Offices shall promptly be given to the Noteholders.

19. Meetings of Noteholders; Modification and Waiver

- (a) Meetings of Noteholders: The Trust Deed contains provisions for convening meetings of Noteholders to consider matters relating to the Notes, including the modification of any provision of these Conditions or any modifications to the Trust Deed. Any such modification may be made if sanctioned by an Extraordinary Resolution. Such a meeting may be convened by the Issuer or by the Trustee and shall be convened by the Trustee upon the request in writing of Noteholders holding not less than five per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes. The quorum at any meeting convened to vote on an Extraordinary Resolution will be two or more Persons holding or representing not less than 50 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes or, at any adjourned meeting, two or more Persons being or representing Noteholders whatever the principal amount of the Notes held or represented; provided, however, that Reserved Matters may only be sanctioned by an Extraordinary Resolution passed at a meeting of Noteholders at which two or more Persons holding or representing more than 50 per cent. or, at any adjourned meeting, one quarter of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes form a quorum. Any Extraordinary Resolution duly passed at any such meeting shall be binding on all the Noteholders and Couponholders, whether present or not.

In addition, a resolution in writing signed by or on behalf of Noteholders of not less than 90 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount outstanding will take effect as if it were an Extraordinary Resolution. Such a resolution in writing may be contained in one document or several documents in the same form, each signed by or on behalf of one or more Noteholders.

- (b) Modification and waiver: The Trustee may, but shall not be obliged to, without the consent of the Noteholders, agree to any modification of these Conditions or the Trust Deed (other than in respect of a Reserved Matter) which is, in the opinion of the Trustee, proper to make if, in the opinion of the Trustee, such modification will not be materially prejudicial to the interests of Noteholders and to any modification of the Notes or the Trust Deed which is of a formal, minor or technical nature or is to correct a manifest error.

In addition, the Trustee may, but shall not be obliged to, without the consent of the Noteholders, authorise or waive any proposed breach or breach of the Notes or the Trust Deed (other than a proposed breach or breach relating to the subject of a Reserved Matter) if, in the opinion of the Trustee, the interests of the Noteholders will not be materially prejudiced thereby.

Any such authorisation, waiver of modification shall be binding on the Noteholders and unless the Trustee agrees otherwise, any such authorisation, waiver or modification shall be notified to the Noteholders as soon as practicable thereafter.

- (c) Directions from Noteholders: Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these Conditions, the Trust Deed or the Agency Agreement, whenever the Trustee is required or entitled by the terms of these Conditions, the Trust Deed or the Agency Agreement to exercise any discretion or power, take any action, make any decision or give any direction or certification, the Trustee is entitled, prior to exercising any such discretion or power, taking any such action, making any such decision, or giving any such direction or certification, to seek directions from the Noteholders by way of an Extraordinary Resolution and shall have been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all action, proceedings, claims and demands to which it may be or become liable and all costs, charges, damages, expenses (including legal expenses) and liabilities which may be incurred by it in connection therewith, and the Trustee is not responsible for any loss or liability incurred by any person as a result of any delay in it exercising such discretion or power, taking such action, making such decision, or giving such direction or certification where the Trustee is seeking such directions.
- (d) Certificates and Reports: The Trustee may rely without liability to Noteholders on a report, confirmation or certificate or any advice of any lawyers, accountants, financial advisers, financial institution or any other expert, whether or not addressed to it and whether their liability in relation thereto is limited (by its terms or by any engagement letter relating thereto or in any other manner) by reference to a monetary cap, methodology or otherwise. The Trustee may accept and shall be entitled to rely on any such report, confirmation or certificate or advice and such report, confirmation or certificate or advice shall be binding on the Issuer, the Trustee and the Noteholders.

20. Enforcement

The Trustee may at any time, at its absolute discretion and without notice, institute such proceedings, actions or steps as it thinks fit to enforce its rights under the Trust Deed in respect of the Notes, but it shall not be bound to do so unless:

- (i) it has been so requested in writing by the Holders of at least one quarter of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes or has been so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution; and
- (ii) it has been indemnified and/or pre-funded and/or provided with security to its satisfaction.

No Noteholder may proceed directly against the Issuer unless the Trustee, having become bound to do so, fails to do so within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing.

21. Further Issues

The Issuer may from time to time, without the consent of the Noteholders or the Couponholders, and in accordance with the Trust Deed, create and issue additional notes having the same terms and conditions as the Notes in all respects (or in all respects except for the first payment of interest) so as to form a single series with the Notes; provided that in order for additional Registered Notes have the same CUSIP, ISIN or other identifying code as outstanding Registered Notes of the relevant Series, the additional Registered Notes must be fungible with the outstanding Registered Notes of such Series for U.S. federal income tax purposes; and provided further that, in the case of Bearer Notes that are issued under the “TEFRA D” rules and are initially represented by interests in a Temporary Global Note exchangeable for interests in a Permanent Global Note or definitive Bearer Notes, such additional Notes may have the same CUSIP, ISIN or other identifying code as Notes of the existing series only following certification of non-U.S. beneficial ownership and exchange of interests in the Temporary Global Note for interests in the Permanent Global Note or definitive Bearer Notes in accordance with the TEFRA D rules.

22. Notices

- (a) Bearer Notes: Notices to the Holders of Bearer Notes shall be valid if published in a leading English language daily newspaper published in Hong Kong or if such publication is not practicable, in a leading English language daily newspaper having general circulation in Asia. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the date of first publication (or if required to be published in more than one newspaper, on the first date on which publication shall have been made in all the required newspapers). Couponholders shall be deemed for all purposes to have notice of the contents of any notice given to the Holders of Bearer Notes.
- (b) Registered Notes: Notices to the Holders of Registered Notes shall be sent to them by first class mail (or its equivalent) or (if posted to an overseas address) by airmail at their respective addresses on the Register. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the fourth day after the date of mailing.

So long as the Notes are represented by a Global Note or a Global Note Certificate and such Global Note or Global Note Certificate is held on behalf of (i) Euroclear or Clearstream, DTC or any other clearing system (except as provided in (ii) below), notices to the holders of Notes of that Series may be given by delivery of the relevant notice to that clearing system for communication by it to entitled accountholders in substitution for publication as required by the Conditions or (ii) the CMU Service, notices to the holders of Notes of that Series may be given by delivery of the relevant notice to the Persons shown in a CMU Instrument Position Report issued by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority on the business day preceding the date of despatch of such notice.

23. Currency Indemnity

If any sum due from the Issuer in respect of the Notes or the Coupons or any order or judgment given or made in relation thereto has to be converted from the currency (the “first currency”) in which the same is payable under these Conditions or such order or judgment into another currency (the “second currency”) for the purpose of (a) making or filing a claim or proof against the Issuer, (b) obtaining an order or judgment in any court or other tribunal or (c) enforcing any order or judgment given or made in relation to the Notes, the Issuer shall indemnify each Noteholder, on the written demand of such Noteholder addressed to the Issuer and delivered to the Issuer or to the Specified Office of the Principal Paying Agent, against any loss suffered as a result of any discrepancy between (i) the rate of exchange used for such purpose to convert the sum in question from the first currency into the second currency and (ii) the rate or rates of exchange at which such Noteholder may in the ordinary course of business purchase the first currency with the second currency upon receipt of a sum paid to it in satisfaction, in whole or in part, of any such order, judgment, claim or proof.

This indemnity constitutes a separate and independent obligation of the Issuer and shall give rise to a separate and independent cause of action.

24. Rounding

For the purposes of any calculations referred to in these Conditions (unless otherwise specified in these Conditions or the relevant Pricing Supplement), (a) all percentages resulting from such calculations will be rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point (with 0.000005 per cent. being rounded up to 0.00001 per cent.), (b) all United States dollar amounts used in or resulting from such calculations will be rounded to the nearest cent (with one half cent being rounded up), (c) all Japanese Yen amounts used in or resulting from such calculations will be rounded downwards to the next lower whole Japanese Yen amount, and (d) all amounts denominated in any other currency used in or resulting from such calculations will be rounded to the nearest two decimal places in such currency, with 0.005 being rounded upwards.

25. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

- (a) Governing law: The Notes, the Trust Deed and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with the Notes and the Trust Deed are governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, English law.
- (b) English courts: The courts of England have jurisdiction to settle any dispute (a “Dispute”) arising out of or in connection with the Notes (including a dispute relating to the existence, validity or termination of the Notes or any non-contractual obligation arising out of or in connection with the Notes) or the consequences of its nullity.
- (c) Appropriate forum: The Issuer agrees that the courts of England are the most appropriate and convenient courts to settle any Dispute and, accordingly, that it will not argue to the contrary.
- (d) Rights of the Noteholders to take proceedings outside England: Condition 25(b) (English courts) is for the benefit of the Noteholders only. As a result, nothing in this Condition 25 prevents any Noteholder from taking proceedings relating to a Dispute (“Proceedings”) in any other courts with jurisdiction. To the extent allowed by law, Noteholders may take concurrent Proceedings in any number of jurisdictions.
- (e) Process agent: The Issuer agrees that the documents which start any Proceedings and any other documents required to be served in relation to those Proceedings may be served on it by being delivered to Law Debenture Corporate Services Limited at Fifth Floor, 100 Wood Street, London EC2V 7EX, United Kingdom. If such person is not or ceases to be effectively appointed to accept service of process on behalf of the Issuer, the Issuer shall, on the written demand of any Noteholder addressed and delivered to the Issuer or to the Specified Office of the Principal Paying Agent appoint a further person in England to accept service of process on its behalf and, failing such appointment within 15 days, any Noteholder shall be entitled to appoint such a person by written notice addressed to the Issuer and delivered to the Issuer or to the Specified Office of the Principal Paying Agent. Nothing in this paragraph shall affect the right of any Noteholder to serve process in any other manner permitted by law. This Condition applies to Proceedings in England and to Proceedings elsewhere.
- (f) Consent to enforcement etc.: The Issuer consents generally in respect of any Proceedings to the giving of any relief or the issue of any process in connection with such Proceedings including (without limitation) the making, enforcement or execution against any property whatsoever (irrespective of its use or intended use) of any order or judgment which is made or given in such Proceedings.

- (g) Waiver of immunity: To the extent that the Issuer may in any jurisdiction claim for itself or its assets or revenues immunity from suit, execution, attachment (whether in aid of execution, before judgment or otherwise) or other legal process and to the extent that such immunity (whether or not claimed) may be attributed in any such jurisdiction to the Issuer or its assets or revenues, the Issuer agrees not to claim and irrevocably waives such immunity to the full extent permitted by the laws of such jurisdiction.

EXCHANGE RATE INFORMATION

THE PRC

The PBOC, the central bank of the PRC, sets and publishes daily a central parity exchange rate with reference primarily to the supply and demand of the Renminbi against a basket of currencies in the market during the previous day. The PBOC also takes into account other factors, such as the general conditions existing in the international foreign exchange markets. Since 1994, the conversion of the Renminbi into foreign currencies, including Hong Kong dollars and U.S. dollars, has been based on rates set by the PBOC, which are set daily based on the previous day's interbank foreign exchange market rates and current exchange rates in the world financial markets. From 1994 to 20 July 2005, the official exchange rate for the conversion of the Renminbi to U.S. dollars was generally stable. Although PRC governmental policies were introduced in 1996 to reduce restrictions on the convertibility of the Renminbi into foreign currency for current account items, conversion of the Renminbi into foreign exchange for capital items, such as foreign direct investment, loans or securities, requires the approval of SAFE and other relevant authorities. On 21 July 2005, the PRC government introduced a managed floating exchange rate system to allow the value of the Renminbi to fluctuate within a regulated band based on market supply and demand and by reference to a basket of currencies. On the same day, the value of the Renminbi appreciated by 2% against the US dollar. The PRC government has since made and in the future may make further adjustments to the exchange rate system. The PBOC announces the closing price of a foreign currency traded against the Renminbi in the interbank foreign exchange market after the closing of the market on each working day and makes it the central parity for the trading against the Renminbi on the following working day. In March 2014, the PBOC increased the floating band for the trading prices in the interbank foreign exchange market of the Renminbi against the US dollar from 1.0% to 2.0% around the central parity rate. This allows the Renminbi to fluctuate against the US dollar by up to 2.0% above or below the central parity rate published by the PBOC.

The following table sets forth information concerning exchange rates between the Renminbi and the U.S. dollar for the periods indicated. These rates are provided solely for your convenience and are not necessarily the exchange rates that we used in this Offering Circular or will use in the preparation of our periodic reports or any other information to be provided to you:

FORM OF PRICING SUPPLEMENT

The Pricing Supplement in respect of each Series of Notes will be substantially in the following form, duly supplemented (if necessary), amended (if necessary) and completed to reflect the particular terms of the relevant Notes and their issue.

PROHIBITION OF SALES TO EEA AND UK RETAIL INVESTORS

The Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area (“EEA”) or in the United Kingdom (“UK”). For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive 2016/97/EU (as amended, the “Insurance Distribution Directive”), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (as amended, the “Prospectus Regulation”). Consequently no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended, the “PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA or in the UK has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA or in the UK may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

SUMMARY OF PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE NOTES WHILE IN GLOBAL FORM

Clearing System Accountholders

In relation to any Series of Notes represented by a Global Note, references in the Conditions of the Notes to “Noteholder” are references to the bearer of the relevant Global Note which, for so long as the Global Note is held by a depositary or a common depositary for Euroclear and/or Clearstream and/or any other relevant clearing system and/or a sub-custodian for the CMU Service, will be that depositary, common depositary or, as the case may be, sub-custodian.

In relation to any Series of Notes represented by one or more Global Note Certificates, references in the Conditions of the Notes to “Noteholder” are references to the person in whose name the relevant Global Note Certificate is for the time being registered in the Register which (a) in the case of a Restricted Global Note Certificate held by or on behalf of DTC will be Cede & Co. (or such other entity as is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) as nominee for DTC and (b) in the case of any Unrestricted Global Note Certificate which is held by or on behalf of a depositary or a common depositary for Euroclear and/or Clearstream and/or any other relevant clearing system, will be that depositary or common depositary or a nominee for that depositary or common depositary.

Each of the persons shown in the records of DTC, Euroclear, Clearstream and/or any other relevant clearing system as being entitled to an interest in a Global Note or a Global Note Certificate (each an “Accountholder”) must look solely to DTC, Euroclear, Clearstream and/or such other relevant clearing system (as the case may be) for such Accountholder’s share of each payment made by the Issuer to the holder of such Global Note or Global Note Certificate and in relation to all other rights arising under such Global Note or Global Note Certificate. The extent to which, and the manner in which, Accountholders may exercise any rights arising under a Global Note or Global Note Certificate will be determined by the respective rules and procedures of DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream and any other relevant clearing system from time to time. For so long as the relevant Notes are represented by a Global Note or Global Note Certificate, Accountholders shall have no claim directly against the Issuer in respect of payments due under the Notes and such obligations of the Issuer will be discharged by payment to the holder of such Global Note or Global Note Certificate.

If a Global Note or a Global Registered Note is lodged with a sub-custodian for or registered with the CMU Service, the person(s) for whose account(s) interests in such Global Note or Global Registered Note are credited as being held in the CMU Service in accordance with the CMU Rules as notified by the CMU Service to the CMU Lodging Agent in a relevant CMU Instrument Position Report or any other relevant notification by the CMU Service (which notification, in either case, shall be conclusive evidence of the records of the CMU Service save in the case of manifest error) shall be the only person(s) entitled or in the case of Registered Notes, directed or deemed by the CMU Service as entitled to receive payments in respect of Notes represented by such Global Note or Global Registered Note and the Issuer will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, such person(s) for whose account(s) interests in such Global Note or Global Note Certificate are credited as being held in the CMU Service in respect of each amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of the CMU Service, as the beneficial holder of a particular nominal amount of Notes represented by such Global Note or Global Registered Note must look solely to the CMU Lodging Agent for his share of each payment so made by the Issuer in respect of such Global Note or Global Registered Note.

Transfers of Interests in Global Notes and Global Note Certificates

Transfers of interests in Global Notes and Global Note Certificates within DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream or any other relevant clearing system will be in accordance with their respective rules and operating procedures. None of the Issuer, the Registrar, the Dealer or the Agents will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records of any DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream or any other relevant clearing system or any of their respective participants relating to payments made on account of beneficial ownership interests in a Global Note or Global Note Certificate or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any of the records of DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream or any other relevant clearing system or the records of their respective participants relating to such beneficial ownership interests.

The laws of some states of the United States require that certain persons receive individual certificates in respect of their holdings of Notes. Consequently, the ability to transfer interests in a Global Note Certificate to such persons will be limited. Because clearing systems only act on behalf of participants, who in turn act on behalf of indirect participants, the ability of a person having an interest in a Global Note Certificate to pledge such interest to persons or entities which do not participate in the relevant clearing systems, or otherwise take actions in respect of such interest, may be affected by the lack of an Individual Note Certificate representing such interest.

Subject to compliance with the transfer restrictions applicable to the Registered Notes described under “Transfer Restrictions”, transfers between DTC participants, on the one hand, and Euroclear or Clearstream accountholders, on the other will be effected by the relevant clearing systems in accordance with their respective rules and through action taken by the DTC Custodian, the Registrar and the Principal Paying Agent.

On or after the issue date for any Series, transfers of Notes of such Series between accountholders in Euroclear and/or Clearstream and transfers of Notes of such Series between participants in DTC will generally have a settlement date three business days after the trade date (T+3). The customary arrangements for delivery versus payment will apply to such transfers.

Transfers between DTC participants, on the one hand, and Euroclear or Clearstream accountholders, on the other, will need to have an agreed settlement date between the parties to such transfer. Because there is no direct link between DTC, on the one hand, and Euroclear and Clearstream, on the other, transfers of interests in the relevant Global Note Certificates will be effected through the Principal Paying Agent, the DTC Custodian, the relevant Registrar and any applicable Transfer Agent receiving instructions (and where appropriate certification) from the transferor and arranging for delivery of the interests being transferred to the credit of the designated account for the transferee. Transfers will be effected on the later of (i) three business days after the trade date for the disposal of the interest in the relevant Global Note Certificate resulting in such transfer and (ii) two business days after receipt by the Principal Paying Agent or the Registrar, as the case may be, of the necessary certification or information to effect such transfer. In the case of cross-market transfers, settlement between Euroclear or Clearstream accountholders and DTC participants cannot be made on a delivery versus payment basis. The securities will be delivered on a free delivery basis and arrangements for payment must be made separately. The customary arrangements for delivery versus payment between Euroclear and Clearstream account holders or between DTC participants are not affected.

For a further description of restrictions on the transfer of Notes, see “Subscription and Sale” and “Transfer Restrictions”.

Upon the issue of a Restricted Global Note Certificate to be held by or on behalf of DTC, DTC or the DTC Custodian will credit the respective nominal amounts of the individual beneficial interests represented by such Global Note Certificate to the account of DTC participants. Ownership of beneficial interests in such Global Note Certificate will be held through participants of DTC, including the respective depositaries of Euroclear and Clearstream. Ownership of beneficial interests in such Global Note Certificate will be shown on, and the transfer of such ownership will be effected only through, records maintained by DTC or its nominee. DTC has advised the Issuer that it will take any action permitted to be taken by a holder of Registered Notes represented by a Global Note Certificate held by or on behalf of DTC (including, without limitation, the presentation of such Global Note Certificates for exchange as described above) only at the direction of one or more participants in whose account with DTC interests in such Global Note Certificate are credited, and only in respect of such portion of the aggregate nominal amount of such Global Note Certificate as to which such participant or participants has or have given such direction. However, in certain circumstances, DTC will exchange the relevant Global Note Certificate for Individual Note Certificates (which will bear the relevant legends set out in “Transfer Restrictions”).

Although DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream have agreed to the foregoing procedures in order to facilitate transfers of interests in the Global Note Certificates among participants and account holders of DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, they are under no obligation to perform or continue to perform such procedures, and such procedures may be discontinued at any time. None of the Issuer, the Registrar, the Dealer or the Agents will have any responsibility for the performance by DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream or their respective direct or indirect participants or account holders of their respective obligations under the rules and procedures governing their respective operations.

While a Global Note Certificate is lodged with DTC, Euroclear, Clearstream or any relevant clearing system, Individual Note Certificates for the relevant Series of Notes will not be eligible for clearing and settlement through such clearing systems.

Conditions applicable to Global Notes

Each Global Note and Global Note Certificate will contain provisions which modify the Conditions of the Notes as they apply to the Global Note or Global Note Certificate. The following is a summary of certain of those provisions:

Payments: All payments in respect of the Global Note or Global Note Certificate which, according to the Conditions of the Notes, require presentation and/or surrender of a Note, Note Certificate or Coupon will be made against presentation and (in the case of payment of principal in full with all interest accrued thereon) surrender of the Global Note or Global Note Certificate to or to the order of any Paying Agent and will be effective to satisfy and discharge the corresponding liabilities of the Issuer in respect of the Notes. On each occasion on which a payment of principal or interest is made in respect of the Global Note, the Issuer shall procure that the payment is noted in a schedule thereto.

Payment Business Day: In the case of a Global Note or a Global Note Certificate, “Payment Business Day” shall be: (x) if the currency of payment is euro, any day which is a TARGET Settlement Day and a day on which dealings in foreign currencies may be carried on in each (if any) Additional Financial Centre; or (y) if the currency of payment is not euro, any day which is a day on which dealings in foreign currencies may be carried on in the Principal Financial Centre of the currency of payment and in each (if any) Additional Financial Centre.

Payment Record Date: All payments in respect of Notes represented by a Global Certificate (other than a Global Certificate held through the CMU Service) will be made to, or to the order of, the person whose name is entered on the relevant Register at the close of business on the Clearing System Business Day immediately prior to the date for payment (the “record date”), where “Clearing System Business Day” means Monday to Friday inclusive except 25 December and 1 January. In respect of a Global Note or Global Certificate held through the CMU Service, any payments of principal, interest (if any) or any other amounts shall be made to the person(s) for whose account(s) interests in the relevant Global Note are credited (as set out in a CMU Instrument Position Report or any other relevant notification supplied to the CMU Lodging Agent by the CMU Service as at the business day before the date for payment) and, save in the case of final payment, no presentation of the relevant bearer Global Note or Global Certificate shall be required for such purpose.

Exercise of put options: In order to exercise the options contained in Condition 10(e) (Redemption at the option of the Noteholders) and 10(f) (Redemption for Triggering Event) the bearer of a Permanent Global Note or the holder of a Global Note Certificate must, within the period specified in the Conditions for the deposit of the relevant Note and put notice, give written notice of such exercise to the Principal Paying Agent specifying the principal amount of Notes in respect of which such option is being exercised. Any such notice will be irrevocable and may not be withdrawn.

Partial exercise of call option: In connection with an exercise of the option contained in Condition 10(c) (Redemption at the option of the Issuer) in relation to some only of the Notes, the Permanent Global Note or Global Note Certificate may be redeemed in part in the principal amount specified by the Issuer in accordance with the Conditions and the Notes to be redeemed will not be selected as provided in the Conditions but in accordance with the rules and procedures of the CMU Service, DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream (to be reflected in the records of the CMU Service, DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream as either a pool factor or a reduction in principal amount, at their discretion).

Notices: So long as any Notes are represented by a Global Note or Global Certificate and such Global Note or Global Certificate is held on behalf of (a) Euroclear and/or Clearstream and/or DTC or any other clearing system (except as provided in (b) below), notices to the holders of Notes of that Series may be given by delivery of the relevant notice to that clearing system for communication by it to entitled accountholders in substitution for publication as required by the Conditions or by delivery of the relevant notice to the holder of the Global Note or Global Certificate or (b) the CMU Service, notices to the holders of Notes of that Series may be given by delivery of the relevant notice to the persons shown in a CMU Instrument Position Report issued by the CMU Service on the second business day preceding the date of dispatch of such notice as holding interests in the relevant Global Note or Global Certificate.

SELECTED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL AND OTHER DATA

The selected consolidated financial information as at and for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 have been derived from our audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 included elsewhere in this Offering Circular. The selected consolidated financial information as at and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020 have been derived from the Company's unaudited consolidated financial statements as at and for the three months ended 31 March 2020 included elsewhere in this Offering Circular.

In preparing the audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019, the Company has adopted the new accounting standards as and when they came into effect and has not restated the prior years' financial statements as permitted under the IFRSs. Therefore, the audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 may not be comparable. For the impact on adoption of the new accounting standards, please refer to Note 2.2 to the Company's audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 respectively included elsewhere in this Offering Circular. See "Risk Factors — Risks Relating to Notes Issued under the Programme — Our financial statements for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 may not be comparable with the financial statements for previous years".

The summary financial data below should be read in conjunction with "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations", the audited consolidated financial statements and the unaudited consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Offering Circular.

Note:

- (1) EBITDA for any year/period is calculated as operating profit minus interest income and other gains/losses, net and adding back depreciation of property, plant and equipment, investment properties as well as right-of-use assets and amortisation of intangible assets. Other gains/losses, net consist primarily net gains/losses on disposals and deemed disposals of investee companies, net fair value gains/losses on FVPL, net fair value gains/losses on other financial instruments, impairment provision/reversal for investee companies and intangible assets arising from acquisitions, subsidiaries and tax rebates, dividends income, donations and provision/reversal on accounts receivable and other receivables. Adjusted EBITDA is calculated as EBITDA plus equity-settled share-based compensation expenses. EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are not standard measures under IFRS. EBITDA is a widely used financial indicator of a company's ability to service and incur debt. EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or construed as alternatives to cash flows, net income or any other measure of performance or as indicators of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or cash flows generated by operating, investing or financing activities. In evaluating EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA, we believe that investors should consider, among other things, the components of EBITDA such as sales and operating expenses and the amount by which EBITDA exceeds capital expenditures and other charges. We have included EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA because we believe they are a useful supplement to cash flows data as a measure of our performance and our ability to generate cash flows from operations to cover debt service and taxes. EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA presented herein may not be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies. Investors should not compare our EBITDA or Adjusted EBITDA to the EBITDA or Adjusted EBITDA presented by other companies because not all companies use the same definition.

- (2) Adjusted EBITDA margin is calculated by dividing Adjusted EBITDA by revenues.
- (3) Net cash/(debt) represents year-end/period-end balance and is calculated as cash and cash equivalents, plus term deposits and others, minus borrowings and notes payable.
- (4) Total debts consist of borrowings and notes payable.

The following table reconciles our operating profit under IFRS to our EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA for the years/ periods indicated.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following is a discussion of our financial condition and results of operations as at and for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, and of the material factors that we believe are likely to affect our financial condition and results of operations. You should read this section in conjunction with our audited and unaudited consolidated financial statements included in this Offering Circular beginning on page F-2. Our consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRS.

In preparing the audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019, we have adopted the new accounting standards as and when they came into effect and have not restated the prior years' financial statements as permitted under the IFRSs. Therefore, the audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 may not be comparable. For the impact on adoption of the new accounting standards, please refer to Note 2.2 to our audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 included elsewhere in this Offering Circular. See "Risk Factors — Risks Relating to Notes Issued under the Programme — Our financial statements for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 may not be comparable with the financial statements for previous years".

In addition, the following discussion contains certain forward-looking statements that reflect our plans, estimates and beliefs. Our actual results may differ materially from those discussed in these forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include, but are not limited to, those discussed below and elsewhere in this Offering Circular, including "Risk Factors".

OVERVIEW

We are a leading integrated Internet services company operating a broad range of Internet services including communication and social, online games, digital content, online advertising, FinTech, cloud and other services for our users, advertisers, merchants and enterprise partners. We develop and deliver highly popular products and services to enhance the quality of life for users and to maximise business opportunities for enterprises and industries through digital transformation.

We operate the largest communication and social community in China in terms of user base. Our massive communication and social platforms provide a foundation for our online community and serve as a gateway for our VAS. We had the largest number of DAU and MAU among social communities on both mobile and PC in March 2020, according to iResearch. Weixin and WeChat has a combined MAU of 1,202.5 million and smart device MAU of QQ was 693.5 million as at 31 March 2020. Our social community users are also the most engaged in China, with QQ, Weixin and WeChat users accounting for 88% of time spent in social networks in March 2020, according to iResearch.

Our social products link our users to a vast array of best-in-class digital content and multimedia services across the globe. We are the largest online game platform globally by revenues, with 14% global market share in 2019, according to Newzoo. We have developed and published highly popular games in a variety of genres and have expanded into tactical tournaments. During 2019, we experienced rapid growth in our international online game business due to our enhanced development and publishing capability. In addition to establishing our original IP franchises, we have developed external partnerships via a number of new investments in best-in-genre studios. We have also established leading digital content platforms that include video, news, music, literature and others, generating both subscription and usage-based revenues. By driving synergies across our digital content platforms, we have significantly enhanced the value of our IP portfolio. Consequently, our substantial and engaged user base, combined with our unique data insights and advanced digital advertising technology, present an attractive proposition to advertisers.

As an industry leader and global pioneer of innovative technology solutions, our platforms and services connect users, content providers, enterprises and developers. We have built strong relationships with key strategic partners, connecting our own and our partners' quality content and a wide variety of services to consumers. The numerous Weixin/WeChat services, such as Weixin Mini Programs and Weixin Pay, are becoming increasingly interconnected and hubs of mobile connectivity. Weixin Mini Programs connect online and offline services with users on Weixin/WeChat. These services are reshaping the lifestyles of consumers as well as helping companies digitalise their businesses by tapping into growing smart-business and smart-living needs, which covers more offline consumption scenarios, such as retail, healthcare, mobility etc. The number of daily transactions generated within Weixin Mini Programs more than doubled year-on-year, and their transaction value exceeded RMB800 billion in 2019. We have expanded our businesses from the Consumer Internet into the Industrial Internet to help enterprises adapt to the digital economy and optimise operations.

For our FinTech business, our payment service has expanded from social and entertainment to commercial activities, and from online to offline transactions. Our social payment functions such as red packets and bill sharing simplify peer-to-peer transfers, whereas our commercial payment services facilitate fast and seamless experiences for both eCommerce transactions and offline consumption scenarios. As such, our commercial payment transaction volume is growing rapidly and diversifying from large online merchants to small to mid-sized offline merchants. Our mobile payment services also provide a platform for distribution of a variety of FinTech services. Our robust payment infrastructure provides high levels of payment security, service reliability and transaction speed. During 2019, we strengthened our leadership in mobile payment services through deepening our penetration among offline merchants. Our wealth management service and lending services have also experienced rapid growth. Our wealth management platform, LiCaiTong, increased its aggregate customer assets over 50% year-on-year, while its number of customers more than doubled year-on-year in the fourth quarter of 2019 as we expanded into the mass market. Our affiliate WeBank rapidly grew the loan balances of its micro-loan product, WeiLiDai, while maintaining a healthy credit risk performance.

In Business services, we develop and drive adoption of both cloud-based vertical industry solutions and enterprise functional applications, enabling businesses and other partners to better connect with our users, and assisting digitalisation and transformation of the economy. Tencent Cloud is a high-performance cloud service that powers our ecosystem and is offered to third party enterprises to meet their computing and storage infrastructure as well as other technology needs. Tencent Cloud is layered with advanced technologies in cloud computing, data analytics, artificial intelligence, security and location-based services. Our cloud services have enjoyed robust growth and maintain a leading market position in verticals such as online games, video and live broadcast. We have further expanded our cloud-based enterprise services in industry verticals such as Internet services, retail, tourism, municipal services and industrial sectors. As at 31 December 2019, our number of paying customers exceeded 1 million. Our cloud services are the foundation for our smart industry solutions, helping to digitally transform and empower businesses that are conventionally offline. We enhanced our SaaS offerings via our products, e.g. Tencent Meeting and WeChat Work, and external partnerships. We enhanced our cloud services operating efficiency as our scale grew.

Our business provides value for users, application developers, content providers, advertisers, merchants and enterprises in various industries. Currently, we have four lines of business:

- Value-added Services — Our VAS business consists mainly of social networks and online games.
- Social networks — We are a leading provider of social networks in China, with clear leadership in communication and social platforms, including QQ and Weixin/WeChat. Our social networks generate revenues from membership privileges and subscriptions of a diverse and comprehensive range of digital content services such as video, music and literature, as well as virtual item sales and others.

- Online games — We are the largest online games platform in the world by revenues with 14% global market share and 49% China market share in 2019, according to Newzoo and iResearch, respectively. We have strong in-house development capabilities, demonstrated by our highly acclaimed in-house games in a variety of genres such as battle arena (Honour of Kings, League of Legends), racing (QQ Speed Mobile), strategy (King of Chaos) and tactical tournament (PUBG Mobile and Peacekeeper Elite). We are also the partner of choice for game publishers due to our leading distribution capabilities in China and globally.
- Online Advertising — Our online advertising services primarily comprise social and others advertising and media advertising. Social and others advertising relates to advertising on our social properties, such as QQ KanDian, Kuaibao, Weixin Moments, Weixin Mini Programs, Weixin Official Accounts and Weixin Top Stories, our utilities properties, such as application store and browser, as well as mobile advertising network. Media advertising relates to advertising on our video, news, music and other online media properties. Significant traffic on our various properties offers ample advertising opportunities. Through leveraging our comprehensive ecosystem, scale and user insights, we drive relevant and targeted advertising to generate higher returns for advertisers.
- FinTech and Business Services — Our FinTech and Business services mainly comprise FinTech services such as mobile payment, wealth management, lending, and cloud services and other enterprise-facing services. We are a market leading mobile payment platform in China. In the fourth quarter of 2019, our mobile payment services exceeded 1 billion daily average transactions for our commercial payments, covered over 800 million MAU and worked with over 50 million monthly active merchants. We provide enterprises and developers with a suite of cloud based services, including IaaS (such as cloud computing, storage and CDN), PaaS (such as database, video services, data security and artificial intelligence) and SaaS (such as Tencent Meeting, WeChat Work and third party SaaS products).

Our expansive product offerings, advanced technologies and infrastructure services form a hub for fulfilling people's lifestyle needs, including social and communication, entertainment, information, O2O and FinTech services. We further broaden the types and the number of services offered to our users by enabling third parties partners to offer services and products on our platforms. Through strategic partnerships with category leaders, we continue to expand our ecosystem and deepen engagement with our users. We, including our affiliates such as JD.com, Meituan Dianping, Pinduoduo have large platforms across a variety of Internet categories, and collectively we have 14 out of the top 30 applications ranked by DAU in December 2019 in China, according to QuestMobile.

In addition to growing our core businesses organically, we make strategic investments in best-in-class companies. As we focus our management attention and company resources on our own core platforms, we also capture emerging opportunities in adjacent verticals through investee companies. By the end of 2019, over 70 of our investee companies are publicly listed, and more than 160 investee companies valued at over US$1 billion each. We enrich our IP portfolio including games, video, music and literature via upstream investments, and broaden user reach and engagement via investments in vertical platforms. We work with businesses that can expand our offerings to meet evolving user needs, and accelerate the adoption of our enterprise services and products, such as O2O and smart retail companies, which has helped expand our payment service penetration and advertiser base. We use investments as a tool for better understanding frontier technologies which will become important to our future, such as robotics and artificial intelligence. Our investments have created value for our investee companies by offering them access to our large user base, and providing them infrastructure, technology and capital support to bolster their growth.

We commenced our business in November 1998 and were listed on the SEHK in June 2004 (Stock Code: 00700). We have been one of the constituent stocks of the Hang Seng Index since June 2008. For the year ended 31 December 2019, our total revenues was RMB377,289 million and our profit for the year was RMB95,888 million, an increase of 21% and 20%, over the year ended 31 December 2018, respectively. For the three months ended 31 March 2020, our total revenues was RMB108,065 million (US$15,262 million) and our profit for the period was RMB29,403 million (US$4,152 million), an increase of 26% and 6%, respectively, over the three months ended 31 March 2019. As at 31 March 2020, our cash and cash equivalents, as well as term deposits and others amounted to RMB220,584 million (US$31,152 million).

SIGNIFICANT FACTORS AFFECTING OUR RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

We believe that the most significant factors that have affected or are expected to affect our results of operations and financial condition include, among others:

Ability to increase the engagement and monetisation of our vast user base

The growth of our business and revenues depends on our ability to deepen user engagement and further increase the monetisation of our vast user base. We have seen a modest growth in our Weixin and WeChat user base and maintained large numbers of QQ users on smart devices. As at 31 March 2020, combined MAU of Weixin and WeChat reached 1,202.5 million, an increase of 8.2%, from 1,111.7 million as at 31 March 2019, and smart device MAU of QQ was 693.5 million.

We believe the depth of user engagement of our massive online communities are our critical competitive advantages. We continue to increase user engagement by enhancing user experience and broadening our products and services, creating opportunities for our ecosystem partners. For instance, we have introduced high quality content across our variety of online media platforms, including online games, video, news, music, literature and others. We have also sought to integrate these media platforms with our social platforms to create a holistic and differentiated social experience for users. The numerous Weixin/WeChat services, such as Weixin Mini Programs and Weixin Pay, are becoming increasingly interconnected and are reshaping the lifestyles of consumers as well as helping companies digitalise their businesses by tapping into growing smart-business and smart-living needs.

We continuously seek to leverage the size of our user base and integrated nature of our platforms to build up user traffic for our new services and products, as well as drive revenue growth from VAS, online advertising and FinTech and business services. In addition, our large and logged-in user base and our leadership in mobile payment services also makes our platforms more attractive to online advertisers and merchant partners.

We generate VAS revenues from user subscriptions and item-based sales. We believe that the size of our user base also serves as the foundation for converting non-paying users into paying users. We have accumulated expertise in cross-marketing our services and products across our massive user base and have been successful in migrating a large number of our users for QQ and Weixin and other free services to fee-based services and products such as QQ Membership, video and music subscription services. In addition, through creating a highly engaging and interactive social experience, we also generate revenues from selling virtual items and gifts. Our diverse collection of content, including differentiated and exclusive content, on our major digital media platforms, including video, music, literature and others, help attract users and drive conversion into paying users. Our ability to secure high quality and wide ranging content that match users' tastes and preferences will affect the monetisation capability and financial performance of our digital media platforms. These in turn help to support the growth of our VAS revenues.

We have also monetised user traffic generated from our various digital media and social platforms through online advertising. Through leveraging our comprehensive ecosystem, scale and data insights, we drive relevant and targeted advertising to generate higher returns for advertisers. Leveraging our data and technology, we believe we have taken substantial market share in ad networks, where we have experienced robust revenue growth and improved operating margin.

For our FinTech business, we also strive to increase user engagement and monetisation of our vast user base. Our payment service has expanded from social and entertainment to commercial activities, and from online to offline transactions. Combined with our cloud services business, we provide infrastructure support and mobile payment tools through Weixin Pay and QQ Wallet to connect merchants and consumers. As such, our commercial payment transaction volume is growing rapidly, which drives our revenue from FinTech services through commissions from payment by merchants. Our large user base and high traffic also brought increasing demands for our other FinTech services, such as wealth management, which increased our commission-based revenue from such services. For our cloud services, revenue exceeded RMB17 billion, and our number of paying customers exceeded 1 million in 2019. We mainly charge our enterprise customers on either a subscription or consumption basis.

Ability to maintain our market position and enhance our brand

We have capitalised on our early-mover advantage and have established a strong market position and built a brand name widely recognised by consumers and industry participants. Users may select our platforms, products and services because of our existing market position and brand reputation. For example, QQ is a widely recognised brand in China and users seeking to join a communication and social platform will likely consider QQ as their primary choice because of the brand recognition and market leading position. Similarly, Weixin/WeChat has become the leading mobile communication and social platform in China. In January 2017, Weixin/WeChat launched Weixin Mini Programs, which helped our users access low-frequency use cases, offline services and accessible, lightweight introductions to third party services.

We have also maintained our leadership in the online games market in China and globally leveraging the success of our in-house and licensed titles. The top smart phone game in China, Honour of Kings, was developed by our in-house games studio, Timi Studios, and the top PC client game in China, League of Legends, was developed in-house by our subsidiary, Riot Games. Leveraging our flagship games franchises, we strengthened our eSports global leadership with LoL's World Championship and Honour of Kings' King Pro League, which were the most watched events for PC and smart phone games, respectively in 2019. We reinforced our position as the preferred Chinese publisher for local and overseas game developers, including Electronic Arts, Activision Blizzard, Take2 and Nexon for PC client games, as well as Shengqu Games, Changyou, Giant Interactive and Kingsoft for smart phone games. Internationally, we expanded our presence through investments, acquisitions and overseas subsidiaries such as Supercell and Riot Games, and we also published some internally developed smart phone games globally. Our capability of maintaining the large user base and deepening user engagement of our communication and social platforms are the keys to our ability to compete effectively and maintain our leading brand and market position as well as attract and expand relationships with our advertising customers and, in turn, grow our revenues.

With our expanding user base, our diverse products and platforms have gained considerable influence in wider society. Our products and platforms may be subject to increased scrutiny. As a response, we have implemented our upgraded Healthy Gameplay System in online games. The system has resulted in minors spending significantly less time in the affected games without a material impact on time spent by adult players.

Ability to develop, acquire and licence content and applications

In order to attract and maintain usage of our platforms, we need to develop, acquire and licence relevant content and applications for our users. Our ability to maintain existing licence arrangements, procure new licence arrangements and develop relevant content and applications will affect our users' engagement and usage of our platforms. We have devoted significant resources to the research and development of content and applications in order to keep our existing platforms relevant and attractive to users. As we seek to expand our business lines and diversify our portfolio of services and products, our ability to manage and control our third party content and applications costs while maintaining the high quality and attractiveness of our content and applications will continue to affect our results of operations going forward.

Ability to maintain relationships with strategic partners

We derive value and benefits from our co-operative arrangements with a number of online game developers, content providers, application developers, application store operators (including Apple iOS application store and other Android application stores), device manufacturers, merchants, suppliers, advertising agencies and telecommunications operators. The VAS fees are paid directly by end users mainly via online payment channels. A portion of the fees for our VAS is collected through the networks of China Mobile, China Unicom and China Telecom through revenue sharing arrangements that are periodically renewed. We have adopted an open platform strategy and many of our platforms, including QQ, Qzone, WeGame, Weixin/WeChat, and YingYongBao, support third party applications. We also have arrangements with advertising agencies. Our relationship with various content providers, including writers, music labels and video production studios, is critical for us to secure access to high quality copyrighted content on our media platforms.

The content costs (excluding amortisation of intangible assets), plus channel and distribution costs and bandwidth and server custody fees, were RMB64,489 million for the year ended 31 December 2017. The content costs (excluding amortisation of intangible assets), plus transaction costs and bandwidth and server custody fees (excluding depreciation of right-of-use assets), were RMB124,855 million, RMB150,307 million, RMB33,798 million and RMB39,116 million (US$5,524 million) for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.

Our ability to maintain existing, as well as to develop and foster new, strategic partnerships will be significant factors to strengthen our ability to meet the increasingly complex demands of our users and customers, expand our distribution channels and diversify our revenue streams.

Ability to continue offering services and products that are attractive to users

Our financial condition and results of operations depend on the attractiveness and demand for our service and product offerings. The rapid evolution of available technologies and infrastructure in the Internet and telecommunications industries, such as the expansion of advanced mobile data platforms, may allow us to deliver more innovative product and service offerings to our users.

Online games represent one of the key growth drivers for our VAS business. We must continue to diversify our game portfolio and broaden our user base through the introduction of new game titles, new expansion packs and new play-modes that can increase the lifespans of our popular smart phone game titles and further increase monetisation. We also strive to leverage our platforms to accelerate the growth of smart phone games, while reinforcing our leadership in PC client games. We must also identify and offer new game genres that can capture the growth potential of the industry in order to achieve sustainable growth of our online game business.

Our social networks also represent a key growth driver for our VAS business. To maintain our leadership position and financial success of our social platforms, we must continue to secure high quality, relevant and diverse digital content that is attractive to our users. For instance, TME has strategic distribution agreements with the three largest global music labels, namely Universal Music Group, Warner Music Group and Sony Music Group.

Ability to innovate and compete effectively against market competitors

The Internet industry is highly competitive, innovative and ever-changing due to the relatively low entry barrier and evolving preferences of users. Therefore, one of our challenges is to attract new users while maintaining our existing market share. Absence of new technology and product innovation would impair our core competitiveness compared with our competitors.

We focus on user experience by keeping track of the development of new technologies in a timely manner, capturing changes in user experience, and continuously developing products to meet the expectations of the market. In addition, as a proponent of “Internet+” and Industrial Internet and in order to foster its leading position in the industry, we have established a number of open platforms and strengthened our cooperation with business partners with the aim of enhancing mutual benefit.

We not only encourage our employees to innovate, but also allocate considerable resources to the research and development of new technologies and the optimisation of product features as well as enhancement of user experience of products.

A number of large competing ecosystems have emerged in China, built around industry leaders with significant scale. Competition from large technology ecosystems in China could have an impact on our performance. We enjoy a competitive advantage of having a massive and highly engaged user base, differentiated and wide ranging content and service offering, as well as strong financial, operational and technology capabilities.

PRC regulations affecting the Internet and telecommunications industries

As a majority of our operations are located in China, our results of operations, financial condition and prospects are subject to regulatory developments in China. The Internet, telecommunications and other related industries of China are highly regulated. Regulations issued or implemented by the State Council, MIIT, MOC, SAPPRFT and other relevant government authorities cover many aspects of our telecommunications, Internet information and other related services, including entry into the telecommunications industry, the scope of permissible business activities, licences and permits for various business activities and foreign investment. See “General Regulation on Internet and Telecommunications Industries” for further description. For example, because a significant portion of our revenues from products and services rely on large Internet user communities, any regulations that affect Internet access and usage, such as those relating to online game usage, operations of Internet cafes and other establishments, Internet privacy, imported games, mobile subscriber cancellation policies and other regulations, will affect the ways we operate and provide our services and products.

In addition, certain of our Chinese subsidiaries and consolidated controlled entities are qualified as “High and New Technology Enterprises”, “Software Enterprises” or “Key Software Enterprises” and are entitled to certain preferential tax treatments. Any adverse changes in the status of such preferential tax treatments or exemptions would increase the costs of our business.

Macroeconomic conditions in the markets where we operate

Our results of operations and financial condition are affected by economic conditions in China and, to a lesser extent, the economic conditions of the rest of the world. China has experienced rapid economic growth over the past three decades. The growth of the Chinese economy has led to significant increases in personal wealth and per capita annual disposable income which, in turn, has increased demand for VAS and products that we provide in our various business segments.

The continuing maturation of the Chinese economy has been attended by a gradual slowdown in economic growth. Although we strive to price most of our products and services at an affordable level for average users, which also results in our earnings and cash flows being more resilient to economic cycles, macroeconomic conditions such as concerns about the COVID-19 pandemic, potential overinvestment and overleveraging in the Chinese economy, and concerns about a renewed global recession similar to the economic crisis in 2008 and trade disputes, may impact the growth of the Chinese economy and China-focused businesses like us. The advertising industry is particularly sensitive to economic downturns and a negative economic outlook could cause expenditures for Internet access and consumer discretionary spending to decrease, thereby affecting our online advertising businesses. Further, the deterioration in economic conditions in China and globally may harm the business of our customers, especially the enterprise customers, who may experience reduced business volume, and therefore decrease or delay their advertising and marketing spending or reduce their budgets or other spending across our platforms. In addition, there may be delay in the deployment of our cloud projects due to the negative impact on our enterprise customers by the deterioration in economic conditions. Further, it is unclear how Chinese economic conditions could impact PRC regulations, taxation or monetary policies, which could also affect our growth strategies, business operations and access to additional capital.

Recruitment, compensation and retention of employees

The performance of our employees has a significant effect on our business. For example, our senior management team uses its experience and understanding of the Chinese Internet and telecommunications industries, local user preferences and key industry players to formulate future growth strategies and respond to industry changes. Skilled research and development personnel are also critical to our development of new services and products (such as new online games) and leverage upon new technologies and infrastructures.

The number of our full-time employees was 44,796, 54,309, 62,885, 54,623 and 64,238 as at 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and as at 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively. As our workforce expands, we incur additional staff costs as costs of revenues and operating expenses to our business. Our total remuneration costs were RMB34,866 million, RMB42,153 million, RMB53,123 million, RMB11,616 million and RMB15,143 million (US$2,139 million) for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively. To further our growth, we will need to continue to identify, hire, develop, motivate and retain highly skilled personnel for all areas of our organisation and invest in programmes such as training, bonus and share-based compensation, which would further affect our remuneration costs.

BASIS OF PRESENTATION

During the periods presented in the consolidated financial statements, we derived substantially all of our revenues under a series of contractual arrangements between our WFOEs and our consolidated affiliated entities. These contractual arrangements are designed to provide us and the WFOEs with effective control over, and (to the extent permitted by PRC law) the right to acquire the equity interests in and assets of our consolidated affiliated entities. Based on such contractual arrangements, we have concluded that it is appropriate to consolidate the financial statements of our consolidated affiliated entities, notwithstanding the lack of direct share ownership, because, in substance, the contractual arrangements transfer the economic risks and benefits of these consolidated affiliated entities to us.

Our consolidated affiliated entities include, among others, Tencent Computer, Shiji Kaixuan and Beijing Starsinhand Technology Company Limited. See “Risk Factors — Risks Related to our Corporate Structure — If the PRC government finds that the agreements that establish the structure for operating our services in China do not comply with PRC governmental restrictions on foreign investment in Internet businesses, value-added telecommunications businesses or other related businesses, or if these regulations or the interpretation of existing regulations change in the future, we could be subject to severe penalties or be forced to relinquish our interests in those operations” and “Risk Factors — Risks Related to our Corporate Structure — The contractual arrangements with the consolidated affiliated entities and their shareholders, which relate to critical aspects of our operations may not be as effective in providing operational control as direct ownership. In addition, these arrangements may be difficult and costly to enforce under PRC law”.

DESCRIPTION OF SELECTED INCOME STATEMENT LINE ITEMS

Revenues

We generate our revenues primarily from four lines of business:

- VAS;
- FinTech and Business Services;
- Online Advertising; and
- Others.

Our revenues were RMB237,760 million, RMB312,694 million, RMB377,289 million, RMB85,465 million and RMB108,065 million (US$15,262 million) for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively. The following table sets forth our revenues by line of business for the years/ periods indicated:

Note:

- (1) In view of the increased scale and business importance of payments, financial and enterprise-facing activities, and to help investors better understand our revenue structure and margin trends, a new segment named “FinTech and Business Services” has been separated from “Others” segment from the first quarter of 2019 onwards. The new “FinTech and Business Services” segment primarily consists of: (a) payment, wealth management and other FinTech services; and (b) cloud services and other enterprise-facing activities such as our Smart Retail initiative. The comparative figures in 2018 have been restated to conform with the new presentation.

VAS

Revenues from VAS are derived principally from the provisions of online games, privileges subscriptions, digital content services and applications across various online platforms. Our VAS is primarily provided on a subscription basis, per-item basis or revenue share basis.

We derive a substantial portion of online games revenues from virtual item sales. We have an extensive portfolio of market leading game titles across genres on both smart phone and PC. As at 31 March 2020, we had over 40 PC game titles and over 100 smart phone game titles.

We also derive revenues from the massive and engaged user base across our social networks and platforms. Through providing upgrades to higher membership status and more VAS, including QQ Super VIP and QQ Membership subscription services, we generate privilege subscription revenues from membership. In addition, we also generate subscription revenues from offering access to premium digital content and other privileges on our digital content platforms, including QQ Music VIP Membership and Tencent Video VIP Membership. Through creating a highly engaging and interactive social experience, we also generate revenues from selling virtual items and gifts. Another key contributor to our social networks is our revenue derived from item sales which were generated from our application store QQ Game Centre, Weixin Game Centre and YingYongBao as well as live broadcast services and video streaming subscriptions.

Revenues from VAS were RMB153,983 million, RMB176,646 million, RMB199,991 million, RMB48,974 million and RMB62,429 million (US$8,817 million) for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.

For a detailed discussion of how revenues from VAS is recognised in our consolidated financial statements, see “— Critical Accounting Policies, Estimates and Judgments — Revenue Recognition — VAS”.

FinTech and Business Services

FinTech and Business Services revenues mainly comprise revenues derived from provision of FinTech and cloud services. FinTech service revenues mainly include commissions from payment by merchants, wealth management platform and other FinTech services. Cloud services are mainly charged on either a subscription or consumption basis.

Revenues from FinTech and Business Services were included in Others for the year ended 31 December 2017. FinTech and Business Services has been separated from Others segment from the first quarter of 2019 onwards. The comparative figures in 2018 have been restated to conform with the new presentation. Revenues from FinTech and Business Services were RMB73,138 million, RMB101,355 million, RMB21,789 million and RMB26,475 million (US$3,739 million) for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.

For a detailed discussion of how revenues from VAS is recognised in our consolidated financial statements, see “— Critical Accounting Policies, Estimates and Judgments — Revenue Recognition — FinTech and Business Services”.

Online Advertising

Our Online Advertising services primarily comprise social and others advertising and media advertising. Social and others advertising relates to advertising on our social properties, such as QQ KanDian, Kuaibao, Weixin Moments, Weixin Mini Programs, Weixin Official Accounts and Weixin Top Stories, our utilities properties, such as application store and browser, as well as mobile advertising network. Media advertising relates to advertising on our video, news, music, literature and other online media properties. Significant traffic on our various properties offer ample advertising opportunities. Through leveraging our comprehensive ecosystem, scale and data insights, we drive relevant and targeted advertising to generate attractive returns for advertisers.

Revenues from Online Advertising were RMB40,439 million, RMB58,079 million, RMB68,377 million, RMB13,377 million and RMB17,713 million (US$2,502 million) for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.

For a detailed discussion of how revenues from Online Advertising is recognised in our consolidated financial statements, see “— Critical Accounting Policies, Estimates and Judgments — Revenue Recognition — Online Advertising”.

Others

Revenues from our other businesses are primarily derived from production of and distribution of, films and television programmes for third parties, copyrights licensing, merchandise sales and various other activities. Revenues from others were RMB43,338 million (including revenues from FinTech and Business Services for the year ended 31 December 2017), RMB4,831 million, RMB7,566 million, RMB1,325 million and RMB1,448 million (US$204 million) for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.

Cost of revenues

Our cost of revenues was RMB120,835 million, RMB170,574 million, RMB209,756 million, RMB45,645 million and RMB55,271 million (US$7,806 million) for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.

Cost of revenues consists of the direct costs for operating and offering our services and products, which consist primarily of transaction costs, content costs, bandwidth and server custody fees, equipment depreciation and other direct costs. Employee benefits expenses that directly relate to the provision of our services and products are also included in cost of revenues. The following table sets forth our cost of revenues by line of business for the years/ periods indicated:

Interest income

Interest income mainly represents interest income from bank deposits, including bank balance and term deposits.

Other gains, net

Other gains, net consist primarily of net gains/losses on disposals and deemed disposals of investee companies, net fair value gains/losses on FVPL, net fair value gains/losses on other financial instruments, impairment provision/reversal for investee companies and intangible assets arising from acquisitions, subsidies and tax rebates, dividend income, donations and provision/reversal on accounts receivable and other receivables.

Selling and marketing expenses

Selling and marketing expenses primarily consist of costs incurred with our promotional and advertising activities, such as purchasing third party advertising, holding promotion events and related employee benefits expenses. In recent years, our selling and marketing expenses have increased as we continue to launch and promote new services and seek to enhance our brand recognition.

General and administrative expenses

General and administrative expenses primarily consist of research and development expenses, related employee benefits expense, office rental/depreciation of right-of-use assets, travel and entertainment expenses, consulting fees, office maintenance and other general office expenses.

Finance costs, net

Finance costs, net include interest expenses primarily arising from our borrowings, notes payable and lease liabilities, as well as foreign currency exchange gains or losses.

Income tax expense

Income tax expense is recognised based on management's best knowledge of the income tax rates expected for the financial year.

(i) Cayman Islands and British Virgin Islands corporate income tax

We were not subject to any taxation in the Cayman Islands and the British Virgin Islands for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020.

(ii) Hong Kong profit tax

Hong Kong profit tax has been provided for at the rate of 16.5% on the estimated assessable profit for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020.

(iii) PRC corporate income tax

PRC corporate income tax has been provided for at applicable tax rates under the relevant regulations of the PRC after considering the available preferential tax benefits from refunds and allowances, and on the estimated assessable profit of our entities established in Mainland China for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020. The general PRC corporate income tax rate is 25% in 2017, 2018 and 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020.

Certain of our subsidiaries in Mainland China were approved as High and New Technology Enterprise, and accordingly, they were subject to a preferential corporate income tax rate of 15% for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020. Moreover, according to announcement and circular issued by relevant government authorities, certain subsidiaries that qualified as national key software enterprises were subject to a preferential corporate income tax rate of 10%.

In addition, according to relevant tax circulars issued by Mainland China tax authorities, certain subsidiaries of the Company are entitled to other tax concessions, mainly including the preferential policy of “2-year exemption and 3-year half rate concession” and the preferential tax rate of 15% applicable for some subsidiaries located in certain areas of Mainland China upon fulfillment of certain requirements of the respective local governments.

(iv) Corporate income tax in other jurisdictions

Income tax on profit arising from other jurisdictions, including the United States, Europe, East Asia and South America, has been calculated on the estimated assessable profit at the respective rates prevailing in the relevant jurisdictions, ranging from 12.5% to 36% for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020.

(v) Withholding tax

According to applicable tax regulations prevailing in the PRC, dividends distributed by a company established in Mainland China to a foreign investor with respect to profit derived after 1 January 2008 are generally subject to a 10% withholding tax. If a foreign investor is incorporated in Hong Kong, under the double taxation arrangement between Mainland China and Hong Kong, the relevant withholding tax rate applicable to us will be reduced from 10% to 5% subject to the fulfilment of certain conditions.

Dividends distributed from certain jurisdictions that our entities operate in are also subject to withholding tax at respective applicable tax rates.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES, ESTIMATES AND JUDGMENTS

We have identified certain accounting policies that are significant to the preparation of our consolidated financial information. The determination of these accounting policies is fundamental to our financial condition and results of operations, and requires management to make subjective and complex judgments about matters that are inherently uncertain based on information and data that may change in future periods. As a result, determinations regarding these items necessarily involved the use of assumptions and subjective judgments as to future events and are subject to change, and the use of different assumptions or data could produce materially different results. In addition, actual results could differ from estimates and may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the consolidated financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting the estimates may differ significantly from management’s current judgments. We believe the following represents our critical accounting policies, judgments and estimates.

Revenue recognition

We generate revenues primarily from provision of VAS, FinTech and Business Services, Online Advertising services and other online related services in the PRC. Revenue is recognised when the control of the goods or services is transferred to a customer. Depending on the terms of the contract and the laws that apply to the contract, control of the goods and services may be transferred over time or at a point in time.

VAS

Revenues from VAS primarily include revenues from the provision of online games and social networks services. Online games revenues are mainly derived from sales of in-game virtual items, and social networks revenues are mainly derived from sales of virtual products such as VAS subscriptions across various online platforms, and games revenues attributable to social networks business. We offer virtual products/items to users on our online platforms. The VAS fees are paid directly by end users mainly via online payment channels.

Revenue from VAS is recognised when we satisfy its performance obligations by rendering services. Given we have an explicit or implicit obligation to maintain the virtual products/items operated on our platforms and allow users to gain access to them, revenue is recognised over the estimated lifespans of the respective virtual products/items. The estimated lifespans of different virtual products/items are determined by the management based on either the expected user relationship periods or the stipulated period of validity of the relevant virtual products/items depending on the respective term of virtual products/items.

Where the contracts include multiple performance obligations, we allocate the transaction price to each performance obligation on a relative stand-alone selling price basis, which is determined based on the prices charged to or expected to recover from customers.

In respect of our VAS services directly delivered to our customers and paid through various third-party platforms, these third-party platforms collect the relevant service fees (the “Online Service Fees”) on behalf of us and they are entitled to a pre-determined percentage of platform provider fees (as part of “Channel and distribution costs”). Such Channel and distribution costs are withheld and deducted from the gross Online Service Fees collected by these platforms from the users, with the net amounts remitted to us. We recognise the Online Service Fees as revenue on a gross basis, given it acts as the principal in these transactions based on the assessment according to the criteria, and recognise such Channel and distribution costs as cost of revenues.

We also open our online platforms to third-party game/application developers under certain co-operation agreements, of which we pay to the third-party game/application developers a pre-determined percentage of the fees paid by and collected from the users of our online platforms for the virtual products/items purchased. We recognise the related revenue on a gross or net basis depending on whether we are acting as a principal or an agent in the transaction. We adopt different revenue recognition methods based on our specific responsibilities/obligations in different VAS offerings.

FinTech and Business Services

FinTech and Business Services revenues mainly comprise revenues derived from provision of FinTech and cloud services.

FinTech service revenues mainly include commissions from payment by merchants, wealth management platform and other FinTech services, which is generally determined as a percentage based on the value of transaction amount or retention amount. Revenue related to such commissions is recognised upon a time when performance obligations are satisfied by rendering services.

Cloud services are mainly charged on either a subscription or consumption basis. For cloud service contracts billed based on a fixed amount for a specified service period, revenue is recognised over the subscribed period when the services are delivered to customers. For cloud service provided on a consumption basis, revenue is recognised based on the customer utilisation of the resources. When a cloud-based service includes multiple performance obligations, we allocate the transaction price to each performance obligation on a relative stand-alone selling price basis, which is determined based on the prices charged to or expected to recover from customers.

Online Advertising

Online Advertising revenues mainly comprise revenues derived from media advertisements and from social and others advertisements, depending on the placement of advertising properties and inventories.

Advertising contracts are signed to establish the prices and advertising services to be provided based on different arrangements, including display-based advertising that are display of advertisements for an agreed period of time, and performance-based advertising.

Revenue from display-based advertising is recognised on number of display/impression basis, or ratably over the respective contractual term with the advertisers or their advertising agencies depending on the contractual measures. Revenue from performance-based advertising is recognised when relevant specific performance measures are fulfilled. Where the contracts include multiple performance obligations, we allocate the transaction price to each performance obligation on a relative stand-alone selling price basis, which is determined based on the prices charged to or expected to recover from customers.

Other revenues

Our other revenues are primarily derived from production of and distribution of, films and television programmes for third parties, copyrights licensing, merchandise sales and various other activities. We recognise other revenues when the respective services are rendered, or when the control of the products are transferred to customers.

Share-based compensation benefits

We operate a number of share-based compensation plans (including share option schemes and share award schemes), under which we receive services from employees and other qualifying participants as consideration for our equity instruments (including share options and awarded shares). The fair value of the employee services and other qualifying participants' services received in exchange for the grant of our equity instruments is recognised as an expense over the vesting period, i.e. the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied and credited to equity.

For grant of share options, the total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the fair value of the options granted by using option-pricing model, "Enhanced FAS 123" binomial model (the "Binomial Model"), which includes the impact of market performance conditions (such as our share price) but excludes the impact of service condition and non-market performance conditions. For grant of award shares, the total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the market price of our shares at the grant date. We also adopt valuation techniques to assess the fair value of our other equity instruments granted under the share-based compensation plans as appropriate.

Non-market performance and service conditions are included in assumptions about the number of options that are expected to become vested.

From our perspective, we grant our equity instruments to employees of our subsidiaries in exchange for their services related to the subsidiaries. Accordingly, the share-based compensation expenses are treated as part of the "Investments in subsidiaries" in our statement of financial position.

At each reporting period end, we revise our estimates of the number of options and awarded shares that are expected to ultimately vest. We recognise the impact of the revision to original estimates, if any, in our consolidated income statement, with a corresponding adjustment to equity.

When the options are exercised, the proceeds received net of any directly attributable transaction costs are credited to share capital (nominal value) and share premium.

If we repurchase vested equity instruments, the payment made to the employees and other qualifying participants shall be accounted for as a deduction from equity, except to the extent that the payment exceeds the fair value of the equity instruments repurchased, measured at the repurchase date. Any such excess shall be recognised as an expense.

If the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, at a minimum an expense is recognised as if the terms had not been modified. An additional expense is recognised for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based payment arrangement, or is otherwise beneficial to the employees and other qualifying participants, as measured at the date of modification.

Cash-settled share-based payment transactions are those arrangements which the terms provide us to settle the transaction in cash. Upon the vesting conditions, if any, are met, we shall account for that transaction as a cash-settled share-based payment transaction if, and to the extent that, we have incurred a liability to settle in cash.

For cash-settled share-based payments, a liability equal to the portion of the services received is recognised at the current fair value determined at the end of the reporting period. We adopt valuation technique to assess the fair value of such equity instruments granted under the share-based compensation plans as appropriate.

Income taxes

We are subject to income taxes in numerous jurisdictions. Significant judgment is required in determining the worldwide provision for income taxes. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact current income tax and deferred income tax in the period in which such determination is made.

Recoverability of non-financial assets

We test annually whether goodwill has suffered any impairment. Goodwill and other non-financial assets, mainly including property, plant and equipment, construction in progress, other intangible assets, investment properties, land use rights, right-of-use assets, as well as investments in associates and joint ventures are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. The recoverable amounts have been determined based on value-in-use calculations or fair value less costs to sell. These calculations require the use of judgments and estimates.

Judgment is required to identify any impairment indicators existing for any of our goodwill, other non-financial assets to determine appropriate impairment approaches, i.e., fair value less costs of disposal or value in use, for impairment review purposes, and to select key assumptions applied in the adopted valuation models, including discounted cash flows and market approach. Changing the assumptions selected by management in assessing impairment could materially affect the result of the impairment test and in turn affect our financial condition and results of operations. If there is a significant adverse change in the key assumptions applied, it may be necessary to take additional impairment charge to the consolidated income statement.

Fair value measurement of FVPL, FVOCI and other financial liabilities

The fair value assessment of FVPL, FVOCI and other financial liabilities that are measured at level 3 fair value hierarchy requires significant estimates, which include risk-free rates, expected volatility, relevant underlying financial projections, market information of recent transactions (such as recent fund raising transactions undertaken by the investees) and other assumptions. Changes in these assumptions and estimates could materially affect the respective fair value of these investments.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Three Months Ended 31 March 2020 Compared to Three Months Ended 31 March 2019

Revenues. Revenues increased by RMB22,600 million, or 26%, from RMB85,465 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB108,065 million (US$15,262 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020.

The following table sets forth our revenues by line of business for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020:

	Three months ended 31 March
	(Unaudited)		(Unaudited)

FinTech and Business Services	21,789	25%	26,475	3,739	25%
Online Advertising	13,377	16%	17,713	2,502	16%
Others	1,325	2%	1,448	204	1%
Total revenues	85,465	100%	108,065	15,262	100%

Revenues from VAS increased by RMB13,455 million, or 27%, from RMB48,974 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB62,429 million (US$8,817 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. Online games revenues grew by 31% to RMB37,298 million (US$5,268 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. The increase primarily reflected revenue contributions from domestic smart phone games such as Peacekeeper Elite and Honour of Kings, as well as increased contributions from our overseas titles including PUBG Mobile and Clash of Clans, partly offset by lower revenues from PC client games such as Dungeon and Fighter. Total smart phone games revenues (including smart phone games revenues attributable to our social networks business) were RMB34,756 million (US$4,908 million) and PC client games revenues were RMB11,795 million (US$1,666 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. Social networks revenues increased by 23% to RMB25,131 million (US$3,549 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. The increase was primarily driven by greater revenue contributions from in-game virtual item sales as well as digital content services including music streaming and video streaming subscriptions.

Revenues from FinTech and Business Services increased by RMB4,686 million, or 22%, from RMB21,789 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB26,475 million (US$3,739 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. The increase was primarily due to revenue growth from commercial payment and wealth management platform, as well as greater revenue contributions from cloud services capturing opportunities in verticals including video, education and retail sectors.

Revenues from Online Advertising increased by RMB4,336 million, or 32%, from RMB13,377 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB17,713 million (US$2,502 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. Social and others advertising revenues grew by 47% to RMB14,592 million (US$2,061 million). The increase mainly reflected higher advertising revenues derived from increased inventories and impressions from our mobile advertising network and Weixin Moments. Media advertising revenues decreased by 10% to RMB3,121 million (US$441 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. The decrease was primarily due to lower revenues from our video and news platforms as a result of weak macro-economic conditions and suspension of sports events.

Cost of revenues. Cost of revenues increased by RMB9,626 million, or 21%, from RMB45,645 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB55,271 million (US$7,806 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. The increase was mainly driven by greater costs of FinTech services, channel costs as well as server and bandwidth costs. As a percentage of revenues, cost of revenues decreased to 51% for the three months ended 31 March 2020 from 53% for the three months ended 31 March 2019.

The following table sets forth our cost of revenues by line of business for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020:

	(Unaudited)		(Unaudited)
	Amount	% of segment revenues	Amount	Amount	% of segment revenues
(RMB in millions)		(RMB in millions)	(US$ in millions)
VAS	20,781	42%	25,577	3,612	41%
FinTech and Business Services	15,581	72%	19,093	2,696	72%
Online Advertising	7,776	58%	9,003	1,271	51%
Others	1,507	114%	1,598	227	110%
Total cost of revenues	45,645		55,271	7,806

Cost of revenues for VAS increased by RMB4,796 million, or 23%, from RMB20,781 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB25,577 million (US$3,612 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. The increase was mainly due to greater content and channel costs for smart phone games as well as higher server and bandwidth costs, as our users consumed more entertainment services during the stay-at-home period.

Cost of revenues for FinTech and Business Services increased by RMB3,512 million, or 23%, from RMB15,581 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB19,093 million (US$2,696 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. The increase mainly reflected the greater scale of our commercial payment and cloud businesses.

Cost of revenues for Online Advertising increased by RMB1,227 million, or 16%, from RMB7,776 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB9,003 million (US$1,271 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. The increase was mainly driven by greater traffic acquisition costs, as well as server and bandwidth costs, partly offset by lower content costs for video advertising due to delays in airing of variety shows.

Gross profit. Gross profit increased by RMB12,974 million, or 33%, from RMB39,820 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB52,794 million (US$7,456 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. Our gross margin was 49% for the three months ended 31 March 2020 as compared to 47% for the three months ended 31 March 2019.

Interest income. Interest income increased by RMB228 million, or 16%, from RMB1,408 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB1,636 million (US$231 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020.

Other gains, net. We recorded net other gains of RMB4,037 million (US$570 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020, which mainly comprised of non-IFRS adjustment items including net gains on disposals of certain investee companies, as well as net fair value gains on investee companies. Such gains were partially offset by RMB2,600 million (US$367 million) of donations we made primarily to combat the pandemic globally.

Selling and marketing expenses. Selling and marketing expenses increased by RMB2,805 million, or 66%, from RMB4,244 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB7,049 million (US$996 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. The increase was mainly due to greater marketing spending for some of our newer services including Weishi, arising from its marketing campaigns during the Chinese New Year. As a percentage of revenues, selling and marketing expenses increased to 7% for the three months ended 31 March 2020 from 5% for the three months ended 31 March 2019.

General and administrative expenses. General and administrative expenses increased by RMB2,827 million, or 25%, from RMB11,331 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB14,158 million (US$1,999 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. The increase mainly reflected greater R&D expenses and staff costs. As a percentage of revenues, general and administrative expenses were 13% for the three months ended 31 March 2020, broadly stable year-on-year.

Operating profit. Operating profit increased by RMB518 million, or 1%, from RMB36,742 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB37,260 million (US$5,262 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020.

Finance costs, net. Net finance costs increased by RMB567 million, or 51%, from RMB1,117 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB1,684 million (US$238 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. The increase was primarily driven by greater interest expenses as a result of higher amount of indebtedness.

Share of losses of associates and joint ventures. We recorded share of losses of associates and joint ventures of RMB281 million (US$40 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020, compared to share of losses of RMB2,957 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019. The change was mainly due to non-IFRS adjustment items of certain associates.

Profit before income tax. Profit before income tax increased by RMB2,627 million, or 8%, from RMB32,668 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB35,295 million (US$4,984 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020.

Income tax expense. Income tax expense was RMB5,892 million (US$832 million) and RMB4,812 million for the three months ended 31 March 2020 and 2019 respectively.

Profit for the period. As a result of the factors discussed above, profit for the period increased by RMB1,547 million, or 6%, from RMB27,856 million for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to RMB29,403 million (US$4,152 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020. Our profit margin decreased from 33% for the three months ended 31 March 2019 to 27% for the three months ended 31 March 2020.

Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company. Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company increased by 6% to RMB28,896 million (US$4,081 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020 on a year-on-year basis. Non-IFRS profit attributable to equity holders of the Company² increased by 29% year-on-year to RMB27,079 million (US$3,824 million) for the three months ended 31 March 2020.

² Non-IFRS profit attributable to equity holders of the Company represents the profit attributable to equity holders of the Company after adjusting for share-based compensation, net (gains)/losses from investee companies, amortisation of intangible assets, impairment provisions and the related income tax effects.

Revenues. Revenues increased by 21% to RMB377,289 million for the year ended 31 December 2019 on a year-on-year basis.

Note:

- (1) In view of the increased scale and business importance of payments, financial and enterprise-facing activities, and to help investors better understand our revenue structure and margin trends, a new segment named “FinTech and Business Services” has been separated from “Others” segment from the first quarter of 2019 onwards. The new “FinTech and Business Services” segment primarily consists of the financials of: (a) payment, wealth management and other FinTech services; and (b) cloud services and other enterprise-facing activities such as our Smart Retail initiative. The comparative figures in 2018 have been restated to conform with the new presentation.

Revenues from VAS business increased by 13% year-on-year to RMB199,991 million for the year ended 31 December 2019. Online games revenues grew by 10% to RMB114,710 million for the year ended 31 December 2019. The increase was primarily due to revenue contributions from domestic smart phone games including Honour of Kings and Peacekeeper Elite, as well as increased contributions from our overseas titles such as PUBG Mobile and Supercell titles, partly offset by the revenue decline from PC client games such as Dungeon and Fighter. Social networks revenues increased by 17% to RMB85,281 million for the year ended 31 December 2019. The increase mainly reflected revenue growth from digital content services such as live broadcast services and video streaming subscriptions.

Revenues from FinTech and Business Services increased by 39% year-on-year to RMB101,355 million for the year ended 31 December 2019. The increase was primarily driven by greater revenues from commercial payment due to increased daily active consumers and number of transactions per user. Greater revenues from cloud services also contributed to the annual growth.

Revenues from Online Advertising business increased by 18% year-on-year to RMB68,377 million for the year ended 31 December 2019. Social and others advertising revenues grew by 33% to RMB52,897 million for the year ended 31 December 2019. The increase mainly reflected higher advertising revenues derived from Weixin (primarily Weixin Moments and Mini Programs) as a result of its increased inventories and impressions, as well as contributions from our mobile advertising network due to increased traffic and video inventories. Media advertising revenues decreased by 15% to RMB15,480 million for the year ended

31 December 2019. The decrease was primarily due to lower advertising revenues from our media platforms including Tencent Video and Tencent News resulting from unpredictability in broadcast schedules and the challenging macro-environment, as well as the absence of the FIFA World Cup in year 2019.

Cost of revenues. Cost of revenues increased by 23% year-on-year to RMB209,756 million for the year ended 31 December 2019. The increase primarily reflected greater content costs, costs of FinTech services and channel costs. As a percentage of revenues, cost of revenues increased to 56% for the year ended 31 December 2019 from 55% for the year ended 31 December 2018.

Note:

(1) In view of the increased scale and business importance of payments, financial and enterprise-facing activities, and to help investors better understand our revenue structure and margin trends, a new segment named “FinTech and Business Services” has been separated from “Others” segment from the first quarter of 2019 onwards. The new “FinTech and Business Services” segment primarily consists of: (a) payment, wealth management and other FinTech services; and (b) cloud services and other enterprise-facing activities such as our Smart Retail initiative. The comparative figures in 2018 have been restated to conform with the new presentation.

Cost of revenues for VAS increased by 27% year-on-year to RMB94,086 million for the year ended 31 December 2019. The increase was mainly due to greater content costs for services and products such as live broadcast services, online games and video streaming subscriptions, as well as channel costs for smart phone games.

Cost of revenues for FinTech and Business Services increased by 35% year-on-year to RMB73,831 million for the year ended 31 December 2019. The increase primarily reflected greater costs of payment-related and cloud services due to the enhanced scale of our payment and cloud activities.

Cost of revenues for Online Advertising decreased by 6% year-on-year to RMB34,860 million for the year ended 31 December 2019. The decrease was mainly driven by lower content costs for our advertising-funded long form video service resulting from fewer content releases and improved cost efficiency, partly offset by other cost items.

Other gains, net. We recorded net other gains totalling RMB19,689 million for the year ended 31 December 2019, which primarily comprised of non-IFRS adjustment items such as fair value gains arising from increased valuations for certain investee companies in verticals such as FinTech services, social media and education, as well as net deemed disposal gains arising from the capital activities of certain investee companies in verticals including transportation services and online games.

Selling and marketing expenses. Selling and marketing expenses decreased by 12% to RMB21,396 million for the year ended 31 December 2019 on a year-on-year basis. The decrease was mainly due to the reduction of advertising and promotion expenses as a result of improved operational efficiencies. As a percentage of revenues, selling and marketing expenses decreased to 6% for the year ended 31 December 2019 from 8% for the year ended 31 December 2018.

General and administrative expenses. General and administrative expenses increased by 29% to RMB53,446 million for the year ended 31 December 2019 on a year-on-year basis. The increase was primarily driven by greater R&D expenses and staff costs. As a percentage of revenues, general and administrative expenses increased to 14% for the year ended 31 December 2019 from 13% for the year ended 31 December 2018.

Finance costs, net. Net finance costs increased by 63% to RMB7,613 million for the year ended 31 December 2019 on a year-on-year basis. The increase primarily reflected greater interest expenses resulting from higher amounts of indebtedness.

Share of (loss)/profit of associates and joint ventures. We recorded share of losses of associates and joint ventures of RMB1,681 million for the year ended 31 December 2019, compared to share of profit of RMB1,487 million for the year ended 31 December 2018. The change was mainly due to non-cash charges booked by certain associates.

Income tax expense. Income tax expense decreased by 7% to RMB13,512 million for the year ended 31 December 2019 on a year-on-year basis. The decrease mainly reflected the entitlements of preferential tax treatments and benefits.

Profit for the year. As a result of the factors discussed above, profit for the year increased by RMB15,904 million, or 20%, from RMB79,984 million for the year ended 31 December 2018 to RMB95,888 million for the year ended 31 December 2019. Our profit margin decreased from 26% for the year ended 31 December 2018 to 25% for the year ended 31 December 2019.

Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company. Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company increased by 19% to RMB93,310 million for the year ended 31 December 2019 on a year-on-year basis. Non-IFRS profit attributable to equity holders of the Company increased by 22% to RMB94,351 million for the year ended 31 December 2019.

Online games revenues grew by 6% to RMB103,992 million for the year ended 31 December 2018. The increase primarily reflected growth in revenues from our existing smart phone games such as Honour of Kings and QQ Speed Mobile, and new titles such as MU Awakening and QQ Dancers Mobile. Revenues from our PC client games decreased mainly due to users’ time shift to smart phone games although some individual PC games performed robustly. Social networks revenues increased by 30% to RMB72,654 million. The increase was mainly due to higher contributions from our digital content services such as live broadcast services and video streaming subscriptions, as well as from in-game virtual item sales.

Revenues from Online Advertising business increased by RMB17,640 million, or 44%, from RMB40,439 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 to RMB58,079 million for the year ended 31 December 2018. Social and others advertising revenues increased by 55% to RMB39,773 million. The increase mainly reflected higher advertising revenues derived from Weixin Moments, Weixin Mini Programs and our mobile advertising network. Media advertising revenues grew by 23% to RMB18,306 million. The increase was primarily driven by greater advertising revenues from Tencent Video.

Revenues from Others increased by RMB34,631 million, or 80%, from RMB43,338 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 to RMB77,969 million for the year ended 31 December 2018. The increase was mainly due to revenue growth from our FinTech and cloud services.

Cost of revenues. Cost of revenues increased by RMB49,739 million, or 41%, from RMB120,835 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 to RMB170,574 million for the year ended 31 December 2018. The increase primarily reflected greater content costs, costs of FinTech services, and channel costs. As a percentage of revenues, cost of revenues increased to 55% for the year ended 31 December 2018 from 51% for the year ended 31 December 2017.

The following table sets forth our cost of revenues by line of business for the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2018:

The increase was mainly due to greater content costs for services and products including live broadcast, video streaming subscriptions and online games, as well as higher channel costs for our smart phone games.

Cost of revenues for Online Advertising increased by RMB11,687 million, or 46%, from RMB25,586 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 to RMB37,273 million for the year ended 31 December 2018. The increase was primarily driven by greater content costs, traffic acquisition costs and advertising commissions.

Cost of revenues for Others increased by RMB25,480 million, or 75%, from RMB33,860 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 to RMB59,340 million for the year ended 31 December 2018, mainly reflecting the increased scale of our FinTech and cloud services.

Other gains, net. We recorded net other gains totalling RMB16,714 million for the year ended 31 December 2018. There were increases in valuations for certain investee companies, including a fair value gain from Meituan Dianping upon its IPO, partly offset by impairment provisions for certain other investee companies.

Selling and marketing expenses. Selling and marketing expenses increased by RMB6,581 million, or 37%, from RMB17,652 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 to RMB24,233 million for the year ended 31 December 2018. The increase was mainly driven by greater marketing spending on services and products such as digital content services, FinTech services and smart phone games. As a percentage of revenues, selling and marketing expenses increased to 8% for the year ended 31 December 2018 from 7% for the year ended 31 December 2017.

General and administrative expenses. General and administrative expenses increased by RMB8,471 million, or 26%, from RMB33,051 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 to RMB41,522 million for the year ended 31 December 2018. The increase mainly reflected greater R&D expenses and staff costs as a result of our expanded business volume. As a percentage of revenues, general and administrative expenses decreased to 13% for the year ended 31 December 2018 from 14% for the year ended 31 December 2017.

Finance costs, net. Net finance costs increased by RMB1,761 million, or 61%, from RMB2,908 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 to RMB4,669 million for the year ended 31 December 2018. The increase primarily reflected greater interest expenses driven by higher amount of indebtedness.

Profit before income tax. Profit before income tax increased by RMB6,251 million, or 7%, from RMB88,215 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 to RMB94,466 million for the year ended 31 December 2018.

Income tax expense. Income tax expense decreased by RMB1,262 million, or 8%, from RMB15,744 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 to RMB14,482 million for the year ended 31 December 2018. The decrease was mainly due to the entitlements of preferential tax treatments and benefits.

Profit for the year. As a result of the factors discussed above, profit for the year increased by RMB7,513 million, or 10%, from RMB72,471 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 to RMB79,984 million for the year ended 31 December 2018. Our profit margin decreased from 30% for the year ended 31 December 2017 to 26% for the year ended 31 December 2018.

Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company. Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company increased by RMB7,209 million, or 10%, from RMB71,510 million for the year ended 31 December 2017 to RMB78,719 million for the year ended 31 December 2018.

QUARTERLY RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following table presents our unaudited quarterly results of operations for the most recent eight quarters. You should read the table in conjunction with the consolidated financial information contained elsewhere in this Offering Circular. This table includes all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments that we consider necessary to fairly present results of operations for the quarters presented. Results of operations for any quarter are not necessarily indicative of results for any future quarters or full year.

Note:

- (1) In view of the increased scale and business importance of payments, financial and enterprise-facing activities, and to help investors better understand our revenue structure and margin trends, a new segment named “FinTech and Business Services” has been separated from “Others” segment from the first quarter of 2019 onwards. The new “FinTech and Business Services” segment primarily consists of: (a) payment, wealth management and other FinTech services; and (b) cloud services and other enterprise-facing activities such as our Smart Retail initiative. The comparative figures in 2018 have been restated to conform with the new presentation.

We experienced growth in our quarterly revenues for the eight quarters in the period from 1 April 2018 to 31 March 2020.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

On a consolidated basis, we currently fund our operations primarily with cash flows from operating activities. Our cash requirements relate primarily to:

- our working capital requirements, such as transaction costs, content costs (excluding amortisation of intangible assets), employee benefits expenses, bandwidth and server custody fees (excluding depreciation of right-of-use assets), sales and marketing expenses, as well as research and development expenses; and
- costs associated with the expansion of our business.

We had cash and cash equivalents of RMB105,697 million, RMB97,814 million, RMB132,991 million and RMB135,270 million (US$19,104 million) as at 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and 31 March 2020, respectively. Our term deposits and others included in current and non-current assets were RMB42,540 million, RMB69,305 million, RMB72,270 million and RMB85,314 million (US$12,048 million) as at 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and 31 March 2020, respectively.

We bill and collect revenues for our VAS principally through these prepaid channels: mobile payment solutions (Weixin Pay, QQ Wallet and application store), online banking and our e-sales system. A majority of our revenues from VAS are prepaid, allowing us to minimise our credit risk.

Our accounts receivable were RMB16,549 million, RMB28,427 million, RMB35,839 million and RMB42,869 million (US$6,054 million) as at 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and 31 March 2020, respectively which mainly represented amounts due from online advertising customers and agencies, FinTech and cloud customers, and third party platform providers. Some online advertising customers and agencies are usually granted with a credit period within 90 days immediately following the month-end in which the relevant obligations under the relevant contracted advertising orders are delivered. Third party platform providers usually settle the amounts due by them within 60 days. Other customers, mainly including FinTech and cloud customers, are usually granted with a credit period within 90 days.

Our accounts payable were RMB50,085 million, RMB73,735 million, RMB80,690 million and RMB88,176 million (US$12,453 million) as at 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and 31 March 2020, respectively. We normally settle the amount due to us according to the terms of our contracts.

Cash Flows

The following table sets forth our cash flows information for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020:

QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURE ABOUT FINANCIAL RISK

Foreign exchange risk

We operate internationally and are exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from various currency exposures, primarily with respect to HKD, USD and EUR. Foreign exchange risk arises when future commercial transactions or recognised assets and liabilities are denominated in a currency that is not the respective functional currency of our subsidiaries. Our functional currency and the functional currency for a majority of our overseas subsidiaries is USD whereas the functional currency of our subsidiaries which operate in the PRC is RMB.

We manage our foreign exchange risk by performing regular reviews of our net foreign exchange exposures and try to minimise these exposures by using foreign currency forwards.

During the year ended 31 December 2019, we entered into foreign currency forward contracts in relation to projected purchases that qualify as “high probable” forecast transactions and hence satisfy the requirements for hedge accounting. Under our policy the critical terms of the forwards must align with the hedged items.

We only designate the spot component of foreign currency forwards in hedge relationships. The spot component is determined with reference to relevant spot market exchange rates. The differential between the contracted forward rate and the spot market exchange rate is defined as the forward points. It is discounted, where material.

The changes in the forward element of the foreign currency forwards that relate to hedged items are deferred in the costs of hedging reserve. The effects of the foreign currency related hedging instruments are not material to our consolidated financial statements.

Price risk

We are exposed to equity price risk mainly arising from investments held by us that are classified either as FVPL or FVOCI. To manage this price risk arising from the investments, we diversify our investment portfolio. The investments are made either for strategic purposes, or for the purpose of achieving investment yield and balancing our liquidity level simultaneously. Each investment is managed by senior management on a case by case basis.

Interest rate risk

Our income and operating cash flows are substantially independent from changes in market interest rates and we have no significant interest-bearing assets except for loans to investees and investees' shareholders, term deposits with initial terms of over three months, restricted cash and cash and cash equivalents.

Our exposure to changes in interest rates is also attributable to our borrowings and notes payable, which represent a substantial portion of our debts. Borrowings and notes payable carried at floating rates expose us to cash flow interest-rate risk whereas those carried at fixed rates expose us to fair value interest-rate risk.

We regularly monitor our interest rate risk to identify if there are any undue exposures to significant interest rate movements and manages our cash flow interest rate risk by using interest rate swaps, whenever considered necessary.

During the year ended 31 December 2019, we entered into certain interest rate swap contracts to hedge our exposure arising from our borrowings carried at floating rates. Under these interest rate swap contracts, we agreed with the counterparties to exchange, at specified intervals, the difference between fixed contract rates and floating-rate interest amounts calculated by reference to the agreed notional amounts. These interest rate swap contracts had the economic effect of converting borrowings from floating rates to fixed rates and were qualified for hedge accounting.

Credit risk

We are exposed to credit risk in relation to our cash and deposits placed with banks and financial institutions, accounts receivable, other receivables, as well as short-term investments measured at amortised cost, at FVOCI and at FVPL. The carrying amount of each class of these financial assets represents our maximum exposure to credit risk in relation to the corresponding class of financial assets.

The majority of the balances of accounts receivable are due from advertising customers and agencies, content production related customers, FinTech and cloud customers and third party platform providers. To manage the risk arising from accounts receivable, we have policies in place to ensure that revenues of credit terms are made to counterparties with an appropriate credit history and the management performs ongoing credit evaluations of the counterparties. The credit periods granted to these customers are usually not more than 90 days and the credit quality of these customers are assessed, which takes into account their financial position, past experience and other factors. We have a large number of customers and there is no concentration of credit risk.

Other receivables are mainly comprised of loans to investees and investees' shareholders, rental deposits and other receivables. Management makes periodic collective assessments as well as individual assessment on the recoverability of other receivables based on historical settlement records and past experience.

We consider the probability of default upon initial recognition of asset and whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk on an ongoing basis throughout each of the years. To assess whether there is a significant increase in credit risk, we compare risk of a default occurring on the assets as at year end with the risk of default as at the date of initial recognition. Especially the following indicators are incorporated:

- internal credit rating;
- external credit rating (as far as available);
- actual or expected significant adverse changes in business, financial economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant change to the counterparty's ability to meet its obligations;
- actual or expected significant changes in the operating results of the counterparty; and
- significant changes in the expected performance and behavior of the counterparty, including changes in the payment status of the counterparty.

i. Credit risk of cash and deposits and short-term investments

To manage this risk, we only make transactions with state-owned banks and financial institutions in the PRC and reputable international banks and financial institutions outside of the PRC. There has been no recent history of default in relation to these banks and financial institutions. The expected credit loss is close to zero.

ii. Credit risk of accounts receivable

We apply the simplified approach to provide for expected credit losses prescribed by IFRS 9, which permits the use of the lifetime expected loss provision for all accounts receivable. In view of the sound financial position and collection history of receivables due from these counterparties and insignificant risk of default, to measure the expected credit losses, accounts receivable have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics and the days past due.

The expected loss rates are based on the payment profiles of revenue over 12 months before 31 December 2019 and the corresponding historical credit losses experienced within this period. The historical loss rates are adjusted to reflect current and forward-looking information on macroeconomic factors (such as the GDP of the countries in which it sells its goods and services) affecting the ability of the customers to settle the receivables.

A default on accounts receivable is when the counterparty fails to make contractual payments within 90 days of when they fall due. Accounts receivable are written off, in whole or in part, when it has exhausted all practical recovery efforts and has concluded that there is no reasonable expectation of recovery. Indicators that there is no reasonable expectation of recovery include, amongst others, the failure of a debtor to engage in a repayment plan within us, and a failure to make contractual payments for a period of greater than 3 years past due.

Impairment losses on accounts receivables are presented as net impairment losses within operating profit. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited against the same item.

iii. Credit risk of other receivables

Our management considers the credit risk of other receivables is insignificant when they have a low risk of default and the counterparty has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term, and the loss allowance recognised is therefore limited to 12 months expected losses. In view of insignificant risk of default and credit risk since initial recognition, management believes that the expected credit loss under the 12 months expected losses method is immaterial.

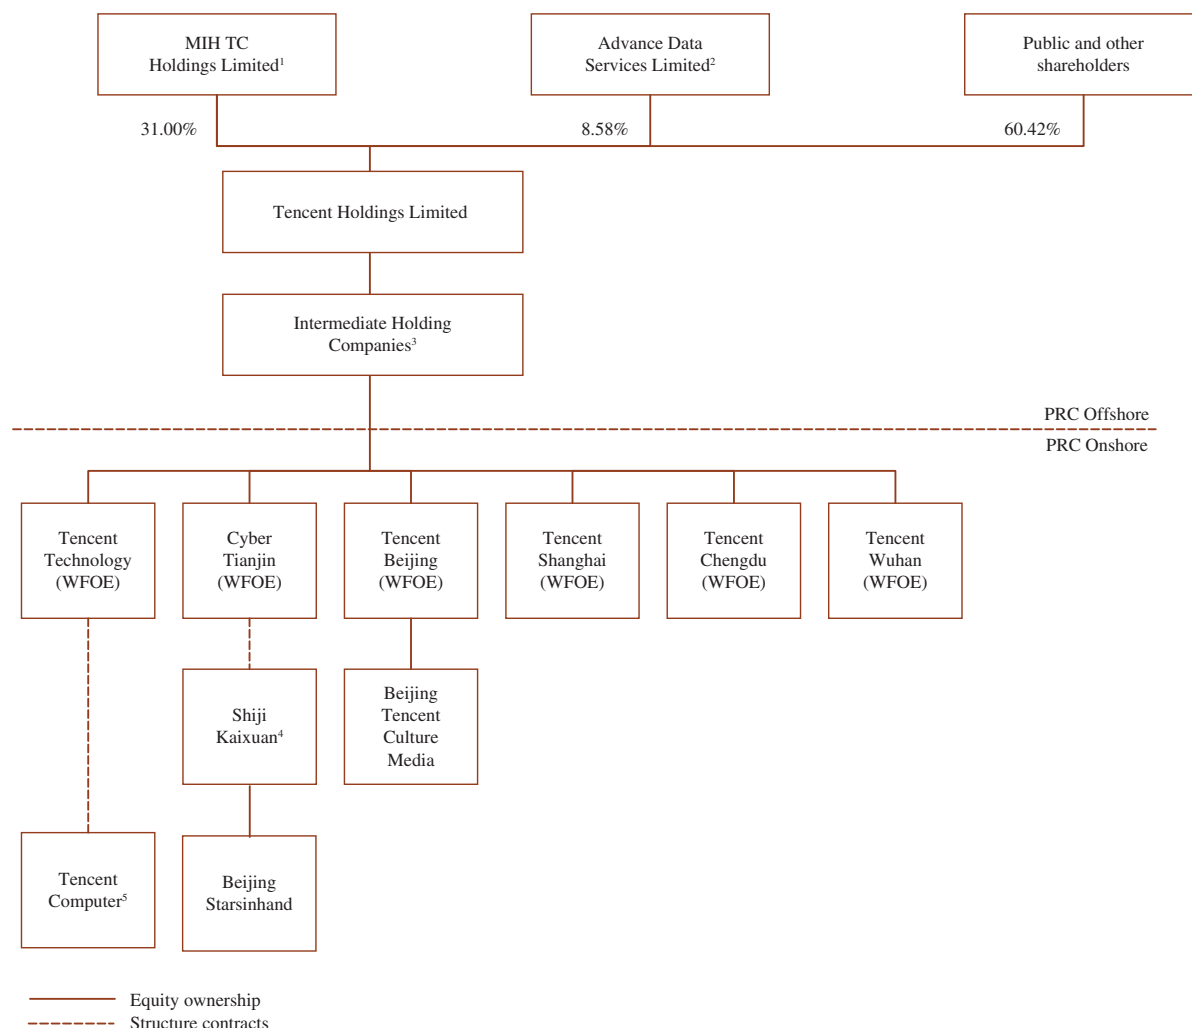

Liquidity risk

We aim to maintain sufficient cash and cash equivalents and readily marketable securities, which are classified as FVPL. Due to the dynamic nature of the underlying businesses, we maintain flexibility in funding by maintaining adequate balances of such.

OUR CORPORATE STRUCTURE

We were incorporated in the BVI on 23 November 1999 as an international business company with limited liability. We redomiciled to the Cayman Islands on 27 February 2004 and continued as an exempted company with limited liability under the Cayman Islands Companies Law.

The following diagram illustrates our principal corporate and share ownership structure as at 31 December 2019.

Note:

- (1) MIH TC Holdings Limited is controlled by Naspers Limited indirectly through its non wholly-owned intermediary companies, Prosus N.V. (formerly known as Myriad International Holdings N.V.) and MIH Services FZ LLC.
- (2) Advance Data Services Limited holds 723,507,500 shares directly and 96,000,000 shares indirectly through its wholly-owned subsidiary, Ma Huateng Global Foundation. Advance Data Services Limited is wholly-owned by Mr Ma Huateng.
- (3) Intermediate Holding Companies include various Group companies established for the purpose of holding interests in various WFOEs as well as other investments of the Group.
- (4) The shareholders are Mr Ma Huateng, Mr Zhang Zhidong, Mr Xu Chenye and Mr Chen Yidan.
- (5) The shareholders are Mr Ma Huateng, Mr Zhang Zhidong, Mr Xu Chenye and Mr Chen Yidan.

We primarily conduct our Chinese operations through our WFOEs, including Tencent Technology, Cyber Tianjin, Tencent Beijing, Tencent Shanghai, Tencent Chengdu and Tencent Wuhan. The Company holds its interests in the WFOEs through certain intermediate holding companies wholly-owned by the Company. Our WFOEs employ a substantial portion of our staff, develop the principal software (other than software acquired from third party providers) for our operations and hold our principal intellectual property rights.

STRUCTURE CONTRACTS

PRC regulations currently restrict foreign ownership of companies that provide Internet services, value-added telecommunications services and other related services. See also “General Regulation on Internet and Telecommunications Industries”. As foreign-invested enterprises, our WFOEs do not have licences to provide Internet content or information services and other value-added telecommunications services. Accordingly, we conduct Internet businesses, our value-added telecommunications businesses and other related businesses mainly through Tencent Computer and other consolidated affiliated entities, under a series of contractual agreements (collectively, the “Structure Contracts”) entered into among shareholders of our consolidated affiliated entities. Tencent Computer is licenced to provide Internet information services, value-added telecommunications services and other related services and operate those services. The shareholders of Tencent Computer are Mr Ma Huateng, Mr Zhang Zhidong, Mr Xu Chenye and Mr Chen Yidan.

As a result of the Structure Contracts, the Group is able to effectively control, and recognise and receive substantially all the economic benefit of the business and operations of, our consolidated affiliated entities. In summary, the Structure Contracts provide the Company through the WFOEs with, among other things:

- the right to receive the cash received by the consolidated affiliated entities from their operations which is surplus to their requirements, having regard to their forecast working capital needs, capital expenditure and other short-term anticipated expenditure through various commercial arrangements;
- the right to ensure that the WFOEs own the valuable assets of the business through the assignment to the WFOEs of the principal present and future intellectual property rights of the consolidated affiliated entities without making any payment; and
- the right to control the management and financial and operating policies of the consolidated affiliated entities.

The Structure Contracts establish a co-operation committee (the “Co-operation Committee”) for each of the consolidated affiliated entities to oversee its business and operations. The Co-operation Committees advise, supervise and effectively control the businesses of the consolidated affiliated entities. Through the Co-operation Committees, the WFOEs advise, supervise and effectively control the business of the consolidated affiliated entities. Under the Structure Contracts, the Co-operation Committees will adopt an internal governance mechanism for payments, expenditure and expenditure-related contracts. Our approval matrix is required to be consistent throughout the Group and can be amended only by the Directors of the Company, and any such amendment applies to all members of the Group.

The Structure Contracts also effectively transfer from the consolidated affiliated entities to the WFOEs all of the cash that is surplus to the requirements of the consolidated affiliated entities, primarily in the form of fees paid for the WFOE’s provision of certain technology and information services to the consolidated affiliated entities under the applicable Structure Contracts between the WFOEs and the consolidated affiliated entities. The Co-operation Committee determines and adjusts periodically the fees to be paid by the consolidated affiliated entities to the WFOEs to ensure that all such surplus cash of the consolidated affiliated entities is transferred to the WFOEs.

These arrangements, taken as a whole, permit the results and financial condition of the consolidated affiliated entities to be consolidated with the Company as if they were subsidiaries of the Company and that the economic benefit of their businesses flows to the Company and the WFOEs.

Our PRC legal counsel, Han Kun Law Offices, is of the opinion that the Structure Contracts setting forth our contractual arrangements among Tencent Technology, Tencent Computer and shareholders of Tencent Computer who are Chinese individuals have been duly authorised, executed and delivered by the applicable Chinese companies and Chinese individuals who are parties thereto and that each of the Structure Contracts (i) constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of the Chinese companies and Chinese individuals who are parties thereto and is enforceable against such parties in accordance with its terms, subject, as to enforceability, to bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent transfer, reorganisation, moratorium and similar laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights and to general equity principles; and (ii) is in compliance with, and does not violate any applicable existing requirements of, PRC Laws. In providing their opinion our counsel has noted that there are ongoing uncertainties and risks in this area as further described under "Risk Factors — Risks Related to our Corporate Structure" and "General Regulation on Internet and Telecommunications Industries".

Our social products link our users to a vast array of best-in-class digital content and multimedia services across the globe. We are the largest online game platform globally by revenues, with 14% global market share in 2019, according to Newzoo. We have developed and published highly popular games in a variety of genres and have expanded into tactical tournaments. During 2019, we experienced rapid growth in our international online game business due to our enhanced development and publishing capability. In addition to establishing our original IP franchises, we have developed external partnerships via a number of new investments in best-in-genre studios. We have also established leading digital content platforms that include video, news, music, literature and others, generating both subscription and usage-based revenues. By driving synergies across our digital content platforms, we have significantly enhanced the value of our IP portfolio. Consequently, our substantial and engaged user base, combined with our unique data insights and advanced digital advertising technology, present an attractive proposition to advertisers.

As an industry leader and global pioneer of innovative technology solutions, our platforms and services connect users, content providers, enterprises and developers. We have built strong relationships with key strategic partners, connecting our own and our partners' quality content and a wide variety of services to consumers. The numerous Weixin/WeChat services, such as Weixin Mini Programs and Weixin Pay, are becoming increasingly interconnected and hubs of mobile connectivity. Weixin Mini Programs connect online and offline services with users on Weixin/WeChat. These services are reshaping the lifestyles of consumers as well as helping companies digitalise their businesses by tapping into growing smart-business and smart-living needs, which covers more offline consumption scenarios, such as retail, healthcare, mobility etc. The number of daily transactions generated within Weixin Mini Programs more than doubled year-on-year, and their transaction value exceeded RMB800 billion in 2019. We have expanded our businesses from the Consumer Internet into the Industrial Internet to help enterprises adapt to the digital economy and optimise operations.

For our FinTech business, our payment service has expanded from social and entertainment to commercial activities, and from online to offline transactions. Our social payment functions such as red packets and bill sharing simplify peer-to-peer transfers, whereas our commercial payment services facilitate fast and seamless experiences for both eCommerce transactions and offline consumption scenarios. As such, our commercial payment transaction volume is growing rapidly and diversifying from large online merchants to small to mid-sized offline merchants. Our mobile payment services also provide a platform for distribution of a variety of FinTech services. Our robust payment infrastructure provides high levels of payment security, service reliability and transaction speed. During 2019, we strengthened our leadership in mobile payment services through deepening our penetration among offline merchants. Our wealth management service and lending services have also experienced rapid growth. Our wealth management platform, LiCaiTong, increased its aggregate customer assets over 50% year-on-year, while its number of customers more than doubled year-on-year in the fourth quarter of 2019 as we expanded into the mass market. Our affiliate WeBank rapidly grew the loan balances of its micro-loan product, WeiLiDai, while maintaining a healthy credit risk performance.

In Business services, we develop and drive adoption of both cloud-based vertical industry solutions and enterprise functional applications, enabling businesses and other partners to better connect with our users, and assisting digitalisation and transformation of the economy. Tencent Cloud is a high-performance cloud service that powers our ecosystem and is offered to third party enterprises to meet their computing and storage infrastructure as well as other technology needs. Tencent Cloud is layered with advanced technologies in cloud computing, data analytics, artificial intelligence, security and location-based services. Our cloud services have enjoyed robust growth and maintain a leading market position in verticals such as online games, video and live broadcast. We have further expanded our cloud-based enterprise services in industry verticals such as Internet services, retail, tourism, municipal services and industrial sectors. As at 31 December 2019, our number of paying customers exceeded 1 million. Our cloud services are the foundation for our smart industry solutions, helping to digitally transform and empower businesses that are conventionally offline. We enhanced our SaaS offerings via our products, e.g. Tencent Meeting and WeChat Work, and external partnerships. We enhanced our cloud services operating efficiency as our scale grew.

Our business provides value for users, application developers, content providers, advertisers, merchants and enterprises in various industries. Currently, we have four lines of business:

- Value-added Services — Our VAS business consists mainly of social networks and online games.
- Social networks — We are a leading provider of social networks in China, with clear leadership in communication and social platforms, including QQ and Weixin/WeChat. Our social networks generate revenues from membership privileges and subscriptions of a diverse and comprehensive range of digital content services such as video, music and literature, as well as virtual item sales and others.
- Online games — We are the largest online games platform in the world by revenues with 14% global market share and 49% China market share in 2019, according to Newzoo and iResearch, respectively. We have strong in-house development capabilities, demonstrated by our highly acclaimed in-house games in a variety of genres such as battle arena (Honour of Kings, League of Legends), racing (QQ Speed Mobile), strategy (King of Chaos) and tactical tournament (PUBG Mobile and Peacekeeper Elite). We are also the partner of choice for game publishers due to our leading distribution capabilities in China and globally.
- Online Advertising — Our online advertising services primarily comprise social and others advertising and media advertising. Social and others advertising relates to advertising on our social properties, such as QQ KanDian, Kuaibao, Weixin Moments, Weixin Mini Programs, Weixin Official Accounts and Weixin Top Stories, our utilities properties, such as application store and browser, as well as mobile advertising network. Media advertising relates to advertising on our video, news, music and other online media properties. Significant traffic on our various properties offers ample advertising opportunities. Through leveraging our comprehensive ecosystem, scale and user insights, we drive relevant and targeted advertising to generate higher returns for advertisers.
- FinTech and Business Services — Our FinTech and Business services mainly comprise FinTech services such as mobile payment, wealth management, lending, and cloud services and other enterprise-facing services. We are a market leading mobile payment platform in China. In the fourth quarter of 2019, our mobile payment services exceeded 1 billion daily average transactions for our commercial payments, covered over 800 million MAU and worked with over 50 million monthly active merchants. We provide enterprises and developers with a suite of cloud based services, including IaaS (such as cloud computing, storage and CDN), PaaS (such as database, video services, data security and artificial intelligence) and SaaS (such as Tencent Meeting, WeChat Work and third party SaaS products).

Our expansive product offerings, advanced technologies and infrastructure services form a hub for fulfilling people's lifestyle needs, including social and communication, entertainment, information, O2O and FinTech services. We further broaden the types and the number of services offered to our users by enabling third parties partners to offer services and products on our platforms. Through strategic partnerships with category leaders, we continue to expand our ecosystem and deepen engagement with our users. We, including our affiliates such as JD.com, Meituan Dianping, Pinduoduo have large platforms across a variety of Internet categories, and collectively we have 14 out of the top 30 applications ranked by DAU in December 2019 in China, according to QuestMobile.

In addition to growing our core businesses organically, we make strategic investments in best-in-class companies. As we focus our management attention and company resources on our own core platforms, we also capture emerging opportunities in adjacent verticals through investee companies. By the end of 2019, over 70 of our investee companies are publicly listed, and more than 160 investee companies valued at over US$1 billion each. We enrich our IP portfolio including games, video, music and literature via upstream investments, and broaden user reach and engagement via investments in vertical platforms. We work with businesses that can expand our offerings to meet evolving user needs, and accelerate the adoption of our enterprise services and products, such as O2O and smart retail companies, which has helped expand our payment service penetration and advertiser base. We use investments as a tool for better understanding frontier technologies which will become important to our future, such as robotics and artificial intelligence. Our investments have created value for our investee companies by offering them access to our large user base, and providing them infrastructure, technology and capital support to bolster their growth.

OUR STRENGTHS

We believe that the following strengths contribute to our success and differentiate us from our competitors:

Largest Communication and Social Community with High Engagement and Strong Network Effects

We operate the largest communication and social community in China in terms of user base, with 1,202.5 million combined MAU of Weixin and WeChat and 693.5 million smart device MAU of QQ as at 31 March 2020. We operate three of the top ten social platforms in the world as at April 2020, including QQ, Qzone and Weixin/WeChat, according to We Are Social and Hootsuite. QQ and Weixin/WeChat are among our key platforms, allowing users to participate in communication and social platforms through sending and receiving instant messages, interacting in QQ communities of various interest verticals, and utilising mobile communication products and services, including but not limited to shopping, local services, public services, entertainment and travel.

Our large and highly engaged user base creates a strong network effect for our users to interact with one another through communication and social platforms and our other applications and VAS, which in turn helps us to retain our existing users and attract new users. Leveraging our massive user base, we have successfully grown our online media platforms into market leaders, including video, news, music and literature.

We believe that our large and active user base creates a high entry barrier. We will continuously seek to build on to the scale and engagement of our user base.

Significant Market Leadership across Multiple Key Industry Verticals

We have a strong presence for all of our key platforms and services, including communication and social platforms, online games, various digital media platforms, utility platforms, FinTech services and cloud services. We believe our leading position is underpinned by our in-depth understanding of the needs of our users and the trends in the market, as well as our strong research and development capability.

- Communication and Social — We operate the largest communication and social community in China for both mobile and PC in terms of user base in March 2020, according to iResearch. Our social community users are the most engaged in China, with QQ, Weixin and WeChat users accounting for 88% of time spent in social networks in March 2020, according to iResearch.
- Online Games — We are the largest online game platform globally by revenues, with 14% global market share in 2019, according to Newzoo. We are also the largest online game platform in China with a total market share of 49%, a PC game market share of 60% and a smart phone game market share of 45% as measured by revenues in 2019, according to iResearch. We develop 5 of the top 10 international (global excluding China) mobile games in terms of DAU in the fourth quarter of 2019. Amongst our leading game titles are League of Legends, the top grossing PC game in China in the first quarter of 2020, according to iResearch, and Honour of Kings and Peacekeeper Elite, the No. 1 and No. 2 smart phone game respectively in China in terms of DAU in the first quarter of 2020, according to QuestMobile, as well as PUBG Mobile, the international (global excluding China) highest ranked smart phone game title by DAU in the fourth quarter of 2019.
- Digital Media Platforms — Leveraging our massive user base, we have developed leading digital media platforms offering the broadest range of relevant and high quality content across a variety of platforms, including online video, online news, online music, online literature and others. Our high quality, differentiated content library on each of these platforms attract, engage and retain a substantial number of users, which offer tremendous monetisation potential. Our strong support for intellectual property protection is also key to our media platforms becoming strategic partners of choice for major content producers and owners locally and globally.
 - Video — Our online video platform, Tencent Video, is the leading online video streaming platform in China in terms of mobile DAU and daily time spent in March 2020, according to QuestMobile. By leveraging our upstream intellectual properties in a variety of content formats, such as literature and games, we have enhanced the offerings of our self-commissioned video content.
 - News — Our online news platform, Tencent News, is the largest mobile news platform in China in terms of MAU in March 2020, according to iResearch. We have also integrated algorithmic news feeds services with QQ, namely QQ KanDian, which offered technology-enabled recommended news services with social sharing features.
 - Music — Our online music service is primarily operated by TME, the largest online music entertainment platform in China with over 657 million mobile MAU in online music and 256 million MAU in social entertainment in the first quarter of 2020. TME operates the top four music mobile applications in terms of mobile MAU in 2019, according to iResearch, and also provides music-centric live streaming services. TME's music library currently has over 40 million tracks from domestic and international music labels.
 - Literature — Our platform, China Literature, is a market leading online literature platform in China as measured by the scale and quality of writers, readers and literary content offerings. As at 31 December 2019, China Literature had 8.1 million writers and 12.2 million works of literature, including 11.5 million original literary works written by writers on our platform. In 2019, average MAU on its self-owned platform products and self-operated channels reached 219.7 million. Through deeper collaboration with our online literature platform, we have amassed significant experience operating a user generated content library and developing IP that can be extended across multiple media formats.

- Utility Platforms — We offer utility platforms that provide services ranging from mobile application store (YingYongBao), mobile security and management (Tencent Mobile/PC Assistant), and Internet browser (Mobile QQ Browser). According to iResearch, our application store YingYongBao was the largest mobile application store in China in terms of MAU in March 2020, and our browser Mobile QQ Browser is ranked first in China in terms of MAU amongst mobile web browsers in March 2020.
- FinTech Services — Our mobile payment platform, Weixin Pay, is a market leader in China, with an average of over one billion commercial transactions per day in the fourth quarter of 2019. Our payment platform covers over 800 million MAU, and connects with over 50 million monthly active merchants in the fourth quarter of 2019.
- Cloud Services — Tencent Cloud has global infrastructure coverage and is a leader in providing cloud services to online games and live broadcast operators. It is expanding business in verticals such as Internet services, financial institutions, tourism, municipal services and industrial sectors. Combining our advanced data analytics and artificial intelligence technologies, we have built an expanding portfolio of cloud products and customised industry solutions, accelerating our expansion in different industries. Benefitting from enhanced sales team and deeper partnership with system integrators, the number of paying customers of Tencent Cloud exceeded 1 million as at 31 December 2019.

Users spend a substantial amount of time on our platforms, and engagement continues to increase as we grow and improve our content library and service offerings. We have an open platform that enables third parties to provide services to enrich and enhance our ecosystem while they benefit from increased traffic and business opportunities.

Through strategic partnerships with category leaders, we have built a comprehensive ecosystem for users on our platforms, offering them a broad range of products and services, in particular eCommerce, O2O services and smart retail. For instance, we have strategic partnerships with leading eCommerce platforms such as JD.com and Pinduoduo, which embed their services into Weixin/WeChat. For O2O services, we also have strategic partnerships with Meituan Dianping, the largest service-focused eCommerce platform in China, and Tongcheng-Elong, a leading online travel platform in China. To develop our smart retail initiatives, we have partnered with Walmart and Yonghui Superstores, for example, to digitalise offline grocery shopping, offering enhanced data capabilities to traditional stores and more convenient mobile payment and checkout solutions to shoppers.

Our open platform is also expanding rapidly through Weixin Mini Programs, which offer a convenient interface that connects users to a wide spectrum of online and offline services, including games, entertainment content, news and information, productivity tools, lifestyle services, municipal services and eCommerce, all within Weixin/WeChat. We pioneered and then proliferated Weixin Mini Programs, fostering a vibrant ecosystem with a large number of mid-to-long tail Mini Programs, as well as better online and offline integration. By encouraging Weixin Mini Programs innovation, we have built up a sizable developer ecosystem with a large and expanding base of external developers and software integrators. Weixin Mini Programs exceeded 400 million DAU in the first quarter of 2020. We view Weixin Mini Programs as complementary to native mobile applications, and we believe it will contribute materially to our user experience, our enterprise relationships, and the development of our payment, advertising and cloud businesses. The commercial transaction on our platform is growing rapidly. The number of daily transactions generated within Weixin Mini Programs more than doubled year-on-year, and the transaction value exceeded RMB800 billion in 2019.

Through our mobile payment, we have also managed to close the loop for transactions across our ecosystems on our platform. We provide infrastructure support and mobile payment tools through Weixin Pay and QQ Wallet to connect merchants and consumers. With growing strategic cooperation with flagship merchants and channel partners, our mobile payment penetration is increasing. This in turn serves as an important platform and channel for FinTech businesses to distribute financial products online, including wealth management and micro-loans.

We continuously develop innovative services to expand and enrich the experience of our users and enhance their loyalty to our online communities. To fulfil our users' online lifestyle needs, we offer a wide range of VAS, such as membership privileges, digital content subscriptions, and online games. Our diverse offering of products and services, combined with our large user base and integrated payment platform, offers us significant monetisation opportunities and diversifies our revenue streams.

We generate VAS revenues from user subscriptions and item-based sales. We have accumulated expertise in cross-marketing our services and products across our massive user base and have been successful in migrating a large number of our users for QQ and Weixin to fee-based services and products such as QQ Membership, video and music subscription services. In addition, through creating a highly engaging and interactive social experience, we also generate revenues from selling virtual items and gifts. In particular, for our online game business, we have diversified our revenue by developing more popular games either in-house or by partnerships with top notch game developers and overseas expansion. In addition to establishing our original IP franchises, we developed external partnerships via a number of new investments in best-in-genre studios. During 2019, we also made notable progress in our overseas business. Our international games revenues more than doubled year-on-year, constituting 23% of our online games revenue in the fourth quarter of 2019.

We have also monetised user traffic generated from our communication and social, video, news, music, literature and other platforms through online advertising. Through leveraging our comprehensive ecosystem, scale and data insights, we drive relevant and targeted advertising to generate higher returns for advertisers. We are able to increase ads inventory on our online properties without intruding on user experiences. Leveraging our data and technology, we believe we have taken substantial market share in ad networks, where we have experienced robust revenue growth and improved operating margin.

We have been able to successfully monetise our FinTech and cloud services. FinTech service revenues mainly include commissions from payment by merchants, wealth management platform and other FinTech services. Cloud services are mainly charged on either a subscription or consumption basis. Our cloud services revenues exceeded RMB17 billion in 2019. As at 31 December 2019, our number of paying customers exceeded 1 million, benefitting from enhanced sales team and deeper partnerships with system integrators. Further, use of our advanced technologies in cloud computing, data analytics, artificial intelligence, security, payment and location-based services, as well as audio and video programme services helps industries to digitalise their business and enhance their operational efficiency, and allows us to successfully monetise our cloud and enterprise-facing services.

By continuing to develop new products and services, to meet the rapidly evolving needs of Internet users and industries, we expect to generate additional revenues from new and existing services for our massive user base and broad-based ecosystem.

Highly Cash Generative Business Model

We have consistently generated healthy cash flows from our operations and maintained positive operating cash flows since 2001, and through economic cycles. A significant majority of our revenues are derived from micro-transactions or subscription revenues generated by our massive user base. We price most of our products and services at an affordable level for the average Internet user, making our earnings and cash flows more resilient to economic cycles. Consequently, our business is generally less affected by global economic slowdowns and domestic macro-tightening measures.

We bill and collect a significant amount of our revenues on a prepaid basis, which minimises our working capital needs and achieves a high cash flow conversion ratio. In addition, our consumer Internet-based business model demonstrates significant operational scalability and requires low capital expenditures. As at 31 March 2020, our cash and cash equivalents, as well as term deposits and others amounted to RMB220,584 million (US$31,152 million). For the year ended 31 December 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2020, our net operating cash flow was RMB148,590 million and RMB54,661 million (US$7,720 million) respectively.

Strong Liquidity Position and Prudent Balance Sheet Management

We have maintained a strong and stable liquidity position and significant listed investments portfolio. As at 31 December 2019, our total cash and cash equivalents, as well as term deposits and others were RMB205,261 million and the fair value of our stakes in listed investee companies (including associates, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income) was RMB419,818 million. In addition, over the recent years, we have diversified our debt funding mix with a broader base of funding sources and lending banks. As at 31 December 2019, notes and borrowings accounted for 43% and 57% of our total debt balance respectively, compared with 36% and 64% respectively as at 31 December 2018. As at 31 December 2019, 15% of our debt is due within a year, 8% of our debt is due between one and two years, 50% of our debt is due between two and five years, and 27% of our debt is due after five years. This balanced debt maturity profile adds to the strength of our balance sheet and capital structure.

Stable Management Team with Proven Execution Track Record

We have a stable and capable senior management team with extensive operating experience in the Internet and telecommunications industries as well as strong capabilities in developing and executing innovative business strategies. Besides core founders, we have recruited senior management talent from leading global firms. We also have competitive training and career development plans in place to continuously build our own teams. The collective experience of our management team brings together a mix of local and international experience, industry knowledge and complementary skill sets which have led us to become a leading Internet services company. The average tenor of our senior management team with our company is more than 12 years. We believe our committed and experienced management team will continue to lead us to further success.

OUR STRATEGIES

We aim to connect users, businesses, and industries. Our “Connection” strategy focuses on increasing sharing, communication and overall engagement on our social platforms, and linking these platforms to a broader range of content, applications and online and offline services. To further extend our strategy, we enable our partners in different industries to better connect with consumers via our expanding, open and connected ecosystem. We believe our “Connection” strategy enables us to drive the convergence of social, content and technology trends, and to better serve consumers as well as enterprises and industries in the process. In particular, we aim to:

Deepen Engagement and Enhance Stickiness of our Massive User Base, and Further Monetise Our User Base, User Traffic and Content

We believe the depth of user engagement of our massive online communities is one of our critical competitive advantages. We will continue to increase user engagement by enhancing user experience and broadening our products and services, creating opportunities for our ecosystem partners. We will continue to introduce high quality content across our variety of online media platforms, including video, news, music, literature and others, and further integrate these media platforms with our online platforms to enhance the holistic and differentiated social experience for our users. We plan to strengthen connections between users via digital content, online services, and offline services, as well as enhancing connections with enterprises leveraging Mini Programs, Weixin Pay and WeChat Work. We believe that the broad range of services we offer and the strong integrated social element will facilitate the expansion of our user base and further deepen user engagement in China and the overseas market.

We seek to broaden and enhance our fee-based VAS, and promote user subscriptions and item-based sales to increase paying user conversion rate. In our online games business, we have launched a number of initiatives to improve user engagement and monetisation, including by releasing popular content updates to existing games and deepening user engagement through eSports competitions, games broadcasting platforms and other experiences. We will further enhance our communication and social platform monetisation through initiatives such as Weixin Moments, Weixin Mini Programs and Weixin Official Accounts, while balancing the focus on maintaining a high quality user experience. While we invest in high quality content on our online media platforms, we seek to monetise our successes through subscription for enhanced membership privileges. Users may upgrade to higher privilege membership status in order to enjoy VAS and access our wide variety of digital media and content. We plan to further enhance the overall competitiveness of our online advertising platform and expand our market share for media, social and others advertising. We strive to attract more small and regional advertisers with deeper targeting algorithms and more convenient self-service tools.

We also plan to further boost usage of our payment-related services by covering more online and offline consumption scenarios and expand our FinTech offerings. With the increasing ubiquity of our mobile payment solutions and expansion of our FinTech offerings. We plan to further invest to improve our online payment infrastructure and explore the synergies between our social platforms and other services to further monetise our user base, user traffic and content.

We plan to enhance our ability to create and own content through capturing intellectual property and user generated content in our ecosystem. We will continue to systematically invest in high quality and in-house content and technology that is relevant to our users to boost stickiness and drive differentiation in our games and online media platforms. We also maintain strong relationships with various content providers, including game developers, writers, music labels and video production studios, which are critical for us to secure access to high quality copyrighted content on our media platforms. We also plan to leverage our deep understanding of users, as well as industry expertise, to identify attractive content for in-house production or licensing. In addition to digital content developed by professionals, we plan to further promote creation, curation and distribution of user-generated content to enhance user engagement and stickiness. We will also continue to strengthen our short-form video content, driving user traffic and consumption of short-form video across Weishi, news feed platforms and Weixin Mini Programs, furthering user engagement and integration with our social networks. For example, we will continue to invest in and develop our new content products, such as Weishi, which enables our users to share short videos within Weixin Moments. We will continue to take advantage of our product innovation and enhanced technologies, such as artificial intelligence, enriched visual effects, advance video recognition and other smart recommendation technologies, to boost content creation, curation and recommendation. We will also continue to extend our franchise in long-form video to short-form video.

Piracy poses a significant challenge to the online media industry in China. We intend to continue our efforts to support intellectual property protection by organising campaigns together with government authorities, content owners and other industry participants. To promote the healthy development of the online media market in China, we seek to cooperate with leading Internet companies in China to market our copyrighted content offerings and to diminish the distribution network of pirated materials online. We believe we are the partner of choice for content owners because of our scope of intellectual property protection.

We are expanding on our open platform strategy and are seeking to increasingly collaborate and enter into partnerships with third party developers, industry partners, vertical category leaders and content providers in China and globally to further enrich the content and applications offered on our open platforms, thus increasing social sharing and interaction among our users. For instance, YingYongBao was the largest mobile application store in China in terms of MAU in March 2020, according to iResearch. Our open content platform is focused on helping our partners create, distribute and expand their content to our users, and spans across a range of content categories, including games, videos, music and literature. We will continue to encourage users, KOLs and other content providers to create more content, in particular short-form video content, on our platforms and we will help them better distribute and monetise such content. For example, we enable users to share and create short videos via Weishi within Weixin Moments. We will also continue to expand our online-to-offline offerings through Weixin Mini Programs to connect online users to various services. Our open platform enables third party SaaS providers to serve our cloud enterprise clients as we help to develop the Industrial Internet.

By offering a large number of quality third party and in-house applications, we endeavour to promote innovation within our platforms, which we expect will ultimately enhance the value of our platform as a whole. We support innovation in the industry by opening certain of our technology capabilities, including artificial intelligence technologies to entrepreneurs. We run incubator spaces in China to facilitate the success of entrepreneurs.

We believe our open platform will incentivise content creation to increase user engagement as well as broaden content offerings to our users to enhance user experience and stickiness, which in turn will facilitate monetization of our user base, user traffic and content.

Invest in Leading Technologies including Artificial Intelligence and Cloud to Create Value

We will continue to invest in leading technologies, including artificial intelligence and cloud, which can enhance experience for our users, personalise recommendations within our digital content services, optimise advertising targeting and effectiveness, enrich social interactions through features such as animated filters, as well as empower our ecosystem partners. Our existing strength in computing power, data, engineering technologies, as well as use cases coupled with our proactive build-up of technology talent, offers us a strategic advantage in harnessing the value creation opportunities from leading technologies.

For instance, through applying artificial intelligence technology throughout the process of advertisement placement, including understanding users' preferences, contextual and advertisement content, ranking the bidding price and optimising display formats, we may be able to increase the return on investments for advertisers on our platforms. Similarly, through applying artificial intelligence technology to our digital content platforms, we are able to make more relevant and customised recommendations based on their interest and social graphs so that users can access their favourite content more efficiently and have an improved user experience.

We will also increase investment in cloud-related services to provide differentiated and tailor-made solutions by leveraging our comprehensive and advanced technologies in security, payment, data analytics, among others. We plan to continue to develop our cloud resources and technology to create value for industries. For example, we have developed COVID-19 pandemic-related programmes and supported pandemic-related medical research as we entered 2020. We have created all-in-one entry point, Tencent Health, for online healthcare services, which has provided access to real time pandemic data and information and online consultation to over 300 million Weixin users. Our AI-powered tools help users to self-diagnose and help doctors to increase efficiency in diagnosing COVID-19 through Tencent Health. Our Health Code is the most-used ePass for verifying health and travel status during COVID-19 pandemic in China.

Leverage our Leading Social Platforms and Advanced Technology Capabilities to Further Enable Industrial Internet

Leveraging our high-traffic social platforms and innovative and widely accepted enterprise tools, we will further our expansion from Consumer Internet to Industrial Internet, connecting industries with consumers and business partners, and helping industries expand through digital channels.

We believe we are uniquely positioned to help businesses embrace the Industrial Internet. Firstly, we have a robust infrastructure that enables us to provide cloud-based services to various businesses. Secondly, through our advanced technologies in artificial intelligence, data analytics, security, payment and location-based services, we can help industries improve operational efficiency. Thirdly, our various consumer to business tools, such as WeChat Work, Weixin Mini Programs and Weixin Pay, allow enterprises to reach our massive user base across our social and other high traffic platforms. Finally, we have customised smart industry solutions that help solve different industry needs and enhance efficiency, such as our smart retail initiative and healthcare solutions.

We plan to assist with digitalisation and transformation of more industries, such as healthcare and education. To promote smart healthcare, we use our artificial intelligence capabilities to help patients connect with medical care providers and the right experts, and help doctors in screening and diagnoses. Healthcare related Weixin Mini Programs allow patients to register for appointments with hospitals or conduct video appointments with specialists online. Tencent Medipedia, which provides reliable medical information resources, developed pandemic-related content and attracted more than 600 million page views. Tencent Medipedia also launched free online consultation serving our users, supported by more than 10,000 doctors from our ecosystem partners. Since the coronavirus outbreak, QQ School-plus-Home groups have served more than 120 million users, with optimised features such as live broadcast, online tutoring programs and online administrative tools for school routines to facilitate online and offline education. We have also upgraded our capabilities and products to provide access to healthcare services, businesses and educational establishments with remote workplace and collaborative tools.

Pursue Partnerships to Enhance Our Business Portfolio and Grow International Presence

We have entered into partnerships with content providers and vertical category leaders to enhance our business portfolio. Our partnerships with game developers, film studios and record labels, amongst others, help us secure valuable intellectual properties, applications and media content to build content offerings on our platforms, differentiate our services from the competition and support business growth. We plan to establish co-operation opportunities with vertical category leaders in areas including eCommerce, digital content, local services, transportation, retail, healthcare and finance to expand services on our platform. We are also expanding our business overseas, with footprint in the United States, Europe, South Korea and emerging markets such as Southeast Asia and India. For example, we will seek to extend our domestic game industry leadership overseas, reinforce our international efforts, and provide high quality new games globally. Online game business has spearheaded our overseas expansion with the successes of PUBG Mobile and Call of Duty: Mobile in international markets and long-term relationships with leading global game companies. We have also looked at opportunities overseas with vertical category leaders to enter into other overseas markets and to reinforce our long-term relationships with global partners. With our expertise in operating large-scale games and events and our global publishing and operation experience, we will continue to foster user communities for users and players. We have leveraged our technical and operational know-how to deliver quality Internet and mobile applications and services to users in international markets. We aim to strengthen our position as the hub for fulfilling people's online lifestyle needs.

BUSINESS SEGMENTS

VAS

Our VAS business mainly consists of social networks services, online games and digital content services, including video, news, music, literature and others. Our VAS revenues mainly comprise of subscription revenues and item-based sales from our online games, VIP membership services and item-based sales on our platforms. While most of the basic features of our VAS are free-of-charge, users can choose to pay for virtual items, special privileges and premium content and features. Our VAS revenues were RMB153,983 million, RMB176,646 million, RMB199,991 million, RMB48,974 million and RMB62,429 million (US$8,817 million) for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively and accounted for 65%, 56%, 53%, 57% and 58% of our total revenues for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.

Social Networks

Our social networks include social networking websites, premium membership services and other interactive products. The basic features of our community VAS are generally provided for free. We primarily offer item-based sales and subscriptions for premium services and products. We intend to improve user activeness and interaction through enhancements in content, functionalities, diversity of third party applications and online and offline member privileges.

- QQ

QQ is one of our communication and social platforms that allows users to send and receive instant messages and interact in the QQ community. It allows users to meet new friends and establish new social circles based on location and interests. In addition, through the QQ client, our users can have access to a variety of our services such as QQ Mail, Qzone, WeGame, QQ Music and QQ Reading. We have also integrated our newsfeed services, QQ Kandian, and live broadcasting services, NOW, with QQ to better serve the information and entertainment needs of the users. In particular, Qzone is our social platform that permits users to write blogs, keep diaries, upload photos, listen to music and engage in other premium services which can be shared among designated peer groups organised and accepted by the users. Users may purchase items or subscriptions that allow access to all services without additional costs. QQ Membership has developed into a premium membership brand through which we provide a range of privileges associated with IM, online games, online and offline lifestyle services and eCommerce. We also offer QQ Super VIP subscription services which consist of privileges for both PC and mobile devices to cater to the increasing needs of mobile Internet usage.

- Weixin/WeChat

Our mobile communication product Weixin/Wechat has become a hub of mobile connectivity in which we connect our users with a wide variety of services including but not limited to shopping, local services, entertainment and travel. On the international front, we offer WeChat, a mobile communication and social platform.

Weixin Mini Programs connect online and offline services with users on Weixin/WeChat. Service providers benefit from the increased traffic and usage arising from integration in the Weixin Mini Programs. Our users also benefit from the convenience of accessing to these services. The number of daily transactions generated within Weixin Mini Programs more than doubled year-on-year, and their transaction value exceeded RMB800 billion in 2019. We have also monetised our user base and traffic on Weixin/WeChat, through selling advertising inventories on Weixin Moments and Weixin Official Accounts.

- Video

We offer premium video content including drama series, movies, variety shows, animation and documentaries, which are licenced from domestic and overseas content providers, as well as self-commissioned dramas, variety shows and other video content. Tencent Video operates a freemium model and offers subscription plans which provides users with access to premium content and a range of added features. We also partner with Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc., and BBC Studios to offer subscription packages and video-on-demand services for our users to view exclusive video content.

- Music

We offer the widest range of music content on our platform TME, which operates QQ Music, Kugou Music, WeSing and Kuwo. We license music content from several domestic and overseas music labels, including Sony Music Group, Universal Music Group and Warner Music Group. We have created a wide variety of use cases for our users, including listening to streaming music, watching music videos, participating in fan-based activities and games, as well as singing along with the music. TME operates a freemium model and also offers a subscription model which provides users with access to premium content and a range of added features. In addition, TME also monetises user activity and engagement through sale of virtual items that users purchase and share as gifts to their favourite singers and performers on the platforms, including on our online karaoke app.

- Literature

We offer a wide range of literary content with a total of 12.2 million works of literature, including 11.5 million original literary works featuring 8.1 million writers on China Literature's platform, as at 31 December 2019. The online literature platform primarily focuses on Chinese language, original literary content, which is largely fictional and serialised in nature. Other works on our online literature platform include high quality content we source from other online literature platforms, as well as e-books that we have converted from offline physical books in collaboration with certain third party publishers. We operate a freemium model where we typically offer the beginning chapters of a literary work for free and then charge certain fees for the rest of the work. We also offer monthly subscription packages which allow readers unlimited access to a specific sub-set of our content offerings and provides them a discount on purchase of other premium content.

Our social networks revenues were RMB56,100 million, RMB72,654 million, RMB85,281 million, RMB20,461 million and RMB25,131 million (US$3,549 million) for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively. Social networks revenues accounted for 24%, 23%, 23%, 24% and 23% of our total revenues for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.

Online Games

We currently allow our registered users to play a majority of our games for free. Our online games revenues are derived primarily from sales of virtual items, such as Avatars and accessories that enhance game play experience, as well as subscription fees for membership services and season passes, which provide special privileges, premium game features and discounts on in-game items. These items and services allow players to utilise more functions and personalise the appearance of a game character.

Our main categories of online games are smart phone games and PC games. The games that we operate are either developed in-house or licenced from third parties. We intend to release a number of in-house and licenced games each year. We work with other major game developers and operators from China, South Korea, Japan, the United States, and Germany, amongst others, and customised and localised their games to suit the culture and needs of the Chinese market.

- Smart Phone Games. We currently offer smart phone games for feature phone and smart phone users. Since August 2013, we have launched games through the game centres of our key communication and social platforms, Mobile QQ and Weixin/WeChat. We have launched over 100 mobile game titles through the game centres on Mobile QQ and Weixin/WeChat, across a variety of genres including battle arena, tactical tournament, tactical shooter, RPG and strategy.

- PC Games. As at 31 March 2020, we had over 40 PC game titles. The interactive and group-oriented nature of these games means that the large size of our user base significantly contributes to retaining our current users and attracting new users.

Our online games revenues were RMB97,883 million, RMB103,992 million, RMB114,710 million, RMB28,513 million and RMB37,298 million (US$5,268 million) for the year ended 31 December 2017, 2018, 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020. Online games revenues accounted for 41%, 33%, 30%, 33% and 35% of our total revenues for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.

Online Advertising

We offer a broad range of advertising formats and solutions, including social and others advertising and media advertising. In advertising, we seek to enhance our user targeting capability to increase ROIs (return on investments) for advertisers. We extended the maximum number of ad impressions per user day in Weixin Moments from two to three in early 2019, and successfully tested a fourth impression in late 2019. Leveraging our data and technology, we believe we have taken substantial market share in ad networks, where we have experienced robust revenue growth and improved operating margin. Our Online Advertising revenues were RMB40,439 million, RMB58,079 million, RMB68,377 million, RMB13,377 million and RMB17,713 million (US$2,502 million) for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively, and accounted for 17%, 19%, 18%, 16% and 16% of our total revenues for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.

Social and others advertising relates to advertising on our social properties, such as QQ KanDian, Kuaibao, Weixin Moments, Weixin Mini Programs, Weixin Official Accounts and Weixin Top Stories, our utilities properties, such as application store and browser, as well as mobile advertising network.

Media advertising relates to advertising on our video, news, music and other online media properties.

FinTech and Business Services

We offer FinTech and cloud and other business services, which primarily consists of: (a) payment, wealth management and other FinTech services; and (b) cloud services and other enterprise-facing services. Revenue from FinTech and Business Services was included in Others segment for the year ended 31 December 2017. FinTech and Business Services segment has been separated from Others segment from the first quarter of 2019 onwards. The comparative figures in 2018 have been restated to conform with the new presentation. Revenue from FinTech and Business Services were RMB73,138 million, RMB101,355 million, RMB21,789 million and RMB26,475 million (US$3,739 million) for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively, and accounted for 23%, 27%, 25% and 25% of our total revenues for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.

FinTech

Our FinTech services primarily consist of payment, wealth management, lending and other FinTech services. We provide infrastructure support and mobile payment solutions to connect merchants and consumers through Weixin Pay and QQ Wallet, which are consumer-facing mobile payment tools with expanding use cases, including for social, O2O services and FinTech services. Our payment activity has been expanding from social to commercial payment, and from online to offline payment transactions. Our social payment functions such as red packets and bill sharing simplify peer-to-peer transfers, whereas our commercial payment facilitate fast and seamless experiences for both eCommerce transactions and an increasing range of offline consumption scenarios, including ride hailing, movies and event ticketing, restaurant dining and delivery, shopping at supermarkets and convenience stores, and others. As the use of our payment services expand from social payment to commercial transactions, we close the loop on the provision of services, providing our users with a frictionless experience for completing transactions. As such, our commercial payment transaction volume is growing rapidly and diversifying from large merchants to small to mid-sized offline merchants. Our Weixin Pay also provide a platform for financial institutions to distribute FinTech products. Our robust payment infrastructure provides high-level payment security, service reliability and transaction speed and we are continuing to improve our payment infrastructure. During 2019, we strengthened our leadership in mobile payment services through deepening our penetration among offline merchants. In the fourth quarter of 2019, we exceeded one billion daily average transactions for our commercial payments, covered over 800 million MAU, and worked with over 50 million monthly active merchants.

Leveraging our large-scale payment platform and core technologies, we also offer FinTech services in areas such as wealth management and micro-loans originated by our business partners and our affiliate, WeBank. Our wealth management platform, LiCaiTong, increased its aggregate customer assets over 50% year-on-year, while its number of customers more than doubled year-on-year in fourth quarter of 2019 as we expanded into the mass market. Our affiliate WeBank rapidly grew the loan balances of its micro-loan product, WeiLiDai, while maintaining a healthy non-performing loan ratio.

Cloud and Business Services

Our cloud and other business services primarily consist of cloud services and other enterprise-facing activities such as our smart retail initiatives. In business services, we focus on developing customized industry solutions, enabling our enterprise partners to better connect with our users, and assisting a range of industries in digital upgrades. Tencent Cloud has global infrastructure coverage and is a leader in providing cloud services to online games and live broadcast sectors. Combining our advanced data analytics and artificial intelligence technologies, we have built an expanding portfolio of cloud products and customised industry solutions, accelerating our expansion in different industries.

Our cloud services revenues exceeded RMB17 billion in 2019. As at 31 December 2019, our number of paying customers has exceeded 1 million, benefitting from enhanced sales team and deeper partnerships with system integrators. Gross margins improved as we optimized supply chains and expanded business scale. We gained presence in verticals such as Internet services, tourism, municipal services and industrial sectors, leveraging our consumer reach to assist enterprises in their digital upgrades.

COVID-19 pandemic outbreak in 2020 highlights the utility of remote working and remote health care services, and we are seeking to play our part in helping people cope with the new challenge. Tencent Meeting exceeded 10 million DAU within two months since its launch in late December 2019, by far the most-used dedicated video conferencing app in China, according to iResearch. We deepened the integration between Weixin and WeChat Work to facilitate customer management and sales conversion, and millions of enterprises used WeChat Work to resume work in the wake of the coronavirus outbreak. Over 300 million Weixin users have utilized Tencent Health as an important access to real-time data, online consultation and artificial intelligence-powered self-diagnosis services. We provided our artificial intelligence imaging capabilities to assist diagnosis of coronavirus disease. We also offered reliable and professional healthcare information through Tencent Medipedia, and distributed pandemic-related content via multiple high traffic platforms, such as Weixin and Tencent News, and attracted over 600 million page views. Tencent Health Code becomes the most used ePass for verifying health and travel history during the outbreak. Approximately 900 million users across more than 300 cities and counties have used our Health Code between 9 February 2020 and 16 March 2020, with a total of approximately 8 billion visits.

Others

Our Other services include investment in, production of and distribution of, films and television programmes for third parties, copyright licensing, merchandise sales and various other activities. Our revenues from “Others” segment were RMB43,338 million, RMB4,831 million, RMB7,566 million, RMB1,325 million and RMB1,448 million (US$204 million) for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively, and accounted for 18%, 2%, 2%, 2% and 1% of our total revenues for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively. “FinTech and Business Services” segment has been separated from “Others” segment from the first quarter of 2019 onwards. The comparative figures in 2018 have been restated to conform with the new presentation.

CORPORATE OPERATIONS

Sales and Marketing

We believe that our large Weixin/WeChat, and QQ user base in themselves, are key drivers of our business growth, as many Internet users in China seek to join an established and vibrant online community. We market our VAS primarily through our platforms and portals. In our online community, “word of mouth” is important for the adoption of VAS as positive feedback from users can be quickly communicated by various channels, including QQ, Qzone and Weixin/WeChat. We market our advertising services through a dedicated sales force across the country.

Our sales and marketing efforts are supported by a network of marketing and sales teams throughout China. We conduct a variety of online and offline marketing and promotion activities, including joint marketing activities with telecommunications operators and device manufacturers, in-game promotional events, marketing, and advertisements on our portals. Going forward, we will further enhance our position as a mainstream media platform in China. For sales and marketing outside the Chinese market such as the promotional campaigns for WeChat, we will also utilise both online and offline marketing and promotional activities to enhance our brand awareness.

Strategic Relationships

We are focused on enriching our VAS and expanding the networks over which we deliver these services. We maintain strategic relationships with telecommunications operators in China, major domestic and foreign application store operators (including Apple iOS application store and Android application stores), device vendors and device manufacturers and ecosystem partners. In addition, while we develop a significant number of our services and products through in-house development teams, we also licence and collaborate with an increasing number of third party content providers, application developers, merchants and manufacturers.

Relationships with Ecosystem Partners

We have established strategic relationships with several ecosystems partners in order to provide superior services to mobile and Internet users in China. For instance, our strategic partnership with JD.com allows us to leverage JD.com's eCommerce services to offer superior user experiences. Our partnership with 58.com Inc. strengthens our O2O eCommerce ecosystem in China, benefitting our user base by broadening local services offering with an enhanced O2O user experience. Our strengthened cooperation with Meituan Dianping and Didi Chuxing increased mobile payment business for commercial transactions rapidly.

Relationships with Content Providers and Application Developers

Our relationships with content providers and application developers are important to us as we strive to expand our VAS. The goal of our content and application partnerships is to provide our users with a broad offering of attractive content and applications. We currently have strategic relationships with a number of content providers including mobile and portal content providers, news and printed media, video and music content providers, writers, video production studios, and we expect to continue to grow these relationships going forward.

Relationships with Telecommunications Operators

We have strategic relationships with the telecommunications operators in China through which we use their networks to deliver our services and products. Our large user base and innovative applications increase demand for traffic on telecommunications networks. We currently maintain strategic relationships with China Mobile, China Unicom and China Telecom.

Relationships with Device Manufacturers

We currently work with a number of domestic and international major device manufacturers and we believe that our co-operation with them is mutually important and beneficial. Device manufacturers assist in the distribution of our services by making our client software and applications readily available in the devices they manufacture. At the same time, our applications create market demand for more sophisticated devices capable of supporting and interfacing with our applications.

Relationships with Application Store Operators

We have established strategic relationships with several application store operators (including Apple iOS application store and Android application stores) through which we use their networks to deliver our products. For instance, our strategic relationship with Apple Inc. allows us to place our apps onto its App Store under a revenue sharing arrangement. Any user who directly subscribes to our apps using their iOS device will pay Apple Inc., which will then settle payment with us through payment arrangements.

Competition

The Internet industry in China is rapidly evolving and competition is expected to further intensify. We face significant competition in almost every aspect of our business, particularly from companies that provide communication, social networking, online games, social media, FinTech and cloud services and/or other products and services. In recent years, more foreign investors have begun to explore the opportunities arising from the emerging Chinese Internet industry. Many of these Internet start-ups and companies are well funded by private equity or venture capital funds, which have resulted in an increasingly competitive industry landscape. Our competitors for providing VAS in China are mainly local Internet companies who offer various online games, social and other online entertainment and communication services, as well as competitors along the value chain of the telecommunications industry including mobile device manufacturers, chip manufacturers, telecommunications operators and mobile content/service providers. We compete for online advertising with other websites that sell online advertising services in China through display and search advertising. In addition, we indirectly compete for advertising budgets with traditional advertising media in China, such as terrestrial or satellite broadcasting media like television and radio stations, printed media such as newspapers and magazines, and major out-of-home media. As we expand into FinTech, cloud and other business services, we also face competition with other technology or FinTech service providers.

We believe that as we continue to expand our business scope, we will encounter new competitors and competitive environments that might evolve over time. In addition, we may face increased competition from international competitors that may establish joint venture companies with local companies to provide services based on the foreign investors' technology and experience developed in overseas markets.

We believe the principal competitive factors in our business include size of user base, community cohesiveness and interactivity, brand recognition, understanding of user needs, technology, product development capabilities and pricing. We aim to compete by continuing to develop, acquire and licence technologies, services and products that bring quality user experiences to our target users.

Intellectual Property

We regard our patents, copyrights, trademarks and other intellectual property as critical to our success. We rely primarily on a combination of patent, trademark, copyright, trade secret and other intellectual property-related laws and contractual restrictions to establish and protect our intellectual property rights. We require substantially all of our employees enter into agreements requiring them to keep confidential all proprietary and other confidential information relating to our customers, methods, technology, business practices and trade secrets and such obligations shall survive the expiration or earlier termination of their employment with us. Our employees are required to acknowledge and recognise that all inventions, trade secrets, works of authorship, developments and other processes, whether or not patentable or copyrightable, made by them during their employment are our property. We have independently developed key software used in our business and have registered a number of these software copyrights. We currently have over 13,000 patents that cover our self-developed key technologies and infrastructure.

Despite our precautions, it may be possible for third parties to obtain and use our intellectual property without our authorisation. Furthermore, the validity, enforceability and scope of protection of intellectual property rights in the Internet and telecommunications-related industries are uncertain and still evolving. Infringement and misappropriation of our intellectual property could materially harm our business. We have been and may in the future be involved as an applicant or opposing party in several administrative actions involving trademark disputes. See “Risk Factors — Risks relating to Our Business — We may be subject to intellectual property claims, which may force us to incur substantial legal expenses and, if determined adversely against us, may materially disrupt our business”.

We have registered the domain names, including “qq.com” and “tencent.com”, with Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers and the domain names “tencent.com.cn” and “tencent.cn” with CNNIC, a domain name registration organisation in China. In addition, we have registered over 4,000 domain names with various domain name registration services as at 31 March 2020.

Our “QQ (stylised)” mark, the “penguin” device, the “Weixin” and “WeChat” marks and many associated marks have been registered as trademarks in various classes in China, Hong Kong and other jurisdictions. We have also registered our “QQ (stylised)” mark and the “penguin” device in various classes in jurisdictions including the United States, Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore, India, Malaysia, and the European Union. In addition, a series of “QQ” marks, the “penguin” device and the “Weixin” and “WeChat” marks have also been registered as copyrighted artworks in China.

We licence our trademarks from time to time to increase our brand recognition and further penetrate the consumer market in China. We have licenced the QQ brand to manufacturers of various products, including electronic and consumer goods products. Our trademarks have also appeared along with trademarks of other corporate entities for joint marketing, co-branding and merchandising initiatives.

Research and Development

We believe that our ability to develop technology and Internet, mobile and online entertainment applications has been a key factor in the success of our business. To maintain and enhance our leadership position, we will need to continue to invest in research and development in order to enhance our services and products. Research and development expenses constituted 7%, 7%, 8%, 8% and 7% of our total revenues for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively. Our self-developed technologies include social communication technologies, mobile services, social and other interactive technologies. We also licence some services and technologies from third parties such as database technology and audio/video codec technology. We have established an in-house Research Institute and an integrated Customer Research and User Experience Design Center. We will continue to develop our core technologies in-house and when required, licence technology from third parties.

Network Infrastructure

Our network infrastructure is built to satisfy the requirements of our operations and to support the growth of our business. Our servers and routers are located across China and our systems are designed for scalability and reliability to support growth in our user base. We believe we have developed and are operating one of the largest and most sophisticated cloud computing infrastructures in China and abroad.

We believe that our current network facilities and broadband capacity provide us with sufficient capacity to carry out our current operations. We believe that we can expand our network facilities and broadband capacity as needed to accommodate our growth.

Customer Service and Technology Support

We place a high priority on providing our users with a consistently high quality of service and support. We have dedicated customer service teams to handle general product and service inquiries, billing questions, online security and technical support issues 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Customers can access our customer service teams through various channels such as 24-hour customer service hotline, website and online self-help service centre.

Suppliers and Customers

For the year ended 31 December 2019, none of our customers accounted for more than 5% of our total revenues. Our customers primarily included users, retailers and distributors who use Weixin Pay or purchase our products and services on our platforms. For the year ended 31 December 2019, our five largest suppliers amounted for approximately 19.58% of our total purchases while our largest supplier amounted for approximately 5.16% of our total purchases. Our suppliers primarily include telecommunications operators, content providers, server and IT equipment suppliers and merchandise suppliers. As at 31 December 2019, none of the Directors, their associates or any shareholder (which to the knowledge of the Directors owned more than 5% of our issued capital) had an interest in any of the major customers or suppliers noted above.

Some online advertising customers and agencies are usually granted with a credit period within 90 days immediately following the month-end in which the relevant obligations under the relevant contracted advertising orders are delivered. Third party platform providers usually settle the amounts due by them within 60 days. Other customers, mainly including FinTech and cloud customers, are usually granted with a credit period within 90 days.

Employees

The number of employees employed by us varies from time to time, depending on needs. Our employee count was 44,796, 54,309, 62,885 and 64,238 as at 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 March 2020, respectively. Most of our employees are based in China.

The remuneration policy and package of our employees are periodically reviewed. Apart from pension funds and in-house training programmes, discretionary bonuses, share awards, and share option may be awarded to employees according to the assessment of individual performance. Our total remuneration costs were RMB34,866 million, RMB42,153 million, RMB53,123 million, RMB11,616 million and RMB15,143 million (US$2,139 million) for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, respectively.

All of our management and key executives, and substantially all of our other employees, have entered into employment agreements with us, which contain confidentiality and non-competition provisions.

Properties and Facilities

Our executive offices and our major operational facilities are located in Shenzhen. We own properties in a number of cities in China, including Shenzhen, Beijing, Chengdu, Shanghai, Tianjin and Wuhan and lease other offices in the PRC and abroad, including the United States, Thailand, the Netherlands, Malaysia, Japan, India, Taiwan, South Korea and Hong Kong. We also maintain Internet data centres in China and globally. We believe that we will be able to obtain adequate facilities, principally through the leasing of appropriate properties, to accommodate our future expansion plans.

Insurance

Insurance companies in China offer limited business insurance products and do not, to our knowledge, offer business liability insurance. While business interruption insurance is available to a limited extent in China, we have determined that the risks of disruption, cost of such insurance and the difficulties associated with acquiring such insurance on commercially reasonable terms make it impractical for us to subscribe for such insurance. As a result, we do not have any business liability, disruption or litigation insurance coverage for our operations in China. Any business disruption or litigation, or any liability or damage to, or caused by, our facilities or our personnel may result in our incurring substantial costs and the diversion of resources. We carry mandatory automobile liability insurance and property insurance. Besides mandatory social insurance, we also maintain commercial health insurance and life insurance coverage for all our employees.

Legal Proceedings

From time to time, we have become and may in the future become a party to various legal or administrative proceedings arising in the ordinary course of our business, including actions with respect to intellectual property claims, breach of contract claims, unfair competitive practice claims, labour and employment claims and other matters. Internet media companies are frequently involved in litigation based on allegations of infringement or other violations of intellectual property rights and other allegations based on the content available on their website or services they provide. See “Risk Factors — Risks Related to our Business — We face uncertainties regarding the legal liability for providing third party services, content and applications on our platforms”, “Risk Factors — Risks Related to our Business — We may be subject to intellectual property claims, which may force us to incur substantial legal expenses and, if determined adversely against us, may materially disrupt our business” and “Risk Factors — Risks Related to our Business — Legal proceedings or allegations of impropriety against us could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, results of operations and financial condition”. Other than the matters set forth below, we are not currently a party to any material litigation or legal proceeding.

In February 2012, Jiangping Xie, Cheng Feng, Anso Chang Wang and Monique Meng-en Wei (collectively, the “Plaintiffs”) initiated legal proceedings against us, claiming that our technical solution for implementing instant messaging through QQ IM software and QQ number infringed the plaintiff’s patent rights. The Plaintiffs sought an immediate stop to the use of this technical solution by us. In March 2013, Shenzhen City Intermediate People’s Court issued its first-instance judgement on this case, rejecting all claims made by the Plaintiffs. The Plaintiffs then appealed to Higher People’s Court of Guangdong Province. On 2 September 2014, the Higher People’s Court of Guangdong Province granted its final judgement, rejecting the Plaintiffs’ appeal and upholding the first-instance judgement. On 24 June 2015, we received notice of judicial review by the Supreme People’s Court of the PRC, initiated by the Plaintiffs in respect of their patent infringement claims. On 20 July 2015, we submitted an application for suspension of such judicial review on the basis that the legal status of the subject patent has yet to be confirmed. As the second-instance trial of an administrative action against the Patent Reexamination Board of the State Intellectual Property Office initiated by the Plaintiffs has been concluded in favour of us, on 3 April 2019, we submitted an application to the Supreme People’s Court of the PRC to resume the judicial review, which remains pending as of the date of this Offering Circular.

DIRECTORS AND MANAGEMENT

GENERAL REGULATION ON INTERNET AND TELECOMMUNICATIONS INDUSTRIES

The following discussion summarises certain aspects of PRC law and regulations, which are relevant to our operations and business. For a description of the legal risks relating to government regulation of our business, see “Risk Factors”.

CORPORATE LAWS AND INDUSTRY CATALOGUE RELATING TO FOREIGN INVESTMENT

The establishment, operation and management of corporate entities in the PRC are governed by the Company Law of the PRC (“Company Law”) (公司法), effective in 1994, amended in December 1999, August 2004, October 2005, December 2013 and October 2018 (effective as at 26 October 2018). The Company Law is applicable to our PRC subsidiaries and consolidated affiliated entities unless the PRC laws on foreign investment have stipulated otherwise.

The establishment, approval, registered capital requirement and day-to-day operational matters of wholly foreign-owned enterprises are regulated by the Foreign Investment Law of the PRC (外資投資法) effective on 1 January 2020, and the Implementation Rules of the Foreign Investment Law of the PRC (外資投資法實施細則) effective on 1 January 2020. The Foreign Investment Law (外商投資法) replaced the trio of laws regulating foreign investment in China, namely, the Sino-Foreign Equity Joint Venture Enterprise Law (中外合資經營企業法), the Sino-Foreign Contractual Joint Ventures Law of the PRC (中外合作經營企業法) and the Wholly Foreign-owned Enterprise Law of the PRC (外資企業法), together with their implementation rules and ancillary regulations. The foreign-invested enterprises established prior to the effective of the Foreign Investment Law (外商投資法) may keep their corporate forms within five years from 1 January 2020. Pursuant to the Foreign Investment Law (外商投資法), “foreign investors” means natural person, enterprise, or other organisation of a foreign country, “foreign-invested enterprises” (“FIEs”) means any enterprise established under PRC law that is wholly or partially invested by foreign investors, and “foreign investment” means any foreign investor’s direct or indirect investment in Mainland China, including: (i) establishing FIEs in Mainland China either individually or jointly with other investors; (ii) acquiring stock shares, stock equity, property shares, other similar interests in Chinese domestic enterprises; (iii) investing in new projects in Mainland China either individually or jointly with other investors; and (iv) making investment through other means provided by laws, administrative regulations, or State Council provisions. In addition, foreign investors or FIEs are required to file information reports and foreign investment shall be subject to the national security review.

Investment activities in the PRC by foreign investors are principally governed by the Special Administrative Measures for Entrance of Foreign Investment (2019 Version) (外商投資准入特別管理措施(負面清單)(2019年版)) (“2019 Foreign Investment Negative List”), and the Industry Guidelines of Encouraged Foreign Investment (2019 Version) (鼓勵外商投資產業目錄(2019年版)), which were promulgated jointly by MOFCOM and NDRC on 30 June 2019 and became effective on 30 July 2019, collectively replaced and abolished the Guidance Catalog of Industries for Foreign Investment (2017 Revision) and the Special Administrative Measures for Entrance of Foreign Investment (Negative List) (2018 Version) regulating foreign investment in China. Pursuant to the 2019 Foreign Investment Negative List, foreign investors should refrain from making investment in any of the prohibited sectors specified in the 2019 Foreign Investment Negative List, and foreign investors are required to obtain permits or fulfill the specific requirements for access to other sectors that are listed in the 2019 Foreign Investment Negative List but not classified as “prohibited”.

Pursuant to the Interim Administrative Measures for the Record-filing of the Establishment and Modification of Foreign-invested Enterprises (外商投資企業設立及變更備案管理暫行辦法) (the “Interim Administrative Measures”) which was promulgated by MOFCOM on 8 October 2016 and amended on 30 July 2017 and 29 June 2018, establishment and modifications of foreign-invested enterprises not subject to the approval under the special entry management measures shall be filed with the delegated commercial authorities. The Interim Administrative Measures was replaced by the Reporting of Foreign Investment Information (外商投資信息報告辦法) on 1 January 2020.

On 30 December 2019, the Ministry of Commerce and the State Administration of Market Regulation issued the Measures for the Reporting of Foreign Investment Information (外商投資信息報告辦法), which became effective on 1 January 2020 and replaced the Interim Administrative Measures. Since 1 January 2020, for foreign investors carrying out investment activities directly or indirectly in China, the foreign investors or foreign-invested enterprises shall submit investment information to the commerce authorities pursuant to these measures. The FIL defines foreign investment as any investment activity directly or indirectly carried out in the PRC by one or more foreign natural persons, enterprises or other organizations (the “Foreign Investor(s)”), and specifically stipulates four forms of investment activities as foreign investment, namely, (a) establishment of a foreign-invested enterprise in the PRC by a Foreign Investor, either individually or collectively with any other investor, (b) obtaining shares, equities, assets interests, or any other similar rights or interests of a PRC domestic enterprise by a Foreign Investor, (c) investment in any new project in the PRC by a Foreign Investor, either individually or collectively with any other investor, and (d) investment in any other manners stipulated under laws, administrative regulations or provisions prescribed by the State Council. The FIL establishes the administration systems for foreign investment, which mainly consists of national treatment plus negative list system, foreign investment information report system and security review system. The said systems, together with other administration measures stipulated under the FIL, constitute the frame of foreign investment administration. Establishment of wholly foreign-owned enterprises is generally permitted in other industries.

Pursuant to the 2019 Foreign Investment Negative List, foreign investment access in the telecommunications services industry shall be limited to areas committed to be liberalised by the PRC government upon its accession to the World Trade Organisation. Specifically, foreign investment access shall not exceed 50% in the industry of value-added telecommunications services (excluding e-commerce business, domestic multi-party communication, storage and forwarding business and call center). The 2019 Foreign Investment Negative List also provides that foreign investment is prohibited in businesses that operate in internet news information services, online publication services, online audio-visual programme services, online cultural businesses (excluding music services) and internet public information release services (services already liberalised by China under its commitments upon accession to the World Trade Organisation shall be excluded from the foregoing services).

REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Certain areas related to the Internet, such as telecommunications, Internet information services, international connections to computer information networks, information security and censorship are regulated heavily in the PRC and are covered extensively by a number of existing laws and regulations issued by various PRC governmental authorities, including but not limited to:

- China Securities Regulatory Commission (“CSRC”);
- NAPP;
- MIIT;
- MPS;
- MOCT;
- MOFCOM;
- NRTA;
- PBOC;
- the State Council Information Office (“SCIO”);

- SAFE;
- SAMR;
- CAC;

GENERAL REGULATIONS ON INTERNET AND TELECOMMUNICATIONS INDUSTRIES

Regulations on Value-added Telecommunications Services

The Telecommunications Regulations (電信條例) (“Telecom Regulations”) which was promulgated on 25 September 2000 and amended on 29 July 2014 and 6 February 2016 respectively by the State Council draws a distinction between ‘basic telecommunication services’ and ‘value-added telecommunication services’. Pursuant to the currently effective Catalogue of Telecommunications Business (電信業務分類目錄 (2015 edition)), which supersedes the 2003 edition and took effect on 1 March 2016 and has been amended on 6 June 2019, “value-added telecommunication services” are divided into Category I with respect to services based on infrastructure and resource and Category II regarding services based on public application platform. Category I value-added telecommunications services cover: (i) Internet Data Centre Services; (ii) Content Delivery Network Services; (iii) Domestic Internet Protocol Virtual Private Network Services; (iv) Internet Access Services. Category II value-added telecommunications services cover: (i) On-line Data Processing and Transaction Processing Services; (ii) Domestic Multi-party Communications Services; (iii) Storage and Forwarding Services; (iv) Call Centre Services; (v) Information Services; (vi) Code and Protocol Translation Services. Under the Telecom Regulations, commercial operators of value-added telecommunications services must first obtain an operating licence from MIIT or its local branch.

On 25 September 2000, the State Council promulgated the Administrative Measures on Internet Information Services (互聯網信息服務管理辦法) (“Internet Measures”), which was amended on 8 January 2011. According to the Internet Measures, Internet content provision services (“ICP”) is a subcategory of value-added telecommunications services and ICP operators must obtain an ICP Licence (“ICP Licence”) from MIIT or its local branch before engaging in any commercial ICP operations within the PRC. When the Internet information service involves certain particular areas, such as news, publication, education, medical care, pharmaceuticals, and medical equipment, prior approval from the respective regulatory authorities must be obtained prior to applying for the ICP Licence. CAC and MIIT jointly released a draft bill for amended Internet Measures in June 2012, although such bill has not been passed as at the date hereof.

On 3 July 2017, MIIT promulgated the Administrative Measures on Telecommunications Business Operating Licence (電信業務經營許可管理辦法) (“Telecom Licence Measures”), which supersedes the 2009 edition and took effect on 1 September 2017. The Telecom Licence Measures set forth the qualifications and procedures for obtaining the telecommunication operating licences, the supervision obligation of telecommunications service operators and the obligation to submit annual reports. Telecommunication operators are required to file an annual report including the information with respect to their operations during the previous year and implementation of the network and information security maintenance systems and measures with the competent authorities in first quarter of each year. A telecommunication operator conducting value-added telecommunications services within a single province must obtain the telecommunication operating licences from MIIT’s local branch, while a telecommunication operating licences providing value-added telecommunication services across different provinces must obtain a trans-regional telecommunication operating licence directly from MIIT and file with the relevant MIIT’s local branches.

In July 2013, MIIT promulgated the Regulations on Protection of Personal Information of Telecommunications and Internet Users (電信和互聯網用戶個人信息保護規定) (“Regulations on Network Information Protection”), effective on 1 September 2013, to enforce the Network Information Protection Decision (全國人民代表大會常務委員會關於加強網絡信息保護的決定), promulgated by the Standing Committee of the PRC National People's Congress in December 2012, with the goal of enhancing and protecting information security and privacy on the Internet. The Regulations on Network Information Protection require Internet operators to take various measures to ensure the privacy and confidentiality of user information, including supervision and management over those third party services provided by Internet operators.

Regulations on Foreign Investment in the Value-added Telecommunications Services

Foreign investment in the telecommunications sector is governed by the Regulations on Administration of Foreign Invested Telecommunications Enterprises (外商投資電信企業管理規定) (“FITE Regulations”), which were promulgated by the State Council on 11 December 2001 and amended on 10 September 2008 and 6 February 2016 respectively. Pursuant to the FITE Regulations, a foreign investor must establish a foreign invested telecommunications enterprise (“FITE”) with a PRC joint venture partner, to engage in basic telecommunications and value-added telecommunications businesses. On 19 June 2015, the MIIT promulgated the Circular of the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology on Removing the Restrictions on Shareholding Ratio Held by Foreign Investors in Online Data Processing and Transaction Processing (Operating E-commerce) Business (“Circular 196”) (工業和信息化部關於放開在線數據處理與交易處理業務(經營類電子商務)外資股比限制的通告). According to Circular 196, the restrictions over foreign shareholding percentage in online data processing and transaction processing (operating e-commerce) business have been reduced nationwide, and the foreign investor may hold up to 100% of the equity interest in a PRC company which engages in online data processing and E-commerce business; provided that such foreign investor demonstrates a good track record and experience in operating value-added telecommunications services and obtains approvals from the competent MIIT and MOFCOM.

The 2019 Foreign Investment Negative List classified the value-added telecommunication services as restricted foreign investment industry by requiring the equity ratio of foreign investors shall not exceed 50%, except for the e-commerce, storage and forwarding or call center, which means that a foreign investor may hold more than 50% of the equity in a PRC company engaging in the e-commerce, storage and forwarding or call center industry.

On 13 July 2006, MIIT issued the Circular on Intensifying the Administration of Foreign Investment in and Operation of Value-added Telecommunications Services (關於加強外商投資經營增值電信業務管理的通知) (“the MIIT Circular”). The MIIT Circular emphasises that a foreign investor planning to invest in the value-added telecommunications sector in the PRC must set up a FITE and apply for the applicable telecommunications business operation licence. A domestic value-added telecommunications services provider shall not lease, transfer or sell any telecommunications business operation licence to a foreign investor, or provide resources, sites, facilities or other conditions for a foreign investor in any way to illegally operate a telecommunications business in the PRC.

According to the MIIT Circular, if a foreign investor co-operates with a domestic value-added telecommunications services provider, the following requirements apply: (i) the domain names and registered trademarks used by the value-added telecommunications services provider must be legally owned by itself or its shareholder; (ii) the value-added telecommunications services provider must have the necessary premises and facilities for its approved business operations and maintain such facilities in the regions covered by its licence; and (iii) the value-added telecommunications services provider must safeguard its network and internet security in accordance with standards set forth in the Baseline Requirements for Network and Information Security of Value-added Telecommunication Services (增值電信業務網絡信息安全保障基本要求).

On 28 September 2009, GAPP, the National Copyright Administration, and the National Office of Combating Pornography and Illegal Publications jointly issued the Notice on Implementing the Provisions of the State Council on “Three Determinations” and the Relevant Explanations of the State Commission Office for Public Sector Reform and further Strengthening of the Administration of Pre-examination and Approval of Online Games and the Examination and Approval of Imported Online Games (關於貫徹落實國務院《“三定”規定》和中央編辦有關解釋，進一步加強網絡遊戲前置審批和進口網絡遊戲審批管理的 通知) (“Circular 13”). Circular 13 states that foreign investors are not permitted to invest in online game operating businesses in the PRC via wholly owned, PRC-foreign equity joint ventures or co-operative joint ventures or to exercise control over or participate in the operation of domestic online game businesses through indirect means, such as other joint venture companies or contractual or technical arrangements. Regarding the risks with respect to the MIIT Circular and Circular 13, please see “Risk Factors — Risks Related to our Corporate Structure — If the PRC government finds that the agreements that establish the structure for operating our services in the China do not comply with PRC governmental restrictions on foreign investment in Internet businesses, value-added telecommunications businesses or other related businesses, or if these regulations or the interpretation of existing regulations change in the future, we could be subject to severe penalties or be forced to relinquish our interests in those operations”.

Regulations on the Order of the Internet Information Service Market

On 29 December 2011, the MIIT promulgated Certain Rules on Regulating the Order of the Internet Information Service Market (規範互聯網信息服務市場秩序若干規定) (“Internet Market Order Rules”), effective from 15 March 2012. The Internet Market Order Rules aim to regulate the order of the Internet information service market, protect the legitimate rights and interests of Internet information service providers and users, and promote the healthy development of the Internet industry. Pursuant to the Internet Market Order Rules, an Internet information service provider shall offer services under the principles of equality, voluntariness, fairness and integrity, and shall not commit acts infringing the legitimate rights and interests of other service providers and users such as maliciously interfering in services offered by other Internet information service providers at user terminals, or maliciously interfering in the downloading, installation, operation and upgrading of software and other products related to Internet information services, or refusing, postponing or ceasing to provide users with Internet information services or products without any proper reason. An Internet information service provider may be subject to administrative penalties, including warnings and fines and other legal liabilities, for violation of the Internet Market Order Rules.

Regulations on Internet Content Services

National security considerations are an important factor in the regulation of Internet content in the PRC. Under the Internet Measures, violators may be subject to penalties, including criminal sanctions, for the production, duplication, posting or dissemination of any Internet content that:

- opposes the fundamental principles stated in the PRC Constitution;
- jeopardises national security, divulges state secrets, subverts state power or damages national unity;
- harms the dignity or interests of the state;
- incites ethnic hatred or racial discrimination or damages inter-ethnic unity;
- undermines PRC religious policy or propagates heretical teachings or feudal superstitions;
- disseminates rumors, disturbs social order or disrupts social stability;
- disseminates obscenity, pornography, gambling, violence, murder, terror or induces crimes;
- humiliates or defames any other person, or infringes the legal interests of any other person; or
- is otherwise prohibited by the laws or administrative regulations.

ICP operators are required to monitor their websites. They shall not post or disseminate any content that falls within these prohibited categories and must remove any such content from their websites. Those who fail to observe the requirements shall be sanctioned by the public security or State security authorities in accordance with the Law of the People's Republic of China on Public Security Control and Sanctions (2012 Revision) (中華人民共和國治安管理處罰法(2012修正)) and the Regulation on Protection of Security in International Connection of Computer Information Networks (2011 Revision) (計算機資訊網絡國際聯網安全保護管理辦法(2011修訂)) as well as other laws and administrative regulations. In the case of commercial Internet information service providers who fail to observe the requirements, they shall be ordered by the authority issuing the Service Licence to temporarily suspend their services or their Service Licences may be revoked while non-profit Internet information service providers shall be ordered by the record-filing authority to temporarily or permanently shut down their websites.

Pursuant to the Decisions on Maintenance of Internet Security (關於維護互聯網安全的決定) (“Internet Security Decisions”) that was adopted by the Standing Committee of National People's Congress, the PRC national legislative body on 28 December 2000 and was amended on 27 August 2009, individuals or entities may be subject to criminal charges for certain misconduct which threaten or harm (i) the Internet operation safety; (ii) national security and social stability; (iii) economic system and social management and (iv) legal rights and interests of individuals, legal persons and other organisations.

On 21 January 2010, MIIT promulgated the Administrative Measures on the Security and Protection of Communication Networks (通信網絡安全防護管理辦法), according to which, Internet operators shall file the certain information regarding its operated public networks and Internet with MIIT.

The PRC Supreme People's Court and the Supreme People's Procuratorate jointly issued the Interpretations and the Interpretations II, on Several Issues Relating to the Specific Application of Laws in Handling Criminal Cases Involving the Use of Internet, Mobile Communication Terminal or Information Service Station for Producing, Duplicating, Publishing, Selling or Disseminating Obscene Electronic Information (最高人民法院、最高人民檢察院關於辦理利用互聯網、移動通訊終端、聲訊台製作、複製、出版、販賣、傳播淫穢電子信息刑事案件具體應用法律若干問題的解釋和解釋(一) / (二)) on 3 September 2004 and 2 February 2010, respectively. According to these judicial interpretations, the executive assuming direct responsibility and other directly responsible personnel of the Internet service operator, shall be convicted and punished accordingly if the Internet service operator knowingly provides any service to an obscene website or an obscene information provider.

On 4 February 2015, the China Internet Network Information Center promulgated the Administrative Provisions on Account Names of Internet Users (互聯網用戶賬號名稱管理規定), which became effective on 1 March 2015. According to such provisions, Internet service providers must inspect the account names, Avatars and profiles submitted by users, authenticate the identity information of the registered users, report to the competent authorities regarding any violation of the provisions.

Pursuant to the Ninth Amendment to the Criminal Law (刑法修正案(九)) which became effective on 1 November 2015, Internet service providers that fail to fulfill the obligations related to internet information security administration as required by applicable laws and regulations and refuse to rectify upon orders will be subject to criminal liability for (i) any dissemination of illegal information at a large scale; (ii) any severe impact due to the leakage of the information of users; (iii) any serious loss of evidence of criminal activities; or (iv) other severe circumstances. An Internet service provider will be subject to criminal liability if it is aware of any individual or entity committing crime by Internet and provides internet access, server hosting, network storage, communication transmission and other technical support, or provides advertising services, payment services or other assistance to such individual or entity.

On 7 November 2016, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress promulgated the Cyber Security Law (網絡安全法), which became effective on 1 June 2017. Pursuant to the Cyber Security Law, Internet service providers must take technical measures to safeguard the operation of networks, respond to cyber security incidents effectively, prevent illegal and criminal activities, and maintain the integrity, confidentiality and usability of network data. Internet service providers shall require the users to provide their real identity information when signing agreements or confirmations on the provision of such services as network access, domain name registration, fixed phone and mobile phone network access, or information release and instant communication, and in case that a user does not provide his/her real identity information, internet service providers shall not provide related services for the user. The Cyber Security Law further requires Internet service providers to formulate contingency plans for cyber security incidents, report to the competent departments immediately upon the occurrence of any incident endangering cyber security and take corresponding remedial measures.

At the end of 2019, the CAC issued the Management of Network Information Content Ecology (網絡信息內容生態治理規定) (the “CAC Order No.5”), which became effective on 1 March 2020, to further strengthen the regulation and management of network information content. Pursuant to the CAC Order No.5, each network information content service platform is required, among others, (i) not to disseminate any information prohibited by laws and regulations, such as information jeopardizing national security; (ii) to strengthen the examination of advertisements published on such network information content service platform; (iii) to promulgate management rules and platform convention and improve user agreement, such that such network information content service platform could clarify users’ rights and obligations and perform management responsibilities required by laws, regulations, rules and convention; (iv) to establish convenient means for complaints and reports; and (v) to prepare annual work report regarding its management of network information content ecology. In addition, a network information content service platform must not, among others, (i) utilize new technologies such as deep-learning and virtual reality to engage in activities prohibited by laws and regulations; (ii) engage in online traffic fraud, malicious traffic rerouting and other activities related to fraudulent account, illegal transaction account or maneuver of users’ account; and (iii) infringe a third party’s legitimate rights or seek illegal interests by way of interfering with information display.

Regulations on Internet Cultural Activities

On 10 May 2003, MOC promulgated the Provisional Regulations for the Administration of Internet Culture (互聯網文化管理暫行規定) (“Internet Culture Regulations”), which were revised on 1 July 2004, 17 February 2011 and 15 December 2017 and the revised Internet Culture Regulations became effective on 15 December 2017. The Internet Culture Regulations apply to entities that engage in activities related to “Internet cultural products”, which are classified as cultural products produced, disseminated and circulated via the Internet, including Internet cultural products: (i) specifically produced for the Internet, such as online music entertainment, online games, network games, network performance programmes, online performing arts, online artworks and online animation features and cartoons and so forth; and (ii) converted from music entertainment, games, performance programmes, performing arts, artworks and animation features and cartoons and disseminated via the Internet. Pursuant to the Notice on Adjustment of Approval Scope of the Internet Culture Operation License and Further Regulation on Approval issued by the office of the MOCT (文化和旅遊部辦公廳關於調整《網絡文化經營許可證》審批範圍進步規範審批工作的通知) on 14 May 2019, MOCT no longer assumes the responsibility for the administration of online game industry and online games were removed from “Internet cultural products”.

Pursuant to the Internet Culture Regulations effective on 15 December 2017, an entity is required to obtain a Network Culture Operating Permit from the relevant local branch of MOC (currently MOCT), in addition to the ICP Licence if it intends to commercially engage in any of the following types of activities:

- (i) production, duplication, import, distribution or broadcasting of Internet cultural products;
- (ii) publication of Internet cultural products on the Internet or transmission of Internet cultural products via an information network, such as the Internet and mobile networks, to a computer, fixed-line or mobile phones, television sets or games consoles for the purpose of browsing, reviewing, using or downloading such products by online users; or
- (iii) exhibitions or contests related to Internet cultural products.

On 12 August 2013, MOC promulgated the Administrative Rules on Self-Censorship by Internet Culture Operators (網絡文化經營單位內容自審管理辦法) (“Internet Culture Operators Self-Censorship Measures”), effective as at 1 December 2013, according to which, each Internet cultural operator shall undertake an internal review by at least two qualified staff members on the content of the Internet cultural products before they are made public which is verified by the manager in charge of such review.

REGULATIONS ON ONLINE GAMES AND PUBLICATIONS

Regulations on Electronic and Internet Publications

On 21 February 2008, GAPP issued the Regulations on Administration of Publishing of Electronic Publications (電子出版物出版管理規定) (“Electronic Publications Regulations”), which was amended on 28 August 2015 and repealed the prior Regulations on Administration of Electronic Publications (電子出版物管理規定) issued on 30 December 1997. Pursuant to the Electronic Publications Regulations, the PRC implements a licensing system for publishing of electronic publications. A company wishing to publish electronic publications must meet the specified requirements with respect to registered capital, equipment, premise, organisational structure and obtain an approval from GAPP. With such approval, the company must then register with the local branch of GAPP and obtain an Electronic Publications Publishing Licence. A company engaged in publishing of electronic publications is also required to go through a regular inspection process every two years, during which the company’s registration, qualification, business operation, compliance and internal management will be reviewed by the local branch of GAPP.

On 31 March 2015, the SAPPRFT issued the Guiding Opinion on Promoting the Integrated Development of Traditional and New Publication (關於推動傳統出版和新興出版融合發展的指導意見). Pursuant to this Opinion, competent authorities shall (i) promote a content dissemination system integrating online and offline development; (ii) use big data, cloud computing, mobile Internet, Internet of things and other technologies to strengthen the building of publication content, products and user databases and improve the capacity of data gathering, storage, management, analysis and use.

GAPP and MIIT Provisions was issued by GAPP and MIIT on 4 February 2016 and effective on 10 March 2016, which abolished the Interim Regulations on Administration of Internet Publication (互聯網出版管理暫行規定) issued on 27 June 2002. GAPP and MIIT Provisions require business operations involving Internet publishing to be approved by GAPP. Internet publishing services are defined as activities of providing Internet publications to the public through information networks.

Under Circular 13, provision of online games via Internet is regarded as an Internet publishing activity and online game operators must be examined and approved by GAPP (currently NAPP). With such approval, the online game operator will receive an Internet Publishing Licence specifically allowing for online game operation business. The notice prohibits any direct foreign investment in online game operation business. Furthermore, it prohibits foreign control or participation in domestic companies’ online game operation business in an indirect way such as entering into technical support agreements or in any other disguised manner.

Regulations on Online Game Operations

Online game operations are covered extensively by a number of existing laws and regulations issued by various PRC governmental authorities, including MIIT, GAPP and MOC. Under the Electronic Publication Regulations and other regulations issued by GAPP, online games are classified as a kind of electronic production. It requires online games to be published by licenced electronic publishing entities with standard publication codes. The GAPP (currently NAPP) and MIIT Provisions require online game operators, to obtain an Internet Publication Licence from GAPP prior to directly making its online games publicly available in the PRC. Under the revised Internet Culture Regulations, which became effective on 1 April 2011, online game operators are required to apply to the local branch of MOC (currently MOCT) for a Network Culture Operating Permit as online games fall within the scope of Internet cultural products.

However, online games have been removed from the scope of “Internet cultural products” since 14 May 2019. On 14 May 2019, the MOC promulgated the Notice to Adjust the Scope of Approval for the Internet Culture Business License and to Further Regulate the Examination and Approval Work (《關於調整〈網絡文化經營許可證〉審批範圍進一步規範審批工作的通知》). According to such notice, the MOC no longer assumes responsibility for administering the industry of online games.

Pursuant to the Computer Software Protection Regulations (計算機軟件保護條例) promulgated by the State Council on 20 December 2001, and revised in January 2011 and January 2013, a software copyright holder may apply to register his/her software with the competent software registration organ and a registration certificate issued by the software registration organ shall be a prima facie evidence of items having been registered. In order to further implement the Computer Software Protection Regulations, the National Copyright Administration of the PRC issued the Computer Software Copyright Registration Procedures (計算機軟件著作權登記辦法) on 20 February 2002, which apply to software copyright registration, licence contract registration and transfer contract registration. Pursuant to the Computer Software Copyright Registration Procedures, the software being registered shall be independently developed software or software where important improvements have been made in terms of the functionality or performance of the original software through changes being made to the software with the approval of the original copyright owner. If an application for the registration of software is approved, a corresponding registration of software certificate shall be issued and the registration shall be publicly announced.

Regulations on Online Game Censorship and Imported Games

On 12 July 2005, MOC and MIIT promulgated the Opinions on the Development and Administration of Online Games (關於網絡遊戲發展和管理的若干意見), reflecting the government’s intent to both foster and control the development of the online game industry in the PRC. In addition, MOC will censor online games that “threaten state security”, “disturb the social order”, or contain “obscenity” or “violence”.

Pursuant to Circular 13, online game operators must provide each online game to GAPP (currently NAPP) for examination and approval prior to its online release. Circular 13 further provides that GAPP (currently NAPP) is responsible for the examination and approval of any imported online games. Any online game operator that intends to operate imported online games shall first apply for approval on copyright registration certificate from the relevant local branch of the Copyright Administration and then pre-approval from GAPP (currently NAPP).

On 30 August 2018, eight PRC regulatory authorities at national government level, including the National Administration of Press and Publication and the Ministry of Education, released the Implementation Programme. As part of the plan to prevent myopia among children, the Implementation Programme plans to regulate the number of new online games and restrict the amount of time children spend playing on electronic devices.

On 11 October 2018, the General Office of the State Council promulgated the Implementation Scheme of Improvement and Promotion of Consumption Mechanism (2018-2020) (完善促進消費體制機制實施方案(2018-2020年)), which expressly calls for developing digital cultural content such as digital video and audio, animation and games and online literature, promoting transformation and upgrading of online games, and regulating development, publishing and operation of online games.

In accordance with “the Notice on adjustment to the scope and further standardize examination and approval of Network Culture Operating Permit” promulgated by Ministry of Culture and Tourism (文化和旅游部關於調整〈網絡文化經營許可證〉審批範圍進一步規範審批工作的通知) on 14 May 2019, MOCT shall no longer be responsible for the management of online gaming industry. Up to now, there are no clear provisions in laws and regulations on which government authority shall undertake the responsibility after the MOCT, and whether it is still required to obtain any license.

On 6 November 2019, the MOCT promulgated the Circular on Management Measure of Game and Entertainment Equipment (文化和旅遊部關於印發《遊戲遊藝設備管理辦法》的通知) (“Circular 129”), which became effective on 1 January 2020, and replaced the the Circular of the Ministry of Culture on Permitting Domestic and Foreign-invested Enterprises to Engage in the Production and Sales of Game and Entertainment Equipment (文化部關於允許內外資企業從事遊戲遊藝設備生產和銷售的通知) (“Circular 576”). Under Circular 129, enterprises that produce game and entertainment equipment shall obtain approval from the provincial-level cultural and tourism administration. Once approved, the local cultural and tourism administration shall issue a “game and entertainment equipment electronic identification” to such enterprises.

Regulations on Web-based Games

In general, Circular 13 and Online Game Measures include web-based games within the definition of online games. Prior to the promulgation of Circular 13 and the Online Game Measures, both GAPP and MOC attempted to regulate the operation and operators of MMORPGs, although there was no specific regulation or policy that included web-based games as online games. However, due to the growing popularity of social and web-based games, these games are coming under increasing scrutiny with efforts being made to limit the role and impact of foreign companies in this sector. GAPP and MOC have both indicated that social and web-based games should be regulated similarly to other online games.

Regulations on Virtual Currency

On 15 February 2007, MOC, PBOC and other relevant government authorities jointly issued the Notice on the Reinforcement of the Administration of Cybercafe and Online Games (關於進一步加強網吧及網絡遊戲管理工作的通知) (“Cybercafe Notice”). Under the Cybercafe Notice, PBOC is directed to strengthen the administration of virtual currency in online games to avoid any adverse impact on the real economic and financial systems. The Cybercafe Notice provides that the total amount of virtual currency issued by online game operators and the amount purchased by individual users should be strictly limited, with a strict and clear division between virtual transactions and real eCommerce transactions. This Cybercafe Notice also provides that (i) virtual currency should only be used to purchase virtual items provided in the online games by the online game operator; (ii) if the customers would like to redeem the virtual currency for legal currency, the amount so redeemed shall not exceed the original purchase amount; and (iii) the activity of buying and reselling virtual currency for a profit is strictly prohibited.

On 4 June 2009, MOC and MOFCOM jointly issued the Virtual Currency Notice. Virtual currency is broadly defined in the Virtual Currency Notice as a type of virtual exchange instrument issued by Internet game operation enterprises, purchased directly or indirectly by the game user by exchanging legal currency at a certain exchange rate, saved outside the game programmes, stored in servers provided by the Internet game operation enterprises in electronic record format and represented by specific numeric units. Virtual currency is used to exchange Internet game services provided by the issuing enterprise for a designated extent and time, and is represented by several forms, such as prepaid game cards, prepaid amounts or Internet game points. Game props, which are virtual items or equipment obtained from playing online games, are excluded from the definition of virtual currency. The Virtual Currency Notice specifically states that game props should not be confused with virtual currency and that MOC, jointly with other authorities, will issue separate rules to govern them.

The Virtual Currency Notice divides the virtual currency business into (i) enterprise engaging in virtual currency issuing service, which is an online game operating enterprise engaged in the issuance and provide of virtual currency use service and (ii) enterprise engaging in virtual currency trading service, which is an enterprise providing a trading platform between the users in respect of the virtual currency. Pursuant to the Virtual Currency Notice, virtual currency may not be used to pay for any services outside of the online game realm. The Virtual Currency Notice prohibits online game operators from awarding game props or virtual currency through lucky draws or lotteries that require users to first contribute cash or virtual currency. The Virtual Currency Notice also prohibits a single enterprise from operating both virtual currency issuing services and virtual currency trading services.

Regulations on Anti-fatigue System and Real-Name Registration System

On 15 April 2007, MIIT, GAPP, the Ministry of Education and five other government authorities jointly issued the Notice on the Implementation of Online Game Anti-fatigue System to Protect the Physical and Psychological Health of Minors (關於保護未成年人身心健康實施網絡遊戲防沉迷系統的通知) (“Anti-fatigue Notice”). Pursuant to the Anti-fatigue Notice, online game operators are required to install an “anti-fatigue system” that discourages game players under 18 years of age from playing games for more than five hours per day. Under such anti-fatigue system, three hours or less of accumulative play by minors is considered to be “healthy”, three to five hours to be “fatiguing”, and five hours or more to be “unhealthy”. Game operators are required to reduce the value of in-game benefits to a game player by half if the player has reached the “fatiguing” level, and to zero for the “unhealthy” level. To identify whether a game player is a minor and thus subject to the anti-fatigue system, online game operators must also use a real-name registration system.

On 1 July 2011, the GAPP, the Ministry of Education, MPS, MIIT and four other governmental authorities issued the Notice on Implementing the Verification of Real-name Registration for the Anti-Fatigue System of Online Games (關於啓動網絡遊戲防沉迷實名驗證工作的通知) (“Real-Name Verification Notice”). Pursuant to the Real-Name Verification Notice, starting from 1 October 2011, real-name verification for online game (excluding mobile online games) anti-fatigue systems shall be launched nationwide and the National Center for Citizen’s Identification Card Number Search Service (“ID Card Search Center”), an affiliate of MPS, is responsible for the real-name verification for online game anti-fatigue systems. The ID Card Search Center shall verify the identification information reported by online game operators in a timely manner and effectively in accordance with the Procedures for Real-Name Verification for Online Game Anti-fatigue System (網絡遊戲防沉迷實名驗證流程). Online game operators shall be responsible for the recognition of real-name registration information of users, report any user identification information that needs to be verified and include users who have been determined to have provided fake identification information to the online game anti-fatigue system by real-name verification. The general office of SAPPRFT promulgated the Notice on Further Implementing the Verification of Real-name Registration for the Anti-Fatigue System of Online Games (關於深入開展網絡遊戲防沉迷實名驗證工作的通知) on 25 July 2014, further strengthening the implementation of the anti-fatigue system and the real-name registration system provided under the Real-Name Verification Notice. On 25 October 2019, NAPP promulgated the Circular of the National Press and Publication Administration on Preventing Minors from Online Game Addictions (國家新聞出版署關於防止未成年人沉迷網絡遊戲的通知) effective on the same day, which requires that online game enterprises shall strictly control the time slot, duration and paid services provided for minors, and specifies that online game enterprises shall not provide game services in any form for new users without real-name registration commencing from 25 October 2019, and online game enterprises must require all their existing users to complete real-name registration and stop providing game services for users who have not completed real name registration within two months after the foregoing circular took effect.

REGULATIONS ON INTERNET VALUE-ADDED SERVICES

Regulations on Instant Messaging

Pursuant to the currently effective Catalogue of Telecommunications Business, IM services falls within the category of information service business. IM services through Internet shall be provided by an ICP operator holding an ICP Licence.

Regulations on Internet Bulletin Board Services, Microblog Services, Internet Post Comments, Internet Chat Group Services and Internet Public Account Services

Microblog or other SNS activities provided by an ICP operator are usually regarded as a type of BBS service.

On 7 March 2001, MIIT issued a Notice on Further Strengthening Administrative Regulation on Internet Information Bulletin Board Services (關於進一步做好互聯網信息服務電子公告服務審批管理工作的通知) (“BBS Notice”). However, the special examination and approval or the record-filing of the Internet electronic bulletin board services has been canceled by Decision of the State Council on the Fifth Batch of Administrative Examination and Approval Items to be Canceled and Delegated to Lower Administrative Levels (國務院關於第五批取消和下放管理層級行政審批項目的決定) on 4 July 2010. Nevertheless, where the BBS service provided by the ICP operator involves any Internet cultural activities, such as online contests, online music, a Network Culture Operating Permit is also required.

On 16 December 2011, the Information Office of Beijing Municipal Government, Beijing Municipal Public Security Bureau, Beijing Communications Administration Bureau and the Internet Information Office of Beijing Municipality jointly promulgated the Several Provisions of the Beijing Municipality on the Administration and Development of Microblog in Beijing (北京市微博客發展管理若干規定) (“Beijing Microblog Provision”). Beijing Microblog Provision applies to websites within the jurisdiction of the Beijing Municipality that provide microblog services and their microblog users. Pursuant to the Beijing Microblog Provision, websites that provide microblog services shall establish and improve their information content examination system to monitor the creation, copying, publishing and dissemination of microblog information content. Regulations on Mobile Applications

On 28 June 2016, CAC issued the Management Rules on Mobile Internet Application Information Services (移動互聯網應用程序信息服務管理規定) (“Mobile Application Rules”), which became effective on 1 August 2016. Pursuant to these rules a mobile internet application refers to an application software that runs on mobile smart devices providing information services after being pre-installed, downloaded or embedded through other means. Mobile internet application providers refer to the owners or operators of mobile internet applications. Internet application stores refer to platforms which provide services related to online browsing, searching and downloading of application software and releasing of development tools and products through the internet. Pursuant to the Mobile Application Rules, an internet application program provider must verify a user’s mobile phone number and other identity information under the principle of mandatory real name registration at the back-office end and voluntary real name display at the front office end. An internet application provider must not enable functions that can collect a user’s geographical location information, access user’s contact list, activate the camera or recorder of the user’s mobile smart device or other functions irrelevant to its services, nor is it allowed to conduct bundle installations of irrelevant application programs, unless it has clearly indicated to the user and obtained the user’s consent on such functions and application programs. In respect of an internet application store service provider, the Mobile Application Rules require that, among others, it must file a record with the local authority within 30 days after it rolls out the internet application store service online. It must also examine the authenticity, security and legality of internet application providers on its platform, establish a system to monitor application providers’ credit and file a record of such information with relevant governmental authorities.

On 16 December 2016, MIIT promulgated the Interim Measures on the Administration of Pre-Installation and Distribution of Applications for Mobile Smart Terminals (移動智能終端應用軟件預置和分發管理暫行規定), which came into effect on 1 July 2017. The Interim Measures aim to enhance the administration of mobile applications, and require, among others, that mobile phone manufacturers and internet information service providers must ensure that a mobile applications, as well as its ancillary resource files, configuration files and user data can be uninstalled by a user on a convenient basis, unless it is a basic function software, which refers to a software that supports the normal functioning of the hardware and operating system of a mobile smart device.

Regulations on Internet News Publication and Dissemination

On 7 November 2000, SCIO and MIIT jointly promulgated the Provisional Measures for Administration of Internet Websites Carrying on the News Publication Business (互聯網站從事登載新聞業務管理暫行規定) (“Internet News Measures”). These measures require an ICP operator, other than a government authorised news unit/organisation, to obtain the approval from SCIO to publish news on its website or disseminate news through the Internet. Furthermore, any disseminated news is required to be obtained from government-approved sources based on contracts between the ICP operator and these sources or produced by the ICP operators themselves. The copies of such contracts must be filed with the news office of the provincial-level government.

On 2 May 2017, CAC issued the Provisions on the Administration of Internet News Information Services (互聯網新聞信息服務管理規定) (“Internet News Provisions”), which became effective on 1 June 2017 and replaced the Provisions on the Administration of Internet News Information Services (互聯網新聞信息服務管理規定) jointly issued by SCIO and MIIT on 25 September 2005. Pursuant to the Internet News Provisions, anyone who intends to provide the public with news information services on the Internet via Internet websites, applications, forums, blogs, micro-blogs, official accounts, instant message tools, network-based broadcast, shall obtain the Internet News Information Service Licence from CAC before they can provide the approved service and file application to CAC or its local branch for approval if it intends to change its principal, chief editor, governing body, equity structure or any other major item that will affect the licensing conditions. Where an Internet news information service provider intends to adopt new technologies, and adjust or introduce new application functions which are of a media opinion nature or able to result in social mobilization, it shall report the same to CAC or its local counterpart at provincial level for the purpose of safety evaluation of its Internet news information services. The CAC and local cyberspace administrators shall establish a supervisory and administrative system that combines routine inspections and regular ones and set up credit records for Internet news information service networks, and establish a blacklist system for dishonest service providers and an interview system.

On 30 October 2017, CAC issued the Provisions on the Administration of the Safety Evaluation of New Technologies and Applications for Internet News Information Services (互聯網新聞信息服務新技術新應用安全評估管理規定) (“Safety Evaluation Provisions”), which became effective on 1 December 2017. Pursuant to the Safety Evaluation Provisions, the Internet news information service provider shall establish and improve the management system for the evaluation of the safety of new technologies and applications, organize safety evaluation, provide necessary cooperation with CAC for the safety evaluation and complete the rectification in a timely manner if there is any safety risk. If the Internet news information service provider intends to adopt new technologies or add functions that have the attribute of news and public opinion or the social mobilisation ability, or the change of new technologies or new application functions in respect of user scale, function attribute, technical realization mode or basic resource allocation result in the significant change in the attribute of news and public opinion or the social mobilisation ability, it shall organize the relevant safety evaluation of such technologies and applications, prepare a safety evaluation report in writing and be liable for the evaluation results.

Regulations on Internet Medical Care Information Services

On 1 May 2009, Ministry of Health (“MOH”) promulgated the Administration Measures on Internet Medical Care Information Service (互聯網醫療保健信息服務管理辦法) (“Medical Information Measures”), which became effective on 1 July 2009. However, the Medical Information Measures were abolished on 19 January 2016, and the approval of Internet medical care information service was also canceled by the Decision of the State Council onto cancelling 62 Administrative Approval Items Designated by the Central Government for Implementation by Local Governments (國務院關於第一批取消62項中央指定地方實施行政審批事項的決定) on 11 October 2015. Online medical advertisements must comply with the Measures for the Administration of Medical Advertisements (醫療廣告管理辦法) jointly promulgated by MOH and SAIC on 27 September 1993 and amended on 10 November 2006.

On 27 July 2017, the SAPPRFT issued the Notice on Strengthening the Management on Medicine Advertisement Involved in the Internet Audio and Video Programme (國家新聞出版廣電總局辦公廳關於加強網絡視聽節目領域涉醫藥廣告管理的通知) to require the internet audio and video programme service providers to rigorously scrutinize the advertisements and programmes on medical products and resolutely resist deceptive and illegal advertisements.

Regulations on Online Music

On 20 November 2006, MOC issued Several Suggestions of the Ministry of Culture on the Development and Administration of Internet Music (關於網絡音樂發展和管理的若干意見) (“Suggestions”), which became effective on the same date. The Suggestions, among other things, reiterate the requirement for an ICP operator to obtain the Network Culture Operating Permit to carry out any business relating to Internet music products. In addition, foreign investors are prohibited from operating Internet culture businesses. The Suggestions further provide that, any online music that will be circulated within the PRC is required to (i) for foreign music, be approved for importation by MOC and (ii) for domestic music, be filed with MOC. Imported online music is required to be filed for content review by MOC before being circulated online.

In October 2015, the MOC promulgated the Notice on Further Strengthening and Improving the Administration of Content Review of Online Music (關於進一步加強和改進網絡音樂內容管理工作的通知), which became effective on 1 January 2016. According to this notice, an online music operator is required to review the content of music products by itself before making the products available on its platform, and the administrative department of culture is responsible for supervising the implementation of such self-review. To comply with the self-review requirement, an online music operator must file information regarding its self-review regime, including personnel deployment, duty allocation, self-review protocol and others with the competent administrative department of culture. Furthermore, it must file a summary of its self-review result for the preceding quarter on a quarterly basis.

In addition, MOC has taken great efforts to crack down on music websites, which carry out an online music operation without approval since 2010. The Ministry of Culture of People’s Republic of China promulgated a blacklist of Internet animation products (網絡動漫作品黑名單) and a blacklist of music products (網絡音樂作品黑名單) in June and August 2015, respectively. Pursuant to these two blacklists, no one may provide the specified 120 music and 38 Internet animations. It is expected that MOC will release more regulations and tighten its regulatory enforcement on online music operations in the future.

Regulations on Online Audio/Video Broadcasting

On 13 April 2005, the State Council announced Several Decisions on Investment by Non-state-owned Companies in Culture-related Business in China (國務院關於非公有資本進入文化產業的若干決定). These decisions encourage and support non-state-owned companies to enter into certain culture-related business in the PRC, subject to restrictions and prohibitions for investment in audio or video broadcasting, website news and certain other businesses by non-state-owned companies. These decisions authorise SARFT, MOC and GAPP to adopt detailed implementation rules according to these decisions.

On 20 December 2007, SARFT and MIIT jointly issued the Rules for the Administration of Internet Audio and Video Programme Services (互聯網視聽節目服務管理規定) (“Circular 56”), as amended on 28 August 2015. Circular 56 requires that Internet (including mobile network) audio and video service providers must obtain the Information Network Audio and Video Programme Dissemination Licence from SARFT. Furthermore, Circular 56 requires all Internet audio or video service providers to be either wholly state-owned or state-controlled. According to relevant official answers to press questions published on SARFT’s website dated 3 February 2008, officials from SARFT and MIIT clarified that Internet audio or video service providers (foreign-invested websites not included) that have been operating lawfully prior to the issuance of Circular 56 may re-register and continue to operate without becoming state-owned or controlled, provided that such providers have not engaged in any unlawful activities. This exemption will not be granted to Internet audio or video service providers established after Circular 56 was issued. Such policies have been reflected in the application procedures for Audio and Video Programme Dissemination Licence.

On 28 December 2007, SARFT issued the Notice on Strengthening the Administration of TV Dramas and Films Transmitted via the Internet (關於加強互聯網傳播影視劇管理的通知) (“Notice on Dramas and Films”). According to the Notice on Dramas and Films, film or drama programmes without the corresponding Permit for Issuance of TV Dramas, the Permit for Public Projection of Films, the Permit for Issuance of Cartoons and/or the Permit for Public Projection of Academic Literature Movies and TV Plays (as applicable) are not allowed to be published or disseminated online. In addition, an online audio/radio service provider must obtain authorisation from the copyright owners of the film and drama programmes regarding the online dissemination.

On 31 March 2009, SARFT issued the Notice on Strengthening the Administration on Content of Internet Audio/Visual Programmes (關於加強互聯網視聽節目內容管理的通知), which requires that Internet audio and video service providers must edit or delete programmes that contain illegal content and improve their programme content administration systems.

On 15 September 2009, SARFT issued the Notice on Issues Concerning the Administration of Internet Audio-Video Programme Service Permits (關於互聯網視聽節目服務許可證管理有關問題的通知). According to this notice, any website or individual that has not obtained an Information Network Audio and Video Programme Dissemination Licence may not provide audio/video programme services via the Internet. The administrative departments in charge of radio, film and television at all levels shall order the websites and individuals that provide Internet-based audio/video programme services without having obtained the Information Network Audio and Video Programme Dissemination Licences to immediately cease such unauthorised services.

On 10 March 2017, SARFT issued the Internet Audio and Video Programme Services Categories (Provisional) (互聯網視聽節目服務業務分類目錄(試行)) (“Categories”), which revised the previous version issued on 17 March 2010, and classified Internet audio and video programmes into four categories.

On 6 April 2011, the GAPP and General Administration of Customs jointly issued the “Administrative Measures for Importing Audio and Video Products” (音像製品進口管理辦法) and repealed the old Administrative Measures for Importing Audio and Video Products, which had been effective since 1 June 2002. According to these Measures, the government implemented a licensing system for the import of Audio and video products, and the importer of audio and video products shall report to the GAPP for content examination before import and may import audio and video products only after obtaining a licence upon approval.

On 16 December 2016, the SAPPRFT issued the Circular on Strengthening the Administration of Video and Audio Programmes on microblog, Weixin and other Social Media Platforms (關於加強微博、微信等網絡社交平臺傳播視聽節目管理的通知). Pursuant to this circular, any network operators that provide online audio/video programme service through social media platforms such as microblog or Weixin must obtain an Information Network Audio and Video Programme Dissemination Licence. For those organizations and individuals that do not hold such a license, the hosting social networking platform shall be responsible for supervising the content of the posted programmes, and the scope of the programmes must not exceed the scope stated on the platform’s Information Network Audio and Video Programme Dissemination Licence. In addition, film and TV dramas disseminated on social media platforms are required to obtain a license for public airing, and social media platforms are not allowed to repost user-generated video or audio programmes featuring political news.

The PRC government has also promulgated a series of special regulatory measures governing live-streaming services. On 2 September 2016, the SAPPRFT issued the Circular on Strengthening Administration of Live-streaming Service of Network Audio/Video Programmes (關於加強網絡視聽節目直播服務管理有關問題的通知) (“Circular 172”). Pursuant to Circular 172, any entity that intends to engage in live audio/video broadcasting of major political, military, economic, social, cultural or sport events or activities, or live audio/video broadcasting of general social or cultural groups activities, general sporting events or other organizational events must obtain an Information Network Audio and Video Programme Dissemination Licence with the permitted operation scope covering the above business activities. Any entity or individual without qualification is prohibited from broadcasting live audio/radio programmes on news, variety show, sports, interviews, commentary or other forms of programmes through online live-streaming platform or online live broadcasting booth, nor are they permitted to start a live broadcasting channel for any audio or radio programmes. On 4 November 2016, CAC promulgated the Provisions on the Administration of Online Live-streaming Services (互聯網直播服務管理規定) (“Live-streaming Provisions”), which became effective on 1 December 2016. Pursuant to the Live-streaming Provisions, Internet live-streaming service refers to continuous publishing of real-time information to the public on internet by means of video, audio, graphics, text or other forms, and an Internet live-streaming service provider refers to an operator of the platform providing internet live-streaming service. In accordance with the Live-streaming Provisions, an Internet live-streaming service provider must verify and register the identity information of publishers of live-streaming programmes and users on its platform, and file the identity information of the publishers with the local governmental authority for record. Any Internet live-streaming service provider engaging in news service must obtain Internet news information service qualification and operate within the permitted scope of such qualification. On 2 December 2016, MOC promulgated the Provisions on the Administration of Business Activities of Online Performance (網絡表演經營活動管理辦法) (“Online Performance Provisions”), which took effect on 1 January 2017. Pursuant to the Online Performance Provisions, an operator that intends to conduct online performance platform business must obtain a Network Culture Operation Licence with permitted business scope covering “online performance” as issued by the competent provincial cultural administration department. The Online Performance Administration Measures further provide that the operator must enter into a contract with the performer who intends to open an online performance channel to specify rights and obligations of both parties, and require the performer to conduct real name registration by virtue of his valid identification documents, which shall be duly verified by the operator. On 8 August 2018, National Working Group of Attacking Pornography and Illegal Publications, the MIIT, the MPS, the MOCT, the NTRA, the CAC jointly promulgated the Circular on Tightening the Administration of Online Live Services (關於加強網絡直播服務管理工作的通知), pursuant to which, a company that operates live-stream service shall make the filing to the local public security authority within 30 days of their live services being launched.

On 9 January 2019, China Netcasting Services Association (中國網絡視聽節目服務協會) issued the Specification for Network Short Video Platform Management (網絡短視頻平臺管理規範) and Detailed Rules for Content Censorship Criteria of Network Short Video (網絡短視頻內容審核標準細則) (collectively “Short Video Rules”). Pursuant to the Short Video Rules, Network Short Video Platforms shall: (i) obtain relevant qualifications stipulated in the laws and regulations, such as the “Information Network Audio and Video Programme Dissemination Licence” (AVSP), and conduct business strictly within the scope of business stipulated in the license; (ii) actively invite news media, government, army and other institutions to create accounts; (iii) establish the chief editor’s content management responsibility system; (iv) implement the system of “censor before broadcast”; (v) establish censor team according to its business scale; and (vi) implement a system of accountability in case of non-compliance.

On 11 November 2019, CAC issued the Management Rules on the Online Audio and Video Information Service (網絡音視頻信息服務管理規定). These rules apply to the online audio and video information service, which is defined as providing audio and video information production, release or dissemination services to the public through online platforms such as online websites or applications and programs. Online audio and video information service providers shall be responsible for the information content security and shall verify the identities of their users. Further, these rules require the online audio and video information service providers to tighten their management over the audio and video information released by their users, deploy verification technologies to detect illegal or fake audio and video information. If the online audio and video information service providers find that the users produce, release or disseminate any illegal information, they shall stop transmitting such information in accordance with laws and the stipulations with their users, take actions such as eliminating the information, prevent the information from distribution, keep relevant records and report to the cyberspace administrations, culture and tourism departments and radio and television departments.

Regulations on Production and Operation of Radio and TV Programmes

On 19 July 2004, SARFT promulgated the Administrative Measures on the Production and Operation of Radio and Television Programmes (廣播電視節目製作經營管理規定) (“Radio and TV Programmes Measures”), which became effective on 20 August 2004 and were amended on 28 August 2015 and 31 October 2018. These measures provide that anyone who intends to produce or operate radio or television programmes must first obtain the Permit for Production and Operation of Radio and TV Programmes from SARFT or its local branches. Applicants for this permit must meet several criteria. Entities with the Permit for Production and Operation of Radio and TV Programmes must conduct their business operations in strict compliance with the approved scope of production and operation provided under the permit. Furthermore, entities other than radio and TV stations are strictly prohibited from producing radio and TV programmes covering contemporary political news or similar subjects and topics.

On 6 July 2012, SARFT and CAC jointly issued the Notice on Further Strengthening the Administration of Internet Dramas, Micro-Films, and Other Internet Audio/Video Programmes (關於進一步加強網絡劇、微電影等網絡視聽節目管理的通知). Pursuant to this notice, Internet companies offering audio/video programming services must review the contents of Internet dramas, micro-films and other Internet audio/video programmes before broadcasting in accordance with the principle of “you provide Internet services, you take responsibility for it”. The notice also requires Internet audio/video programming industry associations to perform industry self-regulation functions and government departments shall regulate market access to and strengthen the exit mechanism of the Internet audio/video programming service in accordance with the relevant laws and regulations.

On 2 January 2014, the SAPPRFT issued the Supplementary Notice on Further Improving the Administration of Internet Dramas, Micro-Films, and Other Internet Audio/Video Programmes (關於進一步完善網絡劇、微電影等網絡視聽節目管理的補充通知). This Notice further emphasizes that internet audio/video programme service providers must review the contents of the internet audio/video programmes before broadcasting, and shall not broadcast any internet dramas, micro-films or other internet audio/video programmes, which the manufacturers have not obtained the Permit for Production and Operation of Radio and TV Programmes.

Regulations on Online Trading

On 12 April 2011, MOFCOM promulgated the Service Norms for Third-Party Electronic Commerce Trading Platform (第三方廠商電子商務交易平臺服務規範) (“Service Norms”), which was amended on 18 August 2016. The Service Norms recommend that platform operators supervise online merchandisers in the following aspects: member registration, contract standardisation, information management, order maintenance, error trading handling, intellectual property protection and prohibited acts. The Service Norms propose that the platform requires online merchandisers to establish and carry out the reputation system with respect to various commercial commodities by contracts or other methods. It should be noted that all technical contents of the Service Norms are recommended approaches.

On 26 January 2014, SAIC promulgated the Administrative Measures for the Online Trading (網絡交易管理辦法) (“Online Trading Measures”), which became effective on 15 March 2014, to replace the Interim Measures for the Trading of Commodities and Services through the Internet (網絡商品交易及有關服務行為管理暫行辦法) dated 1 July 2010. Under the Online Trading Measures, each online trading platform operator is obligated to, among others, (i) examine, verify and record the real identification of merchandisers using the platform; (ii) enter into an agreement with each merchandiser using the platform; (iii) set up platform rules and regulations; (iv) inspect and supervise the trading information and activities on the platform; (v) take measures to protect trademark, enterprise name use right and other proprietary rights; (vi) examine, record and preserve the products and service information as published in such platform; and (vii) comply with other requirements and co-operate with SAIC or its local branch for monitoring illegal online trading activities and protecting consumers’ rights. Furthermore, operators of the third party trading platforms are required to distinguish the in-house commodities and services from those operated by other operators on the platform by marks in an obvious way to avoid causing misleading perceptions to the consumers. The Online Trading Measures also encourage operators of third party trading platforms to set earnest money in favor of consumers' rights and interests.

On 31 August 2018, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress promulgated the E-commerce Law (電子商務法) ("E-commerce Law"), which became effective on 1 January 2019. The E-commerce Law clarifies obligations for the operators of e-commerce platforms. For example, among other things, an operator of an e-commerce platform shall (i) require business operators that apply to sell products or provide services on its platform to submit truthful information, including the identities, addresses, contacts and licenses; (ii) verify and examine such information; (iii) establish registration archives and verify, examine and update such information on a regular basis; (iv) submit identification information of business operators on its platform to market regulatory authorities and remind business operators that have not registered with market regulatory authorities to complete the relevant registration; (v) submit identities and tax information of the business operators on its platform to tax authorities and remind business operators that have not registered with tax authorities to complete the relevant tax registration; (vi) conspicuously display the terms of platform service agreements, transaction rules or links to such information on the homepage of the platform, and ensure that business operators and consumers are able to read and download such information conveniently; and (vii) restrain from deleting any comments made by consumers on any products sold or service provided on its platform. Where an e-commerce platform operator fails to take necessary measures when it knows or should have known that the products or services provided by a business operators on its platform do not meet the requirements regarding personal or property safety, or commits any other acts that impair the lawful rights and interests of consumers, such platform operator shall be held jointly liable with the business operators on its platform. Where an e-commerce platform operator fails to verify and examine the qualifications of a business operators on its platform or fails to fulfill its obligation to assure the safety of consumers with respect to products or services affecting consumers' life and health, which results in damage to consumers, such platform operator shall take corresponding liability. Where an e-commerce platform operator knows or should have known that a business operators on its platform has infringed any intellectual property right of other third parties, it shall take necessary measures, such as deleting or blocking the relevant information, disabling the relevant links, and terminating the relevant transactions and services; otherwise, such platform operator shall be held jointly liable with the infringing party.

In November 2018, the MOFCOM, the NDRC, the Ministry of Finance, the General Administration of Customs, SAT and SAMR jointly issued the Circular on Improving the Regulation of Cross-border Ecommerce Retail Imports (關於完善跨境電子商務零售進口監管有關工作的通知) and the Ministry of Finance, the General Administration of Customs and SAT jointly promulgated the Circular on Improving Tax Policies for Cross-border E-commerce Retail Imports (關於完善跨境電子商務零售進口稅收政策的通告). In December 2019, 13 authorities including the Ministry of Finance, the General Administration of Customs and NDRC issued Circular on Adjusting and Expanding the Commodities List of Cross-border Ecommerce Retail Imports (關於調整擴大跨境電子商務零售進口商品清單的公告). In March 2020, the General Administration of Customs issued the Circular on Regulatory Issues Regarding Returns on Cross-border Ecommerce Retail Importing Goods (海關總署關於跨境電子商務零售進口商品退貨有關監管事宜的公告). Pursuant to these circulars, a cross-border e-commerce enterprise shall entrust an enterprise registered with the customs to make truthful custom declaration, take the responsibility for the protection of consumers' rights and interests and fulfill the obligation to provide risk notice to the customers.

Regulations on Online Payment Services

On 14 June 2010, PBOC promulgated the Administration Measures on Non-financial Institutions Payment Services (非金融機構支付服務管理辦法) ("Payment Measures"), which became effective on 1 September 2010. On 1 December 2010, PBOC promulgated the Implementing Rules for the Administration Measures on Non-financial Institutions Payment Services (非金融機構支付服務管理辦法實施細則). Pursuant to the Payment Measures and their implementing rules, non-financial institutions which intend to engage in online payment services, shall satisfy various requirements in connection with registered capital, number of qualified professionals, anti-money laundering measures, corporate structure, internal control and risk management, and shall maintain full compliance records for the last three years. The Payment Measures require all non-financial institutions engaged in online payment services to obtain a Payment Service Licence from PBOC within a one-year grace period commencing from 1 September 2010. Failure to obtain the Payment Service Licence will lead to the termination of the right to provide online payment services.

On 16 June 2011, the PBOC promulgated the Provisions on the Administration of Testing and Certification of the Payment Service Business Systems of Non-financial Institutions (非金融機構支付服務業務系統檢測認證管理規定), which require that non-financial institutions shall have their business systems tested and certified within six months before applying for the payment service permits. Non-financial institutions must have their business systems tested and certified in a comprehensive manner at least once every three years according to their needs for payment business development and safety management.

On 7 June 2013, PBOC promulgated the Measures on the Deposit and Management of Customer Excess Reserves by Payment Institutions (支付機構客戶備付金存管辦法) to strengthen the regulation over deposit and application of customer excess reserves and to enhance account security and customer rights. According to these measures, the advance payment received by the payment institutions from the customers for deposits shall constitute “customer excess reserves” and shall be fully deposited into a special account opened with a qualified domestic banking financial institution, which has entered into an agreement with the payment institution for such deposit purpose. These measures further require that payment institutions shall quarterly count and draw provisions of risk out of the interests incurred on the customer excess reserves to make up the damages thereof.

On 29 April 2019, SAFE promulgated the Administrative Measures for the Foreign Exchange Services of Payment Institutions (支付機構外匯業務管理辦法), which repealed the SAFE Notice on Pilot Services of Cross-border Foreign Exchange Payment by Payment Institutions (國家外匯管理局關於開展支付機構跨境外匯支付業務試點的通知). The measures allow the payment institutions to provide small, quick and convenient electronic payment services and carry out foreign exchange business for domestic individuals in relation to cross-border shopping, overseas study, tourism and other items. The measures further require the payment institutions to establish effective risk control policies and systems, improve their management on market players and enhance the verification of the transactions in terms of the authenticity and legality.

On 18 July 2015, the PBOC, the MIIT, the MPS, the Ministry of Finance, the SAIC, the Legislative Affairs Office, the China Banking Regulatory Commission, the China Securities Regulatory Commission, the China Insurance Regulatory Commission and the CAC jointly released the Guiding Opinions on Promoting the Healthy Development of Internet Finance (關於促進互聯網金融健康發展的指導意見). Pursuant to these guiding opinions, the PBOC is responsible for the administration and supervision for Internet payment. It is required that service information be fully disclosed to clients, clients be clearly reminded of business risks, and the nature and functions of payment services intermediaries shall not be exaggerated.

In December 2015, the PBOC promulgated the Administrative Measures on the Online Payment Business of Non-Bank Payment Institutions (非銀行支付機構網絡支付業務管理辦法) (the “Measures on Online Payment Business”). The Measures on Online Payment Business requires payment institutions to comply with the “Know Your Client” principle and establish a client identification mechanism. Payment institutions shall register and verify real-name and basic identification of clients that open account with them. In addition, the Measures on Online Payment Business categorizes online payment accounts of individuals into three types, with each type subject to particular use of purposes and different limits on the amounts that can be paid from the accounts. Individuals that pass more verifications are entitled to open accounts that are allowed be used for more purposes and have higher caps on the amount payable through these accounts. For example, an individual client whose identity is verified by the payment institution or by a partner authorized by the payment institution face to face, or whose basic identity information is subject to multiple cross-validation by at least five legal and safe external channels in a non-face-to-face manner, may open Type-III payment accounts, the balance in which may be used for consumption, account transfers, and procurement of financial products. The accumulative amount of balance payment transactions through all payment accounts of the individual shall not exceed RMB200,000 during a year (excluding account transfers from the payment account to the client's same-name bank account). An individual client that passes the verification of basic identity information in a non-face-to-face manner through at least one legal and safe external channel and opening a payment account with the institution for the first time may open a Type-I payment account, the balance in which may be used for consumption and account transfers only. The accumulative amount of balance payment transactions through such payment account shall not exceed RMB1,000 (including account transfer from the payment account to the client's same-name bank account), from the date of the opening of the account.

On 12 April 2016, the General Office of the State Council issued the Implementing Scheme for Special Rectification of Internet Financial Risks (國務院辦公廳關於印發互聯網金融風險專項整治工作實施方案的通知), which reiterates that a non-bank payment institution must not misappropriate or possess clients' reserves, and instead it must open a reserve account with the PBOC or a qualified commercial bank. In addition, a non-bank payment institution must not use schemes to carry out inter-bank clearing business in a disguised form. Instead, a non-bank payment institution must operate inter-bank payment business through the inter-bank clearing system of the People's Bank of China or a qualified clearing institution.

On 13 January 2017, the General Office of the PBOC issued a Notice on Matters regarding Centralized Deposit and Management of Client's Reserves of Payment Institutions (關於實施支付機構客戶備付金集中存管有關事項的通知). Pursuant to the notice, commencing from 17 April 2017, a non-bank payment institution must deposit a certain percentage of the clients' reserve it collects into a special deposit account and no interest will accrue on such deposited amount. The PBOC will determine such deposit percentage for a non-bank payment institution based on the category of payment business and the risk control and compliance ratings of the non-bank payment institution. The deposit percentage ranges from 12% to 20% for an operator of online payment business, 10% to 18% for an operator of bank card bill acceptance and clearance business and 16% to 24% for an operator of issuance and acceptance of pre-paid card business. If an entity engages in more than one type of payment businesses, the highest of the respective deposit percentages applicable to each payment business of this entity will apply.

On 4 August 2017, the Payment and Settlement Department of the PBOC issued the Circular 209. Prior to the promulgation of the Circular 209, the third party payment institutions are directly connected to banks. Pursuant to the Circular 209, all online payment involved bank accounts conducted by non-bank payment institution should be processed by the unified platform operated by the NetsUnion Clearing Corporation ("NetsUnion Platform") since 30 June 2018. The banks and non-bank payment institutions are required to complete preparation of connecting to the NetsUnion Platform network and transfer of business prior to 15 October 2017.

Regulations on Microcredit

On 4 May 2008, the China Bank Regulatory Commission and the PBOC jointly issued the Guidance on the Pilot Establishment of Microcredit Companies (關於小額貸款公司試點的指導意見). The guidance provides that the applicant shall obtain the approval for the establishment of a microcredit company from local government authorities. Following the guidance, many provincial governments in the PRC promulgated local implementing rules on the administration of microcredit companies. For example, the Shenzhen government promulgated the Interim Administrative Provisions on the Microcredit Companies Pilot in Shenzhen (深圳市小額貸款公司試點管理暫行辦法) on 3 September 2011. According to the administrative provisions, the microcredit company can only conduct the microcredit business and shall not conduct other business without the permission of the competent departments. In addition, a microcredit company shall not provide loans to its directors, supervisors, senior management, key shareholders or their associated entities.

On 3 April 2013, the Financial Office of Shenzhen government promulgated the Interim Guidance on Further Strengthening and Improving the Access and Supervision of the Microcredit Companies Pilot (進一步加強和規範小額貸款公司試點准入和審核工作指引 (試行)), which requires the shareholders of the microcredit company to meet certain requirements on net assets and capital contribution.

Regulations on Online Search Services

On 25 June 2016, the CAC promulgated the Administrative Provisions on Internet Information Search Services (互聯網信息搜索服務管理規定) (“Search Services Provisions”), which became effective on 1 August 2016. Pursuant to the Search Services Provisions, internet information search service refers to the service whereby users can search for information that is collected from the internet and processed by computer technology. The Search Services Provisions requires that an internet information search service provider must not publish any information or contents prohibited by law in the form of links, abstracts, snapshots, associative words, related search or recommendations or otherwise. If an internet information search service provider identifies any search results that contain any information, website or application that is prohibited by law, it must stop displaying the search results, record and report it to the relevant governmental authority. In addition, an internet information search service provider is prohibited from seeking illegitimate interest by means of unauthorized disconnection of links, or provision of search results containing false information. If an internet information search service provider engages in paid search services, it must examine and verify the qualifications of its customers of the paid search services, specify the maximum percentage of search results as paid search results on a webpage, clearly distinguish paid search results from natural search results, and notably identify the paid search information item by item.

Pursuant to the currently effective Catalogue of Telecommunications Business, the information service is categorized as a form of “value-added telecommunication services” and includes, among other things, information search and inquiry services. Therefore, online search service falls within the scope of value-added telecommunication services. An enterprise that intends to carry out the business of online search service is required to hold a valid ICP Licence, setting out that the ICP operator is permitted by the MIIT to provide Internet information services.

An online search service provides links to other websites in response to search queries. The operators of such linked websites shall be responsible for maintaining appropriate approvals, licences, permits and registrations in connection with the contents on the linked websites.

Regulations on Online Maps

In accordance with the Surveying and Mapping Law of the People’s Republic of China (測繪法) (“Surveying and Mapping Law”) issued in 1992 and revised in 2002 and 2017 respectively, Internet map service providers must use maps that have been reviewed and approved in accordance with the law.

Pursuant to the Administrative Regulations on Maps (地圖管理條例) issued on 26 November 2015, entities engaging in Internet map services shall obtain an appropriate qualification certificate for surveying and mapping in accordance with the law. In addition, according to the Administrative Rules of Surveying Qualification Certificate (測繪資質管理規定), as amended by the National Administration of Surveying, Mapping and Geo-information (which had been reformed into the Ministry of Natural Resources according to the 2018 Institutional Reform Plan) in August 2014, the provision of internet map services by any non-surveying and mapping enterprise is subject to the approval of the National Administration of Surveying, Mapping and Geo-information and requires a Surveying and Mapping Qualification Certificate. Pursuant to the Notice on Further Strengthening the Administration of Internet Map Services Qualification (關於進一步加強互聯網地圖服務資質管理工作的通知) issued by the National Administration of Surveying, Mapping and Geo-information in December 2011, any entity without applying for a Surveying and Mapping Qualification Certificate for internet map services is prohibited from providing any internet map services.

Regulations on Email Services

On 20 February 2006, the MIIT promulgated the Administrative Measures on Electronic Mail Services on the Internet (互聯網電子郵件服務管理辦法), which became effective on 30 March 2006. Pursuant to these measures, an Internet email service provider shall obtain a licence for the operation of value-added telecommunications services or go through the formalities for record-filing for non-profit Internet information services. An Internet email service provider shall, 20 days prior to the commencement of use of the email servers, register the IP address of the Internet email server with the MIIT or its local branches.

Regulations on Online Sales of Lottery Tickets

On 26 September 2010, the Ministry of Finance issued the Interim Measures for the Administration of Sales of Lottery Tickets via the Internet (互聯網銷售彩票管理暫行辦法), pursuant to which a lottery issuing organisation may collaborate with an entity or authorise a lottery sales organisation to carry out the business of selling lottery tickets via the Internet or authorise an entity to carry out the business of lottery sales agency via the Internet. Cooperating entities and Internet sales agents shall meet several qualifications and shall sign a co-operation agreement or sales agency contract with the lottery issuing organisation.

On 3 April 2015, the MOF, the MPS, the SAIC, the MIIT, the Ministry of Civil Affairs, the PBOC, the General Administration of Sport of China, and the China Banking Regulatory Commission jointly promulgated a public notice (關於對利用互聯網銷售彩票行為有關問題的公告) (“Notice 18”), regarding online lottery tickets sales. According to Notice 18, without the approval of the MOF, no entities or individuals may engage in the business of selling lottery tickets via the Internet. For those legitimate lottery agencies who intend to engage in the business of selling lottery tickets via the Internet, the approval of MPS or the Ministry of Civil Affairs (as the case may be) is required. On 28 April 2016, the MOF, the MPS, the SAIC, the Ministry of Civil Affairs and the State General Administration of Sport jointly issued a notice to reaffirms that using the Internet to sell lottery products requires government authorization.

On 8 August 2018, the Ministry of Finance, the General Office of the Central Commission for Guiding Cultural and Ethical Progress, the NDRC, the MIIT, the MPS, the Ministry of Civil Affairs, the MOCT, the PBOC, the SAMR, the General Administration of Sport, the CAC, China Banking and Insurance Regulatory Commission jointly promulgated the Announcement ([2018] No.105). Pursuant to the Announcement, lottery agencies shall not privately sell lottery tickets on the Internet in any form, without the approval of the Ministry of Finance. Enterprises or individuals arbitrarily selling lottery tickets on the Internet shall be ordered to make corrections, be restricted or forbidden from cooperation with lottery agencies, or be imposed with severe punishment.

Regulations on Cloud Computing Business

Pursuant to the currently effective Catalogue of Telecommunications Business (2019 Version), enterprises engaged in Internet data center (IDC) services, including Internet resource collaboration services, shall obtain a value-added telecommunication service operating licence for IDC business (“IDC Licence”).

On 30 November 2012, MIIT issued the Circular of the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology of the People’s Republic of China on Further Standardizing the Market Access-related Work for Businesses Concerning Internet Data Centers and Internet Service Providers (工業和信息化部關於進一步規範因特網數據中心業務和因特網接入服務業務市場准入工作的通告), which further specifies requirements on capitals, personnel, premises and facilities which applicants for IDC Licences shall meet. On 17 January 2017, MIIT issued the Circular of the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology on Clearing up and Regulating the Internet Access Service Market (工業和信息化部關於清理規範互聯網網絡接入服務市場的通知), which requires enterprises that have obtained IDC Licences prior to the implementation of the Catalog of Telecommunication Services (2015 Version) and have actually carried out the business of internet resources collaboration services or CDN business shall, before 31 March 2017, make a written commitment to the original license issuing authority that it will meet the relevant requirements for business licensing and obtain the corresponding telecommunication business license by the end of 2017. This circular further emphasizes that IDC License holders shall not conduct business beyond its approved business scopes or regions.

On 6 January 2015, the State Council issued the Opinions of the State Council on Promoting the Creative Development of Cloud Computing and Cultivating New Business Types in the Information Industry (國務院關於促進雲計算創新發展培育信息產業新業態的意見), which provided the principles on promoting the development of cloud computing and the innovation of cloud computing industry.

On 24 November 2016, MIIT issued the Announcement on Seeking Comments on the Notice on Regulating Business Activities in the Cloud Services Market (關於徵集《關於規範雲服務市場經營行為的通知》意見的公告) (“Cloud Business Announcement”). The Draft Cloud Business Announcement provided that, to provide cloud services within the territory of China, business operators shall meet relevant requirements on capital, staff, premises and facilities, pass the relevant technical evaluation, and obtain the corresponding business license for value-added telecommunications services in accordance with the Administrative Measures on Telecommunications Business Operating Licence (電信業務經營許可管理辦法) and the Circular of the MIIT of the People’s Republic of China on Further Regulating the Market Access for Businesses of Internet Data Centers and Internet Services Providers (工業和信息化部關於進一步規範因特網數據中心業務和因特網接入服務業務市場準入工作的通告). Besides, cloud service operators shall build a cloud service platform within the territory of the PRC. If the related servers need to connect with internet sites outside of the PRC, the data shall be routed through the international internet gateways approved by the MIIT, and the cloud service operators shall not build or use other channels via leased lines or VPN to connect with foreign sites. No formal regulations in connection with the Draft Cloud Business Announcement is promulgated to date.

On 2 July 2019, CAC, NDRC, MIIT and Ministry of Finance jointly promulgated the Measures on Safety Evaluation for Cloud Computing Services (雲計算服務安全評估辦法) (“Safety Evaluation Measures”), which took effect on 1 September 2019. Pursuant to the Safety Evaluation Measures, cloud service providers may apply for a safety evaluation on the cloud platform which provides clouding computing services for the party and government departments or for the key information infrastructure operators, which result will be considered by the party and government departments or the key information infrastructure operators in purchasing cloud computing services.

On 21 January 2010, MIIT issued the Administrative Measures for Communications Network Security Protection (通信網絡安全防護管理辦法) which became effective on 1 March 2010. Pursuant to the measures, MIIT and its local counterpart will assign experts to review ratings of telecommunication network operated by telecommunication business operators and internet domain name service providers, who shall file the result of ratings with MIIT or its local counterpart after they have passed review. These operators shall implement security protection measures, conduct compliance testing and risk assessment regularly and eliminate major network security risks in a timely manner.

In addition, cloud service operators are required to conduct business activities in accordance the applicable national standards in respect of cloud service, including the Cloud Computing Service Security Capability Requirement (雲計算服務安全能力要求(GB/T31168-2014)), and the Publicly-owned Cloud Service Security Protection Requirement (公有雲服務安全防護要求(YD/T 3157-2016)).

On 28 June 2012, the State Council issued the Certain Opinions of the State Council on Promoting Informatisation Development and Practically Safeguarding Information Security (國務院關於大力推進信息化發展和切實保障信息安全的若干意見), according to which the data centers and cloud computing service platforms which provide services for the governmental authorities shall be located within the territory of the PRC.

On 30 December 2014, the Office of Central Leading Group for Cyberspace Affairs issued the Opinions on Further Strengthening the Internet Securities Management of Cloud Computing of Party and Government Departments (關於加強黨政部門雲計算服務網絡安全管理的意見), which provided that the cloud computing service platforms and data centers which provide services to the party and government departments shall be located within the territory of the PRC, and the sensitive information shall not be transferred, processed or reserved overseas without approval.

Besides, as the internet service providers, cloud service providers shall also comply with the regulations of the Cybersecurity Law of the People's Republic of China (網絡安全法), according to which the cloud service providers must take technical measures to safeguard the operation of networks, respond to cyber security incidents effectively, prevent illegal and criminal activities, and maintain the integrity, confidentiality and usability of network data. For the crucial information infrastructure operators, the personal information and important data collected by it during the business activities shall be reserved within the territory of the PRC and under circumstance that such information shall be transferred to overseas, relevant security assessment procedure shall be taken prior to the transfer.

REGULATIONS ON MOBILE AND TELECOMMUNICATION VALUE-ADDED SERVICES

Regulations on Short Messaging Services and Other Mobile-based Wireless Services

Pursuant to the currently effective Catalogue of Telecommunications Business, messaging services, and certain other mobile based wireless services fall under the scope of information service, and therefore an Operating Permit (Mobile Network) Value-added Telecommunications Business (“SP Licence”) is required for engaging in such business operations.

On 15 April 2004, MIIT issued the Notice on Certain Issues Regarding Standardising Short Messaging Service (關於規範短信息服務有關問題的通知) (“SMS Notice”), specifying that only those information service providers holding the SP Licence can provide short messaging services in the PRC. The SMS Notice provides that service providers are required to expressly advise users of the charge standards, collection methods and subscription and cancellation procedures. In addition, operators shall provide SMS strictly in accordance with users' requirements. The SMS Notice also specifies that operators shall examine the contents of short messages and automatically record and store for five months the time of sending and receiving the short messages, the mobile numbers or codes of the sending and receiving terminals.

On 19 May 2015, the MIIT promulgated the Administrative Provisions on Short Messaging Services (通信短資訊服務管理規定) (the “Provisions on Short Message Service”), which became effective as at 30 June 2015. The Provisions on Short Message Service further clarify that short messaging services (“SMS”) providers and short message content providers shall not send commercial short messages to users without the users' consent or request, and shall provide convenient and effective ways for users to refuse receipt of such short messages.

Regulations on Telecommunications Networks Code Number Resources

A value-added telecommunications service provider must apply to MIIT authorities to obtain a telecommunications network code number. On 29 January 2003, MIIT issued the Administrative Measures on Telecommunications Networks Code Number Resources (電信網碼號資源管理辦法) (“Code Number Measures”), which was amended on 23 September 2014 to regulate network code numbers, including those of mobile communications networks. According to the Code Number Measures, service providers who provide services across provinces shall apply to MIIT, and entities which apply for network code numbers to be used within a provincial-level administrative region shall apply to the relevant provincial branch of MIIT. The Code Number Measures also specify the qualification requirements, application materials and application procedures to obtain network code numbers.

In June 2006, MIIT issued the Administrative Measures on Application, Distribution, Usage and Withdrawal of SMS Services Access Codes (短消息類服務接入代碼申請、分配、使用和收回管理辦法) (“SMS Code Measures”). According to the SMS Code Measures, the administration and usage of services relating to SMS codes shall comply with the Code Number Measures. The SMS Code Measures also specify that operators who provide services relating to SMS codes across provinces shall apply with the relevant provincial branch of MIIT. The SMS code for a commercial SMS provider is valid for the term specified in the SP Licence, while the SMS code for the noncommercial SMS provider is valid for five years.

REGULATIONS ON ONLINE ADVERTISEMENTS

The principal regulations governing advertising businesses in the PRC include but are not limited to: (i) the Advertising Law of the PRC (廣告法) promulgated by the Standing Committee of the National People’s Congress on 27 October 1994, which has been amended on 24 April 2015 and 26 October 2018, and (ii) the Advertising Administrative Regulations (廣告管理條例), promulgated by the State Council on 26 October 1987 and effective on 1 December 1987.

The PRC government regulates advertising, including online advertising, principally through SAMR. An enterprise that engages in advertising activities must obtain a business licence, which specifically includes operating an advertising business within its business scope from SAMR or its local branches. On November 2016, SAIC promulgated the Regulations on the Administration of the Registration of Publishing Advertisements (廣告發佈登記管理規定) which took effect on 1 December 2016. Instead of the former licence system, the new regulation adopts a record system, which requires broadcasting stations, TV stations and newspaper and periodical presses to file their advertisement posts with SAIC and its local branches before publishing them.

On 9 February 2012, the Provisions on the Pre-release Review of Advertisements by Mass Media (大眾傳播媒介廣告發佈審查規定) was jointly promulgated by 11 governmental authorities (namely, SAIC, Propaganda Department of the Communist Party of China, SCIO, MPS, Ministry of Supervision, State Council Office for Rectifying Business Misconducts, MIIT, MOH, GAPP, State Food and Drug Administration, State Administration of Traditional Chinese Medicine). These provisions require Internet service providers to undertake internal review before the release of any advertisement, among other things.

According to the amended Advertising Law of the PRC in 2018 (廣告法(2018年修訂)) (“Amended Advertising Law”), all the provisions thereunder apply to the advertising activities conducted via the Internet. In addition, the Amended Advertising Law further provides that the release or distribution of advertisements via Internet shall not affect the normal use of the Internet by users. Advertisements released on Internet pages such as pop-up advertisements shall be indicated with clear close button to ensure that the users may close such advertisements by one click.

The Interim Measures on the Administration of Online Advertisements (互聯網廣告管理暫行辦法) (“Online Advertisements Measures”) were promulgated by SAIC on 4 July 2016 and became effective on 1 September 2016. Online advertisements are broadly defined as commercial advertisements in the form of texts, pictures, audios and videos and can be found on websites, webpages and online applications. Pursuant to the Online Advertisements Measures, online advertisements must be distinctive, which enable consumers to easily identify them as advertisements. Specifically, paid online search shall be arranged distinctively from regular search results. In addition, online advertisement providers should be responsible for the authenticity of the online advertisements.

PRC advertising laws and regulations set forth certain content requirements for advertisements in the PRC, which include prohibitions of, among other things, misleading content, superlative wording, socially destabilising content or content involving obscenities, superstition, violence, discrimination or infringement of the public interest. Advertisements for anaesthetic, psychotropic, toxic, radioactive drugs, pharmaceutical precursor chemicals, drug addiction treatment medicines, medical devices and treatment methods are prohibited. The dissemination of advertisements of some other products, such as tobacco, patented products, pharmaceuticals, medical instruments, agrochemicals, foodstuff, alcohol and cosmetics is also subject to specific restrictions and requirements.

Advertisers, advertising operators and advertising distributors are required by PRC advertising laws and regulations to ensure that the contents of the advertisements they produce or distribute are true and in full compliance with applicable laws and regulations. In addition, where a special government review is required for certain categories of advertisements before publishing, the advertisers, advertising operators and advertising distributors must ensure that such review has been duly performed and that the relevant approval has been obtained. Violation of these regulations may result in penalties, including fines, confiscation of advertising income, orders to cease dissemination of the advertisements and orders to eliminate the ill-effect of the advertisements. In circumstances involving serious violations, SAIC or its local branches may order the violator to terminate its advertising operation or even revoke its business licence. Furthermore, advertisers, advertising operators or advertising distributors may be subject to criminal liability if their conduct breaches the criminal law or subject to civil liability if their conduct infringes on the legal rights and interests of third parties.

REGULATIONS RELATING TO INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Copyright

The Copyright Law of the PRC (著作權法), adopted in 1991 and revised in 2001 and 2010, together with its implementing rules (著作權法實施條例), promulgated in 2002 and revised in 2011 and 2013, protect copyright and explicitly cover computer software copyrights. On 20 December 2001, the State Council promulgated the new Regulations on Computer Software Protection (計算機軟件保護條例), which became effective from 1 January 2002 and were revised in 2011 and 2013, which are intended to protect the rights and interests of computer software copyright holders and encourage the development of the software industry and information economy. The Provisional Measures on Voluntary Registration of Works (作品自願登記試行辦法), promulgated by National Copyright Administration of the PRC on 31 December 1994 and effective on 1 January 1995, further provide for a voluntary registration system to be administered by the National Copyright Administration and its local branches. In the PRC, software developed by PRC citizens, legal person or other organisations is automatically protected by copyright immediately after its development without an application or approval. The Copyright Protection Center of China may provide a certificate of registration to registrants, which may serve as preliminary evidence of the ownership of the copyright and other registered matters. On 20 February 2002, the National Copyright Administration of the PRC introduced the Measures on Computer Software Copyright Registration (計算機軟件著作權登記辦法), which outlines the application procedures for software copyright registration, licence contract registration and transfer contract registration.

On 18 May 2006, the State Council promulgated the Regulations on Protection of the Right of Dissemination through Information Networks (信息網絡傳播權保護條例) (“Protection Regulations”), which became effective on 1 July 2006 and was amended on 30 January 2013. The Protection Regulations require that any organisation or individual who disseminates a third party’s work, performance, audio or visual recording products to the public through information networks shall obtain permission from and pay compensation to the legitimate copyright owner of such products, unless otherwise provided under relevant laws and regulations. The legitimate copyright owner may take technical measures to protect his or her right to disseminate through information networks and any organisation or individual shall not intentionally avoid, destroy or otherwise assist others in avoiding or destroying such protective measures unless permissible under law.

On 17 December 2012, the PRC Supreme People’s Court promulgated the Provisions of the PRC Supreme People’s Court on Several Issues regarding the Application of Laws in Deciding Civil Disputes Involving Infringement of the Right to Communicate via Information Networks (最高人民法院關於審理侵害信息網絡傳播權民事糾紛案件適用法律若干問題的規定), which took effect on 1 January 2013. This judicial interpretation aims to solve disputes in connection with the infringement of the right of communication through the Internet and protect the lawful rights in this respect. This rule places the burden on Internet service providers to remove not only links or contents that have been specifically mentioned in the notices of infringement from right holders, but also links or contents they “should have known” to link to infringing content. The interpretation further provides that where an Internet service provider has directly obtained economic benefits from any contents made available by an Internet user, it has a higher duty of care with respect to Internet users’ infringement of third party copyrights.

On 4 November 2016, SAPPRFT issued the Circular on Strengthening the Copyright Administration of Internet Literary Works (關於加強網絡文學作品版權管理的通知), which became effective on the same day. Pursuant to the circular, Internet service providers who provide literary works through information networks and render relevant network services shall (i) strengthen the copyright supervision and administration, establish a sound infringing works handling mechanism, and fulfill the obligation to protect the copyright of Internet literary works according to the law; (ii) establish a copyright complaint mechanism, actively accept complaints from right holders, and resolve the legitimate demands of right holders in a timely manner according to the law; (iii) delete infringing works and disconnect the relevant links within 24 hours after receipt of such notices and complaints from right holders.

On 29 April 2005, GAPP issued the Measures on Administrative Protection of Internet Copyright (互聯網著作權行政保護辦法) which became effective on 30 May 2005. Pursuant to the measures, if an Internet information service provider clearly knows an Internet content provider’s tortious act of infringing upon other’s copyright through Internet, or fails to take measures to remove relevant contents after receipt of the copyright owner’s notice although it does not know it clearly, and meanwhile such tortious act damages public benefits, the copyright administration department may order to stop the tortious act, and may impose the following administrative penalties: (i) confiscation of the illegal proceeds; and (ii) imposing a fine of not more than 3 times the illegal business amount; if the illegal business amount is difficult to be calculated, a fine of not more than RMB100,000 may be imposed.

On 17 April 2015, SAPPRFT issued the Circular on Regulating the Order of Internet Reproduction of Copyrighted Works (關於規範網絡轉載版權秩序的通知), which became effective on the same day. Pursuant to the circular, (i) internet media shall comply with the relevant provisions of copyright laws and regulations, and must acquire permission from and pay remuneration to the copyright owners, and shall indicate the name of the author, as well as the name and the source of the work, except as otherwise provided by laws and regulations; (ii) internet media shall not make any substantial revision to the contents of the works when reproducing other people’s works; (iii) SAPPRFT encourage press and internet media to establish a cooperation mechanism for internet reproduction; (iv) the copyright administrative departments at various levels shall strengthen the supervision of copyrights of internet media.

Patent

The Standing Committee of the National People’s Congress adopted the Patent Law (專利法) in 1984, and amended it in 1992, 2000 and 2008. To further enforce the Patent Law, the State Council promulgated the Implementing Rules of the Patent Law (專利法實施細則) in 2001, as amended in 2002 and 2010. The purpose of the Patent Law together with its implementing rules is to protect the lawful interests of patent holders, encourage invention, foster applications of invention, enhance innovative capabilities and promote the development of science and technology. Patentable inventions can be divided into three categories: invention, utility models and designs. To be patentable, invention or utility models must meet three conditions: novelty, inventiveness and practical applicability. Patents cannot be granted for scientific discoveries, rules and methods for intellectual activities, methods used to diagnose or treat diseases, animal and plant breeds, substances obtained by means of nuclear transformation or a design which identifies the patterns or colors or a combination of both patterns and colors of graphic print products.

The Patent Office, under the State Intellectual Property Office, is responsible for receiving, examining and approving patent applications. A patent is valid for a term of twenty years in the case of an invention and a term of ten years in the case of utility models and designs. A third party user must obtain consent or a proper licence from the patent owner to use the patent. Otherwise, the use constitutes an infringement of patent rights.

Trademark

The Trademark Law of the PRC (商標法), adopted in 1982 and revised in 1993, 2001, 2013 and 2019, together with its implementing rules (商標法實施條例), promulgated in 2002 and amended in 2014, protects registered trademarks. The Trademark Office under the State Intellectual Property Office is responsible for trademark registrations. The Trademark Law has adopted a “first-to-file” principle with respect to trademark registration. Upon the registration of a trademark, the applicant will have the right to exclusive use of the trademark for ten years. Registered trademark licence agreements must be recorded with the Trademark Office.

Domain Name

Internet domain name registration and related matters are primarily regulated by the Implementing Rules on Registration of Domain Names (域名註冊實施細則) issued by CNNIC, which became effective on 5 June 2009, as amended on 28 May 2012 and the Measures on Domain Name Disputes Resolution (域名爭議解決辦法) issued by CNNIC on 1 September 2014. These regulations provide that domain name registrations will be handled through domain name service agencies and that applicants become domain name holders upon successful domain name registration. In July 2001, the PRC Supreme People’s Court issued the Judicial Interpretation on Certain Issues Concerning the Application of Laws in the Trial of Cases Involving Civil Disputes over Computer Network Domain Names (最高人民法院關於審理涉及計算機網絡域名民事糾紛案件適用法律若干問題的解釋) to clarify certain issues involved in civil disputes in registration and use of computer network domain names. On 24 August 2017, MIIT promulgated Measures on Administration of Domain Names (互聯網域名管理辦法), which took effect on 1 November 2017. Pursuant to Measures on Administration of Domain Names, MIIT shall supervise the domain names services national wide and publicize PRC’s domain name system. Furthermore, Measures on Administration of Domain Names adopts “first to file” rule to allocate domain names to applicants.

OTHER REGULATIONS

Regulations on Information Security

The National People’s Congress enacted legislation that prohibits use of the Internet that breaches public security, disseminates socially destabilising content or leaks state secrets. A breach of public security is defined as a breach of national security or disclosure of state secrets, infringement on state, social or collective interests or the legal rights and interests of citizens, or illegal or criminal activities. Socially destabilising content includes any content that incites defiance or violation of PRC laws or regulations or subversion of the PRC government or its political system, spreads socially disruptive rumors or involves cult activities, superstition, obscenities, pornography, gambling or violence. State secrets are defined broadly to include information concerning PRC national defense, state affairs and other matters as determined by the PRC authorities. According to other relevant regulations, ICP operators must complete mandatory security filing procedures, regularly update information security and censorship systems for their websites with local public security authorities and report any public dissemination of prohibited content.

The Cyber Security Law provides that the PRC will implement a tiered system for cyber security protections. Network operators bear a number of security protection duties under such tiered system to prevent the network from interference, damage, unauthorized access, data leaks, theft or falsification. The Cyber Security Law also sets out a number of high-level principles for personal data protection. In addition, network operators are obliged to avoid transmission of any illegal information.

It further provides that network operators shall provide technical support and assistance to public security agencies and state security agencies for the purpose of national security and crime investigations. The Cyber Security Law adopts a “real-name” requirement, which requires users to provide their real identity information.

On 13 April 2020, CAC, NDRC, MIIT, MPS, Ministry of State Security, Ministry of Finance, MOFCOM, PBOC, SAMR, NRTA, National Administration of State Secrets Protection and State Cryptography Administration jointly promulgated the Measures on Internet Security Examination (網絡安全審查辦法) (the “Internet Security Examination Measures”) which will take effect on 1 June 2020 and replace the Measures for Security Examination of Internet Products and Services (Provisional) (網絡產品和服務安全審查辦法(試行)). Pursuant to the Internet Security Examination Measures, key information infrastructure operators shall apply with Internet security examination office for Internet security examination when purchasing certain Internet products or services if the use of such products or services will effect or potentially effect national security. The providers of internet products and services shall cooperate with the security examination process. The “Internet products or services” as defined in the Internet Security Review Measures mainly refer to core network facilities, high-performance computers and servers, mass storage devices, large database, applications or software, cyber security devices, clouding computing services and other products and services which may have significant effect on security of the key information infrastructures. On 13 December 2005, MPS promulgated Provisions on Technological Measures for Internet Security Protection (互聯網安全保護技術措施規定) (“Internet Protection Measures”), which became effective on 1 March 2006. The Internet Protection Measures requires all ICP operators to keep user information records, including user registration information, log-in and log-out time, IP address, content and time of posts by users, for at least 60 days and submit the above information as required by laws and regulations. If an ICP operator violates these measures, the PRC government may revoke its ICP Licence and shut down its websites.

On 16 December 1997, MPS promulgated the Measures for Security Protection Administration of the International Networking of Computer Information Networks (計算機信息網絡國際聯網安全保護管理辦法), which became effective on 30 December 1997 and was amended on 8 January 2011 and which requires that ICP operators should take responsibilities to secure the network operation safety and information safety, including establishing internet security systems and implementing technical measures. If an ICP operator violates these measures, the PRC government may revoke its ICP Licence and shut down its websites. In addition, the State Secrecy Bureau has issued provisions authorising the blocking of access to any website it deems to be leaking state secrets or failing to comply with the relevant legislation regarding the protection of state secrets.

The newly amended Law on Preservation of State Secrets (保守國家秘密法), which became effective on 1 October 2010, along with its implementing rules (effective on 1 March 2014), provides that whenever an ICP operator detects any leakage of state secrets in the distribution of online information, it should stop the distribution of such information and report such violation to the state security and public security authorities. Upon the request of state security, public security or state secrecy authorities, the ICP operator must delete any contents on its website that may lead to disclosure of state secrets. Failure to do so on a timely and adequate manner may subject the ICP operator to liability and certain penalties enforced by the State Security Bureau, MPS and MIIT or their respective local branches.

Regulations on Internet Privacy

The PRC Constitution states that PRC law protects the freedom and privacy of communications of citizens and prohibits infringement of such rights. In recent years, PRC government authorities have enacted legislation on Internet use to protect personal information from any unauthorised disclosure. The Internet Measures prohibit an ICP operator from insulting or slandering a third party or infringing the lawful rights and interests of a third party.

On 29 December 2011, MIIT issued the Several Provisions on Regulating the Market Order of Internet Information Services (規範互聯網信息服務市場秩序若干規定), which took effect on 15 March 2012. The regulation requires ICP operators to obtain consent before collecting personal information or provide personal information to others. Failures to comply with the regulation may subject ICP operators to fines and such noncompliance will be reported to the public.

The Network Information Protection Decision provides that electronic information that identifies a citizen or involves privacy of any citizen is protected by law and must not be unlawfully collected or provided to others. ICP operators collecting or using personal electronic information of citizens must specify the purposes, manners and scopes of information collection and uses, obtain consent of the relevant citizens, and keep the collected personal information confidential. ICP operators are prohibited from disclosing, tampering with, damaging, selling or illegally providing others with, collected personal information. ICP operators are required to take technical and other measures to prevent the collected personal information from any unauthorized disclosure, damage or loss.

Following the Network Information Protection Decision, MIIT issued the Regulations on Network Information Protection, pursuant to which ICP operators are obliged to make management rules on collecting and using personal information. Specifically, ICP operators cannot collect personal information from users without their consent. ICP operators must also inform their users of the use of personal information and take measures to avoid unauthorised disclosures.

Failure to protect personal information may also subject ICP operators to criminal liabilities. On 9 May 2017, the Supreme People's Court and the Supreme People's Procuratorate jointly promulgated the Interpretation of the Supreme People's Court and the Supreme People's Procuratorate on Several Issues Concerning the Application of Law in the Handling of Criminal Cases of Infringing on Citizens' Personal Information (最高人民法院、最高人民檢察院關於辦理侵犯公民個人信息刑事案件適用法律若干問題的解釋), effective on 1 June 2017. The Interpretation specifically provides that publishing personal information via the Internet in violation of PRC regulations may be held liable under the PRC Criminal Law.

The Cyber Security Law provides that network operators shall obtain the individual's prior consent before collecting the personal data of such individual and take necessary technical measures or other appropriate measures to protect the personal data, and shall not provide the personal data to any third party without the individual's prior consent unless such personal data has been processed in a proper way that a specific person will not be identified. For the operators of crucial information infrastructure, the personal data and crucial data must be stored within the territory of the People's Republic of China. Where such data need to be provided to overseas parties due to business requirements, a security assessment shall be conducted before the transmission of the data.

With respect to the security of information collected and used by mobile apps, pursuant to the Announcement of Conducting Special Supervision against the Illegal Collection and Use of Personal Information by Apps (關於開展App違法違規收集使用個人信息專項治理的公告), which was issued on 23 January 2019, app operators should collect and use personal information in compliance with the Cyber Security Law and should be responsible for the security of personal information obtained from users and take effective measures to strengthen protection of personal information. Furthermore, app operators should not force their users to grant authorization for their collection or use of personal information by means of bundling, suspending installation or in other default forms, nor should they collect personal information in violation of laws, regulations or user agreements. Such regulatory requirements are also emphasized by the Notice on the Special Rectification of Apps Infringing upon User's Personal Rights and Interests (工業和信息化部關於開展APP侵害用戶權益專項整治工作的通知), which was issued by MIIT on 31 October 2019. On 28 November 2019, the CAC, the MIIT, the MPS and the SMAR jointly issued the Methods of Identifying Illegal Acts of Apps to Collect and Use Personal Information (關於印發《App違法違規收集使用個人信息行為認定方法》的通知). This regulation further illustrates certain commonly-seen illegal practices of apps operators in respect of personal information protection, including "failure to publicize rules for collecting and using personal information", "failure to expressly state the purpose, manner and scope of collecting and using personal information", "collection and use of personal information without consent of users of such App”, “collecting personal information irrelevant to the services provided by such app in violation of the principle of necessity”, “provision of personal information to others without users’ consent”, “failure to provide the function of deleting or correcting personal information as required by laws” and “failure to publish information such as methods for complaints and reporting”. Among others, any of the following acts of an app operator will constitute “collection and use of personal information without consent of users”: (i) collecting an user’s personal information or activating the permission for collecting an user’s personal information without obtaining such user’s consent; (ii) collecting personal information or activating the permission for collecting personal information of an user who explicitly refuses such collection, or frequently seeking for an user’s consent which disturbs such user’s normal use of the app; (iii) an user’s personal information actually collected by the app operator or the permission for collecting an user’s personal information actually activated by the app operator is beyond the scope of such user’s authorization; (iv) seeking for an user’s consent in a non-explicit manner such as consent to privacy policy by default; (v) changing status of an user’s settings for the permission for collectable personal information without such user’s consent; (vi) using users’ personal information and algorithms to push information that targets such users, without providing users with an option for non-targeted push; (vii) misleading users into permitting personal information collection or activation of the permission for personal information collection by improper methods such as fraud and deception; (viii) failing to provide users with means and methods for withdrawing their permission for personal information collection; and (ix) collecting and using personal information in violation of the rules for collecting and using personal information promulgated by such app operator.

On 22 August 2019, the CAC promulgated the Children Information Cyber Protection Provisions, which took effect on 1 October 2019, requiring that before collecting, using, transferring or disclosing the personal information of a child under the age of 14, the Internet service operator should inform the child’s guardians in a noticeable and clear manner and obtain their consents. Meanwhile, Internet service operators should take measures such as encryption to ensure information security when storing children’s personal information.

Regulations on Internet Infringement

The Tort Law of the PRC (侵權責任法) (“PRC Tort Law”) was promulgated by the Standing Committee of National People’s Congress on 26 December 2009 and became effective on 1 July 2010. According to the PRC Tort Law, both Internet users and Internet service provider may be liable for the wrongful acts of users who infringe the legal rights and interests of other parties. Where an Internet user infringes upon the legal rights or interests of another through the use of Internet services, the party whose rights are infringed may request the Internet service provider whose Internet services are facilitating the infringement to take necessary measures including deleting, blocking or disconnecting relevant Internet links. If, after being notified, the Internet service provider fails to take necessary measures in a timely manner to end the infringement, it will be jointly and severally liable for any further damages suffered by the right holder. Further, if an Internet service provider is aware that an Internet user is utilising its Internet services to infringe upon the civil rights or interests of others and fails to take necessary measures, it shall be jointly and severally liable with the Internet user for damages resulting from the infringement.

On 21 August 2014, the Supreme People’s Court of the PRC promulgated a judicial interpretation, namely, the Provisions of the Supreme People’s Court of the PRC on Several Issues Concerning the Application of Law in Hearing Civil Dispute Cases Involving Infringement of Personal Right by Using Information Networks (最高人民法院關於審理利用信息網絡侵害人身權益民事糾紛案件適用法律若干問題的規定), which strengthens the protection over personal rights against infringement by using information networks and clarifies the liability of certain Internet infringement.

Regulations on Technology and Software Imports

On 10 December 2001, the State Council promulgated the Regulations on Administration of Import and Export of Technologies (技術進出口管理條例) (“Import and Export Technologies Regulations”), which became effective on 1 January 2002 and was amended on 8 January 2011 and on 2 March 2019. These regulations and related legislations set out the regime regulating the import and export of technologies. The import and export of technologies is broadly defined as including transfer or licence of patents, software and know-how, and provision of services related to the technologies. Under the regime, technologies are classified as prohibited, restricted or freely-tradable. The technologies in the freely-tradable category may be traded freely without a special approval or licence. The contracts for the export of freely-tradable technologies are required to be filed with the relevant government authority for their records but the filing procedure is not a pre-condition for effectiveness of the contracts. The technologies in the restricted category may not be traded without approval or licence.

To implement this requirement, the Administrative Measures for Registration of Technology Import and Export Contracts (技術進出口合同登記管理辦法), the Administrative Measures on Prohibited and Restricted Technology Exports (禁止出口限制出口技術管理辦法), and the Administrative Measures on Prohibited and Restricted Technology Imports (禁止進口限制進口技術管理辦法) were promulgated by MOFCOM or by MOFCOM jointly with other governmental authorities since February 2009, among which the Administrative Measures on Prohibited and Restricted Technology Imports (禁止進口限制進口技術管理辦法) were further amended on 30 November 2019.

MOFCOM is the principal approval authority for restricted technologies, as well as the registration authority for permitted technologies, but the Import and Export Technologies Regulations also provide that MOFCOM may delegate its approval and registration authority to its local branches.

Regulations Relating to Foreign Exchange and Dividend Distribution

The principal regulations governing foreign currency exchange in the PRC are the Regulations on Administration of Foreign Exchange (外匯管理條例) (“Foreign Exchange Regulations”), promulgated by the State Council in 1996 and amended in 1997 and 2008. Under the Foreign Exchange Regulations, RMB is freely convertible for current account items, such as dividends distributions, interest payments, and trade and service-related foreign exchange transactions, on a basis of true and lawful transactions, but not for capital account items, such as direct investments, loans, repatriation of investments and investments in securities outside the PRC, unless the prior approval of SAFE or qualified banks is obtained and registration with SAFE is completed.

Pursuant to the Rules on Administration of Settlement, Sale and Payment of Foreign Exchange Provisions (結匯、售匯及付匯管理規定) issued by PBOC on 20 June 1996 and effective on 1 July 1996, foreign-invested enterprises in the PRC may purchase foreign currency, subject to a cap approved by SAFE, to settle current account transactions without the approval from SAFE. Foreign exchange transactions involving capital account items are still subject to limitations and will require approval from or registration with SAFE (or qualified banks according to Notice on Further Simplifying and Improving Foreign Exchange Administration Policy on Direct Investment (國家外匯管理局關於進一步簡化和改進直接投資外匯管理政策的通知) (“SAFE Circular 13”), which was partially abolished on 30 December 2019.

On 23 June 2010, SAFE promulgated the Notice of the Adjustment the Approval Authority on Certain Capital Items for Foreign Exchange Business (關於調整部分資本項目外匯業務審批權限的通知), which delegates additional approval authority to the local branches of SAFE.

Pursuant to the Circular of the SAFE on Further Improving and Adjusting Foreign Exchange Administration Policies for Direct Investment (“SAFE Circular 59”) (國家外匯管理局關於進一步改進和調整直接投資外匯管理政策的通知) promulgated by SAFE on 19 November 2012, which became effective on 17 December 2012 and were further amended on 4 May 2015, on 10 October 2018 and on December 2019, approval is not required for opening a foreign exchange account and depositing foreign exchange into the accounts relating to the direct investments. SAFE Circular 59 also simplified foreign exchange-related registration required for the foreign investors to acquire the equity interests of Chinese companies and further improved the administration on foreign exchange settlement for foreign-invested enterprises.

In order to further clarify the current foreign exchange regulations over foreign direct investment, SAFE promulgated the Notice of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Promulgation of the Regulations on the Foreign Exchange Administration of Foreign Direct Investments in PRC together with the Supporting Documents thereof (“Circular 21”) (國家外匯管理局關於印發《外國投資者境內直接投資外匯管理規定》及配套文件的通知) on 11 May 2013, which were further amended on 10 October 2018 and 30 December 2019.

On 15 March 2019, SAFE promulgated the Administrative Provisions on Centralised Operation of Cross-border Funds by Multinational Companies (跨國公司跨境資金集中運營管理規定), which repeals the Administrative Rules of Centralized Operation of Foreign Exchange by Multinational Companies (跨國公司外匯資金集中運營管理規定) promulgated by SAFE on 5 August 2015. Pursuant to these provisions, multinational companies may select a domestic company as the lead company to centrally operate and manage domestic and foreign member company’s funds in accordance with their business need and carry out one or more of such businesses as centralizing foreign debt quota, centralizing overseas lending quota, centralizing fund receipt/payment and netting settlement in the current account, provided that certain conditions are satisfied. On 30 March 2015, SAFE promulgated the Notice on Administration over Payment and Settlement of Foreign Exchange Capital of Foreign-Invested Enterprises (國家外匯管理局關於改革外商投資企業外匯資本金結匯管理方式的通知) (“Circular 19”), which became effective on 1 June 2015 in terms of payment and settlement of foreign exchange capital by foreign-invested companies and were further amended on 30 December 2019. Circular 19 further simplifies the procedures and delegates to the banks to deal with the settlement of the foreign exchange capital of foreign-invested companies. Pursuant to Circular 19, foreign-invested enterprises are allowed to settle their foreign exchange capital on a discretionary basis, while the use of the capital and the RMB funds obtained from foreign exchange settlement for certain purposes is still prohibited.

On 9 June 2016, SAFE promulgated Circular on the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Policies for Reforming and Regulating the Control over Foreign Exchange Settlement under the Capital Account (國家外匯管理局關於改革和規範資本項目結匯管理政策的通知) (“SAFE Circular 16”), which removed certain restrictions previously provided under several SAFE circulars, in respect of conversion by a foreign invested enterprise of foreign currency registered capital into RMB and use of such RMB capital. However, SAFE Circular 16 continues to prohibit foreign-invested enterprises from, among other things, using RMB fund converted from its foreign exchange capital for expenditure beyond its business scope, and providing loans to non-affiliated enterprises except as permitted in the business scope.

On 25 October 2019, the SAFE promulgated the Notice for Further Advancing the Facilitation of Cross-border Trade and Investment (關於進一步促進跨境貿易投資便利化的通知) (“Circular 28”), which, among other things, allows all foreign-invested companies to use Renminbi converted from foreign currency-denominated capital for equity investments in China, as long as the equity investment is genuine, does not violate applicable laws, and complies with the negative list on foreign investment.

The principal regulations governing distribution of dividends by wholly foreign-owned enterprises include the Company Law (公司法) and Foreign Investment Law (外商投資法). Under these laws and regulations, wholly foreign invested enterprises in the PRC may pay dividends only out of their accumulated profits, if any, determined in accordance with the PRC accounting standards and regulations. Wholly foreign-owned enterprises in the PRC are required to set aside at least 10% of their accumulated after-tax profits each year, if any, to fund certain statutory reserve funds, until the aggregate amount of the relevant fund reaches 50% of its registered capital.

Regulations on Offshore Investment by PRC Residents

On 4 July 2014, SAFE promulgated the Circular on Relevant Issues Concerning Foreign Exchange Control on Domestic Residents' Offshore Investment and Financing and Roundtrip Investment through Special Purpose Vehicles (國家外匯管理局關於境內居民通過特殊目的公司境外投融資及返程投資外匯管理有關問題的通知) (“Circular 37”), which abolishes and supersedes the Circular on Relevant Issues Concerning Foreign Exchange Control on Financing and Roundtrip Investment Conducted by Residents in China via Special-Purpose Companies (關於境內居民通過境外特殊目的公司融資及返程投資外匯管理有關問題的通知) (“Circular 75”) issued by SAFE on 21 October 2005. Circular 37 and its implementation guidelines require PRC residents to register with local branches of SAFE (or with qualified banks according to SAFE Circular 13) in connection with their direct establishment or indirect control of an offshore entity, for the purpose of overseas investment and financing, with such PRC residents' legally owned assets or equity interests in domestic enterprises or offshore assets or interests, referred to in Circular 37 as a “special purpose vehicle”. The term “control” under Circular 37 is broadly defined as the operation rights, beneficiary rights or decision-making rights acquired by the PRC residents in the offshore special purpose vehicles by such means as acquisition, trust, proxy, voting rights, repurchase, convertible bonds or other arrangements. Circular 37 further requires amendment to the registration in the event of any significant changes with respect to the special purpose vehicle, such as increase or decrease of capital contributed by PRC individuals, share transfer or exchange, merger, division or other material event. In the event that a PRC shareholder holding interests in a special purpose vehicle fails to fulfil the required SAFE registration, the PRC subsidiaries of that special purpose vehicle may be prohibited from distributing profits to the offshore parent and from carrying out subsequent cross-border foreign exchange activities, and the special purpose vehicle may be restricted in its ability to contribute additional capital into its PRC subsidiary. Moreover, failure to comply with the various SAFE registration requirements described above could result in liability under the PRC law for evasion of foreign exchange controls.

On 13 February 2015, SAFE promulgated SAFE Circular 13, which became effective on 1 June 2015 and was partially abolished on 30 December 2019. In accordance with SAFE Circular 13, if no retroactive SAFE registration is required, entities and individuals are required to apply for foreign exchange registration of foreign direct investment and overseas direct investment, including those required under the Circular 37, with qualified banks, instead of SAFE, while SAFE will handle retroactive SAFE registration. The qualified banks, under the supervision of SAFE, directly examine the applications and conduct the registration.

As these SAFE regulations are still relatively new and their interpretation and implementation have been constantly evolving, it is unclear how these regulations and any future regulation concerning offshore or cross-border transactions will be interpreted, amended or implemented by the relevant government authorities. As for the risks in connection with SAFE regulations, please see “Risk Factors — Risks Relating to the PRC — PRC regulations relating to the establishment of offshore special purpose companies by PRC residents may subject our PRC resident beneficial owners or our PRC subsidiaries to liability or penalties, limit our ability to inject capital into our PRC subsidiaries, limit our PRC subsidiaries' ability to increase their registered capital or distribute profits to us, or may otherwise adversely affect us”.

Regulations on Employee Stock Options Plans

On 25 December 2006, the PBOC promulgated the Administrative Measures for Individual Foreign Exchange (個人外匯管理辦法), which set forth the respective requirements for foreign exchange transactions by individuals (both PRC or non-PRC citizens) under either the current account or the capital account. On 5 January 2007, SAFE issued the Implementation Rules of the Administrative Measures for Individual Foreign Exchange (個人外匯管理辦法實施細則) (amended in 2016), which, among other things, specifies approval requirements for a PRC citizen's participation in the employee stock ownership plans or stock option plans of an overseas publicly listed company.

On 15 February 2012, SAFE promulgated the Notice on Issues concerning the Foreign Exchange Administration for Domestic Individuals Participating in Stock Incentive Plan of Overseas-Listed Company (國家外匯管理局關於境內個人參與境外上市公司股權激勵計劃外匯管理有關問題的通知), which supersedes a previous notice issued by SAFE in March 2007 and requires domestic employees who participate in stock incentive plan including employee stock holding plans, share option plans or similar plans in an overseas-listed company to register with the relevant local SAFE branch through a PRC agent and complete certain other procedures. A PRC agent shall be a domestic company participating in the stock incentive plan or a domestic institution that is qualified to engage in assets custodian business and has been duly designated by such domestic company.

Regulations on Foreign Investor’s Merger and Acquisition of PRC Enterprises

In August 2006, six PRC regulatory agencies jointly adopted Provisions on the Merger and Acquisition of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors (關於外國投資者並購境內企業的規定) (the “M&A Rules”), which became effective on 8 September 2006 and were amended by MOFCOM on 22 June 2009. The M&A Rules provided for the filing and approval procedures on the merger and acquisition of domestic enterprises by foreign investors.

According to the Anti-Monopoly Law (反壟斷法) which took effect as at 1 August 2008, where the concentration of business operators reaches the filing thresholds stipulated by the State Council, business operators shall file a declaration with the anti-monopoly enforcement agency under the State Council, and no concentration shall be implemented until the anti-monopoly enforcement agency clears the anti-monopoly filing.

The Provisions of the State Council on Standards for Prior Declaration of Concentrations of Business Operators (國務院關於經營者集中申報標準的規定), which became effective as at 3 August 2008 and was amended on 18 September 2018, stipulates declaration thresholds provided in the Anti-Monopoly Law.

In November 2009, MOFCOM promulgated the Measures for Declaration of Concentration of Business Operators (經營者集中申報辦法) and the Measures for Examination and Approval of Concentration of Business Operators (經營者集中審查辦法), which provide for detailed provisions regarding the filing of prior declaration and examination and approval process by the MOFCOM with respect to anti-monopoly review.

On 18 March 2018, the National People’s Congress approved the State Council Institutional Reform Plan (國務院機構改革方案), which delegates duties of examining and approving concentration of business operators together with other anti-monopoly law enforcement duties to SAMR.

On 29 September 2018, SAMR amended and re-promulgated the Guidance Opinions for Prior Declaration of Concentration of Business Operators (經營者集中申報的指導意見) to further clarify the relevant issues and facilitate the declaration of concentration.

On 3 February 2011, the General Office of the State Council promulgated the Notice on Establishment of the Security Review System for the Mergers and Acquisitions of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors (國務院辦公廳關於建立外國投資者併購境內企業安全審查制度的通知) (“Security Review Notice”), which became effective on 3 March 2011. The Security Review Notice officially established the security review system for mergers and acquisitions of domestic enterprises by foreign investors, which is to be implemented by an inter-ministerial panel under the leadership of the State Council.

On 25 August 2011, MOFCOM issued the Provisions of the Ministry of Commerce on the Implementation of the Security Review System for Mergers and Acquisitions of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors (商務部實施外國投資者併購境內企業安全審查制度的規定) (“Security Review Provisions”), which became effective on 1 September 2011. Pursuant to the Security Review Provisions, if a foreign investor’s merger or acquisition of a domestic enterprise falls within the scope of security review specified in the Security Review Notice, the foreign investor shall file an application with MOFCOM for security review.

Whether a foreign investor's merger or acquisition of a domestic enterprise falls within the scope of security review or not shall be determined based on the substance and actual influence of the merger or acquisition transaction. No foreign investor is allowed to substantially avoid the security review in any way, including but not limited to, holding shares on behalf of others, trust arrangements, multi-level reinvestment, leasing, loans, contractual control, or overseas transactions.

DESCRIPTION OF OTHER MATERIAL INDEBTEDNESS

The following summary of the principal terms of the instruments governing our material indebtedness does not purport to be a complete description of all of the terms of these instruments and may not contain all of the information that may be important to prospective investors. Investors should read the consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Offering Circular for additional information about our indebtedness.

As at 31 March 2020, our borrowings and notes payable included in current liabilities were RMB16,441 million (US$2,322 million) and RMB1,094 million (US$155 million), respectively, and borrowings and notes payable included in non-current liabilities were RMB124,125 million (US$17,530 million) and RMB84,640 million (US$11,953 million), respectively. As at 31 March 2020, our total borrowings included in current liabilities comprised onshore RMB borrowings, offshore H.K. dollar bank borrowings and offshore U.S. dollar bank borrowings, and our borrowings included in the non-current liabilities comprised onshore RMB borrowings, offshore EUR bank borrowings and offshore U.S. dollar bank borrowings. As at 31 March 2020, our notes payable (including current and non-current portion) comprised the April 2020 Notes, the 2023 Notes, the 2023 Floating Rate Notes, the 2024 Notes, the 2024 Floating Rate Notes, the 2025 Notes, the 2026 Notes, the 2028 Notes, the 2029 Notes, the 2035 Notes, the 2038 Notes and the 2049 Notes.

U.S. Dollar Bank Borrowings, H.K. Dollar Bank Borrowings, EUR Bank Borrowings and RMB Bank Borrowings

The aggregate principal amounts of short-term USD, HKD and RMB bank borrowings as at 31 March 2020 were US$690 million, HK$6,160 million and RMB4,166 million, respectively. Applicable interest rates are at LIBOR plus 0.50% or fixed interest rates of 2.02% to 2.04% for USD bank borrowings, HIBOR plus 0.50% for HKD bank borrowings and fixed interest rates of 3.55% to 5.22% for RMB bank borrowings per annum.

The aggregate principal amounts of long-term USD, EUR, HKD and RMB bank borrowings as at 31 March 2020 were US$15,935 million, EUR150 million, HK$1,000 million and RMB10,908 million, respectively. Applicable interest rates are at LIBOR/HIBOR plus 0.70% to 1.27% for USD and HKD bank borrowings, a fixed interest rate of 0.52% for EUR bank borrowings and fixed interest rates of 4.18% to 5.70% for RMB bank borrowings per annum.

These USD, HKD and EUR bank borrowings were entered into by one of our offshore subsidiaries, under which it has agreed to certain customary covenants relating to, among other things, securities over its assets, disposals of its assets, and mergers and acquisitions. These bank borrowings contain certain customary events of default, including breaches of terms of the facilities agreement, any events or circumstances that result in a materially adverse change in the business or financial condition of the borrower, borrower's dissolution and insolvency, misleading statements or material omissions, cessation of all or a material part of the borrower's business, change in ownership of the borrower and cross defaults under other loans. The banks are entitled to demand immediate repayment of all or part of the outstanding loans and any accrued interest upon the occurrence of an event of default.

These bank borrowings are generally guaranteed by the Company.

RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The following discussion describes certain material related party transactions between our consolidated subsidiaries and our Directors, executive officers and substantial shareholders and, in each case, the companies with whom they are affiliated.

The Company and its subsidiaries from time to time engage in transactions with affiliates of the Company in the ordinary course of their business. It is the Company's policy to conduct these transactions on normal commercial terms and on an arm's-length basis.

Share Option Schemes and Share Award Schemes

Option Schemes

The Company has adopted share option schemes for the purpose of providing incentives and rewards to its Directors, executives or officers, employees, consultants and other eligible persons.

On 16 May 2007, the Company adopted the Post-IPO Option Scheme II. Pursuant to the Post-IPO Option Scheme II, the Board may, at its discretion, grant options to any eligible person to subscribe for shares in the Company. The Post-IPO Option Scheme II shall be valid and effective for a period of ten years commencing on its date of adoption. The maximum number of shares in respect of which options may be granted under the Post-IPO Option Scheme II shall not exceed 444,518,270 shares, 5% of the issued shares as at the date of shareholders' approval of the Post-IPO Option Scheme II. Options granted under the Post-IPO Option Scheme II will expire no later than the last day of the seven-year period after the date of grant of options (subject to early termination as set out in the terms of the Post-IPO Option Scheme II). Post-IPO Option Scheme II expired on 16 May 2017.

On 13 May 2009, the Company adopted the Post-IPO Option Scheme III. Pursuant to the Post-IPO Option Scheme III, the Board may, at its discretion, grant options to any eligible person (any senior executive or senior officer, director of any member of the Group or any invested entity and any consultant, adviser or agent of any member of the Board) to subscribe for shares in the Company. The Post-IPO Option Scheme III shall be valid and effective for a period of ten years commencing on its date of adoption. The maximum number of shares in respect of which options may be granted under the Post-IPO Option Scheme III shall not exceed 180,093,330 shares, 2% of the issued shares as at the date of shareholders' approval of this scheme. Options granted under the Post-IPO Option Scheme III will expire after the last day of the ten-year period after the date of grant of options (subject to early termination as set out in the terms of the Post-IPO Option Scheme III). Post-IPO Option Scheme III expired on 13 May 2019.

On 17 May 2017, the Company adopted the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV. Pursuant to the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV, the Board may, at its discretion, grant options to any eligible person to subscribe for shares in the Company. The Post-IPO Option Scheme IV shall be valid and effective for a period of ten years commencing on its date of adoption. The maximum number of shares in respect of which options may be granted under the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV shall not exceed 379,099,339 shares, 4% of the issued shares as at the date of shareholders' approval of this scheme. Options granted under the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV will expire no later than the last day of the seven-year period after the date of grant of options (subject to early termination as set out in the terms of the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV).

The maximum number of shares which may be issued upon exercise of all outstanding options granted and yet to be exercised under the Post-IPO Option Scheme II, Post-IPO Option Scheme III, the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV and any other share option schemes of the Company must not in aggregate exceed 30% of issued shares from time to time. The maximum number of shares (issued and to be issued) in respect of which options may be granted under the Post-IPO Option Scheme II, Post-IPO Option Scheme III, the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV and any other share option schemes of the Company (whether exercised, cancelled or outstanding) to any eligible person in any 12-month period shall not exceed 1% of the issued shares from time to time unless such grant has been duly approved by an ordinary resolution of the shareholders in a general meeting at which the relevant eligible person and his associates are abstained from voting. In calculating the aforesaid limit of 1%, options that have lapsed shall not be counted.

During the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, 4,102,812 ordinary shares, 6,891,249 ordinary shares, 1,612,741 ordinary shares, 118,600 ordinary shares and 561,955 ordinary shares were exercised, respectively, pursuant to the share option schemes the Company has already adopted.

Share Award Schemes

On 13 December 2007, the Company adopted the 2007 Share Award Scheme, which was subsequently amended on 31 January 2008 and 13 May 2009, respectively. The Board may, at its absolute discretion, select any eligible persons (the “Awarded Persons”) to participate in the 2007 Share Award Scheme. Pursuant to the 2007 Share Award Scheme, ordinary shares of the Company are acquired by an independent trustee at the cost of the Company or shares are allotted to the trustee under general mandates granted or to be granted by shareholders of the Company at general meetings from time to time. These shares are/will be held in trust for the Awarded Persons by the trustee until the end of each vesting period. Vested shares are/will be transferred at no cost to the Awarded Persons. The Awarded Persons are not entitled to the dividends on the awarded shares not yet transferred to them. Unless it is terminated by the Board, the 2007 Award Share Scheme shall be valid and effective for a term of fifteen years commencing on the adoption date according to the amendment on 13 May 2009. The number of shares to be awarded under the 2007 Share Award Scheme throughout its duration shall not exceed 2% of the issued share capital of the Company as at the adoption date. The maximum number of shares which may be awarded to an Awarded Person under the 2007 Share Award Scheme shall not exceed 1% of the issued share capital of the Company as at the adoption date.

On 13 November 2013, the Company adopted the 2013 Share Award Scheme. The Board may, at its absolute discretion, select any Awarded Persons to participate in the 2013 Share Award Scheme. Pursuant to the Share Scheme, ordinary shares of the Company are acquired by an independent trustee at the cost of the Company or shares are allotted to the trustee under general mandates granted or to be granted by shareholders of the Company at general meetings from time to time. These shares are/will be held in trust for the Awarded Persons by the trustee until the end of each vesting period. Vested shares are/will be transferred at no cost to the Awarded Persons. The Awarded Persons are not entitled to the dividends on the awarded shares not yet transferred to them. Unless it is terminated by the Board, the 2013 Share Award Scheme shall be valid and effective for a term of fifteen years commencing on the adoption date. The number of shares to be awarded under the 2013 Share Award Scheme throughout its duration shall not exceed 3% of the issued share capital of the Company as at the adoption date. The maximum number of shares which may be awarded to an Awarded Person under the 2013 Share Award Scheme shall not exceed 1% of the issued share capital of the Company as at the adoption date.

On 25 November 2019, the Company adopted the 2019 Share Award Scheme. The Board may, at its absolute discretion, select any Awarded Persons to participate in the 2019 Share Award Scheme. Pursuant to the Share Scheme, ordinary shares of the Company are acquired by an independent trustee at the cost of the Company or shares are allotted to the trustee under general mandates granted or to be granted by shareholders of the Company at general meetings from time to time. These shares are/will be held in trust for the Awarded Persons by the trustee until the end of each vesting period. Vested shares are/will be transferred at no cost to the Awarded Persons. The Awarded Persons are not entitled to the dividends on the awarded shares not yet transferred to them. Unless it is terminated by the Board, the 2019 Share Award Scheme shall be valid and effective for a term of fifteen years commencing on the adoption date. The number of shares to be awarded under the 2019 Share Award Scheme throughout its duration shall not exceed 2% of the issued share capital of the Company as at the adoption date. The maximum number of shares which may be awarded to an Awarded Person under the 2019 Share Award Scheme shall not exceed 1% of the issued share capital of the Company as at the adoption date.

During the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, a total of 19,071,975 awarded shares, 20,940,149 awarded shares, 53,096,782 awarded shares, 2,937,998 awarded shares and 10,658,234 awarded shares were granted under the 2013 Share Award Scheme and 2019 Share Award Scheme.

Compensation of Directors

Our directors receive compensation including fees, salaries, bonuses, allowances and benefits in kind, share-based compensation expenses and contribution to pension plans for their services to the Company. See “Directors and Management — Compensation of Directors and Senior Management”.

Transactions with associates

During the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020, we had provided various services such as FinTech and business services, online traffic and online advertising to certain associates mainly engaged in Internet businesses such as eCommerce, O2O platforms and FinTech services. The transactions with associates for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020 were considered not significant compared to total revenue in the consolidated financial statements.

Loans to investee companies and investee companies' shareholders

Our loans to investee companies and investee companies' shareholders amounted to RMB2,579 million, RMB4,089 million, RMB1,384 million and RMB1,094 million (US$155 million) as at 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 March 2020, respectively.

TAXATION

The following is a general description of certain tax considerations relating to the Notes and is based on laws and relevant interpretation thereof in effect as at the date of this Offering Circular, all of which are subject to changes, and does not constitute legal or taxation advice. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations relating to the Notes, whether in those countries or elsewhere. Prospective purchasers of the Notes should consult their own tax advisers as to which countries' tax laws could be relevant to acquiring, holding and disposing of the Notes and receiving payments of interest, principal and/or other amounts under the Notes and the consequences of such actions under the tax laws of those countries. None of the Issuer nor any other persons involved in the Programme accepts responsibility for any tax effects or liabilities resulting from the subscription for purchase, holding or disposal of the Notes.

Cayman Islands

Prospective investors should consult their professional advisers on the possible tax consequences of buying, holding or selling any Notes under the laws of their country of citizenship, residence or domicile.

The following is a discussion of certain Cayman Islands income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes. The discussion is a general summary of present law, which is subject to prospective and retroactive change. It is not intended as tax advice, does not consider any investor's particular circumstances, and does not consider tax consequences other than those arising under Cayman Islands law.

Payments of interest, premium and principal on the Notes will not be subject to taxation in the Cayman Islands and no withholding will be required on the payment of interest, premium and principal to any holder of the Notes, as the case may be, nor will gains derived from the disposal of the Notes be subject to Cayman Islands income or corporation tax. The Cayman Islands currently have no income, corporation or capital gains tax and no estate duty, inheritance tax or gift tax.

No stamp duty is payable in respect of the issue of Bearer Notes or a Global Note. Any Bearer Note or any Global Note itself will be stampable if it is executed in or brought into the Cayman Islands.

No stamp duty is payable in respect of the issue of the Registered Notes, an Individual Note Certificate or a Global Certificate. An instrument of transfer in respect of a Registered Note, an Individual Note Certificate or a Global Note Certificate is stampable if executed in or brought into the Cayman Islands.

People's Republic of China

The following summary describes certain PRC tax consequences of ownership of the Notes by beneficial owners who, or which, are not residents of Mainland China for PRC tax purposes. These beneficial owners are referred to as non-PRC Noteholders in this section. In considering whether to invest in the Notes, potential purchasers should consult their individual tax advisers with regard to the application of PRC tax laws to their particular situations as well as any tax consequences arising under the laws of any other tax jurisdiction.

Taxation on Interest and Capital Gains

Under the EIT Law, an enterprise established outside of the PRC with a “de facto management body” within the PRC is deemed a “resident enterprise”, meaning that it can be treated as a PRC enterprise for enterprise income tax purposes. The implementing rules of the EIT Law define “de facto management” as “substantial and overall management and control over the production and operations, personnel, accounting, and properties” of the enterprise. The Notice Regarding the Determination of Chinese-Controlled Offshore Incorporated Enterprises as PRC Tax Resident Enterprises on the Basis of De Facto Management Bodies (關於境外註冊中資控股企業依據實際管理機構標準認定為居民企業有關問題的通知) (“Circular 82”) issued by the State Administration of Taxation on 22 April 2009 provides that a foreign enterprise controlled by a PRC company or a PRC company group will be treated as a “resident enterprise” with a “de facto management body” located within the PRC if all of the following requirements are satisfied at the same time: (i) the senior management and core management departments in charge of daily operations are located mainly within the PRC; (ii) financial and human resources decisions are subject to determination or approval by persons or bodies in the PRC; (iii) major assets, accounting books, company seals and minutes and files of board and shareholders’ meetings are located or kept within the PRC; and (iv) at least half of the enterprise’s directors with voting rights or senior management reside within the PRC. Although the Circular 82 applies only to offshore enterprises controlled by enterprises or enterprise groups located within the PRC, not including those ultimately controlled by PRC individuals, the determining criteria set forth in the Circular 82 may reflect the SAT’s general position on how the “de facto management body” test may be applied in determining the tax resident status of all offshore enterprises. On 27 July 2011, the State Administration of Taxation issued Provisional Administrative Regulations of Enterprise Income Taxation of a Foreign Enterprise Controlled by a PRC Enterprise or a PRC Enterprise Group (境外註冊中資控股居民企業所得稅管理辦法(試行)) (“Circular 45”) which was amended on 17 April 2015, 28 June 2016 and 15 June 2018, respectively, to further prescribe the rules concerning the recognition, administration and taxation of a foreign enterprise “controlled by a PRC enterprise or PRC enterprise group”. Circular 45 provides two ways for a foreign enterprise “controlled by a PRC enterprise or a PRC enterprise group” to be treated as a resident enterprise. First, the foreign enterprise may decide on its own that its de facto management body is located in the PRC based on the criteria set forth in Circular 82, and, if it makes such determination, it must apply to the competent tax bureau to be treated as a resident enterprise. Second, the tax authority may determine that the foreign enterprise is a resident enterprise after its active investigation.

The Company holds its shareholders’ meeting and board meetings outside the PRC and keeps its shareholders’ list outside the PRC. However, some of the Company’s directors and senior management are currently based inside the PRC. This may be relevant for the PRC tax authorities to determine whether it is a PRC resident enterprise for tax purposes.

Although it is unclear under PRC tax law whether the Company has a “de facto management body” located in the PRC for PRC tax purposes, it intends to take the position that it is not a PRC resident enterprise for tax purposes. The Company cannot assure you that it will not be considered to be a “resident enterprise” by the PRC tax authorities and, therefore, be subject to enterprise income tax at a rate of 25% on its global income. So long as the Company is not considered to be a PRC resident enterprise for EIT Law purposes, the payment of interest on the Notes to the non-PRC resident holders of the Notes will not be subject to PRC withholding tax. However, if the Company were determined to be a PRC resident enterprise, such interest payments and any gains from the sale of notes may be subject to PRC tax.

Under the EIT Law and the implementation regulations thereunder, PRC withholding tax at a rate of 10% is normally applicable to PRC-source income derived by nonresident enterprises. The EIT Law’s implementation regulations further set forth that interest income is viewed as PRC-source income if the enterprise or the establishment that pays or bears the interest is situated in the PRC. If the Company is deemed a PRC resident enterprise for tax purposes, interest paid to non-PRC resident note holders may be regarded as PRC-source and therefore be subject to PRC withholding tax at a rate of 10% for non-PRC resident enterprise note holders and 20% for non-PRC resident individual note holders. Any gains realised on the transfer of the Notes by such investors may be subject to PRC income tax at a rate of 10% for non-PRC resident enterprise note holders or 20% for non-PRC resident individual note holders, if the Company is deemed a PRC resident enterprise for tax purposes and such gains are regarded as PRC-sourced. In addition, if we were considered a PRC resident enterprise, interest payable by us to non-resident noteholders may be subject to PRC value added tax at a rate of 6% and related local levies, including educational surtax and urban maintenance and construction tax at a rate of up to 0.72%. Any PRC tax liability may be reduced by an applicable tax treaty or arrangement.

Stamp Duty

No PRC stamp tax will be chargeable upon the issue or transfer of a Note (for so long as the register of holders of the Notes is maintained or used outside the PRC, as is expected to be the case).

Hong Kong

Withholding Tax

No withholding tax is payable in Hong Kong in respect of payments of principal or interest on the Notes or in respect of any capital gains arising from the sale of the Notes.

Profits Tax

Hong Kong profits tax is chargeable on every person carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong in respect of profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong from such trade, profession or business (excluding profits arising from the sale of capital assets).

Interest on the Notes may be deemed to be profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong from a trade, profession or business carried on in Hong Kong in the following circumstances:

- (i) interest on the Notes is derived from Hong Kong and is received by or accrues to a company carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong;
- (ii) interest on the Notes is derived from Hong Kong and is received by or accrues to a person, other than a company (such as a partnership), carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong and is in respect of the funds of that trade, profession or business;
- (iii) interest on the Notes is received by or accrues to a financial institution (as defined in the Inland Revenue Ordinance (Cap. 112) of Hong Kong (the “IRO”)) and arises through or from the carrying on by the financial institution of its business in Hong Kong; or
- (iv) interest on the Notes is received by or accrues to a corporation, other than a financial institution, and arises through or from the carrying on in Hong Kong by the corporation of its intra-group financing business (within the meaning of section 16(3) of the IRO).

Sums received by or accrued to a financial institution by way of gains or profits arising through or from the carrying on by the financial institution of its business in Hong Kong from the sale, disposal and redemption of Notes will be subject to Hong Kong profits tax. Sums received by or accrued to a corporation, other than a financial institution, by way of gains or profits arising through or from the carrying on in Hong Kong by the corporation of its intra-group financing business (within the meaning of section 16(3) of the IRO) from the sale, disposal or other redemption of Notes will be subject to Hong Kong profits tax.

Sums derived from the sale, disposal or redemption of the Notes will be subject to Hong Kong profits tax where received by or accrued to a person, other than a financial institution, from the carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong and the sum has a Hong Kong source. The source of such sums will generally be determined by having regard to the manner in which the Notes are acquired and disposed of.

Stamp Duty

Stamp duty will not be payable on the issue of Bearer Notes provided either:

- (i) such Notes are denominated in a currency other than the currency of Hong Kong and are not repayable in any circumstances in the currency of Hong Kong; or
- (ii) such Notes constitute loan capital (as defined in the Stamp Duty Ordinance (Cap. 117) of Hong Kong (the “SDO”)).

If stamp duty is payable, it is payable by the Issuer on the issue of Bearer Notes at a rate of 3 per cent. of the market value of the Notes at the time of issue. No stamp duty will be payable on any subsequent transfer of Bearer Notes.

No stamp duty is payable on the issue of Registered Notes. Stamp duty may be payable on any transfer of Registered Notes if the relevant transfer is required to be registered in Hong Kong. Stamp duty will, however, not be payable on any transfer of Registered Notes provided that either:

- (i) the Registered Notes are denominated in a currency other than the currency of Hong Kong and are not repayable in any circumstances in the currency of Hong Kong; or
- (ii) the Registered Notes constitute loan capital (as defined in the SDO).

If stamp duty is payable in respect of the transfer of Registered Notes, it will be payable at the rate of 0.2 per cent. (of which 0.1 per cent. is payable by the seller and 0.1 per cent. is payable by the purchaser) normally by reference to the consideration or its value, whichever is higher. In addition, stamp duty is payable at the fixed rate of HK$5 on each instrument of transfer executed in relation to any transfer of the Registered Notes if the relevant transfer is required to be registered in Hong Kong.

United States Federal Income Taxation

The following is a discussion of certain U.S. federal income tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of Notes to the U.S. Holders described below. This disclosure addresses only Notes that are denominated in U.S. dollars and issued in registered form. It does not address Notes issued in bearer form, which generally may not be offered or sold in the United States or its possessions or to U.S. persons (as defined for U.S. federal income tax purposes). A U.S. person that acquires a Bearer Note may be subject to adverse tax implications. This discussion applies only to Notes that are purchased by a U.S. Holder described below in their initial offering at the “issue price”, which will equal the first price to the public (not including bond houses, brokers or similar persons or organisations acting in the capacity of underwriters, placement agents or wholesalers) at which a substantial amount of the Notes is sold for money, and held as capital assets.

This discussion does not describe all of the tax consequences that may be relevant to a U.S. Holder in light of its particular circumstances, including the possible application of any special tax accounting rules set forth in Section 451 of the Code (as defined below), any alternative minimum tax or Medicare contribution tax considerations, or any tax consequences applicable to U.S. Holders subject to special rules, such as:

- certain financial institutions;
- dealers in securities;
- traders in securities that elect to use a mark-to-market method of tax accounting;
- persons holding Notes as part of a “straddle” or other integrated transaction;
- persons whose functional currency for U.S. federal income tax purposes is not the U.S. dollar;
- partnerships or other entities classified as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes;
- tax-exempt organisations, “individual retirement accounts” and “Roth IRAs”; or
- persons owning Notes in connection with a trade or business conducted outside the United States.

If a partnership owns the Notes, the tax treatments of a partner in the partnership will generally depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Partnerships and partners in partnerships owning Notes should consult their tax advisers regarding the tax consequences of owning and disposing of Notes.

This discussion is based on the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), administrative pronouncements, judicial decisions, final, temporary and proposed Treasury regulations, and the income tax treaty between the United States and the PRC (the “Treaty”), all as at the date hereof. These laws are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect. Persons considering the purchase of Notes are urged to consult their tax advisers with regard to the application of the U.S. federal income tax laws to their particular situations as well as any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or non-U.S. taxing jurisdiction.

This discussion applies only to Notes that are classified as indebtedness for U.S. federal income tax purposes. This discussion does not apply to every type of Note that may be issued under the Programme, including Dual Currency Notes, Index Linked Notes, Partly Paid Notes and any other Notes that are subject to different U.S. federal income tax consequences than those described below. Additional or alternative U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning such Notes may be addressed in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

As used herein, the term “U.S. Holder” means a beneficial owner of a Note that is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes:

- a citizen or individual resident of the United States;
- a corporation, or other entity taxable as a corporation, created or organised in or under the laws of the United States, any state therein or the District of Columbia; or
- an estate or trust the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source.

Payments of Stated Interest. Stated interest paid on a Note will be taxable to a U.S. Holder as ordinary interest income at the time it accrues or is received in accordance with the U.S. Holder’s method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes, provided that the interest is “qualified stated interest” (as defined below). Interest income earned by a U.S. Holder with respect to a Note will constitute foreign source income, which may be relevant to a U.S. Holder in calculating the U.S. Holder’s foreign tax credit limitation. As described in “Taxation — People’s Republic of China”, if we were deemed to be a “resident enterprise” under PRC tax law, interest paid by us may be subject to PRC withholding tax. For U.S. federal income tax purposes, the amount of the interest income will include any amounts withheld in respect of PRC tax, and any Additional Amount paid with respect thereto. Subject to applicable limitations, which vary depending upon the U.S. Holder’s circumstances, PRC income taxes withheld from interest payments (at a rate not exceeding the applicable rate provided in the Treaty, in the case of a U.S. Holder that is eligible for the benefits of the Treaty) generally will be creditable against a U.S. Holder’s U.S. federal income tax liability. The rules governing foreign tax credits are complex and U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the creditability of foreign tax credits in their particular circumstances. Instead of claiming a credit, a U.S. Holder may elect to deduct any such PRC taxes in computing its taxable income, subject to applicable limitations. An election to deduct foreign taxes instead of claiming foreign tax credits must apply to all foreign taxes paid or accrued in the taxable year.

Special rules governing the treatment of interest paid with respect to Original Issue Discount Notes, certain Floating Rate Notes, and Short-Term Notes (each as defined below) are described below.

Original Issue Discount. A Note that is issued at an issue price less than its “stated redemption price at maturity” will be considered to have been issued at an original issue discount for U.S. federal income tax purposes (and will be referred to in this section as an “Original Issue Discount Note”) unless the Note satisfies a de minimis threshold (as described below) or is a Short-Term Note (as defined below). The “stated redemption price at maturity” of a Note will equal the sum of all payments required under the Note other than payments of “qualified stated interest”. “Qualified stated interest” is stated interest unconditionally payable as a series of payments in cash or property (other than in debt instruments of the Issuer) at least annually during the entire term of the Note and generally equal to the outstanding principal balance of the Note multiplied by a single fixed rate of interest or, subject to certain conditions, based on one or more floating rates or indices.

If the difference between a Note’s stated redemption price at maturity and its issue price is less than a prescribed de minimis amount (generally, 1/4 of one percent of the stated redemption price at maturity multiplied by the number of complete years to maturity) then the Note will not be considered to have original issue discount.

A U.S. Holder of an Original Issue Discount Note will be required to include any qualified stated interest payments in income in accordance with the U.S. Holder’s method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes (as described in “— Payments of Stated Interest” above). In addition, a U.S. Holder of an Original Issue Discount Note will be required to include original issue discount in income for U.S. federal income tax purposes as it accrues, in accordance with a constant-yield method based on a compounding of interest. Under this method, U.S. Holders of Original Issue Discount Notes generally will be required to include in income increasingly greater amounts of original issue discount in successive accrual periods.

A U.S. Holder may make an election to include in gross income all interest that accrues on any Note (including stated interest, original issue discount and de minimis original issue discount, as adjusted by any amortisable bond premium) in accordance with a constant-yield method based on the compounding of interest (a “constant-yield election”).

Under applicable Treasury regulations, if the Issuer or the holder has an unconditional option to redeem a Note prior to its stated maturity date and certain other conditions are met, this option will be presumed to be exercised if, by utilising any date on which the Note may be redeemed as the maturity date and the amount payable on that date in accordance with the terms of the Note as the stated redemption price at maturity, in the case of the Issuer’s option, the yield on the Note would be lower than its yield to the stated maturity date or, in the case of the holder’s option, the yield on the Note would be higher than its yield to the stated maturity date. If this option is not in fact exercised, the Note would be treated solely for purposes of calculating original issue discount as if it were redeemed, and a new note were issued, on the presumed exercise date for an amount equal to the Note’s adjusted issue price on that date. The adjusted issue price of a Note is generally the issue price of the Note, increased by the amount of original issue discount previously includible in gross income of any holder and decreased by the amount of any payment previously made, other than a payment of qualified stated interest.

Floating Rate Notes

General. A Floating Rate Note generally will qualify as a “variable rate debt instrument” (a “VRDI”) for U.S. federal income tax purposes if:

- the issue price does not exceed the total noncontingent principal payments due under the Floating Rate Note by more than a specified de minimis amount;
- it provides for stated interest, paid or compounded at least annually, at current values of:
 - one or more qualified floating rates,
 - a single fixed rate and one or more qualified floating rates,
 - a single objective rate, or

- a single fixed rate and a single objective rate that is a qualified inverse floating rate, each as defined in the applicable Treasury regulations; and
- certain other conditions, as set forth in the applicable Treasury regulations, are satisfied.

In general, a “qualified floating rate” is any variable rate where variations in the value of such rate can reasonably be expected to measure contemporaneous variations in the cost of newly borrowed funds in the currency in which the Floating Rate Note is denominated. In general, an “objective rate” is a rate that is not itself a qualified floating rate but which is determined using a single fixed formula that is based on objective financial or economic information. A “qualified inverse floating rate” is any objective rate where such rate is equal to a fixed rate minus a qualified floating rate, as long as variations in the rate can reasonably be expected to inversely reflect contemporaneous variations in the qualified floating rate.

Unless otherwise provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement, it is expected, and the discussion below assumes, that a Floating Rate Note should qualify as a VRDI. However, there is some uncertainty as to the proper treatment of a Floating Rate Note that provides for a possible replacement of its stated qualifying floating rate (e.g., LIBOR) due to the rate’s discontinuation. Under recently proposed Treasury regulations, certain rate replacements would not affect the treatment of Notes that otherwise meet the requirements of the VRDI rules, provided that certain conditions set forth in the proposed regulations are met. There is no assurance that the Floating Rate Notes of any series will meet these conditions or that the Internal Revenue Service will not challenge the treatment of such Notes as VRDIs. If a Floating Rate Note does not qualify as a VRDI, the Floating Rate Note will be treated as a “contingent payment debt instrument” for U.S. federal income tax purposes. If the Company determines that a Floating Rate Note of any series should not be treated as a VRDI, the applicable Pricing Supplement will describe certain U.S. federal income tax consequences to U.S. Holders of owning and disposing of such Notes.

Floating Rate Notes That Provide for a Single Variable Rate. All stated interest on a Floating Rate Note will constitute qualified stated interest (as described under “— Original Issue Discount” above) and will be taxable accordingly if:

- the Floating Rate Note provides for stated interest at a single variable rate throughout the term thereof; and
- the stated interest on the Floating Rate Note is unconditionally payable in cash or other property (other than debt instruments of the issuer) at least annually.

Thus, such a Floating Rate Note will generally not be treated as issued with original issue discount unless the Floating Rate Note is issued at an issue price below its stated redemption price at maturity and the difference between the issue price and the stated redemption price at maturity is equal to or in excess of the specified de minimis amount described in “— Original Issue Discount.” For this purpose, if a Floating Rate Note provides for stated interest at a fixed rate for an initial period of one year or less followed by a variable rate and if the variable rate on the Floating Rate Note’s issue date is intended to approximate the fixed rate (e.g., the value of the variable rate on the issue date does not differ from the value of the fixed rate by more than 0.25%), then the fixed rate and the variable rate together will constitute a single variable rate. In addition, two or more qualified floating rates that can reasonably be expected to have approximately the same values throughout the term of the Floating Rate Note (e.g., two or more qualified floating rates with values within 0.25% of each other as determined on the issue date) will be treated as a single qualified floating rate.

If a Floating Rate Note that provides for stated interest at a single variable rate is issued with original issue discount, as discussed above, the amount of qualified stated interest and the amount of original issue discount that accrues during an accrual period on such a Floating Rate Note is determined under the rules applicable to fixed rate debt instruments, discussed under “— Original Issue Discount” above, by assuming that the variable rate is a fixed rate equal to:

- in the case of a qualified floating rate or qualified inverse floating rate, the value, as at the issue date, of the qualified floating rate or qualified inverse floating rate; or
- in the case of an objective rate (other than a qualified inverse floating rate), a fixed rate that reflects the yield that is reasonably expected for the Floating Rate Note.

The qualified stated interest allocable to an accrual period is increased (or decreased) if the interest actually paid during an accrual period exceeds (or is less than) the interest assumed to be paid during the accrual period pursuant to the foregoing rules.

Floating Rate Notes That Provide for Multiple Rates. If a Floating Rate Note provides for multiple floating interest rates, then the applicable Pricing Supplement will describe certain U.S. federal income tax consequences to U.S. Holders of owning and disposing of such Notes.

Short-Term Notes. A Note that matures one year or less from its date of issuance (a “Short-Term Note”) will be treated as being issued at a discount and none of the interest paid on the Note will be treated as qualified stated interest. In general, a cash-method U.S. Holder of a Short-Term Note is not required to accrue the discount for U.S. federal income tax purposes unless it elects to do so (but will be required to include in income any interest paid to such U.S. Holder). U.S. Holders that so elect and certain other U.S. Holders, including those that report income on the accrual method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes, are required to include the discount in income as it accrues on a straight-line basis, unless another election is made to accrue the discount according to a constant-yield method based on daily compounding. In the case of a U.S. Holder that is not required and does not elect to include the discount in income currently, any gain realised on the sale, exchange or retirement of the Short-Term Note will be ordinary income to the extent of the discount accrued on a straight-line basis (or, if elected, according to a constant-yield method based on daily compounding) through the date of sale, exchange or retirement. In addition, such U.S. Holders will be required to defer deductions for any interest paid on indebtedness incurred to purchase or carry Short-Term Notes in an amount not exceeding the accrued discount that has not been included in income.

Amortisable Bond Premium. If a U.S. Holder purchases a Note for an amount that is greater than the sum of all amounts payable on the Note other than qualified stated interest, the U.S. Holder will be considered to have purchased the Note with amortisable bond premium equal to this excess. The U.S. Holder may elect to amortise this premium, using a constant-yield method, over the remaining term of the Note. Special rules may limit the amount of bond premium that can be amortized during certain accrual periods in the case of Notes that are subject to optional redemption. A U.S. Holder may generally use the amortisable bond premium allocable to an accrual period to offset qualified stated interest required to be included in the U.S. Holder’s income with respect to the Note in that accrual period. A U.S. Holder that elects to amortise bond premium must reduce its tax basis in the Note by the amount of the premium amortised in any year. An election to amortise bond premium applies to all taxable debt obligations held by the U.S. Holder on or after the first day of the taxable year in which the election is made and may be revoked only with the consent of the Internal Revenue Service.

If a U.S. Holder makes a constant-yield election (as described under “— Original Issue Discount” above) for a Note with amortisable bond premium, such election will result in a deemed election to amortise bond premium for all of the U.S. Holder’s debt instruments with amortisable bond premium and may be revoked only with the consent of the Internal Revenue Service with respect to debt instruments held or acquired after the election.

Sale, Exchange or Retirement of the Notes. Upon the sale, exchange or retirement of a Note, a U.S. Holder will recognise taxable gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount realised on the sale, exchange or retirement and the U.S. Holder’s adjusted tax basis in the Note. For these purposes, the amount realised does not include any amount attributable to accrued qualified stated interest, which will be taxed as interest as described under “— Payments of Stated Interest” above. A U.S. Holder’s adjusted tax basis in a Note generally will equal such U.S. Holder’s initial investment in the Note, increased by any original issue discount included in income and decreased by the amount of any bond premium previously amortised and any payments other than qualified stated interest previously received.

Except as described below, gain or loss realised on the sale, exchange or retirement of a Note will generally be capital gain or loss and will be long-term capital gain or loss if at the time of sale, exchange or retirement the U.S. Holder has held the Note for more than one year. An exception to this general rule applies in the case of a Short-Term Note to the extent of any accrued discount not previously included in the U.S. Holder's taxable income. See "— Short-Term Notes" above.

Gain or loss will generally be U.S.-source for purposes of computing a U.S. Holder's foreign tax credit limitation. Long-term capital gains recognised by non-corporate taxpayers are generally taxed at preferential rates. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. As described in "Taxation — People's Republic of China" above, if we were deemed to be a "resident enterprise" under PRC tax law, gain realised by a U.S. Holder on the disposition of Notes may be subject to PRC tax. In such case, if a U.S. Holder is eligible for the benefits of the Treaty, such U.S. Holder may be able to treat the gain as PRC-source under the Treaty. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers as to whether they would be able to credit any PRC tax on dispositions against their U.S. federal income tax liabilities in their particular circumstances.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding. Information returns will generally be filed with the Internal Revenue Service in connection with payments of interest and proceeds from a sale or other disposition of the Notes that are made within the United States or through certain U.S. or U.S.-related financial intermediaries. A U.S. Holder may be subject to U.S. backup withholding on these payments if the U.S. Holder fails to provide its taxpayer identification number to the payor and comply with certain certification procedures or otherwise establish an exemption from backup withholding. The amount of any backup withholding from a payment to a U.S. Holder will be allowed as a credit against the U.S. Holder's U.S. federal income tax liability and may entitle the U.S. Holder to a refund, provided that the required information is timely furnished to the Internal Revenue Service.

Certain individual U.S. Holders (and certain specified entities) may be required to report to the Internal Revenue Service certain information relating to their beneficial ownership of Notes not held through a U.S. financial institution. U.S. Holders who fail to report the required information could be subject to substantial penalties.

CLEARANCE AND SETTLEMENT

The information set out below is subject to any change in or reinterpretation of the rules, regulations and procedures of DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream or the CMU Service (together, the “Clearing Systems”) currently in effect. The information in this section concerning the Clearing Systems has been obtained from sources that the Issuer believes to be reliable, but none of the Issuer or any Dealer takes any responsibility for the accuracy thereof. Investors wishing to use the facilities of any of the Clearing Systems are advised to confirm the continued applicability of the rules, regulations and procedures of the relevant Clearing System. None of the Issuer or any other party to the Agency Agreement will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to, or payments made on account of, beneficial ownership interests in the Notes held through the facilities of any Clearing System or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial ownership interests.

The Clearing Systems

DTC

DTC is a limited purpose trust company organised under the New York Banking Law, a “banking organisation” within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a “clearing corporation” within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code and a “clearing agency” registered pursuant to Section 17A of the Exchange Act. DTC holds securities that its participants (“Participants”) deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the clearance and settlement among Participants of securities transactions, such as transfers and pledges, in deposited securities through electronic computerised book-entry changes in Participants’ accounts, thereby eliminating the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants include securities brokers and dealer, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations and certain other organisations. DTC is owned by a number of its Direct Participants and by the New York Stock Exchange, Inc., the American Stock Exchange, Inc. and the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. Access to the DTC system is also available to others such as securities brokers and dealers, banks and trust companies that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly (“Indirect Participants”).

Under the rules, regulations and procedures creating and affecting DTC and its operations (the “Rules”), DTC makes book-entry transfers of Registered Notes among Direct Participants on whose behalf it acts with respect to DTC Notes as described below and receives and transmits distributions of principal and interest on DTC Notes. The Rules are on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Direct Participants and Indirect Participants with which beneficial owners of DTC Notes (“Owners”) have accounts with respect to the DTC Notes similarly are required to make book-entry transfers and receive and transmit such payments on behalf of their respective Owners. Accordingly, although Owners who hold DTC Notes through Direct Participants or Indirect Participants will not possess Registered Notes, the Rules, by virtue of the requirements described above, provide a mechanism by which Direct Participants will receive payments and will be able to transfer their interest in respect of the DTC Notes.

Purchases of DTC Notes under the DTC system must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the DTC Notes on DTC’s records. The ownership interest of each actual purchaser of each DTC Note (“Beneficial Owner”) is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participant’s records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase, but Beneficial Owners are expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the Beneficial Owner entered into the transaction. Transfers of ownership interests in the DTC Notes are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Participants acting on behalf of Beneficial Owners. Beneficial Owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in DTC Notes, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for the DTC Notes is discontinued.

To facilitate subsequent transfers, all DTC Notes deposited by Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC's partnership nominee, Cede & Co. The deposit of DTC Notes with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co. effect no change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual Beneficial Owners of the DTC Notes; DTC's records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such DTC Notes are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. The Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time.

Redemption notices shall be sent to Cede & Co. If less than all of the DTC Notes within an issue are being redeemed, DTC's practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

Neither DTC nor Cede & Co. will consent or vote with respect to DTC Notes. Under its usual procedures, DTC mails an Omnibus Proxy to the Issuer as soon as possible after the record date. The Omnibus Proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the DTC Notes are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the Omnibus Proxy).

Principal and interest payments on the DTC Notes will be made to DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts on the due date for payment in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records unless DTC has a reason to believe that it will not receive payment on the due date. Payments by Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name", and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not of DTC or the Issuer, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of principal and interest to DTC is the responsibility of the Issuer, disbursement of such payments to Direct Participants is the responsibility of DTC, and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners is the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

Under certain circumstances, including if there is an Event of Default under the Notes, DTC will exchange the DTC Notes for definitive Registered Notes, which it will distribute to its Participants in accordance with their proportionate entitlements and which, if representing interests in a Rule 144A Global Note, will be legended as set forth under "Transfer Restrictions".

Since DTC may only act on behalf of Direct Participants, who in turn act on behalf of Indirect Participants, any Owner desiring to pledge DTC Notes to persons or entities that do not participate in DTC, or otherwise take actions with respect to such DTC Notes, will be required to withdraw its Registered Notes from DTC as described below.

Euroclear and Clearstream

Euroclear and Clearstream each hold securities for its customers and facilitate the clearance and settlement of securities transactions by electronic book-entry transfer between their respective account holders. Euroclear and Clearstream provide various services including safekeeping, administration, clearance and settlement of internationally traded securities and securities lending and borrowing. Euroclear and Clearstream also deal with domestic securities markets in several countries through established depository and custodial relationships. Euroclear and Clearstream have established an electronic bridge between their two systems across which their respective participants may settle trades with each other.

Euroclear and Clearstream customers are worldwide financial institutions, including underwriters, securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and clearing corporations. Indirect access to Euroclear and Clearstream is available to other institutions that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with an account holder of either system.

CMU Service

The CMU Service is a central depository service provided by the Central Moneymarkets Unit of the HKMA for the safe custody and electronic trading between the members of this service (“CMU Members”) of capital markets instruments (“CMU Notes”) which are specified in the CMU Reference Manual as capable of being held within the CMU Service.

The CMU Service is only available to CMU Notes issued by a CMU Member or by a person for whom a CMU Member acts as agent for the purposes of lodging instruments issued by such persons. Membership of the CMU Service is open to all members of the Hong Kong Capital Markets Association and “authorised institutions” under the Banking Ordinance (Cap. 155) of Hong Kong.

Compared to clearing services provided by Euroclear and Clearstream, the standard custody and clearing service provided by the CMU Service is limited. In particular (and unlike the European Clearing Systems), the HKMA does not as part of this service provide any facilities for the dissemination to the relevant CMU Members of payments (of interest or principal) under, or notices pursuant to the notice provisions of, the CMU Notes. Instead, the HKMA advises the lodging CMU Member (or a designated paying agent) of the identities of the CMU Members to whose accounts payments in respect of the relevant CMU Notes are credited, whereupon the lodging CMU Member (or the designated paying agent) will make the necessary payments of interest or principal or send notices directly to the relevant CMU Members. Similarly, the HKMA will not obtain certificates of non-U.S. beneficial ownership from CMU Members or provide any such certificates on behalf of CMU Members. The CMU Lodging Agent will collect such certificates from the relevant CMU Members identified from an instrument position report obtained by request from the HKMA for this purpose.

An investor holding an interest through an account with either Euroclear or Clearstream in any Notes held in the CMU Service will hold that interest through the respective accounts which Euroclear and Clearstream each have with the CMU Service.

Book-entry Ownership of and Payments in respect of DTC Notes

The Issuer may apply to DTC in order to have any Series of Notes represented by a Global Note Certificate accepted in its book-entry settlement system. Upon the issue of any such Global Note Certificate, DTC or its custodian will credit, on its internal book-entry system, the respective nominal amounts of the individual beneficial interests represented by such Global Note Certificate to the accounts of persons who have accounts with DTC. Such accounts initially will be designated by or on behalf of the relevant Dealer. Ownership of beneficial interests in such a Global Note Certificate will be limited to Direct Participants or Indirect Participants, including, in the case of any Regulation S Global Note, the respective depositories of Euroclear and Clearstream. Ownership of beneficial interests in a Global Note Certificate accepted by DTC will be shown on, and the transfer of such ownership will be effected only through, records maintained by DTC or its nominee (with respect to the interests of Direct Participants) and the records of Direct Participants (with respect to interests of Indirect Participants).

Payments in U.S. dollars of principal and interest in respect of a Global Note Certificate accepted by DTC will be made to the order of DTC or its nominee as the registered holder of such Note. In the case of any payment in a currency other than U.S. dollars, payment will be made to the Exchange Agent on behalf of DTC or its nominee and the Exchange Agent will (in accordance with instructions received by it) remit all or a portion of such payment for credit directly to the beneficial holders of interests in the Global Note Certificate in the currency in which such payment was made and/or cause all or a portion of such payment to be converted into U.S. dollars and credited to the applicable Participants' account.

The Issuer expects DTC to credit accounts of Direct Participants on the applicable payment date in accordance with their respective holdings as shown in the records of DTC unless DTC has reason to believe that it will not receive payment on such payment date. The Issuer also expects that payments by Participants to beneficial owners of Notes will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers, and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not the responsibility of DTC, the Principal Paying Agent, the Registrar or the Issuer. Payment of principal, premium, if any, and interest, if any, on Notes to DTC is the responsibility of the Issuer.

TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS

Regulation S Notes

Each purchaser of Bearer Notes or Unrestricted Notes outside the United States pursuant to Regulation S and each subsequent purchaser of such Notes in resales prior to the expiration of the distribution compliance period, by accepting delivery of this Offering Circular and the Notes, will be deemed to have represented, agreed and acknowledged that:

- (i) it is, or at the time Notes are purchased will be, the beneficial owner of such Notes and:
 - (a) it is not a U.S. person and it is located outside the United States (within the meaning of Regulation S); and
 - (b) it is not an affiliate of the Issuer or a person acting on behalf of such an affiliate;
- (ii) it understands that such Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act and that, prior to the expiration of the distribution compliance period (as defined in Regulation S), it will not offer, sell, pledge or otherwise transfer such Notes except:
 - (a) in an offshore transaction in accordance with Rule 903 or Rule 904 of Regulation S; or
 - (b) to the Issuer; or,
 - (c) in the case of Unrestricted Notes only, in accordance with Rule 144A to a person that it and any person acting on its behalf reasonably believe is a QIB purchasing for its own account or the account of a QIB, in each case in accordance with any applicable securities laws of any state of the United States;

- (iii) it understands that the Issuer, the Principal Paying Agent, the Registrar, the Dealers and their affiliates, and others will rely upon the truth and accuracy of the foregoing acknowledgements, representations and agreements.

On or prior to the fortieth day after the relevant issue date, Notes represented by an interest in an Unrestricted Global Note Certificate may be transferred to a person who wishes to hold such Notes in the form of an interest in a Restricted Global Note Certificate only upon receipt by the Registrar of a written certification from the transferor (in the form set out in the Trust Deed) to the effect that such transfer is being made to a person whom the transferor reasonably believes is a QIB, in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A and in accordance with any applicable securities laws of any state of the United States. After such fortieth day, such certification requirements will no longer apply to such transfers, but such transfers will continue to be subject to the transfer restrictions contained in the legend appearing on the face of such Global Note Certificate, as described above under "Form of the Notes".

Notes represented by an interest in a Restricted Global Note Certificate may also be transferred to a person who wishes to hold such Notes in the form of an interest in an Unrestricted Global Note Certificate, but only upon receipt by the Registrar of a written certification from the transferor (in the form set out in the Trust Deed) to the effect that such transfer is being made in accordance with Regulation S or Rule 144 (if available) under the Securities Act.

Any interest in a Note represented by an Unrestricted Global Note Certificate that is transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of an interest in a Note represented by a Restricted Global Note Certificate will, upon transfer, cease to be an interest in a Note represented by an Unrestricted Global Note Certificate and become an interest in a Note represented by a Restricted Global Note Certificate and, accordingly, will thereafter be subject to all transfer restrictions and other procedures applicable to Notes represented by a Restricted Global Note Certificate.

Rule 144A Notes

Each purchaser of Restricted Notes in reliance on Rule 144A, by accepting delivery of this Offering Circular, will be deemed to have represented, agreed and acknowledged as follows (terms used in the following paragraphs that are defined in Rule 144A have the respective meanings given to them in Rule 144A):

- (i) the purchaser is (a) a QIB, (b) acquiring the Notes for its own account or for the account of one or more QIBs, (c) not formed for the purpose of investing in the Notes or the Issuer and (d) is aware, and each beneficial owner of such Notes has been advised that the sale of the Notes to it is being made in reliance on Rule 144A;
- (ii) the purchaser understands that (1) the Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act and may not be offered, sold, pledged or otherwise transferred except (a) in accordance with Rule 144A to a person that it, and any person acting on its behalf, reasonably believes is a QIB purchasing for its own account or for the account of one or more QIBs, (b) in an offshore transaction in accordance with Rule 903 or Rule 904 of Regulation S under the Securities Act, (c) pursuant to an exemption from registration under the Securities Act provided by Rule 144 thereunder (if available), (d) pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act or (e) to the Issuer or any of its affiliates, in each case in accordance with any applicable securities laws of any State of the United States and (2) it will, and each subsequent holder of the Restricted Notes is required to, notify any purchaser of the Restricted Notes from it of the resale restrictions applicable to the Restricted Notes;
- (iii) the purchaser understands that the Restricted Global Note Certificate and any restricted Individual Note Certificate (a “Restricted Individual Note Certificate”) will bear a legend to the following effect, unless the relevant Issuer determines otherwise in accordance with applicable law:

THE NOTES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN AND WILL NOT BE REGISTERED UNDER THE UNITED STATES SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES ACT”) OR ANY SECURITIES LAW OF ANY STATE OF THE UNITED STATES. THE HOLDER HEREOF, BY PURCHASING THE NOTES REPRESENTED HEREBY, AGREES FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE ISSUER THAT THE NOTES REPRESENTED HEREBY MAY BE REOFFERED, RESOLD, PLEDGED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED ONLY IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE SECURITIES ACT AND OTHER APPLICABLE LAWS AND ONLY (1) PURSUANT TO RULE 144A UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT TO A PERSON THAT THE HOLDER REASONABLY BELIEVES IS A QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER WITHIN THE MEANING OF RULE 144A PURCHASING FOR ITS OWN ACCOUNT OR A PERSON PURCHASING FOR THE ACCOUNT OF A QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER WHOM THE HOLDER HAS INFORMED, IN EACH CASE, THAT THE REOFFER, RESALE, PLEDGE OR OTHER TRANSFER IS BEING MADE IN RELIANCE ON RULE 144A, (2) IN AN OFFSHORE TRANSACTION IN ACCORDANCE WITH RULE 903 OR 904 OF REGULATION S UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT, (3) PURSUANT TO AN EXEMPTION FROM REGISTRATION PROVIDED BY RULE 144 UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT (IF AVAILABLE) OR (4) TO THE ISSUER OR ITS AFFILIATES.

- (iv) if it is acquiring any Notes for the account of one or more QIBs the purchaser represents that it has sole investment discretion with respect to each such account and that it has full power to make the foregoing acknowledgements, representations and agreements on behalf of each such account; and
- (v) the purchaser understands that the Issuer, the Principal Paying Agent, the Registrar, the Dealers and their affiliates, and others will rely upon the truth and accuracy of the foregoing acknowledgements, representations and agreements.

Upon the transfer, exchange or replacement of a Restricted Global Note Certificate or a Restricted Individual Note Certificate, or upon specific request for removal of the legend, the Issuer will deliver only a Restricted Global Note Certificate or one or more Restricted Individual Note Certificates that bear such legend or will refuse to remove such legend, unless there is delivered to the Issuer and the Registrar such satisfactory evidence (which may include a legal opinion) as may reasonably be required by the Issuer that neither the legend nor the restrictions on transfer set forth therein are required to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Securities Act.

Any interest in a Restricted Global Note Certificate that is transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of an interest in an Unrestricted Global Note Certificate will, upon transfer, cease to be an interest in a Restricted Global Note Certificate and become an interest in an Unrestricted Global Note Certificate and, accordingly, will thereafter be subject to all transfer restrictions and other procedures applicable to an interest in an Unrestricted Global Note Certificate.

Prospective purchasers that are QIBs are hereby notified that sellers of the Restricted Notes may be relying on the exemption from the provisions of Section 5 of the Securities Act provided by Rule 144A.

PRC CURRENCY CONTROLS

The following is a general description of certain currency controls in the PRC and is based on the law and relevant interpretations thereof in effect as at the date of this Offering Circular, all of which are subject to change, and does not constitute legal advice. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all applicable currency controls in the PRC relating to the Notes. Prospective holders of Notes who are in any doubt as to PRC currency controls are advised to consult their own professional advisers.

Renminbi is not a freely convertible currency. The remittance of Renminbi into and outside the PRC is subject to control imposed under PRC law.

Current Account Items

Under the applicable PRC foreign exchange control regulations, current account items refer to any transaction for international receipts and payments involving goods, services, earnings and other frequent transfers.

Since July 2009, the PRC commenced a pilot scheme pursuant to which Renminbi may be used for settlement of imports and exports of goods between approved pilot enterprises in five designated cities in the PRC including Shanghai, Guangzhou, Dongguan, Shenzhen and Zhuhai and enterprises in designated offshore jurisdictions including Hong Kong and Macau and Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASZAN). On 17 June 2010, the PRC Government promulgated the Circular on Issues concerning the Expansion of the Scope of the Pilot Programme of Renminbi Settlement of Cross-Border Trades (Yin Fa (2010) No. 186) (關於擴大跨境貿易人民幣結算試點有關問題的通知(銀發[2010]186號)) (the “Circular 186”), pursuant to which (i) Renminbi settlement of imports and exports of goods and of services and other current account items became permissible, (ii) the list of designated pilot districts were expanded to cover 20 provinces and cities, and (iii) the restriction on designated offshore districts has been lifted. Accordingly, any enterprises in the designated pilot districts and offshore enterprises are entitled to use Renminbi to settle imports of goods and services and other current account items between them. Renminbi remittance for exports of goods from the PRC may only be effected by approved pilot enterprises in designated pilot districts in the PRC. In August 2011, the PRC government further expanded Renminbi cross-border trade settlement nationwide.

On 5 July 2013, PBOC issued the Circular on the Simplification of Renminbi Cross-border Business Processes and the Improvement of Relevant Policies (Yin Fa [2013] No. 168) (關於簡化跨境人民幣業務流程和完善有關政策的通知(銀發[2013]168號)) (the “Circular 168”), pursuant to which on the basis of three principles of “know your customer”, “know your business”, and “due diligence”, domestic banks can directly handle the cross-border settlement by virtue of business vouchers provided by enterprises (except for enterprises on the key regulatory list of regulating Renminbi cross-border settlement in export goods trade) or Receipt/Payment Instructions on Renminbi Cross-border Settlement.

On 6 December 2013, SAFE promulgated the Notice of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Issues concerning Improving the Foreign Exchange Administration of Trade Financing Business of Banks (國家外匯管理局關於完善銀行貿易融資業務外匯管理有關問題的通知) (“Circular 44”), which aims to strengthen banks’ review and examination of legal compliance in trade financing as well as the systematic management of foreign exchange receipts by enterprises.

The enforcement and application of Circular 186, Circular 168 and Circular 44 will be subject to interpretation and application by the relevant PRC authorities. Local authorities may adopt different practices in applying Circular 186, Circular 168 and Circular 44 and impose conditions for settlement of current account items.

Capital Account Items

Under the applicable PRC foreign exchange control regulations, capital account items include cross-border transfers of capital, direct investments, securities investments, derivative products and loans. Capital account payments are generally subject to approval of the relevant PRC authorities.

Settlements for capital account items are generally required to be made in foreign currencies. For instance, foreign investors (including any Hong Kong investors) are required to make any capital contribution to foreign-invested enterprises in a foreign currency in accordance with the terms set out in the relevant joint venture contracts and/or articles of association as filed with or approved by the relevant authorities. Foreign-invested enterprises or relevant PRC parties are also generally required to make capital item payments including proceeds from liquidation, transfer of shares, reduction of capital, interest and principal repayment to foreign investors in a foreign currency.

On 7 April 2011, SAFE promulgated the Circular on Issues Concerning the Cross-Border RMB Capital Account Business Operation (關於規範跨境人民幣資本項目業務操作有關問題的通知) (“SAFE Circular 38”), which became effective on 1 May 2011. According to the SAFE Circular 38, in the event that foreign investors intend to use cross-border Renminbi (including offshore Renminbi and onshore Renminbi held in the Renminbi accounts of non-PRC residents) to make contribution to an onshore enterprise or make payment for the transfer of equity interest of a domestic residence of PRC, such onshore enterprise shall be required to submit the relevant commerce administrative authority’s prior approval which shall clearly indicate such Renminbi transaction to the relevant local branches of SAFE of such onshore enterprise and register for a foreign invested enterprise status. Further, the SAFE Circular 38 clarifies that the foreign debts borrowed, and the guarantee provided, by an onshore entity (including a financial institution) in Renminbi shall, in principle, be regulated under the current PRC foreign debt and guarantee regime. That said, the relevant PRC authorities may grant approval for a foreign entity to make a capital contribution or a shareholder’s loan to a foreign-invested enterprise with Renminbi lawfully obtained by it outside the PRC and for the foreign invested enterprise to service interest and principal repayment to its foreign investor outside the PRC in Renminbi on a trial basis. The foreign-invested enterprise may be required to complete registration and verification process with the relevant PRC authorities before such Renminbi remittances.

The Circular on Issues relating to Cross-border Direct Investments in Renminbi (關於跨境人民幣直接投資有關問題的通知) (“MOFCOM RMB FDI”) promulgated by MOFCOM on 12 October 2011 has been abolished and replaced by Announcement of the Ministry of Commerce on Issues relating to Cross-border Renminbi Direct Investment (商務部關於跨境人民幣直接投資有關問題的公告) (“Circular 87”) promulgated on 3 December 2013 and taken effect from 1 January 2014. Circular 87 releases some of the restrictions under MOFCOM RMB FDI Circular, stipulating that where a foreign investor applies for changing the original capital contribution currency from foreign currency to RMB, the examination and approval of the amendment of contracts and articles of association is not required.

On 13 October 2011, PBOC promulgated the Administration Measures for the Settlement of Foreign Direct Investment in RMB (外商直接投資人民幣結算業務管理辦法) (“PBOC RMB FDI Measures”), which was amended on 5 June 2015. Pursuant to the PBOC RMB FDI Measures, PBOC special approval for RMB FDI and shareholder loans which was previously required is no longer necessary. The PBOC RMB FDI Measures provide that, among others, foreign invested enterprises are required to conduct registrations with the local branch of PBOC within ten working days after obtaining the business licences for the purpose of Renminbi settlement, a foreign investor is allowed to open a Renminbi expense account to reimburse some expenses before the establishment of a foreign-invested enterprise and the balance in such an account can be transferred to the Renminbi capital account of such foreign-invested enterprise when it is established, commercial banks can remit a foreign investor’s Renminbi proceeds from distribution (dividends or otherwise) by its PRC subsidiaries out of the PRC after reviewing certain requisite documents, if a foreign investor intends to use its Renminbi proceeds from distribution (dividends or otherwise) by its PRC subsidiaries, the foreign investor may open a Renminbi re-investment account to pool the Renminbi proceeds, and the PRC parties selling stake in domestic enterprises to foreign investors can open Renminbi accounts and receive the purchase price in Renminbi paid by foreign investors. The PBOC RMB FDI Measures also state that the foreign debt quota of a foreign-invested enterprise includes its Renminbi debt and foreign currency debt from its offshore shareholders, offshore affiliates and offshore financial institutions, and a foreign invested enterprise may open a Renminbi account to receive its Renminbi proceeds borrowed offshore by submitting the Renminbi loan contract to the commercial bank and make repayments of principal of and interest on such debt in Renminbi by submitting certain documents as required to the commercial bank.

On 14 June 2012, the PBOC issued the Circular on Firming up the Detailed Operation Rules of RMB Settlement in Direct Foreign Investment (Yin Fa [2012] No. 165) (關於明確外商直接投資人民幣結算業務操作細則的通知(銀發[2012]165號)), which was amended on 5 June 2015, pursuant to which, subject to the administrative provisions on bank settlement accounts, foreign investors should open an Renminbi basic deposit account, an Renminbi special deposit account and an Renminbi general deposit account of overseas institutions. Foreign-invested enterprises that are engaged in direct Renminbi investment business activities should choose a settlement bank as its main reporting bank to register its enterprise information and submit modified information to the branch office of PBOC in the location where they registered through the Renminbi cross-border receipt and payment information management system.

On 19 November 2012, SAFE issued the Circular on Further Improvement and Adjustment of the Policies for Foreign Exchange Administration relating to Direct Investment (關於進一步改進和調整直接投資外匯管理政策的通知) (“Circular 59”), as amended on 4 May 2015, 10 October 2018 and 30 December 2019, which simplified many of the registration and verification processes required to be undertaken in relation to Renminbi remittances involving a foreign-invested enterprise and now has been replaced by SAFE Circular 13 (as defined below) in terms of foreign exchange registration for foreign direct investment.

On 11 May 2013, SAFE promulgated the Notice of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Promulgation of the Regulations on the Foreign Exchange Administration of Foreign Direct Investments in PRC together with the Supporting Documents thereof (國家外匯管理局關於印發《外國投資者境內直接投資外匯管理規定》及配套文件的通知) (“Circular 21”), as amended on 10 October 2018 and 30 December 2019, in order to further clarify the current foreign exchange regulations over foreign direct investment, which now has been replaced by SAFE Circular 13 (as defined below) in terms of foreign exchange registration for foreign direct investment.

On 23 June 2010, SAFE promulgated the Notice of the Adjustment to the Approval Authority on Certain Capital Items for Foreign Exchange Business (關於調整部份資本項目外匯業務審批許可權的通知), which delegates additional approval authority to the local branches of SAFE.

Pursuant to Circular 168, domestic non-financial institutions may apply to the domestic bank for the Renminbi offshore lending settlement business. The domestic agent bank extends the Renminbi account financing maturity of overseas participating banks to one year and the financing ratio of the account shall not exceed 3% of the balance of various Renminbi deposits of this domestic agent bank at the end of last year. Fund remittance and transfer may be carried out between the Renminbi interbank current account opened by the overseas participating bank in the domestic agent bank and the Renminbi account opened by the overseas participating bank in the offshore clearing bank for Renminbi business due to the need of settlement. Fund remittance and transfer may be carried out among Renminbi clearing accounts opened by various offshore clearing banks for Renminbi business in the territory of the PRC due to the need of settlement.

On 10 January 2014, SAFE issued the Notice of Further Improvement and Upgrade of Foreign Exchange Management Policy on Capital Account Items (國家外匯管理局關於進一步改進和調整資本項目外匯管理政策的通知), which further relaxed restrictions upon offshore lending activities of domestic enterprises and simplifies the administration process for the overseas remittance of profits generated by domestic institutions.

The Notice on Administration over Payment and Settlement of Foreign Exchange Capital of Foreign-Invested Enterprises (國家外匯管理局關於改革外商投資企業外匯資本金結匯管理方式的通知) (“Circular 19”) promulgated by SAFE on 30 March 2015 and became effective on 1 June 2015 and amended on 30 December 2019 in terms of payment and settlement of foreign exchange capital by foreign-invested companies. Circular 19 further simplifies the procedures of and delegates to the banks to deal with the settlement of the foreign exchange capital of foreign-invested companies.

On 13 February 2015, SAFE promulgated the Notice on Further Simplification and Improvement of Foreign Exchange Management Policy on Foreign Director Investment (國家外匯管理局關於進一步簡化和改進直接投資外匯管理政策的通知) (“SAFE Circular 13”), which was amended on 30 December 2019. The SAFE Circular 13 further relaxed restrictions upon foreign exchange registration under foreign direct investment and simplified the administration process for the investment and currency exchange into PRC under foreign direct investment by cancelling certain approval requirements and delegating certain authority to the banks.

On 9 June 2016, SAFE promulgated the Circular on the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Policies for Reforming and Regulating the Control over Foreign Exchange Settlement under the Capital Account (國家外匯管理局關於改革和規範資本項目結匯管理政策的通知) (“SAFE Circular 16”), which further removed certain restrictions previously provided under several SAFE circulars, in respect of conversion by a foreign invested enterprise of foreign currency registered capital into RMB and use of such RMB capital.

On 12 January 2017, PBOC promulgated the Notice on Full-Coverage Macro-prudent Management of Cross-border Financing (Yin Fa [2017] No. 9) (中國人民銀行關於全口徑跨境融資宏觀審慎管理有關事宜的通知(銀發[2017]9號)) (“Notice 9”). As at the date of the promulgation of the Notice 9, a transition period of one year is set for foreign-invested enterprises and foreign financial institutions and during such transition period, foreign-invested enterprises and foreign financial institutions may apply either the current cross-border financing management mode or the mode in Notice 9 at its sole discretion. After the end of the transition period, foreign financial institutions shall automatically apply the mode in Notice 9, and the cross-border financing management mode for foreign-invested enterprises will be determined by the PBOC and SAFE after assessment based on the overall implementation of Notice 9.

On 26 January 2017, SAFE issued the Notice on Further Promoting Foreign Exchange Management Revolution and Improving the Examination of Authenticity and Compliance (國家外匯管理局關於進一步推進外匯管理改革完善真實合規性審核的通知) (“Circular 3”). Circular 3 expanded the scope of settlement of exchange for domestic loans in foreign currencies, and allowed the overseas loans under domestic guarantee to be transmitted into the territory of the PRC by way of loan, equity investment or other methods. In addition, Circular 3 further emphasized the examination of authenticity and compliance of outbound direct investment.

On 25 October 2019, the SAFE promulgated the Notice for Further Advancing the Facilitation of Cross-border Trade and Investment (關於進一步促進跨境貿易投資便利化的通知) (“Circular 28”), which, among other things, allows all foreign-invested companies to use Renminbi converted from foreign currency-denominated capital for equity investments in China, as long as the equity investment is genuine, does not violate applicable laws, and complies with the negative list on foreign investment.

As new regulations, the above regulations will be subject to interpretation and application by the relevant PRC authorities. Further, if any new PRC regulations are promulgated in the future which have the effect of permitting or restricting (as the case may be) the remittance of Renminbi for payment of transactions categorised as capital account items, then such remittances will need to be made subject to the specific requirements or restrictions set out in such rules.

SUBSCRIPTION AND SALE

Summary of Dealer Agreement

The Dealers have, in an amended and restated dealer agreement (the “Dealer Agreement”) dated 24 April 2015 (with an amendment to the Dealer Agreement dated 1 April 2019 and another amendment to the Dealer Agreement dated 25 May 2020), agreed with the Issuer a basis upon which they or any of them may from time to time agree to severally, and not jointly, subscribe Notes. Any such agreement will extend to those matters stated under “Form of the Notes” and “Terms and Conditions of the Notes”. The Issuer will pay each relevant Dealer a commission as agreed between them in respect of Notes subscribed by it. Where the Issuer agrees to sell to the Dealer(s), who agree to subscribe and pay for, or to procure subscribers to subscribe and pay for, Notes at an issue price (the “Issue Price”), any subsequent offering of those Notes to investors may be at a price different from such Issue Price. The Issuer has agreed to reimburse the Arrangers certain of their expenses incurred in connection with the establishment, and any future update, of the Programme and the Dealers certain of their expenses incurred in connection with the Programme. The commissions in respect of an issue of Notes on a syndicated basis may be stated in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

The Issuer has agreed to indemnify the Dealers against certain liabilities in connection with the offer and sale of the Notes. The Dealer Agreement entitles the Dealers to terminate any agreement that they make to subscribe Notes in certain circumstances prior to payment for such Notes being made to the Issuer.

In connection with the issue of any Series of Notes, the Dealer(s) (if any) named as the stabilising manager(s) (the “Stabilising Manager(s)”) (or persons acting on behalf of any Stabilising Manager(s)) in the applicable Pricing Supplement may, to the extent permitted by applicable laws and rules, over-allot the Notes or effect transactions with a view to supporting the market price of the Notes at a level higher than that which might otherwise prevail. However, there is no assurance that the Stabilising Manager(s) (or persons acting on behalf of a Stabilising Manager) will undertake stabilisation action. Any stabilisation action may begin on or after the date on which adequate public disclosure of the terms of the offer of the relevant Series of Notes is made and, if begun, may be ended at any time, but it must end no later than the earlier of 30 days after the issue date of the relevant Series of Notes and 60 days after the date of the allotment of the relevant Series of Notes.

In connection with each Series of Notes issued under the Programme, the Dealers or certain of their affiliates may purchase Notes and be allocated Notes for asset management and/or proprietary purposes but not with a view to distribution. Further, the Dealers or their respective affiliates may purchase Notes for its or their own account and enter into transactions, including credit derivatives, such as asset swaps, repackaging and credit default swaps relating to such Notes and/or other securities of the Issuer or their respective subsidiaries or affiliates at the same time as the offer and sale of each Series of Notes or in secondary market transactions. Such transactions would be carried out as bilateral trades with selected counterparties and separately from any existing sale or resale of the Series of Notes to which a particular Pricing Supplement relates (notwithstanding that such selected counterparties may also be purchasers of such Series of Notes).

The Dealers and their affiliates are full service financial institutions engaged in various activities which may include securities trading, commercial and investment banking, financial advice, investment management, principal investment, hedging, financing and brokerage activities. Each of the Dealers may have engaged in, and may in the future engage in, investment banking and other commercial dealings in the ordinary course of business with the Issuer or its subsidiaries, jointly controlled entities or associated companies from time to time. In the ordinary course of their various business activities, the Dealers and their affiliates may make or hold (on their own account, on behalf of clients or in their capacity of investment advisers) a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers and may at any time hold long and short positions in such securities and instruments and enter into other transactions, including credit derivatives (such as asset swaps, repackaging and credit default swaps) in relation thereto. Such transactions, investments and securities activities may involve securities and instruments of the Issuer or its subsidiaries, jointly controlled entities or associated companies, including Notes issued under the Programme, may be entered into at the same time or proximate to offers and sales of Notes or at other times in the secondary market and be carried out with counterparties that are also purchasers, holders or sellers of Notes.

Selling Restrictions

United States of America

Each Dealer has acknowledged, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to acknowledge, that the Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act and may not be offered or sold within the United States or for the account or benefit of any U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S) except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

Dealer's compliance with United States securities laws

In relation to each Tranche of Notes:

- (a) Offers/sales only in accordance with Regulation S: Each Dealer has represented, warranted and undertaken, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent, warrant and undertake to the Issuer that it has offered and sold the Notes, and will offer and sell the Notes:

- (i) as part of their distribution, at any time; and
- (ii) otherwise, until 40 days after the issue date in respect of the relevant Notes (the period described herein as “distribution compliance period”), only in accordance with Rule 903 of Regulation S under the Securities Act and, accordingly, that:

- (A) neither it nor any of its affiliates (including any person acting on behalf of such Dealer or any of its affiliates) has engaged or will engage in any directed selling efforts with respect to the Notes; and
- (B) it and its affiliates have complied and will comply with the offering restrictions requirement of Regulation S under the Securities Act; and
- (b) Prescribed form of confirmation: Each Dealer has undertaken, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to undertake to the Issuer that, at or prior to confirmation of sale, it will have sent to each distributor, dealer or person receiving a selling concession, fee or other remuneration which purchases Notes from it during the distribution compliance period a confirmation or notice in substantially the following form:

“The Securities covered hereby have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933 (the “Securities Act”) and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons, (a) as part of their distribution at any time or (b) otherwise until 40 days after the completion of the distribution of the Tranche of Notes of which such Notes are a part, as determined by [Name of Dealer or Dealers, as the case may be], except in either case pursuant to a valid exemption from registration in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act. Terms used above have the meanings given to them by Regulation S”;

- (c) Completion of distribution: Each Dealer which has purchased Notes of such Tranche in accordance with the related subscription agreement, shall determine and certify to the Principal Paying Agent or the Issuer the completion of the distribution of the Notes of such Tranche purchased by it. In the case of a subscription agreement between the Issuer and more than one Dealer, the Principal Paying Agent or the Issuer shall notify each relevant Dealer when all relevant Dealers have certified as provided in this paragraph. In order to facilitate compliance by each Dealer with the foregoing, the Issuer undertakes that, prior to such certification with respect to such Tranche, it will notify each Dealer in writing of each acceptance by the Issuer of an offer to purchase and of any issuance of, Notes or other debt obligations of the Issuer which are denominated in the same currency or composite currency and which have substantially the same interest rate and maturity date as the Notes of such Tranche;
- (d) Placing of Restricted Registered Notes: Each Dealer may directly or through their respective affiliates arrange for the placing of Restricted Notes in the United States to qualified institutional buyers (as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act) pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act and in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, provided that each person to whom Restricted Notes are offered or sold is, or such Dealer reasonably believes each such person to be, a qualified institutional buyer purchasing for its own account or for the account of a qualified institutional buyer and provided further that the aggregate principal amount of Restricted Notes sold by such Dealer to each Qualified Institutional Buyer pursuant to this paragraph is not less than US$200,000 (or its equivalent in other currencies). In addition, the affiliate through which the mandated Dealer arranges for the placing of Restricted Notes in the United States or (as the case may be) such other Dealer or its affiliate shall be a U.S. broker-dealer that is registered under the Exchange Act; and
- (e) No Solicitation: Each Dealer has represented, warranted and undertaken to the Issuer that neither it nor any of its affiliates (including any person acting on behalf of such Dealer or any of its affiliates) has solicited or will solicit any offer to buy or offer to sell the Notes by any form of general solicitation or general advertising (as those terms are used in Rule 502(c) under the Securities Act) in the United States.

Dealers' compliance with the United States tax laws

Where the relevant Pricing Supplement for Bearer Notes specifies that the D Rules are applicable, the Bearer Notes will be issued in accordance with the provisions of the D Rules. Where the relevant Pricing Supplement for Bearer Notes specifies that the C Rules are applicable, the Bearer Notes will be issued in accordance with the provisions of C Rules. Where the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies that neither the C Rules or D Rules are applicable, the Notes will not be issued in accordance with the provisions of either the D Rules or the C Rules.

The D Rules

Where the D Rules are specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being applicable in relation to any Series of Notes, each Dealer has represented, warranted and undertaken, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent, warrant and undertake to the Issuer that:

- (a) Restrictions on offers etc.: Except to the extent permitted under the D Rules:
 - (i) No offers etc. to United States or United States persons: It has not offered or sold, and during the restricted period will not offer or sell, any Notes to a person who is within the United States or its possessions or to a United States person; and
 - (ii) No delivery of Definitive Notes in the United States: It has not delivered and will not deliver in definitive form within the United States or its possessions any Notes sold during the restricted period,

- (b) Internal compliance procedures: It has, and throughout the restricted period will have, in effect procedures reasonably designed to ensure that its employees or agents who are directly engaged in selling Notes are aware that the Notes may not be offered or sold during the restricted period to a person who is within the United States or its possessions or to a United States person, except as permitted by the D Rules;
- (c) Additional provision if Dealer is a United States person: If it is a United States person, it is acquiring the Notes for the purposes of resale in connection with their original issuance and, if it retains Notes for its own account, it will only do so in accordance with the requirements of United States Treasury Regulation §1.163 - 5(c)(2)(i)(D)(6) or rules in substantially the same form as United States Treasury Regulation §1.163 - 5(c)(2)(i)(D)(6) for purposes of Section 4701 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code;
- (d) Affiliates: With respect to each affiliate of such Dealer that acquires Notes from such Dealer for the purpose of offering or selling such Notes during the restricted period, such Dealer has undertaken, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to undertake to the Issuer that it will obtain from such affiliate for the benefit of the Issuer the representations, warranties and undertakings contained in paragraph (a) (Restrictions on offers, etc.), paragraph (b) (Internal procedures) paragraph (c) (Additional provision if Dealer is a United States person) and paragraph (d) (Affiliates); and
- (e) Contracts: With respect to each person, other than the Dealer's affiliate, with whom such Dealer enters into a written contract, as defined in United States Treasury Regulation §1.163 - 5(c)(2)(i)(D)(4) or any successor regulation in substantially the same form, such Dealer has undertaken, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to undertake to the Issuer that it will obtain from such person for the benefit of the Issuer the representations, warranties and undertakings contained in paragraph (a) (Restrictions on offers, etc.), paragraph (b) (Internal procedures) and paragraph (c) (Additional provision if United States person).

Notes issued pursuant to the D Rules and any Coupons and Talons appertaining thereto will bear the following legend:

“ANY UNITED STATES PERSON WHO HOLDS THIS OBLIGATION WILL BE SUBJECT TO LIMITATIONS UNDER THE UNITED STATES INCOME TAX LAWS, INCLUDING THE LIMITATION PROVIDED IN SECTIONS 165(j) AND 1287(a) OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE.”

The C Rules

Where the C Rules are specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being applicable in relation to any Series of Notes, the Notes must, in accordance with their original issuance, be issued and delivered outside the United States and its possessions and, accordingly, each Dealer has represented, warranted and undertaken, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent, warrant and undertake to Issuer that, in connection with the original issuance of the Notes:

- (a) No offers etc. in United States: It has not offered, sold or delivered, and will not offer, sell or deliver, directly or indirectly, any Notes within the United States or its possessions; and
- (b) No communications with United States: It has not communicated, and will not communicate, directly or indirectly, with a prospective purchaser if such Dealer or such prospective purchaser is within the United States or its possessions and will not otherwise involve the United States office of such Dealer in the offer and sale of Notes.

Interpretation

Terms used in the paragraph “Dealers’ compliance with United States securities laws” have the meanings given to them by Regulation S under the Securities Act. Terms used in the paragraphs “The D Rules” and “The C Rules” have the meanings given to them by the United States Internal Revenue Code and regulations thereunder, including the C Rules and the D Rules.

Index- or currency-linked Notes

Each issuance of index- or currency-linked Notes shall be subject to additional U.S. selling restrictions as the relevant Dealer(s) shall agree as a term of the issuance and purchase of such Notes. Each Dealer has agreed and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to agree that it shall offer, sell and deliver such Notes only in compliance with such additional U.S. selling restrictions.

Prohibition of Sales to EEA and UK Retail Investors

Unless the Pricing Supplement in respect of any Notes specifies “Prohibition of Sales to EEA and UK Retail Investors” as “Not Applicable”, each Dealer (severally, and not jointly) has represented, warranted and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent, warrant and agree, that it has not offered, sold or otherwise made available and will not offer, sell or otherwise make available any Notes which are the subject of the offering contemplated by the Offering Circular as completed by the Pricing Supplement in relation thereto to any retail investor in the EEA and the UK. For the purposes of this provision:

- (a) the expression “retail investor” means a person who is one (or more) of the following:
 - (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or
 - (ii) a customer within the meaning of the Insurance Distribution Directive, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or
 - (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Regulation; and
- (b) the expression “offer” includes the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the Notes to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe for the Notes.

Prospectus Regulation public offer selling restriction

If the Pricing Supplement in respect of any Notes specifies the “Prohibition of Sales to EEA and UK Retail Investors” as “Not Applicable”, in relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area and the United Kingdom (each, a “Relevant State”), each Dealer (severally, and not jointly) has represented, warranted and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent, warrant and agree, that it has not made and will not make an offer of Notes which are the subject of the offering contemplated by the Offering Circular as completed by the Pricing Supplement in relation thereto to the public in that Relevant State, except that it may make an offer of such Notes to the public in that Relevant State:

- (a) Qualified investors: at any time to any legal entity which is a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Regulation;
- (b) Fewer than 150 offerees: at any time to fewer than 150 natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Regulation) subject to obtaining the prior consent of the relevant Dealer or Dealers nominated by the Issuer for any such offer; or

- (c) Other exempt offers: at any time in any other circumstances falling within Article 1(4) of the Prospectus Regulation.

provided that no such offer of Notes referred to in (a) to (c) above shall require the Issuer or any Dealer to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the Prospectus Regulation.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression an “offer of Notes to the public” in relation to any Notes in any Relevant State means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the Notes to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe for the Notes and the expression Prospectus Regulation means Regulation (EU) 2017/1129.

Selling Restrictions addressing additional United Kingdom securities laws

Each Dealer has represented, warranted and agreed and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent, warrant and agree that:

- (a) No deposit-taking: In relation to any Notes having a maturity of less than one year:
- (i) it is a person whose ordinary activities involve it in acquiring, holding, managing or disposing of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of its business; and
 - (ii) it has not offered or sold and will not offer or sell any Notes other than to persons:
 - (A) whose ordinary activities involve them in acquiring, holding, managing or disposing of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of their businesses; or
 - (B) who it is reasonable to expect will acquire, hold, manage or dispose of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of their businesses,where the issue of the Notes would otherwise constitute a contravention of Section 19 of the FSMA by the Issuer.
- (b) Financial promotion: It has only communicated or caused to be communicated and will only communicate or cause to be communicated any invitation or inducement to engage in investment activity (within the meaning of section 21 of the FSMA) received by it in connection with the issue or sale of any Notes in circumstances in which section 21(1) of the FSMA does not, if it was not an authorised person, apply to the Issuer.
- (c) General compliance: It has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the FSMA with respect to anything done by it in relation to any Notes in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom.

PRC

Each Dealer has represented and agreed and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent and agree, that neither it nor any of its affiliates has offered or sold or will offer or sell any of the Notes in the PRC (excluding Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan) as part of the initial distribution of the Notes.

Hong Kong

In relation to each Series of Notes to be issued by the Issuer under the Programme, each Dealer has represented and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent and agree, that:

- (a) it has not offered or sold and will not offer or sell in Hong Kong, by means of any document, any Notes, except for Notes which are a “structured product” as defined in the SFO, other than (i) to “professional investors” as defined in the SFO and any rules made under the SFO; or (ii) in other circumstances which do not result in the document being a “prospectus” as defined in the Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) Ordinance (Cap. 32) of Hong Kong (the “Companies Ordinance”) or which do not constitute an offer to the public within the meaning of the Companies Ordinance; and
- (b) it has not issued or had in its possession for the purposes of issue, and will not issue or have in its possession for the purposes of issue, whether in Hong Kong or elsewhere, any advertisement, invitation or document relating to the Notes, which is directed at, or the contents of which are likely to be accessed or read by, the public of Hong Kong (except if permitted to do so under the securities laws of Hong Kong) other than with respect to Notes which are or are intended to be disposed of only to persons outside Hong Kong or only to “professional investors” as defined in the SFO and any rules made under the SFO.

Japan

The Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act of Japan (Act no. 25 of 1948, as amended) (the “Financial Instruments and Exchange Act”). Accordingly, each of the Dealers has represented and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent and agree, that it has not, directly or indirectly, offered or sold and will not, directly or indirectly, offer or sell any Notes in Japan or to, or for the benefit of, any resident of Japan (which term as used herein means any person resident in Japan, including any corporation or other entity organised under the laws of Japan) or to others for reoffering or resale, directly or indirectly, in Japan or to, or for the benefit of, any resident of Japan except pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of, and otherwise in compliance with, the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act and any other relevant laws and regulations of Japan.

Singapore

This Offering Circular has not been registered as a prospectus in Singapore with the Monetary Authority of Singapore. Accordingly, this Offering Circular and any other document or material in connection with the offer or sale, or invitation for subscription or purchase, of the Notes may not be circulated or distributed, nor may the Notes be offered or sold, or be made the subject of an invitation for subscription or purchase, whether directly or indirectly, to persons in Singapore other than (i) to an institutional investor (as defined in Section 4A of the SFA) pursuant to Section 274 of the SFA, (ii) to a relevant person (as defined in Section 275(2) of the SFA) pursuant to Section 275(1), or any person pursuant to Section 275(1A) of the SFA, and in accordance with the conditions specified in Section 275, of the SFA or (iii) otherwise pursuant to, and in accordance with the conditions of, any other applicable provision of the SFA.

Where the Notes are subscribed or purchased under section 275 of the SFA by a relevant person which is:

- (a) a corporation (which is not an accredited investor (as defined in Section 4A of the SFA)) the sole business of which is to hold investments and the entire share capital of which is owned by one or more individuals, each of whom is an accredited investor; or
- (b) a trust (where the trustee is not an accredited investor) whose sole purpose is to hold investments and each beneficiary of the trust is an individual who is an accredited investor, the securities or securities-based derivatives contracts (each as defined in Section 2(1) of the SFA) of that corporation or the beneficiaries' rights and interest (howsoever described) in that trust shall not be transferred within six months after that corporation or that trust has acquired the Notes pursuant to an offer made under Section 275 of the SFA except:

- (1) to an institutional investor or to a relevant person as defined in the SFA, or to any person arising from an offer referred to in Section 275(1A) or Section 276(4)(i)(B) of the SFA;
- (2) where no consideration is or will be given for the transfer;
- (3) where the transfer is by operation of law;
- (4) as specified in section 276(7) of the SFA; or
- (5) as specified in Regulation 37A of the Securities and Futures (Offers of Investments) (Securities and Securities-based Derivatives Contracts) Regulations 2018 of Singapore.

The Netherlands

Each Dealer has represented and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent and agree, that it will not make an offer of Notes which are the subject of the offering contemplated by this Offering Circular, as completed by the Pricing Supplement in relation thereto, to the public in the Netherlands, unless such offer is made exclusively to persons or legal entities which are qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Regulation, and provided that no such offer of Notes shall require the Issuer or any Dealer to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Regulation or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the Prospectus Regulation.

For the purposes of the above provision, the expressions (i) an "offer of Notes to the public" in relation to any Notes in the Netherlands and (ii) "Prospectus Regulation" have the meaning given to them above in the paragraph headed with "Prohibition of Sales to EEA and UK Retail Investors".

Cayman Islands

No invitation whether directly or indirectly may be made to the public in the Cayman Islands to subscribe for the Notes unless the Issuer is listed on the Cayman Islands Stock Exchange.

Canada

Resale Restrictions

The distribution of the Notes in Canada is being made only in the provinces of Ontario, Quebec, Alberta and British Columbia on a private placement basis exempt from the requirement that the Issuer prepares and files a prospectus with the securities regulatory authorities in each province where trades of the Notes are made. Any resale of the Notes in Canada must be made under applicable securities laws which may vary depending on the relevant jurisdiction, and which may require resales to be made under available statutory exemptions or under a discretionary exemption granted by the applicable Canadian securities regulatory authority. Purchasers are advised to seek legal advice prior to any resale of the securities.

Representations of Canadian Purchasers

By purchasing the Notes in Canada and accepting delivery of a purchase confirmation, a purchaser is representing to the Issuer and the dealer from whom the purchase confirmation is received that:

- the purchaser is entitled under applicable provincial securities laws to purchase the Notes without the benefit of a prospectus qualified under those securities laws as it is an “accredited investor” as defined under National Instrument 45-106 — Prospectus Exemptions;
- the purchaser is a “permitted client” as defined in National Instrument 31-103 — Registration Requirements, Exemptions and Ongoing Registrant Obligations;
- where required by law, the purchaser is purchasing as principal and not as agent; and
- the purchaser has reviewed the text above under “Resale Restrictions”.

Conflicts of Interest

Canadian purchasers are hereby notified that the Dealers are and the further Dealers appointed under the Programme will be relying on the exemption set out in section 3A.3 or 3A.4, if applicable, of National Instrument 33-105 — Underwriting Conflicts from having to provide certain conflict of interest disclosure in this prospectus.

Statutory Rights of Action

Securities legislation in certain provinces or territories of Canada may provide a purchaser with remedies for rescission or damages if the offering documents (including any amendment thereto) such as this Offering Circular contains a misrepresentation, provided that the remedies for rescission or damages are exercised by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of the purchaser’s province or territory. The purchaser of these securities in Canada should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser’s province or territory for particulars of these rights or consult with a legal adviser.

Enforcement of Legal Rights

All of the Issuer’s directors and officers as well as the experts named herein and the Issuer may be located outside of Canada and, as a result, it may not be possible for Canadian purchasers to effect service of process within Canada upon the Issuer or those persons. All or a substantial portion of the Issuer’s assets and the assets of those persons may be located outside of Canada and, as a result, it may not be possible to satisfy a judgment against the Issuer or those persons in Canada or to enforce a judgment obtained in Canadian courts against the Issuer or those persons outside of Canada.

Taxation and Eligibility for Investment

Canadian purchasers of the Notes should consult their own legal and tax advisers with respect to the tax consequences of an investment in the Notes in their particular circumstances and about the eligibility of the Notes for investment by the purchaser under relevant Canadian legislation.

General

If a jurisdiction requires that an offering be made by a licensed broker or dealer and the Dealers or any affiliate of the Dealers is a licensed broker or dealer in that jurisdiction, such offering shall be deemed to be made by the Dealers or such affiliate on behalf of the Issuer in such jurisdiction.

These selling restrictions may be modified by the agreement of each of the Issuer and the Dealer following a change in a relevant law, regulation or directive. Any such modification will be set out in the relevant Pricing Supplement issued in respect of the issue of Notes to which it relates or in a supplement to this Offering Circular.

GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Listing

The Programme is listed on the SEHK by way of debt issues to Professional Investors only during the 12-month period from the date of the Offering Circular. The issue price of Notes listed on the SEHK will be expressed as a percentage of their nominal amount. Transactions will normally be effected for settlement in the relevant specified currency and for delivery by the end of the second trading day after the date of the transaction. It is expected that dealings will, if permission is granted to deal in and for the listing of such Notes, commence on or about the next business day following the date of listing of the relevant Notes. Notes to be listed on the SEHK are required to be traded with a board lot size of at least HK$500,000 (or equivalent in other currencies).

2. Authorisation

The establishment of the Programme and the issue of the Notes thereunder were authorised by resolutions of the board of directors of the Issuer passed on 28 March 2014, 21 April 2015 and 21 March 2018. The Issuer has obtained or will obtain from time to time all necessary consents, approvals and authorisations in connection with the issue and performance of the Notes.

3. Auditor

The Issuer's audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, which are included elsewhere in this Offering Circular, have been audited by PricewaterhouseCoopers, Certified Public Accountants, the independent auditor of the Issuer, as stated in its reports appearing herein. The Issuer's unaudited consolidated financial statements as at and for the three months ended 31 March 2020, which are included elsewhere in this Offering Circular, have been reviewed by PricewaterhouseCoopers, Certified Public Accountants in accordance with International Standard on Review Engagements 2410, "Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity" issued by the IASB.

4. No Material Adverse Change

Save as disclosed in this Offering Circular, there has been no material adverse change in the business of the Group since 31 March 2020.

5. Documents on Display

Copies of the following documents may be inspected during normal business hours on any weekday (Saturdays and public holidays excepted) at the office of the Issuer at Tencent Binhai Tower, No. 33 Haitian 2nd Road, Nanshan District, Shenzhen, 518054, the PRC and the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent at Level 52, International Commerce Centre, 1 Austin Road West, Kowloon, Hong Kong for so long as the Notes are capable of being issued under the Programme:

- (i) the memorandum and articles of association of the Issuer;
- (ii) the audited consolidated financial statements of the Issuer for the years ended 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019;
- (iii) the unaudited consolidated financial statements of the Issuer for the three months ended 31 March 2019 and 2020;
- (iv) copies of the latest annual report and audited annual consolidated financial statements, and any consolidated interim financial statements (whether audited or unaudited) published subsequently to such audited annual financial statements, of the Issuer;

- (v) each Pricing Supplement (save that a Pricing Supplement relating to a Note which is neither admitted to trading on a regulated market within the European Economic Area and the United Kingdom nor offered in the European Economic Area or in the United Kingdom in circumstances where a prospectus is required to be published under the Prospectus Regulation will only be available for inspection by a holder of such Note and such holder must produce evidence satisfactory to the Issuer and the Principal Paying Agent as to its holding of Notes and identity);
- (vi) a copy of this Offering Circular together with any supplement to this Offering Circular;
- (vii) the amended and restated Trust Deed dated 25 May 2020 (which contain the forms of the Notes in global and definitive form);
- (viii) the amended and restated Issue and Paying Agency Agreement dated 24 April 2015;
- (ix) the amended and restated Dealer Agreement dated 24 April 2015 (with an amendment to the Dealer Agreement dated 1 April 2019); and
- (x) the Programme Manual.

6. Clearing of the Notes

The Notes have been accepted for clearance through the Euroclear and Clearstream systems (which are the entities in charge of keeping the records). We may also apply to have Notes accepted for clearance through the CMU Service. The relevant CMU instrument number will be set out in the relevant Pricing Supplement. In addition, we may make an application for any Restricted Notes or DTC Unrestricted Notes to be accepted for trading in book-entry form by DTC. Acceptance by DTC of such Notes will be confirmed in the relevant Notes. The relevant ISIN, the Common Code, the Committee on the Uniform Security Identification Procedure (“CUSIP”) number and (where applicable) the identification number for any other relevant clearing system for each series of Notes will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If the Notes are to clear through an additional or alternative clearing system the appropriate information will be set out in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

7. Cayman Islands Data Protection

The Issuer has certain duties under the Data Protection Law, 2017 of the Cayman Islands (the “DPL”) based on internationally accepted principles of data privacy.

Prospective investors should note that, by virtue of making investments in the Notes and the associated interactions with the Issuer and its affiliates and/or delegates, or by virtue of providing the Issuer with personal information on individuals connected with the investor (for example directors, trustees, employees, representatives, shareholders, investors, clients, beneficial owners or agents) such individuals will be providing the Issuer and its affiliates and/or delegates with certain personal information which constitutes personal data within the meaning of the DPL. The Issuer shall act as a data controller in respect of this personal data and its affiliates and/or delegates, may act as data processors (or data controllers in their own right in some circumstances).

By investing in the Notes, the Noteholders shall be deemed to acknowledge that they have read in detail and understood the Privacy Notice set out below and that such Privacy Notice provides an outline of their data protection rights and obligations as they relate to the investment in the Notes.

Oversight of the DPL is the responsibility of the Ombudsman’s office of the Cayman Islands. Breach of the DPL by the Issuer could lead to enforcement action by the Ombudsman, including the imposition of remediation orders, monetary penalties or referral for criminal prosecution.

Privacy Notice

Introduction

The purpose of this notice is to provide Noteholders with information on the Issuer's use of their personal data in accordance with the DPL.

In the following discussion, "Issuer" refers to the Issuer and its affiliates and/or delegates, except where the context requires otherwise.

Investor Data

By virtue of making an investment in the Issuer and a Noteholder's associated interactions with the Issuer (including any subscription (whether past, present or future), including the recording of electronic communications or phone calls where applicable) or by virtue of a Noteholder otherwise providing the Issuer with personal information on individuals connected with the Noteholder as an investor (for example directors, trustees, employees, representatives, shareholders, investors, clients, beneficial owners or agents), the Noteholder will provide the Issuer with certain personal information which constitutes personal data within the meaning of the DPL ("Investor Data"). The Issuer may also obtain Investor Data from other public sources. Investor Data includes, without limitation, the following information relating to a Noteholder and/or any individuals connected with a Noteholder as an investor: name, residential address, email address, contact details, corporate contact information, signature, nationality, place of birth, date of birth, tax identification, credit history, correspondence records, passport number, bank account details, source of funds details and details relating to the Noteholder's investment activity.

In the Issuer's use of Investor Data, the Issuer will be characterised as a "data controller" for the purposes of the DPL. The Issuer's affiliates and delegates may act as "data processors" for the purposes of the DPL.

Who this Affects

If a Noteholder is a natural person, this will affect such Noteholder directly. If a Noteholder is a corporate investor (including, for these purposes, legal arrangements such as trusts or exempted limited partnerships) that provides the Issuer with Investor Data on individuals connected to such Noteholder for any reason in relation to such Noteholder's investment with the Issuer, this will be relevant for those individuals and such Noteholder should transmit the content of this Privacy Notice to such individuals or otherwise advise them of its content.

How the Issuer May Use a Noteholder's Personal Data

The Issuer, as the data controller, may collect, store and use Investor Data for lawful purposes, including, in particular:

- (i) where this is necessary for the performance of the Issuer's rights and obligations under any subscription agreements or purchase agreements;
- (ii) where this is necessary for compliance with a legal and regulatory obligation to which the Issuer is subject (such as compliance with anti-money laundering and FATCA or the Common Reporting Standard requirements); and/or
- (iii) where this is necessary for the purposes of the Issuer's legitimate interests and such interests are not overridden by the Noteholder's interests, fundamental rights or freedoms.

Should the Issuer wish to use Investor Data for other specific purposes (including, if applicable, any purpose that requires a Noteholder's consent), the Issuer will contact the applicable Noteholders.

Why the Issuer May Transfer a Noteholder's Personal Data

In certain circumstances the Issuer and/or its authorised affiliates or delegates may be legally obliged to share Investor Data and other information with respect to a Noteholder's interest in the Issuer with the relevant regulatory authorities such as the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority or the Tax Information Authority. They, in turn, may exchange this information with foreign authorities, including tax authorities.

The Issuer anticipates disclosing Investor Data to others who provide services to the Issuer and their respective affiliates (which may include certain entities located outside the Cayman Islands or the European Economic Area), who will process a Noteholder's personal data on the Issuer's behalf.

The Data Protection Measures the Issuer Takes

Any transfer of Investor Data by the Issuer or its duly authorised affiliates and/or delegates outside of the Cayman Islands shall be in accordance with the requirements of the DPL.

The Issuer and its duly authorised affiliates and/or delegates shall apply appropriate technical and organisational information security measures designed to protect against unauthorised or unlawful processing of Investor Data, and against accidental loss or destruction of, or damage to, Investor Data.

The Issuer shall notify a Noteholder of any Investor Data breach that is reasonably likely to result in a risk to the interests, fundamental rights or freedoms of either such Noteholder or those data subjects to whom the relevant Investor Data relates.

Note:

1 General information, basis of preparation and presentation

The Company was incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability. The shares of the Company have been listed on the Main Board of the Stock Exchange since 16 June 2004.

The Company is an investment holding company. The Group is principally engaged in the provision of VAS, FinTech and Business Services and Online Advertising services.

The condensed consolidated interim financial information comprises the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 March 2020, the consolidated income statement and the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated statement of cash flows for three months then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory notes (the “Interim Financial Information”). The Interim Financial Information is presented in RMB, unless otherwise stated.

The Interim Financial Information has not been audited but has been reviewed by the external auditor of the Company.

The Interim Financial Information has been prepared in accordance with IAS 34 “Interim Financial Reporting” issued by the International Accounting Standards Board and should be read in conjunction with the annual consolidated financial statements of the Group for the year ended 31 December 2019, which have been prepared in accordance with IFRS, as set out in the 2019 annual report of the Company dated 18 March 2020 (the “2019 Financial Statements”).

Except as described below, the accounting policies and method of computation used in the preparation of the Interim Financial Information are generally consistent with those used in the 2019 Financial Statements in all material aspects, which have been prepared in accordance with IFRS under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of FVPL, FVOCI, certain other financial liabilities and derivative financial instruments, which are carried at fair values.

Taxes on income for the interim period are accrued using the estimated tax rates that would be applicable to expected total annual assessable profit.

The following standards and amendments have been adopted by the Group for the first time for the financial year beginning on 1 January 2020:

Amendments to IAS 1 and IAS 8	Definition of material
Amendments to IFRS 3	Definition of a business
Conceptual Framework	Revised Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting

The adoption of these new and amended standards does not have significant impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Group.

2 Segment information

The Group has the following reportable segments for the three months ended 31 March 2020 and 2019:

- VAS;
- FinTech and Business Services;
- Online Advertising; and
- Others.

The “Others” business segment consists of the financials of investment in, production of and distribution of, films and television programmes for third parties, copyrights licensing, merchandise sales and various other activities.

There were no material inter-segment sales during the three months ended 31 March 2020 and 2019. The revenues from external customers reported to the chief operating decision-makers are measured in a manner consistent with that applied in the consolidated income statement.

The segment information provided to the chief operating decision-makers for the reportable segments for the three months ended 31 March 2020 and 2019 is as follows:

5 Income tax expense

Income tax expense is recognised based on management's best knowledge of the income tax rates expected for the financial year.

(a) Cayman Islands and British Virgin Islands corporate income tax

The Group was not subject to any taxation in the Cayman Islands and the British Virgin Islands for the three months ended 31 March 2020 and 2019.

(b) Hong Kong profits tax

Hong Kong profits tax has been provided for at the rate of 16.5% on the estimated assessable profit for the three months ended 31 March 2020 and 2019.

(c) PRC CIT

PRC CIT has been provided for at applicable tax rates under the relevant regulations of the PRC after considering the available preferential tax benefits from refunds and allowances, and on the estimated assessable profit of entities within the Group established in the Mainland China for the three months ended 31 March 2020 and 2019. The general PRC CIT rate is 25% for the three months ended 31 March 2020 and 2019.

Certain subsidiaries of the Group in the Mainland China were approved as High and New Technology Enterprises, and accordingly, they were subject to a preferential corporate income tax rate of 15% for the three months ended 31 March 2020 and 2019. Moreover, according to announcement and circular issued by relevant government authorities, certain subsidiaries that qualified as national key software enterprises were subject to a preferential corporate income tax rate of 10%.

In addition, according to relevant tax circulars issued by the Mainland China tax authorities, certain subsidiaries of the Company are entitled to other tax concessions, mainly including the preferential policy of “2-year exemption and 3-year half rate concession” and the preferential tax rate of 15% applicable for some subsidiaries located in certain areas of the Mainland China upon fulfillment of certain requirements of the respective local governments.

(d) Corporate income tax in other jurisdictions

Income tax on profit arising from other jurisdictions, including the United States, Europe, East Asia and South America, has been calculated on the estimated assessable profit for the three months ended 31 March 2020 and 2019 at the respective rates prevailing in the relevant jurisdictions, ranging from 12.5% to 35%.

(e) Withholding tax

According to applicable tax regulations prevailing in the PRC, dividends distributed by a company established in the Mainland China to a foreign investor with respect to profit derived after 1 January 2008 are generally subject to a 10% withholding tax. If a foreign investor is incorporated in Hong Kong, under the double taxation arrangement between the Mainland China and Hong Kong, the relevant withholding tax rate applicable to such foreign investor will be reduced from 10% to 5% subject to the fulfilment of certain conditions.

Dividends distributed from certain jurisdictions that the Group’s entities operate in are also subject to withholding tax at respective applicable tax rates.

The income tax expense of the Group for the three months ended 31 March 2020 and 2019 are analysed as follows:

	Unaudited
	Three months ended 31 March
	2020	2019

6 Earnings per share

(a) Basic

Basic EPS is calculated by dividing the profit attributable to equity holders of the Company by the weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue during the period.

	Unaudited
	Three months ended 31 March
	2020	2019
Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company (RMB' Million)	28,896	27,210

Basic EPS (RMB per share)	3.049	2.877

(b) Diluted

The share options and awarded shares granted by the Company have potential dilutive effect on the EPS. Diluted EPS is calculated by adjusting the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding by the assumption of the conversion of all potential dilutive ordinary shares arising from share options and awarded shares granted by the Company (collectively forming the denominator for computing the diluted EPS).

In addition, the profit attributable to equity holders (numerator) has been adjusted by the effect of the share options and restricted shares granted by the Company's non-wholly owned subsidiaries and associates, excluding those which have anti-dilutive effect to the Group's diluted EPS.

(a) Share option schemes

The Company has adopted five share option schemes, namely, the Pre-IPO Option Scheme, the Post-IPO Option Scheme I, the Post-IPO Option Scheme II, the Post-IPO Option Scheme III and the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV.

The Pre-IPO Option Scheme, the Post-IPO Option Scheme I, the Post-IPO Option Scheme II and the Post-IPO Option Scheme III expired on 31 December 2011, 23 March 2014, 16 May 2017 and 13 May 2019, respectively. Upon the expiry of these schemes, no further options would be granted under these schemes, but the options granted prior to such expiry continued to be valid and exercisable in accordance with provisions of the schemes. As at 31 March 2020, there were no outstanding options exercisable of the Pre-IPO Option Scheme, the Post-IPO Option Scheme I and the Post-IPO Option Scheme III.

In respect of the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV which continues to be in force, the Board may, at its discretion, grant options to any qualifying participants to subscribe for shares in the Company, subject to the terms and conditions stipulated therein. The exercise price must be in compliance with the requirement under the Listing Rules. In addition, the option vesting period is determined by the Board provided that it is not later than the last day of a 7-year period for the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV after the date of grant of option.

Movements in the number of share options outstanding and their related weighted average exercise prices are as follows:

Independent Auditor's Report

TO THE SHAREHOLDERS OF TENCENT HOLDINGS LIMITED

(incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability)

OPINION

What we have audited

The consolidated financial statements of Tencent Holdings Limited (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (the "Group") set out on pages 136 to 264, which comprise:

- the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2019;
- the consolidated income statement for the year then ended;
- the consolidated statement of comprehensive income for the year then ended;
- the consolidated statement of changes in equity for the year then ended;
- the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended; and
- the notes to the consolidated financial statements, which include a summary of significant accounting policies.

Our opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2019, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Independent Auditor's Report

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (“ISAs”). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independence

We are independent of the Group in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (“IESBA Code”), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the IESBA Code.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters identified in our audit are summarised as follows:

- Revenue recognition on provision of online games value-added services – estimates of the lifespans of virtual products/items
- Impairment assessments of goodwill, investments in associates and joint ventures
- Fair value measurement of financial instruments, including financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income and other financial liabilities

Independent Auditor's Report

Key Audit Matter

Revenue recognition on provision of online games value-added services – estimates of the lifespans of virtual products/items

Refer to Note 2.30(a), 4(a) and 5(b) to the consolidated financial statements

The Group has recognised revenue from sales of virtual products/items to the users in respect of value-added services rendered on the Group's online platforms. The relevant revenue is recognised over the lifespans of respective virtual products/items which was determined by the management, on an item by item basis, with reference to the expected users' relationship periods or the stipulated period of validity of the relevant virtual products/items, depending on the terms of the virtual products/items.

During the year ended 31 December 2019, a majority of the Group's revenue from value-added services was contributed from online games and was predominately derived from the sales of virtual products/items.

We focused on this area due to the fact that management applied significant judgments in determining the expected users' relationship periods for certain virtual products/items. These judgments included (i) the determination of key assumptions applied in the expected users' relationship periods, including but not limited to historical users' consumption patterns, churn rates and reactivity on marketing activities, games life-cycle, and the Group's marketing strategy; and (ii) the identification of events that may trigger changes in the expected users' relationship periods.

How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

We discussed with management and evaluated their judgments on key assumptions in determining the estimated lifespans of the virtual products/items that were based on the expected users' relationship periods.

We tested, on a sample basis, key controls in respect of the recognition of revenue from sales of virtual products/items, including management's review and approval of (i) determination of the estimated lifespans of new virtual products/items prior to their launches; and (ii) changes in the estimated lifespans of existing virtual products/items based on periodic reassessment on any indications triggering such changes. We also assessed the data generated from the Group's information system supporting the management's review, including tested the information system logic for generation of reports, and checked, on a sample basis, the monthly computation of revenue recognised on selected virtual products/items generated directly from the Group's information system.

We assessed, on a sample basis, the expected users' relationship periods adopted by management by testing the data integrity of historical users' consumption patterns and calculation of the churn rates. We also evaluated the consideration made by management in determining the underlying assumptions for expected users' relationship periods with reference to historical operating and marketing data of the relevant games. We also assessed, on a sample basis, the historical accuracy of the management's estimation process by comparing the actual users' relationship periods for the year against the original estimation for selected virtual products/items.

We found that the results of our procedures performed to be materially consistent with management's supporting documentation.

Independent Auditor's Report

Key Audit Matter

Impairment assessments of goodwill, investments in associates and joint ventures

Refer to Notes 2.13(a), 2.15, 4(b), 20, 21 and 22 to the consolidated financial statements

As at 31 December 2019, the Group held significant amounts of goodwill, investments in associates and joint ventures amounting to RMB93,456 million, RMB213,614 million and RMB8,280 million, respectively. Impairment of RMB20 million and RMB3,877 million had been provided for against the carrying amounts of goodwill and investments in associates, respectively, and a reversal of impairment of RMB54 million had been made against the carrying amounts of investments in joint ventures during the year ended 31 December 2019.

We focused on this area due to the magnitude of the carrying amounts of these assets and the fact that significant judgments were required by management (i) to identify whether any impairment indicators existed for any of these assets during the year; (ii) to determine the appropriate impairment approaches, i.e. fair value less costs of disposal or value in use; and (iii) to select key assumptions to be adopted in the valuation models, including discounted cash flows and market approach, for the impairment assessments.

How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

We tested management's assessment including periodic impairment indications evaluation as to whether indicators of impairment exist by corroborating with management and market information.

We also tested, on a sample basis, key controls in respect of the impairment assessments, including the determination of appropriate impairment approaches, valuation models and assumptions and the calculation of impairment provisions, which we found no material exceptions.

Management adopted different valuation models, on a case by case basis, in carrying out the impairment assessments, mainly including discounted cash flows and market approach. We assessed, on a sample basis, the basis management used to identify separate groups of cash generating units that contain goodwill, the impairment approaches and the valuation models used in management's impairment assessments, which we found them to be appropriate.

In respect of the impairment assessments of cash generating units that contain goodwill, investments in associates and investments in joint ventures using discounted cash flows, we assessed the key assumptions adopted including revenue growth rates, profit margins, discount rates and other assumptions by examining the approved financial/business forecast models, and comparing actual results for the year against the previous period's forecasts and the applicable industry/business data external to the Group. We assessed certain of these key assumptions with the involvement of our internal valuation experts. We considered that the key assumptions adopted by management are in line with our expectation and evidence obtained.

Key Audit Matter

How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

In respect of the impairment assessments of cash generating units that contain goodwill, investments in associates and investments in joint ventures using market approach, we assessed the valuation assumptions including the selection of comparable companies, recent market transactions, and liquidity discount for lack of marketability, etc. We assessed these key assumptions adopted by management with the involvement of our internal valuation experts based on our industry knowledge and independent research performed by us. We considered that the key assumptions adopted by management are in line with our expectation and evidence obtained.

We independently tested, on a sample basis, the accuracy of mathematical calculation applied in the valuation models and the calculation of impairment charges. We did not identify any material exceptions from our testing.

Independent Auditor's Report

Key Audit Matter

Fair value measurement of financial instruments, including financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income and other financial liabilities

Refer to Notes 3.3, 4(c), 24, 25, 38 to the consolidated financial statements

As at 31 December 2019, the Group's financial assets and financial liabilities which were carried at fair value comprised financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income and other financial liabilities of approximately RMB135,936 million, RMB81,721 million and RMB2,396 million, respectively, of which approximately RMB123,093 million of these financial assets and approximately RMB1,873 million of these financial liabilities were measured based on significant unobservable inputs and classified as "Level 3 financial instruments".

We focused on this area due to the high degree of judgment required in determining the respective fair values of Level 3 financial instruments, which do not have direct open market quoted values, with respect to the adoption of applicable valuation methodology and the application of appropriate assumptions in the valuation.

How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

In respect of the fair value measurement of Level 3 financial instruments, we tested the key controls, on a sample basis, in relation to the valuation process including the adoption of applicable valuation methodology and the application of appropriate assumptions in different circumstances, by inspection of the evidence of management's review, which we found no material exceptions.

We involved our internal valuation experts to discuss with management and assess the appropriateness of valuation methodology and assumptions used. We tested, on a sample basis, valuation of Level 3 financial instruments as at 31 December 2019 by evaluating the underlying assumptions and inputs including risk-free rates, expected volatility, relevant underlying financial projections, and market information of recent transactions (such as recent fund raising transactions undertaken by the investees) as well as underlying supporting documentation. We also tested, on a sample basis, the arithmetical accuracy of the valuation computation. We found that the valuation methodology of Level 3 financial instruments is acceptable and the assumptions made by management are supported by available evidence.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF DIRECTORS AND THOSE CHARGED WITH GOVERNANCE FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. We report our opinion solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

Independent Auditor's Report

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Independent Auditor's Report

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Tong Yu Keung.

The Company is an investment holding company. The Company and its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Group”) are principally engaged in the provision of Value-added Services (“VAS”), FinTech and Business Services and Online Advertising services.

The operations of the Group were initially conducted through Shenzhen Tencent Computer Systems Company Limited (“Tencent Computer”), a limited liability company established in the PRC by certain shareholders of the Company on 11 November 1998. Tencent Computer is legally owned by the core founders of the Company who are PRC citizens (the “Registered Shareholders”).

The PRC regulations restrict foreign ownership of companies that provide value-added telecommunications services, which include activities and services operated by Tencent Computer. In order to enable certain foreign companies to make investments into the business of the Group, the Company established a subsidiary, Tencent Technology (Shenzhen) Company Limited (“Tencent Technology”), which is a wholly foreign owned enterprise incorporated in the PRC, on 24 February 2000. The foreign investors of the Company then subscribed to additional equity interests in the Company.

Under a series of contractual arrangements (collectively, “Structure Contracts”) entered into among the Company, Tencent Technology, Tencent Computer and the Registered Shareholders, the Company is able to effectively control, recognise and receive substantially all the economic benefit of the business and operations of Tencent Computer. In summary, the Structure Contracts provide the Company through Tencent Technology with, among other things:

- the right to receive the cash received by Tencent Computer from its operations which is surplus to its requirements, having regard to its forecast working capital needs, capital expenditure, and other short-term anticipated expenditure through various commercial arrangements;
- the right to ensure that Tencent Technology owns the valuable assets of the business through the assignment to Tencent Technology of the principal present and future intellectual property rights of Tencent Computer; and
- the right to control the management, financial and operating policies of Tencent Computer.

As a result, Tencent Computer is accounted for as a controlled structured entity (see also Note 2.3(a) and Note 47) and the formation of the Group in 2000 was accounted for as a business combination between entities under common control under a method similar to the uniting of interests method for recording all assets and liabilities at predecessor carrying amounts. This approach was adopted because in management’s belief it best reflected the substance of the formation.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

Similar Structure Contracts were also executed for other PRC operating companies established by the Group similar to Tencent Computer subsequent to 2000. All these PRC operating companies are treated as controlled structured entities of the Company and their financial statements have also been consolidated by the Company. See details in Note 47.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

2.1 Basis of preparation

The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with all applicable International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”). The consolidated financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (“FVPL”), financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income (“FVOCI”), certain other financial liabilities and derivative financial instruments, which are carried at fair value.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRSs requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgment in the process of applying the Group’s accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgment or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the consolidated financial statements are disclosed in Note 4.

(a) New and amended standards adopted by the Group

The following standards and amendments have been adopted by the Group for the first time for the financial year beginning on 1 January 2019:

IFRS 16	Leases
IFRS 9 (amendment)	Prepayment Features with Negative Compensation
IAS 28 (amendment)	Long-term Interests in Associates and Joint Ventures
IAS 19 (amendment)	Plan Amendment, Curtailment or Settlement
IFRIC 23	Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments

The Group has changed its accounting policies following the adoption of IFRS 16 since 1 January 2019. In accordance with the transitional provision under IFRS 16, the Group has applied the simplified transition approach, and all right-of-use assets were measured at the amount of the lease liabilities on adoption (adjusted for any prepaid or accrued lease expenses). Comparative figures for the 2018 financial year have not been restated, details of which are disclosed in Note 2.2. Except IFRS 16, the adoption of these new and amended standards does not have significant impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Group.

- (b) New standards and interpretations issued but not yet effective

The following new standards and interpretations have not come into effect for the financial year beginning 1 January 2019 and have not been early adopted by the Group in preparing the consolidated financial statements. None of these is expected to have a significant effect on the consolidated financial statements of the Group.

		Effective for annual periods beginning on or after
Amendments to IAS 28 and IFRS 10	Sale or contribution of assets between an investor and its associate or joint venture	To be determined
Amendments to IAS 1 and IAS 8	Definition of material	1 January 2020
Amendments to IFRS 3 Conceptual Framework	Definition of a business Revised Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting	1 January 2020
IFRS 17	Insurance contracts	1 January 2021

2.2 Changes in accounting policies

This note explains the impact of the adoption of IFRS 16 “Leases” on the Group’s consolidated financial statements.

As indicated in Note 2.1 above, the Group has adopted IFRS 16 Leases retrospectively from 1 January 2019. In accordance with the transitional provision under IFRS 16, the Group has applied the simplified transition approach, and all right-of-use assets were measured at the amount of the lease liabilities on adoption (adjusted for any prepaid or accrued lease expenses). Comparative figures for the 2018 financial year have not been restated. The new accounting policies are disclosed in Note 2.34.

On adoption of IFRS 16, the Group recognised lease liabilities in relation to leases which had previously been classified as “operating leases” under the principles of IAS 17 Leases. These liabilities were measured at the present value of the remaining lease payments, discounted using the lessee’s incremental borrowing rate as of 1 January 2019. The weighted average lessee’s incremental borrowing rate applied to the lease liabilities on 1 January 2019 was 4.58%.

	RMB'Million
Operating lease commitments disclosed as at 31 December 2018	12,294
Discounted using the Group's weighted average incremental borrowing rate of 4.58%	10,684
Less: short-term leases recognised on a straight-line basis as expense	(189)
Less: leases contracted at the end of 2018 with leasing period started from 2019	(540)
Lease liabilities recognised as at 1 January 2019	9,955

All right-of-use assets were measured at the amount equal to the lease liability, adjusted by the amount of any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to the leases recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2018. The impact on transition is summarised as below:

	1 January 2019 RMB'Million
Right-of-use assets	9,688
Lease liabilities	(9,955)
Prepayments, deposits and other assets	(23)
Other payables and accruals	290

In applying IFRS 16 for the first time, the Group has used the following practical expedients permitted by the standard:

- the use of a single discount rate to a portfolio of leases with reasonably similar characteristics;
- the accounting for operating leases with a remaining lease term within 12 months as at 1 January 2019 as short-term leases; and
- the exclusion of initial direct costs for the measurement of the right-of-use assets at the date of initial application.

Upon adoption of IFRS 16, principal elements of lease payments and related interest portion have been classified within financing activities.

Since the first quarter of 2019, the Group has reclassified interest paid in cash flow presentation from operating activities to financing activities, which better reflects the nature of business. Comparative figures have been reclassified to conform with the current period presentation.

2.3 Subsidiaries

(a) Consolidation

Subsidiaries are all entities (including structured entities) over which the Group has control. The Group controls an entity where the Group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. Subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group. They are deconsolidated from the date that control ceases.

Intra-group transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the transferred asset. When necessary, amounts reported by subsidiaries have been adjusted to conform with the Group's accounting policies.

(i) Business combinations

The Group applies the acquisition method to account for business combinations. The consideration transferred for the acquisition of a subsidiary is the fair values of the assets transferred, the liabilities incurred to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group. The consideration transferred also includes the fair value of any asset or liability resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement, which is recognised under "other financial assets" or "other financial liabilities" in the consolidated financial statements. Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are measured initially at their fair values at the acquisition date.

The Group recognises any non-controlling interest in the acquiree on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis. Non-controlling interests in the acquiree that are present ownership interests and entitle their holders to a proportionate share of the entity's net assets in the event of liquidation are measured at either fair value or the present ownership interests' proportionate share in the recognised amounts of the acquiree's identifiable net assets.

Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

If the business combination is achieved in stages, the acquisition date carrying value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is re-measured to fair value at the acquisition date; any gains or losses arising from such re-measurement are recognised in profit or loss.

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the Group is recognised at fair value at the acquisition date. Subsequent changes to the fair value of the contingent consideration that is deemed to be an asset or liability is recognised in profit or loss. Contingent consideration that is classified as equity is not re-measured, and its subsequent settlement is accounted for within equity.

The excess of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree and the acquisition-date fair value of any previous equity interest in the acquiree over the fair value of the identifiable net assets acquired is recorded as goodwill. If the total of consideration transferred, non-controlling interest recognised and previously held interest measured is less than the fair value of the net assets of the subsidiary acquired in the case of a bargain purchase, the difference is recognised directly in the consolidated income statement.

(ii) Changes in ownership interests in subsidiaries without change of control

Transactions with non-controlling interests that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions – that is, as transactions with the owners of the subsidiary in their capacity as owners. The difference between fair value of any consideration paid and the relevant share acquired of the carrying amount of net assets of the subsidiary is recorded in equity. Gains or losses on disposals to non-controlling interests are also recorded in equity.

(iii) Disposal of subsidiaries

When the Group ceases to have control, any retained interest in the entity is re-measured to its fair value at the date when control is lost, with the change in carrying amount recognised in the consolidated income statement. The fair value is the initial carrying amount for the purposes of subsequently accounting for the retained interest as an associate, a joint venture or financial asset. In addition, any amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in respect of that entity are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. It means that amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to the consolidated income statement or transferred to another category of equity as specified/permitted by applicable IFRSs.

(b) Separate financial statements

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for at cost less impairment. Cost includes direct attributable costs of investment. The results of subsidiaries are accounted for by the Company on the basis of dividends received and receivable. In addition, the contribution to the Company's Share Scheme Trust (as defined in Note 47(e)), a controlled structured entity, is stated at cost in "Contribution to Share Scheme Trust", and will be transferred to the "Shares held for share award schemes" under equity when the contribution is used for the acquisition of the Company's shares.

Impairment testing of the investments in subsidiaries is required upon receiving dividends from these investments if the dividends exceed the total comprehensive income of the subsidiaries in the period the dividends are declared or if the carrying amount of the investments in the separate financial statements exceeds the carrying amount in the consolidated financial statements of the investee's net assets including goodwill.

2.4 Associates

Associates are all entities over which the Group has significant influence but not control or joint control, generally but not necessarily accompanying a shareholding of between 20% and 50% of the voting rights. Investments in associates are accounted for using the equity method of accounting and are initially recognised at cost. The Group's investments in associates include underlying goodwill identified on acquisition, net of any accumulated impairment loss.

The Group's share of its associates' post-acquisition profit or loss is recognised in the consolidated income statement, and its share of post-acquisition movements in other comprehensive income is recognised in other comprehensive income. Dividends received or receivable from associates are recognised as a reduction in the carrying amount of the investment. Where the Group's share of losses in an associate equals or exceeds its interests in the associate, including any other unsecured long-term receivables, the Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.

The Group determines at each reporting date whether there is any objective evidence that investments accounted for using the equity method, including investments in associates and joint arrangements (Note 2.5), are impaired. If this is the case, the Group calculates the amount of impairment as the difference between the recoverable amount of the investment and its carrying value and recognises the amount in "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement.

Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interests in the associates. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of associates have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

Gains or losses on dilution of equity interest in associates are recognised in the consolidated income statement. If the ownership interest in an associate is reduced but significant influence is retained, only a proportionate share of the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified to consolidated income statement where appropriate.

2.5 Joint arrangements

Under IFRS 11 investments in joint arrangements are classified as either joint operations or joint ventures depending on the contractual rights and obligations of each investor. The Group has assessed the nature of its joint arrangements and determined them to be joint ventures. Joint ventures are accounted for using the equity method.

Under the equity method of accounting, interests in joint ventures are initially recognised at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the post-acquisition profit or loss and movements in other comprehensive income. Where the Group's share of losses in a joint venture equals or exceeds its interests in the joint venture (which includes any other unsecured long-term receivables that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the joint venture), the Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the joint venture.

Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its joint ventures are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interests in the joint ventures. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of the joint ventures have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

2.6 Investments in associates/joint ventures achieved in stages

The cost of associates/joint ventures acquired in stages, except for the change from an associate to a joint venture, is measured as the sum of the fair value of the interests previously held plus the fair value of any additional consideration transferred as of the date when it becomes associate/joint venture. A gain or loss on re-measurement of the previously held interests is taken to the consolidated income statement. Any other comprehensive income recognised in prior periods in relation to the previously held interests is also taken to the consolidated income statement. Any acquisition-related costs are expensed in the period in which the costs are incurred.

2.7 Disposal of associates

When the Group loses significant influence over an associate, it measures any retained investment at fair value. A gain or loss is recognised at any difference between the fair value of any retained interest plus any proceeds from disposing part of the interests in the associate and the carrying amount of the investment at the date the equity method of accounting was discontinued. The amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income by an associate should be reclassified to the consolidated income statement or transferred to another category of equity as specified and permitted by applicable IFRSs when the Group loses significant influence over the associate.

2.8 Segment reporting

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision-makers, who are responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments and making strategic decisions. The chief operating decision-makers mainly include the executive directors.

2.9 Foreign currency translation

(a) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the "functional currency"). The functional currency of the Company and certain of its overseas subsidiaries is United States Dollars ("USD"). As the major operations of the Group are within the PRC, the Group presents its consolidated financial statements in Renminbi ("RMB"), unless otherwise stated.

(b) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at year-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the consolidated income statement.

Non-monetary items that are measured at fair value in foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined. Translation differences on assets and liabilities carried at fair value are reported as part of the fair value gain or loss. For example, translation differences on non-monetary financial assets and liabilities such as equity instruments held at fair value through profit or loss are recognised in the consolidated income statement as part of the fair value gain or loss and translation differences on non-monetary financial assets, such as equity instruments classified as FVOCI, are included in other comprehensive income.

(c) Group companies

The results and financial position of all the group entities (none of which has the currency of a hyper-inflationary economy) that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency of RMB are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- (i) Assets and liabilities for each statement of financial position presented are translated at the closing rate at the date of that statement of financial position;
- (ii) Income and expenses for each income statement are translated at average exchange rates (unless this average is not a reasonable approximation of the cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the rate on the dates of the transactions); and
- (iii) All resulting currency translation differences are recognised as a separate component of other comprehensive income.

On consolidation, exchange differences arising from the translation of the net investment in foreign operations, and of borrowings and other financial instruments designated as hedges of such investments, are taken to other comprehensive income.

Goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on the acquisition of a foreign entity are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign entity and translated at the closing rate. Currency translation differences arising are recognised in other comprehensive income.

2.10 Property, plant and equipment

All property, plant and equipment are stated at historical costs less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment charges. Historical costs include expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to the consolidated income statement during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

2.10 Property, plant and equipment (continued)

Buildings	20 ~ 50 years
Computer equipment	2 ~ 5 years
Furniture and office equipment	2 ~ 5 years
Motor vehicles	5 years
Leasehold improvements	Shorter of their useful lives and the lease term

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

Construction in progress represents buildings under construction, which is stated at actual construction costs less any impairment loss. Construction in progress is transferred to property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for use.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount (Note 2.15).

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount and are recognised in "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement.

2.11 Investment properties

Investment properties are held for long-term rental yields and are not occupied by the Group. Investment properties are carried at historical costs less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment charges. Historical costs include expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line method to allocate their costs net of their residual values over their estimated useful lives of 20-50 years. Investment properties' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

Investment properties' carrying amounts are written down immediately to their recoverable amounts if their carrying amounts are greater than their estimated recoverable amounts.

2.12 Land use rights

Land use rights are up-front payments to acquire long-term interest in land. These payments are stated at cost and charged to the consolidated income statement on a straight-line basis over the remaining period of the lease.

2.13 Intangible assets

(a) Goodwill

Goodwill arising on the acquisition of subsidiaries represents the excess of the consideration transferred plus acquisition-date fair value of the equity interests previously held by the Group and the non-controlling interests in the acquired entity over the fair value of the net identifiable assets of the acquiree.

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to each of the cash-generating units ("CGUs"), or groups of CGUs, that is expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination. Each unit or group of units to which the goodwill is allocated represents the lowest level within the entity at which the goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes.

Goodwill impairment reviews are undertaken annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate a potential impairment. The carrying value of goodwill is compared to the recoverable amount, which is the higher of value in use and the fair value less costs to sell. Any impairment is recognised immediately under "Other gains/(losses), net" and is not subsequently reversed.

(b) Media contents

Media contents mainly include game licenses, video and music contents, and literature copyrights. They are initially recognised and measured at cost or estimated fair value as acquired through business combinations. Media contents are amortised using a straight-line method or an accelerated method which reflects the estimated consumption patterns.

(c) Other intangible assets

Other intangible assets mainly include trademarks, other copyrights, computer software and technology, non-compete agreements and land with indefinite useful life. They are initially recognised and measured at cost or estimated fair value of intangible assets acquired through business combinations.

Land with indefinite useful life is not subject to amortisation and impairment reviews are undertaken annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate a potential impact. Other intangible assets are amortised over their estimated useful lives (generally one to ten years) using the straight-line method which reflects the pattern in which the intangible asset's future economic benefits are expected to be consumed.

2.14 Shares held for share award schemes

The consideration paid by the Share Scheme Trust (see Note 47(e)) for purchasing the Company's shares from the market, including any directly attributable incremental cost, is presented as "Shares held for share award schemes" and the amount is deducted from total equity.

When the Share Scheme Trust transfers the Company's shares to the awardees upon vesting, the related costs of the awarded shares vested are credited to "Shares held for share award schemes", with a corresponding adjustment made to "Share premium".

2.15 Impairment of non-financial assets

Assets that have an indefinite useful life or are not yet available for use are not subject to amortisation and are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired. Other assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For the purpose of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets other than goodwill that suffered impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at each reporting date.

2.16 Investments and other financial assets

(a) Classification and measurement

The Group classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories:

- those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through other comprehensive income, or through profit or loss), and
- those to be measured at amortised cost.

The classification depends on the entity's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

At initial recognition, the Group measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed in profit or loss.

2.16 Investments and other financial assets (continued)

Debt instruments

Initial recognition and subsequent measurement of debt instruments depend on the Group's business model for managing the asset and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the asset. There are three categories into which the Group classifies its debt instruments:

- Amortised cost: Financial assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are classified as and measured at amortised cost. A gain or loss on a debt investment measured at amortised cost which is not part of a hedging relationship is recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised or impaired. Interest income from these financial assets is recognised using the effective interest rate method.
- FVOCI: Financial assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows and for selling the financial assets, where the assets' cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest, are classified as and measured at FVOCI. Movements in the carrying amount of these financial assets are taken through other comprehensive income, except for the recognition of impairment losses or reversals, interest income and foreign exchange gains and losses which are recognised in profit or loss. When the financial asset is derecognised, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified from equity to profit or loss and recognised in "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement. Interest income from these financial assets is recognised using the effective interest rate method. Foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in "finance costs, net" and impairment losses or reversals are presented in "Other gains/(losses), net".
- FVPL: Financial assets that do not meet the criteria for amortised cost or FVOCI are classified as and measured at fair value through profit or loss. A gain or loss on a debt investment measured at fair value through profit or loss which is not part of a hedging relationship is recognised in profit or loss and presented in "Other gains/(losses), net" for the period in which it arises.

The Group reclassifies debt investments when and only when its business model for managing those assets changes.

Equity instruments

The Group initially recognises and subsequently measures all equity investments at fair value. Upon initial recognition, the Group's management can elect to classify irrevocably its equity investments as financial assets at FVOCI when they meet the definition of equity instrument under IAS 32 and are not held for trading. The classification is determined on an instrument-by-instrument basis.

Where the Group has made an irrevocable election to present fair value gains and losses on equity investments in other comprehensive income, there is no subsequent reclassification of fair value gains and losses to profit or loss following the derecognition of the investments. Dividends from such investments continue to be recognised in profit or loss as "Other gains/(losses), net" when the Group's right to receive payments is established. Equity instruments designated as FVOCI are not subject to impairment assessment.

FVPL include financial assets designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss and financial assets that do not meet the criteria for amortised cost or FVOCI. Changes in the fair value of FVPL are recognised in "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement.

- (b) Impairment

The Group assesses on a forward-looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its debt instruments carried at amortised cost and FVOCI. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk.

For accounts receivable and contract assets, the Group applies the simplified approach permitted by IFRS 9, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised since initial recognition.

Impairment on deposits and other receivables is measured as either 12-month expected credit losses or lifetime expected credit losses, depending on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. If a significant increase in credit risk of a deposit or receivable has occurred since initial recognition, the impairment is measured as lifetime expected credit losses.

2.17 Derivative and hedging activities

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative, which are recognised under “other financial assets” and “other financial liabilities” in the consolidated financial statements, respectively. The method of recognising the resulting gain or loss depends on whether the derivative is designated as a hedging instrument, and if so, the nature of the item being hedged.

The Group designates certain derivatives as hedges of a particular risk associated with the cash flows of a recognised asset or liability or a highly probable forecast transaction (cash flow hedges). The Group documents at the inception of the hedging relationship the economic relationship between hedging instruments and hedged items including whether the hedging instrument is expected to offset changes in cash flows of hedged items. The Group documents its risk management objective and strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions at the inception of each hedge relationship.

A hedging relationship qualifies for hedge accounting if it meets all of the hedge effectiveness requirements under IFRS 9. The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges is recognised through other comprehensive income within equity, while any ineffective portion is recognised immediately in profit or loss, within “Other gains/(losses), net”.

Gains or losses relating to the effective portion of the change in intrinsic value of the options are recognised in the cash flow hedge reserve within equity. The changes in the time value of the options that relate to the hedged item (‘aligned time value’) are recognised within other comprehensive income in the costs of hedging reserve within equity.

Amounts accumulated in equity are accounted for, depending on the nature of the underlying hedged transaction, as follows:

- Where the hedged item subsequently results in the recognition of a non-financial asset, the amounts accumulated in equity are removed from other reserves and included within the initial cost of the asset. These deferred amounts are ultimately recognised in profit or loss as the hedged item affects profit or loss.
- For any other cash flow hedges, the gain or loss relating to the effective portion of the derivatives is reclassified to profit or loss at the same time when the hedged cash flows affects profit or loss.

When a hedging instrument expires, or is sold or terminated, or when a hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, any cumulative deferred gain or loss and deferred costs of hedging in equity at that time remain in equity until the forecast transaction occurs. When the forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur, the cumulative gain or loss and deferred costs of hedging included in equity are immediately reclassified to profit or loss.

2.18 Offsetting financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset, and the net amount is reported in the consolidated statement of financial position when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in certain circumstances, such as default, insolvency, bankruptcy or the termination of a contract.

2.19 Inventories

Inventories, mainly consisting of merchandise for sale, are primarily accounted for using the weighted average method and are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

2.20 Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable are amounts due from customers or agents for services performed or merchandise sold in the ordinary course of business. If collection of accounts receivable is expected in one year or less, they are classified as current assets. Otherwise, they are presented as non-current assets.

Accounts receivable are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment.

2.21 Cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, and other short-term highly liquid investments with initial maturities of three months or less.

The Group does not recognise cash amounts deposited with banks (which are received under its payment business) under users' entrustment in the consolidated statement of financial position as the Group holds these cash amounts as a custodian according to the relevant users' agreements.

2.22 Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or share options are shown in equity as a deduction from the proceeds.

Where any Group company purchases the Company's equity instruments, the consideration paid, including any directly attributable incremental costs, is deducted from equity attributable to the Company's equity holders as treasury shares until the shares are cancelled or reissued. Where such shares are subsequently reissued, any consideration received (net of any directly attributable incremental transaction costs) is included in equity attributable to the Company's equity holders.

2.23 Accounts payable

Accounts payable are obligations to pay for services or goods that have been acquired in the ordinary course of business from suppliers. Accounts payable are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within one year or less. If not, they are presented as non-current liabilities.

Accounts payable are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

2.24 Put option arrangements

Put options are financial instruments granted by the Group which permit the holders to put back to the Group their shares in certain subsidiaries for cash or other financial assets (“OFA”) when certain conditions are met. If the Group does not have the unconditional right to avoid delivering cash or OFA under the put option, a financial liability is initially recognised under “other financial liabilities” in the consolidated financial statements at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows on exercise under the put option. Subsequently, if the Group revises its estimates of payments, the Group will adjust the carrying amount of the financial liability to reflect actual and revised estimated cash outflows. The Group will recalculate the carrying amount based on the present value of revised estimated future cash outflows at the financial instrument’s original effective interest rate and the adjustment will be recognised as “Other gains/(losses), net” in the consolidated income statement. In the event that the put option expires unexercised, the liability is derecognised with a corresponding adjustment to equity.

The put option liabilities are current liabilities unless the put option first becomes exercisable 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

2.25 Financial guarantee contracts

The financial guarantee contracts are initially recognised as a financial liability at fair value on the date the guarantee is given. The liability is subsequently measured at the higher of:

- the amount determined in accordance with the expected credit loss model under IFRS 9; and
- the amount initially recognised less, where appropriate, the cumulative amount of income recognised in accordance with the principles of IFRS 15.

The fair value of financial guarantees is determined based on the present value of the difference in cash flows between the contractual payments required under the debt instrument and the payments that would be required without the guarantee, or the estimated amount that would be payable to a third party for assuming the obligations.

Where guarantees in relation to loans or other payables of the investees are provided for no compensation, the fair value is accounted for as contributions and recognised as part of the cost of the investment.

2.26 Borrowings, notes payable and borrowing costs

Borrowings and notes payable issued by the Group are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. They are subsequently carried at amortised cost. Any difference between proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in the consolidated income statement over their terms using the effective interest method.

Fees paid on the establishment of loan facilities are recognised as transaction costs of the loan facilities to the extent that it is probable that some or all of the facility will be drawn down. In this case, the fee is deferred until the draw-down occurs. To the extent there is no evidence that it is probable that some or all of the facility will be drawn down, the fee is capitalised as a prepayment for liquidity services and amortised over the term of the facility to which it relates.

Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the Group has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

Notes payable are classified as non-current liabilities unless the Group has an unconditional obligation to settle the liability within 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

General and specific finance costs directly attributable to the acquisition and construction of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. During the year ended 31 December 2019, finance cost capitalised was insignificant to the Group.

2.27 Current and deferred income tax

The income tax expense for the year comprises current and deferred tax, which is recognised in the consolidated income statement, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the income tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or in equity, respectively.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period in the countries where the Company's subsidiaries operate and generate taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

2.27 Current and deferred income tax (continued)

Deferred income tax is recognised, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements. However, deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of goodwill or of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss is affected. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred tax asset is realised or the deferred tax liability is settled.

Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available to utilise those temporary differences and tax losses.

Deferred income tax is provided on temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries and associates, except for deferred tax liability where the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences is controlled by the Group and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Generally, the Group is unable to control the reversal of the temporary difference for associates. Only when there is an agreement in place that gives the Group the ability to control the reversal of the temporary difference in the foreseeable future, deferred tax liability in relation to taxable temporary differences arising from the associate's undistributed profit is not recognised.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised on deductible temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint arrangements only to the extent that it is probable the temporary difference will reverse in the future and there is sufficient taxable profit available against which the temporary difference can be utilised.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset where there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and where the deferred tax assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the taxable entity or different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the balances on a net basis.

2.28 Employee benefits

(a) Employee leave entitlements

Employee entitlements to annual leave are recognised when they are accrued to employees. A provision is made for the estimated liability for annual leave as a result of services rendered by employees up to the end of the reporting period. Employee entitlements to sick and maternity leave are not recognised until the time of leave.

(b) Pension obligations

The Group participates in various defined contribution retirement benefit plans which are available to all relevant employees. These plans are generally funded through payments to schemes established by governments or trustee-administered funds. A defined contribution plan is a pension plan under which the Group pays contributions on a mandatory, contractual or voluntary basis into a separate fund. The Group has no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employees the benefits relating to employee services in the current and prior years. The Group's contributions to the defined contribution plans are expensed as incurred and not reduced by contributions forfeited by those employees who leave the plans prior to vesting fully in the contributions.

(c) Share-based compensation benefits

The Group operates a number of share-based compensation plans (including share option schemes and share award schemes), under which the Group receives services from employees and other qualifying participants as consideration for equity instruments (including share options and awarded shares) of the Group. The fair value of the employee services and other qualifying participants' services received in exchange for the grant of equity instruments of the Group is recognised as an expense over the vesting period, i.e. the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied and credited to equity.

For grant of share options, the total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the fair value of the options granted by using option-pricing model, "Enhanced FAS 123" binomial model (the "Binomial Model"), which includes the impact of market performance conditions (such as the Company's share price) but excludes the impact of service condition and non-market performance conditions. For grant of award shares, the total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the market price of the Company's shares at the grant date. The Group also adopts valuation techniques to assess the fair value of other equity instruments of the Group granted under the share-based compensation plans as appropriate.

Non-market performance and service conditions are included in assumptions about the number of options that are expected to become vested.

From the perspective of the Company, the grants of its equity instruments to employees of its subsidiaries are made in exchange for their services related to the subsidiaries. Accordingly, the share-based compensation expenses are treated as part of the "Investments in subsidiaries" in the Company's statement of financial position.

At each reporting period end, the Group revises the estimates of the number of options and awarded shares that are expected to ultimately vest. It recognises the impact of the revision to original estimates, if any, in the consolidated income statement of the Group, with a corresponding adjustment to equity.

When the options are exercised, the proceeds received net of any directly attributable transaction costs are credited to share capital (nominal value) and share premium.

If the Group repurchases vested equity instruments, the payments made to the employees and other qualifying participants shall be accounted for as a deduction from equity, except to the extent that the payment exceeds the fair value of the equity instruments repurchased, measured at the repurchase date. Any such excess shall be recognised as an expense.

If the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, at a minimum an expense is recognised as if the terms had not been modified. An additional expense is recognised for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based payment arrangement, or is otherwise beneficial to the employees and other qualifying participants, as measured at the date of modification.

Cash-settled share-based payment transactions are those arrangements which the terms provide the Group to settle the transaction in cash. Upon the vesting conditions, if any, are met, the Group shall account for that transaction as a cash-settled share-based payment transaction if, and to the extent that, the Group has incurred a liability to settle in cash.

For cash-settled share-based payments, a liability equal to the portion of the services received is recognised at the current fair value determined at the end of the reporting period. The Group adopts valuation technique to assess the fair value of such equity instruments granted under the share-based compensation plans as appropriate.

2.29 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation; and the amount can be reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses.

Where there are a number of similar obligations, the likelihood that an outflow will be required in settlement is determined by considering the class of obligations as a whole. A provision is recognised even if the likelihood of an outflow with respect to any one item included in the same class of obligations may be small.

Provisions are measured at the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the obligation. The increase in the provision due to passage of time is recognised as interest expense.

2.30 Revenue recognition

The Group generates revenues primarily from provision of VAS, FinTech and Business Services, online advertising services and other online related services in the PRC. Revenue is recognised when the control of the goods or services is transferred to a customer. Depending on the terms of the contract and the laws that apply to the contract, control of the goods and services may be transferred over time or at a point in time.

(a) VAS

Revenues from VAS primarily include revenues from the provision of online games and social networks services. Online games revenues are mainly derived from sales of in-game virtual items, and social networks revenues are mainly derived from sales of virtual products such as VAS subscriptions across various online platforms, and games revenues attributable to social networks business. The Group offers virtual products/items to users on the Group's online platforms. The VAS fees are paid directly by end users mainly via online payment channels.

Revenue from VAS is recognised when the Group satisfies its performance obligations by rendering services. Giving there is an explicit or implicit obligation of the Group to maintain the virtual products/items operated on the Group's platforms and allow users to gain access to them, revenue is recognised over the estimated lifespans of the respective virtual products/items. The estimated lifespans of different virtual products/items are determined by the management based on either the expected user relationship periods or the stipulated period of validity of the relevant virtual products/items depending on the respective term of virtual products/items.

Where the contracts include multiple performance obligations, the Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation on a relative stand-alone selling price basis, which is determined based on the prices charged to or expected to recover from customers.

In respect of the Group's VAS services directly delivered to the Group's customers and paid through various third-party platforms, these third-party platforms collect the relevant service fees (the "Online Service Fees") on behalf of the Group and they are entitled to a pre-determined percentage of platform provider fees (as part of "Channel and distribution costs"). Such Channel and distribution costs are withheld and deducted from the gross Online Service Fees collected by these platforms from the users, with the net amounts remitted to the Group. The Group recognises the Online Service Fees as revenue on a gross basis, given it acts as the principal in these transactions based on the assessment according to the criteria stated in (e) below, and recognises such Channel and distribution costs as cost of revenues.

The Group also opens its online platforms to third-party game/application developers under certain co-operation agreements, of which the Group pays to the third-party game/application developers a pre-determined percentage of the fees paid by and collected from the users of the Group's online platforms for the virtual products/items purchased. The Group recognises the related revenue on a gross or net basis depending on whether the Group is acting as a principal or an agent in the transaction. The Group adopts different revenue recognition methods based on its specific responsibilities/obligations in different VAS offerings.

(b) FinTech and Business Services

FinTech and Business Services revenues mainly comprise revenues derived from provision of FinTech and cloud services.

FinTech service revenues mainly include commissions from payment, wealth management and other FinTech services, which is generally determined as a percentage based on the value of transaction amount or retention amount. Revenue related to such commissions is recognised upon a time when the Group satisfies its performance obligations by rendering services.

Cloud services are mainly charged on either a subscription or consumption basis. For cloud service contracts billed based on a fixed amount for a specified service period, revenue is recognised over the subscribed period when the services are delivered to customers. For cloud service provided on a consumption basis, revenue is recognised based on the customer utilisation of the resources. When a cloud-based service includes multiple performance obligations, the Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation on a relative stand-alone selling price basis, which is determined based on the prices charged to or expected to recover from customers.

(c) Online Advertising

Online Advertising revenues mainly comprise revenues derived from media advertisements and from social and others advertisements, depending on the placement of advertising properties and inventories.

Advertising contracts are signed to establish the prices and advertising services to be provided based on different arrangements, including display-based advertising that are display of ads for an agreed period of time, and performance-based advertising.

Revenue from display-based advertising are recognised on number of display/impression basis or ratably over the respective contractual term with the advertisers or their advertising agencies depending on the contractual measures. Revenue from performance-based advertising are recognised when relevant specific performance measures are fulfilled. Where the contracts include multiple performance obligations, the Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation on a relative stand-alone selling price basis, which is determined based on the prices charged to or expected to recover from customers.

(d) Other revenues

The Group's other revenues are primarily derived from production of and distribution of, films and television programmes for third parties, copyrights licensing, merchandise sales and various other activities. The Group recognises other revenues when the respective services are rendered, or when the control of the products are transferred to customers.

(e) Principal agent consideration

The Group reports the revenue on a gross or net basis depending on whether the Group is acting as a principal or an agent in a transaction. The Group is a principal if it controls the specified product or service before that product or service is transferred to a customer or it has a right to direct others to provide the product or service to the customer on the Group's behalf. Indicators that the Group is a principal include but not limited to whether the Group (i) is the primary obligor in the arrangement; (ii) has latitude in establishing the selling price; (iii) has discretion in supplier selection; (iv) changes the product or performs part of the service, and (v) has involvement in the determination of product or service specifications.

(f) Contract liabilities and contract costs

A contract liability is the Group's obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. The Group's contract liabilities mainly comprise of unamortised pre-paid tokens or cards, virtual items, Internet traffic and other support to be offered to certain investee companies in the future periods measured at their fair value on the inception dates, and customer loyalty incentives offered to the customers (Note 5(c)).

Contract costs include incremental costs of obtaining a contract and costs to fulfil a contract with the customers. The contract costs are amortised using a method which is consistent with the pattern of recognition of the respective revenues.

(g) Practical expedients and exemptions

The transaction price allocated to the performance obligations that are unsatisfied, or partially unsatisfied, has not been disclosed, as substantially all of the Group's contracts have a duration of one year or less. The unsatisfied performance obligation related to cooperation agreements with certain investees have been included in deferred revenue.

2.31 Interest income

Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset except for financial assets that subsequently become credit-impaired. For credit-impaired financial assets the effective interest rate is applied to the net carrying amount of the financial asset (after deduction of the loss allowance). Interest income is presented as "Interest income" where it is mainly earned from financial assets that are held for cash management purposes.

2.32 Dividend income

Dividends are received from FVPL and FVOCI. Dividends are recognised in "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement when the right to receive payment is established. This applies even if they are paid out of pre-acquisition profits, unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of an investment. In this case, the dividend is recognised in other comprehensive income if it relates to an investment measured at FVOCI. However, the investment may need to be tested for impairment as a consequence.

2.33 Government grants/subsidies

Grants/Subsidies from government are recognised at their fair value where there is a reasonable assurance that the grants/subsidies will be received and the Group will comply with all attached conditions.

Under these circumstances, the grants/subsidies are recognised as income or matched with the associated costs and expenses which the grants/subsidies are intended to compensate.

2.34 Leases

As explained in Note 2.2 above, the Group has changed its accounting policy for leases where the Group is the lessee. The new policy is described below and the impact of the change in Note 2.2.

The Group leases land use rights (Note 2.12), various buildings, computer equipment and others. Rental contracts are typically made for fixed periods of no longer than 10 years. Lease terms are negotiated on an individual basis and contain a wide range of different terms and conditions. The lease agreements do not impose any covenants, but leased assets may not be used as security for borrowing purposes.

Prior to 1 January 2019, leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by lessors are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases (net of any incentives received from the lessors) are charged to the consolidated income statement on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease.

Upon initial adoption of IFRS 16 from 1 January 2019, a lease is recognised as a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the Group. Each lease payment is allocated between the liability and finance cost. The finance cost is charged to profit or loss over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period. The right-of-use asset is depreciated over the shorter of the asset's useful life and the lease term on a straight-line basis. A right-of-use asset arising from land lease is presented as "land use rights".

Assets and liabilities arising from a lease are initially measured on a present value basis. Lease liabilities include the net present value of the following lease payments:

- fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments), less any lease incentives receivable;
- variable lease payments that are based on an index or a rate;
- amounts expected to be payable by the lessee under residual value guarantees;
- the exercise price of a purchase option if the lessee is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and
- payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the lessee exercising that option.

The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease. If that rate cannot be readily determined, which is generally the case for leases in the Group, the lessee's incremental borrowing rate is used, being the rate that the individual lessee would have to pay to borrow the funds necessary to obtain an asset of similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment with similar terms, security and conditions.

To determine the incremental borrowing rate, the Group:

- where possible, uses recent third-party financing received by the individual lessee as a starting point, adjusted to reflect changes in financing conditions since third-party financing was received;
- uses a build-up approach that starts with a risk-free interest rate adjusted for credit risk for leases held by the Group, which does not have recent third-party financing; and
- makes adjustments specific to the lease, e.g. term, country, currency and security.

Lease payments are allocated between principal and finance cost. The finance cost is charged to profit or loss over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period.

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost comprising the following:

- the amount of the initial measurement of lease liability;
- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received;
- any initial direct costs; and
- restoration costs.

A right-of-use asset is generally depreciated over the shorter of the asset's useful life and the lease term on a straight-line basis. If the Group is reasonably certain to exercise a purchase option, the right-of-use asset is depreciated over the underlying asset's useful life.

Payments associated with short-term leases are recognised on a straight-line basis as an expense in profit or loss. Short-term leases are leases with a lease term of 12 months or less.

The Group considers the lease as a single transaction in which the assets and liabilities are integrally linked. There is no net temporary difference at inception. Subsequently, the differences arisen on settlement of the liabilities and the amortisation of the right-of-use assets, there will be a net temporary difference on which deferred tax is recognised.

2.35 Dividends distribution

Dividends distribution to the Company's shareholders is recognised as a liability in the Group's and Company's financial statements in the period in which the dividend is approved by the Company's shareholders or board of directors where appropriate.

2.36 Research and development expenses

Research expenditure is recognised as an expense as incurred.

Costs incurred on development projects (relating to the design and testing of new or improved products) are capitalised as intangible assets when recognition criteria are fulfilled and tests for impairment are performed annually. Other development expenditures that do not meet those criteria are recognised as expenses as incurred. Development costs previously recognised as expenses are not recognised as assets in subsequent periods.

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

3.1 Financial risk factors

The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including foreign exchange risk, price risk and interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group's overall risk management strategy seeks to minimise the potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Group. Risk management is carried out by the senior management of the Group.

(a) Market risk

(i) Foreign exchange risk

The Group operates internationally and is exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from various currency exposures, primarily with respect to Hong Kong Dollars ("HKD"), USD and Euro ("EUR"). Foreign exchange risk arises when future commercial transactions or recognised assets and liabilities are denominated in a currency that is not the respective functional currency of the Group's subsidiaries. The functional currency of the Company and majority of its overseas subsidiaries is USD whereas the functional currency of the subsidiaries which operate in the PRC is RMB.

The Group manages its foreign exchange risk by performing regular reviews of the Group's net foreign exchange exposures and tries to minimise these exposures by using foreign currency forwards.

During the year ended 31 December 2019, the Group entered into foreign currency forward contracts in relation to projected purchases that qualify as "high probable" forecast transactions and hence satisfy the requirements for hedge accounting. Under the Group's policy the critical terms of the forwards must align with the hedged items.

The Group only designates the spot component of foreign currency forwards in hedge relationships. The spot component is determined with reference to relevant spot market exchange rates. The differential between the contracted forward rate and the spot market exchange rate is defined as the forward points. It is discounted, where material.

The changes in the forward element of the foreign currency forwards that relate to hedged items are deferred in the costs of hedging reserve. The effects of the foreign currency related hedging instruments are not material to the Group's consolidated financial statements.

- (a) Market risk (continued)
 - (i) Foreign exchange risk (continued)

As at 31 December 2019, the Group's major monetary assets and liabilities exposed to foreign exchange risk are listed below:

	USD denominated RMB'Million	Non-USD denominated RMB'Million
As at 31 December 2019
Monetary assets, current	27,728	2,899
Monetary assets, non-current	373	–
Monetary liabilities, current	(4,273)	(14,732)
Monetary liabilities, non-current	(91)	(5,739)
	23,737	(17,572)
As at 31 December 2018
Monetary assets, current	18,041	1,994
Monetary assets, non-current	2,642	–
Monetary liabilities, current	(3,434)	(4,587)
Monetary liabilities, non-current	(3,733)	(9,430)
	13,516	(12,023)

During the year ended 31 December 2019, the Group reported exchange gains of approximately RMB77 million (2018: RMB229 million) within "Finance costs, net" in the consolidated income statement.

As at 31 December 2019, management considers that any reasonable changes in foreign exchange rates of the above currencies against the two major functional currencies would not result in a significant change in the Group's results, as the net carrying amounts of financial assets and liabilities denominated in a currency other than the respective subsidiaries' functional currency are considered to be not significant, given the exchange rate peg between HKD and USD. Accordingly, no sensitivity analysis is presented for foreign exchange risk.

(ii) Price risk

The Group is exposed to equity price risk mainly arising from investments held by the Group that are classified either as FVPL (Note 24) or FVOCI (Note 25). To manage its price risk arising from the investments, the Group diversifies its investment portfolio. The investments are made either for strategic purposes, or for the purpose of achieving investment yield and balancing the Group's liquidity level simultaneously. Each investment is managed by senior management on a case by case basis.

Sensitivity analysis is performed by management to assess the exposure of the Group's financial results to equity price risk of FVPL and FVOCI at the end of each reporting period. If prices of the respective instruments held by the Group had been 5% (31 December 2018: 5%) higher/lower as at 31 December 2019, profit for the year would have been approximately RMB6,611 million higher/lower as a result of gains/losses on financial instruments classified as at FVPL (2018: RMB4,794 million), other comprehensive income would have been approximately RMB4,018 million higher/lower as a result of gains/losses on financial instruments classified as at FVOCI (2018: RMB2,147 million).

(iii) Interest rate risk

The Group's income and operating cash flows are substantially independent from changes in market interest rates and the Group has no significant interest-bearing assets except for loans to investees and investees' shareholders, term deposits with initial terms of over three months, restricted cash and cash and cash equivalents, details of which have been disclosed in Notes 26, 29 and 31.

The Group's exposure to changes in interest rates is also attributable to its borrowings and notes payable, details of which have been disclosed in Notes 35 and 36, representing a substantial portion of the Group's debts. Borrowings and notes payable carried at floating rates expose the Group to cash flow interest-rate risk whereas those carried at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest-rate risk.

The Group regularly monitors its interest rate risk to identify if there are any undue exposures to significant interest rate movements and manages its cash flow interest rate risk by using interest rate swaps, whenever considered necessary.

During the year ended 31 December 2019, the Group entered into certain interest rate swap contracts to hedge its exposure arising from borrowings carried at floating rates. Under these interest rate swap contracts, the Group agreed with the counterparties to exchange, at specified interval, the difference between fixed contract rates and floating-rate interest amounts calculated by reference to the agreed notional amounts. These interest rate swap contracts had the economic effect of converting borrowings from floating rates to fixed rates and were qualified for hedge accounting. Details of the Group's outstanding interest rate swap contracts as at 31 December 2019 have been disclosed in Note 38.

The effects of the interest rate swaps on the Group's financial position and performance are as follows:

	2019	2018
	RMB'Million	RMB'Million
Interest rate swaps

Swaps currently in place cover majority of the floating-rate borrowing and notes payable principal outstanding.

As at 31 December 2019 and 2018, management considered that any reasonable changes in the interest rates would not result in a significant change in the Group's results as the Group's exposure to cash flow interest-rate risk arising from its borrowings and notes payable carried at floating rates after considering the effect of hedging is considered to be insignificant. Accordingly, no sensitivity analysis is presented for interest rate risk.

(b) Credit risk

The Group is exposed to credit risk in relation to its cash and deposits placed with banks and financial institutions, accounts receivable, other receivables, as well as short-term investments measured at amortised cost, at FVOCI and at FVPL. The carrying amount of each class of these financial assets represents the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk in relation to the corresponding class of financial assets.

The majority of the balances of accounts receivable are due from advertising customers and agencies, content production related customers, FinTech and cloud customers and third party platform providers. To manage the risk arising from accounts receivable, the Group has policies in place to ensure that revenues of credit terms are made to counterparties with an appropriate credit history and the management performs ongoing credit evaluations of its counterparties. The credit periods granted to these customers are disclosed in Note 30 and the credit quality of these customers are assessed, which takes into account their financial position, past experience and other factors. The Group has a large number of customers and there is no concentration of credit risk.

Other receivables are mainly comprised of loans to investees and investees' shareholders, rental deposits and other receivables. Management makes periodic collective assessments as well as individual assessment on the recoverability of other receivables based on historical settlement records and past experience.

The Group considers the probability of default upon initial recognition of asset and whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk on an ongoing basis throughout each of the years. To assess whether there is a significant increase in credit risk, the Group compares risk of a default occurring on the assets as at year end with the risk of default as at the date of initial recognition. Especially the following indicators are incorporated:

- internal credit rating;
- external credit rating (as far as available);
- actual or expected significant adverse changes in business, financial economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant change to the counterparty's ability to meet its obligations;
- actual or expected significant changes in the operating results of the counterparty; and
- significant changes in the expected performance and behavior of the counterparty, including changes in the payment status of the counterparty.

(i) Credit risk of cash and deposits and short-term investments

To manage this risk, the Group only makes transactions with state-owned banks and financial institutions in the PRC and reputable international banks and financial institutions outside of the PRC. There has been no recent history of default in relation to these banks and financial institutions. The expected credit loss is close to zero.

(ii) Credit risk of accounts receivable

The Group applies the simplified approach to provide for expected credit losses prescribed by IFRS 9, which permits the use of the lifetime expected loss provision for all accounts receivable. In view of the sound financial position and collection history of receivables due from these counterparties and insignificant risk of default, to measure the expected credit losses, accounts receivable have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics and the days past due.

The expected loss rates are based on the payment profiles of revenue over 12 months before 31 December 2019 and the corresponding historical credit losses experienced within this period. The historical loss rates are adjusted to reflect current and forward-looking information on macroeconomic factors (such as the GDP of the countries in which it sells its goods and services) affecting the ability of the customers to settle the receivables.

A default on accounts receivable is when the counterparty fails to make contractual payments within 90 days of when they fall due. Accounts receivable are written off, in whole or in part, when it has exhausted all practical recovery efforts and has concluded that there is no reasonable expectation of recovery. Indicators that there is no reasonable expectation of recovery include, amongst others, the failure of a debtor to engage in a repayment plan within the Group, and a failure to make contractual payments for a period of greater than 3 years past due.

Impairment losses on accounts receivables are presented as net impairment losses within operating profit. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited against the same item.

(iii) Credit risk of other receivables

Management considers the credit risk of other receivables is insignificant when they have a low risk of default and the issuer has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term, and the loss allowance recognised is therefore limited to 12 months expected losses. In view of insignificant risk of default and credit risk since initial recognition, management believes that the expected credit loss under the 12 months expected losses method is immaterial.

(c) Liquidity risk

The Group aims to maintain sufficient cash and cash equivalents and readily marketable securities, which are classified as FVPL. Due to the dynamic nature of the underlying businesses, the Group maintains flexibility in funding by maintaining adequate balances of such.

The table below analyses the Group's financial liabilities by relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period since the end of the reporting period to the contractual maturity date (or the earliest date a financial liability may become payable in the absence of a fixed maturity date). The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows.

3.2 Capital risk management

The Group's objectives on managing capital are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern and support the sustainable growth of the Group in order to provide returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders and to maintain an optimal capital structure to enhance shareholders' value in the long term.

Capital refers to equity and external debts (including borrowings and notes payable). In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the amount of dividends paid to shareholders, return capital to shareholders, issue new shares, repurchase the Company's shares or raise/repay debts.

The Group monitors capital by regularly reviewing debts to adjusted earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation ("EBITDA") (Note) ratio, being the measure of the Group's ability to pay off all debts that reflects financial health and liquidity position. The total debts/adjusted EBITDA ratio calculated by dividing the total debts by adjusted EBITDA is as follows:

	2019	2018
	RMB'Million	RMB'Million
Borrowings (Note 35)	126,952	114,271
Notes payable (Note 36)	93,861	65,018

Adjusted EBITDA (Note)	147,395	118,273

Note:

Adjusted EBITDA represents operating profit less interest income and other gains/(losses), net, and adding back depreciation of property, plant and equipment, investment properties as well as right-of-use assets, amortisation of intangible assets and equity-settled share-based compensation expenses.

3.3 Fair value estimation

The table below analyses the Group's financial instruments carried at fair value as at 31 December 2019 by level of the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. Such inputs are categorised into three levels within a fair value hierarchy as follows:

- Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1);
- Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices) (level 2); and
- Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs) (level 3).

	Level 1 RMB'Million	Level 2 RMB'Million	Level 3 RMB'Million	Total RMB'Million
As at 31 December 2019
FVPL	14,766	5,091	116,079	135,936
FVOCI	74,707	–	7,014	81,721
OFA	–	375	–	375
Other financial liabilities	–	523	1,873	2,396
As at 31 December 2018
FVPL	10,875	5,009	81,993	97,877
FVOCI	41,578	–	1,941	43,519
OFA	–	2,032	–	2,032
Other financial liabilities	–	40	4,466	4,506

The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets is determined with reference to quoted market prices at the end of the reporting period. A market is regarded as active if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis. These instruments are included in level 1.

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined by using valuation techniques. These valuation techniques maximise the use of observable market data where it is available and rely as little as possible on entity specific estimates. If all significant inputs required for evaluating the fair value of a financial instrument are observable, the instrument is included in level 2.

If one or more of the significant inputs are not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

Specific valuation techniques used to value financial instruments mainly include:

- Dealer quotes for similar instruments;
- The fair value of interest rate swaps is calculated as the present value of the estimated future cash flows based on observable yield curves; and
- Other techniques, such as discounted cash flow analysis, are used to determine fair value for financial instruments.

During the year ended 31 December 2019, there was 1 transfer between level 1 and 2 for recurring fair value measurements. For transfers in and out of level 3 measurements see the following table, which presents the changes of financial instruments in level 3 for the years ended 31 December 2019 and 2018:

Note:

Valuation processes inputs and relationships to fair value (Level 3)

The Group has a team of personnel who performs valuation on these level 3 instruments for financial reporting purposes. The team performs valuation, or necessary updates, at least once every quarter, which coincides with the Group's quarterly reporting dates. On an annual basis, the team adopts various valuation techniques to determine the fair value of the Group's level 3 instruments. External valuation experts may also be involved and consulted when it is necessary.

The components of the level 3 instruments mainly include investments in unlisted companies classified as FVPL or FVOCI, and other financial liabilities. Other financial liabilities mainly include contingent consideration payable related to business combination of the Group. As these investments and instruments are not traded in an active market, majority of their fair values have been determined using applicable valuation techniques including comparable transactions approach and other option pricing approach. These valuation approaches require significant judgment, assumptions and inputs, including risk-free rates, expected volatility, relevant underlying financial projections, and market information of recent transactions (such as recent fund raising transactions undertaken by the investees) and other exposure, etc.

The following table summarises the quantitative information about the significant unobservable inputs used in level 3 fair value measurements of investments in unlisted companies.

Description	Fair value as		Significant unobservable inputs	Range of inputs		Relationship of unobservable inputs to fair value
	at 31 December			at 31 December
	2019	2018		2019	2018

Investments in unlisted companies in FVPL and FVOCI	118,775	80,175	Expected volatility	36% ~ 83%	28% ~ 76%	The higher the expected volatility, the lower the fair value
Contingent consideration related to business combination	1,873	3,145	Growth rate of net profit	35%	50%	The higher the growth rate, the higher the fair value
			Expected volatility	25%	15%	The higher the expected volatility, the lower the fair value

For the fair value of the Group's investments in unlisted companies, the sensitivity analysis is performed by management, see Note 3.1(a)(ii) for details.

For the fair value of contingent consideration related to business combination, if growth rate of net profit had been 5% higher or lower as at 31 December 2019, the fair value would have increased approximately RMB65 million (2018: RMB150 million) or decreased approximately RMB66 million (2018: RMB171 million). If the expected volatility had been 5% higher or lower as at 31 December 2019, the fair value would have decreased approximately RMB34 million (2018: RMB90 million) or increased approximately RMB25 million (2018: RMB92 million).

4 CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGMENTS

Estimates and judgments are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The Group makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal to the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are addressed below:

(a) The estimates of the lifespans of virtual products/items provided on the Group's online platforms

As mentioned in Note 2.30(a), the end users purchase certain virtual products/items provided on the Group's online platforms and the relevant revenue is recognised based on the estimated lifespans of the virtual products/items. The estimated lifespans of different virtual products/items are determined by the management based on either the expected users' relationship periods or the stipulated period of validity of the relevant virtual products/items depending on the respective terms of virtual products/items.

Significant judgments are required in determining the expected users' relationship periods, including but not limited to historical users' consumption patterns, churn out rate and reactivity on marketing activities, games life-cycle, and the Group's marketing strategy. The Group has adopted a policy of assessing the estimated lifespans of virtual products/items on a regular basis whenever there is any indication of change in the expected users' relationship periods.

The Group will continue to monitor the average lifespans of the virtual products/items. The results may differ from the historical period, and any change in the estimates may result in the revenue being recognised on a different basis from that in prior periods.

(b) Recoverability of non-financial assets

The Group tests annually whether goodwill has suffered any impairment. Goodwill and other non-financial assets, mainly including property, plant and equipment, construction in progress, other intangible assets, investment properties, land use rights, right-of-use assets, as well as investments in associates and joint ventures are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. The recoverable amounts have been determined based on value-in-use calculations or fair value less costs to sell. These calculations require the use of judgments and estimates.

Judgment is required to identify any impairment indicators existing for any of the Group's goodwill, other non-financial assets to determine appropriate impairment approaches, i.e., fair value less costs of disposal or value in use, for impairment review purposes, and to select key assumptions applied in the adopted valuation models, including discounted cash flows and market approach. Changing the assumptions selected by management in assessing impairment could materially affect the result of the impairment test and in turn affect the Group's financial condition and results of operations. If there is a significant adverse change in the key assumptions applied, it may be necessary to take additional impairment charge to the consolidated income statement.

(c) Fair value measurement of FVPL, FVOCI and other financial liabilities

The fair value assessment of FVPL, FVOCI and other financial liabilities that are measured at level 3 fair value hierarchy requires significant estimates, which include risk-free rates, expected volatility, relevant underlying financial projections, market information of recent transactions (such as recent fund raising transactions undertaken by the investees) and other assumptions. Changes in these assumptions and estimates could materially affect the respective fair value of these investments.

(d) Share-based compensation arrangements

As mentioned in Note 2.28(c), the Group has granted share options to its employees and other qualifying participants. The directors have adopted the Binomial Model to determine the total fair value of the options granted, which is to be expensed over the respective vesting periods. Significant judgment on parameters, such as risk free rate, dividend yield and expected volatility, is required to be made by the directors in applying the Binomial Model (Note 34).

The fair value of share options granted to employees and other qualifying participants determined using the Binomial Model was approximately HKD3,250 million (equivalent to approximately RMB2,785 million) in 2019 (2018: HKD3,533 million (equivalent to approximately RMB2,868 million)).

The Group has to estimate the expected yearly percentage of grantees that will stay within the Group at the end of vesting periods of the options and awarded shares (the "Expected Retention Rate") in order to determine the amount of share-based compensation expenses charged to the consolidated income statement. As at 31 December 2019, the Expected Retention Rate of the Group and its wholly-owned subsidiaries was assessed to be 95%-97% (31 December 2018: 88%-97%).

(e) Income taxes

The Group is subject to income taxes in numerous jurisdictions. Significant judgment is required in determining the worldwide provision for income taxes. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact current income tax and deferred income tax in the period in which such determination is made.

5 SEGMENT INFORMATION AND REVENUES

(a) Description of segments and principal activities

The chief operating decision-makers mainly include executive directors of the Company. They review the Group's internal reporting in order to assess performance, allocate resources, and determine the operating segments based on these reports.

In view of the increased scale and business importance of payments, financial and enterprise-facing activities, and to help investors better understand the Group's revenue structure and margin trends, a new segment named "FinTech and Business Services" has been separated from "Others" segment from the first quarter of 2019 onwards, both in the internal reports to the chief operating decision makers and in the consolidated financial statements of the Group. The new "FinTech and Business Services" segment primarily consists of: (a) payment, wealth management and other FinTech services; and (b) cloud services and other enterprise-facing activities such as our Smart Retail initiative. The comparative figures in the consolidated income statement and the note have been restated to conform with the new presentation. The Board believes that the above changes in segment information better reflect current market trends, as well as resource allocation and future business development of the Group.

The Group has the following reportable segments for the years ended 31 December 2019 and 2018:

- VAS;
- FinTech and Business Services;
- Online Advertising; and
- Others.

Subsequent to the change, the "Others" business segment now consists of the financials of investment in, production of and distribution of, films and television programmes for third parties, copyrights licensing, merchandise sales and various other activities.

The chief operating decision-makers assess the performance of the operating segments mainly based on segment revenue and gross profit of each operating segment. The selling and marketing expenses and general and administrative expenses are common costs incurred for these operating segments as a whole and therefore, they are not included in the measure of the segments' performance which is used by the chief operating decision-makers as a basis for the purpose of resource allocation and assessment of segment performance. Interest income, other gains/(losses), net, finance income/(costs), net, share of profit/(loss) of associates and joint ventures and income tax expense are also not allocated to individual operating segment.

There were no material inter-segment sales during the years ended 31 December 2019 and 2018. The revenues from external customers reported to the chief operating decision-makers are measured in a manner consistent with that applied in the consolidated income statement.

Other information, together with the segment information, provided to the chief operating decision-makers, is measured in a manner consistent with that applied in these consolidated financial statements. There were no segment assets and segment liabilities information provided to the chief operating decision-makers.

11 TAXATION

(a) Income tax expense

Income tax expense is recognised based on management's best knowledge of the income tax rates expected for the financial year.

- (i) Cayman Islands and British Virgin Islands corporate income tax

The Group was not subject to any taxation in the Cayman Islands and the British Virgin Islands for the years ended 31 December 2019 and 2018.

- (ii) Hong Kong profit tax

Hong Kong profit tax has been provided for at the rate of 16.5% on the estimated assessable profit for the years ended 31 December 2019 and 2018.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

(iii) PRC CIT

PRC CIT has been provided for at applicable tax rates under the relevant regulations of the PRC after considering the available preferential tax benefits from refunds and allowances, and on the estimated assessable profit of entities within the Group established in Mainland China for the years ended 31 December 2019 and 2018. The general PRC CIT rate is 25% in 2019 and 2018.

Certain subsidiaries of the Group in Mainland China were approved as High and New Technology Enterprise, and accordingly, they were subject to a preferential corporate income tax rate of 15% for the years ended 31 December 2019 and 2018. Moreover, according to the announcement and circular issued by relevant government authorities, certain subsidiaries that qualified as national key software enterprises were subject to a preferential corporate income tax rate of 10%.

In addition, according to relevant tax circulars issued by Mainland China tax authorities, certain subsidiaries of the Company are entitled to other tax concessions, mainly including the preferential policy of “2-year exemption and 3-year half rate concession” and the preferential tax rate of 15% applicable for some subsidiaries located in certain areas of Mainland China upon fulfillment of certain requirements of the respective local governments.

(iv) Corporate income tax in other jurisdictions

Income tax on profits arising from other jurisdictions, including the United States, Europe, East Asia and South America, has been calculated on the estimated assessable profit for the year at the respective rates prevailing in the relevant jurisdictions, ranging from 12.5% to 35%.

(v) Withholding tax

According to applicable tax regulations prevailing in the PRC, dividends distributed by a company established in Mainland China to a foreign investor with respect to profit derived after 1 January 2008 are generally subject to a 10% withholding tax. If a foreign investor is incorporated in Hong Kong, under the double taxation arrangement between Mainland China and Hong Kong, the relevant withholding tax rate applicable to the Group will be reduced from 10% to 5% subject to the fulfilment of certain conditions.

Dividends distributed from certain jurisdictions that the Group’s entities operate in are also subject to withholding tax at respective applicable tax rates.

The income tax expense of the Group is analysed as follows:

(b) Value-added tax and other taxes

The operations of the Group are also mainly subject to the following taxes in the PRC:

Category	Tax rate	Basis of levy
Value-added tax ("VAT")	6~17% (Note i)	Sales value of goods sold and services fee income, offsetting by VAT on purchases
Construction fee for cultural undertakings	3% (Note ii)	Taxable advertising income
City construction tax	7%	Net VAT payable amount
Educational surcharge	5%	Net VAT payable amount

Note:

- (i) Effective from 1 May 2018, the 17% and 11% VAT rates applicable to certain goods and services have been reduced to 16% and 10%, respectively, and such VAT rate have been further reduced to 13% and 9% since 1 April 2019, respectively.
- (ii) Effective from 1 July 2019 to 31 December 2024, construction fee for cultural undertakings have been reduced by 50% in certain jurisdictions.

12 EARNINGS PER SHARE

(a) Basic

Basic earnings per share ("EPS") is calculated by dividing the profit attributable to equity holders of the Company by the weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue during the year.

	2019	2018
Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company (RMB' Million)	93,310	78,719
Weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue (million shares)	9,468	9,444
Basic EPS (RMB per share)	9.856	8.336

(b) Diluted

The share options and awarded shares granted by the Company have potential dilutive effect on the EPS. Diluted EPS is calculated by adjusting the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding by the assumption of the conversion of all potential dilutive ordinary shares arising from share options and awarded shares granted by the Company (collectively forming the denominator for computing the diluted EPS).

In addition, the profit attributable to equity holders (numerator) has been adjusted by the effect of the share options and restricted shares granted by the Company's non-wholly owned subsidiaries and associates, excluding those which have anti-dilutive effect to the Group's diluted EPS.

Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company (RMB'Million)	93,310	78,719

Note:

Majority of the Group's contributions to pension plans are related to the local employees in the PRC. All local employees of the subsidiaries in the PRC participate in employee social security plans established in the PRC, which cover pension, medical and other welfare benefits. The plans are organised and administered by the governmental authorities. Except for the contributions made to these social security plans, the Group has no other material commitments owing to the employees. According to the relevant regulations, the portion of premium and welfare benefit contributions that should be borne by the companies within the Group as required by the above social security plans are principally determined based on percentages of the basic salaries of employees, subject to certain ceilings imposed. These contributions are paid to the respective labour and social welfare authorities and are expensed as incurred. The applicable percentages used to provide for these social security plans for the years ended 31 December 2019 and 2018 are listed below:

	Percentage
Pension insurance	12.0 ~ 20.0%

(b) Amounts recognised in consolidated income statement

The consolidated income statement shows the following amounts relating to leases (excluding the amortisation of land use rights, disclosed in Note 17):

	2019 RMB'Million
Depreciation charge of right-of-use assets
Buildings	1,543
Computer equipment	1,501
Others	5
	3,049
Interest expense (included in finance costs, net)	541
Expense relating to short-term leases not included in lease liabilities (included in cost of revenues and expenses)	1,344
Expense relating to variable lease payments not included in lease liabilities (included in cost of revenues and expenses)	2,783

Some computer equipment contain variable lease payments. Variable payments are used for a variety of reasons, including managing cash outflows and minimising the fixed costs. Variable lease payments that depend on usage of bandwidth are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which the condition that triggers those payments occur. Variable lease payments relating to computer equipment leases during the year ended 31 December 2019 were considered to be insignificant.

The total cash outflow in financing activities for leases during the year ended 31 December 2019 was RMB2,882 million, including principal elements of lease payments of approximately RMB2,400 million and related interest paid of approximately RMB482 million, respectively.

Note:

To better help investors understand the composition of the Group's intangible assets, trademarks are presented as a separate category instead of being grouped under "Others", while game licenses, video and music contents, copyrights and other online contents are brought together under the "Media contents" category. The comparative figures have been restated to conform with the new presentation.

During the year ended 31 December 2019, amortisation of RMB27,802 million (2018: RMB24,698 million) and RMB1,152 million (2018: RMB918 million) were charged to cost of revenues and general and administrative expenses, respectively.

During the year ended 31 December 2019, impairment losses of RMB183 million (2018: RMB1,181 million) on goodwill and other intangible assets were charged to the consolidated income statement under “Other gains/(losses), net”, and RMB51 million (2018: Nil) were charged to “cost of revenues” resulting from revisions of financial/business outlook and changes in the market environment for the underlying business.

Impairment tests for goodwill

Goodwill was allocated to VAS segment with RMB86,489 million (31 December 2018: RMB25,672 million), FinTech and Business Services segment with RMB34 million (31 December 2018: Nil) and Others segment with RMB6,933 million (31 December 2018: RMB6,933 million). The Group carries out its impairment testing on goodwill by comparing the recoverable amounts of CGUs or groups of CGUs to their carrying amounts. For the purpose of goodwill impairment review, the recoverable amount of a CGU (or groups of CGUs) is the higher of its fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use.

The key assumptions used for the calculation of the recoverable amounts of the CGUs (or groups of CGUs) under impairment testing were as follows:

For goodwill attributable to the Group’s businesses in online music, online literature, television series and film production, value in use using discounted cash flows was calculated, in most cases, based on five-year period to ten-year period financial projections plus a terminal value related to cash flows beyond the projection period extrapolated at an estimated terminal growth rate of generally not more than 5% (2018: not more than 5%). Pre-tax discount rates ranging from 13% to 25% (2018: 15% to 25%) were adopted, which reflected assessment of time value and specific risks relating to the industries that the Group operates in. Management leveraged their experiences in the industries and provided forecast based on past performance and their anticipation of future business and market developments. Key parameters applied in the financial projections for impairment review purpose also included revenue growth rates, on a compound annual basis, of not more than 18% (2018: not more than 27%).

For goodwill attributable to the Group’s online game business within VAS segment, fair value less costs of disposal was determined based on ratios of EV (enterprise value) divided by EBITDA of several comparable public companies (range: 10-25x) (2018: range: 11-21x) multiplied by the EBITDA of the related CGU (or group of CGUs) and discounted for lack of marketability at a range of 10% to 20% (2018: 10% to 20%). The comparable public companies were chosen based on factors such as industry similarity, company size, profitability and financial risks.

As at 31 December 2019, management has not identified reasonably possible change in key assumptions that could cause carrying amounts of the CGU’s (or groups of CGUs’) to exceed the recoverable amount.

- (i) investment in an associate of approximately RMB17,735 million, which held majority interests in a mobile game developer, was transferred to investment in a subsidiary (Note 41(a));
 - (ii) associates achieved in stages of an aggregate amount of approximately RMB6,127 million, which mainly included approximately RMB3,202 million transferred from FVPL due to the conversion of redeemable instruments or preferred shares into ordinary shares upon their IPOs, and approximately RMB2,874 million transferred from financial instruments due to acquiring board representatives or converting the convertible promissory note; and
 - (iii) associates of an aggregate amount of approximately RMB6,029 million were transferred to FVPL and approximately RMB1,311 million were transferred to FVOCI as a result of changes in nature of these investments.
- (c) During the year ended 31 December 2019, a company listed in the PRC completed a substantial assets reorganisation pursuant to which it acquired the entire equity interest of an associate of the Group through a share swap. Upon completion of the aforesaid reorganisation, the Group's equity interest in that associate was exchanged for approximately 5% of the issued ordinary shares of the listed company valued at approximately RMB3,526 million. Since the Group has no board representative in the listed company and this investment is not held for trading, this investment was recognised as FVOCI.
- (d) Both external and internal sources of information of associates are considered in assessing whether there is any indication that the investment may be impaired, including but not limited to financial position, business performance and market capitalisation. The Group carries out impairment assessment on those investments with impairment indications, and the respective recoverable amounts of investments are determined with reference to the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use.

In respect of the recoverable amount using value in use, the discounted cash flows calculations were based on cash flow projections estimated by management and the key assumptions adopted in these cash flow projections include revenue growth rate, profit margins and discount rate. The pre-tax discount rates adopted range from 15% to 20%. In respect of the recoverable amount based on fair value less costs of disposal, except for those listed associates using their respective market prices, the fair value less costs of disposal was calculated using certain key valuation assumptions including the selection of comparable companies, recent market transactions and liquidity discount for lack of marketability.

As a result, the Group made an aggregate impairment provision of RMB3,877 million (2018: RMB14,069 million) against the carrying amounts of certain investments in associates during the year ended 31 December 2019, which includes impairment loss of approximately RMB5,427 million recognised and approximately RMB1,550 million reversed. The impairment losses mainly resulted from revisions of financial/business outlook of the associates and changes in the market environment of the underlying business.

The associates of the Group have been accounted for by using equity method based on the financial information of the associates prepared under the accounting policies generally consistent with the Group.

Note:

- (a) During the year ended 31 December 2019, the Group's additions to FVPL mainly comprised the following:
- (i) an investment in a retail company of approximately USD500 million (equivalent to approximately RMB3,550 million) to subscribe for approximately 21% of its equity interests in form of preferred shares, on an outstanding basis;
 - (ii) an additional investment in a real estate O2O platform in the PRC of approximately USD320 million (equivalent to approximately RMB2,258 million). As at 31 December 2019, the Group's equity interests in this investee company are approximately 9% on an outstanding basis; and
 - (iii) new investments and additional investments with an aggregate amount of approximately RMB38,810 million in listed and unlisted entities mainly operating in the United States, the PRC and other Asian countries. These companies are principally engaged in social networks, Internet platform, technology and other Internet-related business. None of the above investment was individually significant that triggers any disclosure requirements pursuant to Chapter 14 of the Listing Rules at the time of inception.
- (b) During the year ended 31 December 2019, except as described in Note 21(b), transfers also mainly comprised an equity investment designated as FVOCI due to the conversion of the redeemable instruments into ordinary shares amounting to RMB1,395 million upon its IPO.
- (c) During the year ended 31 December 2019, the Group disposed of certain investments with an aggregate amount of RMB16,664 million, which are mainly engaged in the provision of Internet-related services.
- (d) Management has assessed the level of influence that the Group exercises on certain FVPL with shareholding exceeding 20%. Since these investments are either held in form of redeemable instruments or interests in limited life partnership without significant influence, these investments have been classified as FVPL.

Beginning from 1 January 2018, the Group applies the simplified approach permitted by IFRS 9, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the assets. The provision matrix is determined based on historical observed default rates over the expected life of the receivables with similar credit risk characteristics and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. The historical observed default rates are updated and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analysed at year end. For the year ended 31 December 2019 and 2018, information about the impairment of accounts receivable and the Group's exposure to credit risk and foreign currency risk can be found in Note 3.1.

Note:

- (a) The capital reserve mainly arises from transactions undertaken with non-controlling interests.
- (b) In accordance with the Companies Laws of the PRC and the stipulated provisions of the articles of association of subsidiaries with limited liabilities in the PRC, appropriation of net profit (after offsetting accumulated losses from prior years) should be made by these companies to their respective Statutory Surplus Reserve Funds and the Discretionary Reserve Funds before distributions are made to the owners. The percentage of appropriation to Statutory Surplus Reserve Fund is 10%. The amount to be transferred to the Discretionary Reserve Fund is determined by the equity owners of these companies. When the balance of the Statutory Surplus Reserve Fund reaches 50% of the registered capital, such transfer needs not to be made. Both the Statutory Surplus Reserve Fund and Discretionary Reserves Fund can be capitalised as capital of an enterprise, provided that the remaining Statutory Surplus Reserve Fund shall not be less than 25% of the registered capital.

In addition, in accordance with the Law of the PRC on Enterprises with Foreign Investments and the stipulated provisions of the articles of association of wholly owned foreign subsidiaries in the PRC, appropriation from net profit (after offsetting accumulated losses brought forward from prior years) should be made by these companies to their respective Reserve Fund. The percentage of net profit to be appropriated to the Reserve Fund is not less than 10% of the net profit. When the balance of the Reserve Fund reaches 50% of the registered capital, such transfer needs not be made.

With approvals obtained from respective boards of directors of these companies, the Reserve Fund can be used to offset accumulated deficit or to increase capital.

- (c) Share-based compensation reserve arises from share option schemes and share award schemes adopted by the subsidiaries of the Group (Note 34(d)).
- (d) The Group has elected to recognise changes in the fair value of certain investments in equity instruments in other comprehensive income. These changes are accumulated with FVOCI reserve with equity. The Group transfers amounts from this reserve to retained earnings when the relevant equity instruments are derecognised.

34 SHARE-BASED PAYMENTS

(a) Share option schemes

The Company has adopted five share option schemes, namely, the Pre-IPO Option Scheme, the Post-IPO Option Scheme I, the Post-IPO Option Scheme II, the Post-IPO Option Scheme III and the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV.

The Pre-IPO Option Scheme, the Post-IPO Option Scheme I and the Post-IPO Option Scheme II and the Post-IPO Option Scheme III expired on 31 December 2011, 23 March 2014, 16 May 2017 and 13 May 2019, respectively. Upon the expiry of these schemes, no further options would be granted under these schemes, but the options granted prior to such expiry continued to be valid and exercisable in accordance with provisions of the schemes. As at 31 December 2019, there were no outstanding options exercisable of the Pre-IPO Option Scheme, the Post-IPO Option Scheme I and the Post-IPO Option Scheme III.

In respect of the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV which continues to be in force, the Board may, at its discretion, grant options to any qualifying participants to subscribe for shares in the Company, subject to the terms and conditions stipulated therein. The exercise price must be in compliance with the requirement under the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange. In addition, the option vesting period is determined by the Board provided that it is not later than the last day of a 7-year period for the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV after the date of grant of option.

During the year ended 31 December 2019, 3,506,580 options were granted to an executive director of the Company (2018: 3,215,800 options were granted to an executive director of the Company).

As a result of the options exercised during the year ended 31 December 2019, 1,612,741 ordinary shares (2018: 6,891,249 ordinary shares) were issued by the Company (Note 32). The weighted average price of the shares at the time these options were exercised was HKD339.07 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB301.04 per share) (2018: HKD399.37 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB325.67 per share)).

(ii) Outstanding share options

Details of the expiry dates, exercise prices and the respective numbers of share options which remained outstanding as at 31 December 2019 and 2018 are as follows:

Expiry Date	Range of exercise price	Number of share options
		31 December 2019	31 December 2018
7 years commencing from the date of grant of options	HKD49.76 HKD112.30~HKD174.86	– 22,761,755	22,875 23,504,535

(iii) Fair value of options

The directors of the Company have used the Binomial Model to determine the fair value of the options as at the respective grant dates, which is to be expensed over the relevant vesting period. The weighted average fair value of options granted during the year ended 31 December 2019 was HKD123.82 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB106.09 per share) (2018: HKD127.43 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB103.46 per share)).

Other than the exercise price mentioned above, significant judgment on parameters, such as risk free rate, dividend yield and expected volatility, are required to be made by the directors in applying the Binomial Model, which are summarised as below.

Weighted average share price at the grant date	HKD373.33	HKD405.00
Risk free rate	1.08%~2.07%	1.77%~2.27%
Dividend yield	0.23%	0.24%~0.25%
Expected volatility (Note)	30.00%	30.00%

Note:

The expected volatility, measured as the standard deviation of expected share price returns, is determined based on the average daily trading price volatility of the shares of the Company.

(b) Share award schemes

The Company has adopted three share award schemes (the “Share Award Schemes”) as of 31 December 2019, which are administered by an independent trustee appointed by the Group. The vesting period of the awarded shares is determined by the Board.

Movements in the number of awarded shares for the years ended 31 December 2019 and 2018 are as follows:

	Number of awarded shares
	2019	2018
At beginning of the year	50,247,895	63,636,254
Granted	53,096,782	20,940,149
Lapsed/forfeited	(3,191,477)	(2,882,349)
Vested and transferred	(23,537,445)	(31,446,159)
At end of the year	76,615,755	50,247,895
Vested but not transferred as at the end of the year	46,313	45,432

During the year ended 31 December 2019, 59,484 awarded shares were granted to five independent non-executive directors of the Company (2018: 39,500 awarded shares were granted to four independent non-executive directors of the Company).

The fair value of the awarded shares was calculated based on the market price of the Company’s shares at the respective grant date. The expected dividends during the vesting period have been taken into account when assessing the fair value of these awarded shares.

The weighted average fair value of awarded shares granted during the year ended 31 December 2019 was HKD360.25 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB313.18 per share) (2018: HKD374.32 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB316.30 per share)).

The outstanding awarded shares as of 31 December 2019 were divided into one to five tranches on an equal basis as at their grant dates. The first tranche can be exercised immediately or after a specified period ranging from four months to five years from the grant date, and the remaining tranches will become exercisable in each subsequent year.

(c) Employee investment schemes

To align the interests of key employees with the Group, the Group established six employees' investment plans in the form of limited liability partnerships in 2011, 2014, 2015, 2016 and 2017 (the "EIS") respectively. The EIS in 2011 was terminated in 2019. According to the term of the EISs, the Board may, at its absolute discretion, invite any qualifying participants of the Group, excluding any director of the Company, to participate in the EISs by subscribing for the partnership interest at cash consideration. The participating employees are entitled to all the economic benefits generated by the EISs, if any, after a specified vesting period under the respective EISs, ranging from four to seven years. Wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Company acting as general partner of these EISs administer and in essence, control the EISs. These EISs are therefore consolidated by the Company as structured entities.

The related share-based compensation expenses incurred for the years ended 31 December 2019 and 2018 were insignificant to the Group.

(d) Share options and share award schemes adopted by subsidiaries

Certain subsidiaries of the Group operate their own share-based compensation plans (share option and/or share award schemes). Their exercise prices of the share options, as well as the vesting periods of the share options and awarded shares are determined by the respective board of directors of these subsidiaries at their sole discretion. The share options or restricted shares of the subsidiaries granted are normally vested by several tranches. Participants of some subsidiaries have the right to request the Group to repurchase their vested equity interests of the respective subsidiaries ("Repurchase Transaction"). The Group has discretion to settle the Repurchase Transaction by using either equity instruments of the Company or by cash. For the Repurchase Transaction which the Group has settlement options, the directors of the Company are currently of the view that some of them would be settled by equity instruments of the Company. As a result, they are accounted for using the equity-settled share-based payment method. In addition, Halti S.A. ("Halti"), the parent company of Supercell Oy ("Supercell"), provides a put arrangement to the participants of the share-based compensation plans operated by Supercell for cash, the share-based compensation plans of Supercell are accounted for as cash-settled share-based payment transactions in the consolidated financial statement.

(e) Expected retention rate of grantees

The Group has to estimate the expected yearly percentage of grantees that will stay within the Group at the end of vesting periods of the options and awarded shares (the "Expected Retention Rate") in order to determine the amount of share-based compensation expenses charged to the consolidated income statement. As at 31 December 2019, the Expected Retention Rate of the Group's wholly-owned subsidiaries was assessed to be 95%~97% (31 December 2018: 88%~97%).

41 BUSINESS COMBINATION

(a) The acquisition of additional equity voting interest in an associate holding a majority interest in Supercell

On 21 October 2019 (the “Acquisition Date”), the Group acquired additional 44,000 ordinary voting shares in an associate, Halti, by converting the entire principal outstanding and relevant interest under the USD40 million convertible bond issued by Halti into ordinary voting shares (“Conversion”) when it became exercisable. As at the Acquisition Date, Halti held a majority interest in and controlled a mobile game developer Supercell. After the Conversion, the Group increased its equity voting interest in Halti from 50% to 51.2%, and considered it has sufficient power to control Halti. As a result, Halti was accounted for as a subsidiary of the Group upon the Conversion (“Step-up Acquisition”). The equity interest held under investment in an associate was re-measured to fair value and a remeasurement gain of approximately RMB1,550 million was recognised in profit or loss.

Goodwill of approximately RMB59,406 million was recognised as a result of the Step-up Acquisition. It was mainly attributable to the operating synergies and economies of scale expected to be derived from combining the operations. None of the goodwill is expected to be deductible for income tax purpose. The Group chose to record the non-controlling equity interests in Halti at fair value on Acquisition Date.

Note:

Prior to the Step-up Acquisition, Halti has granted put option to non-controlling shareholders of Supercell, and the non-controlling shareholders shall have the right to request Halti to purchase their vested shares at a pre-determined schedule. The put price was determined based on the financial performance of Supercell and a pre-determined formula that was set out in the respective shareholders' agreements. Accordingly, the put liability of approximately RMB7,452 million (Note 38) which was measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows was recognised upon the completion of Step-up Acquisition. The put liability was subsequently measured at amortised cost.

The Group's revenue for the year would be increased by not more than 5% and the results for the year would not be materially different should the Step-up Acquisition otherwise occur on 1 January 2019.

The related transaction costs of the Step-up Acquisition are not material to the Group's consolidated financial statements.

(b) Other business combinations

During the year ended 31 December 2019, the Group also acquired certain insignificant subsidiaries. The aggregate considerations for these acquisitions was approximately RMB1,280 million, fair value of net assets acquired (including identifiable intangible assets), non-controlling interests and goodwill recognised were approximately RMB389 million, RMB29 million and RMB920 million, respectively.

The revenue and the results contributed by these acquired subsidiaries for the period since respective acquisition date were insignificant to the Group. The Group's revenue and results for the year would not be materially different if these acquisitions had occurred on 1 January 2019.

The related transaction costs of these business combinations were not material to the Group's consolidated financial statements.

Note:

- (a) As described in Note 1, the Company does not have legal ownership in equity of these structured entities or their subsidiaries. Nevertheless, under certain contractual agreements entered into with the registered owners of these structured entities, the Company and its other legally owned subsidiaries control these companies by way of controlling the voting rights, governing their financial and operating policies, appointing or removing the majority of the members of their controlling authorities, and casting the majority of votes at meetings of such authorities. In addition, such contractual agreements also transfer the risks and rewards of these companies to the Company and/or its other legally owned subsidiaries. As a result, they are presented as controlled structured entities of the Company.
- (b) The directors of the Company considered that the non-wholly owned subsidiaries with non-controlling interests are not significant to the Group, therefore, no summarised financial information of these non-wholly owned subsidiaries is presented separately.
- (c) All subsidiaries' undertakings are included in the consolidation. The proportion of the voting rights in the subsidiary's undertakings held directly by the parent company does not differ from its proportion of ordinary shares held. The parent company further does not have any shareholdings in the preference shares of subsidiary's undertakings included in the Group.

(d) Significant restrictions

As at 31 December 2019, cash and cash equivalents, term deposits and restricted cash of the Group, amounting to RMB121.98 billion were held in Mainland China and they are subject to local exchange control and other financial and treasury regulations. The local exchange control, and other financial and treasury regulations provide for restrictions, on payment of dividends, share repurchase and offshore investments, other than through normal activities.

(e) Consolidation of structured entities

As mentioned in Note (a) above and Note 34(c), the Company has consolidated the operating entities within the Group without any legal interests and the EISs out of which wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Company act as general partner. In addition, due to the implementation of the share award schemes of the Group mentioned in Note 34(b), the Company has also set up a structured entity ("Share Scheme Trust"), and its particulars are as follows:

Structured entity	Principal activities
Share Scheme Trust	Administering and holding the Company's shares acquired for share award schemes which are set up for the benefits of eligible persons of the Schemes

As the Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of the Share Scheme Trust and can derive benefits from the contributions of the eligible persons who are awarded with the shares by the schemes, the directors of the Company consider that it is appropriate to consolidate the Share Scheme Trust.

During the year ended 31 December 2019, the Company contributed approximately RMB1,186 million (2018: RMB2,187 million) to the Share Scheme Trust for financing its acquisition of the Company's shares.

Our opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2018, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”) and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Independent Auditor's Report

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing ("ISAs"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independence

We are independent of the Group in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants ("IESBA Code"), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the IESBA Code.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters identified in our audit are summarised as follows:

- Revenue recognition on provision of online games value-added services – estimates of the lifespans of virtual products/items
- Impairment assessments of goodwill, investments in associates and joint ventures
- Fair value measurement of financial instruments, including financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income and other financial liabilities

Key Audit Matter

Revenue recognition on provision of online games value-added services – estimates of the lifespans of virtual products/items

Refer to Note 2.30(a), 4(a) and 5(b) to the consolidated financial statements

The Group has recognised revenue from sales of virtual products/items to the users in respect of value-added services rendered on the Group's online platforms. The relevant revenue is recognised over the lifespans of respective virtual products/items which was determined by the management, on an item by item basis, with reference to the expected users' relationship periods or the stipulated period of validity of the relevant virtual products/items, depending on the terms of the virtual products/items.

During the year ended 31 December 2018, a majority of the Group's revenue from value-added services was contributed from online games and was predominately derived from the sales of virtual products/items.

We focused on this area due to the fact that management applied significant judgment in determining the expected users' relationship periods for certain virtual products/items. These judgment included (i) the determination of key assumptions applied in the expected users' relationship periods, including but not limited to historical users' consumption patterns, churn rates and reactivity on marketing activities, games life-cycle, and the Group's marketing strategy; and (ii) the identification of events that may trigger changes in the expected users' relationship periods.

How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

We discussed with management and evaluated their judgment on key assumptions in determining the estimated lifespans of the virtual products/items that were based on the expected users' relationship periods.

We tested, on a sample basis, key controls in respect of the recognition of revenue from sales of virtual products/items, including management's review and approval of (i) determination of the estimated lifespans of new virtual products/items prior to their launches; and (ii) changes in the estimated lifespans of existing virtual products/items based on periodic reassessment on any indications triggering such changes. We also assessed the data generated from the Group's information system supporting the management's review, including tested the information system logic for generation of reports, and checked, on a sample basis, the monthly computation of revenue recognised on selected virtual products/items generated directly from the Group's information system.

We assessed, on a sample basis, the expected users' relationship periods adopted by management by testing the data integrity of historical users' consumption patterns and calculation of the churn rates. We also evaluated the consideration made by management in determining the underlying assumptions for expected users' relationship periods with reference to historical operating and marketing data of the relevant games. We also assessed, on a sample basis, the historical accuracy of the management's estimation process by comparing the actual users' relationship periods for the year against the original estimation for selected virtual products/items.

We found that the results of our procedures performed to be materially consistent with management's supporting documentation.

Key Audit Matter

Impairment assessments of goodwill, investments in associates and joint ventures

Refer to Notes 2.13(a), 2.15, 4(b), 19, 20 and 21 to the consolidated financial statements

As at 31 December 2018, the Group held significant amounts of goodwill, investments in associates and joint ventures amounting to RMB32,605 million, RMB219,215 million and RMB8,575 million, respectively. Impairment provision of RMB784 million, RMB14,069 million and RMB2,328 million had been recognised during the year ended 31 December 2018 against the carrying amounts, respectively.

We focused on this area due to the magnitude of the carrying amounts of these assets and the fact that significant judgment were required by management (i) to identify whether any impairment indicators existed for any of these assets during the year; (ii) to determine the appropriate impairment approaches, i.e. fair value less costs of disposal or value in use; and (iii) to select key assumptions to be adopted in the valuation models, including discounted cash flows and market approach, for the impairment assessments.

How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

We tested management's assessment including periodic impairment indications evaluation as to whether indicators of impairment exist by corroborating with management and market information.

We also tested, on a sample basis, key controls in respect of the impairment assessments, including the determination of appropriate impairment approaches, valuation models and assumptions and the calculation of impairment provisions, which we found no material exceptions.

Management adopted different valuation models, on a case by case basis, in carrying out the impairment assessments, mainly including discounted cash flows and market approach. We assessed, on a sample basis, the basis management used to identify separate groups of cash generating units that contain goodwill, the impairment approaches and the valuation models used in management's impairment assessments, which we found them to be appropriate.

In respect of the impairment assessments of cash generating units that contain goodwill, investments in associates and investments in joint ventures using discounted cash flows, we assessed the key assumptions adopted including revenue growth rates, profit margins, discount rates and other assumptions by examining the approved financial/business forecast models, and comparing actual results for the year against the previous period's forecasts and the applicable industry/business data external to the Group. We assessed certain of these key assumptions with the involvement of our internal valuation experts. We considered that the key assumptions adopted by management are in line with our expectation and evidence obtained.

How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

In respect of the impairment assessments of cash generating units that contain goodwill, investments in associates and investments in joint ventures using market approach, we assessed the valuation assumptions including the selection of comparable companies, recent market transactions, and liquidity discount for lack of marketability, etc. We assessed these key assumptions adopted by management with the involvement of our internal valuation experts based on our industry knowledge and independent research performed by us. We considered that the key assumptions adopted by management are in line with our expectation and evidence obtained.

We independently tested, on a sample basis, the accuracy of mathematical calculation applied in the valuation models and the calculation of impairment charges. We did not identify any material exceptions from our testing.

Fair value measurement of financial instruments, including financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income and other financial liabilities

Refer to Notes 3.3, 4(c), 23, 24, 37 to the consolidated financial statements

As at 31 December 2018, the Group's financial assets and financial liabilities which were carried at fair value comprised financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income and other financial liabilities of approximately RMB97,877 million, RMB43,519 million and RMB4,506 million, respectively, of which approximately RMB83,934 million of these financial assets and approximately RMB4,466 million of these financial liabilities were measured based on significant unobservable inputs and classified as "Level 3 financial instruments".

We focused on this area due to the high degree of judgment required in determining the respective fair values of Level 3 financial instruments, which do not have direct open market quoted values, with respect to the adoption of applicable valuation methodology and the application of appropriate assumptions in the valuation.

How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

In respect of the fair value measurement of Level 3 financial instruments, we tested the key controls, on a sample basis, in relation to the valuation process including the adoption of applicable valuation methodology and the application of appropriate assumptions in different circumstances, by inspection of the evidence of management's review, which we found no material exceptions.

We involved our internal valuation experts to discuss with management and assess the appropriateness of valuation methodology and assumptions used. We tested, on a sample basis, valuation of Level 3 financial instruments as at 31 December 2018 by evaluating the underlying assumptions and inputs including risk-free rates, expected volatility, relevant underlying financial projections, and market information of recent transactions (such as recent fund raising transactions undertaken by the investees) as well as underlying supporting documentation. We also tested, on a sample basis, the arithmetical accuracy of the valuation computation. We found that the valuation methodology of Level 3 financial instruments is acceptable and the assumptions made by management are supported by available evidence.

OTHER INFORMATION

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all of the information included in the annual report other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF DIRECTORS AND THOSE CHARGED WITH GOVERNANCE FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. We report our opinion solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

Independent Auditor's Report

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Independent Auditor's Report

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Tong Yu Keung.

1 GENERAL INFORMATION

Tencent Holdings Limited (the “Company”) was incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability. The address of its registered office is Cricket Square, Hutchins Drive, P.O. Box 2681, Grand Cayman KY1-1111, Cayman Islands. The shares of the Company have been listed on the Main Board of the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Stock Exchange”) since 16 June 2004.

The Company is an investment holding company. The Company and its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Group”) are principally engaged in the provision of value-added services (“VAS”) and online advertising services to users in the People’s Republic of China (the “PRC”).

The operations of the Group were initially conducted through Shenzhen Tencent Computer Systems Company Limited (“Tencent Computer”), a limited liability company established in the PRC by certain shareholders of the Company on 11 November 1998. Tencent Computer is legally owned by the core founders of the Company who are PRC citizens (the “Registered Shareholders”).

The PRC regulations restrict foreign ownership of companies that provide value-added telecommunications services, which include activities and services operated by Tencent Computer. In order to enable certain foreign companies to make investments into the business of the Group, the Company established a subsidiary, Tencent Technology (Shenzhen) Company Limited (“Tencent Technology”), which is a wholly foreign owned enterprise incorporated in the PRC, on 24 February 2000. The foreign investors of the Company then subscribed to additional equity interests in the Company.

Under a series of contractual arrangements (collectively, “Structure Contracts”) entered into among the Company, Tencent Technology, Tencent Computer and the Registered Shareholders, the Company is able to effectively control, recognise and receive substantially all the economic benefit of the business and operations of Tencent Computer. In summary, the Structure Contracts provide the Company through Tencent Technology with, among other things:

- the right to receive the cash received by Tencent Computer from its operations which is surplus to its requirements, having regard to its forecast working capital needs, capital expenditure, and other short-term anticipated expenditure through various commercial arrangements;
- the right to ensure that Tencent Technology owns the valuable assets of the business through the assignment to Tencent Technology of the principal present and future intellectual property rights of Tencent Computer; and
- the right to control the management, financial and operating policies of Tencent Computer.

As a result, Tencent Computer is accounted for as a controlled structured entity (see also Note 2.3(a) and Note 46) and the formation of the Group in 2000 was accounted for as a business combination between entities under common control under a method similar to the uniting of interests method for recording all assets and liabilities at predecessor carrying amounts. This approach was adopted because in management's belief it best reflected the substance of the formation.

Similar Structure Contracts were also executed for other PRC operating companies established by the Group similar to Tencent Computer subsequent to 2000. All these PRC operating companies are treated as controlled structured entities of the Company and their financial statements have also been consolidated by the Company. See details in Note 46.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

2.1 Basis of preparation

The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with all applicable International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs"). The consolidated financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income, other financial liabilities and derivative financial instruments, which are carried at fair value.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRSs requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgment in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgment or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the consolidated financial statements are disclosed in Note 4.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.1 Basis of preparation (Cont'd)

(a) New and amended standards adopted by the Group

The following standards and amendments have been adopted by the Group for the first time for the financial year beginning on 1 January 2018:

IFRS 9	Financial instruments
IFRS 15	Revenue from contracts with customers
IFRS 2 (amendment)	Classification and measurement of share-based payment transactions
IAS 40 (amendment)	Transfers of investment property
IFRIC 22	Foreign currency transactions and advance consideration

The Group has changed its accounting policies following the adoption of IFRS 9 and IFRS 15. Except IFRS 9, the adoption of these new and amended standards does not have significant impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Group, details of which are disclosed in Note 2.2.

(b) New standards and interpretations issued but not yet effective

A number of new standards and interpretations have not come into effect for the financial year beginning 1 January 2018, and have not been early adopted by the Group in preparing the consolidated financial statements. None of these is expected to have a significant effect on the consolidated financial statements of the Group, except IFRS 16 "Lease" as set out below:

Nature of change

IFRS 16 was issued in January 2016. It will result in almost all leases being recognised on the statement of financial position by lessees, as the distinction between operating and finance leases is removed. Under the new standard, an asset (the right to use the leased item) and a financial liability to pay rentals are recognised. The only exceptions are short-term and low-value leases.

Impact

The Group has set up a project team which has reviewed all of the Group's leasing arrangements effective as of the year of ended 31 December 2018 in light of the new lease accounting rules in IFRS 16. The standard will affect primarily the accounting for the Group's operating leases.

As at the reporting date, the Group has non-cancellable operating lease commitments of RMB12,294 million, see Note 42. Of these commitments, approximately RMB189 million relate to short-term leases which will be recognised on a straight-line basis as expense in profit or loss.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

For the year ended 31 December 2018

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.1 Basis of preparation (Cont'd)

- (b) New standards and interpretations issued but not yet effective (Cont'd)

For the remaining lease commitments, based on management's preliminary assessment, the Group expects to recognise right-of-use assets of approximately RMB10 billion and lease liabilities of approximately RMB10 billion on 1 January 2019. The Group expects that net profit will not be materially changed as a result of adopting the new rules. It will result in reclassification of operating cash flows and financing cash flows relating to the payments of lease liabilities.

The Group's activities as a lessor are not material and hence the Group does not expect any significant impact on the consolidated financial statements. However, some additional disclosures will be required from the financial year beginning on 1 January 2019.

Date of adoption by Group

The Group will apply the standard from its mandatory adoption date of 1 January 2019. The Group intends to apply the simplified transition approach and will not restate comparative amounts for the year prior to first adoption. All right-of-use assets will be measured at the amount of the lease liabilities on adoption (adjusted for any prepaid or accrued lease expenses).

2.2 Changes in accounting policies

This note explains the impact of the adoption of IFRS 9 "Financial Instruments" and IFRS 15 "Revenue from Contracts with Customers" on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

- (a) IFRS 9 Financial Instruments

IFRS 9 replaces the provisions of IAS 39 that relate to the recognition, classification and measurement of financial assets and financial liabilities, derecognition of financial instruments, impairment of financial assets and hedge accounting.

The Group's adoption of IFRS 9 from 1 January 2018 resulted in changes in accounting policies and adjustments to the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements. The new accounting policies are set out in Note 2.16 and 2.17 below. In accordance with the transitional provisions in IFRS 9, comparative figures have not been restated. As a result, any adjustments to carrying amounts of financial assets or financial liabilities were recognised at the beginning of the current year, with the difference recognised in opening retained earnings.

2.2 Changes in accounting policies (Cont'd)

(a) IFRS 9 Financial Instruments (Cont'd)

Classification and measurement

Management has assessed the business model and the terms relating to the collection of contractual cash flows applicable to the financial assets held by the Group at the date of initial application of IFRS 9 (1 January 2018) and has classified its financial instruments into the appropriate IFRS 9 categories, which are those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through other comprehensive income or through profit or loss), and those to be measured at amortised cost. The main effects resulting from this reclassification are as follows:

At 1 January 2018	AFS	RCPS	OFA	FVPL	FVOCI	Total
	RMB'Million	RMB'Million	RMB'Million	RMB'Million	RMB'Million	RMB'Million
Opening balance – IAS 39	127,218	22,976	5,624	–	–	155,818
Reclassification of available-for-sale financial assets (“AFS”) to financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (“FVPL”)	(68,703)	–	–	68,703	–	–
Reclassification of AFS to financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income (“FVOCI”)	(58,515)	–	–	–	58,515	–
Reclassification of investments in redeemable instruments of associates (“RCPS”) to FVPL	–	(22,976)	–	22,976	–	–
Reclassification of other financial assets (“OFA”) to FVPL	–	–	(3,818)	3,818	–	–
Opening balance – IFRS 9	–	–	1,806	95,497	58,515	155,818

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.2 Changes in accounting policies (Cont'd)

(a) IFRS 9 Financial Instruments (Cont'd)

Classification and measurement (Cont'd)

The main effects resulting from this reclassification on the Group's equity are as follows:

At 1 January 2018	Effect on AFS reserves RMB'Million	Effect on FVOCI reserves RMB'Million	Effect on retained earnings RMB'Million
Opening balance – IAS 39	31,152	–	202,682
Reclassification of AFS to FVPL	(16,210)	–	16,210
Reclassification of AFS to FVOCI	(14,942)	14,942	–
Total impact	(31,152)	14,942	16,210
Opening balance – IFRS 9	–	14,942	218,892

Certain equity investments and debt instruments previously classified as AFS at an aggregated amount of RMB68,703 million were reclassified from AFS to FVPL on 1 January 2018, and accumulated fair value gains of RMB16,210 million were transferred from the AFS reserves to retained earnings on 1 January 2018.

Certain equity investments of RMB58,515 million were reclassified from AFS to FVOCI on 1 January 2018, because these investments are not held for trading and meet the definition of equity instruments from the perspective of the issuer. The Group elected to classify them as FVOCI. As a result, accumulated fair value gains of RMB14,942 million were transferred from the AFS reserves to FVOCI reserves on 1 January 2018.

Investments in RCPS of RMB22,976 million with embedded derivatives of RMB3,818 million previously recorded in OFA were considered in their entirety as a single instrument and were reclassified to FVPL as at 1 January 2018. They do not meet the definition of equity instruments from the perspective of the issuer and they are not eligible to be classified as at amortised cost in accordance with IFRS 9, because their cash flows do not represent solely payments of principal and interest. There was no impact on the amounts previously recognised in profit or loss in relation to these assets from the adoption of IFRS 9.

For the year ended 31 December 2018

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.2 Changes in accounting policies (Cont'd)

(a) IFRS 9 Financial Instruments (Cont'd)

Classification and measurement (Cont'd)

There was no impact on the Group's accounting for financial liabilities, as the new requirements only affect the accounting for financial liabilities that are designated at fair value through profit or loss, while the Group did not have any such liabilities.

Derivative and hedging activities

In prior years, the Group entered into certain interest rate swap contracts to hedge its exposure arising from its borrowings carried at floating rates, which were qualified as hedge accounting. The interest rate swaps in place as at 31 December 2017 qualified as cash flow hedges under IFRS 9 and have been thus treated as continuing hedges upon the adoption of the standard.

Impairment of financial assets

The Group has the following types of financial assets subject to the new expected credit loss model under IFRS 9:

- Accounts receivable; and
- Deposits and other receivables.

For accounts receivable, the Group applies the simplified approach for expected credit losses prescribed by IFRS 9. Based on the assessments performed by management, the changes in the loss allowance for accounts receivable were not significant.

Impairment on deposits and other receivables is measured as either 12-month expected credit losses or lifetime expected credit loss, depending on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since the initial recognition. Based on the assessments performed by management, the changes in the loss allowance for deposits and other receivables were insignificant.

(b) IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers

The Group has adopted IFRS 15 from 1 January 2018 which resulted in changes in accounting policies and adjustments to the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements. IFRS 15 establishes a comprehensive framework for determining when to recognise revenue and how much revenue to recognise through a five-step approach, provides specific guidance on contract costs and license arrangements, and also includes a cohesive set of disclosure requirements about revenue and cash flows arising from the contracts with customers of which details are disclosed in Note 5. In accordance with the transition provisions in IFRS 15, the Group has adopted the new rules retrospectively, and since the impact is not material to the consolidated financial statements of the Group, comparative figures have not been restated.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.3 Subsidiaries

(a) Consolidation

Subsidiaries are all entities (including structured entities) over which the Group has control. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. Subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group. They are deconsolidated from the date that control ceases.

Intra-group transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the transferred asset. When necessary, amounts reported by subsidiaries have been adjusted to conform with the Group's accounting policies.

(i) Business combinations

The Group applies the acquisition method to account for business combinations. The consideration transferred for the acquisition of a subsidiary is the fair values of the assets transferred, the liabilities incurred to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group. The consideration transferred also includes the fair value of any asset or liability resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement. Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are measured initially at their fair values at the acquisition date.

The Group recognises any non-controlling interest in the acquiree on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis. Non-controlling interests in the acquiree that are present ownership interests and entitle their holders to a proportionate share of the entity's net assets in the event of liquidation are measured at either fair value or the present ownership interests' proportionate share in the recognised amounts of the acquiree's identifiable net assets.

Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

If the business combination is achieved in stages, the acquisition date carrying value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is re-measured to fair value at the acquisition date; any gains or losses arising from such re-measurement are recognised in profit or loss.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

For the year ended 31 December 2018

2.3 Subsidiaries (Cont'd)

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the Group is recognised at fair value at the acquisition date. Subsequent changes to the fair value of the contingent consideration that is deemed to be an asset or liability is recognised in profit or loss. Contingent consideration that is classified as equity is not re-measured, and its subsequent settlement is accounted for within equity.

The excess of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree and the acquisition-date fair value of any previous equity interest in the acquiree over the fair value of the identifiable net assets acquired is recorded as goodwill. If the total of consideration transferred, non-controlling interest recognised and previously held interest measured is less than the fair value of the net assets of the subsidiary acquired in the case of a bargain purchase, the difference is recognised directly in the consolidated income statement.

(ii) Changes in ownership interests in subsidiaries without change of control

Transactions with non-controlling interests that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions – that is, as transactions with the owners of the subsidiary in their capacity as owners. The difference between fair value of any consideration paid and the relevant share acquired of the carrying amount of net assets of the subsidiary is recorded in equity. Gains or losses on disposals to non-controlling interests are also recorded in equity.

(iii) Disposal of subsidiaries

When the Group ceases to have control, any retained interest in the entity is re-measured to its fair value at the date when control is lost, with the change in carrying amount recognised in the consolidated income statement. The fair value is the initial carrying amount for the purposes of subsequently accounting for the retained interest as an associate, a joint venture or financial asset. In addition, any amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in respect of that entity are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. It means that amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to the consolidated income statement or transferred to another category of equity as specified/permitted by applicable IFRSs.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2.3 Subsidiaries (Cont'd)

(b) Separate financial statements

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for at cost less impairment. Cost includes direct attributable costs of investment. The results of subsidiaries are accounted for by the Company on the basis of dividends received and receivable. In addition, the contribution to the Company's Share Scheme Trust (as defined in Note 46(e)), a controlled structured entity, is stated at cost in "Contribution to Share Scheme Trust", and will be transferred to the "Shares held for share award schemes" under equity when the contribution is used for the acquisition of the Company's shares.

Impairment testing of the investments in subsidiaries is required upon receiving dividends from these investments if the dividends exceed the total comprehensive income of the subsidiaries in the period the dividends are declared or if the carrying amount of the investments in the separate financial statements exceeds the carrying amount in the consolidated financial statements of the investee's net assets including goodwill.

2.4 Associates

Associates are all entities over which the Group has significant influence but not control or joint control, generally but not necessarily accompanying a shareholding of between 20% and 50% of the voting rights. Investments in associates are accounted for using the equity method of accounting and are initially recognised at cost. The Group's investments in associates include underlying goodwill identified on acquisition, net of any accumulated impairment loss.

The Group's share of its associates' post-acquisition profit or loss is recognised in the consolidated income statement, and its share of post-acquisition movements in other comprehensive income is recognised in other comprehensive income. Dividends received or receivable from associates are recognised as a reduction in the carrying amount of the investment. When the Group's share of losses in an associate equals or exceeds its interests in the associate, including any other unsecured long-term receivables, the Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.

The Group determines at each reporting date whether there is any objective evidence that investments accounted for using the equity method, including investments in associates and joint arrangements (Note 2.5), are impaired. If this is the case, the Group calculates the amount of impairment as the difference between the recoverable amount of the investment and its carrying value and recognises the amount in "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement.

For the year ended 31 December 2018

2.4 Associates (Cont'd)

Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interests in the associates. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of associates have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

Gains or losses on dilution of equity interest in associates are recognised in the consolidated income statement. If the ownership interest in an associate is reduced but significant influence is retained, only a proportionate share of the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified to consolidated income statement where appropriate.

2.5 Joint arrangements

Under IFRS 11 investments in joint arrangements are classified as either joint operations or joint ventures depending on the contractual rights and obligations of each investor. The Group has assessed the nature of its joint arrangements and determined them to be joint ventures. Joint ventures are accounted for using the equity method.

Under the equity method of accounting, interests in joint ventures are initially recognised at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the post-acquisition profit or loss and movements in other comprehensive income. When the Group's share of losses in a joint venture equals or exceeds its interests in the joint venture (which includes any long-term receivables that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the joint venture), the Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the joint venture.

Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its joint ventures are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interests in the joint ventures. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of the joint ventures have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

For the year ended 31 December 2018

2.6 Investments in associates/joint ventures achieved in stages

The cost of associates/joint ventures acquired in stages, except for the change from an associate to a joint venture, is measured as the sum of the fair value of the interests previously held plus the fair value of any additional consideration transferred as of the date when it becomes associate/joint venture. A gain or loss on re-measurement of the previously held interests is taken to the consolidated income statement. Any other comprehensive income recognised in prior periods in relation to the previously held interests is also taken to the consolidated income statement. Any acquisition-related costs are expensed in the period in which the costs are incurred.

2.7 Disposal of associates

When the Group loses significant influence over an associate, it measures any retained investment at fair value. A gain or loss is recognised at any difference between the fair value of any retained interest plus any proceeds from disposing part of the interests in the associate and the carrying amount of the investment at the date the equity method of accounting was discontinued. The amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income by an associate should be reclassified to the consolidated income statement or transferred to another category of equity as specified and permitted by applicable IFRSs when the Group loses significant influence over the associate.

2.8 Segment reporting

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision-makers, who are responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments and making strategic decisions. The chief operating decision-makers mainly include the executive directors.

2.9 Foreign currency translation

(a) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the "functional currency"). The functional currency of the Company and certain of its overseas subsidiaries is United States Dollars ("USD"). As the major operations of the Group are within the PRC, the Group presents its consolidated financial statements in Renminbi ("RMB"), unless otherwise stated.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

For the year ended 31 December 2018

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.9 Foreign currency translation (Cont'd)

(b) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at year-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the consolidated income statement.

Non-monetary items that are measured at fair value in foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined. Translation differences on assets and liabilities carried at fair value are reported as part of the fair value gain or loss. For example, translation differences on non-monetary financial assets and liabilities such as equity instruments held at fair value through profit or loss are recognised in the consolidated income statement as part of the fair value gain or loss and translation differences on non-monetary financial assets, such as equity instruments classified as FVOCI, are included in other comprehensive income.

(c) Group companies

The results and financial position of all the group entities (none of which has the currency of a hyper-inflationary economy) that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency of RMB are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- (i) Assets and liabilities for each statement of financial position presented are translated at the closing rate at the date of that statement of financial position;
- (ii) Income and expenses for each income statement are translated at average exchange rates (unless this average is not a reasonable approximation of the cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the rate on the dates of the transactions); and
- (iii) All resulting currency translation differences are recognised as a separate component of other comprehensive income.

On consolidation, exchange differences arising from the translation of the net investment in foreign operations, and of borrowings and other financial instruments designated as hedges of such investments, are taken to other comprehensive income.

Goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on the acquisition of a foreign entity are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign entity and translated at the closing rate. Currency translation differences arising are recognised in other comprehensive income.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.10 Property, plant and equipment

All property, plant and equipment are stated at historical costs less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment charges. Historical costs include expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to the consolidated income statement during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost net of their residual values over their estimated useful lives, as follows:

Buildings	20 ~ 50 years
Computer equipment	2 ~ 5 years
Furniture and office equipment	2 ~ 5 years
Motor vehicles	5 years
Leasehold improvements	Shorter of their useful lives and the lease term

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

Construction in progress represents buildings under construction, which is stated at actual construction costs less any impairment loss. Construction in progress is transferred to property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for use.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount (Note 2.15).

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount and are recognised in "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.11 Investment properties

Investment properties are held for long-term rental yields and are not occupied by the Group. Investment properties are carried at historical costs less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment charges. Historical costs include expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line method to allocate their costs net of their residual values over their estimated useful lives of 20-50 years. Investment properties' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

Investment properties' carrying amounts are written down immediately to their recoverable amounts if their carrying amounts are greater than their estimated recoverable amounts.

2.12 Land use rights

Land use rights are up-front payments to acquire long-term interest in land. These payments are stated at cost and charged to the consolidated income statement on a straight-line basis over the remaining period of the lease.

2.13 Intangible assets

(a) Goodwill

Goodwill arising on the acquisition of subsidiaries represents the excess of the consideration transferred plus acquisition-date fair value of the equity interests previously held by the Group and the non-controlling interests in the acquired entity over the fair value of the net identifiable assets of the acquiree.

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to each of the cash-generating units ("CGUs"), or groups of CGUs, that is expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination. Each unit or group of units to which the goodwill is allocated represents the lowest level within the entity at which the goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes.

Goodwill impairment reviews are undertaken annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate a potential impairment. The carrying value of goodwill is compared to the recoverable amount, which is the higher of value in use and the fair value less costs to sell. Any impairment is recognised immediately under "Other gains/(losses), net" and is not subsequently reversed.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.13 Intangible assets (Cont'd)

(b) Licensed online contents

Licensed online contents mainly include video and music contents. They are initially recognised and measured at cost or estimated fair value as acquired through business combinations. Licensed online contents are amortised using a straight-line method or an accelerated method which reflects the estimated consumption patterns.

(c) Other intangible assets

Other intangible assets mainly include game licences, copyrights, computer software and technology and non-compete agreements. They are initially recognised and measured at cost or estimated fair value of intangible assets acquired through business combinations.

Other intangible assets are amortised over their estimated useful lives (generally one to ten years) using the straight-line method which reflects the pattern in which the intangible asset's future economic benefits are expected to be consumed.

2.14 Shares held for share award schemes

The consideration paid by the Share Scheme Trust (see Note 46(e)) for purchasing the Company's shares from the market, including any directly attributable incremental cost, is presented as "Shares held for share award schemes" and the amount is deducted from total equity.

When the Share Scheme Trust transfers the Company's shares to the awardees upon vesting, the related costs of the awarded shares vested are credited to "Shares held for share award schemes", with a corresponding adjustment made to "Share premium".

2.15 Impairment of non-financial assets

Assets that have an indefinite useful life or are not yet available for use are not subject to amortisation and are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired. Other assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For the purpose of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets other than goodwill that suffered impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at each reporting date.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.16 Investments and other financial assets

(a) Classification and measurement

From 1 January 2018, the Group classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories:

- those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through other comprehensive income, or through profit or loss), and
- those to be measured at amortised cost.

The classification depends on the entity's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

At initial recognition, the Group measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed in profit or loss.

Financial assets with embedded derivatives are considered in their entirety when determining whether their cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest.

Debt instruments

Initial recognition and subsequent measurement of debt instruments depend on the Group's business model for managing the asset and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the asset. There are three categories into which the Group classifies its debt instruments:

- Amortised cost: Financial assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are classified as and measured at amortised cost. A gain or loss on a debt investment measured at amortised cost which is not part of a hedging relationship is recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised or impaired. Interest income from these financial assets is recognised using the effective interest rate method.

2.16 Investments and other financial assets (Cont'd)

- FVOCI: Financial assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows and for selling the financial assets, where the assets' cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest, are classified as and measured at FVOCI. Movements in the carrying amount of these financial assets are taken through other comprehensive income, except for the recognition of impairment losses or reversals, interest income and foreign exchange gains and losses which are recognised in profit or loss. When the financial asset is derecognised, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified from equity to profit or loss and recognised in "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement. Interest income from these financial assets is recognised using the effective interest rate method. Foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in "finance costs, net" and impairment losses or reversals for "Other gains/(losses), net".
- FVPL: Financial assets that do not meet the criteria for amortised cost or FVOCI are classified as and measured at fair value through profit or loss. A gain or loss on a debt investment measured at fair value through profit or loss which is not part of a hedging relationship is recognised in profit or loss and presented in "Other gains/(losses), net" for the period in which it arises.

The Group reclassifies debt investments when and only when its business model for managing those assets changes.

Equity instruments

The Group initially recognises and subsequently measures all equity investments at fair value. Upon initial recognition, the Group's management can elect to classify irrevocably its equity investments as financial assets at FVOCI when they meet the definition of equity instrument under IAS 32 and are not held for trading. The classification is determined on an instrument-by-instrument basis.

Where the Group has made an irrevocable election to present fair value gains and losses on equity investments in other comprehensive income, there is no subsequent reclassification of fair value gains and losses to profit or loss following the derecognition of the investments. Dividends from such investments continue to be recognised in profit or loss as "Other gains/(losses), net" when the Group's right to receive payments is established. Equity instruments designated as FVOCI are not subject to impairment assessment.

FVPL include financial assets designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss and financial assets that do not meet the criteria for amortised cost or FVOCI. Changes in the fair value of FVPL are recognised in "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.16 Investments and other financial assets (Cont'd)

(b) Impairment

From 1 January 2018, the Group assesses on a forward-looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its debt instruments carried at amortised cost and FVOCI. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk.

For accounts receivable and contract assets, the Group applies the simplified approach permitted by IFRS 9, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised since initial recognition.

Impairment on deposits and other receivables is measured as either 12-month expected credit losses or lifetime expected credit losses, depending on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. If a significant increase in credit risk of a deposit or receivable has occurred since initial recognition, the impairment is measured as lifetime expected credit losses.

(c) Accounting policies applied until 31 December 2017

The Group has applied IFRS 9 retrospectively, but has elected not to restate comparative information. As a result, the comparative information provided continues to be accounted for in accordance with the Group's previous accounting policy.

Classification

Until 31 December 2017, the Group classified its financial assets in the following categories: FVPL, loans and receivables and AFS. The classification depended on the purpose for which the financial assets were acquired, management's intentions and whether the assets are quoted in an active market. Management determined the classification of its financial assets at initial recognition.

(i) FVPL

FVPL are financial assets held for trading. A financial asset is classified in this category if acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the short term. Derivatives are classified as held for trading unless they are designated as hedges. Assets in this category are classified as current assets if expected to be settled within 12 months, otherwise they are classified as non-current.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

- (c) Accounting policies applied until 31 December 2017 (Cont'd)

- (ii) Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They are included in current assets, except for those with maturities greater than 12 months after the end of the reporting period which are classified as non-current assets. The Group's loans and receivables comprise "Accounts receivable", "Deposits and other receivables", "Term deposits", "Restricted cash" and "Cash and cash equivalents" in the consolidated statement of financial position.

- (iii) AFS

Investments are designated as AFS if they do not have fixed maturities and fixed or determinable payments, and management intends to hold them for the medium to long-term. Financial assets that are not classified into any of the other categories are also included in the available-for-sale category. They are included in non-current assets unless management intends to dispose of the investment within 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

Subsequent measurement

The measurement at initial recognition did not change on adoption of IFRS 9, see description above.

Subsequent to the initial recognition, AFS and FVPL are subsequently carried at fair value. Loans and receivables are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Changes in the fair value of AFS are recognised in other comprehensive income.

Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the investments have expired or have been transferred and the Group has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership. When AFS are sold or impaired, the accumulated fair value adjustments recognised in other comprehensive income are included in the consolidated income statement as "Other gains/(losses), net".

Interest on loans and receivables calculated using the effective interest method is recognised in the consolidated income statement as part of interest income. Dividends on AFS equity instruments are recognised in the consolidated income statement when the Group's right to receive payments is established.

2.16 Investments and other financial assets (Cont'd)

- (c) Accounting policies applied until 31 December 2017 (Cont'd)

Impairment

The Group assesses at the end of each reporting period whether there is objective evidence that a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired.

A financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired and impairment losses are incurred only if there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the asset (a “loss event”) and that loss event (or events) has an impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset or group of financial assets that can be reliably estimated.

- Assets carried at amortised cost

Evidence of impairment may include indications that the debtor or a group of debtors is experiencing significant financial difficulty, default or delinquency in interest or principal payments, the probability that they will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation, and where observable data indicate that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows, such as changes in arrears or economic conditions that correlate with defaults.

For loans and receivables category, the amount of the impairment loss is measured as the difference between the asset’s carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have not been incurred) discounted at the financial asset’s original effective interest rate. The carrying amount of the asset is reduced and the amount of the impairment loss is recognised in the consolidated income statement. If a loan has a variable interest rate, the discount rate for measuring any impairment loss is the current effective interest rate determined under the contract. As a practical expedient, the Group may measure impairment on the basis of an instrument’s fair value using an observable market price.

If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised (such as an improvement in the debtor’s credit rating), the reversal of the previously recognised impairment loss is recognised in the consolidated income statement.

(c) Accounting policies applied until 31 December 2017 (Cont'd)

- Assets classified as AFS

For equity investments, a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value of the security below its cost is also considered as an indication that the assets are impaired. If any such evidence of impairment exists, the cumulative loss - measured as the difference between the acquisition cost and the current fair value, less any impairment loss on that financial asset previously recognised in the consolidated income statement - is removed from equity and recognised in the consolidated income statement. Impairment losses recognised in the consolidated income statement on equity instruments are not reversed through the consolidated income statement.

For debt securities, if any such evidence exists, the cumulative loss - measured as the difference between the acquisition cost (net of any principal repayment and amortisation) and the current fair value, less any impairment loss on that financial asset previously recognised in the consolidated income statement - is reclassified from equity and recognised in the consolidated income statement. If, in a subsequent period, the fair value of a debt instrument classified as available for sale increases and the increase can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised in the consolidated income statement, the impairment loss is reversed through the consolidated income statement.

Hybrid financial instruments

Hybrid financial instruments held by the Group comprise instruments with redemption features of associates that can be converted to ordinary shares at the option of the holder.

The Group either (i) accounts for different components of the hybrid financial instruments separately or (ii) designates the entire financial instruments as financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit or loss. The host component is recognised initially at the difference between the fair value of the hybrid financial instrument as a whole and the fair value of the embedded derivatives. The subsequent measurement of the host component and embedded derivatives follow the respective accounting policy of financial instruments as stated in Notes 2.16(c) above and 2.17.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.17 Derivative and hedging activities

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative. The method of recognising the resulting gain or loss depends on whether the derivative is designated as a hedging instrument, and if so, the nature of the item being hedged.

The Group designates certain derivatives as hedges of a particular risk associated with the cash flows of a recognised asset or liability or a highly probable forecast transaction (cash flow hedges). The Group documents at the inception of the hedging relationship the economic relationship between hedging instruments and hedged items including whether the hedging instrument is expected to offset changes in cash flows of hedged items. The Group documents its risk management objective and strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions at the inception of each hedge relationship.

A hedging relationship qualifies for hedge accounting if it meets all of the hedge effectiveness requirements under IFRS 9. The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges is recognised through other comprehensive income within equity, while any ineffective portion is recognised immediately in profit or loss, within "Other gains/(losses), net".

Gains or losses relating to the effective portion of the change in intrinsic value of the options are recognised in the cash flow hedge reserve within equity. The changes in the time value of the options that relate to the hedged item ('aligned time value') are recognised within other comprehensive income in the costs of hedging reserve within equity.

Amounts accumulated in equity are accounted for, depending on the nature of the underlying hedged transaction, as follows:

- Where the hedged item subsequently results in the recognition of a non-financial asset, the amounts accumulated in equity are removed from other reserves and included within the initial cost of the asset. These deferred amounts are ultimately recognised in profit or loss as the hedged item affects profit or loss.
- For any other cash flow hedges, the gain or loss relating to the effective portion of the derivatives is reclassified to profit or loss at the same time when the hedged cash flows affects profit or loss.

When a hedging instrument expires, or is sold or terminated, or when a hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, any cumulative deferred gain or loss and deferred costs of hedging in equity at that time remain in equity until the forecast transaction occurs. When the forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur, the cumulative gain or loss and deferred costs of hedging included in equity are immediately reclassified to profit or loss.

2.18 Offsetting financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the consolidated statement of financial position when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in certain circumstances, such as default, insolvency, bankruptcy or the termination of a contract.

2.19 Inventories

Inventories, mainly consisting of merchandise for sale, are primarily accounted for using the weighted average method and are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

2.20 Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable are amounts due from customers or agents for services performed or merchandise sold in the ordinary course of business. If collection of accounts receivable is expected in one year or less, they are classified as current assets. Otherwise, they are presented as non-current assets.

Accounts receivable are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment.

2.21 Cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash

Cash and cash equivalents include cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks, money market funds and other short-term highly liquid investments with initial maturities of three months or less.

The Group does not recognise cash amounts deposited with banks (which are received under its payment business) under users' entrustment in the consolidated statement of financial position as the Group holds these cash amounts as a custodian according to the relevant users' agreements.

2.22 Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or share options are shown in equity as a deduction from the proceeds.

Where any Group company purchases the Company's equity instruments, the consideration paid, including any directly attributable incremental costs, is deducted from equity attributable to the Company's equity holders as treasury shares until the shares are cancelled or reissued. Where such shares are subsequently reissued, any consideration received (net of any directly attributable incremental transaction costs) is included in equity attributable to the Company's equity holders.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.23 Accounts payable

Accounts payable are obligations to pay for services or goods that have been acquired in the ordinary course of business from suppliers. Accounts payable are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within one year or less. If not, they are presented as non-current liabilities.

Accounts payable are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

2.24 Put option arrangements

Put options are financial instruments granted by the Group which permit the holders to put back to the Group their shares in certain subsidiaries for cash or other financial assets when certain conditions are met. If the Group does not have the unconditional right to avoid delivering cash or other financial assets under the put option, a financial liability is initially recognised at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows on exercise under the put option. Subsequently, if the Group revises its estimates of payments, the Group will adjust the carrying amount of the financial liability to reflect actual and revised estimated cash outflows. The Group will recalculate the carrying amount based on the present value of revised estimated future cash outflows at the financial instrument's original effective interest rate and the adjustment will be recognised as "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement. In the event that the put option expires unexercised, the liability is derecognised with a corresponding adjustment to equity.

The put option liabilities are current liabilities unless the put option first becomes exercisable 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

2.25 Financial guarantee contracts

The Group has a financial guarantee contract that represents guarantee provided by the Group in respect of a put arrangement granted by an investee to the employees of its subsidiary.

The financial guarantee contracts are initially recognised as a financial liability at fair value on the date the guarantee is given. The liability is subsequently measured at the higher of:

- the amount determined in accordance with the expected credit loss model under IFRS 9 and
- the amount initially recognised less, where appropriate, the cumulative amount of income recognised in accordance with the principles of IFRS 15.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

For the year ended 31 December 2018

2.25 Financial guarantee contracts (Cont'd)

The fair value of financial guarantees is determined based on the present value of the difference in cash flows between the contractual payments required under the debt instrument and the payments that would be required without the guarantee, or the estimated amount that would be payable to a third party for assuming the obligations.

Where guarantees in relation to loans or other payables of the investees are provided for no compensation, the fair value is accounted for as contributions and recognised as part of the cost of the investment.

2.26 Borrowings, notes payable and borrowing costs

Borrowings and notes payable issued by the Group are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. They are subsequently carried at amortised cost. Any difference between proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in the consolidated income statement over their terms using the effective interest method.

Fees paid on the establishment of loan facilities are recognised as transaction costs of the loan facilities to the extent that it is probable that some or all of the facility will be drawn down. In this case, the fee is deferred until the draw-down occurs. To the extent there is no evidence that it is probable that some or all of the facility will be drawn down, the fee is capitalised as a prepayment for liquidity services and amortised over the term of the facility to which it relates.

Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the Group has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

Notes payable are classified as non-current liabilities unless the Group has an unconditional obligation to settle the liability within 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

General and specific finance costs directly attributable to the acquisition and construction of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. During the year ended 31 December 2018, finance cost capitalised was insignificant to the Group.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.27 Current and deferred income tax

The income tax expense for the year comprises current and deferred tax, which is recognised in the consolidated income statement, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the income tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or in equity, respectively.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period in the countries where the Company's subsidiaries operate and generate taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred income tax is recognised, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements. However, deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of goodwill or of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss is affected. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred tax asset is realised or the deferred tax liability is settled.

Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available to utilise those temporary differences and tax losses.

Deferred income tax is provided on temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries and associates, except for deferred tax liability where the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences is controlled by the Group and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Generally, the Group is unable to control the reversal of the temporary difference for associates. Only when there is an agreement in place that gives the Group the ability to control the reversal of the temporary difference in the foreseeable future, deferred tax liability in relation to taxable temporary differences arising from the associate's undistributed profit is not recognised.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised on deductible temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint arrangements only to the extent that it is probable the temporary difference will reverse in the future and there is sufficient taxable profit available against which the temporary difference can be utilised.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when the deferred tax assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the taxable entity or different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the balances on a net basis.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.28 Employee benefits

(a) Employee leave entitlements

Employee entitlements to annual leave are recognised when they accrue to employees. A provision is made for the estimated liability for annual leave as a result of services rendered by employees up to the end of the reporting period. Employee entitlements to sick and maternity leave are not recognised until the time of leave.

(b) Pension obligations

The Group participates in various defined contribution retirement benefit plans which are available to all relevant employees. These plans are generally funded through payments to schemes established by governments or trustee-administered funds. A defined contribution plan is a pension plan under which the Group pays contributions on a mandatory, contractual or voluntary basis into a separate fund. The Group has no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employees the benefits relating to employee services in the current and prior years. The Group's contributions to the defined contribution plans are expensed as incurred and not reduced by contributions forfeited by those employees who leave the plans prior to vesting fully in the contributions.

(c) Share-based compensation benefits

The Group operates a number of share-based compensation plans (including share option schemes and share award schemes), under which the Group receives services from employees and other qualifying participants as consideration for equity instruments (including share options and awarded shares) of the Group. The fair value of the employee services and other qualifying participants' services received in exchange for the grant of equity instruments of the Group is recognised as an expense over the vesting period, i.e. the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied, and credited to equity.

For grant of share options, the total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the fair value of the options granted by using option-pricing model, "Enhanced FAS 123" binomial model (the "Binomial Model"), which includes the impact of market performance conditions (such as the Company's share price) but excludes the impact of service condition and non-market performance conditions. For grant of award shares, the total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the market price of the Company's shares at the grant date. The Group also adopts valuation techniques to assess the fair value of other equity instruments of the Group granted under the share-based compensation plans as appropriate.

For the year ended 31 December 2018

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.28 Employee benefits (Cont'd)

(c) Share-based compensation benefits (Cont'd)

Non-market performance and service conditions are included in assumptions about the number of options that are expected to become vested.

From the perspective of the Company, the grants of its equity instruments to employees of its subsidiaries are made in exchange for their services related to the subsidiaries. Accordingly, the share-based compensation expenses are treated as part of the "Investments in subsidiaries" in the Company's statement of financial position.

At each reporting period end, the Group revises the estimates of the number of options and awarded shares that are expected to ultimately vest. It recognises the impact of the revision to original estimates, if any, in the consolidated income statement of the Group, with a corresponding adjustment to equity.

When the options are exercised, the proceeds received net of any directly attributable transaction costs are credited to share capital (nominal value) and share premium.

If the Group repurchases vested equity instruments, the payments made to the employees and other qualifying participants shall be accounted for as a deduction from equity, except to the extent that the payment exceeds the fair value of the equity instruments repurchased, measured at the repurchase date. Any such excess shall be recognised as an expense.

If the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, at a minimum an expense is recognised as if the terms had not been modified. An additional expense is recognised for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based payment arrangement, or is otherwise beneficial to the employees and other qualifying participants, as measured at the date of modification.

2.29 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation; and the amount can be reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses.

Where there are a number of similar obligations, the likelihood that an outflow will be required in settlement is determined by considering the class of obligations as a whole. A provision is recognised even if the likelihood of an outflow with respect to any one item included in the same class of obligations may be small.

2.29 Provisions (Cont'd)

Provisions are measured at the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the obligation. The increase in the provision due to passage of time is recognised as interest expense.

2.30 Revenue recognition

The Group generates revenues primarily from provision of VAS, online advertising services and other online related services in the PRC. Revenue is recognised when the control of the goods or services is transferred to a customer. Depending on the terms of the contract and the laws that apply to the contract, control of the goods and services may be transferred over time or at a point in time.

(a) VAS

Revenues from VAS primarily include revenues from the provision of online games and social networks services. Online games revenues are mainly derived from sales of in-game virtual items, and social networks revenues are mainly derived from sales of virtual products such as VAS subscriptions across various online platforms, and games revenues attributable to social networks business. The Group offers virtual products/items to users on the Group's online platforms. The VAS fees are paid directly by end users mainly via online payment channels.

Revenue from VAS is recognised when the Group satisfies its performance obligations by rendering services. Giving there is an explicit or implicit obligation of the Group to maintain the virtual products/items operated on the Group's platforms and allow users to gain access to them, revenue is recognised over the estimated lifespans of the respective virtual products/items. The estimated lifespans of different virtual products/items are determined by the management based on either the expected user relationship periods or the stipulated period of validity of the relevant virtual products/items depending on the respective term of virtual products/items.

Where the contracts include multiple performance obligations, the Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation on a relative stand-alone selling price basis, which is determined based on the prices charged to or expected to recover from customers.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.30 Revenue recognition (Cont'd)

In respect of the Group's VAS services directly delivered to the Group's customers and paid through various third parties platforms, these third party platforms collect the relevant service fees (the "Online Service Fees") on behalf of the Group and they are entitled to a pre-determined percentage of platform provider fees (as part of "Channel and distribution costs"). Such Channel and distribution costs are withheld and deducted from the gross Online Service Fees collected by these platforms from the users, with the net amounts remitted to the Group. The Group recognises the Online Service Fees as revenue on a gross basis, given it acts as the principal in these transactions based on the assessment according to the criteria stated in (d) below, and recognises such Channel and distribution costs as cost of revenues.

The Group also opens its online platforms to third-party game/application developers under certain co-operation agreements, of which the Group pays to the third-party game/application developers a pre-determined percentage of the fees paid by and collected from the users of the Group's online platforms for the virtual products/items purchased. The Group recognises the related revenue on a gross or net basis depending on whether the Group is acting as a principal or an agent in the transaction.

The Group adopts different revenue recognition methods based on its specific responsibilities/obligations in different VAS offerings.

(b) Online advertising

Online advertising revenues mainly comprise revenues derived from media advertisements and from social and others advertisements, depending on the placement of advertising properties and inventories.

Advertising contracts are signed to establish the prices and advertising services to be provided based on different arrangements, including display-based advertising that are display of ads for an agreed period of time, and performance-based advertising.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

(b) Online advertising (Cont'd)

Revenue from display-based advertising are recognised on number of display/impression basis or ratably over the respective contractual term with the advertisers or their advertising agencies depending on the contractual measures. Revenue from performance-based advertising are recognised when relevant specific performance measures are fulfilled. Where the contracts include multiple performance obligations, the Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation on a relative stand-alone selling price basis, which is determined based on the prices charged to or expected to recover from customers.

(c) Other revenues

The Group's other revenues are primarily derived from provision of FinTech services, cloud services, television series and film production services and other businesses. The Group recognises other revenues when the respective services are rendered, or when the control of the products are transferred to customers.

(d) Principal agent consideration

The Group reports revenue on a gross or net basis depending on whether the Group is acting as a principal or an agent in a transaction. The Group is a principal if it controls the specified product or service before that product or service is transferred to a customer or it has a right to direct others to provide the product or service to the customer on the Group's behalf. Indicators that the Group is a principal include but not limited to whether the Group (i) is the primary obligor in the arrangement; (ii) has latitude in establishing the selling price; (iii) has discretion in supplier selection; (iv) changes the product or performs part of the service, and (v) has involvement in the determination of product or service specifications.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

(e) Contract liabilities and contract costs

A contract liability is the Group's obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. The Group's contract liabilities mainly comprise of unamortised pre-paid tokens or cards, virtual items, Internet traffic and other support to be offered to certain investee companies in the future periods measured at their fair value on the inception dates (Note 5(c)), and customer loyalty incentives offered to the customers.

Contract costs include incremental costs of obtaining a contract and costs to fulfil a contract with the customers. The contract costs are amortised using a method which is consistent with the pattern of recognition of the respective revenues.

(f) Practical expedients and exemptions

The transaction price allocated to the performance obligations that are unsatisfied, or partially unsatisfied, has not been disclosed, as substantially all of the Group's contracts have a duration of one year or less. The unsatisfied performance obligation related to cooperation arrangements with certain investees have been included in deferred revenue.

2.31 Interest income

Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset except for financial assets that subsequently become credit-impaired. For credit-impaired financial assets the effective interest rate is applied to the net carrying amount of the financial asset (after deduction of the loss allowance). Interest income is presented as "Interest income" where it is mainly earned from financial assets that are held for cash management purposes.

Accounting policies applied until 31 December 2017

Interest income is recognised on a time proportion basis, taking into account of the principal outstanding and the effective interest rate over the period to maturity, when it is determined that such income will accrue to the Group.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

For the year ended 31 December 2018

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.32 Dividend income

Dividends are received from FVPL and FVOCI (2017: from AFS). Dividends are recognised in “Other gains/(losses), net” in the consolidated income statement when the right to receive payment is established. This applies even if they are paid out of pre-acquisition profits, unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of an investment. In this case, the dividend is recognised in other comprehensive income if it relates to an investment measured at FVOCI. However, the investment may need to be tested for impairment as a consequence.

2.33 Government grants/subsidies

Grants/Subsidies from government are recognised at their fair value where there is a reasonable assurance that the grants/subsidies will be received and the Group will comply with all attached conditions.

Under these circumstances, the grants/subsidies are recognised as income or matched with the associated costs and expenses which the grants/subsidies are intended to compensate.

2.34 Leases

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by lessors are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases (net of any incentives received from the lessor) are charged to the consolidated income statement on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease.

2.35 Dividends distribution

Dividends distribution to the Company's shareholders is recognised as a liability in the Group's and Company's financial statements in the period in which the dividend is approved by the Company's shareholders or board of directors where appropriate.

2.36 Research and development expenses

Research expenditure is recognised as an expense as incurred.

Costs incurred on development projects (relating to the design and testing of new or improved products) are capitalised as intangible assets when recognition criteria are fulfilled and tests for impairment are performed annually. Other development expenditures that do not meet those criteria are recognised as expenses as incurred. Development costs previously recognised as expenses are not recognised as assets in subsequent periods.

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

3.1 Financial risk factors

The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including foreign exchange risk, price risk and interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group's overall risk management strategy seeks to minimise the potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Group. Risk management is carried out by the senior management of the Group.

(a) Market risk

(i) Foreign exchange risk

The Group operates internationally and is exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from various currency exposures, primarily with respect to Hong Kong Dollars ("HKD"), USD and Euro ("EUR"). Foreign exchange risk arises when future commercial transactions or recognised assets and liabilities are denominated in a currency that is not the respective functional currency of the Group's subsidiaries. The functional currency of the Company and majority of its overseas subsidiaries is USD whereas the functional currency of the subsidiaries which operate in the PRC is RMB.

The Group manages its foreign exchange risk by performing regular reviews of the Group's net foreign exchange exposures and tries to minimise these exposures by using foreign currency forwards.

During the year ended 31 December 2018, the Group entered into foreign currency forward contracts in relation to projected purchases that qualify as "high probable" forecast transactions and hence satisfy the requirements for hedge accounting. Under the Group's policy the critical terms of the forwards must align with the hedged items.

The Group only designates the spot component of foreign currency forwards in hedge relationships. The spot component is determined with reference to relevant spot market exchange rates. The differential between the contracted forward rate and the spot market exchange rate is defined as the forward points. It is discounted, where material.

The changes in the forward element of the foreign currency forwards that relate to hedged items are deferred in the costs of hedging reserve. The effects of the foreign currency related hedging instruments are not material to the Group's consolidated financial statements.

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.1 Financial risk factors (Cont'd)

- (a) Market risk (Cont'd)
 - (i) Foreign exchange risk (Cont'd)

As at 31 December 2018, the Group's major monetary assets and liabilities exposed to foreign exchange risk are listed below:

	USD denominated RMB'Million	Non-USD denominated RMB'Million
As at 31 December 2018
Monetary assets, current	18,041	1,994
Monetary assets, non-current	2,642	–
Monetary liabilities, current	(3,434)	(4,587)
Monetary liabilities, non-current	(3,733)	(9,430)
	13,516	(12,023)
As at 31 December 2017
Monetary assets, current	13,795	1,563
Monetary assets, non-current	1,309	–
Monetary liabilities, current	(2,747)	(15,744)
Monetary liabilities, non-current	(1,833)	(5,115)
	10,524	(19,296)

During the year ended 31 December 2018, the Group reported exchange gains of approximately RMB229 million (2017: RMB152 million) within "Finance costs, net" in the consolidated income statement.

As at 31 December 2018, management considers that any reasonable changes in foreign exchange rates of the above currencies against the two major functional currencies would not result in a significant change in the Group's results, as the net carrying amounts of financial assets and liabilities denominated in a currency other than the respective subsidiaries' functional currency are considered to be not significant, given the exchange rate peg between HKD and USD. Accordingly, no sensitivity analysis is presented for foreign exchange risk.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.1 Financial risk factors (Cont'd)

(a) Market risk (Cont'd)

(ii) Price risk

The Group is exposed to equity price risk mainly arising from investments held by the Group that are classified either as FVPL (Note 23) or FVOCI (Note 24). To manage its price risk arising from the investments, the Group diversifies its investment portfolio. The investments are made either for strategic purposes, or for the purpose of achieving investment yield and balancing the Group's liquidity level simultaneously. Each investment is managed by senior management on a case by case basis.

Sensitivity analysis is performed by management to assess the exposure of the Group's financial results to equity price risk of FVPL and FVOCI (2017: AFS) at the end of each reporting period. If prices of the respective instruments held by the Group had been 5% (31 December 2017: 5%) higher/lower as at 31 December 2018, profit for the year would have been approximately RMB4,794 million higher/lower as a result of gains/losses on financial instruments classified as at FVPL, other comprehensive income would have been approximately RMB2,147 million higher/lower as a result of gains/losses on financial instruments classified as at FVOCI (2017: RMB4,069 million).

(iii) Interest rate risk

The Group's income and operating cash flows are substantially independent from changes in market interest rates and the Group has no significant interest-bearing assets except for loans to investees and investees' shareholders, term deposits with initial terms of over three months, restricted cash and cash and cash equivalents, details of which have been disclosed in Notes 25, 28 and 30.

The Group's exposure to changes in interest rates is also attributable to its borrowings and notes payable, details of which have been disclosed in Notes 34 and 35, representing a substantial portion of the Group's debts. Borrowings and notes payable carried at floating rates expose the Group to cash flow interest-rate risk whereas those carried at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest-rate risk.

The Group regularly monitors its interest rate risk to identify if there are any undue exposures to significant interest rate movements and manages its cash flow interest rate risk by using interest rate swaps, whenever considered necessary.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.1 Financial risk factors (Cont'd)

(a) Market risk (Cont'd)

(iii) Interest rate risk (Cont'd)

During the year ended 31 December 2018, the Group entered into certain interest rate swap contracts to hedge its exposure arising from borrowings carried at floating rates. Under these interest rate swap contracts, the Group agreed with the counterparties to exchange, at specified interval, the difference between fixed contract rates and floating-rate interest amounts calculated by reference to the agreed notional amounts. These interest rate swap contracts had the economic effect of converting borrowings from floating rates to fixed rates and were qualified for hedge accounting. Details of the Group's outstanding interest rate swap contracts as at 31 December 2018 have been disclosed in Note 26.

The effects of the interest rate swaps on the Group's financial position and performance are as follows:

	2018	2017
	RMB'Million	RMB'Million
Interest rate swaps
Carrying amount	1,663	1,300
Notional amount	77,630	70,184
Maturity date	2019/6/28~	2019/6/28~
	2023/12/8	2023/12/8
Hedge ratio	1:1	1:1
Change in fair value of outstanding hedging instruments since 1 January	181	756
Change in value of hedged item used to determine hedge effectiveness	181	756
Weighted average hedged rate for the year	1.60%	1.52%

Swaps currently in place cover majority of the floating-rate borrowing and notes payable principal outstanding.

As at 31 December 2018 and 2017, management considered that any reasonable changes in the interest rates would not result in a significant change in the Group's results as the Group's exposure to cash flow interest-rate risk arising from its borrowings and notes payable carried at floating rates after considering the effect of hedging is considered to be insignificant. Accordingly, no sensitivity analysis is presented for interest rate risk.

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.1 Financial risk factors (Cont'd)

(b) Credit risk

The Group is exposed to credit risk in relation to its cash and deposits placed with banks and financial institutions, accounts receivable, other receivables, as well as short-term investments measured at amortised cost and at FVPL. The carrying amount of each class of these financial assets represents the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk in relation to the corresponding class of financial assets.

(i) Credit risk of cash and deposits and short-term investments

To manage this risk, the Group only makes transactions with state-owned banks and financial institutions in the PRC and reputable international banks and financial institutions outside of the PRC. There has been no recent history of default in relation to these banks and financial institutions. The expected credit loss is close to zero.

(ii) Credit risk of accounts receivable

To manage this risk, the Group has policies in place to ensure that revenues of credit terms are made to counterparties with an appropriate credit history and the management performs ongoing credit evaluations of its counterparties. In addition, the Group has a large number of customers and there is no concentration of credit risk.

The Group's online advertising that are sales to/through advertising agencies or directly to the advertisers are at term of full advances, partial advances or sales on credit according to the Group's credit policies. The credit period granted to the customers is usually not more than 90 days and the credit quality of these customers are assessed, which takes into account their financial position, past experience and other factors.

The Group's revenues from VAS are generally paid by end users mainly via online payment channels, whereas the revenues from VAS delivered to its end users through third party platforms are collected by these third party platform providers and remitted to the Group under a credit period within 60 days. In addition, the Group also sells prepaid credits through various channels such as sales agents, telecommunication operators, third party platform providers and Internet cafes, etc. Apart from certain credit periods granted to the telecommunication operators and third party platform providers, full advances are required from other channels.

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.1 Financial risk factors (Cont'd)

(b) Credit risk (Cont'd)

(ii) Credit risk of accounts receivable (Cont'd)

The Group applies the simplified approach to provide for expected credit losses prescribed by IFRS 9, which permits the use of the lifetime expected loss provision for all accounts receivable. In view of the sound financial position and collection history of receivables due from these counterparties and insignificant risk of default, to measure the expected credit losses, accounts receivable have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics and the days past due. A default on accounts receivable is when the counterparty fails to make contractual payments within 90 days of when they fall due. Accounts receivable are written off, in whole or in part, when it has exhausted all practical recovery efforts and has concluded that there is no reasonable expectation of recovery. Indicators that there is no reasonable expectation of recovery include, amongst others, the failure of a debtor to engage in a repayment plan within the Group, and its failure to make contractual payments for a period of greater than 3 years past due. Impairment losses on accounts receivables are presented as net impairment losses within operating profit. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited against the same item. Management believes that the expected credit loss is immaterial and the credit risk inherent in the Group's outstanding accounts receivable balances due from these counterparties is not significant.

(iii) Credit risk of other receivables

Other receivables at the end of each of the years are mainly comprised of loans to investees and investees' shareholders, rental deposits and other receivables. The Group considers the probability of default upon initial recognition of asset and whether there has been significant increase in credit risk on an ongoing basis throughout each of the years. To assess whether there is a significant increase in credit risk, the Group compares risk of default occurring on the assets as at the reporting date with the risk of default as at the date of initial recognition. Especially the following indicators are incorporated:

- actual or expected significant adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant change to the debtor's ability to meet its obligations;
- actual or expected significant changes in the operating results of the debtor;
- significant changes in the expected performance and behavior of the debtor, including changes in the payment status of the debtor.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

For the year ended 31 December 2018

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.1 Financial risk factors (Cont'd)

(b) Credit risk (Cont'd)

(iii) Credit risk of other receivables (Cont'd)

Management considers the credit risk of other receivables is insignificant when they have a low risk of default and the issuer has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term, and the loss allowance recognised is therefore limited to 12 months expected losses. In view of insignificant risk of default and credit risk since initial recognition, management believes that the expected credit loss under the 12 months expected losses method is immaterial.

Previous accounting policy for impairment of accounts receivable and other receivables is described in note 2.16(c).

(c) Liquidity risk

The Group aims to maintain sufficient cash and cash equivalents and marketable securities. Due to the dynamic nature of the underlying businesses, the Group maintains flexibility in funding by maintaining adequate cash and cash equivalents and marketable securities.

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.2 Capital risk management

The Group's objectives on managing capital are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern and support the sustainable growth of the Group in order to provide returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders and to maintain an optimal capital structure to enhance shareholders' value in the long term.

Capital refers to equity and external debts (including borrowings and notes payable). In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the amount of dividends paid to shareholders, return capital to shareholders, issue new shares, repurchase the Company's shares or raise/repay debts.

The Group monitors capital by regularly reviewing debts to adjusted earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation ("EBITDA") (Note) ratio, being the measure of the Group's ability to pay off all debts that reflects financial health and liquidity position. The total debts/adjusted EBITDA ratio calculated by dividing the total debts by adjusted EBITDA is as follows:

	As at 31 December
	2018	2017
	RMB'Million	RMB'Million
Borrowings (Note 34)	114,271	97,790
Notes payable (Note 35)	65,018	34,115
Total debts	179,289	131,905
Adjusted EBITDA (Note)	118,273	95,861
Total debts/Adjusted EBITDA ratio	1.52	1.38

Note:

Adjusted EBITDA represents operating profit less interest income and other gains/(losses), net, and plus depreciation of property, plant and equipment and investment properties, amortisation of intangible assets and equity-settled share-based compensation expenses.

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.3 Fair value estimation

The table below analyses the Group's financial instruments carried at fair value as at 31 December 2018 by level of the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. Such inputs are categorised into three levels within a fair value hierarchy as follows:

- Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1);
- Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices) (level 2); and
- Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs) (level 3).

	Level 1 RMB'Million	Level 2 RMB'Million	Level 3 RMB'Million	Total RMB'Million
As at 31 December 2018
FVPL	10,875	5,009	81,993	97,877
FVOCI	41,578	–	1,941	43,519
OFA	–	2,032	–	2,032
Other financial liabilities	–	40	4,466	4,506

As at 31 December 2017
AFS	53,574	331	73,313	127,218
OFA	–	1,806	3,818	5,624
Other financial liabilities	–	–	2,154	2,154

The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets is determined with reference to quoted market prices at the end of the reporting period. A market is regarded as active if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis. These instruments are included in level 1.

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined by using valuation techniques. These valuation techniques maximise the use of observable market data where it is available and rely as little as possible on entity specific estimates. If all significant inputs required for evaluating the fair value of a financial instrument are observable, the instrument is included in level 2.

If one or more of the significant inputs are not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

For the year ended 31 December 2018

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.3 Fair value estimation (Cont'd)

Specific valuation techniques used to value financial instruments mainly include:

- Dealer quotes for similar instruments;
- The fair value of interest rate swaps is calculated as the present value of the estimated future cash flows based on observable yield curves; and
- Other techniques, such as discounted cash flow analysis, are used to determine fair value for financial instruments.

During the year ended 31 December 2018, there was no transfer between level 1 and 2 for recurring fair value measurements. For transfers in and out of level 3 measurements see the following table, which presents the changes of financial instruments in level 3 instruments for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2017:

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.3 Fair value estimation (Cont'd)

Valuation processes inputs and relationships to fair value (Level 3)

The Group has a team of personnel who performs valuation on these level 3 instruments for financial reporting purposes. The team performs valuation, or necessary updates, at least once every quarter, which coincides with the Group's quarterly reporting dates. On an annual basis, the team adopts various valuation techniques to determine the fair value of the Group's level 3 instruments. External valuation experts may also be involved and consulted when it is necessary.

The components of the level 3 instruments mainly include investments in unlisted companies classified as FVPL or FVOCI, and other financial liabilities. Other financial liabilities mainly include: (i) contingent consideration payable related to business combination of the Group; and (ii) guarantee provided by the Group on certain put arrangements of an associate and put options issued by the Group to certain investors of the associate, at a pre-determined pricing formula. As these investments and instruments are not traded in an active market, majority of their fair values have been determined using applicable valuation techniques including comparable transactions approach and other option pricing approach. These valuation approaches require significant judgment, assumptions and inputs, including risk-free rates, expected volatility, relevant underlying financial projections, and market information of recent transactions (such as recent fund raising transactions undertaken by the investees) and other exposure, etc.

The following table summarises the quantitative information about the significant unobservable inputs used in level 3 fair value measurements.

Description	Fair value as		Significant unobservable inputs	Range of inputs at 31 December		Relationship of unobservable inputs to fair value
	at 31 December
	2018	2017		2018	2017
	RMB'Million	RMB'Million
Investments in unlisted companies	83,934	77,131	Expected volatility	28% ~ 76%	31% ~ 59%	The higher the expected volatility, the lower the fair value
Contingent consideration related to business combination	3,145	–	Growth rate of net profit	50%	N/A	The higher the growth rate, the higher the fair value
			Expected volatility	15%	N/A	The higher the expected volatility, the lower the fair value

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.3 Fair value estimation (Cont'd)

For the fair value of the Group's investments in unlisted companies, the sensitivity analysis is performed by management, see Note 3.1 (a) (ii) for details.

For the fair value of contingent consideration related to business combination, if growth rate of net profit had been 5% higher or lower as at 31 December 2018, the fair value would have increased approximately RMB150 million or decreased approximately RMB171 million. If the expected volatility had been 5% higher or lower as at 31 December 2018, the fair value would have decreased approximately RMB90 million or increased approximately RMB92 million.

4 CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGMENTS

Estimates and judgments are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The Group makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal to the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are addressed below:

(a) The estimates of the lifespans of virtual products/items provided on the Group's online platforms

As mentioned in Note 2.30(a), the end users purchase certain virtual products/items provided on the Group's online platforms and the relevant revenue is recognised based on the estimated lifespans of the virtual products/items. The estimated lifespans of different virtual products/items are determined by the management based on either the expected users' relationship periods or the stipulated period of validity of the relevant virtual products/items depending on the respective terms of virtual products/items.

Significant judgments are required in determining the expected users' relationship periods, including but not limited to historical users' consumption patterns, churn out rate and reactivity on marketing activities, games life-cycle, and the Group's marketing strategy. The Group has adopted a policy of assessing the estimated lifespans of virtual products/items on a regular basis whenever there is any indication of change in the expected users' relationship periods.

The Group will continue to monitor the average lifespans of the virtual products/items. The results may differ from the historical period, and any change in the estimates may result in the revenue being recognised on a different basis from that in prior periods.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

4 CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGMENTS (Cont'd)

(b) Recoverability of non-financial assets

The Group tests annually whether goodwill has suffered any impairment. Goodwill and other non-financial assets, mainly including property, plant and equipment, construction in progress, other intangible assets, investment properties, land use rights, as well as investments in associates and joint ventures are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. The recoverable amounts have been determined based on value-in-use calculations or fair value less costs to sell. These calculations require the use of judgments and estimates.

Judgment is required to identify any impairment indicators existing for any of the Group's goodwill, other non-financial assets to determine appropriate impairment approaches, i.e., fair value less costs of disposal or value in use, for impairment review purposes, and to select key assumptions applied in the adopted valuation models, including discounted cash flows and market approach. Changing the assumptions selected by management in assessing impairment could materially affect the result of the impairment test and in turn affect the Group's financial condition and results of operations. If there is a significant adverse change in the key assumptions applied, it may be necessary to take additional impairment charge to the consolidated income statement.

(c) Fair value measurement of FVPL, FVOCI and other financial liabilities

The fair value assessment of FVPL, FVOCI and other financial liabilities that are measured at level 3 fair value hierarchy requires significant estimates, which include risk-free rates, expected volatility, relevant underlying financial projections, market information of recent transactions (such as recent fund raising transactions undertaken by the investees) and other assumptions. Changes in these assumptions and estimates could materially affect the respective fair value of these investments.

(d) Share-based compensation arrangements

As mentioned in Note 2.28(c), the Group has granted share options to its employees and other qualifying participants. The directors have adopted the Binomial Model to determine the total fair value of the options granted, which is to be expensed over the respective vesting periods. Significant judgment on parameters, such as risk free rate, dividend yield and expected volatility, is required to be made by the directors in applying the Binomial Model (Note 33).

The fair value of share options granted to employees and other qualifying participants determined using the Binomial Model was approximately HKD3,533 million (equivalent to approximately RMB2,868 million) in 2018 (2017: HKD2,691 million (equivalent to approximately RMB2,373 million)).

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

(d) Share-based compensation arrangements (Cont'd)

The Group has to estimate the expected yearly percentage of grantees that will stay within the Group at the end of vesting periods of the options and awarded shares (the “Expected Retention Rate”) in order to determine the amount of share-based compensation expenses charged to the consolidated income statement. As at 31 December 2018, the Expected Retention Rate of the Group and its wholly-owned subsidiaries was assessed to be 88%-97% (31 December 2017: 88%-97%).

(e) Income taxes

The Group is subject to income taxes in numerous jurisdictions. Significant judgment is required in determining the worldwide provision for income taxes. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact current income tax and deferred income tax in the period in which such determination is made.

5 SEGMENT INFORMATION AND REVENUES

(a) Description of segments and principal activities

The chief operating decision-makers mainly include executive directors of the Company. They review the Group’s internal reporting in order to assess performance, allocate resources, and determine the operating segments based on these reports.

The Group has following reportable segments for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2017:

- VAS;
- Online advertising; and
- Others.

“Others” segment primarily comprises FinTech services, cloud services, television series and film production services and other services.

The chief operating decision-makers assess the performance of the operating segments mainly based on segment revenue and gross profit of each operating segment. The selling and marketing expenses and general and administrative expenses are common costs incurred for these operating segments as a whole and therefore, they are not included in the measure of the segments’ performance which is used by the chief operating decision-makers as a basis for the purpose of resource allocation and assessment of segment performance. Interest income, other gains/(losses), net, finance income/(costs), net, share of profit/(loss) of associates and joint ventures and income tax expense are also not allocated to individual operating segment.

11 TAXATION

(a) Income tax expense

Income tax expense is recognised based on management's best knowledge of the income tax rates expected for the financial year.

(i) Cayman Islands and British Virgin Islands corporate income tax

The Group was not subject to any taxation in the Cayman Islands and the British Virgin Islands for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2017.

(ii) Hong Kong profit tax

Hong Kong profit tax has been provided for at the rate of 16.5% on the estimated assessable profit for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2017.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

(a) Income tax expense (Cont'd)

(iii) PRC corporate income tax

PRC corporate income tax has been provided for at the applicable tax rates under the relevant regulations of the PRC after considering the available preferential tax benefits from refunds and allowances, and on the estimated assessable profit of entities within the Group established in the PRC for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2017. The general PRC corporate income tax rate is 25% in 2018 and 2017.

Certain subsidiaries of the Group in the PRC were approved as High and New Technology Enterprise, and accordingly, they were subject to a preferential corporate income tax rate of 15% for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2017. Moreover, according to the announcement and circular issued by relevant government authorities, for the year of 2015 and beyond, a software enterprise that qualifies as a national key software enterprise is subject to a preferential corporate income tax rate of 10%.

In addition, according to relevant tax circulars issued by the PRC tax authorities, certain subsidiaries of the Company are entitled to other tax concessions and they are exempt from corporate income tax for two years, followed by a 50% reduction in the applicable tax rates for the next three years, commencing from the first year of profitable operation, after offsetting tax losses generated in prior years.

(iv) Corporate income tax in other countries

Income tax on profit arising from other jurisdictions, including the United States, Europe, East Asia and South America, has been calculated on the estimated assessable profit for the year at the respective rates prevailing in the relevant jurisdictions, ranging from 12.5% to 35%.

(v) Withholding tax

According to applicable tax regulations prevailing in the PRC, dividends distributed by a company established in the PRC to a foreign investor with respect to profit derived after 1 January 2008 are generally subject to a 10% withholding tax. If a foreign investor is incorporated in Hong Kong, under the double taxation arrangement between Mainland China and Hong Kong, the relevant withholding tax rate applicable to the Group will be reduced from 10% to 5% subject to the fulfilment of certain conditions.

Dividends distributed from certain jurisdictions that the Group's entities operate in are also subject to withholding tax at respective applicable tax rates.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

(a) Income tax expense (Cont'd)

The income tax expense of the Group is analysed as follows:

	2018	2017
	RMB'Million	RMB'Million
Current income tax	15,091	15,154
Deferred income tax (Note 27)	(609)	590
	14,482	15,744

The taxation on the Group's profit before income tax differs from the theoretical amount that would arise using the tax rate of 25% for the year (2017: 25%), being the tax rate of the major subsidiaries of the Group before enjoying preferential tax treatments, as follows:

	2018	2017
	RMB'Million	RMB'Million
Profit before income tax	94,466	88,215
Share of profit of associates and joint ventures	(1,487)	(821)

(b) Value-added tax and other taxes

The operations of the Group are also mainly subject to the following taxes in the PRC:

Category	Tax rate	Basis of levy
Value-added tax ("VAT")	6~17% (Note)	Sales value of goods sold and services fee income, offsetting by VAT on purchases
Construction fee for cultural undertakings	3%	Taxable advertising income
City construction tax	7%	Net VAT payable amount
Educational surcharge	5%	Net VAT payable amount

Note:

Effective from 1 May 2018, the 17% and 11% VAT rates applicable to certain goods and services have been reduced to 16% and 10%, respectively.

12 EARNINGS PER SHARE

(a) Basic

Basic earnings per share ("EPS") is calculated by dividing the profit attributable to equity holders of the Company by the weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue during the year.

	2018	2017
Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company (RMB' Million)	78,719	71,510
Weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue (million shares)	9,444	9,411
Basic EPS (RMB per share)	8.336	7.598

(b) Diluted

The share options and awarded shares granted by the Company have potential dilutive effect on the EPS. Diluted EPS is calculated by adjusting the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding by the assumption of the conversion of all potential dilutive ordinary shares arising from share options and awarded shares granted by the Company (collectively forming the denominator for computing the diluted EPS). No adjustment is made to earnings (numerator).

(b) Diluted (Cont'd)

In addition, the share options and restricted shares granted by the Company's non-wholly owned subsidiaries and associates should also have potential dilutive effect on the EPS. During the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2017, these share options and restricted shares had either anti-dilutive effect or insignificant dilutive effect to the Group's diluted EPS.

	2018	2017
Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company (RMB'Million)	78,719	71,510

Note:

Majority of the Group's contributions to pension plans are related to the local employees in the PRC. All local employees of the subsidiaries in the PRC participate in employee social security plans established in the PRC, which cover pension, medical and other welfare benefits. The plans are organised and administered by the governmental authorities. Except for the contributions made to these social security plans, the Group has no other material commitments owing to the employees. According to the relevant regulations, the portion of premium and welfare benefit contributions that should be borne by the companies within the Group as required by the above social security plans are principally determined based on percentages of the basic salaries of employees, subject to certain ceilings imposed. These contributions are paid to the respective labour and social welfare authorities and are expensed as incurred. The applicable percentages used to provide for these social security plans for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2017 are listed below:

	Percentage
Pension insurance	12.0 ~ 20.0%
Medical insurance	5.2 ~ 11.5%
Unemployment insurance	0.5 ~ 1.5%
Housing fund	10.0 ~ 12.0%

(a) Senior management's emoluments

Senior management includes directors, chief executive officer ("CEO"), president and other senior executives. The aggregate compensation paid/payable to senior management for employee services excluding the directors and the CEO, whose details have been reflected in Note 14(a), is as follows:

	2018	2017
	RMB'000	RMB'000

During the year ended 31 December 2018, amortisation of RMB24,698 million (2017: RMB17,837 million) and RMB918 million (2017: RMB785 million) were charged to cost of revenues and general and administrative expenses, respectively.

During the year ended 31 December 2018, impairment losses of RMB1,181 million (2017: RMB239 million) on goodwill and other intangible assets were charged to the consolidated income statement under "Other gains/(losses), net", resulting from revisions of financial/business outlook and changes in the market environment of the underlying business.

Impairment tests for goodwill

Goodwill was allocated to VAS segment with RMB25,672 million (31 December 2017: RMB23,608 million) and Others segment with RMB6,933 million (31 December 2017: Nil). The Group carries out its impairment testing on goodwill by comparing the recoverable amounts of CGUs or groups of CGUs to their carrying amounts. For the purpose of goodwill impairment review, the recoverable amount of a CGU (group of CGUs) is the higher of its value in use and fair value less costs of disposal.

The key assumptions used for the calculation of the recoverable amounts of the CGUs under impairment testing were as follows:

For goodwill attributable to the Group's online music business, online literature business and television series and film production business, value in use was determined using discounted cash flows calculations which derived from the five-year financial projections plus a terminal value related to cash flows beyond the projection period extrapolated using an estimated terminal growth rate of not more than 5% (2017: not more than 5%). Management leveraged their experiences in the industries and provided forecast based on past performance and their anticipation of future business and market developments. Pre-tax discount rates ranging from 15% to 25% (2017: 20% to 25%) were applied in the discounted cash flows calculations, which reflected assessments of time value and the specific risks relating to the respective industries.

For goodwill attributable to the Group's online game business, fair value less costs of disposal was determined based on ratios of EV (enterprise value) divided by EBITDA (earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization) of several comparable public companies (ranging with 11-21x) (2017: ranging with 16-23x) multiplied by the EBITDA of the related CGU (group of CGUs) and discounted for the lack of marketability at a range of 10% to 20% (2017: 10% to 20%). The comparable public companies were chosen based on factors such as industry similarity, company size, profitability and financial risks.

When determining the recoverable amounts, management has not identified reasonably possible change in key assumptions that could cause the CGU's (group of CGUs') carrying amount to exceed the recoverable amount.

 - (iii) the Group transferred several investments from FVPL to investments in associates at an aggregate amount of approximately RMB5,426 million upon the conversion of the redeemable instruments or preferred shares into ordinary shares upon their IPOs, mainly comprising investee companies that are principally engaged in automotive industry; and
 - (iv) the Group also transferred several other investments from FVPL to investments in associates at an aggregate amount of approximately RMB2,009 million as a result of obtaining board representation.
- (c) Both external and internal sources of information of associates are considered in assessing whether there is any indication that the investment may be impaired, including but not limited to financial position, business performance and market capitalisation. The Group carries out impairment assessment on those investments with impairment indications, and the respective recoverable amounts of investments are determined with reference to the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use.

In respect of the recoverable amount using value in use, the discounted cash flows calculations were based on cash flow projections estimated by management and the key assumptions adopted in these cash flow projections include revenue growth rate, profit margins and discount rate. The pre-tax discount rates adopted range from 15% to 20%. In respect of the recoverable amount based on fair value less costs of disposal, except for those listed associates using their respective market prices, the fair value less costs of disposal was calculated using certain key valuation assumptions including the selection of comparable companies, recent market transactions and liquidity discount for lack of marketability.

As a result, the Group made an aggregate impairment provision of RMB14,069 million (2017: RMB1,277 million) against the carrying amounts of certain investments in associates during the year ended 31 December 2018, which includes impairment loss of approximately RMB15,684 million recognised and approximately RMB1,615 million reversed. The impairment losses mainly resulted from revisions of financial/business outlook of the associates and changes in the market environment of the underlying business.

- (d) The associates of the Group have been accounted for by using equity method based on the financial information of the associates prepared under the accounting policies generally consistent with the Group.

29 ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE (Cont'd)

Some online advertising customers and agencies are usually granted with a credit period within 90 days after full execution of the contracted advertisement orders. Third party platform providers usually settle the amounts due by them within 60 days. Other customers, mainly including content production related customers and FinTech and cloud customers, are usually granted with a credit period within 90 days.

As of 31 December 2017, impairment provision was recognised after assessment of the financial condition and credit quality with reference to the past history. Beginning from 1 January 2018, the Group applies the simplified approach permitted by IFRS 9, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the assets. The provision matrix is determined based on historical observed default rates over the expected life of the receivables with similar credit risk characteristics and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. The historical observed default rates are updated and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analysed at year end. For the year ended 31 December 2018 and 2017, loss allowance made against the gross amounts of accounts receivable were not significant, and provision matrix is not presented.

As at 31 December 2018, the carrying amounts of accounts receivable approximated their fair values.

32 OTHER RESERVES (Cont'd)

Note:

- (a) The capital reserve mainly arises from transactions undertaken with non-controlling interests.
- (b) In accordance with the Companies Laws of the PRC and the stipulated provisions of the articles of association of subsidiaries with limited liabilities in the PRC, appropriation of net profit (after offsetting accumulated losses from prior years) should be made by these companies to their respective Statutory Surplus Reserve Funds and the Discretionary Reserve Funds before distributions are made to the owners. The percentage of appropriation to Statutory Surplus Reserve Fund is 10%. The amount to be transferred to the Discretionary Reserve Fund is determined by the equity owners of these companies. When the balance of the Statutory Surplus Reserve Fund reaches 50% of the registered capital, such transfer needs not to be made. Both the Statutory Surplus Reserve Fund and Discretionary Reserves Fund can be capitalised as capital of an enterprise, provided that the remaining Statutory Surplus Reserve Fund shall not be less than 25% of the registered capital.

In addition, in accordance with the Law of the PRC on Enterprises with Foreign Investments and the stipulated provisions of the articles of association of wholly owned foreign subsidiaries in the PRC, appropriation from net profit (after offsetting accumulated losses brought forward from prior years) should be made by these companies to their respective Reserve Fund. The percentage of net profit to be appropriated to the Reserve Fund is not less than 10% of the net profit. When the balance of the Reserve Fund reaches 50% of the registered capital, such transfer needs not be made.

With approvals obtained from respective boards of directors of these companies, the Reserve Fund can be used to offset accumulated deficit or to increase capital.

- (c) Share-based compensation reserve arises from share option schemes and share award schemes adopted by the subsidiaries of the Group (Note 33(d)).
- (d) The Group has elected to recognise changes in the fair value of certain investment in equity instruments in other comprehensive income, as explained in Note 2.16. These changes are accumulated with FVOCI reserve with equity. The Group transfers amounts from this reserve to retained earnings when the relevant equity instruments are derecognised.
- (e) During the year ended 31 December 2018, the dilution of interests in subsidiaries mainly comprised the following:
 - (i) a non-wholly owned subsidiary of the Group, Tencent Music Entertainment Group (“TME”), have undergone initial public offering by listing of certain of its new shares on the New York Stock Exchange with proceeds of approximately RMB3,520 million, and thus the Group’s equity interest in TME was diluted. Given TME remains a subsidiary of the Group following the said initial public offering, this transaction was accounted for as transaction with non-controlling interest with a gain of RMB1,312 million directly recognised in equity; and
 - (ii) an equity transaction of a non-wholly owned subsidiary described in Note 7(d), which results in the transaction with non-controlling interests of approximately RMB1,121 million.

33 SHARE-BASED PAYMENTS

(a) Share option schemes

The Company has adopted five share option schemes, namely, the Pre-IPO Option Scheme, the Post-IPO Option Scheme I, the Post-IPO Option Scheme II, the Post-IPO Option Scheme III and the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV.

The Pre-IPO Option Scheme, the Post-IPO Option Scheme I and the Post-IPO Option Scheme II expired on 31 December 2011, 23 March 2014 and 16 May 2017, respectively. Upon the expiry of these schemes, no further options would be granted under these schemes, but the options granted prior to such expiry continued to be valid and exercisable in accordance with provisions of the schemes.

In respect of the Post-IPO Option Scheme III and the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV which continue to be in force, the Board may, at its discretion, grant options to any qualifying participants to subscribe for shares in the Company, subject to the terms and conditions stipulated therein. The exercise price must be in compliance with the requirement under the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange. In addition, the option vesting period is determined by the Board provided that it is not later than the last day of a 10-year period for the Post-IPO Option Scheme III and a 7-year period for the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV after the date of grant of option.

The outstanding share options as of 31 December 2018 were divided into two to five tranches on an equal basis as at their grant dates. The first tranche can be exercised after a specified period ranging from ten months to three years from the grant date, and then the remaining tranches will become exercisable in each subsequent year.

(iii) Fair value of options

The directors of the Company have used the Binomial Model to determine the fair value of the options as at the respective grant dates, which is to be expensed over the relevant vesting period. The weighted average fair value of options granted during the year ended 31 December 2018 was HKD127.43 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB103.46 per share) (2017: HKD71.30 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB62.86 per share)).

Other than the exercise price mentioned above, significant judgment on parameters, such as risk free rate, dividend yield and expected volatility, are required to be made by the directors in applying the Binomial Model, which are summarised as below.

Expected volatility (Note)	30.00%	30.00%

Note:

The expected volatility, measured as the standard deviation of expected share price returns, is determined based on the average daily trading price volatility of the shares of the Company.

(b) Share award schemes

The Company has adopted two share award schemes (the "Share Award Schemes") as of 31 December 2018, which are administered by an independent trustee appointed by the Group. The vesting period of the awarded shares is determined by the Board.

Movements in the number of awarded shares for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2017 are as follows:

During the year ended 31 December 2018, 39,500 awarded shares were granted to four independent non-executive directors of the Company (2017: 60,000 awarded shares were granted to four independent non-executive directors of the Company).

The fair value of the awarded shares was calculated based on the market price of the Company's shares at the respective grant date. The expected dividends during the vesting period have been taken into account when assessing the fair value of these awarded shares.

The weighted average fair value of awarded shares granted during the year ended 31 December 2018 was HKD374.32 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB316.30 per share) (2017: HKD274.02 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB238.37 per share)).

The outstanding awarded shares as of 31 December 2018 were divided into one to five tranches on an equal basis as at their grant dates. The first tranche can be exercised immediately or after a specified period ranging from four months to three years from the grant date, and the remaining tranches will become exercisable in each subsequent year.

(c) Employee investment schemes

For aligning the interests of key employees with the Group, the Group established six employees' investment plans in the form of limited liability partnerships in 2011, 2014, 2015, 2016 and 2017 (the "EIS") respectively. According to the term of the EISs, the Board may, at its absolute discretion, invite any qualifying participants of the Group, excluding any director of the Company, to participate in the EISs by subscribing for the partnership interest at cash consideration. The participating employees are entitled to all the economic benefits generated by the EISs, if any, after a specified vesting period under the respective EISs, ranging from four to seven years. Wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Company acting as general partner of these EISs administer and in essence, control the EISs. These EISs are therefore consolidated by the Company as structured entities.

The related share-based compensation expenses incurred for the years ended 31 December 2018 and 2017 were insignificant to the Group.

(d) Share options and share award schemes adopted by subsidiaries

Certain subsidiaries of the Group operate their own share-based compensation plans (share option and/or share award schemes). Their exercise prices of the share options, as well as the vesting periods of the share options and awarded shares are determined by the respective board of directors of these subsidiaries at their sole discretion. The share options or restricted shares of the subsidiaries granted are normally vested by several tranches. Participants of some subsidiaries have the right to request the Group to repurchase their vested equity interests of the respective subsidiaries ("Repurchase Transaction"). The Group has discretion to settle the Repurchase Transaction by using either equity instruments of the Company or by cash. For the Repurchase Transaction which the Group has settlement options, the directors of the Company are currently of the view that they would be settled by equity instruments of the Company. As a result, they are accounted for using the equity-settled share-based payment method.

(e) Expected retention rate of grantees

The Group has to estimate the expected yearly percentage of grantees that will stay within the Group at the end of vesting periods of the options and awarded shares (the "Expected Retention Rate") in order to determine the amount of share-based compensation expenses charged to the consolidated income statement. As at 31 December 2018, the Expected Retention Rate of the Group's wholly-owned subsidiaries was assessed to be 88%~97% (31 December 2017: 88%~97%).

40 BUSINESS COMBINATION

(a) Step-up acquisition of New Classics Media

On 31 October 2018 (the “Acquisition Date”), the Group’s non-wholly owned subsidiary, China Literature Limited (“China Literature”), acquired entire equity interests in New Classic Media Holdings Limited (“New Classics Media”), an existing associate of the Group, which is engaged in the production and distribution of television series, web series and films in the PRC (the “Step-up Acquisition”). The investment in New Classics Media was initially accounted for as FVPL, and subsequently reclassified as an associate of the Group due to additional investments and board representation. Immediately before the Step-up Acquisition, the Group held 44.08% equity interests in New Classics Media (the “Previously Held Interests”). Upon completion of the Step-up Acquisition, the Group indirectly held approximately 56% equity interests in New Classics Media through China Literature and accounted for it as a subsidiary of the Group. The Group expects the acquisition of New Classics Media to further increase its market share in entertainment industry.

Goodwill of approximately RMB6,933 million was recognised as a result of the Step-up Acquisition. It was mainly attributable to the operating synergies and economies of scale expected to be derived from combining the operations. None of the goodwill is expected to be deductible for income tax purpose. The Group chose to record the non-controlling equity interests in New Classics Media at fair value on Acquisition Date.

The following table summarises the purchase consideration, fair value of assets acquired, liabilities assumed and the non-controlling interest recognised as at the Acquisition Date.

40 BUSINESS COMBINATION (Cont'd)

(a) Step-up acquisition of New Classics Media (Cont'd)

Note:

Pursuant to the share purchase agreement, the consideration will be settled by a combination of cash and new shares paid and issued by China Literature and will be subject to the earn-out mechanism set forth in the share purchase agreement. “Monte Carlo Simulation Method” was used in this exercise to measure the value of the contingent consideration. The future net profit of New Classics Media was simulated in numerous scenarios based on the assumptions of growth rate and volatility of net profit of New Classics Media. For each scenario, the consideration to be paid in the form of cash and shares would be determined in accordance with the earn-out mechanism set out in the share purchase agreement. Such consideration was then discounted at a rate that reflects the associated risk of the payment to arrive the present value of consideration in a scenario. The value of contingent consideration was obtained by the average of the present value of considerations in these scenarios. As at 31 October 2018, other financial liabilities of approximately RMB3,301 million in relation to this arrangement was recognised in the Group’s consolidated statement of financial position based on the earn-out mechanism.

The revenue and the results contributed by New Classics Media to the Group for the period since the Acquisition Date were insignificant. The Group’s revenue and results for the year would not be materially different should the Step-up Acquisition have otherwise occurred on 1 January 2018.

The financial impacts recorded as “Other gains, net” during the year ended 31 December 2018 for the difference between the fair value of the Previously Held Interests and the existing carrying amount of investment in an associate at the Acquisition Date were insignificant.

The related transaction costs of the Step-up Acquisition are not material to the Group’s consolidated financial statements.

(b) Other business combination

During the year ended 31 December 2018, the Group also acquired certain insignificant subsidiaries. The aggregate considerations for these acquisitions was approximately RMB3,077 million, fair value of net assets acquired (including identifiable intangible assets), non-controlling interests and goodwill recognised were approximately RMB1,426 million, RMB1,003 million and RMB2,654 million, respectively.

The revenue and the results contributed by these acquired subsidiaries for the period since respective acquisition date were insignificant to the Group. The Group’s revenue and results for the year would not be materially different if these acquisitions had occurred on 1 January 2018.

The related transaction costs of these business combinations were not material to the Group’s consolidated financial statements.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

46 SUBSIDIARIES AND CONTROLLED STRUCTURED ENTITIES (Cont'd)

Note:

- (a) As described in Note 1, the Company does not have legal ownership in equity of these structured entities or their subsidiaries. Nevertheless, under certain contractual agreements entered into with the registered owners of these structured entities, the Company and its other legally owned subsidiaries control these companies by way of controlling the voting rights, governing their financial and operating policies, appointing or removing the majority of the members of their controlling authorities, and casting the majority of votes at meetings of such authorities. In addition, such contractual agreements also transfer the risks and rewards of these companies to the Company and/or its other legally owned subsidiaries. As a result, they are presented as controlled structured entities of the Company.
- (b) The directors of the Company considered that the non-wholly owned subsidiaries with non-controlling interests are not significant to the Group, therefore, no summarised financial information of these non-wholly owned subsidiaries is presented separately.
- (c) All subsidiaries' undertakings are included in the consolidation. The proportion of the voting rights in the subsidiary's undertakings held directly by the parent company do not differ from its proportion of ordinary shares held. The parent company further does not have any shareholdings in the preference shares of subsidiary's undertakings included in the Group.
- (d) Significant restrictions

As at 31 December 2018, cash and cash equivalents, term deposits and restricted cash of the Group, amounting to RMB86,468 million were held in Mainland China and they are subject to local exchange control and other financial and treasury regulations. The local exchange control, and other financial and treasury regulations provide for restrictions, on payment of dividends, share repurchase and offshore investments, other than through normal activities.

- (e) Consolidation of structured entities

As mentioned in Note (a) above and Note 33(c), the Company has consolidated the operating entities within the Group without any legal interests and the EISs out of which wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Company act as general partner. In addition, due to the implementation of the share award schemes of the Group mentioned in Note 33(b), the Company has also set up a structured entity ("Share Scheme Trust"), and its particulars are as follows:

Structured entity	Principal activities
Share Scheme Trust	Administering and holding the Company's shares acquired for share award schemes which are set up for the benefits of eligible persons of the Schemes

As the Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of the Share Scheme Trust and can derive benefits from the contributions of the eligible persons who are awarded with the shares by the schemes, the directors of the Company consider that it is appropriate to consolidate the Share Scheme Trust.

During the year ended 31 December 2018, the Company contributed approximately RMB2,187 million (2017: RMB2,232 million) to the Share Scheme Trust for financing its acquisition of the Company's shares.

OPINION

What we have audited

The consolidated financial statements of Tencent Holdings Limited (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries (the “Group”) set out on pages 121 to 238, which comprise:

- the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2017;
- the consolidated income statement for the year then ended;
- the consolidated statement of comprehensive income for the year then ended;
- the consolidated statement of changes in equity for the year then ended;
- the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended; and
- the notes to the consolidated financial statements, which include a summary of significant accounting policies.

Our opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2017, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”) and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Independent Auditor's Report

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (“ISAs”). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independence

We are independent of the Group in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants’ Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (“IESBA Code”), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the IESBA Code.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters identified in our audit are summarised as follows:

- Revenue recognition on provision of online games value-added services – estimates of the lifespans of virtual products/items
- Impairment assessments of goodwill, investments in associates and investments in redeemable instruments of associates
- Fair value measurement of financial instruments, including available-for-sale financial assets and other derivative financial instruments

Independent Auditor's Report

Key Audit Matter

Revenue recognition on provision of online games value-added services – estimates of the lifespans of virtual products/items

Refer to Note 4(a) to the consolidated financial statements

The Group has recognised revenue from sales of virtual products/items to the users in respect of value-added services rendered on the Group's online platforms. The relevant revenue is recognised over the lifespans of respective virtual products/items which was determined by the management, on an item by item basis, with reference to the expected users' relationship periods or the stipulated period of validity of the relevant virtual products/items, depending on the terms of the virtual products/items.

During the year ended 31 December 2017, a majority of the Group's revenue from value-added services was contributed from online games and was predominately derived from the sales of virtual products/items.

We focused on this area due to the fact that management applied significant judgements in determining the expected users' relationship periods for certain virtual products/items. These judgements included (i) the determination of key assumptions applied in the expected users' relationship periods, including but not limited to historical users' consumption patterns, churn rates and reactivity on marketing activities, games life-cycle, as well as the Group's marketing strategy; and (ii) the identification of events that may trigger changes in the expected users' relationship periods.

How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

We discussed with management and evaluated their judgements on key assumptions in determining the estimated lifespans of the virtual products/items that were based on the expected users' relationship periods.

We tested, on a sample basis, key controls in respect of the recognition of revenue from sales of virtual products/items, including management's review and approval of (i) determination of the estimated lifespans of new virtual products/items prior to their launches; and (ii) changes in the estimated lifespans of existing virtual products/items based on periodic reassessment on any indications triggering such changes. We also assessed the data generated from the Group's information system supporting the management's review, including testing the information system logic for generation of reports, and checking, on a sample basis, the monthly computation of revenue recognised on selected virtual products/items generated directly from the Group's information system.

We assessed, on a sample basis, the expected users' relationship periods adopted by management by testing the data integrity of historical users' consumption patterns and calculation of the churn rates. We also evaluated the consideration made by management in determining the underlying assumptions for expected users' relationship periods with reference to historical operating and marketing data of the relevant games. We also assessed, on a sample basis, the historical accuracy of the management's estimation process by comparing the actual users' relationship periods for the year against the original estimation for selected virtual products/items.

We found that the results of our procedures performed to be materially consistent with management's supporting documentation.

Key Audit Matter

Impairment assessments of goodwill, investments in associates and investments in redeemable instruments of associates

Refer to Notes 4(b), 19, 20 and 22 to the consolidated financial statements

As at 31 December 2017, the Group held significant amounts of goodwill, investments in associates and investments in redeemable instruments of associates amounting to RMB23,608 million, RMB113,779 million and RMB22,976 million, respectively. Impairment provision of RMB124 million, RMB1,277 million and RMB607 million had been recognised during the year ended 31 December 2017 against the carrying amounts, respectively.

We focused on this area due to the magnitude of the carrying amounts of these assets and the fact that significant judgements were required by management (i) to identify whether any impairment indicators existed for any of these assets during the year; (ii) to determine the appropriate impairment approaches, i.e. fair value less costs of disposal or value in use; and (iii) to select key assumptions to be adopted in the valuation models, including discounted cash flows and market approach, for the impairment assessments.

How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

We tested management's assessment including periodic impairment indications evaluation as to whether indicators of impairment exist by corroborating with management and market information.

We also tested, on a sample basis, key controls in respect of the impairment assessments, including the determination of appropriate impairment approaches, valuation models and assumptions and the calculation of impairment provisions, which we found no material exceptions.

Management adopted different valuation models, on a case by case basis, in carrying out the impairment assessments, mainly including discounted cash flows and market approach. We assessed, on a sample basis, the basis management used to identify separate groups of cash generating units that containing goodwill, the impairment approaches and the valuation models used in management's impairment assessments, which we found them to be appropriate.

In respect of the impairment assessments of cash generating units that containing goodwill, investments in associates and investments in redeemable instruments of associates using discounted cash flows, we assessed the key assumptions adopted including revenue growth rate, discount rate and other working capital requirement assumptions by examining the approved financial/business forecast models, and comparing actual results for the year against the previous period's forecasts and the applicable industry/business data external to the Group. We assessed certain of these key assumptions with the involvement of our internal valuation experts. We considered that the key assumptions adopted by management are in line with our expectation and evidence obtained.

Independent Auditor's Report

Key Audit Matter

Impairment assessments of goodwill, investments in associates and investments in redeemable instruments of associates (Cont'd)

How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

In respect of the impairment assessments of cash generating units that containing goodwill and investments in associates using market approach, we assessed the valuation assumptions including the selection of comparable companies, recent market transactions, and liquidity discount for lack of marketability, etc. We assessed these key assumptions adopted by management with the involvement of our internal valuation experts based on our industry knowledge and independent research performed by us. We considered that the key assumptions adopted by management are in line with our expectation and evidence obtained.

We independently tested, on a sample basis, the accuracy of mathematical calculation applied in the valuation models and the calculation of impairment charges. We did not identify any material exceptions from our testing.

Key Audit Matter

Fair value measurement of financial instruments, including available-for-sale financial assets and other derivative financial instruments

Refer to Notes 3.3, 24 and 26 to the consolidated financial statements

As at 31 December 2017, the Group's financial assets which were carried at fair value comprised available-for-sale financial assets and other derivative financial instruments of approximately RMB127,218 million and RMB5,624 million, respectively, of which approximately RMB77,131 million of these financial assets were measured based on significant unobservable inputs and classified as "Level 3 financial instruments".

We focused on this area due to the high degree of judgement required in determining the respective fair values of Level 3 financial instruments, which do not have direct open market quoted values, with respect to the adoption of applicable valuation methodology and the application of appropriate assumptions in the valuation.

How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

In respect of the fair value measurement of Level 3 financial instruments, we tested the key controls, on a sample basis, in relation to the valuation process including the adoption of applicable valuation methodology and the application of appropriate assumptions in different circumstances, by inspection of the evidence of management's review, which we found no material exceptions.

We involved our internal valuation experts to discuss with management and assess the appropriateness of valuation methodology and assumptions used. We tested, on a sample basis, valuation of Level 3 financial instruments as at 31 December 2017 by evaluating the underlying assumptions including discount rates, projected growth rates, marketability discount, market information of comparable companies (such as recent transactions and earnings multiples) based on our industry knowledge as well as underlying supporting documentation. We also tested, on a sample basis, the arithmetical accuracy of the valuation computation. We found that the valuation methodology of Level 3 financial instruments is acceptable and the assumptions made by management are supported by available evidence.

OTHER INFORMATION

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all of the information included in the annual report other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF DIRECTORS AND THOSE CHARGED WITH GOVERNANCE FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. We report our opinion solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

Independent Auditor's Report

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Tong Yu Keung.

1 GENERAL INFORMATION

Tencent Holdings Limited (the “Company”) was incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability. The address of its registered office is Cricket Square, Hutchins Drive, P.O. Box 2681, Grand Cayman KY1-1111, Cayman Islands. The shares of the Company have been listed on the main board of The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Stock Exchange”) since 16 June 2004.

The Company is an investment holding company. The Company and its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Group”) are principally engaged in the provision of value-added services (“VAS”) and online advertising services to users in the People’s Republic of China (the “PRC”).

The operations of the Group were initially conducted through Shenzhen Tencent Computer Systems Company Limited (“Tencent Computer”), a limited liability company established in the PRC by certain shareholders of the Company on 11 November 1998. Tencent Computer is legally owned by the core founders of the Company who are PRC citizens (the “Registered Shareholders”).

The PRC regulations restrict foreign ownership of companies that provide value-added telecommunications services, which include activities and services operated by Tencent Computer. In order to enable certain foreign companies to make investments into the business of the Group, the Company established a subsidiary, Tencent Technology (Shenzhen) Company Limited (“Tencent Technology”), which is a wholly foreign owned enterprise incorporated in the PRC, on 24 February 2000. The foreign investors of the Company then subscribed to additional equity interests in the Company.

Under a series of contractual arrangements (collectively, “Structure Contracts”) entered into among the Company, Tencent Technology, Tencent Computer and the Registered Shareholders, the Company is able to effectively control, recognise and receive substantially all the economic benefit of the business and operations of Tencent Computer. In summary, the Structure Contracts provide the Company through Tencent Technology with, among other things:

- the right to receive the cash received by Tencent Computer from its operations which is surplus to its requirements, having regard to its forecast working capital needs, capital expenditure, and other short-term anticipated expenditure through various commercial arrangements;
- the right to ensure that Tencent Technology owns the valuable assets of the business through the assignment to Tencent Technology of the principal present and future intellectual property rights of Tencent Computer; and
- the right to control the management, financial and operating policies of Tencent Computer.

As a result, Tencent Computer is accounted for as a controlled structured entity (see also Note 2.2(a) and Note 45) and the formation of the Group in 2000 was accounted for as a business combination between entities under common control under a method similar to the uniting of interests method for recording all assets and liabilities at predecessor carrying amounts. This approach was adopted because in management's belief it best reflected the substance of the formation.

Similar Structure Contracts were also executed for other PRC operating companies established by the Group similar to Tencent Computer subsequent to 2000. All these PRC operating companies are treated as controlled structured entities of the Company and their financial statements have also been consolidated by the Company. See details in Note 45.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

2.1 Basis of preparation

The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with all applicable International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs"). The consolidated financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of available-for-sale financial assets and derivative financial instruments, which are carried at fair value.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRSs requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the consolidated financial statements are disclosed in Note 4.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.1 Basis of preparation (Cont'd)

(a) Amendments to standards adopted by the Group

The following amendments to standards have been adopted by the Group for the first time for the financial year beginning on 1 January 2017. The adoption of these amendments does not have any significant impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Group.

IAS 7 (amendment)	Disclosure initiative
IAS 12 (amendment)	Recognition of deferred tax assets for unrealised losses
IFRS 12 (amendment)	Clarification of disclosure requirement of interests in entities classified as held for sale

(b) New standards and amendments to standards that have been issued but not effective

A number of new standards and amendments to standards are not effective for the financial year beginning 1 January 2017, and have not been early adopted by the Group in preparing the consolidated financial statements. In respect of IFRS 9 “Financial instruments”, IFRS 15 “Revenue from contracts with customers” and IFRS 16 “Lease”, none of these is expected to have a significant effect on the consolidated financial statements of the Group except IFRS 9, details of which are set out below.

(i) IFRS 9 “Financial instruments”

IFRS 9 “Financial instruments” addresses the classification, measurement and derecognition of financial assets and financial liabilities, introduces new rules for hedge accounting and a new impairment model for financial assets.

The Group has reviewed its financial assets and liabilities and is expecting the following impact from the adoption of the new standard on 1 January 2018:

- Classification and measurement of financial instruments

The Group’s investments in redeemable instruments of associates, certain available-for-sale financial assets and certain other financial assets of the Group will be reclassified to financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and cumulative fair values change of these available-for-sale financial assets as at 31 December 2017 currently recognised in other reserves will be reclassified to retained earnings on 1 January 2018. The remaining available-for-sale financial assets of the Group will be reclassified to financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income and not recycling to income statement.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.1 Basis of preparation (Cont'd)

(b) New standards and amendments to standards that have been issued but not effective (Cont'd)

(i) IFRS 9 "Financial instruments" (Cont'd)

- Classification and measurement of financial instruments (Cont'd)

There will be no impact on the Group's accounting for financial liabilities, as the new requirements only affect the accounting for financial liabilities that are designated at fair value through profit or loss, while the Group does not have any such liabilities.

- Derivatives and hedging activities

The new hedge accounting rules will align the accounting for hedging instruments more closely with the Group's established risk management practices. As a general rule, more hedge relationships might be eligible for hedge accounting, given the standard introduces a more principle-based approach. The Group has confirmed that its current hedge relationships will be qualified as continuing hedges upon the adoption of IFRS 9.

- Impairment of financial assets

The new impairment model requires the recognition of impairment provisions based on expected credit losses rather than only incurred credit losses as is the case under IAS 39. It applies to financial assets classified at amortised cost, debt instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income, contract assets under IFRS 15, lease receivables, loan commitments and certain financial guarantee contracts. Based on the assessments undertaken to date, the Group expects changes in the loss allowance for account receivables to be insignificant.

The new standard also introduces expanded disclosure requirements and changes in presentation. These are expected to change the nature and extent of the Group's disclosures about its financial instruments.

IFRS 9 must be applied for financial years commencing on or after 1 January 2018. Early adoption is permitted. The Group will apply the new rules retrospectively from 1 January 2018, with the practical expedients permitted under the standard. Comparatives for 2017 will not be restated.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.1 Basis of preparation (Cont'd)

(b) New standards and amendments to standards that have been issued but not effective (Cont'd)

(ii) IFRS 15 “Revenue from contracts with customers”

IFRS 15 “Revenue from contracts with customers” will replace IAS 18 “Revenue” and IAS 11 “Construction contracts” and the related interpretation’s on revenue recognition.

IFRS 15 establishes a comprehensive framework for determining when to recognize revenue and how much revenue to recognize through a five step approach: (i) identify the contract(s) with a customer; (ii) identify separate performance obligations in a contract; (iii) determine the transaction price; (iv) allocate transaction price to performance obligations; and (v) recognize revenue when performance obligation is satisfied. IFRS 15 also provides specific guidance on contract costs and license arrangements. It also includes a cohesive set of disclosure requirements about revenue and cash flows arising from the contracts with customers.

The standard permits either a full retrospective or a modified retrospective approach for the adoption.

Based on the management’s assessment on the adoption of IFRS 15, the Group expects the effects of applying the new standard on the Group’s financial statements to be insignificant.

IFRS 15 must be applied for financial years commencing on or after 1 January 2018 and earlier adoption is permitted. The Group will apply the full retrospective approach upon the adoption since 1 January 2018.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.1 Basis of preparation (Cont'd)

- (b) New standards and amendments to standards that have been issued but not effective (Cont'd)
 - (iii) IFRS 16 "Lease"

IFRS 16 will result in almost all leases being recognised on the statement of financial position, as the distinction between operating and finance leases is removed. Under the new standard, an asset (the right to use the leased item) and a financial liability to pay rentals are recognised. The only exceptions are short-term and low-value leases.

The accounting for lessors will not be significantly changed. The standard will affect primarily the accounting for Group's operating leases. However, the Group has just commenced its assessment and have not yet determined to what extent its commitments will result in the recognition of an asset and a liability for future payments and how this will affect the Group's profit and classification of cash flows.

The new standard is mandatory for financial years commencing on or after 1 January 2019. The Group does not intend to adopt this standard before its effective date.

2.2 Subsidiaries

- (a) Consolidation

Subsidiaries are all entities (including structured entities) over which the Group has control. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. Subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group. They are deconsolidated from the date that control ceases.

Intra-group transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the transferred asset. When necessary, amounts reported by subsidiaries have been adjusted to conform with the Group's accounting policies.

2.2 Subsidiaries (Cont'd)

(i) Business combinations

The Group applies the acquisition method to account for business combinations. The consideration transferred for the acquisition of a subsidiary is the fair values of the assets transferred, the liabilities incurred to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group. The consideration transferred includes the fair value of any asset or liability resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement. Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are measured initially at their fair values at the acquisition date.

The Group recognises any non-controlling interest in the acquiree on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis. Non-controlling interests in the acquiree that are present ownership interests and entitle their holders to a proportionate share of the entity's net assets in the event of liquidation are measured at either fair value or the present ownership interests' proportionate share in the recognised amounts of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. All other components of non-controlling interests are measured at their acquisition date fair value, unless another measurement basis is required by IFRSs.

Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

If the business combination is achieved in stages, the acquisition date carrying value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is re-measured to fair value at the acquisition date; any gains or losses arising from such re-measurement are recognised in profit or loss.

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the Group is recognised at fair value at the acquisition date. Subsequent changes to the fair value of the contingent consideration that is deemed to be an asset or liability is recognised in accordance with IAS 39 in profit or loss. Contingent consideration that is classified as equity is not re-measured, and its subsequent settlement is accounted for within equity.

2.2 Subsidiaries (Cont'd)

(i) Business combinations (Cont'd)

The excess of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree and the acquisition-date fair value of any previous equity interest in the acquiree over the fair value of the identifiable net assets acquired is recorded as goodwill. If the total of consideration transferred, non-controlling interest recognised and previously held interest measured is less than the fair value of the net assets of the subsidiary acquired in the case of a bargain purchase, the difference is recognised directly in the consolidated income statement.

(ii) Changes in ownership interests in subsidiaries without change of control

Transactions with non-controlling interests that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions – that is, as transactions with the owners of the subsidiary in their capacity as owners. The difference between fair value of any consideration paid and the relevant share acquired of the carrying amount of net assets of the subsidiary is recorded in equity. Gains or losses on disposals to non-controlling interests are also recorded in equity.

(iii) Disposal of subsidiaries

When the Group ceases to have control, any retained interest in the entity is re-measured to its fair value at the date when control is lost, with the change in carrying amount recognised in the consolidated income statement. The fair value is the initial carrying amount for the purposes of subsequently accounting for the retained interest as an associate, a joint venture or financial asset. In addition, any amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in respect of that entity are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. It means that amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to the consolidated income statement or transferred to another category of equity as specified/permitted by applicable IFRSs.

2.2 Subsidiaries (Cont'd)

(b) Separate financial statements

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for at cost less impairment. Cost includes direct attributable costs of investment. The results of subsidiaries are accounted for by the Company on the basis of dividends received and receivable. In addition, the contribution to the Company's Share Scheme Trust (as defined in Note 45(e)), a controlled structured entity, is stated at cost in "Contribution to Share Scheme Trust", and will be transferred to the "Shares held for share award schemes" under equity when the contribution is used for the acquisition of the Company's shares.

Impairment testing of the investments in subsidiaries is required upon receiving dividends from these investments if the dividends exceed the total comprehensive income of the subsidiaries in the period the dividends are declared or if the carrying amount of the investments in the separate financial statements exceeds the carrying amount in the consolidated financial statements of the investee's net assets including goodwill.

2.3 Associates

Associates are all entities over which the Group has significant influence but not control, generally but not necessarily accompanying a shareholding of between 20% and 50% of the voting rights. Investments in associates are accounted for using the equity method of accounting and are initially recognised at cost. The Group's investments in associates include goodwill identified on acquisition, net of any accumulated impairment loss. Upon the acquisition of the ownership interest in an associate, any difference between the cost of the associate and the Group's share of the net fair value of the associate's identifiable assets and liabilities is accounted for as goodwill.

2.3 Associates (Cont'd)

The Group's share of its associates' post-acquisition profit or loss is recognised in the consolidated income statement, and its share of post-acquisition movements in other comprehensive income is recognised in other comprehensive income. The cumulative post-acquisition movements are adjusted against the carrying amount of the investment. When the Group's share of losses in an associate equals or exceeds its interests in the associate, including any other unsecured long-term receivables, the Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.

The Group determines at each reporting date whether there is any objective evidence that investments accounted for using the equity method, including associates and joint arrangements (Note 2.4), are impaired. If this is the case, the Group calculates the amount of impairment as the difference between the recoverable amount of the investment and its carrying value and recognises the amount in "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement.

Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interests in the associates. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. A full gain or loss is recognised when a transaction involves a business whereas a partial gain or loss is recognised when a transaction involves assets that do not constitute a business, even if those assets are held by a subsidiary. Accounting policies of associates have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

Gains or losses on dilution of equity interest in associates are recognised in the consolidated income statement. If the ownership interest in an associate is reduced but significant influence is retained, only a proportionate share of the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified to consolidated income statement where appropriate.

The Group's investments in associates in the form of redeemable instruments are accounted for as compound financial instruments (Note 2.27).

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.4 Joint arrangements

Under IFRS 11 investments in joint arrangements are classified as either joint operations or joint ventures depending on the contractual rights and obligations of each investor. The Group has assessed the nature of its joint arrangements and determined them to be joint ventures. Joint ventures are accounted for using the equity method.

Under the equity method of accounting, interests in joint ventures are initially recognised at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the post-acquisition profit or loss and movements in other comprehensive income. When the Group's share of losses in a joint venture equals or exceeds its interests in the joint venture (which includes any long-term receivables that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the joint venture), the Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the joint venture.

Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its joint ventures are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interests in the joint ventures. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. A full gain or loss is recognised when a transaction involves a business whereas a partial gain or loss is recognised when a transaction involves assets that do not constitute a business, even if those assets are held by a subsidiary. Accounting policies of the joint ventures have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

2.5 Investments in associates/joint ventures achieved in stages

The cost of associates/joint ventures acquired in stages, except for the change from an associate to a joint venture, is measured as the sum of the fair value of the interests previously held plus the fair value of any additional consideration transferred as of the date when it becomes associate/joint venture. A gain or loss on re-measurement of the previously held interests is taken to the consolidated incomes statement. Any other comprehensive income recognised in prior periods in relation to the previously held interests is also taken to the consolidated income statement. Any acquisition-related costs are expensed in the period in which the costs are incurred.

2.6 Partial disposal of associates to available-for-sale financial assets

When the Group loses significant influence over an associate, it measures any retained investment at fair value. A profit or loss is recognised at any difference between the fair value of any retained interest plus any proceeds from disposing part of the interests in the associate and the carrying amount of the investment at the date the equity method of accounting was discontinued. The amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income by an associate should be reclassified to the consolidated income statement or transferred to another category of equity as specified and permitted by applicable IFRSs when the Group loses significant influence over the associate.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.7 Segment reporting

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision-makers, who are responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments and making strategic decisions. The chief operating decision-makers mainly include the executive directors.

2.8 Foreign currency translation

(a) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the "functional currency"). The functional currency of the Company and certain of its overseas subsidiaries is United States Dollars ("USD"). As the major operations of the Group are within the PRC, the Group presents its consolidated financial statements in Renminbi ("RMB"), unless otherwise stated.

(b) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at year-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the consolidated income statement.

Changes in the fair value of debt securities denominated in foreign currency classified as available-for-sale financial assets are analysed between translation differences resulting from changes in the amortised cost of the securities, and other changes in the carrying amount of the securities. Translation differences related to changes in the amortised cost and interest income are recognised in the consolidated income statement, and other changes in carrying amount are recognised in other comprehensive income.

Translation differences on non-monetary financial assets and liabilities such as equity instruments held at fair value through profit or loss are recognised in the consolidated income statement as part of the fair value gain or loss. Translation differences on non-monetary financial assets, such as equity instruments classified as available-for-sale financial assets, are included in other comprehensive income.

2.8 Foreign currency translation (Cont'd)

(c) Group companies

The results and financial position of all the group entities (none of which has the currency of a hyper-inflationary economy) that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency of RMB are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- (i) Assets and liabilities for each statement of financial position presented are translated at the closing rate at the date of that statement of financial position;
- (ii) Income and expenses for each income statement are translated at average exchange rates (unless this average is not a reasonable approximation of the cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the rate on the dates of the transactions); and
- (iii) All resulting currency translation differences are recognised as a separate component of other comprehensive income.

On consolidation, exchange differences arising from the translation of the net investment in foreign operations, and of borrowings and other currency instruments designated as hedges of such investments, are taken to other comprehensive income.

Goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on the acquisition of a foreign entity are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign entity and translated at the closing rate. Currency translation differences arising are recognised in other comprehensive income.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.9 Property, plant and equipment

All property, plant and equipment are stated at historical costs less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment charges. Historical costs includes expenditure that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to the consolidated income statement during the financial period in which they are incurred.

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost net of their residual values over their estimated useful lives, as follows:

Buildings	20 - 50 years
Computer equipment	2 - 5 years
Furniture and office equipment	2 - 5 years
Motor vehicles	5 years
Leasehold improvements	Shorter of their useful lives and the lease terms

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

Construction in progress represents buildings under construction, which is stated at actual construction cost less any impairment loss. Construction in progress is transferred to property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for use.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount (Note 2.14).

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount and are recognised in "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.10 Investment properties

Investment properties are held for long-term rental yields and are not occupied by the Group. Investment properties are carried at historical costs less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment charges. Historical costs include expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line method to allocate their costs net of their residual values over their estimated useful lives of 20-50 years. Investment properties' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

Investment properties' carrying amounts are written down immediately to their recoverable amounts if their carrying amounts are greater than their estimated recoverable amounts.

2.11 Land use rights

Land use rights are up-front payments to acquire long-term interest in land. These payments are stated at cost and charged to the consolidated income statement on a straight-line basis over the remaining period of the lease.

2.12 Intangible assets

(a) Goodwill

Goodwill arising on the acquisition of subsidiaries represents the excess of the consideration transferred over the Group's interest in net fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of the acquiree and the fair value of the non-controlling interests in the acquiree.

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to each of the cash-generating units ("CGUs"), or groups of CGUs, that is expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination. Each unit or group of units to which the goodwill is allocated represents the lowest level within the entity at which the goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes. Goodwill is monitored at the operating segment level.

Goodwill impairment reviews are undertaken annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate a potential impairment. The carrying value of goodwill is compared to the recoverable amount, which is the higher of value in use and the fair value less costs to sell. Any impairment is recognised immediately as an expense and is not subsequently reversed.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.12 Intangible assets (Cont'd)

(b) Licensed online contents

The licensed online contents mainly include video and music contents. They are initially recognised and measured at cost or estimated fair value as acquired through business combinations. Licensed online contents are amortised using a straight-line method or an accelerated method which reflects the estimated consumption patterns.

(c) Other intangible assets

Other intangible assets mainly include game licences, copyrights, computer software and technology and non-compete agreements. They are initially recognised and measured at cost or estimated fair value of intangible assets acquired through business combinations.

Other intangible assets are amortised over their estimated useful lives (generally three to ten years) using the straight-line method which reflects the pattern in which the intangible asset's future economic benefits are expected to be consumed.

2.13 Shares held for share award schemes

The consideration paid by the Share Scheme Trust (see Note 45(e)) for purchasing the Company's shares from the market, including any directly attributable incremental cost, is presented as "Shares held for share award schemes" and the amount is deducted from total equity.

When the Share Scheme Trust transfers the Company's shares to the awardees upon vesting, the related costs of the awarded shares vested are credited to "Shares held for share award schemes", with a corresponding adjustment made to "Share premium".

2.14 Impairment of non-financial assets

Assets that have an indefinite useful life or are not yet available for use are not subject to amortisation and are tested annually for impairment. Assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For the purpose of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets other than goodwill that suffered impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at each reporting date.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.15 Financial assets

(a) Classification

The Group classifies its financial assets in the following categories: financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, loans and receivables and available-for-sale financial assets. The classification depends on the purpose for which the financial assets were acquired, management's intentions and whether the assets are quoted in an active market. Management determines the classification of its financial assets at initial recognition.

(i) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are financial assets held for trading. A financial asset is classified in this category if acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the short term. Derivatives are classified as held for trading unless they are designated as hedges. Assets in this category are classified as current assets if expected to be settled within 12 months, otherwise they are classified as non-current.

(ii) Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They are included in current assets, except for those with maturities greater than 12 months after the end of the reporting period which are classified as non-current assets. The Group's loans and receivables comprise "Accounts receivable", "Deposits and other receivables", "Term deposits", "Restricted cash" and "Cash and cash equivalents" in the consolidated statement of financial position.

(iii) Available-for-sale financial assets

Investments are designated as available-for-sale financial assets if they do not have fixed maturities and fixed or determinable payments, and management intends to hold them for the medium to long-term. Financial assets that are not classified into any of the other categories are also included in the available-for-sale category. They are included in non-current assets unless management intends to dispose of the investment within 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.15 Financial assets (Cont'd)

(b) Recognition and measurement

Regular way purchases and sales of investments are recognised on trade date - the date on which the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset. Investments are initially recognised at fair value plus transaction costs for all financial assets not carried at fair value through profit or loss. Financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are initially recognised at fair value, and transaction costs are expensed in the consolidated income statement. Available-for-sale financial assets and financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are subsequently carried at fair value. Loans and receivables are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Changes in the fair value of available-for-sale financial assets are recognised in other comprehensive income.

Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the investments have expired or have been transferred and the Group has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership. When available-for-sale financial assets are sold or impaired, the accumulated fair value adjustments recognised in other comprehensive income are included in the consolidated income statement as "Other gains/(losses), net".

Interest on loans and receivables and available-for-sale financial assets calculated using the effective interest method is recognised in the consolidated income statement as part of interest income. Dividends on available-for-sale financial assets are recognised in the consolidated income statement when the Group's right to receive payments is established.

2.16 Offsetting financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the consolidated statement of financial position when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the company or the counterparty.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.17 Impairment of financial assets

The Group assesses at the end of each reporting period whether there is objective evidence that a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired.

A financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired and impairment losses are incurred only if there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the asset (a “loss event”) and that loss event (or events) has an impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset or group of financial assets that can be reliably estimated.

(a) Assets carried at amortised cost

Evidence of impairment may include indications that the debtor or a group of debtors is experiencing significant financial difficulty, default or delinquency in interest or principal payments, the probability that they will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation, and where observable data indicate that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows, such as changes in arrears or economic conditions that correlate with defaults.

For loans and receivables category, the amount of the impairment loss is measured as the difference between the asset’s carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have not been incurred) discounted at the financial asset’s original effective interest rate. The carrying amount of the asset is reduced and the amount of the impairment loss is recognised in the consolidated income statement. If a loan has a variable interest rate, the discount rate for measuring any impairment loss is the current effective interest rate determined under the contract. As a practical expedient, the Group may measure impairment on the basis of an instrument’s fair value using an observable market price.

If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised (such as an improvement in the debtor’s credit rating), the reversal of the previously recognised impairment loss is recognised in the consolidated income statement.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.17 Impairment of financial assets (Cont'd)

- (b) Assets classified as available-for-sale financial assets

For equity investments, a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value of the security below its cost is also considered as an indication that the assets are impaired. If any such evidence of impairment exists, the cumulative loss - measured as the difference between the acquisition cost and the current fair value, less any impairment loss on that financial asset previously recognised in the consolidated income statement - is removed from equity and recognised in the consolidated income statement. Impairment losses recognised in the consolidated income statement on equity instruments are not reversed through the consolidated income statement.

For debt securities, if any such evidence exists, the cumulative loss - measured as the difference between the acquisition cost (net of any principal repayment and amortisation) and the current fair value, less any impairment loss on that financial asset previously recognised in the consolidated income statement - is reclassified from equity and recognised in the consolidated income statement. If, in a subsequent period, the fair value of a debt instrument classified as available for sale increases and the increase can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised in the consolidated income statement, the impairment loss is reversed through the consolidated income statement.

2.18 Derivative financial instruments and hedging activities

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at their fair value. The method of recognising the resulting gain or loss depends on whether the derivative is designated as a hedging instrument, and if so, the nature of the item being hedged. The Group designates certain derivatives as either (i) hedges of the fair value of recognised assets or liabilities or a firm commitment (fair value hedges); (ii) hedges of a particular risk associated with the cash flows of a recognised asset or liability or a highly probable forecast transaction (cash flow hedges); or (iii) hedges of a net investment in a foreign operation (net investment hedges).

The Group documents at the inception of the transaction the relationship between hedging instruments and hedged items, as well as its risk management objectives and strategy for undertaking various hedging transactions. The Group also documents its assessment, both at hedge inception and on an ongoing basis, of whether the derivatives that are used in hedging transactions are highly effective in offsetting changes in fair values or cash flows of hedged items.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.18 Derivative financial instruments and hedging activities (Cont'd)

Changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualified as fair value hedges are recorded in the consolidated income statement, together with any changes in the fair value of the hedged asset or liability that are attributable to the hedged risk. The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualified as cash flow hedges is recognised in other comprehensive income. The gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is recognised immediately in the consolidated income statement within "Other gains/(losses), net". When the forecast transaction that is hedged results in the recognition of a non-financial asset, the gains and losses previously deferred in equity are transferred from equity and included in the cost of the asset.

Changes in the fair value of any derivative instruments that do not qualify for hedge accounting are recognised immediately in the consolidated income statement in "Other gains/(losses), net".

2.19 Inventories

Inventories, mainly consisting of merchandise for sale, are primarily accounted for using the weighted average method and are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

2.20 Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable are amounts due from customers or agents for services performed or merchandise sold in the ordinary course of business. If collection of accounts receivable is expected in one year or less, they are classified as current assets. Otherwise, they are presented as non-current assets.

Accounts receivable are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment.

2.21 Cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash

Cash and cash equivalents include cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks, money market funds and other short-term highly liquid investments with initial maturities of three months or less.

The Group does not recognise cash amounts deposited with banks (which are received under its payment business) under users' entrustment in the consolidated statement of financial position as the Group holds these cash amounts as a custodian according to the relevant users' agreements.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.22 Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or share options are shown in equity as a deduction from the proceeds.

Where any Group company purchases the Company's equity instruments, the consideration paid, including any directly attributable incremental costs, is deducted from equity attributable to the Company's equity holders as treasury shares until the shares are cancelled or reissued. Where such shares are subsequently reissued, any consideration received (net of any directly attributable incremental transaction costs) is included in equity attributable to the Company's equity holders.

2.23 Accounts payable

Accounts payable are obligations to pay for services or goods that have been acquired in the ordinary course of business from suppliers. Accounts payable are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within one year or less. If not, they are presented as non-current liabilities.

Accounts payable are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

2.24 Put option liabilities

Put option is the financial instrument granted by the Group that the counterparty may have the right to request the Group to purchase its own equity instruments for cash or other financial assets when certain conditions are met. If the Group does not have the unconditional right to avoid delivering cash or another financial asset under the put option, it has to recognise a financial liability at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows under the put option. The financial liability is initially recognised at fair value. Subsequently, if the Group revises its estimates of payments, the Group will adjust the carrying amount of the financial liability to reflect actual and revised estimated cash outflows. The Group will recalculate the carrying amount by computing the present value of revised estimated future cash outflows at the financial instrument's original effective interest rate and the adjustments will be recognised as "Other gains/(losses), net" in the consolidated income statement. If the put option expires without delivery, the carrying amount of the liability is reclassified as equity.

The put option liabilities are current liabilities unless the put option can only be exercised 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.25 Financial guarantee contracts

The financial guarantee contract of the Group is a contract that represents guarantee provided by the Group in respect of a put arrangement granted by an investee to the employees of its subsidiary.

The financial guarantee is initially recognised in the financial statements at fair value on the date the guarantee was given. Subsequent to initial recognition, the Company's liabilities under such guarantee are measured at the higher of the initial carrying amount less amortisation of fees recognised in accordance with IAS 18, and the best estimate of the amount required to settle the guarantee.

2.26 Borrowings and notes payable

Borrowings and notes payable issued by the Group are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. They are subsequently carried at amortised cost. Any difference between proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in the consolidated income statement over their terms using the effective interest method.

Fees paid on the establishment of loan facilities are recognised as transaction costs of the loan facilities to the extent that it is probable that some or all of the facility will be drawn down. In this case, the fee is deferred until the draw-down occurs. To the extent there is no evidence that it is probable that some or all of the facility will be drawn down, the fee is capitalised as a prepayment for liquidity services and amortised over the term of the facility to which it relates.

Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the Group has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

Notes payable are classified as non-current liabilities unless the Group has an unconditional obligation to settle the liability within 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

General and specific finance costs directly attributable to the acquisition and construction of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. During the year ended 31 December 2017, finance cost capitalised was insignificant to the Group.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.27 Compound financial instruments

Compound financial instruments held by the Group comprise instruments with redemption features of associates that can be converted to share capital at the option of the holder.

The Group either (i) accounts for different components of the compound financial instruments separately or (ii) designates the entire financial instruments as financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit or loss. The host component is recognised initially at the difference between the fair value of the compound financial instrument as a whole and the fair value of the embedded derivatives. The subsequent measurement of the host component and embedded derivatives follow the respective accounting policy of financial instruments as stated in Notes 2.15 and 2.18.

2.28 Current and deferred income tax

The tax expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in the consolidated income statement, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or in equity, respectively.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period in the countries where the Company's subsidiaries operate and generate taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred income tax is recognised, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements. However, the deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of goodwill or the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss is affected. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.28 Current and deferred income tax (Cont'd)

Deferred income tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

Deferred income tax is provided on temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries and associates, except for deferred income tax liability where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference is controlled by the Group and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Generally the Group is unable to control the reversal of the temporary difference for associates. Only when there is an agreement in place that gives the Group the ability to control the reversal of the temporary difference in the foreseeable future, deferred tax liability in relation to taxable temporary differences arising from the associate's undistributed profit is not recognised.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised on deductible temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint arrangements only to the extent that it is probable the temporary difference will reverse in the future and there is sufficient taxable profit available against which the temporary difference can be utilised.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when the deferred income tax assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the taxable entity or different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the balances on a net basis.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.29 Employee benefits

(a) Employee leave entitlements

Employee entitlements to annual leave are recognised when they accrue to employees. A provision is made for the estimated liability for annual leave as a result of services rendered by employees up to the end of the reporting period. Employee entitlements to sick and maternity leave are not recognised until the time of leave.

(b) Pension obligations

The Group participates in various defined contribution retirement benefit plans which are available to all relevant employees. These plans are generally funded through payments to schemes established by governments or trustee-administered funds. A defined contribution plan is a pension plan under which the Group pays contributions on a mandatory, contractual or voluntary basis into a separate fund. The Group has no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employees the benefits relating to employee services in the current and prior periods. The Group's contributions to the defined contribution plans are expensed as incurred and not reduced by contributions forfeited by those employees who leave the plan prior to vesting fully in the contributions.

(c) Share-based compensation benefits

The Group operates a number of share-based compensation plans (including share option schemes and share award schemes), under which the Group receives services from employees and other qualifying participants as consideration for equity instruments (including share options and awarded shares) of the Group. The fair value of the employee services and other qualifying participants' services received in exchange for the grant of equity instruments of the Group is recognised as an expense over the vesting period, which is the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied, and credited to share premium under equity.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.29 Employee benefits (Cont'd)

(c) Share-based compensation benefits (Cont'd)

For grant of share options, the total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the fair value of the options granted by using option-pricing model, “Enhanced FAS 123” binomial model (the “Binomial Model”), which includes the impact of market performance conditions (such as the Company’s share price) but excludes the impact of service condition and non-market performance conditions. For grant of award shares, the total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the market price of the Company’s shares at the grant date. The Group also adopts valuation techniques to assess the fair value of other equity instruments of the Group granted under the share-based compensation plans as appropriate.

Non-market performance and services conditions are included in assumptions about the number of options that are expected to become vested.

From the perspective of the Company, the Company grants its equity instruments to employees of its subsidiaries to exchange for their services related to the subsidiaries. Accordingly, the share-based compensation expenses, which are recognised in the financial statement, are treated as part of the “Investments in subsidiaries” in the Company’s statement of financial position.

At each reporting period end, the Group revise their estimates of the number of options and awarded shares that are expected to ultimately vest. It recognises the impact of the revision to original estimates, if any, in the consolidated income statement of the Group, with a corresponding adjustment made to equity.

When the options are exercised, the proceeds received net of any directly attributable transaction costs are credited to share capital (nominal value) and share premium.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.29 Employee benefits (Cont'd)

(c) Share-based compensation benefits (Cont'd)

If the Group repurchases vested equity instruments, the payment made to the employee and other qualifying participants shall be accounted for as a deduction from equity, except to the extent that the payment exceeds the fair value of the equity instruments repurchased, measured at the repurchase date. Any such excess shall be recognised as an expense.

If the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, at a minimum an expense is recognised as if the terms had not been modified. An additional expense is recognised for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based payment arrangement, or is otherwise beneficial to the employee and other qualifying participants, as measured at the date of modification.

2.30 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation; and the amount has been reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for further operating losses.

Where there are a number of similar obligations, the likelihood that an outflow will be required in settlement is determined by considering the class of obligations as a whole. A provision is recognised even if the likelihood of an outflow with respect to any one item included in the same class of obligations may be small.

Provisions are measured at the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the obligation. The increase in the provision due to passage of time is recognised as interest expense.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.31 Revenue recognition

The Group principally derives revenues from provision of VAS, online advertising services and other online related services in the PRC.

(a) VAS

Revenues from VAS are derived principally from the provision of online games, community value-added services and applications across various online platforms.

The VAS can be paid directly by end users by way of online payment channels or utilising the prepaid cards and tokens (representing a specific amount of payment unit) issued by the Group. In addition, certain VAS are paid through various third parties platforms.

The Group sells the prepaid credits through various channels such as sales agents appointed by the Group, telecommunication operators, third party platform providers, broadband service providers and Internet cafes, etc. The end users can register the prepaid credits to their user accounts on the Group's online platforms and then gain access to the Group's paid online products or services. Receipts from the sales of prepaid credits are deferred and recorded as "Deferred revenue" in the consolidated statement of financial position (see Note 37).

Revenue is recognised from the provision of VAS when the services are rendered. Revenue is recognised from the virtual products/items on the Group's online platforms over the estimated lifespans of the respective virtual products/items. The estimated lifespans of different virtual products/items are determined by the management based on either the expected user relationship periods or the stipulated period of validity of the relevant virtual products/items depending on the respective term of virtual products/items.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

In respect of the Group's VAS services directly delivered to the Group's customers and paid through various third parties platforms, these third party platforms collect the relevant service fees (the "Online Service Fees") on behalf of the Group and they are entitled to a pre-determined percentage of commission fees (as part of "Channel and distribution costs"). Such Channel and distribution costs are withheld and deducted from the gross Online Service Fees collected by these platforms from the users, with the net amounts remitted to the Group. The Group recognises the Online Service Fees as revenue on a gross basis, given it acts as the principal in these transactions, and recognises such Channel and distribution costs as cost of revenues.

The Group also opens its online platforms to third-party game/application developers under certain co-operation agreements, of which the Group pays to the third-party game/application developers a pre-determined percentage of the fees paid by and collected from the users of the Group's online platforms for the virtual products/items purchased. The Group recognises the related revenue on a gross or net basis depending on whether the Group is acting as a principal or an agent in the transaction. The Group also defers the related revenue, either on a gross or net basis, over the estimated lifespans of the respective virtual products/items, given there is an implicit obligation of the Group to maintain and allow access of the users to the games/applications operated by the developers through its online platforms.

Determining whether revenues of the Group should be reported gross or net is based on a continuing assessment of various factors. The primary factor is whether the Group acting as the principal in offering services to the customer or as an agent in the transaction. The Group has determined that it is acting as the principal in offering services wherever the Group (i) is the primary obligor in the arrangement; (ii) has latitude in establishing the selling price; (iii) has discretion in supplier selection; and (iv) has involvement in the determination of product or service specifications. The Group adopts different revenue recognition methods based on its specific responsibilities/obligations in different VAS offerings.

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.31 Revenue recognition (Cont'd)

(b) Online advertising

Online advertising revenues mainly comprise revenues derived from media advertisements and from social and others advertisements, depending on the placement of advertising properties and inventories.

The Group recognises (i) revenue from performance-based advertising when relevant specific performance measures (such as delivery of pay-for-click, pay-for-download etc.) are fulfilled; and (ii) revenue from display-based advertising on number of display/impression basis or ratably over the respective contractual term with the advertisers or their advertising agencies, depending on the contractual measures, when the related advertisements are displayed.

(c) Other revenues

The Group's other revenues are primarily derived from provision of payment related services for individual and corporate users, cloud services and others. The Group recognises revenue when the service is rendered and the underlying transaction is completed.

2.32 Interest income

Interest income is recognised on a time proportion basis, taking into account of the principal outstanding and the effective interest rate over the period to maturity, when it is determined that such income will accrue to the Group.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2 SUMMARY OF PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd)

2.33 Dividend income

Dividends are recognised as income when the right to receive payment is established. This applies even if they are paid out of pre-acquisition profit. However, the investment may need to be tested for impairment as a consequence.

2.34 Government grants/subsidies

Grants/Subsidies from government are recognised at their fair value where there is a reasonable assurance that the grants/subsidies will be received and the Group will comply with all attached conditions.

Under these circumstances, the grants/subsidies are recognised as income or matched with the associated costs and expenses which the grants/subsidies are intended to compensate.

2.35 Leases

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by lessors are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases (net of any incentives received from the lessor) are charged to the consolidated income statement on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease.

2.36 Dividends distribution

Dividends distribution to the Company's shareholders is recognised as a liability in the Group's and Company's financial statements in the period in which the dividend is approved by the Company's shareholders or board of directors where appropriate.

2.37 Research and development expenses

Research expenditure is recognised as an expense as incurred.

Costs incurred on development projects (relating to the design and testing of new or improved products) are capitalised as intangible assets when recognition criteria are fulfilled and tests for impairment are performed annually. Other development expenditures that do not meet those criterias are recognised as expenses as incurred. Development costs previously recognised as expenses are not recognised as assets in subsequent periods.

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

3.1 Financial risk factors

The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including foreign exchange risk, price risk and interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group's overall risk management strategy seeks to minimise the potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Group. Risk management is carried out by the senior management of the Group.

(a) Market risk

(i) Foreign exchange risk

The Group operates internationally and is exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from various currency exposures, primarily with respect to RMB, Hong Kong Dollars ("HKD"), USD and Euro ("EUR"). Foreign exchange risk arises when future commercial transactions or recognised assets and liabilities are denominated in a currency that is not the respective functional currency of the Group's subsidiaries. The functional currency of the Company and majority of its overseas subsidiaries is USD whereas the functional currency of the subsidiaries which operate in the PRC is RMB.

The Group manages its foreign exchange risk by performing regular reviews of the Group's net foreign exchange exposures and tries to minimise these exposures through natural hedges, wherever possible, and may enter into forward foreign exchange contracts, when necessary.

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.1 Financial risk factors (Cont'd)

- (a) Market risk (Cont'd)
 - (i) Foreign exchange risk (Cont'd)

As at 31 December 2017, the Group's major monetary assets and liabilities that exposed to foreign exchange risk are listed below:

	USD denominated RMB'Million	Non-USD denominated RMB'Million
As at 31 December 2017
Monetary assets, current	13,795	1,563
Monetary assets, non-current	1,309	–
Monetary liabilities, current	(2,747)	(15,744)
Monetary liabilities, non-current	(1,833)	(5,115)
	10,524	(19,296)
As at 31 December 2016
Monetary assets, current	8,606	1,035
Monetary liabilities, current	(3,365)	(177)
Monetary liabilities, non-current	(276)	(5,470)
	4,965	(4,612)

During the year ended 31 December 2017, the Group reported exchange gains of approximately RMB152 million (2016: exchange gains of approximately RMB212 million) within "Finance costs, net" in the consolidated income statement.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.1 Financial risk factors (Cont'd)

- (a) Market risk (Cont'd)
 - (i) Foreign exchange risk (Cont'd)

At 31 December 2017, management considers that any reasonable changes in foreign exchange rates of the above currencies against the two major functional currencies would not result in a significant change in the Group's results, as the net carrying amounts of financial assets and liabilities denominated in a currency other than the respective Group's subsidiaries' function currency are considered to be insignificant, given the exchange rate peg between HKD and USD. Accordingly, no sensitivity analysis is presented for foreign exchange risk (2016: Nil).

- (ii) Price risk

The Group is exposed to price risk mainly arising from investments that are classified as available-for-sale financial assets held by the Group (Note 24). To manage its price risk arising from the investments, the Group diversifies its investment portfolio. The investments are made either for strategic purposes, or for the purpose of achieving investment yield and balancing the Group's liquidity level simultaneously. Each investment is managed by senior management on a case by case basis.

Sensitivity analysis is performed by management to assess the exposure of the Group's financial results to equity price risk of available-for-sale financial assets at the end of each reporting period. If equity prices of the respective instruments held by the Group had been 5% (2016: 5%) higher/lower as at 31 December 2017, the other comprehensive income would have been approximately RMB4,069 million (2016: RMB3,879 million) higher/lower.

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.1 Financial risk factors (Cont'd)

(a) Market risk (Cont'd)

(iii) Interest rate risk

The Group's income and operating cash flows are substantially independent from changes in market interest rates and the Group has no significant interest-bearing assets except for loans to investees and investees' shareholders, term deposits with initial terms of over three months, restricted cash and cash and cash equivalents, details of which have been disclosed in Notes 25, 28 and 30.

The Group's exposure to changes in interest rates is also attributable to its borrowings and notes payable, details of which have been disclosed in Notes 34 and 35, which representing a substantial portion of the Group's debts. Borrowings and notes payable carried at floating rates expose the Group to cash flow interest-rate risk whereas those carried at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest-rate risk.

The Group regularly monitors its interest rate risk to identify if there are any undue exposures to significant interest rate movements and manages its cash flow interest rate risk by using interest rate swaps, whenever considered necessary.

During the year ended 31 December 2017, the Group entered into certain interest rate swap contracts to hedge its exposure arising from its borrowings carried at floating rates. Under these interest rate swap contracts, the Group agreed with the counterparties to exchange, at specified interval, the difference between fixed contract rates and floating-rate interest amounts calculated by reference to the agreed notional amounts. These interest rate swap contracts have the economic effect of converting borrowings from floating rates to fixed rates and were qualified as hedging accounting. The Group's outstanding interest rate swap contracts as at 31 December 2017 have been detailed in Note 26.

As at 31 December 2017 and 2016, management considers that any reasonable changes in the interest rates would not result in a significant change in the Group's results as the Group's exposure to cash flow interest-rate risk arising from its borrowings and notes payable carried at floating rates after considering the effect of hedging is considered to be insignificant. Accordingly, no sensitivity analysis is presented for interest rate risk.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.1 Financial risk factors (Cont'd)

(b) Credit risk

The Group is exposed to credit risk in relation to its cash and deposits placed with banks and financial institutions, other debt investments, as well as accounts and other receivables. The carrying amount of each class of these financial assets represents the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk in relation to the corresponding class of financial assets. To manage this risk, deposits are mainly placed with state-owned financial institutions in the PRC and reputable international financial institutions outside of the PRC. There has been no recent history of default in relation to these financial institutions.

The Group has policies in place to ensure that revenues of on credit terms are made to counterparties with an appropriate credit history and the management performs ongoing credit evaluations of its counterparties.

The Group's online advertising that are sales to/through advertising agencies or directly to the advertisers at term of full advances, partial advances or sales on credit according to the Group's credit policies. The credit period granted to the customers is usually not more than 90 days and the credit quality of these customers are assessed, which takes into account their financial position, past experience and other factors. Provisions are made for past due balances when management considers the loss from the customers is likely. The Group's historical experience in collection of receivables falls within the recorded allowances.

The Group's revenues from VAS are generally paid by end users by way of online payment channels or utilising the prepaid cards and tokens issued and sold by the Group, whereas the revenue from VAS that delivered to its end users through third party platforms were collected by these third party platform providers and remitted to the Group under a credit period of 30 to 120 days. In addition, the Group also sold prepaid credits through various channels such as sales agents, telecommunication operators, third party platform providers and Internet cafes, etc. Apart from certain credit periods granted to the telecommunication operators and third party platform providers, full advances were required from other channels.

In view of the history of co-operation with these third party platform providers and telecommunication operators, and the sound financial position and collection history of receivables due from these counterparties, management believes that the credit risk inherent in the Group's outstanding accounts receivable balances from these counterparties is low (see Note 29 for details).

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.1 Financial risk factors (Cont'd)

(c) Liquidity risk

The Group aims to maintain sufficient cash and cash equivalents and marketable securities. Due to the dynamic nature of the underlying businesses, the Group maintains flexibility in funding by maintaining adequate cash and cash equivalents and marketable securities.

The table below analyses the Group's financial liabilities by relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period since the end of the reporting period to the contractual maturity date.

	Less than 1 year RMB'Million	Between 1 and 2 years RMB'Million	Between 2 and 5 years RMB'Million	Over 5 years RMB'Million	Total RMB'Million

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.2 Capital risk management

The Group's objectives on managing capital are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern and support the sustainable growth of the Group in order to provide returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders and to maintain an optimal capital structure to enhance shareholders' value in the long term.

Capital refers to equity and external debts (including borrowings and notes payable). In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the amount of dividends paid to shareholders, return capital to shareholders, issue new shares, repurchase the Company's shares or raise/repay debts.

The Group monitors capital by regularly reviewing debts to adjusted earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation ("EBITDA") (Note) ratio, being the measure of the Group's ability to pay off all debts that reflects financial health and liquidity position. The total debts/adjusted EBITDA ratio calculated by dividing the total debts by adjusted EBITDA is as follows:

	As at 31 December
	2017	2016
	RMB'Million	RMB'Million
Borrowings (Note 34)	97,790	69,827
Notes payable (Note 35)	34,115	39,670
Total debts	131,905	109,497
Adjusted EBITDA (Note)	95,861	66,863
Total debts/Adjusted EBITDA ratio	1.38	1.64

Note:

Adjusted EBITDA represents operating profit less interest income and other gains/ losses, net, and plus depreciation of property, plant and equipment and investment properties, amortisation of intangible assets and equity-settled share-based compensation expenses.

The movement in the ratio is mainly caused by higher adjusted EBITDA compared to prior financial year.

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.3 Fair value estimation

The table below analyses the Group's financial instruments carried at fair value as at 31 December 2017 by level of the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. Such inputs are categorised into three levels within a fair value hierarchy as follows:

- Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1);
- Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices) (level 2); and
- Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs) (level 3).

	Level 1 RMB'Million	Level 2 RMB'Million	Level 3 RMB'Million	Total RMB'Million
As at 31 December 2017
Available-for-sale financial assets	53,574	331	73,313	127,218
Other financial assets	–	1,806	3,818	5,624
Other financial liabilities	–	–	2,154	2,154

As at 31 December 2016
Available-for-sale financial assets	19,995	508	63,303	83,806
Other financial assets	–	1,113	2,296	3,409
Other financial liabilities	–	–	2,576	2,576

The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets is determined based on quoted market prices at the end of the reporting period. A market is regarded as active if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis. The quoted market price used for financial assets held by the Group is the current bid price. These instruments are included in level 1.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.3 Fair value estimation (Cont'd)

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined by using valuation techniques. These valuation techniques maximise the use of observable market data where it is available and rely as little as possible on entity specific estimates. If all significant inputs required for evaluating the fair value of a financial instrument are observable, the instrument is included in level 2.

If one or more of the significant inputs are not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

Specific valuation techniques used to value financial instruments include:

- Dealer quotes for similar instruments;
- The fair value of interest rate swaps is calculated as the present value of the estimated future cash flows based on observable yield curves; and
- Other techniques, such as discounted cash flow analysis, are used to determine fair value for financial instruments.

During the year ended 31 December 2017, there was no transfer between level 1 and 2 for recurring fair value measurements. For transfers in and out of level 3 measurements see the following table, which presents the changes of financial instruments in level 3 instruments for the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2016:

	Financial assets		Financial liabilities
	2017 RMB'Million	2016 RMB'Million	2017 RMB'Million	2016 RMB'Million
Opening balance	65,599	27,947	2,576	588
Additions	31,795	30,757	–	2,557
Disposals and transfers/settlements	(25,647)	(526)	–	(491)
Changes in fair value	10,247	5,651	(271)	(98)
Impairment provision	(581)	(708)	–	–
Currency translation differences	(4,282)	2,478	(151)	20

3 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (Cont'd)

3.3 Fair value estimation (Cont'd)

Valuation processes of the Group (Level 3)

The Group has a team of personnel who performs valuation on these level 3 instruments for financial reporting purposes. The team performs valuation, or necessary updates, at least once every quarter, which coincides with the Group's quarterly reporting dates. On an annual basis, the team adopts various valuation techniques to determine the fair value of the Group's level 3 instruments. External valuation experts may also be involved and consulted when it is necessary.

The components of the level 3 instruments mainly include investments in private investment funds and unlisted companies, convertible bonds and other financial instruments. As these instruments are not traded in an active market, their fair values have been determined using various applicable valuation techniques, including discounted cash flows approach, comparable transactions approach, and other option pricing models, etc. Major assumptions used in the valuation include historical financial results, assumptions about future growth rates, estimates of weighted average cost of capital (WACC), recent market transactions, discount for lack of marketability and other exposure etc. Other financial liabilities include guarantee provided by the Group on certain put arrangements of an associate and put options issued by the Group to certain investors of the associate, at a pre-determined pricing formula. The fair value of these instruments determined by the Group requires significant judgement, including the likelihood of non-performing by the investee company, financial performance of the investee company, market value of comparable companies as well as discount rate, etc.

4 CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The Group makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal to the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are addressed below:

(a) The estimates of the lifespans of virtual products/items provided on the Group's online platforms

As mentioned in Note 2.31(a), the end users purchase certain virtual products/items provided on the Group's online platforms and the relevant revenue is recognised based on the estimated lifespans of the virtual products/items. The estimated lifespans of different virtual products/items are determined by the management based on either the expected users' relationship periods or the stipulated period of validity of the relevant virtual products/items depending on the respective terms of virtual products/items.

Significant judgements are required in determining the expected users' relationship periods, including but not limited to historical users' consumption patterns, churn out rate and reactivity on marketing activities, games life-cycle, and the Group's marketing strategy. The Group has adopted a policy of assessing the estimated lifespans of virtual products/items on a regular basis whenever there is any indication of change in the expected users' relationship periods.

The Group will continue to monitor the average lifespans of the virtual products/items. The results may differ from the historical period, and any change in the estimates may result in the revenue being recognised on a different basis from that in prior periods.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

4 CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS (Cont'd)

(b) Recoverability of non-financial assets and investments in redeemable instruments of associates

The Group tests annually whether goodwill has suffered any impairment. Goodwill and other non-financial assets, mainly including property, plant and equipment, construction in progress, other intangible assets, investment properties, land use rights, and investments in associates and joint ventures, as well as investments in redeemable instruments of associates are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. The recoverable amounts have been determined based on value-in-use calculations or fair value less costs to sell. These calculations require the use of judgements and estimates.

Judgement is required to identify any impairment indicators existing for any of the Group's goodwill, other non-financial assets and investments in redeemable instruments of associates, to determine appropriate impairment approaches, i.e., fair value less costs of disposal or value in use, for impairment review purposes, and to select key assumptions applied in the adopted valuation models, including discounted cash flows and market approach. Changing the assumptions selected by management in assessing impairment could materially affect the result of the impairment test and in turn affect the Group's financial condition and results of operations. If there is a significant adverse change in the key assumptions applied, it may be necessary to take additional impairment charge to the consolidated income statement.

(c) Fair value measurement of available-for-sale financial assets and other financial assets

The fair value assessment of available-for-sale financial assets and other financial assets that are measured at level 3 fair value hierarchy requires significant estimates, which include estimating the future cash flows, determining appropriate discount rates and other assumptions. Changes in these assumptions and estimates could materially affect the respective fair value of these investments. The Group monitors its investments for impairment by considering factors including, but not limited to, current economic and market conditions, recent fund raising transactions undertaken by the investees, the operating performance of the investees including current earnings trends and other company-specific information.

4 CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS (Cont'd)

(d) Share-based compensation arrangements

As mentioned in Note 2.29(c), the Group has granted share options to its employees and other qualifying participants. The directors have adopted the Binomial Model to determine the total fair value of the options granted, which is to be expensed over the respective vesting periods. Significant judgement on parameters, such as risk free rate, dividend yield and expected volatility, is required to be made by the directors in applying the Binomial Model (Note 33).

The fair value of share options granted to employees and other qualifying participants determined using the Binomial Model was approximately HKD2,691 million (equivalent to approximately RMB2,373 million) in 2017 (2016: HKD668 million (equivalent to approximately RMB560 million)).

The Group has to estimate the expected yearly percentage of grantees that will stay within the Group at the end of vesting periods of the options and awarded shares (the "Expected Retention Rate") in order to determine the amount of share-based compensation expenses charged to the consolidated income statement. As at 31 December 2017, the Expected Retention Rate of the Group and its wholly-owned subsidiaries was assessed to be 88%-97% (2016: 88%-96%).

(e) Income taxes

The Group is subject to income taxes in numerous jurisdictions. Significant judgement is required in determining the worldwide provision for income taxes. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact current income tax and deferred income tax in the period in which such determination is made.

5 SEGMENT INFORMATION

The chief operating decision-makers mainly include executive directors of the Company. They review the Group's internal reporting in order to assess performance, allocate resources, and determine the operating segments based on these reports.

The Group has following reportable segments for the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2016:

- VAS;
- Online advertising; and
- Others.

"Others" primarily comprises payment related services for individual and corporate users, cloud services and other services.

5 SEGMENT INFORMATION (Cont'd)

The chief operating decision-makers assess the performance of the operating segments mainly based on segment revenue and gross profit of each operating segment. The selling and marketing expenses and general and administrative expenses are common costs incurred for these operating segments as a whole and therefore, they are not included in the measure of the segments' performance which is used by the chief operating decision-makers as a basis for the purpose of resource allocation and assessment of segment performance. Interest income, other gains/(losses), net, finance income/(costs), net, share of profit/(loss) of associates and joint ventures and income tax expense are also not allocated to individual operating segment.

There were no material inter-segment sales during the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2016. The revenues from external customers reported to the chief operating decision-makers are measured in a manner consistent with that applied in the consolidated income statement.

Other information, together with the segment information, provided to the chief operating decision-makers, is measured in a manner consistent with that applied in these consolidated financial statements. There were no segment assets and segment liabilities information provided to the chief operating decision-makers.

The segment information provided to the chief operating decision-makers for the reportable segments for the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2016 is as follows:

11 TAXATION

(a) Income tax expense

Income tax expense is recognised based on management's best knowledge of the income tax rates expected for the financial year.

- (i) Cayman Islands and British Virgin Islands corporate income tax

The Group was not subject to any taxation in the Cayman Islands and the British Virgin Islands for the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2016.

- (ii) Hong Kong profit tax

Hong Kong profit tax has been provided for at the rate of 16.5% on the estimated assessable profit for the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2016.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

(a) Income tax expense (Cont'd)

(iii) PRC corporate income tax

PRC corporate income tax has been provided for at applicable tax rates under the relevant regulations of the PRC after considering the available preferential tax benefits from refunds and allowances, and on the estimated assessable profit of entities within the Group established in the PRC for the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2016. The general PRC corporate income tax rate is 25% in 2017.

Certain subsidiaries of the Group in the PRC were approved as High and New Technology Enterprise, and accordingly, they were subject to a reduced preferential corporate income tax rate of 15% for the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2016. Moreover, according to announcement and circular issued by relevant government authorities, for the year of 2015 and beyond, a software enterprise that qualifies as a national key software enterprise shall file its status with tax authorities for review and record in accordance with the relevant requirements at the time of final tax settlement each year in order to enjoy the preferential tax rate of 10%. The PRC corporate income tax for the relevant subsidiaries of the Company filing for this preferential tax treatment has been provided for at their respective prevailing tax rates during the year. Upon receipt of notification, the relevant subsidiaries of the Company will be entitled to corporate income tax rate of 10% and corresponding tax adjustments will be accounted for.

In addition, according to relevant tax circulars issued by the PRC tax authorities, certain subsidiaries of the Company are entitled to other tax concessions and they are exempt from corporate income tax for two years, followed by a 50% reduction in the applicable tax rates for the next three years, commencing from the first year of profitable operation, after offsetting tax losses generated in prior years.

(iv) Corporate income tax in other countries

Income tax on profit arising from other jurisdictions, including the United States, Europe, East Asia and South America has been calculated on the estimated assessable profit for the year at the respective rates prevailing in the relevant jurisdictions, ranging from 12.5% to 36%.

(v) Withholding tax

According to applicable tax regulations prevailing in the PRC, dividends distributed by a company established in the PRC to a foreign investor with respect to profit derived after 1 January 2008 are generally subject to a 10% withholding tax. If a foreign investor is incorporated in Hong Kong, under the double taxation arrangement between the Mainland China and Hong Kong, the relevant withholding tax rate applicable to the Group will be reduced from 10% to 5% subject to the fulfilment of certain conditions.

Dividends distributed from certain jurisdictions that the Group's entities operate in are also subject to withholding tax at respective applicable tax rates.

(a) Income tax expense (Cont'd)

The income tax expense of the Group are analysed as follows:

	2017	2016
	RMB'Million	RMB'Million
Current income tax	15,154	10,791
Deferred income tax (Note 27)	590	(598)
	15,744	10,193

The taxation on the Group's profit before income tax differs from the theoretical amount that would arise using the tax rate of 25% for the year (2016: 25%), being the tax rate of the major subsidiaries of the Group before enjoying preferential tax treatments, as follows:

	2017	2016
	RMB'Million	RMB'Million
Profit before income tax	88,215	51,640
Share of (profit)/loss of associates and joint ventures	(821)	2,522

(b) Value-added tax and other taxes

The operations of the Group are also mainly subject to the following taxes in the PRC:

Category	Tax rate	Basis of levy
Value-added tax ("VAT")	6-17%	Sales value of goods sold and services fee income, offsetting by VAT on purchases
Construction fee for cultural undertakings	3%	Taxable advertising income
City construction tax	7%	Net VAT payable amount
Educational surcharge	5%	Net VAT payable amount

12 EARNINGS PER SHARE

(a) Basic

Basic earnings per share ("EPS") is calculated by dividing the profit attributable to equity holders of the Company by the weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue during the year.

	2017	2016
Profit attributable to equity holders of the Company (RMB' Million)	71,510	41,095
Weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue (million shares)	9,411	9,376
Basic EPS (RMB per share)	7.598	4.383

(b) Diluted

The share options and awarded shares granted by the Company have potential dilutive effect on the EPS. Diluted EPS is calculated by adjusting the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding by the assumption of the conversion of all potential dilutive ordinary shares arising from share options and awarded shares granted by the Company (collectively forming the denominator for computing the diluted EPS). No adjustment is made to earnings (numerator).

In addition, the share options and restricted shares granted by the Company's non-wholly owned subsidiaries and associates should also have potential dilutive effect on the EPS. During the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2016, these share options and restricted shares had either anti-dilutive effect or insignificant dilutive effect to the Group.

Note:

Majority of the Group's contributions to pension plans are related to the local employees in the PRC. All local employees of the subsidiaries in the PRC participate in employee social security plans established in the PRC, which cover pension, medical and other welfare benefits. The plans are organised and administered by the governmental authorities. Except for the contributions made to these social security plans, the Group has no other material commitments owing to the employees. According to the relevant regulations, the portion of premium and welfare benefit contributions that should be borne by the companies within the Group as required by the above social security plans are principally determined based on percentages of the basic salaries of employees, subject to certain ceilings imposed. These contributions are paid to the respective labour and social welfare authorities and are expensed as incurred. The applicable percentages used to provide for these social security plans for the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2016 are listed below:

	Percentage
Pension insurance	12.0 - 20.0%
Medical insurance	6.0 - 11.5%
Unemployment insurance	0.5 - 1.5%
Housing fund	10.0 - 12.0%

During the year ended 31 December 2017, amortisation of RMB17,837 million (2016: RMB8,277 million) and RMB785 million (2016: RMB653 million) were charged to cost of revenues and general and administrative expenses, respectively.

During the year ended 31 December 2017, goodwill and other identifiable intangible assets of certain acquired business have been impaired to the extent of RMB239 million (2016: RMB366 million) (Note 7) as a result of significant decline in revenues and unsatisfactory operating performance of these business.

Impairment tests for goodwill

Goodwill is allocated to the Group's CGUs and most of the goodwill is related to the VAS. The recoverable amount of a CGU is the higher of its value-in-use and fair value less costs to sell. The key assumptions used for the calculations of the recoverable amounts of major CGUs are as follows:

For online game business, management calculates the fair value less costs to sell based on ratios of EV (enterprise value) divided by EBITDA (earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation) of several comparable public companies (ranging within 16-23x) multiplied by the EBITDA of the related CGU and discounted for the lack of marketability at a range of 10% to 20%. The comparable public companies are chosen based on factors such as industry similarity, company size, profitability and financial risks.

For online literature business and online music business, management calculates value-in-use based on discounted cash flows calculations. The discounted cash flows calculations use cash flow projections developed based on financial budgets approved by management of the Group covering a five-year period. Cash flows beyond the five-year period are extrapolated using an estimated annual growth of not more than 5%. Pre-tax discount rates of 20% to 25% adopted for the online music business and the online literature business, respectively, which reflects market assessments of time value and the specific risks relating to the industry that the Group operates. The financial projections were determined by the management based on past performance and its expectation for market development.

32 OTHER RESERVES (Cont'd)

Note:

- (a) The capital reserve mainly arises from transactions undertaken with non-controlling interests.
- (b) In accordance with the Companies Laws of the PRC and the stipulated provisions of the articles of association of subsidiaries with limited liabilities in the PRC, appropriation of net profit (after offsetting accumulated losses from prior years) should be made by these companies to their respective Statutory Surplus Reserve Funds and the Discretionary Reserve Funds before distributions are made to the owners. The percentage of appropriation to Statutory Surplus Reserve Fund is 10%. The amount to be transferred to the Discretionary Reserve Fund is determined by the equity owners of these companies. When the balance of the Statutory Surplus Reserve Fund reaches 50% of the registered capital, such transfer needs not to be made. Both the Statutory Surplus Reserve Fund and Discretionary Reserves Fund can be capitalised as capital of an enterprise, provided that the remaining Statutory Surplus Reserve Fund shall not be less than 25% of the registered capital.

In addition, in accordance with the Law of the PRC on Enterprises with Foreign Investments and the stipulated provisions of the articles of association of wholly owned foreign subsidiaries in the PRC, appropriation from net profit (after offsetting accumulated losses brought forward from prior years) should be made by these companies to their respective Reserve Fund. The percentage of net profit to be appropriated to the Reserve Fund is not less than 10% of the net profit. When the balance of the Reserve Fund reaches 50% of the registered capital, such transfer needs not be made.

With approvals obtained from respective boards of directors of these companies, the Reserve Fund can be used to offset accumulated deficit or to increase capital.

- (c) Share-based compensation reserve arises from share option schemes and share award schemes adopted by the subsidiaries of the Group (Note 33(d)).
- (d) During the year ended 31 December 2017, the Group has acquired non-controlling interests in certain non-wholly owned subsidiaries and the aggregate net excess of considerations over the carrying amounts of acquired non-controlling interests of RMB952 million (2016: RMB2,523 million) was recognised directly in equity. Out of which includes an agreement to entire non-controlling interests (including the outstanding equity-settled and cash-settled share options and restricted shares under the relevant employees' investment plans) in a non-wholly owned subsidiary entered into by the Group in 2015. The considerations were settled in cash and awarded shares of the Company. This acquisition was partially completed in 2017.
- (e) During the year ended 31 December 2017, a non-wholly owned subsidiary of the Group, China Literature Limited ("China Literature"), have undergone initial public offering by listing of certain of its new shares and sale shares on the Stock Exchange and thus the Group's equity interest in China Literature was diluted. Given China Literature remains a subsidiary of the Group following the said initial public offering, this transaction was accounted for as transaction with non-controlling interest with a gain of RMB2,495 million directly recognised in equity.

During the year ended 31 December 2017, another non-wholly owned subsidiary of the Group issued certain new shares in exchange for non-controlling interest of an investee, which accounted for as available-for-sale financial assets, and the Group's equity interest in such non-wholly owned subsidiary was diluted accordingly. This transaction was accounted for as transaction with non-controlling interest with a gain of RMB4,088 million directly recognised in equity.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

33 SHARE-BASED PAYMENTS

(a) Share option schemes

The Company has adopted five share option schemes, namely, the Pre-IPO Option Scheme, the Post-IPO Option Scheme I, the Post-IPO Option Scheme II, the Post-IPO Option Scheme III and the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV.

The Pre-IPO Option Scheme, the Post-IPO Option Scheme I and the Post-IPO Option Scheme II expired on 31 December 2011, 23 March 2014 and 16 May 2017, respectively. Upon the expiry of these schemes, no further options would be granted under these schemes, but the options granted prior to such expiry continued to be valid and exercisable in accordance with provisions of the schemes.

In respect of the Post-IPO Option Scheme III which continues to be in force, the Board may, at its discretion, grant options to any qualifying participants to subscribe for shares in the Company, subject to the terms and conditions stipulated therein. The exercise price must be in compliance with the requirement under the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange. In addition, the option vesting period is determined by the Board provided that it is not later than the last day of a 10-year period.

On 17 May 2017, a new share option scheme (“Post-IPO Option Scheme IV”) had been approved by the shareholders of the Company. The maximum number of shares in respect of which options may be granted under the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV shall not exceed 379,099,339 shares, representing 4% of the issued shares of the Company as at the date of shareholders’ approval of the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV (the “Scheme Mandate Limit”). Options lapsed in accordance with the terms of the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV shall not be counted for the purpose of calculating the 4% limit. The Company may refresh the Scheme Mandate Limit by an ordinary resolution of the shareholders passed in a general meeting, provided that the Scheme Mandate Limit so refreshed shall not exceed 4% of the issued shares as at the date the shareholders approve the refreshing of such Scheme Mandate Limit. Options previously granted under any existing schemes (including options outstanding, cancelled, or lapsed in accordance with the relevant scheme rules or exercised options) shall not be counted for the purpose of calculating the limit as refreshed. Options granted under the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV will expire no later than the last day of the 7-year period after the date of grant of options (subject to early termination as set out in the terms of the Post-IPO Option Scheme IV).

33 SHARE-BASED PAYMENTS (Cont'd)

(a) Share option schemes (Cont'd)

(iii) Fair value of options

The directors of the Company have used the Binomial Model to determine the fair value of the options as at the respective grant dates, which is to be expensed over the relevant vesting period. The weighted average fair value of options granted during the year ended 31 December 2017 was HKD71.30 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB62.86 per share) (2016: HKD56.41 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB47.33 per share)).

Other than the exercise price mentioned above, significant judgement on parameters, such as risk free rate, dividend yield and expected volatility, are required to be made by the directors in applying the Binomial Model, which are summarised as below.

	2017	2016
Weighted average share price at the grant date	HKD236.88	HKD160.04
Risk free rate	1.39%-1.68%	0.69%-1.08%
Dividend yield	0.26%-0.34%	0.32%-0.33%
Expected volatility (Note)	30.00%	35.00%

Note:

The expected volatility, measured as the standard deviation of expected share price returns, is determined based on the average daily trading price volatility of the shares of the Company.

(b) Share award schemes

The Company has adopted two share award schemes (the "Share Award Schemes") as of 31 December 2017, which are administered by an independent trustee appointed by the Group. The vesting period of the awarded shares is determined by the Board.

Movements in the number of awarded shares for the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2016 are as follows:

	Number of awarded shares
	2017	2016
At beginning of the year	86,365,812	91,786,907
Granted	19,071,975	52,371,430
Lapsed	(3,227,554)	(3,803,259)
Vested and transferred	(38,573,979)	(53,989,266)
At end of the year	63,636,254	86,365,812
Vested but not transferred as at the end of the year	159,893	277,291

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

During the year ended 31 December 2017, 60,000 awarded shares were granted to four independent non-executive directors of the Company (2016: 61,474 awarded shares were granted to four independent non-executive directors of the Company).

The fair value of the awarded shares was calculated based on the market price of the Company's shares at the respective grant date. The expected dividends during the vesting period have been taken into account when assessing the fair value of these awarded shares.

The weighted average fair value of awarded shares granted during the year ended 31 December 2017 was HKD274.02 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB238.37 per share) (2016: HKD165.25 per share (equivalent to approximately RMB141.89 per share)).

The outstanding awarded shares as of 31 December 2017 were divided into two to five tranches on an equal basis as at their grant dates. The first tranche can be exercised immediately or after a specified period ranging from four months to four years from the grant date, and the remaining tranches will become exercisable in each subsequent year.

(c) Employee investment schemes

For aligning the interests of key employees with the Group, the Group established six employees' investment plans in the form of limited liability partnerships in 2011, 2014, 2015, 2016 and 2017 (the "EIS") respectively. According to the term of the EISs, the Board may, at its absolute discretion, invite any qualifying participants of the Group, excluding any director of the Company, to participate in the EISs by subscribing for the partnership interest at cash consideration. The participating employees are entitled to all the economic benefits generated by the EISs, if any, after a specified vesting period under the respective EISs, ranging from four to seven years. Wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Company acting as general partner of these EISs administer and in essence, control the EISs. These EISs are therefore consolidated by the Company as structured entities.

The related share-based compensation expenses incurred for the years ended 31 December 2017 and 2016 were insignificant to the Group.

(d) Share options and share award schemes adopted by subsidiaries

Certain subsidiaries of the Group operate their own share-based compensation plans (share option and/or share award schemes). Their exercise prices of the share options, as well as the vesting periods of the share options and awarded shares are determined by the board of directors of these subsidiaries at their sole discretion. Similar to the share option/award schemes adopted by the Company, the share options or restricted shares of the subsidiaries granted are normally vested by several tranches. Participants of some subsidiaries have the right to request the Group to repurchase their vested equity interests of the respective subsidiaries ("Repurchase Transaction"). The Group has discretion to settle the Repurchase Transaction by using either equity instruments of the Company or by cash. For the Repurchase Transaction which the Group has settlement options, the directors of the Company are currently of the view that they would be settled by equity instruments of the Company. As a result, they are accounted for using the equity-settled share-based payment method.

33 SHARE-BASED PAYMENTS (Cont'd)

(e) Expected retention rate of grantees

The Group has to estimate the expected yearly percentage of grantees that will stay within the Group at the end of vesting periods of the options and awarded shares (the “Expected Retention Rate”) in order to determine the amount of share-based compensation expenses charged to the consolidated income statement. As at 31 December 2017, the Expected Retention Rate of the Group’s wholly-owned subsidiaries was assessed to be 88%-97% (2016: 88%-96%).

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

45 SUBSIDIARIES AND CONTROLLED STRUCTURED ENTITIES (Cont'd)

Note:

- (a) As described in Note 1, the Company does not have legal ownership in equity of these structured entities or their subsidiaries. Nevertheless, under certain contractual agreements entered into with the registered owners of these structured entities, the Company and its other legally owned subsidiaries control these companies by way of controlling the voting rights, governing their financial and operating policies, appointing or removing the majority of the members of their controlling authorities, and casting the majority of votes at meetings of such authorities. In addition, such contractual agreements also transfer the risks and rewards of these companies to the Company and/or its other legally owned subsidiaries. As a result, they are presented as controlled structured entities of the Company.
- (b) The directors of the Company considered that the non-wholly owned subsidiaries with non-controlling interests are not significant to the Group, therefore, no summarised financial information of these non-wholly owned subsidiaries is presented separately.
- (c) All subsidiaries' undertakings are included in the consolidation. The proportion of the voting rights in the subsidiary's undertakings held directly by the parent company do not differ from its proportion of ordinary shares held. The parent company further does not have any shareholdings in the preference shares of subsidiary's undertakings included in the Group.
- (d) Significant restrictions

As at 31 December 2017, cash and cash equivalents, term deposits and restricted cash of the Group, amounting to RMB98,144 million were held in Mainland China and they are subject to local exchange control and other financial and treasury regulations. The local exchange control, and other financial and treasury regulations provide for restrictions, on payment of dividends, share repurchase and offshore investments, other than through normal activities.

- (e) Consolidation of structured entities

As mentioned in Note (a) above and Note 33(c), the Company has consolidated the operating entities within the Group without any legal interests and the EISs out of which wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Company act as general partner. In addition, due to the implementation of the share award schemes of the Group mentioned in Note 33(b), the Company has also set up a structured entity ("Share Scheme Trust"), and its particulars are as follows:

Structured entity	Principal activities
Share Scheme Trust	Administering and holding the Company's shares acquired for share award schemes which are set up for the benefits of eligible persons of the Schemes

As the Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of the Share Scheme Trust and can derive benefits from the contributions of the eligible persons who are awarded with the shares by the schemes, the directors of the Company consider that it is appropriate to consolidate the Share Scheme Trust.

During the year ended 31 December 2017, the Company contributed approximately RMB2,232 million (2016: RMB1,936 million) to the Share Scheme Trust for financing its acquisition of the Company's shares.
