Announcement Regarding the Issuance of USD-Denominated Undated Subordinated Notes (with an Interest Deferral Clause)

Rakuten Group, Inc. (hereinafter “the Company”) announced that on December 4, 2024 (Europe and US time), it has determined the terms and conditions for the issuance of its USD-denominated undated subordinated notes (with an interest deferral clause) (hereinafter “the Undated Subordinated Notes”).

The Undated Subordinated Notes are structured to be eligible for a 50% equity credit from rating agencies (S&P Global Ratings Japan Inc. (S&P), Rating and Investment Information, Inc. (R&I), and Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR)), considering its characteristics similar to equity, such as no maturity date, optional deferral of interest, and its subordination in priority of payment to senior obligations. The Company intends to treat the entire amount of the Undated Subordinated Notes as equity under IFRS for purposes of its consolidated financial statements.

The net proceeds from the issuance of the Undated Subordinated Notes are primarily intended to be used to redeem or otherwise repurchase and cancel the 4th Subordinated Bond of JPY 50 billion (first call date: November 4, 2025) and the 2nd Subordinated Bond of JPY 26 billion (first call date: December 13, 2025). The Undated Subordinated Notes are assigned the same equity credit as the subordinated bonds subject to redemption or repurchase.

The funds for the refinancing of senior notes maturing in 2024 and 2025 have already been secured, and with the issuance of the Undated Subordinated Notes, all corporate bonds, including subordinated bonds, maturing or becoming callable by the end of 2025, will be fully addressed.
