Close Update: US Stocks End Higher Thursday as Retail Sales Jump, Jobless Claims Drop to One-Year Low

16 Apr 2021 04:27 AM | 4 day(s) ago
English

04:27 PM EDT, 04/15/2021 (MT Newswires) -- US stocks ended Thursday on a high note as US retail sales jumped a stronger-than-expected 9.8% in March while initial jobless claims dropped to a one-year low.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average climbed 0.9% to 34,035.99, closing above 34,000 for the first time, while the S&P 500 was up 1.1% to 4,170.42, both indexes hit intraday record highs. The tech-heavy Nasdaq Composite was higher by 1.3% to 14,038.76. Real estate was the biggest gainer among sectors, with energy and financials the only decliners.

The US 10-year yield plunged to 1.565%, the lowest level in over a month.

Initial claims for unemployment benefits came in at 576,000 during the week ended April 10, falling 193,000 from the prior week to the lowest level since March 2020, according to the US Labor Department. Analysts polled by Econoday expected 695,000.

US retail sales jumped 9.8% in March, the Commerce Department reported Thursday, with spending on autos, clothing, hobbies and dining out rising fastest as $1,400 federal stimulus payments arrived and more Americans got COVID-19 vaccinations.

In company news, UnitedHealth Group (UNH) released stronger-than-expected first-quarter earnings and revenue and issued an upwardly revised 2021 forecast that straddled analysts' estimates. Shares rose 3.8%, the most on the Dow.

Citigroup (C) reported higher earnings in the first quarter but lower sales, and unveiled plans to exit its consumer franchises in 13 markets across Asia and Europe, the Middle East and Africa. Shares fell by 0.5%.

Truist Financial (TFC) also posted similar results, with higher Q1 adjusted earnings accompanying a drop in revenue. Shares retreated by 4.1%, the steepest decliner on the S&P 500.

Adding New Tabs and Widgets

HOW DO I ADD A NEW TAB?

Step 1: To add a new tab, click on the button

Step 2a: Choose one of our suggested tab layouts from the list here

Step 2b: Alternatively, you may customize your new tab by mixing and match widgets from our widget store

Step 4: Click on the arrow on the newly created tab to Rename, Remove or Save tab

The screenshot illustrates the process of adding a new tab and widget to the trading platform. The interface is divided into several sections:

- Top Bar: Displays market data (e.g., RTS (RUSSIA) INDEX: 1464.170 (0.000), ASX INDEX: 7285.500 (25.600)), account information (Buy Limit: USD 75,013.1273, Sell Limit: USD 7,547.1698), and user controls (Alerts, My Settings, Logout).
- Navigation Menu: Includes links for Announcement, Accounts, Order Status, Prices, Trade, Charts, and Technical View. A "New Tab" button is visible next to the "Technical View" link.
- Tab Selection Panel: A dropdown menu titled "Select from our preset tab layouts below" shows several options: "Order Status", "Prices (LP1) View Price", "Trade (LP2) View Price, Trade, Order Status, News", "Charts Charts", "Technical View", and "Fundamental View".
- Widget Store: A sidebar on the right contains a search bar and a list of widgets categorized by function: Trading (View Price, Trade), Order Status, Chart (Chart-Live), News and Research (Trade Analytics), and Others (Accounts).
- Customization Options: Below the widget store, a dashed box with a downward arrow indicates where to click on a preferred widget. Below this, text reads "or Use our preset tab layouts".
- Tab Context Menu: A dropdown menu is shown for the newly created tab, with options: "Rename", "Remove this Tab", and "Save tab as".

Yellow arrows indicate the sequence of actions: clicking the "New Tab" button, selecting a layout, choosing a widget from the store, and accessing the tab's context menu.
